"How Much More Will I Have To Tell Before The Elite Nerdniks Keep Their Agreements?"

6/19/94 #1 & #2 HATONN

JIMMY CARTER

I am flooded with inquiries as to what in the world J. Carter is doing representing the U.S. in Korea. Well, think back a ways, readers—all the way back to Reagan/Carter, October Surprise, Iran/Contra, HOSTAGES in Iran and thus and so. Mr. Carter was THE one who got, shall we say, put upon! I think the rest can become quite clear to you. Mr. Clinton is the "bad boy" of the "good boy-bad boy" team but it is not evident that Clinton knows it. A show of diplomacy must be put up for the Democratic Party or there will be revelations which none of the Elite REALLY want revealed! Everybody with me so far?

CONSTITUTION -- FEDERALIST PAPERS

Let us set aside the Federalist Papers as relate to the Constitution of the United States of America for this interim period of time [CONTACT has not run any of this information yet.] awaiting the disc bearing the "papers". We are becoming too far behind with other pertinent and interesting information needing to get out in the paper and journals. We can pick up the load later or solicit help as with putting the Federalist Papers to disc. It remains magnificently important to integrate the two because there seems to be no way to get the public to relate the two and unless there is relationship and "explanation" there is no way to realize the full intent of the Constitution itself.

THE FREEDOM NETWORKER

C.M. has sent us some material from a publication called The Freedom Networker, 42015 Ford Road #107, Canton, MI 48187. Ph: 313-454-9977 (Mr. Ralph Barnes). Judging from the examples sent to us—it is a highly interesting journal worthy of attention. The rates are quite reasonable ($3.00 per single issue; annual subscription in the U.S.A. is $24.00, Canada and Mexico: $30.00; and other areas: $36.00.) They DO accept advertising and rates can be obtained. Are we in the business of advertising for other publications? EVERY TIME WE GET AN OPPORTUNITY AND FIND ONE WORTHY OF NOTE!

BREAKING THE BACK OF CONTACT

From upstart there has been a focused effort to break the backs of the paper, CONTACT. The PHOENIX LIBERATOR WAS destroyed as was the PHOENIX EXPRESS. Do we expect this one to "fold"? We don't know—that remains up to you as readers. However, we NEVER expect to, or longer hope to, be able to more than break-even with expenses. We long ago gave up hope of that as a goal. We have allowed no advertising through commercial parties other than our own monitored products and recommended product uses. This has been to negate any measure of "priority" for advertisers. Any book gets advertised on its MERITS and authors are supported on their TRUTH IN PRESENTATION TO THE BEST OF THEIR ABILITY. If you are able to get copies of books from this resource—it is because the author has already been paid and it is for your convenience. We effort to always have you as readers go to either the author personally or to whatever source the author asks—or from wherever we can get information regarding acquisition. Will this change? We are always open to the need for change but it will be indeed sad if the voice for the people must be closed or open to any and all advertising for immediately readers of a paper look to the type of advertising to JUDGE THE PAPER. This is unfortunate but true. And yet, readers, survival is necessary for patriots and God's people as well as Satan's bands of thugs. We simply do not have ability to have staff to monitor so the best we can do at present is to offer the articles and present all the information as to the publication from which it is obtained and hope the parties involved, from the publication itself to the friends and readers who clip and share, continue to allow and share.

Loving and overburdened hands put this paper together and totally through devoted volunteers is it shipped to you each week. Dr. Young, and editor-copy people DO NOT GO TO BED ON MONDAY NIGHTS and volunteer handlers and mailers work into each Tuesday night to get the paper off to you ASAP. You want proof through miracles? Every TUESDAY with CONTACT! The recent 88-page paper pushes the "miracle" just about into impossibility for even miracles.

I take the time for this for I have little opportunity to attend our loving crew here and less opportunity to thank the readers who faithfully and regularly share information, updates, network news-breaking "scoops", etc. Believe me, readers, YOU DO NOT WANT MAGICAL REVELATIONS—YOU WANT TRUTH OF WHAT IS! Any so-called "psychic" or "channel" will feed you tons of information and you STILL don't know what to believe if it differs one iota from another—this is even true for here. My own scribe constantly has to be given confirmation—AND THAT IS THE WAY IT SHOULD BE. I will later offer you a good example of this fact: an offering [see p. 5] from some "one" calling itself Sanaka re: World Ascension Day—12:12. A beloved and long-time reader asks "my" comments. I have little to offer—there is some truth and much total garbage. I can only ask you to read such with great care according to the guidelines I have taught you and you will know enough. The first warning is the absolute offering of DATES and, furthermore, if you don't know about what "ascension" actually means—you have no way to sort such information. BEWARE! Especially beware of such "similar" labels as are offered in such documents and the use of other parties long respected for truth. Does this mean the information or the young man who brings information from Sanaka is invalid? No, it could mean "anything" from "misled" to "it will happen" to "some truth, some garbage".

It is simply easier to take that which is shown before you and look at that which has been hidden from you—and discern for self the possibilities. YOU have enough before you to begin your journey into TRUTH because the PROOF of these things is continually being uncovered from under the rocks where the Elite Adversaries have buried them FROM YOU.

First of all though, I am going to offer the three separate subject articles from The Freedom Networker.

[QUOTING:]

ATTORNEYS VS. LAWYERS

[H: This becomes more and more important to ALL OF YOU—EVERY DAY THAT COMES! What can be done about it? Get your Constitution back into operation and DEMAND truth in JUSTICE and CLEAN OUT THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM OF CORRUPTION AND SELF-MADE RULES AND REGULATIONS!]

There seems to be much confusion surrounding the terms ATTORNEY and LAWYER. A lot of people misconstrue these terms to mean the same. To determine the meaning of an "attorney" we looked to Black's Law Dictionary, Black's Law Dictionary, 4th Edition defines "attorney-law": "to turn-over; to transfer to another money or goods; to assign to some particular use or service. To consent to the transfer of a rent or reversion. To agree to become tenant to one as owner or landlord of an estate previously held of another, or to agree to recognize a new owner of a property or an estate and promise payment of rent to him."

[H: Emphasis is mine. Do you see anything in that definition that reflects on almost anything you find happening in the courts around your nation on a daily basis?]

"ATTORNEY-FEUDAL LAW": "to turn-over; to transfer to another money or goods; to assign to some particular use or service. Where a Lord aliened his seniority, he might with the consent of the tenant, and in some cases without, ATTORNEY or transfer the homage and service of the later to the alien or new Lord."

"Attornment": "In feudal and old English law—a turning over or transfer by a Lord of the services of his tenant to the grantee of his seniority. (Lordship-Title: Seignior, Sir) the doctrine of an attornment grew out of the peculiar relations existing between the landlord and his tenant under the feudal law, and the reasons for the rule never had any existence in this country, and is inconsistent with our laws, customs, and institutions."

We need to take a very close look at these words in order to understand the rule of an "ATTORNEY" where the setting is old England and the aristocracy held the land. The lower class tilled the land as tenants. When the land changed hands from one aristocracy Lord to another aristocracy Lord, a treaty was made between the tenants and the new Lord: so that Civil War would not break out between the tenants and the new Lord. This transfer of power with treaty was called ATTORNMENT.

Attornment was the method of peacefully passing land from one aristocrat to another aristocrat without disturbing the class structure. It consisted of a peaceful method of maintaining a noble class of citizens acceptable to the common people. This does not mean that the common people liked the situation, but they suffered evils while evils were sufferable and made their "Treaties of Attornment". Therefore an English law "ATTORNMENT" was a method of guaranteeing UNEQUAL PROTECTION OF THE LAW for the rich and the poor. But it was one which was tolerable for the poor. It was a "peaceful" maintenance of the class structure.

An "ATTORNEY'S" role in this system was to provide the ceremony of the acquiescence or giving of the poor along with the land to the new land-Lord, and to do so in such a manner (modes operand) as to preserve and maintain the class structure, this so called peaceful transfer is "UNEQUAL PROTECTION OF THE LAW." It is crystal clear THAT AN ATTORNEY'S ROLE TODAY HAS NOT CHANGED. "Attorneys" practice "Attornment".

"LAWYER": "A person learned in the law. One who understands and who loves the law for its capacity to rectify the evils of society. One who professes and practices 'liberty and justice for all' and therefore the 'EQUAL PROTECTION OF THE LAW'." "Lawyers" practice "law". The U.S. Constitution provides over thirty guarantees of the "EQUAL PROTECTION OF THE LAW". A lawyer supports those provisions of guarantee, an attorney opposes those provisions. In America, a lawyer obeys the U.S. Constitution, the supreme law of the land. An "ATTORNEY" does NOT obey the U.S. Constitution.

Furthermore, on August 31, 1990 in the case of Freed v. Martin, in a Kalamazoo County circuit court, Judge Phillip Schaefer ruled "that ALL Michigan attorneys have only 'De Facto' licenses to practice law." Black's Law Dictionary, 6th Edition defines: "DE FACTO" as "ILLEGAL" or "illegitimate". REF: 416.

CAN YOU GET LEGITIMATE ADVICE FROM "ILLEGITIMATE" SOURCES?

In substitute of a legitimate license from the Executive Branch of Government, "attorneys" have a BAR CARD/BAR AFFILIATION. Through this affiliation they are agents of the court and work FOR THE COURTS' INTERESTS. The courts' interests are FIRST and the client's interest is SECOND. They all are operating in a "conflict of interest"; all are without a LICENSE. One thing Judge Phillip Schaefer conveniently failed to mention is that ALL MICHIGAN JUDGES HAVE "DE FACTO" LICENSES. (Judges also have a "BAR" versus a legitimate "LICENSE".)

"MICHIGAN CONSTITUTION" Article VI COURTS OF RECORD, SEAL, QUALIFICATIONS OF JUDGES

Section 19: "....Justices and judges of courts of record, must be persons who are licensed to practice law in this state."

A requirement to run for election to be a judge is that an "affidavit" must be signed under penalty of perjury. On this "affidavit" a person swears under penalty of perjury that they "have a LICENSE to practice law." ALL Michigan judges have committed perjury by signing this "affidavit". One may confirm this by questioning a judge to view his "license"; NOT HIS MEMBERSHIP CARD TO HIS LAW PERSONS FRATERNAL ASSOCIATION—Bar.

[END OF QUOTING]

Please see that this is immediately gotten to the Constitutional Law Center.

The next is a short little message about all those "BLACK" helicopters which are both seen and denied. Very interesting.

[QUOTING:]

WHAT ABOUT THOSE BLACK HELICOPTERS?

Sightings of black and olive drab helicopters without markings are coming from many areas of America.

Many are reportedly moving troops from secret base to secret base. Many are cargo haulers moving military equipment and supplies to these bases from supply points.

In Michigan, these helicopters have been seen during daylight hours but their favorite flying times seem to be well after midnight.

Some of these black helicopters are the property of a de facto [H: There's that term again, "de facto" (illegal-illegitimate).] police organization called Wackenhut Security Services. When you learn that Wackenhut is run BY EX-CIA, FBI AND OTHER HIGH LEVEL INTELLIGENCE PERSONNEL AND THAT ITS PRINCIPAL STOCKHOLDERS ARE PEOPLE LIKE THE ROTHSCHILDS AND THE ROCKEFELLERS, you know that it, too, is very much a creature of the New World Order. Already, Wackenhut operates prisons under contract to several states. Undoubtedly, they'll be engaged to operate CONCENTRATION CAMPS too!

Military officials disclaim these helicopters as being theirs though the U.S. Air Force has now confirmed that these mysterious helicopters are classified operations not subject to revelation.

In short, these helicopters' mission here is SECRET. It seems logical to assume that they are preparing for the role of military backup for the occupation and desecration of America and Americans.

[END OF QUOTING]

Not too comforting, is it? Please note that the reason for the specific mention of Michigan so often is that is where The Freedom Networker is located.

The third article is another one you should pay SPECIAL ATTENTION to. We offer these articles and call special attention because these people are located across the nation from CONTACT and yet, TRUTH is "everywhere".

[QUOTING:]

HOW A SECRET SATANIC ORDER IS HELPING TAKE OVER AMERICA

A totalitarian tyrannical dictatorship is being imposed on America from without and from within!

Know those who are foresworn to destroy your family, your beliefs, your health, your religion and your freedoms!

Did you know there is a secret society within our country that has more than three million members whose secret goal is the conquest and enslavement of America? That most of the machinery for our total subjugation is already set in place? That these members of a Luciferic order will be worse than the Nazi SS elite troops which terrorized Germany under Hitler?

Sounds incredible? Can't happen here in America? How long have you been asleep at the helm of your ship, my dear fellow American?

Did you know that most of our courts are staffed with major and minor members OF THIS SECRET ORDER? Did you know that most sheriffs and many of their deputies belong to this diabolical cabal? Did you know that most top law enforcement officers belong to this clandestine order? Did you know that a substantial number of our legal profession belongs to this order and virtually all seriously uphold it or refuse to oppose it?

Did you know that most of our higher echelon government officials belong to this or equally satanical secret orders? (Like the unprincipled and ruthless George Bush who is a member of the demonic Skull and Bones.)

Did you know that America's and Britain's wealthy elite are either members of and/or support this unheralded secret society and a number of other secret societies as vehicles to effect our enslavement because they are presently translating their wish and blueprint for a One World Government (called the New World Order) into reality?

Why do you think they're secret? To hide their good intentions? Or hide their evil intentions?

To be sure, most of this order's membership in America are at the lower levels and not in on the conspiracy and actions to debauch America. They merely learn to blindly and unquestioningly obey orders from their superiors. The lower levels are commanded to do good deeds, yield selfless service and perform acts of philanthropy. As they rise in the ranks of the order, their service leads to dastardly plots and acts! Any high level member who betrays their oath "to follow and commit Satanical acts" in contravention of orders usually meets with mysterious death.

[H: I wish to interject a point at this juncture of the article in point. It will offer the "oath" of a 32nd degree "Mason". The above must be considered in order to understand HOW a man can go from a nice Christian-like community person into a dastardly organization. It is simply not done in abrupt stages and even, as with the Masonic Orders, it is not until you move BEYOND the 32nd degree of attainment that the REAL BIG STUFF hits the brain and it is too late for the allegiance is already implanted by the "system". You will note that higher than 32nd degrees are held only by HIGH-LEVEL POLITICIANS, JUDICIAL SYSTEM HEADS, ETC. IN OTHER WORDS, VERY IMPORTANT PERSONAGES—WHO ALSO CAN AND DO CONTROL THE MAJOR NUMBERS OF UNDERLINGS. I always appreciate that we can be offered these revelations from elsewhere so that ALL parties who are involved and might have been involved are protected and can remain in their silence. Ours is never to get MORE trouble upon unsuspecting heads—but LESS.]

This is the oath as administered to the elite arriving at an illuminized state of this secret order, that is, the 32nd degree and higher: "Brother thou has finished thy instruction as a chief of Freemasonry. Pronounce thy supreme oath. 'I swear to recognize no fatherland but that of the world. I swear to work hard everywhere and always to destroy frontiers, boundaries of all nations, of all industries, no less than of all families. I swear to dedicate my life to the triumph of progress and universal unity and I declare to profess the negation of God and the negation of the Soul.' And now Brother, that for thee, fatherland, religion and family have disappeared forever in the immensity of the work of Freemasonry, come to us and share with us the boundless authority, the infinite power that we hold over humanity. The only key to progress and happiness, the only rules of food are thy appetites and instincts."

THIS SECRET OATH (ABOVE) IS THAT OF THE 32ND DEGREE MASONS

This is but the end product of a succession of oaths they take upon initiation in degrees that become progressively more Satanic or Luciferic. Masons are so secret that members are forbidden to write anything down—all must be committed to memory.

Women and wealth are the objects of their appetites and instincts. As they realistically control the machinery of "justice", they commit heinous crimes rather freely.

Of course the female equivalent of Freemasonry is the Order of the Eastern Star.

You can never trust a Freemason of the higher orders! Likewise, Freemasons only trust other Freemasons and are warned not to trust anyone who is not a Freemason! They are unswervingly committed to the satanic ideals of the order. Most who are nonMasons are regarded as inferior people—the scum of the earth.

Know the Freemasons and other secret societies for what they are—evil organizations bent upon our subjugation and degradation of the bulk of the American people in mind, body and Spirit.

[END QUOTING]

I suggest you QUESTION ANY AND EVERY "SECRET ORDER". I do not refer to simply "privacy" in relationships—I am talking about SECRET ORDERS. I do indeed mean any and EVERY RELIGIOUS ORDER who keeps its rituals and sanctuaries SECRET! WHAT IS ONLY PERFORMED IN THE DARK AND SECRET PLACES—ALWAYS HAS A REAL BIG REASON FOR DOING SO! If the organization cannot stand the light of day—ON ITS INTENT—it is hiding something from you—the people.

Again, I do not refer to PRIVACY of personal participation or security of business operations—I AM TALKING ABOUT THE MORALISTIC, RITUALISTIC, INTENT OF ANYTHING. For instance—WHY doesn't your Government want you to know that they allowed the actual murder of POWs and KNEW IT? [see pages 37-39 in last week's CONTACT] Because that is a "secret policy" they KNOW YOU WOULD NOT TOLERATE AS CITIZENS! This has nothing to do with anything validly security-worthy—it is a reach for power, money and World Control which covers the SECRET DEALINGS. You KNOW the difference—so debate is not worthy here regarding this message. Further, I do not tell you to "drop out" or anything else—I SIMPLY TELL YOU TO REALLY LOOK AT WHAT GOES ON (OR WENT ON AS YOU PARTICIPATED) AND ARGUMENT HAS NO VALUE AND NEITHER DOES DEBATE.

GEORGE GREEN ARGUMENT ABOUT THE INSTITUTE

George Green continues to write to and complain to "everybody" about the Institute not opening all records to him and the public. Why? The Institute is a corporation based on valid corporate law! People participated with the guarantee of PRIVACY as should be the business relationships of EVERY BUSINESS IN THE WORLD. The INTENT, the operations, method of operations and the actual circumstances are PUBLIC TO EVERYONE AND CONTINUALLY RE-RUN PUBLICLY. IT IS BOTH UNLAWFUL AND IMMORAL TO BREAK THE "PRIVACY" AGREEMENTS OF INDIVIDUALS BY GIVING "THEIR" ENEMY THEIR PERSONAL RECORDS. There is no intent or workings to so much as bypass the IRS or any land-legislated laws. What was set up originally by Green to later "getcha" has fallen away as his dealings (and dealers) have been isolated.

So, in this area, what is "secret subterfuge"? The physically taking of $350,000 in gold coins which were sent to the Institute for use and diverting it SECRETLY to his own personal hiding place, moving it to another state (still in secrecy) and burying it in his backyard! THAT IS ILLEGAL and IMMORAL.

Now if you are a 32nd degree "Mason" or higher—you have literally taken an oath which includes "...negation of God and the negation of the Soul." You have also sworn under oath to "...destroy frontiers, boundaries of all nations, of all industries, no less than of all families." What is there to argue or debate? You didn't realize...? Ah, so be it! But, friend—be honest with self even if never ye be honest with another. It is as with the Jewish Kol Nidre. Most, by far, "attorneys" are both Jewish AND Masons. Where does this leave you—the people? So are judges! We now have ones taking oath against all that stands representative (you thought) of YOU and in addition the Kol Nidre is the "Vow of all Vows" taken FIRST on Jewish Atonement annually. It is an oath that negates ALL OATHS and, under Talmudic law, a Jew is to lie, cheat and steal if necessary against the Goyim—which is everyone except a Jew! This also indicates that there is NO OATH OF OBLIGATION TO TRUTH IN A COURTROOM OR LEGAL BINDING FOR MORAL TRUTH IN ANY JEWISH, PRACTICING MASONIC ATTORNEY!

So, how are you further locked into being "had"? The courts will NOT ALLOW anyone but MEMBERS IN GOOD STANDING WITH THE BAR "CLUB" (not licensing board) TO COME INTO COURT AND BE COUNSEL. IT IS WORSE WITH A CORPORATION UNDER ATTACK—FOR NO ONE CAN REPRESENT THE CORPORATION OTHER THAN AN ATTORNEY!

Do you actually think GOD will sort this out for you? Prayer after prayer flows to GOD to fix it, etc. No, YOU allowed it or did it and YOU WILL FIX IT OR IT WILL REMAIN BROKEN UNTIL YOU ARE BROKEN! Ask God to show you the way, give you truth and THEN, ONLY THEN, can YOU cause the mess of broken tatters to be reconstructed upon the foundation of truth and honor. No "brothers" from space-cadet school are going to whisk you away and no angels are going to RAPTURE you away—you are going to confront that which is yours to confront—IN TRUTH—or you are going to pay dearly the price which will be exacted from you—UNTO THE NEW WORLD KINGS! Good morning.

Dear Nora,

I have only recently finished reading your "Garden Of Aton" and I want to thank you for all the marvelous research you have done. The confirmations of the PHOENIX JOURNALS, Hatonn, Sananda, et al...are heartening.

I thoroughly enjoyed "Garden of Aton" and want to commend you on such a remarkable job. As an aside, it was your book that finally convinced my friend that perhaps old Hatonn just might be who he says he is, and she is now taking an interest in the PHOENIX JOURNALS.

Up, Up And Away...

Here Comes Ascension Day

6/14/94 #2 HATONN

WORLD ASCENSION DAY

I promised, in the prior writing today, to share a writing of prophesy with you. We ran out of space so we will offer it here first.

The article itself seems to be a portion of a tape by the same title but we have not been supplied with ordering information. As nearly as we can discern the receiving is from someone called "Sanaka" who, it is stated, is the third son of the Kumara who came from Venus to start the White Brotherhood. Among his past lives were Aaron, Elijah and John the Baptist.

I already see one glaring error in that the White Brotherhood was NOT started by any "Kumara" and, more especially, not from Venus.

Their receiver appears to be Steven Otero who has been a "student of the Light for many years". In April 1991 he was awakened by Master Serapis and Merlin through Bob Fickes. Steven is available for group and private sessions, and house blessings. Contact him at: 3 Fair Acres Road, Central Nyack, N.Y., 10960. The only other information I have is that the article shared here was published in a publication called Connecting Link and is from the issue 23.

I ask that this be published because the request for comments comes from a long-standing friend, Grace B. She does not lightly presume upon our time and has been with us since the early onset of our own work some four to five years ago. I don't have many "comments" and she has actually answered her own questions but it is an interesting article and we are happy to share it.

WORLD ASCENSION DAY—12:12 SANAKA

I come to speak to you of the 12:12. There are those of you who participated in the 8:8 and the 11:11 and now there is the completion—the 12:12. [H: I'm sorry, I don't know what this means so any information would have to come from this person in point.] That is coming on the 12th day of December, 1994. Yes, that is World Ascension Day, the time when all the 144,000 will ascend into the 4th dimension. And when those of you of this sacred number ascend then all of your brothers and sisters on this Earth will ascend as well. [H: Well, unless that is the planned "ascension" program of Project BLUE BEAM {see last week's Front Page story}, I wouldn't hold my etheric breath, but perhaps this party knows more than do I—and certainly since I don't know anything at all about this—it is reasonable that he knows more than do I.]

I have spoken to you previously, of a secret organization known as the "Illuminati". In truth, those were the former high priests of Atlantis, the initiates of Thoth Hermes. We wish to report to you that this order is transforming. There was a meeting which took place in the etheric plane between my brother Sananda and the souls of this organization. There was a great illuminating light which came directly from the Great Central Sun itself, and these souls became enlightened and realized that they, too, were merely players in a game. Your Earth has been a school of learning for many souls from many parts of the Galaxy who come to learn, to experience. Now these souls have truly become illuminated. And as they continue to strive for enlightenment, they will release control of this world and it will be transformed. [H: Now this part is not nearly as far-fetched in possibility as it might at first appear.]

Merely 60 years ago, the prophesy was made by the great Master St. Germain and recorded by one who is known as Godfre [Ray King]—that all would transform upon this Earth when those who were in control would release. I come to say to you now that this prophesy has reached fruition. You will see that transformation in 1994. [H: This sort of obviates the "free-will" but it would be rather nice if this would be so.]

As St. Germain spoke through this channel on the 4th of July, 1993, [H: We have to assume this to be Steven Otero because Godfre has been gone from your place for quite a long while.] the key to transforming your economy would be the takeover of the Federal Reserve Banking System and the elimination of the IRS. This has occurred—those forces which control the Federal Reserve Bank have turned its assets over to your government. This action will eliminate your national debt. Soon there will be more announcements of the illegality of your 16th amendment and you, the people, will demand the dissolution and it will be the end of the IRS. And that which has been taken away will be restored to you. The monetary sums which you have paid into your systems will be restored to you.

This will start the transition in your form of government—for this will lead eventually, with the 12:12 of 1994 and into the year of 1995, a transformation where you no longer will be in a system of federal government but in a system of community.

Transformation and ascension into the fourth dimension means that there can no longer be conflict upon your world. There will no longer be competitiveness—there will no longer be the system of capitalism—there will be the system of community and communalism. [H: I don't think this will be very popular with the gangsters of the New World Order NOR IN THEIR PLANS! Perhaps there is misperception here as to meaning but the facts are that Earth physical plane is for the very purpose of conflict in one way or another so to expect NO CONFLICT will be unlikely in its definitive meaning as accepted in current translation. The further confusion may well come from some assumed misperception that somehow the removal of "the" 144,000 ascending into the 4th dimension (whatever that means) will take away conflict from Earth 3rd dimensional plane. This is not feasible if you understand the original meaning of "the" 144,000 beings.]

This could, however, mean that the 144,000 having ascended into the 4th dimension would no longer have conflict in "your (their?) world". The larger problem, however, is HOW does one JUST ASCEND? Ascension itself means becoming lighter in weight and frequency as to allow for passage through the density of Earth into higher and less-dense atmosphere or space. This means reaching the point and frequency of "at the least" invisibility through dispersement OR the frequency of illumination (light) or faster than a speeding bullet and only slightly slower than the speed of

MISSING THE LIFEBOAT?? (#86)

MISSING THE LIFEBOAT??

As you read the pages, especially the "Introduction", you are urged to ponder carefully the circumstances of your world and your SELF. More garbage is being flung against the teachers from God and the bringers forth of the words of instruction and guidance. You are moving rapidly into a time of chaos just as all your prophecies of all time have presented. The enemy is at your door even as your "lifeboat" awaits. How many of you will choose to WAIT for decisions until there are no more "saviors"? Each will choose for there will be no "snatch-up" of evil into glory—no paid-for "trips" to anywhere of God and, as in the places of physical—YOU WILL DO IT! No one, not MAN nor GOD, will do it for you

SHOCK THERAPY FOR A BRAIN DEAD WORLD

Until you "KNOW" you cannot function in any kind of proper force. This volume contains some of the most incredibly disturbing information that will pass your eyes. What are YOU going to do about it? It requires your help. We are willing to continue the unfolding but YOU WILL HAVE TO ACT for we cannot do it FOR you. God will bless every effort, every step—if you but step forth and serve. Information in this volume is SHOCKING and runs from lawsuits filed by noted persons TO THE MOST INCREDIBLY HORRIFIC CHILD ABUSE RINGS IN THE WORLD. SATAN DOES HAVE DRUMMERS—THEY ARE AMONG YOU!

IN GOD'S NAME AWAKEN!

You continue to desire to quibble and ponder, debate and argue—while the hour-glass has become empty. HOW is it that you expect to have KNOWLEDGE? Will it rub off on you or somehow all knowing will "hit you over the head in your sleep"? No, it will not—nor will the winged angels snatch you from your deliberate slumber and refusal to learn. You will choose your own journey—each one; each individual and each journey. HOWEVER, THE BIRD-TRIBES ARE BACK AND THE PHOENIX HAS RETURNED! SO BE IT.

thought! To become one WITH light means you must be able to have a frequency of no less than light itself—at which point in that dimension there is NO CAPABILITY OF CONFLICT BECAUSE THERE IS NO PHYSICAL EXPRESSION.]

Much of your federal government will be dismantled. Only the three branches will remain so that you have a group system of laws, of justice and a council of elders who will assist in administration. But the vast majority of responsibility for your land will be within the local states and local communities, for that is where it should be. Local councils of elders will be established and they will be built around the sacred number of 12—6 males and 6 females. They will administer by your consent and your total awareness of situations. Blessings to you, beloved ones, for by your will, by your decrees and calls, it has come about. So I say to you: meditate daily, fill yourself with Light and you will accelerate.

This great event on December 12, 1994, has been planned for eons. [H: Oops—there go the short-term plans of any Blue Beam NASA operation. Unless, of course, it was called by some other name.] There are four means of Ascension. Three have been demonstrated on your Earth. [H: Wait a minute—I think I would like to see those demonstrations!] The fourth way, group Ascension, will now be demonstrated on your Earth. On only two other occasions in this Solar System has this form of Ascension been accomplished—on my own world of Venus and on Mars. [H: Now you've gone and done it—it's back to sounding like Project Blue Beam where you just get U.S.S. Eldridged right out into a time warp of time and space—and not into some nice fourth dimensional world of perfection and balanced truth.] And so it will be done upon your Earth as well. [H: Done "UPON"?? The very word "ascension" assumes "off your world"—as used here. Or, are you going to ascend like a hot air balloon? No, it says:] All will go forth into the Light at once. [H: Then what? It sounds like the old "fluffy cloud" syndrome to me. Is it not important to know about some interim stop-offs or anything—just up, up and away—OK with you?]

These events I have spoken about will trigger reactions in those of Earth who have not actively worked for their Ascension. But, there will be an event of such proportion that will convert even the most skeptical. This will take place before the 12:12. This will be the [H: Oh my gosh...!] landing of ASHTAR, the coming of the Pleiadians, the Zeta Reticuli and others under the auspices of Ashtar and with the blessing of Lord Sananda. [H: Well surprising as it may be to the bunches of "channels" who tout good old Ashtar as a dashing whiffer-awayer—HE WILL ONLY BE INVOLVED IF THE WORLD IS SET TO TOTALLY DISINTEGRATE AND DISPERSE SOULED ENERGY. ASHTAR IS "A COMMAND"—A COMPUTER CENTER CONNECTION—WHICH COMES INTO PLAY ONLY IF FINAL EVACUATION HAS TO BE ACCOMPLISHED. YES, THERE IS A COMMANDER

OF THAT "COMMAND" BUT HIS NAME IS NOT "ASHTAR". ASHTAR is simply used for entity identification. As to Lord Sananda's "blessing"—I travel with this being and I am not aware of any such program plans—but then, I do not advocate "dates" of whisk-away either, so you will have to check it out for selves. I personally, if I were a human physical manifestation, would not care to take off without more destination plans than just into some light beam. Please note that I am NOT discounting this person in any way—I simply am not aware of any such happenings and I would think that possibly I would be. There are already many of both Pleiadians and Zeta Reticuli among you.]

To become one WITH light means you must be able to have a frequency of no less than light itself—at which point in that dimension there is NO CAPABILITY OF CONFLICT BECAUSE THERE IS NO PHYSICAL EXPRESSION.

You will be prepared for this event. In the early part of 1994 your federal government will finally admit to the existence of the extra-terrestrial life forms. [H: Well here is a clue as the author refers to early 1994 as "will finally..." which indicates that this paper was received some time prior to 1994.] The secret council known as MJ-12 has been dissolved. [H: MJ-12 dissolved? Hummmn.] Your government will admit to cooperating with the Zetas for the last 40 years. [H: Well, they haven't yet done so, no matter how many times they have gotten caught at dirty tricks. I am not sure "cooperation" would be the word of choice at best and most of the cooperation or otherwise has been with other galacnalities than dear little Reticuli.]

This will be a time for the healing of the abductees. [H: Healing of WHAT abductees? Do you mean the ones of ongoing interaction with your own governments? Random hijacking of people is not a part of ongoing experiencing for the heck of it with aliens who already have the smarts to do the cross-DNA and other replications. Whoever is doing this sort of "stuff" is not now coming from the stars, my friends—THEY ARE LOCKED TO YOUR EARTH RIGHT ALONG WITH YOU IF THEY HAVE INSTIGATED THESE ACTIVITIES. THESE TYPES OF BEHAVIORS ARE SIMPLY NOT ACCEPTABLE IN THE COSMOS NETWORK OF LIGHTED BRETHERN. GOD SIMPLY PUTS A LOT OF CONDITIONS ON HIS COSMIC PLAYERS.] It is time for you who have had these experiences to call the Light into you to release all fear; to know that you have participated in the event—that the fear has been a way for you to transmute it from your bodies. You will be healed and recognized for the service you have rendered. [H: Good grief—what service and by whom? Will the next suggestion be to go hop aboard the next available light-beam and go to never-ever land? USE THOSE WONDROUSLY GIFTED MINDS, READERS!]

[H: You had best pay close attention to this next offering. Why? Because, be prepared in advance. Watch out for anyone named "Thoth", any repeat of the bastardized dastardly technology that cost you your world at Atlantis and why would ANY alien give you technology that could destroy his own civilizations? You had better start THINKING.]

When Ashtar and your Pleiadian cousins, the Reticuli and other races land, they will offer you technological assistance—great technology of the fourth dimension. In truth, that technology is not of the Stars, for it was born of the Earth, in Atlantis. This is the technology of Thoth, Hermes and they are coming to return it to you. This will be done PRIOR TO 12:12:94.

Then, after 12:12:94 into 1995, your higher centers of understanding will be awakened and you will remember how to use the technology again. [H: Who, the 144,000 or the ones left who were not on the ball enough to get to GO? What, exactly is being said here? If you can't figure it out—it is intended that way—KNOW IT.] Your culture, your civilization will advance into such as you have only dreamed of before. [H: Let's consider a different word—like "nightmare". You couldn't even hang on to your Constitution—do you REALLY think you will ADVANCE into perfection?] Atlantis and Lemuria will rise again and this time it will be purified, for there will no longer be the ego—the desire to control and manipulate will be gone from your world. [H: Wow—no ego? When? This year? Do you see signs of this transformation? This very young man will be in a complete ego fit attack just because I question some of the information. Earth is not perfection and it IS a place of ego manifestation. Man may well bring his ego self into CONTROL at some time—but it is as much a part of the physical plane 3-dimensional WORLD as you can get. THIS IS THE VERY TESTING OF MANKIND.]

We say to you at this time, a full 97% of you have chosen Ascension. [H: Say what? 97% of you haven't even been able to choose your own favorite breakfast cereal.] We have spoken before of those who wish to continue with karma. I CRY OUT TO THESE SOULS TO LET GO—TO RECEIVE THE LIGHT OF TRUTH AND JOIN US IN FREEDOM NOW!

It is time now for the Light workers to begin to focus on this event with all of your Light, might and love. I call on all those who are channels to release NOW all thoughts of Earth changes, Earthquakes, tidal waves, of land masses sinking, of economic disasters and wars. All of this is the illusion of Maya and shall be transformed. [H: But this character just said a minute ago that Atlantis and Lemuria will rise again?!? Where will all the mass go? Will it just slide and slither away with no quakes—what about the ones on top of the “slide”? This may well be an illusioned dream—but what happens when a dream is ended? YOU WAKE UP and face the facts of your expression IN REASON. If a thing is UNREASONABLE—it probably is NOT DO-ABLE! AND, MOREOVER—WHO IN THE DICKENS IS “MAYA” AND HER SINGULAR DREAM? IT IS YOUR DREAM THAT HAS MERIT—NOT MAYA’S.]

When you have entered the fourth dimension you will be immortal. [H: YOU are already immortal—what does the fourth dimension have to do with that? Oh, bodily immortal? Well you lost that in your ascension! Sorry, you can't have it BOTH WAYS!] Your bodies will transform [H: Watch out—here it comes...—the masses of bone will dissolve into silica. You will be the essence of superfluidity. [H: ?????] But this is only the BEGINNING. In the year 2000 your planet will ascend into the fifth dimension. At that time your planet will be an etheric world, truly a world of Light.

There has been much talk upon your world about the three waves of Ascension, but this has been misinterpreted as three groups Ascending at different times into the same place. I say to you that the first wave will be a group Ascension from the third to the fourth dimensions—this will be the 12:12:94. [H: How dare this, whoever he is, nerd use the counsel of the three migrations to interject you turkeys onto the aboriginal calendar of evolution into the great elders and Ancients of their progression. Most of you are primitive in soul learning and to assume to usurp the TRUTH to prattle about groups and lift-offs is unacceptable. You ones cannot seem to learn—EVER—to respect the truth of oral KNOWING and continue to try to turn the sacred into the mundane, tampered with dark ignorance. Hatonn has passion? I AM PASSION and some of you had better get some of that “passion” for respect, truth and lighted knowledge or you are going to be waving good-bye after the last ship has gone!] The second wave from the fourth to fifth dimension, will be in the year 2000. The third wave will be from the fifth to the sixth dimension. The sixth dimension is the level of the Christ. [H: What a bunch of hogwash garbage!] That is yet to come. We share with you this knowledge for the first time to inspire you. [H: How inspired do you feel?]

In the year 2000, your world will become etheric; you will no longer have a physical body as you know it now. Those of you of the 144,000 will go forward at that time and, eventually, all of you will go. Your bodies will be pure Light. The Earth will be restored to the Lemurian vibration. [H: Heaven help us, please. That was a sorry vibration if there ever was one—especially when it left for the deep also.] Beginning in the year 2000, although you will have the great technology for five years (1995-2000), it will no longer be needed. You will no longer need machines to create—you will simply create! [H: Maybe we are just not talking about the SAME year 2000?]

At that time, the great enlightened ones will walk among you again. Sananda will return, not as your king or messiah, but as your teacher. [H: That's ALL he EVER WAS!]

Blessed ones, I have laid it out for you. Now it is for you to seize the moment and go beyond. Meditate on this daily and prepare yourself for this date: December 12, 1994. [H: I sure do wish I knew what didn't happen on 8:8 and 11:11!] Think about that date, that time, that number and FEEL it flowing through your body. Blessings to you.

[END OF QUOTING]

Let me give you another idea: “...Catch a falling star and put it in your pocket—save it for a rainy day...” “and what a nice world that will be...”

Before closing may we hear from the circle of migrations, please:

Little Crow on “Transition”, 1/5/92

[QUOTING]:

Ain't none of us going to hell, ain't none of us going to heaven. What we are doing is going into the infinity of our being, the infinity of our creation, which is energy—energy and that's it. Energy has always existed, always shall exist and always has existed and will continue to exist whether we have that realization or not....

5-19-90:

In my culture there is no hell, which is a plus. There is no damnation, which is a plus, and there is no salvation—only life. You transist and you live it again and you transist and you live it again and you transist and you live it again, until one day you don't have to transist anymore. [H: Please read that: “ascension”!]

6-21-91

....“So what's the greatest thing you ever did that you think is a self accomplishment?” I said, ‘Get out of my own way.’I died. I got out of my way so I could get on and do what I had to do...”

[END OF QUOTING]

WHY DON'T YOU JUST GET OUT OF YOUR OWN WAY AND STOP ACCEPTING ALL THE GARBAGE TOSSED YOUR WAY TO PREVENT YOUR NOTICING THAT YOU ARE NOT DOING YOUR PURPOSEFUL TASK? EVERY BEING HAS A PURPOSE—ARE YOU FULFILLING YOURS?

Thank you, brother Eagle [Little Crow]—you have kept my scribe going when there seemed to be no way to rev the engine. I am honored, Sir, to serve with you and equally humble for the allowance, for I am gifted to be able to see beyond and into the reality of YOUR responsibility and indeed, I am honored. Aho. May my brethren come to recognize truth in reality and stop this dabbling in the break-down of illusion.

Salu.

June 14, 1994

To Our Treasured Friends,

Please forgive me for writing a form letter, but there are only so many hours in a day, and lately, most of them have been devoted to trying to help Gunther. First, let me pass on his greetings and his thanks for all the letters he has received from you. You have no idea how much they mean to him. He has said that the quality of life in an Austrian prison is about at the level of a Russian gulag. There is no reading material or television, so he receives no news except for what we send him. That is why your letters are so important to him. Please keep sending them. I will enclose his latest address [see box, below right].

Let me bring you up to date on his health. In one of the letters I received from him he said that he was only thirty minutes away from death when the Austrians took him to a hospital. Shortly after Gunther was released from prison in Missouri, he was slipped a slow-acting drug which was meant to kill him. The drug caused his pancreas to shut down, his liver to swell and a kidney to fail. The other kidney and his heart were very close to total failure, when he was placed in the hospital. If he had not been arrested at the airport in Vienna and taken directly to the hospital, he would have died. God works in strange ways, and even Gunther has admitted that being arrested saved his life. He has reported that the care he is receiving is very good. He is still very weak and in great pain, but he is recovering.

The CONTACT reported, well over a month ago, that Gunther was having many "micro-dots" removed. At the time Commander Hatonn said that none of us knew for sure that the removals had taken place. Gunther has verified that many "micro-dots" have been removed. He has said that it is now impossible for his enemies to trigger heart attacks or to monitor or control him through the micro-dots.

He is still in a hospital cell, with two other prisoners. He went to court on May 17th. Judge Karl Fischer is still trying to piece together how long he spent incarcerated in Missouri, serving a twenty-one-year sentence that was vacated (reversed). Evidently, the Judge is willing to take into consideration the time he has spent incarcerated in the United States when he makes his ruling regarding whether or not Gunther will be set free or if he will have to serve a sentence in Austria. Your prayers for his quick and speedy release are needed and welcomed. I have spent hundreds of dollars copying and mailing all the documents the Judge needed. If you had not sent me the money, I would have had no way of helping Gunther. Thank you for that. The Judge has now received everything, and Gunther's lawyer is meeting with Gunther and the Judge on Wednesday of this week. I don't know how long it will be before I know the outcome.

I also want to tell you how much your love and support has meant to me. For four-and-a-half years, Gunther and I were kept apart because he was in prison. But he was here in the United States, and I could talk to him every day, and visit him several times a year. At the time, I didn't think that it could get any worse, but it did. You have no idea how helpless I feel having him incarcerated in Austria. Not only can't I talk with him; I can't even speak the language, so it is almost impossible for me to find out anything regarding his case and his health.

The hardest part has been "not knowing". I didn't receive a letter from him for almost six weeks, and then it was another month before I received another one. I have now discovered that all letters to Gunther are translated into German and read by the Judge before he is allowed to have them. He did not receive any of my letters until he had been in prison almost two months.

During those first six weeks, I don't know what I would have done without the love and support that you gave me. Your letters and your monetary support kept me going at a time when I was more hopeless and depressed than I have ever been. You have no idea how your encouraging words buoyed me up and gave me the strength I needed to write the letters, make the phone calls and put together the legal documents requested by the Judge. Without you, I think I would have stayed in bed, and prayed that the nightmare would end. With your love and words of encouragement, I got out of my bed, even though I too was sick and weak, and I did everything that I could do. Now we all have to wait.

I am sure that you have been able to read between the lines of the information printed in the CONTACT, and you realize that Gunther and Commander Hatonn are working on something VERY big. It's about the biggest thing to happen in our time. When it is completed, you will know that you have played a part in its completion. Gunther and I will not forget what you have done to help us. But more important, Our Father will know what you have done to help Him.

My words of thanks come from both Gunther and I. When we are finally reunited and have the time and energy to write all the unsaid things, you will be among the first to know... "the rest of the story". Until then, thank you, thank you, thank you. The Light and Love that you have placed on us have kept us alive and, with God's love and direction, we will fulfill His plan for our lives. THANK YOU!

The Book That Could Turn Whitewatergate Into Bushgate

6/15/94 #1 HATONN

BIGGER THAN WHITEWATER

The question continues to flow in this direction as to the status of "Whitewater", the Clintons and will they survive the political thrust, and what are the details of their activities? Well, readers, I have no reason which could be considered valid to spend such time and space REPEATING what other people have found to be valid information—or some invalid information balanced against other and conclusions drawn—validly or invalidly. Being connected with the CIA and political intrigue and players—you can be sure the hidden truth is both WORSE THAN GUESSED and WILL BE UNCOVERED SOMETIME, SOMEWHERE—FOR TRUTH WILL ALWAYS "OUT" SOMEWHERE ALONG THE LINE—WHEN THE "BUCK STOPS"!

Each one who comes with information to reveal is gathered up and brain-drained until it presents quite open hostility by those searching for and willing to use ANY METHOD TO STOP THE SHOW-AND-TELL. Can "WE" overcome? I already have done so—now it is up to you to make that decision.

There are trigger words, however, which I will not permit associated with anything from my WORK. They are the words that attract the enemy in great swarms—subversive, insurrection, racketeering, patriot, IRS protestor, etc. "I" certainly have no need to use such terms nor intend any such deeds—even if lawfully permitted in the Constitution.

As a "paper" the CONTACT must NOT use such advocative terms. We intend to INCITE NOTHING except to hope that you will seek, research, consider personal actions—and find! We serve information that we hope our enemy will find worthy as well as our friends—in this way TRUTH causes the enemy to become the friend. My allowance as a "judge" is to never judge the players—only their acting within the play—BUT I CERTAINLY MUST JUDGE THE PLAY AND DISCERN THE CHARACTERS' INTENT TO THE BEST OF MY ABILITY.

As to Whitewater—it is only a symptom, a happening—even a distractor in the overall. Now, you want me to give you "connections", etc. Well, how can you rule out one connection because it "appears" to be a whole different play? THERE IS ONLY ONE PLAY—everything is connected. To find that Bush, for instance, is connected with Clinton (even two different political parties) may seem remote—BUT, WHEN YOU HAVE CONNECTIONS WITH THE CIA, WHICH BUSH HEADED—IT BECOMES DIFFERENT???

I suggested you acquire a book a couple of weeks back for an in-depth look into this very specific situation. The discussion is so pertinent that the book has subsequently arrived on this desk. I will again suggest you get it even though it is quite costly compared to a journal but cheap at any price for the contents. Is it absolutely correct? No, for no one can have all—but these authors have done a very good job on this subject. The book is: COMPROMISED, Clinton, Bush And The CIA, The bigger story behind Whitewater. By Terry Reed & John Cummings: SPI BOOKS/Shapolsky Publishers, Inc., 136 West 22nd St., New York, NY 10011. 212/633-2022—Fax 212/633-2123.

Is this the most IMPORTANT subject for today's need for information? NO, it most certainly is NOT—but it is a distractor upon which myriads of you are focused—so let us handle it and you can follow up.

I want to discuss other topics so I will simply give you what is published in the April Executive Intelligence Review. The review is written by Edward Spannaus and he captions his review with:

[QUOTING:]

THE BOOK THAT COULD TURN WHITEWATERGATE INTO BUSHGATE

[H: Yes I am quite confident that Ronn J. will have a LOT to say about these operations—but we do not heap and pile our eggs into any one basket—just as we ask you NOT TO DO. I choose to use this review because you will see a familiar name or two which may well SURPRISE you as they are "referenced". There is no way that YOU can know all—especially the ones who play in the global intrigue at every turn of the world. This is WHY you must study all presented at all times—upon less you cannot base reasonable conclusions.]

From at least 1986 on, allegations were circulating in Arkansas that the state was being used for Contra support operations which involved shipments of guns and drugs, and also involved money-laundering operations. During the 1992 presidential election campaign, such stories began to a limited amount of national circulation.

The story was revived on March 25, 1994, when CBS News ran a major feature on allegations that western Arkansas had been a base for Contra support operations involving guns and drugs in the mid-1980s. CBS's story was that Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) informant Barry Seal had set up Rich Mountain Aviation in Mena, Arkansas in 1983, and had used the Mena airport to smuggle guns to the Contras and to bring cocaine into the United States. [H: I want to remind you right here: WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. IS A FAR MORE IMPORTANT SITE THAN IS MENA, ARKANSAS.] CBS also reported on various unsuccessful efforts to have the matter investigated.

Unmentioned by CBS was the recent publication of the new book on the Mena operations written by Terry Reed, a pilot who was directly involved in the operation, and by Newsday investigative reporter John Cummings.

No such hesitancy was shown by the London Sunday Telegraph two days later. It featured a photo of the jacket cover of the Reed-Cummings book with its title Clinton, Bush and the CIA quite prominent, with a caption reading: "This book could topple the President." The kicker on the article read: "After the troubles of Whitewater, the White House faces even more damaging charges that Arkansas' former governor was a CIA stooge." [H: Read that again, please—most of you didn't believe me when I SAID AS MUCH!]

After reviewing Reed's allegations on Mena, money-laundering, Clinton's ties and disputes with the Central Intelligence Agency and so on, author Ambrose Evans-Pritchard wrote: "If the book comes to be accepted as broadly true, President Clinton may be walking the plank within months."

To anyone familiar with the Reed-Cummings story, Evans-Pritchard's distortions of the book are hilarious. Pritchard assiduously avoids mention of the central thesis of the book: that Clinton permitted these secret CIA operations to operate in Arkansas at the request of the Reagan-Bush Administration. The truth is that the Reed-Cummings book is far more damaging to George Bush than to Clinton; in fact Reed reports that Bush attempted a "coup" against President Reagan.

No wonder that CBS—up until the April 20 Wall Street Journal, as we shall see below—has been the only major national media to touch the Mena story. Where are the neo-conservatives, who have been so quick to jump on every imagined scandal about Clinton? Where are the Republicans in Congress, who have been demanding hearings to bring every detail of the Whitewater affair into the circus atmosphere of a televised inquisition on Capitol Hill?

Is it because Terry Reed's story, if seriously investigated, would do what the official Iran-Contra investigations never did: show that the Contra operation was a major source of drug-running into the United States, run under the direct supervision of George Bush? Is it because Reed's story shows that the very least of Lt. Col. Oliver North's offenses was what he was officially charged with: lying to Congress? Is it because Reed's story could destroy George Bush, once and for all?

TERRY REED'S STORY

Reed was trained in Air Force Intelligence in the late 1960s, and served on secret projects in Southeast Asia from 1969 through 1975, after which he went into the machine tool manufacturing business in Oklahoma.

Around 1980, Reed was asked by the Federal Bureau of Investigation to monitor his Hungarian business partners in the machine tool business. Then in early 1982, Reed was handed over to what he was told was the CIA. He was introduced to a "John Cathey", who identified himself as working for the CIA. Cathey first asked Reed to gather information on the company believed to be exporting sensitive technology to the U.S.S.R.

Then in March 1983, Cathey briefed Reed on something called "Project Donation", which involved private citizens "donating" airplanes and other items to the Contra support operation, by declaring them stolen and then filing insurance claims. Reed says he turned down the offer. When his plane was stolen from its hangar in Joplin, Missouri a few weeks later, Reed says he didn't make the connection. In August 1983, when Reed and his partners decided to move their machine tool company to Little Rock, Arkansas, "Cathey" again contacted Reed and told him that the CIA had a project in Little Rock, and directed Reed to contact one Barry Seal.

Reed did so. Seal told him that Arkansas was being turned into a CIA "proprietary". A major legitimate arms manufacturer had moved to Arkansas to produce weapons for the Contras. Other companies were being used to provide the critical parts to convert AR-15s to fully automatic M-16s, which had to be done without federal inspection or end-user certificates.

When Seal learned that Reed had experience in flying and conducting air drops in Southeast Asia, he brought Reed into a second operation, which involved training Nicaraguan Contra pilots in precision air-drop techniques. Two classes of Contra pilots were "graduated" from the training program, conducted at Nella, in a remote area near Mena in western Arkansas.

Seal told Reed that he himself was flying weapons from Arkansas to Central America, and was bringing large amounts of cash back.

Weapons were shipped into Mena by barge on the river system controlled by the Army Corps of Engineers to Fort Smith, and then into Mena for shipment to Central America. Many of these weapons originated with the Army and the Arkansas National Guard.

According to Reed, the Arkansas Development Financial Authority (ADFA), which has figured in many recent Whitewater stories, would issue low-interest loans to other companies involved in secret military and CIA production. Reed says that the CIA was bringing in about $9 million a week (!) into Arkansas. Much of this money was "laundered" through the ADFA, to provide the basis for industrial development bonds issued by ADFA.

MOVING TO MEXICO

Because of Reed's familiarity with manufacturing processes, he was asked by his old friend William Cooper, who was working for the CIA proprietary Southern Air Transport (SAT), to draw up a business plan to build a machine tool manufacturing plant in Mexico, which could be used as an intelligence front and a vehicle for arms shipments worldwide. [H: I asked that "William Cooper" be emphasized here because this article was sent to us by a reader of CONTACT with inquiry as to whether or not this is the "UFO"-focused Cooper. Duplication of names in your world is prevalent but I don't need to respond to that question. Why? Because if you want to find out—it is very easy and then you have documentation. Check to see if there is evidence of anything like this in Cooper's businesses or seeming potential contacts. It is always hard to be specific in questioning with so little input—however, this can easily be established. It is much like asking me what connection Bo Gritz might have in a business circumstance with Khun Sa of Shan. How many of you knew that Khun Sa's country is called "Shan"? Am I making my point? We simply do not need any more conflict or confrontation with ANY "William Cooper". He has already early, early on threatened George Green and then turned and threatened the Ekkers and referred to them as "slimy little pukes" and he would "get them with every fucking thing the law allowed"! I simply am not going to get into such discussions, please. As a further example of how misunderstandings happen, I would suggest that the name above, "John Cathey", is actually a false identification. Certainly it is not, as asked, Bruce Cathey of Australia.] Reed found that the CIA was particularly interested in his KGB-linked Hungarian business contacts who were already operating in Mexico. To Reed's surprise, when he discussed bringing in a company with East bloc ties, his handlers, including "Cathey", began panting.

In August 1985, Cathey arranged for Reed to meet a CIA agent named "Max Gomez" in Mexico. Gomez told Reed that he had been hand-picked by the White House to set up an operation in Mexico which could be used to transship weapons to the Contras. Gomez admitted he didn't know anything about manufacturing, so he needed Reed's expertise.

("Gomez", as Reed later learned, was actually Felix Rodriguez, a longtime CIA agent who bragged of his close ties to Vice-President George Bush. Rodriguez's boss in the old days in Southeast Asia was the CIA official whom Bush brought in as his national security adviser, Donald Gregg. It was Gregg who brought Rodriguez into the White House/National Security Council apparatus which became known as "The Enterprise".)

BARRY SEAL'S STORY

A few months later, Barry Seal told Reed that the "CIA" was getting ready to pull the plug on the Arkansas operation. Seal also told Reed the Agency wanted to expand his Mexico plan to include the actual manufacturing of weapons there for sale to Third World countries.

Seal took Reed to a meeting in Panama in December 1985 to plan out the Mexico project. Gomez had Reed's Mexico business plans in his hand, as well as Reed's correspondence with one "Robert Johnson". (Johnson had called Reed a few months earlier, identified himself as a lawyer with Southern Air Transport, and said that he would be reviewing Reed's plans for the Mexico operation. Only years later was Reed to learn that "Johnson" was actually William P. Barr, a "former" CIA employee who later became George Bush's attorney general.) [H: Does Gunther Russbacher, Ronn Jackson, etc., KNOW all this? OF COURSE! Isn't it dangerous, then, to be working with them, and them with us? OF COURSE! Are we going to just continue to work with them? OF COURSE! Won't they eventually do us in? OF COURSE NOT! THE MAJOR PROBLEM WITH THE ADVERSARY'S PLANNING IS THAT HE/THEY ARE SO FIXED ON THEIR OWN PLANS AND GOALS AS TO ABUSE PEOPLE WHO HAVE SERVED THEM. MOREOVER, THEY ARE NOT PRIVY TO JUST "WHO" IS ON A MISSION "ALREADY"—FOR THE HIGHER-BIG BOYS AND ARE JUST IN TRAINING TO GET TO THE BIG PARTS OF THEIR MISSIONS. IF YOU THINK "GRANDMA" HERE KNEW HER MISSION WHEN SHE TYPED THE FIRST TWO PARAGRAPHS OR THE FIRST TWO DOZEN BOOKS, YOU ARE WRONG. SHE IS STILL WAITING FOR HER PURPOSE—AND, EACH IS WAITING FOR INSTRUCTIONS TO SEEP THROUGH ABOUT WHAT IN HONKERS "WE ARE DOING". If things seem vague in your own mission—wait, but check talents and training and SEE WHERE YOU MAY SERVE! There is nothing more dedicated to truth than a man coming into vision and comparing his past with that which needs doing. He already HAS THE PROOF which we are still having to funnel through TO YOU.]

Another participant in the Panama meeting was "a possible foreign investor" identified as "Pat Weber"—who Reed later learned was Amiram Nir, an Israeli counterterrorism officer who figured prominently in the Iran side of the so-called "Iran-Contra" affair.

Flying back to Arkansas from Panama, Seal told Reed that he had been blackmailing many people, including, he suggested, the CIA. Seal claimed to have gotten information from the Medellin Cartel that Bush's sons were involved with drugs and were in the dope business. Seal went on to say that he could prove this, that he had "names, dates, places", and even tape recordings and "surveillance videos catchin' the Bush boys red-handed."

Seal then explained that the Republicans were trying to "neutralize" some of the Democrats in Arkansas, and particularly the Clinton crowd, before they could use the information against Bush. Seal's assignment, he said, was to "dirty up" some people close to Clinton, which he did by delivering drugs to Little Rock bond dealer Dan Lasater; this resulted in drug charges being brought against Lasater and Roger Clinton, the governor's brother. Seal had told Reed that his own dirty operations were part of the plan to shut down the Arkansas secret project, and move part of it to Mexico.

About two months later, on Feb. 19, 1986, Seal was shot to death in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. Reed believes this was because Seal knew too much, and that he had become a liability to Bush and the CIA.

Shortly after this, according to Reed's story, there was a showdown between Clinton and the White House/NSC/CIA gang. This meeting took place in an ammunition bunker at Camp Robinson near Little Rock, and included Cathey/North, Gomez/Rodriguez, and "the man in charge", Robert Johnson, who ran the meeting as William Casey's personal representative. Johnson's purpose was to extricate Washington from what was becoming a messy situation in Arkansas. There were widespread rumors all over the place about the dirty operations; too much was becoming exposed. Johnson promised to fix any federal investigation, but he informed Clinton that the operations were being pulled out.

OPERATION 'SCREW WORM'

As the Arkansas projects were phased out, Reed was put in charge of the Mexican manufacturing project, code-named "Operation Screw Worm", and he moved his family to Guadalajara [Mexico]. Although Reed had a CIA controller on the scene, the individual who seemed to be actually running the operation was Bush's man "Gomez"—Felix Rodriguez.

The project was much bigger than the Contra operation. The intention was to create a global arms network which would expand its ties with East bloc arms dealers and intelligence agents.

But on Oct. 5, 1986, the Contra supply operation came in for some unwanted exposure. A C-123 cargo plane being operated by Southern Air Transport was shot down over Nicaragua. Eugene Hasenfus, the "kicker" who pushed the cargo out of the plane, was the only survivor; Reed's friend William Cooper, who was flying the C-123, was killed along with two other crew members. (It is not mentioned by Reed, but it is documented through later testimony, that the first notification of the missing plane came to Bush's office from... Felix Rodriguez.)

After the downing of the SAT flight, Operation Screw Worm in Mexico was temporarily put on hold, but it was soon started up again on an accelerated basis. In early December, at a meeting with Rodriguez and "Pat Weber" (Amiram Nir), Rodriguez said they had the go-ahead to immediately jump from Phase 1 of the plan (setting up the machine-tool manufacturing plant) to Phase 2 (weapons manufacturing).

Nir said he could expedite matters in Mexico. "Max and I both have friends in high places in the state of Michoacan," Nir said, and he directed Reed to go to the resort town of Zirahuen for a meeting with the governor of Michoacan, Cuauhtemoc Cardenas. Rodriguez told Reed that Cardenas "is in our pockets and I am personally paying him a lot of Agency money to make this project happen." Reed did meet with Cardenas and explain his requirements, and Cardenas did make things happen.

AMIRAM NIR'S STORY

The true identity of "Pat Weber" was disclosed to Reed by his KGB-linked Hungarian business partner, who also told him that it had been from a Soviet KGB agent that Barry Seal had obtained the compromising video of Bush's children's involvement with drugs. About this same time, because of the publicity around the "Iran-Contra" hearings, Reed also learned the true identity of Cathey/North and Gomez/Rodriguez.

These were only a few of the surprises in store. In late Spring 1987, Reed and his partner discovered that unauthorized shipments were being shipped from their plant to the United States. They then found that the shipments in the warehouse in Guadalajara contained large quantities of cocaine. Through his contacts, Reed confirmed that Felix Rodriguez and the CIA were trafficking in drugs, and that the KGB was also well aware of this.

Then, one day in July 1987, Nir showed up at Reed's warehouse, very frightened, and claimed that the entire CIA operation was out of control.

Nir told Reed that he believed that Rodriguez was a double agent. Rodriguez was compromised years ago in Southeast Asia. Reed already knew that it was common knowledge that the Communists were trying to lure Americans into the narcotics trade in order to compromise them and convert them into double agents. Nir confirmed this, and said that when the CIA found that Rodriguez had been compromised, they decided to use him as a triple agent. He was investigated, but then released. The reason was that Rodriguez and his supervisors were all trafficking in drugs out of the Southeast Asian Golden Triangle. [H: Oh my goodness! Doesn't this open a can of worms in possibilities?]

To Reed's shock, Nir then said that he was convinced that Rodriguez was responsible for the downing of the C-123 with Hasenfus, Reed's friend Cooper, and others on board. Months before that, Rodriguez had boasted that he was also responsible for the killing of Barry Seal. Nir said in fact the C-123 was not shot down. Cooper and Sawyer were dead before it crashed. It was probably blown up after crashing, and after Hasenfus bailed out. Conveniently, the plane had lots of CIA classified documents on board. Hasenfus had "confessed" about his work for the CIA; he was convicted and then released a few months later. What was the purpose? TO SHOW THAT PRESIDENT REAGAN WOULD BREAK THE LAW. AND TO FORCE HIS IMPEACHMENT.

Why get rid of Reagan? Here's where Nir's story, as retold by Reed, gets really interesting. "We think your country has had a quiet, internal coup," said Nir. The problem, he said, was that Reagan was "hell-bent on destroying Communism". This might seem like a good idea. "But if you look deeper, as we Israelis have, destroying or even crippling the U.S.S.R. is not a good idea. As we know in the Middle East, you need a balance of power. Two rival countries, or even more than two, are much easier to manipulate and control than one. It is not intended for either the U.S. or the U.S.S.R. to dominate completely."

Reagan is therefore a threat to world peace, Nir continued. The Israelis see it this way, but they think they are being set up. Bush is now in charge of the United States, and he is trying to overthrow Reagan. It's a coup, plain and simple. If Reagan succeeds in destroying the U.S.S.R., Nir went on, the world will be a much less stable place. Instability, such as exists in the Middle East, will spread. Bush understands this. The CIA is aligned with, and agrees with, Bush.

Along comes a President who is a Hollywood cowboy, determined to kick the Communists out of Nicaragua. The CIA and Bush recognize they have to stop this madman. This is why the shoot-down of the C-123 was staged, to prove to the world that Reagan will violate the law and lie to Congress.

But, something has gone wrong, Nir continued. Reagan has not been impeached. Attorney General Edwin Meese and Secretary of State George Shultz have been able to contain the scandal. People close to Reagan are trying to drag the Israelis in, by tying the Contra operation to the Iran operation, calling it "Iran-Contra", which puts the media spotlight on the Middle East and Israel.

Nir was very worried that the CIA was continuing Operation Screw Worm in Mexico as if nothing had happened. "And we're afraid we'll now be exposed as an accomplice in all of this. That wouldn't appear kosher to the world for Israel to be conspiring with elements of the CIA, KGB, and DFS (Cuban intelligence) to arm the Third World."

This was Reed's last contact with Nir, who was mysteriously killed in a plane crash in November 1988.

Soon after, Reed fled to the United States with his family. Once back home, he contacted Oliver North, who told him to lay low and not to come to Washington as Reed wanted to do. In July 1988, he learned he and his wife Janis had been indicted by the federal government on charges of mail fraud. Two days before he was to go to trial, the federal government invoked the Classified Information Procedures Act (CIPA) as a result of subpoenas he had issued for the CIA, FBI, DEA, FAA Intelligence Division, etc., as well as Oliver North and other individuals.

At a hearing on June 1, 1990, the prosecutor outlined areas of classified information which were potentially involved in responding to Reed's subpoenas. This included information from the FBI, FAA Intelligence, DEA, and "information potentially that would be brought out on direct or cross, particularly that of Oliver North, Jack Blum, and Robert Johnson."

On this basis and after a review of all the evidence, the judge entered a verdict of acquittal for Reed, saying that no reasonable jury would have found him guilty.

THE BUSH-NORTH COVER-UP

It is impossible to vouch for the accuracy of everything in Reed's account. But if one applies the test of consistency—that is, if what Reed reports is consistent with known events of that time period—it holds up. Furthermore, Reed's story is consistent with a lot of what was going on in the Bush-North-Second "Enterprise" which is not well known.

Unlike many journalistic accounts of the "Iran-Contra" affair, Reed does not buy into the myth that Oliver North was the mastermind of the whole operation. For Reed, North was an operative running certain projects on behalf of others in the CIA and the White House. There is never any suggestion here that North took any of these initiatives on his own.

The Reed-Cummings account also draws a sharp distinction between Ronald Reagan and George Bush—which is entirely accurate. In Amiram Nir's view, as related by Reed, Oliver North probably fell closer to Reagan than to Bush—which may be true on the ideological issue of bringing down the Soviet Union—but in reality, what North did, including his collaboration with East bloc arms dealers and with Central American drug runners—puts him in the Bush camp.

North himself has enjoyed perpetuating the myth that he was in charge of the Iran and the Contra operations, and that he "took a dive" on behalf of his President, Ronald Reagan.

The myth of Oliver North, the "lone cowboy", was deliberately put into circulation by Meese in his Nov. 25, 1986 press conference in an effort to protect President Reagan. It was at this press conference that Meese linked—for the first time—the just-exposed illegal Contra support operations, with the Iran arms-for-hostages scandal. Meese linked the two operations by revealing that money from arms transactions between Israel and Iran had been "diverted" to the Contras. (This is what Amiram Nir had been complaining about to Terry Reed.) "The only person in the United States Government that knew precisely about this," Meese declared, was Oliver North. From that point on, the ever-gullible news media jumped pack-rat style onto this newly-coined "Iran-Contra" scandal.

Meese may have thought he was protecting Ronald Reagan, but the real beneficiary of this "diversion" was George Bush. It was Bush who sat on top of the secret "crisis management" structure within the White House, of which North was merely a staff officer. This structure was continuously built up and expanded from 1982 to 1986, so that it ultimately controlled most of the counterterrorism operations and many of the "black" programs within the government.

And this is where the Reed-Cummings book presents a real dilemma for this crowd. They want to use it to bring down Clinton, as Ambrose Evans-Pritchard declared on March 27; but it is very dangerous ground for the Republicans and neo-cons in the United States to wander around on.

Therefore, the Wall Street Journal put out the word on April 20: Keep away from the Mena story. In a signed commentary by Edward Jay Epstein, using the CBS broadcast referred to at the beginning of this review as a pretext, Epstein contended that although there may have been illicit activity going on at Mena in the 1980s, Barry Seal was the only one who knew all about it, and he is dead. [H: OH NO, HE IS NOT THE ONLY ONE!] "So why waste resources?" It is no wonder that the Journal wants to bury this one.

[END OF QUOTING]

No, you will not find "new" news in this book—but it will corroborate the information you should have already gotten [in the CONTACT] from Rodney Stich, Russbacher and several others—who go into such side-trips as "Monarch", "Rainbow", Phoenix and Phoenix II, MK-Ultra and on and on goes the listing. You will also come to realize that two of your newfound friends were ALSO VERY GOOD FRIENDS OF BILL CASEY—WHO GOT VERY DEADED OUT OF THIS OPERATION IN DISCUSSION. WHEN THE BAD GUYS START KILLING THEIR OWN BAD GUYS THE OPERATIVES GET RESTLESS AND I CAN GUARANTEE YOU IT WILL NOT BE GOOD FOR THE ONES WHO ORDERED UP AND CARRIED OUT THOSE MURDERS—SUCH AS CASEY. YOU CAN "HOLD YOUR BREATH" ON THAT ONE!

As a note to Ronn Jackson as regards his "groups"—I would suggest YOU START SUGGESTING TO ONES LIKE CHRISTOPHER, ET AL., THAT THEY MIGHT WELL CONSIDER DOING SOMETHING GOOD FOR THEIR OWN GOVERNMENT AND WE WOULD BE HAPPY TO WELCOME THEM ABOARD! CONTACT DOES NOT "ADVOCATE"

Editor's note: It is time, once again, to remind all readers of CONTACT that we do not advocate anything except that you learn the truth. What you do with it, the actions you take, are not our business. CONTACT's focus has been, and remains, the dissemination of information. There is much information which comes into our offices which we cannot use. We are not in the habit of giving fodder to our enemies, particularly in the midst of the onslaught of attacks against our work.

With this in mind, let us offer some legal definitions taken directly from Black's 4th Law Dictionary.

ADVOCATE: To speak in favor of; defend by argument. Ex parte Bernat, D.C. Wash., 255 F. 429, 432. To support, vindicate, or recommend publicly. Butash v. State, 212 Ind. 492, 9 N.E.2d 88, 90. Not for an educational purpose, but to disseminate controversial "propaganda," which means plan for publication of doctrine or system of principles. Leubuscher v. Commissioner of Internal Revenue, C.C.A., 54 F.2d 998, 999.

INSURRECTION: A rebellion, or rising of citizens or subjects in resistance to their government. See Insurgent.

Insurrection shall consist in any combined resistance to the lawful authority of the state, with intent to the denial thereof, when the same is manifested, or intended to be manifested, by acts of violence. Allegheny County v. Gibson, 90 Pa. 417, 35 Am.Rep. 670; Boon v. Aetna Ins. Col, 40 Conn. 584; In re Charge to Grand Jury, D.C.M., 62 F. 830.

INSURGENT: One who participates in an insurrection; one who opposes the execution of law by force of arms, or who rises in revolt against the constituted authorities. Hearon v. Calus, 178 S.C. 381, 183 S.E. 13, 20.

With these definitions in mind, Ronn Jackson's most recent Bulletin to CONTACT contained some material which could be construed to legally fall under the above definitions. We repeat: CONTACT does not intend to give ammunition to those who would shut us down. So, with Dr. Jackson's permission, some of the possibly controversial terms in his bulletin have been deleted.

BULLETIN #5

I continue to receive many letters from readers of CONTACT that are not signed and are without a return address. Even though I understand why people do not want their address known, this fact makes me sad; and then it makes me furious. I have collected all of the statements made and the requests that I have received and will respond to them through the following issues of CONTACT. My responses will continue either in or out of prison and I ask only one thing of those readers who wish to remain anonymous—don't ask a question if you don't want an answer. I will answer the question if I have personal knowledge. I will not omit things. I will also put into the response what my personal view of that particular subject is and what I expect the results, if any, to be of my response. Those responses will be based on being connected with the seamier side of those whom you know and hoped for in the national elections, as well as the members of present and past national governments.

#1: This question has been asked by many readers. The person is former Senator Charles Percy of Illinois. He was being looked at as a presidential candidate for his party. His daughter was supposed to be a victim of foulplay, when in reality she was running from her father who was guilty of molesting her. No, I did not complete the sanction and she is alive and is the character "Janet" in the CAMELOT series. Yes, the information is known by at least two news agencies, NBC and CBS. The media is controlled by the CFR. She will come forward at the appropriate time, probably through CONTACT, at my request.

#2: Yes, Mr. Altman is partners with Clark Clifford. Yes, he is in the present government; I believe he is in charge of FDIC. Yes, he and Mr. Clifford knew of what was going on with BCCI and BNP [BNL?]. Yes, he is married to Linda Carter. Yes, if he and Mr. Clifford had been tried and found guilty, they would have informed on several others. Yes, Alan Greenspan was involved. He was the reason that charges were dropped by the judge in or on the New York Supreme Court. Yes, I have many documents that would convict Mr. Clifford and Mr. Altman. Yes, I will release the documents at the appropriate time. However, with "Butch" Reno running the Justice Department, this is not the time and she is not the person to trust that data with. Someone who is as confused as the Attorney General is cannot be expected to do what would be expected by the people of this country. Her sexual preference is none of my business, but when she flaunts it in my face then it becomes my business.

#3: Many people liked and believed in Ronald Reagan. Yes, he lied several times. For example, in January 1987, he came before the American people and stated that he signed the presidential finding on Iran-Contra in December 1986. He signed the finding on July 13, 1986. I have the original finding and I took it from the files of the Committee. Oliver North is now the Senatorial candidate from Virginia. Yes, he lied, as we know, in an effort to protect the president. My opinion of Oliver North is—"dishonesty forfeits Divine Power". Yes, on many occasions my situation required dishonesty. And in that sense, I agree with your statement. I did what I did because I believed in what I was doing. I now believe that I will be judged by my actions now, and history will be the ultimate judge. Yes, I am concerned about many of my actions in the past and if there is a decision to try me, then let it be before the citizens of this country. If that be the case, then neither the Government nor the Committee will survive. I would suggest that you revert back to trading beads and animal pelts.

#4: No, Hatonn does not speak for me. CONTACT prints my words and they do so with my permission. I can substantiate everything that I say and will do so when circumstances permit. No, CONTACT is not a bunch of space-cadets.

Yes, we [the U.S.] have several agreements with others, not of this world. The initial agreement was made in the early '50s. The then administration was able to procure an agreement that only their designees would release information. Their agreements were by honorable beings and, although we as a race had been observed for thousands of years, those beings did not know the meaning of self-serving as applied by those with whom they dealt. Our species is unique in all of this universe and only now am I beginning to understand this unique position. Those who made agreements are starting to lose their patience. Hatonn has voiced his displeasure several times in the last few weeks. I would not have been as patient. That's why he is doing what he is doing; and that's why I am where I am. No, I do not consider myself to be a deity but consider myself as privileged to have known one. Their names aren't important. They are assigned to communicate to us and to give us a point of reference in our plane of reference. We, as a species, are in the formative stages and if I, as an individual, know anything—I know nothing and can only relate to a number of situations. I do know TRUTH and know it to be absolute and [that it] cannot be changed or denied. CONTACT is TRUTH—and because you don't understand it does not mean it is false. We all relate to what we know or understand. Knowing a subject and believing in something that we think is true, is often quite different.

#5: Non-positive law [is law that] has not complied to the CONSTITUTION. Positive law, in the opinion of the judicial, does apply and is Constitutional. This is the crux of my lawsuit. I am aware that the issues in my case are controlled by Government and controlled by the Judicial. But the jury, as citizens, is the key if my attorney can get the point across that they are supreme, and it is they who control the proceedings and not the Court or the Government.

#6: Ted Kennedy was drunk and was criminally responsible for her death. The Sheriff who handled the investigation is now set for life, as is his family and, with fiscal responsibility, will never have any monetary problems. Yes, money does reign supreme over justice. Yes, I have his medical records from Congress. Yes, he felt that he had to compete with his brothers. No, the female members of the Kennedy family were not as promiscuous. No, I am not into giving the tabloids any information; however, some of the smut reporters are more accurate than the mainstream media.

#7: I would classify Bill Casey as an honorable man who was doing his job. I told him my opinion of attorneys (he was one). And he reminded me of that statement many times. He was my friend and I said, "Attorneys are like politicians, if you put them into a bag and shake them up—at five feet you can't tell them apart." There are good attorneys, but I have met only a few.

#8: FEMA is only an organization to further the indenturing and enslavement of the citizens of this country. When Emergency Relief is granted to any segment of our population, the help is needed, and the recipients of the relief know only that the money comes from Government. They believe that the money is tax money and that comes from Government. The money comes from bonds sold by government as the Federal Reserve prints up new money that your children, grandchildren, and their grandchildren will have to repay. The Government has no money and is precluded from issuing any by law. Our system of money is a pyramid scheme. And as you are aware, if you or I ran a pyramid scheme, we would go to jail. Their authority is the Federal Reserve Act of 1913, signed into law December 23, 1913. The Government didn't fully enact the law until many years later, as it was designed to enslave future generations. Our Government started their unlawful activities as the Constitution was ratified in 1789. Actually the framers of the Constitution foresaw what would happen and they wrote about the pitfalls in THE FEDERALIST PAPERS. Read them and see how we have been played as fools.

#9: The Chairman of the Council on Foreign Relations, the CFR, is Peter (Pete) Peterson. Yes, I know him and have had drinks with him. Yes, he is an advocate of One World Government and believes that all around him should be subservient to the ruling Elite. He is a traitor to the Constitution.

#10: Yes, the Treasury is under the direct control of others and I do not mean our citizens of this country. You ask how this can be and I must be honest with you: you believe that an office of our Government is controlled by our Government. But our Government enacted laws giving away financial control of our country, I believe, in 1972.

COPYRIGHT POSITION STATEMENT AND DISCLAIMER

The Phoenix Journals are intended as a "real time" commentary on current events, how current events relate to past events and the relationships of both to the physical and spiritual destinies of mankind.

All of history, as we now know it, has been revised, rewritten, twisted and tweaked by selfishly motivated men to achieve and maintain control over other men. When one can understand that everything is comprised of "energy" and that even physical matter is "coalesced" energy, and that all energy emanates from God's thought, one can accept the idea that the successful focusing of millions of minds on one expected happening will cause it to happen.

If the many prophecies made over thousands of years are accepted, these are the "end times" (specifically the year 2000, the second millennium, etc.). That would put us in the "sorting" period and only a few short years from the finish line. God has said that in the end-times would come the WORD—to the four corners of the world—so that each could decide his/her own course toward, or away from, divinity—based upon TRUTH.

So, God sends His Hosts—Messengers—to present that TRUTH. This is the way in which He chooses to present it, through the Phoenix Journals. Thus, these journals are Truth, which cannot be copyrighted; they are compilations of information already available on Earth, researched and compiled by others (some, no doubt, for this purpose) which should not be copyrighted. Therefore, these journals are not copyrighted (except SIPAPU ODYSSEY which is "fiction").

The first sixty or so journals were published by America West Publishing which elected to indicate that a copyright had been applied for on the theory that the ISBN number (so necessary for booksellers) was dependent upon the copyright. Commander Hatonn, the primary author and compiler, insisted that no copyrights be applied for and, to our knowledge, none were.

If the Truth is to reach the four corners of the world, it must be freely passed on. It is hoped that each reader will feel free to do that, keeping it in context, of course. (See Back Page for journal ordering information.)

Plus the latest alternative therapies for AIDS and CANCER

The most complete and shocking record of political, social, and scientific data on AIDS ever!

FINALLY...

THE ASTONISHING TRUTH,
GATHERED TOGETHER
IN ONE INCREDIBLE BOOK.

The deadly scientific facts about condoms and saliva. The incredible rate of HIV infection among many high school students. The real dangers in: hospitals, medical and dental offices, the blood supply, restaurants, schools, tanning beds, gyms, pools, public restrooms, insects, hospitals, and hotels. How a negative AIDS test can mean nothing...for years.

The truth about the political cover-up and the major AIDS propaganda and disinformation campaign. Incredible evidence about the origins of the AIDS virus, the uses of EMF and biological Warfare technologies, and much, much more.

Plus a separate AIDS Survival Guide to show you exactly how to best protect yourself and your family from the growing AIDS pandemic and its many related diseases. Also, complete safety guidelines and procedures for health professionals.

And a major section on The very latest alternative AIDS and Cancer therapies. Essential information. Massive documentation. 350 pgs. Big 8 1/2 by 11 format.

CULTS! CULTS! AND CULTS

What is a cult? What is not a cult? Who decides the answer? Of many things you can be imperfectly certain and certainly one of these is an honest, truthful understanding of the nature of a cult. This follows inevitably from the babel pouring out of the religions, the governments, the educational places and yes, yes, all televisions, radios, cinemas, print places, oral and written pronouncements and "Blue Beams".

This item is the result of an article in the June 1994 Modern Maturity, a magazine for seniors, entitled "Let Us Prey" by D. Frantz and C. Collins that contributes its pence to the babel. The writing emphasizes the trickery and money grabbing of the Branch Davidians, the TMs, CBJs, Ramthas and Church Universal and Triumphant. It appears that the so-called cults are targeting the seniors (primarily the seniles) and reaping a golden harvest.

Some statistical tidbits: a fair guess is that there are at least 2,000 and not more than 5,000 cults (more babel), with three to five million members. There are some 10 to 20 million more who have been somehow involved. (Such accuracy.)

This presentation is offered for your consideration in order to offer some semblance of sanity for you as you wander along in this obviously insane world. Sample: like cults and anti-cults there are Semites and anti-Semites. Now follow this closely. The genuine Semites are forever being attacked by the fake Semites, who claim to be the genuine Semites, but are not. So, whenever you see anyone attacked for being anti-Semitic, do the "switcheroo". The one or ones attacking are the liars: whoever is attacked is the truth teller (chickens aren't chickens).

To cut through this whole brain-washing bit about the good guys and the bad guys in religion it is necessary to be above the two contending positions: pro-cult and anti-cult. This is not the question; nor is pro-religion or anti-religion; nor is Christ or anti-Christ.

The priority question for each one, and so for all, is: Pro-God or Anti-God.

The next six years will present the developing scenario of who is not with Me is against Me, and he who gathers not with Me, scatters. Between now and the year 2000, Semites and cults and religions can be seen in proper context and they will not be of import or value.

UNEMPLOYMENT NONSENSE

Since 1980 the government has been publishing Bureau of Labor statistics and claiming that the total unemployment percentage has stayed within 6 to 7% of the total civilian labor force. Also claimed is a low of 7 million in 1990 and a high of 9 million in 1992 in that time span since 1980.

Executive Intelligence Review, in a simple graph (below), reveals the enduring falsity of these figures. The actual unemployment figures in March 1994 are close to 20 million (!) which is over 15% of the total civilian labor force.

YELTSIN WANTS RETURN OF IMPERIAL GOLD RESERVES

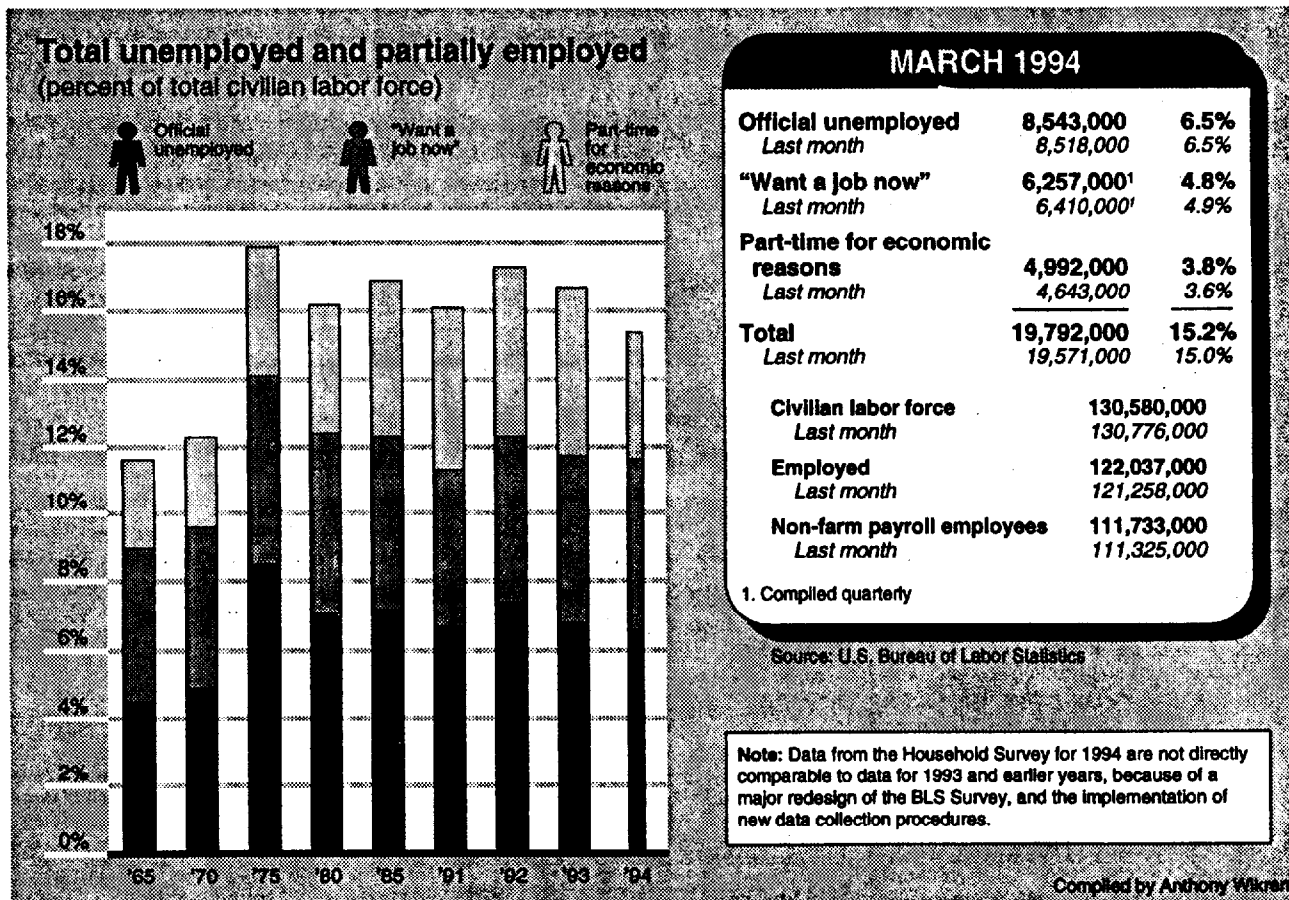

In an article from the May 25 edition of The Gazette (Montreal), A.P. Moscow, "President Boris Yeltsin's chief of staff wants France and Japan to return millions of dollars worth of gold bullion that belonged to czarist Russia."

"Sergei Filatov said he has detailed information about the imperial gold and will recommend creation of a government commission to seek its return, the Itar-Tass news agency said."

"After the 1917 revolution, the Bolsheviks shipped 93.5 tonnes of gold to Germany to pay for the landing of German troops in Russia's northern ports of Murmansk and Archangelsk, which had been occupied by British troops."

"After Germany's defeat, the gold was sent

U.S. Unemployment Coverup

What the graph shows

The U.S. Labor Department's monthly unemployment rate (U-5b) is based on a statistical sampling of approximately 57,000 households. But in order for someone to be counted as unemployed, the respondent member of the household (often not the person who is out of work) must be able to state what specific effort that person made in the last four weeks to find a job. If no specific effort can be cited, the jobless person is classified as not in the labor force and is ignored in the official unemployment count.

But over 6 million of these discarded people are also reported on the quarterly survey indicating that they "want a regular job now." These appear in the graph in dark gray shading. In addition, over 6 million more people are forced into part-time work for economic reasons, such as slack work or inability to find a full-time job. These people show up as employed in the official statistics, even if they worked only one hour during the survey week. These appear in the graph in lighter-gray shading.

BAD FOOD COMBINING

The American public is as discriminating in its food choices as it is in choosing servants for public office.

Give them a choice and you may be sure they will opt for the cheapest, least valuable item and that which will cause the most problems in the future.

It is obvious that the planet is falling apart and will continue to so do until a complete reversal of values becomes operative.

Behold what you did choose in '93! From the Johnson City Press:

ated to be 1.25 miles to 2.5 miles in diameter. Hubble first observed the comet on July 1, 1993. Recent images, taken using Hubble's newly improved optics between Jan. 24 and 27, have given an even clearer view.

"The new images, taken by the Wide Field Planetary Camera-2, indicate the comet will continue to fragment. Over the next few months, Hubble will monitor the comet's approach of Jupiter, which is some 500 million miles from the Sun and is the largest of the nine planets in the solar system. Earth, by comparison, is 9.1 million miles from the Sun and is the fifth largest planet."

HIGHWAY HI-JINX

In an article from the May 26 Modesto Bee. Washington D.C., "The nation's interstate highways would be combined with thousands of miles of secondary roads in a new National Highway System under legislation passed Wednesday by the House. In a 412-12 vote, the House approved a measure that would finance improvements to 159,000 miles of highway, three-quarters of which are outside the interstate system."

DO YOU HAVE A HEALTHY IMMUNE SYSTEM? TAKE YOUR GAIANDRIANA!

Not so long ago, Government officials and medical leaders all but pronounced the end of infectious diseases as a major public health problem. Striking examples of new emerging diseases prove that prediction wrong. They join a list that included, among others, AIDS, Legionnaire's disease, Lyme disease, Lassa fever and bleeding and fever from the Ebola and Marburg viruses. Some were unknown or minor hazards only a decade or two ago. Others increased significantly in incidence over the last 20 years. Still others threaten to become bigger hazards in the near future.

In the last 12 months dozens of healthy people became acutely short of breath and died from a new virus, the Hantavirus. The parasite, cryptosporidium, contaminated the water supply of Milwaukee. Result: prolonged diarrhea for 400,000 people and 4,400 hospitalizations. A toxin, produced by E. Coli bacteria, infected some hamburger eaters, and some who came into contact with those who were infected. This caused sickness for over 500, 30 kidney failures and four deaths.

THE NEXT PLAGUE

Continuing with the above theme of plagues on we the people, an old friend, Dave Overton, sent us this clipping from the magazine TaiPan. It was received by CONTACT June 10.

"Recently a variant of one of the three most deadly viruses ever discovered was found near Washington, DC in the well-to-do suburb of Reston, Virginia. In its most deadly form, it killed 9 out of 10 people in African villages in Zaire some 20 years ago. The variant strain showed up in monkeys imported for medical research. Researchers say it's just dumb luck that it didn't jump to humans and mutate. (The super-deadly strain is called Ebola Zaire. Along with rabies and HIV, which causes AIDS, this virus has the highest rate of mortality ever recorded for a human virus.)

"Mutant viruses are going to be one of the biggest problems facing us in the next ten years. Viruses are mutating now much faster than they used to. Plus, today's airline travelers will unwittingly transport these deadly diseases all over the world...in a matter of weeks, days, even hours!

"A new plague strain of a common flu virus—air-borne, acutely infectious, and far more dangerous than AIDS—would take just seven days to cross the world and kill millions of healthy people within a few days of their becoming ill. Researchers believe it's only a matter of time before another super-deadly strain, like the flu of 1918, mutates again. It is natural and inevitable.

"The last flu epidemic—your father or grandfather may remember it—was the world's worst plague; suprisingly, it was less than 100 years ago. It's hard to imagine how quickly people died that summer and fall—you could wake up on Monday feeling tired and achy, and never live to see the week's end. The death toll was staggering: 1 out of 7 people in Philadelphia and Baltimore died. This deadly flu infected half the world's population and killed 25 million people within days of becoming ill.

"There was no time to develop a vaccine. Even if a vaccine were found, it would never have been possible to save lives. Death came too rapidly. Will it come again, in a new form, in the summer of 1994...or 1995?"

$2,600 GOLD

In an article from the March 19 Bangkok Post, Hong Kong, AFP, "Gold is coming out of a 12-year bear market and could hit a staggering US$2,625 an ounce—or better—in three to six years, influential US analyst James Dines said yesterday.

"Gold closed in Hong Kong yesterday (3-18) at $383, up about 10% from a year ago. Several mutual funds specializing in precious metals have meanwhile doubled in value in the past year.

"Dines, best known for his biweekly investment newsletter, said that initially, gold bullion and silver will lag mining stocks.

"One reason for the upturn is strong demand for precious metals and jewelry from previously closed—and, in some cases, highly unstable—economies such as China, Eastern Europe and India.

"In the near term, Dines said global stock markets are likely to experience a 'dead cat bounce'—a rally that inspires brief confidence, but fails to break records—before falling sharply by mid-year.

"Tokyo's Nikkei Stock Index could peak at 25,000, while Hong Kong might attain 11,000, he said. The Nikkei finished [presently] at 20,469.45 and the Hang Seng at 9,132.31."

THE JULY JUPITER COLLISION

In an article from the June 7 edition of The Stargazer, a Lockheed Publication, "Several images of fragments of the Comet P/Shoemaker-Levy 9 (1993e) were made by NASA's Hubble Space Telescope (HST) earlier this year. The chunks are expected to plunge into Jupiter's atmosphere in July. The comet was torn into numerous pieces by the massive planet's gravitational pull as it passed by Jupiter in the Summer of 1992.

"The fragments are due to hit Jupiter in a five-and-a-half-day period about July 19, possibly producing spectacular results depending on the size of the pieces. The fragments are expected to impact with an energy release many times that of nuclear warheads.

MORE ON KISSINGER

And, we'll try to get through the most of this subject as focus, today. Since this man is so important in his shenanigans around your globe as pertains to YOUR NATION OF THE U.S.A., I MUST offer some insights into his thought presentations to fool you and mislead you. He has a "handler" but it is sufficient for you to recognize the personage.

We have written from this article in FOREIGN AFFAIRS on two prior occasions so we will leave you readers to refer back to those [see last week's CONTACT]. We will call this Henry Kissinger, "Reflections on Containment", FOREIGN AFFAIRS, PART 3.

I will remind you that this material is DIRECTLY from Henry Kissinger as is presented in his recent book, DIPLOMACY, Simon and Schuster, 1994.

THE CRITIQUES OF CONTAINMENT

As containment slowly took shape, the criticism it encountered emerged from three different schools of thought. The first came from the "realists," exemplified by Walter Lippmann, who argued that the containment policy led to psychological and geopolitical overextension while draining American resources. The spokesman for the second school of thought was Winston Churchill, who objected to the postponement of negotiations until after positions of strength had been achieved. Finally, there was Henry Wallace, who denied America the moral right to undertake the policy of containment in the first place. Postulating a fundamental moral equivalence between both sides, Wallace argued that the Soviet sphere of influence in Central Europe was legitimate and that America's resistance to it only intensified tension. He urged a return to what he viewed as Roosevelt's policy: to end the Cold War by American conciliation.

As the most eloquent spokesman for the realists, Walter Lippmann rejected Kennan's proposition that Soviet society contained the seeds of its own decay. He considered the theory to be too speculative to serve as the foundation of American policy: containment, argued Lippmann, would draw America into the hinterlands of the Soviet empire's extended periphery, which included, in his view, many countries that were not states in the modern sense to begin with. Military entanglements that far from home could not enhance American security and would weaken American resolve. Containment, according to Lippmann, permitted the Soviet Union to choose the points of maximum discomfiture for the United States while retaining the diplomatic, and even the military, initiative. Lippmann stressed the importance of establishing criteria to define areas in which countering Soviet expansion was a vital American interest. Without such criteria, the United States would be forced to organize a "heterogeneous array of satellites, clients, dependents and puppets," which would permit America's newfound allies to exploit containment for their own purposes. The United States would be trapped into propping up nonviable regimes, leaving Washington with the sorry choice between "appeasement and defeat and the loss of face, or ... support[ing] them [U.S. allies] at incalculable cost."

[H: The most interesting thing to note here is that this man [H.A.K.] was and is a major, major figure WITHIN the circles planning the EXACT thing he denounces above. You see, he simply cannot resist this reverse presentation to show what he has actually accomplished! Who all do you think has already been to North Korea recently to set up this little cute ploy with Carter? Do you REALLY believe the Korean leaders didn't even "know about inspectors", etc., as CNN has told you? Is it possible that Carter's visit has a lot more to do with CHINA than it did with Korea? STAY ALERT!]

It was indeed a prophetic [H: No, like most "prophecies" it is exactly like it was planned or it would not be mentioned herein.] analysis of what lay ahead for the United States, though the remedy Lippmann proposed was hardly congenial to the universalist American tradition, which was far closer to Kennan's expectation of an apocalyptic outcome. Lippmann asked that American foreign policy be guided by a case-by-case analysis of American interests rather than by general principles presumed to be universally applicable. In his view, American policy should have been aiming less at overthrowing the Communist system than at restoring the balance of power in Europe, which had been destroyed by the war. Containment implied the indefinite division of Europe, whereas America's real interest should be to banish Soviet power from the center of the European continent: [H: Now doesn't this sound good? Well, the facts are that the U.S. and the Soviets—NEVER STOPPED WORKING IN TOTAL JOINT VENTURE WITH ONE ANOTHER. Did Kissinger know as much? Of course, he helped structure it—how do you think he has gotten to be SO BIG in both nations and around the globe? Remember, Kissinger was a KGB agent!]

For more than a hundred years all Russian Governments have sought to expand over Eastern Europe. But only since the Red Army reached the Elbe River have the rulers of Russia been able to realize the ambitions of the Russian empire and the ideological purposes of Communism. A genuine policy would, therefore, have as its paramount objective a settlement which brought about the evacuation of Europe. American power must be available, not to 'contain' the Russians at scattered points, but to hold the whole Russian military machine in check, and to exert a mounting pressure in support of a diplomatic policy which has as its concrete objective a settlement that means withdrawal.

From among its intellectuals, America was able to draw on the thinking of both Lippmann and Kennan while they were at the height of their powers. Kennan correctly understood Communism's underlying weakness; Lippmann accurately foretold the frustrations of an essentially reactive foreign policy based on containment. Kennan called for endurance to permit history to display its inevitable tendencies; Lippmann called for diplomatic initiative to produce a European settlement while America was still preponderant. Kennan had a better intuitive understanding of the main-springs of American society; Lippmann grasped the impending strain of enduring a seemingly endless stalemate and the ambiguous causes that containment might lead America to support.

[H: I have recently had to ask that some language and "proposals" for the treatment of politicians be toned down so as to not even remotely represent an idea of insurrection or subversion—a stance to which we HIGHLY OBJECT. My idea might, however, be to cause all politicians to have to sit for some 500 hours in an audience and be required to listen and give accurate accounting to HENRY KISSINGER as he does his typical spell-binding monologue in impassioned manner. This is a man who has absolutely no ability to reach out of his robotic graveltone no matter if he wished to do so. I believe punishment should fit the crime! Further, by "accurate accounting" I mean that every one being disciplined must give ACCURATE REPORTING ON EXACTLY WHAT IS MEANT WHEN MR. KISSINGER SPEAKS WITH SUCH AUTHORITY ON EVERY SUBJECT AROUND—DO YOU REALLY THINK THIS OLD BIRD GOT SO HOITY-TOITY THROUGH HIS PERSONAL CHARISMA? THIS MAN THROWS TANTRUMS, AND REFUSES TO EVEN JOIN MEETINGS (TO WHICH HE IS ALWAYS LATE) IF SOMEONE, ESPECIALLY A GUEST, SO MUCH AS SITS TEMPORARILY IN HIS CHAIR. "THIS" IS WHAT SETS YOUR NATIONAL IMAGE AND YOUR FOREIGN INTERCHANGE!]

THE MOST COMPELLING ALTERNATIVE

In the end, Lippmann's analysis found a substantial following, though mainly among the opponents of confrontation with the Soviet Union. And their approbation was based on only one aspect of Lippmann's argument, emphasizing as they did its critique while ignoring its prescriptions. They noted Lippmann's call for more limited objectives but overlooked his recommendation for more aggressive diplomacy. Thus it happened that in the 1940s the most compelling alternative strategy to the doctrine of containment came from none other than Winston Churchill, then leader of the Opposition in the British Parliament.

Churchill supported containment, but for him it was never an end in itself. Unwilling to wait passively for the collapse of Communism, he sought to shape history rather than rely on it to do his work for him. What he was after was a negotiated settlement. His "iron curtain" speech at Fulton, Missouri had merely hinted at negotiations. On October 9, 1948, at Blandudno, Wales, Churchill returned to his argument that the West's bargaining position would never be better than it was at that moment. In a much-neglected speech, he said:

No one in his senses can believe that we have a limitless period of time before us. We ought to bring matters to a head and make a final settlement. We ought not to go jobbing along improvising, incompetent, waiting for something to turn up, by which I mean waiting for something bad for us to turn up. The Western nations will be far more likely to reach a lasting settlement, without bloodshed, if they formulate their just demands while they have the atomic power and before the Russian Communists have got it too.

Two years later, Churchill made the same plea in the House of Commons: the democracies were quite strong enough to negotiate, and would only weaken themselves by waiting. Defending NATO rearmament on November 30, 1950, he warned that arming the West would not by itself change its bargaining position, which, in the end, depended on America's atomic monopoly:

While it is right to build up our forces as fast as we can, nothing in this process, in the period I have mentioned, will deprive Russia of effective superiority in what are now called the conventional arms. All that it will do is give us increasing unity in Europe and magnify the deterrents against aggression. Therefore I am in favour of efforts to reach a settlement with Soviet Russia as soon as a suitable opportunity presents itself, and of making those efforts while the immense and measureless superiority of the United States Atomic bomb organization offsets the Soviet predominance in every other military respect.

For Churchill, a position of strength was already in place; for American leaders, it had yet to be created. Churchill thought of negotiations as a way of relating power to diplomacy. And though he was never specific, his public statements strongly suggest that he envisioned some kind of diplomatic ultimatum by the Western democracies. American leaders recoiled before employing their atomic monopoly, even as a threat. Churchill wanted to shrink the area of Soviet influence, but was prepared to coexist with Soviet power within reduced limits. The American leaders had a nearly visceral dislike of spheres of influence.

They wanted to destroy and not to shrink their adversary's sphere. Their preference was to wait for total victory and for the collapse of Communism, however far off, to bring about a Wilsonian solution to the problem of world order.

The disagreement came down to a difference between the historical experiences of Great Britain and America. Churchill's society was all too familiar with imperfect outcomes; Truman and his advisers came from a tradition in which, once a problem had been recognized, it was usually overcome by the deployment of vast resources. Hence America's preference for final resolutions and its distrust of the sort of compromise that had become a British specialty. The American view prevailed, because America was stronger than Great Britain, and because Churchill, as leader of the British Opposition, was in no position to press his strategy.

HENRY WALLACE AND THE RADICAL TRADITION

In the end, the most vocal and persistent challenge to American policy came from neither the realist school of Lippmann nor Churchill's balance-of-power thinking, but from a tradition with roots deep within American radical [H:???] thought. Whereas Lippmann and Churchill accepted the Truman Administration's premise that Soviet expansionism represented a serious challenge and only contested strategy for resisting it, the radical critics rejected every aspect of containment. Henry Wallace, vice president during Roosevelt's third term, former secretary of agriculture, and secretary of commerce under Truman, was its principal spokesman.

A product of America's populist tradition, Wallace had an abiding Yankee distrust of Great Britain. Like most American liberals since Jefferson, he insisted that "the same moral principles which governed in private life also should govern in international affairs." In Wallace's view, America had lost its moral compass and was practicing a foreign policy of "Machiavellian principles of deceit, force and distrust," as he told an audience in Madison Square Garden on September 12, 1946. [H: Radical? Do you see that if you had LISTENED—you would be a zillion years up on this bastardized deceit going on through ones just exactly like Henry Kissinger. The statement just made above was when? Sept. 12, 1946—almost half a century ago.] Since prejudice, hatred and fear were the root causes of international conflict, the United States had no moral right to intervene abroad until it had banished these scourges from its own society. The new radicalism reaffirmed the historical vision of America as a beacon of liberty but, in the process, turned it against itself. Postulating the moral equivalence of American and Soviet actions became a characteristic of the radical critique throughout the Cold War. The very idea of America having international responsibilities was, in Wallace's eyes, an example of the arrogance of power. The British, he argued, were duping the gullible Americans into doing their bidding: "British policy clearly is to provoke distrust between the United States and Russia and thus prepare the groundwork for World War III."

To Wallace, Truman's presentation of the conflict as one between democracy and dictatorship was pure fiction. In 1945, a time when Soviet postwar repression was becoming increasingly obvious and the brutality of collectivization was widely recognized, Wallace declared that "the Russians today have more of the political freedoms than they ever had." He also discovered "increasingly the signs of religious toleration" in the U.S.S.R. and claimed that there was a "basic lack of conflict between the United States and the Soviet Union". Wallace thought that Soviet policy was driven less by expansionism than by fear. In his speech at Madison Square Garden in August 1946, Wallace laid down a direct challenge to Truman, which caused the president to demand Wallace's resignation:

We may not like what Russia does in Eastern Europe. Her type of land reform, industrial expropriation and suppression of basic liberties offends the great majority of the people of the United States. But whether we like it or not the Russians will try to socialize their sphere of influence just as we try to democratize our sphere of influence. Russian ideas of social-economic justice are going to govern nearly a third of the world. Our ideas of free enterprise democracy will govern much of the rest. The two ideas will endeavor to prove which can deliver the most satisfaction to the common man in their respective areas of political dominance.

In a curious reversal of roles, the self-proclaimed defender of morality in foreign policy accepted a Soviet sphere of influence in Eastern Europe on practical grounds, while the administration he was attacking for cynical power politics rejected the Soviet sphere on moral grounds.

Wallace's challenge collapsed after the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia, the Berlin blockade and the invasion of South Korea. As a presidential candidate in 1948, he gained only one million votes against more than 24 million for Truman, placing him fourth. Nevertheless, Wallace managed to develop themes that would remain staples of the American radical critique throughout the Cold War and move to center stage during the Vietnam conflict. These emphasized America's moral inadequacies and those of the friends it was supporting, a basic moral equivalence between America and its Communist challengers; the proposition that America had no obligation to defend any area of the world against largely imaginary threats; and the view that world opinion was a better guide to foreign policy than geopolitical concepts. When aid to Greece and Turkey was first proposed, Wallace urged the Truman Administration to put the issue before the United Nations. If "the Russians exercised their veto, the moral burden would be on them. When we act independently, the moral burden is on us." Seizing the moral high ground meant more than whether American's geopolitical interests were being safeguarded. [H: I don't know about YOU, but every time these slimy scum-suckers start pontificating about "morals" and "morality" I want to puke! I believe where they cover themselves is that there are BAD morals and GOOD morals—and they do not distinguish that they ONLY ultimately sanction the BAD ONES!]

Though Wallace's radical critique of American postwar foreign policy was defeated in the 1940s, its basic tenets reflected a deep strain of American idealism that continued to tug at the nation's soul. The same moral convictions that had conferred such energy on America's international commitments also had the potential to be turned inward by disillusionment with the outside world, or with America's own imperfections. In the 1920s, isolationism had caused America to withdraw on the grounds that it was too good for the world; in the Wallace movement and its heirs, it revived itself in the proposition that America should withdraw because it was not good enough for the world.

THE COMPLEXITY OF CONTAINMENT

[H: "Containment" is actually totally simplistic—not complex. The "complexity" happens ONLY when such as Kissinger EXPLAINS IT in the double-speak of his trained deceptive presentations. You will see that he somehow neglects to tell you that he, along with such as Scowcroft of the Mormon segment, etc., ARE THE ONES WHO SET THE FOREIGN POLICY FOR ALL THESE PAST YEARS IN POINT.]

One result of the containment policy was that the United States relegated itself to an essentially passive diplomacy during the period of its greatest power. That is why containment was increasingly challenged by yet another constituency, of which John Foster Dulles became the most vocal spokesman. His constituents were the conservatives who accepted the premises of containment but questioned the absence of urgency with which it was being pursued. [H: Surely by this time ALL of you readers MUST KNOW that ALL of these players are playing the SAME SIDE OF THE GAME—ALWAYS TOGETHER WITH JUST LITTLE APPEARANCES OF DISAGREEMENTS—BUT ALWAYS AGAINST YOU-THE-PEOPLE IN FAVOR OF THE WORLD ONE WORLD ORDER—AND THAT MEANS: THE FOREIGN INFLUENCE OF THE KHAZARIAN ONE WORLDERS AND BANKSTER THIEVES AND ROBBERS. My own team will come out with something like: "Wasn't Dulles pretty nice and I thought former Secretary of State {George} Shultz was pretty nice...!" NICE? Whatever do you mean by "nice"—you are talking about men who intend to have a One World Government and One World Order—enslaving YOU, run by THEM. There are several FACTIONS—the only question among them is WHO WILL BE BIG DOG!!

Yes indeed I will negotiate "timing" with them because negotiation is not the same thing as COMPROMISE. I will, for instance, SHUT UP COMPLETELY ABOUT RONALD REAGAN'S DASTARDLY DECEIT AND LITERALLY MURDEROUS MISUSE OF POWER—until after the new fiscal year and the Government can possibly bring stability into the currency foundation. "I" have plenty of time. In fact, "I", "we", don't have to talk about it at all—but you see, game players, the information is ALREADY RUNNING AROUND OUT THERE—IT IS JUST THAT THE PEOPLE CAN'T BRING THEMSELVES TO BELIEVE IT AND THE CONTROLLED MEDIA HAS MANAGED TO KEEP IT BURIED.

It may be a bit like O.J. Simpson's problems—is O.J. as STUPID as he is beginning to appear—OR WAS HE SET-UP? No, I'm not going to get into it—BUT, it may be interesting to you nice uninformed readers TO COME TO REALIZE THAT O.J. SIMPSON WAS RECRUITED INTO THE CIA RIGHT OUT OF HIGH-SCHOOL. Gosh, I "hope" he wasn't trying to do anything about the thugs trying to destroy the U.S.A. and all the political intrigue revolving around the political criminals working out of the West Coast and Chicago. It all begins to take on a very different flavor, does it not? Well—perhaps "de Shadow" knows.]

Even if containment did in the end succeed in undermining Soviet society, these critics argued, it would take too long and cost too much. Whatever containment might accomplish, a strategy of liberation would surely accelerate. By the end of Truman's presidency, the containment policy was caught in a crossfire between those who considered it too bellicose (the followers of Wallace) and those who thought it too passive (the conservative Republicans).

This controversy accelerated because, as Lippmann had predicted, international crises increasingly moved to peripheral regions of the globe, where the moral issues were confused and direct threats to American security were difficult to demonstrate. America found itself drawn into wars in areas not protected by alliances and on behalf of ambiguous causes and inconclusive outcomes. From Korea to Vietnam, these enterprises kept alive the radical critique, which continued to question the moral validity of containment. Thus surfaced a new variant of American exceptionalism. With all of its imperfections, the America of the nineteenth century had thought of itself as the beacon of liberty; in the 1960s and 1970s, the torch was said to be flickering and would need to be relit before America could return to its historical role as an inspiration to the cause of freedom. The debate over containment turned into a struggle for the very soul of America. [H: Well, I don't know which faction won—but all this surely has cost America her SOUL.] As early as 1957, even George Kennan had come to reinterpret containment in this light when he wrote: "To my own countrymen who have often asked me where best to apply the hand to counter the Soviet threat, I have accordingly had to reply: to our American failings, to the things we are ashamed of in our own eyes, or that worry us; to the racial problem, to the conditions in our big cities, to the education and environment of our young people, to the growing gap between specialized knowledge and popular understanding."

A decade earlier, before he had become disillusioned by what he considered the militarization of his invention, George Kennan would have recognized that no such choice existed. A country that demands moral perfection of itself as a test of its foreign policy will achieve neither perfection nor security. [H: Well, I guess Kissinger is an authority on this matter for sure.] It was a measure of Kennan's achievement that, by 1957, the free world's parapets had been manned, his own views having made a decisive contribution to this effort. The parapets were in fact being manned so effectively that America permitted itself to indulge in a hefty dose of self-criticism.

Containment was an extraordinary theory—at once hardheaded and idealistic, profound in its assessment of Soviet motivations, yet curiously abstract in its prescriptions. Thoroughly American in its utopianism, it assumed that the collapse of a totalitarian adversary could be achieved in an essentially benign way. Although this doctrine was formulated at the height of America's absolute power, it preached America's relative weakness. Postulating a grand diplomatic encounter at the moment of its culmination, containment allowed no role for diplomacy until the climactic final scene in which the men in the white hats accepted the conversion of the men in the black hats.

With all of these qualifications, containment was a doctrine that saw America through more than four decades of construction, struggle and, ultimately, triumph. [H: ????] The victim of its ambiguities turned out to be not the peoples America had set out to defend—on the whole successfully [H: ????—but the American conscience. Tormenting itself in its traditional quest for moral perfection, America would emerge, after more than a generation of struggle, lacerated by its exertions and controversies, yet having achieved almost everything it had set out to do. [H: In God's name, people—if you can't see it, it becomes hopeless to struggle. We might as well simply take our people and get the hell out! Are you NEVER going to see and hear? May GOD have mercy.]

Dharma, take this off the computer so others won't be imposed by the length of our writings today. Thank you. Go, also, and harden up your tum-tum with anti-acids because the next one is worse. It is written by "SIR" Michael Howard who begins his writing:

KISSINGER ACCORDING TO
"SIR" MICHAEL HOWARD

The following is a review of Kissinger's book from which we just offered excerpts, DIPLOMACY (Simon & Schuster, 1994, 912 pages, $35.00), as published in Foreign Affairs—May/June 1994.

This is by SIR MICHAEL HOWARD, recently retired from the Robert A. Lovett Chair of Military and Naval History at Yale University. Before that, he was Regius Professor of Modern History at Oxford University. My goodness! This will be interesting to see how this man handles the subject, which is terrible, about a book which is totally indecipherable and how one can, finally, make no credible opinion at all. At any rate, however, it is so much better to have this review than to have to read a thousand pages of "Kissinger" (worse than listening to Kissinger for a thousand hours). If, however, you are depending on this review to help you decide the value of the book in point—DON'T.

REVIEW ESSAY
THE WORLD ACCORDING TO HENRY FROM METTERNICH TO ME
by Michael Howard

Henry Kissinger has never written anything less than magna opera, but this 1,000-page blockbuster must certainly qualify as his maximum opus. Its title is modestly deceptive. The term "diplomacy" is normally applied to the techniques and tactics employed in the conduct of international relations, and about these Kissinger is well qualified to write. He is dealing here, however, with a great deal more than techniques and tactics. His topic is the grand strategy, indeed the philosophy, of great power relationships, from the days of Richelieu until our own times.

The proper title of this book would be something like POWER POLITICS, but that is a term that Kissinger seldom allows to pass his pen. Instead he refers frequently, and bewilderingly, to "geopolitics". He does not use this term as did its European inventors, Rudolph Kjellen, Halford Mackinder and Albrecht Haushofer, to mean the influence of spatial environment on political imperatives. For Kissinger "geopolitics" is simply a euphemism for power relationships. His use of it is reminiscent of the term "behavioral sciences," which was coined in the United States a generation ago to describe what had hitherto been known as the social sciences, but sounded to suspicious congressmen too much like socialism to qualify for governmental support. In the same way, power politics is a concept (though not a practice) so blatantly un-American that no foundation is likely to underwrite its study. [H: Indeed, so you call it "Geopolitics".]

"Geopolitics", on the other hand, sounds conveniently value-free, though the implementation of some of its theories by German and Japanese statesmen during the first half of this century proves that it is not necessarily anything of the kind. Kissinger would have done better to have come clean and admitted that his subject was neither diplomacy nor geopolitics, as those terms are generally understood, but the subject that he has spent his life studying and much of it practicing: the politics of power.

The subtext of his book, however, explains why he could not do so. Americans do not take kindly to the idea of power politics, even when they are most blatantly engaged in it. From Wilson to Clinton, the rhetoric of American foreign policy has been to deny the need for anything so crude and to denounce the very idea as a European perversion. But for Kissinger, steeped as he is in the European history of the nineteenth century, power politics is both natural and necessary. The statesmen he most respects—Richelieu, Metternich, Bismarck, even Stalin [H: PAY ATTENTION!]—were those who recognized this and practiced it most openly. For power politics is not simply Machtspolitik, the accumulation, threat, and if need be use of armed force as an instrument of policy. It is based on the recognition and acceptance of the limits of one's own power.

Statecraft, from the days of Richelieu to those of Nixon, has consisted in the identification of national interests, the realistic assessment of available resources, and the alignment of both in an appropriate relationship within the context of the interests and resources of rival states. If the resources are sufficient, a state may realistically aspire to hegemony, the destruction or subordination of all rival powers. But if they are not, as for the states of Europe from the seventeenth until the twentieth centuries they were not, the statesman must strive to enhance the power of his own state through explicit or implicit alliances. [H: What you overlook is that KISSINGER DOES! You just don't realize WHICH STATE holds his loyalty. Loyalty is a real misdefined word I use here—for Kissinger HOLDS NO LOYALTY TO ANY STATE!] In Lord Palmerston's oft-quoted words, there are no permanent friends or permanent enemies; there are only permanent interests.

Kissinger has said this often, and here he says it again, definitively and at considerable length. For him the European practice, particularly as defined by British nineteenth-century statesmen, was not an aberration, but the norm for the conduct of international relations in any era. The American abjuration of power politics in the nineteenth century was a luxury that only their oceanic isolation enabled them to afford. In the twentieth, however, it was a disaster, whether it took the form of isolationism, as it did in the 1920s and 1930s, or ideological crusade, as it did in the 1950s and 1960s. Richard Nixon, claims Kissinger, was the first American president, with the solitary exception of Theodore Roosevelt, to understand power politics and so to guide the United States back into the mainstream of international relations. (It is a claim to statesmanship for Nixon that could be made as convincingly for Louis XIII of France, Francis II of Austria or William I of Prussia, the patrons of Richelieu, Metternich and Bismarck, respectively, but let that pass.) But the United States cannot be Europeanized. The policies of its statesmen, however much they may be guided by a perception of the national interest, must always be made acceptable to an ideologically motivated electorate. [H: That is WHY you have to change the attitudes of the electorate!] That is the problem Kissinger faced when in office, and one to which, in the latter part of this volume, he constantly returns.

[H: Readers, you will have to realize up front here that this poor writer (reviewer) is certainly unaware of the information you have on HENRY KISSINGER—that Kissinger was an active member of the KGB, is historically a pretender for a throne position in the New World Order and a very dangerous puppet. You must understand that these learned professors such as this nice man are totally UNINFORMED AS TO FACTS. He will also not know the REAL relationships Kissinger has with such as Brent Scowcroft. This would not be so appropriate an interjection here except for that which is going on as we write, in the Asian sector. These people are recognized for exactly who they are in these oriental areas. You must understand that, for instance, it CANNOT BE ALLOWED TO BE KNOWN IN CHINA, KOREA, JAPAN, etc., that Brent Scowcroft is "MORMON". Why? Because in the oriental languages "mormon" is "satan" or "devil" translated from English. No, I am NOT a bigot—this is FACT. And, the very basis of the New World Order revolves around the emerging Mormon "church" and its secret covenants and doctrines. Do the Mormon parishioners realize this? Well, I hope not, for I hate to think that all those nice church-going, tithing citizens know what they are doing and do it anyway. The best way to hide deceit is right under your noses. It is the same with Freemasonry—only the ones USING the "Order" KNOW THE TRUTH. The Mormons base their whole ritual experience on the ORDER OF FREEMASONRY! I don't care what "they" argue against. Go check it out!]

1648 AND ALL THAT

About a third of this book is devoted to European politics before 1941, from the emergence of the states system after the Thirty Years' War in 1648 to its collapse with the triumph of Hitler. Some academics may lament the absence of more rigorous analysis, others the narrow focus on political elites and the little consideration given the social and economic transformations that provided the context for their policies, but it is a magisterial narrative, well-spiced with Kissingerian insights and ironies. The author is of course at his best on his familiar ground of post-Napoleonic nineteenth-century Europe. [H: The relating to Napoleon is not far-fetched, readers. Kissinger is programmed to be a Napoleon with deceitful and more devious ways of obtaining POWER. He is typical of that which has become recognized as the "Little Jewish Man Syndrome". He is little, short, ugly, alien and a puppet of higher POWER of the worst kind. He fits every symptom in the "Syndrome". I did not conjure the "syndrome"; it has become a valid psychiatric TERM.] Whatever the philosophers may have said in the eighteenth century about the balance of power, the princes of Europe then still fought for aggrandizement or survival as nakedly as their predecessors. It was not until Metternich that a statesman appeared who had not only internalized the concept but was given the opportunity to create a new international structure that explicitly embodied it. His less perceptive successors allowed it to collapse. Bismarck recreated it, although on a far less stable basis. Again his successors allowed it to collapse.

The First World War came about not because of the unstable power balance created by competing alliances (though it is not quite clear whether Kissinger accepts this), but because the German Empire was no longer interested in maintaining a power balance. The Second World War followed because the victorious allies were incapable of, or uninterested in, restoring that balance. The withdrawal of the United States, the pariah status of Russia and the dithering of Britain, whose leaders had forgotten the lessons so sagely taught by their predecessors, left a vacuum that could all too easily be filled by the expansion of German power. When U.S. leaders came to pick up the pieces, their effort was in the belief that the balance of power, far from having prevented those wars, had been their cause. So they set about creating a new world order based on different, and erroneous, principles.

WOODROW'S WORLD

Like Metternich, Woodrow Wilson had the opportunity, or so he believed, to create a new international system based on a coherent ideology. The ideology, like that of the balance of power, derived from the eighteenth-century philosophers, who assumed an underlying harmony in nature that was distorted and broken only by human error and misperceptions. International conflict was at best the result of what Marx called "false consciousness"; at worst of the sinister activities of monarchs, aristocrats, or, a little later, "military-industrial complexes", all of whom, as Kant pointed out at the end of the eighteenth century, had a vested interest in war. For the Wilsonians peace was not a precarious condition maintained only by a constant and conscious balancing of power and interests, but the normal state of mankind, or at least it would be if only the artificial barriers to its maintenance could be swept away.

In this view American democracy was a microcosm of humanity, and nations could and should govern their relations by the same kind of consensus as the Americans did themselves. There should be an international town meeting—the League of Nations—to establish that consensus, and a posse comitatus to enforce it against offenders. As in domestic affairs, the security of one was the security of all. Separate pacts, alliances and military guarantees were as unacceptable on the international plane as they were on the domestic. Peace, in short, was indivisible. [H: How can one possibly make comment on the "Wilson" era association without even mentioning right up in the front paragraphs the incredible impact of Wilson on the economic destruction of the WORLD—through the damned Federal Reserve System which is nothing more than a foundation upon which to build in sure-scavenging of the entire wealth of the WORLD.]

When in 1919 the Congress of the United States was called upon to ratify the covenant setting up the League of Nations, it understandably recoiled from a universalism that would have committed the country to undifferentiated and global intervention. But, having no tradition or understanding of power politics, it relapsed into the opposite extreme of isolationism. [H: Readers, can you see how UNINFORMED this writer truly is and this is a knighted PROFESSOR. If you are a subscriber-reader of our paper—YOU ARE INFORMED SO MUCH BEYOND THE "EXPERTS" THAT YOU SHOULD BE ROLLING ON THE FLOOR IN HYSTERICAL LAUGHTER AT THIS POINT! I rarely have an opportunity to pat you people on the back for your accomplishments as relative to those ACCEPTED experts honored by robes and stripes. The scholars are only exposed and professed, degreed and hoodwinked by the history presented to them for use. Historically, THEY ARE TOTALLY UNINFORMED!] When the power balance in Europe collapsed in 1940, President Roosevelt saw that the necessities of the power balance demanded American intervention to prevent a German victory, but his electorate still did not. [H: Say what???] When the issue was decided for them by the actions of their adversaries, the American people went to war, not to restore a balance of power, but to punish the aggressors, enforce their surrender and put their leaders on trial. When peace was eventually reestablished, a new world order was created under American leadership based on Wilsonian principles, except that this time the United States locked itself into the United Nations and tried to provide it with teeth.

THE UNRESTRICTED COLD WAR

When the Soviet Union revealed itself to be, not a loyal partner in upholding the American concept of world order, but a potential adversary, such statesmen as George Marshall, Dean Acheson and George Kennan accepted the concept of "containment", which was effectively an update of the traditional balance of power. But in order to gain public support their rhetoric had to be universalist. In fact Stalin, in Kissinger's view, had no serious global ambitions. He was an old-fashioned realpolitiker concerned with the cautious expansion of Soviet power, and he expected his adversaries to be playing the same game. He made it clear to the British that he would have no objection to their establishing military bases in Western Europe pari passu with the establishment of Soviet power in the eastern half of the continent. If the Western allies had been similar practitioners of realpolitik, Kissinger suggests, a deal might have been struck immediately after the war along the lines that

Defrauding America by RODNEY STICH

• One of the most explosive books on the market for understanding the pattern of hardcore criminal activities implicating high federal officials and how it affects the American people. It describes and documents epidemic corruption by federal officials, and a pattern of criminal misuse of federal offices against the American public. The contents are supported by a group of former federal investigators, covert intelligence agency operatives and contract agents, former FBI, police, and private investigators, composing a block of whistleblowers.

Among the corrupt activities described in Defrauding America are the following:

- Epidemic drug trafficking into the United States.
- Role played by the CIA in Savings and Loan and HUD looting.
- Conversion of Chapter 11 courts into a criminal enterprise.
- October Surprise and its criminal coverup.
- The ugly part of the Iran-Contra scandal.
- Inslaw, the tip of Justice Department criminality.
- Covert CIA financial institutions dealing in drug money laundering.
- Crooked federal judges and Justice Department attorneys.
- Felony persecution of informants by Justice Department attorneys and federal judges.
- Killings and mysterious deaths of informants and whistleblowers.
- Schemes to assassinate or remove U.S. Presidents and presidential candidates.

Churchill himself favored: a Soviet pullout from Germany in exchange for the Finlandization of Eastern Europe. As it was, the American leadership could mobilize the domestic support necessary to achieve even the most limited objective of a power balance in Europe only by proclaiming a crusade, as it did in the Truman Doctrine. The global implications of this crusade were to be made suddenly explicit by the purely adventitious attack across the 38th parallel by the forces of North Korea in a region in which American statesmen had explicitly and understandably stated that they had no interests to defend.

The United States now found itself committed to a conflict that was not only global but to all appearances permanent. But it was one, Kissinger points out, to which the American people were temperamentally well suited. They were pledged to the defense, against the forces of an evil empire, of a world that, if left to itself, would be free, harmonious and democratic. Any administration, whether that of Truman or Eisenhower, that adopted anything less than a posture of total and undifferentiated hostility to the Communist world was subjected to the unremitting attacks of its opponents. Young John Kennedy in particular, after the disastrous Bay of Pigs fiasco, had to show both his domestic and Soviet adversaries that he was prepared to live up to his rhetoric and defend the frontiers of freedom wherever they might be and whatever the cost, and he unwisely chose to do so in Vietnam.

It would be hard to find—apart from Korea—a region where the United States had fewer interests to defend, but it was there that the Kennedy and Johnson Administrations believed that American resolution was being tested and that the decisive battle had to be fought. But Vietnam was a battlefield where Wilsonian ideals were as irrelevant as U.S. military power. Realpolitikers like Hans Morgenthau joined hands with pacific isolationists like Noam Chomsky to castigate a policy from which even America's closest allies tried to distance themselves. After five years it was clear that the Vietnam involvement was as much a domestic as a military disaster. In consequence, the American people, without quite knowing what they were doing, elected a president who, much as he admired Woodrow Wilson, shared few of his ideals, and Nixon selected as his adviser Henry Kissinger, who shared none of them.

Kissinger has already told us in his memoirs [H: Goodness, don't you just love a humble person who writes his memoirs BEFORE the fact instead of as "memoirs" or maybe he has rewritten the definition of that word also.] how he tried to manipulate the balance of power to extricate his country from the Vietnamese morass. [H: B.S.!! This ass was a prime participant in setting up Vietnam as it turned out to be.] Although his success in doing so was, to put it mildly, limited, he nevertheless transformed the international scene. He treated the Russians not as criminals but as adults with legitimate interest of their own. [H: Well of all the things Kissinger did not have a right to do was to treat anyone else as if HE, HIMSELF, KNEW THE DEFINITION OF "ADULT".] He brought the Chinese into play as independent actors in the international system [H: Yes indeed, he set up the only accepted businesses in China at the time. Good old Kissinger Associates and American Express, not to mention those nice old banks.] and he destroyed the specter of "Arab nationalism" by regaining Egypt as a Western-oriented power. [H: I marvel that nobody hanged this jerk! I only say this because there is no way to subject him to his own lectures as punishment for his atrocities against the world population.] This he has already dealt with very fully in the two volumes of his memoirs. Here he summarizes the process succinctly and dispassionately, with remarkably little reference to the part he played. It was hardly his fault that the Nixon era ended in such humiliating disaster, and neither he nor his successors could prevent the Russians from exploiting the American loss of nerve that resulted from Vietnam, Watergate and the U.S. humiliation in Iran. [H: Oh my goodness, readers, Kissinger was as near to "deep throat" as any living being in the Nixon downfall and disaster set forth. Do you see how one lie piles upon another—out of the mouths of supposedly informed and brilliant expert authorities and they get bigger, deeper and more grossly expounded with each speaker or writer?] But not only did Soviet triumphalism eventually provoke the Reaganite reaction in the United States, but, Kissinger suggests, it produced the over-extension of Soviet resources that led directly to economic and ultimately political collapse. In spite of the Wilsonian rhetoric and the mistakes to which it led, suggests Kissinger, the United States had actually been applying a doctrine of containment throughout the Cold War, and ultimately it worked. Whatever the flights of Wilsonian poetry in presidential addresses, fundamentally the Americans had been talking the humdrum prose of power politics, and the Soviets always knew it.

Now, Kissinger believes, we are back in a multipolar world. He had tried to create one in the 1970s, with China, Europe and Japan as potential great powers, together with the Soviet Union and the United States, making possible a Metternichian or Bismarckian balancing game. Then only China had been willing to play, or rather China produced in Chou En-lai the only statesman who was willing to play; the Europeans were still too disunited and the Japanese too modest.

Today Kissinger sees better hope of true multipolarity. American military supremacy, though unchallenged, is of limited value in the modern world. Europe and Japan have drawn level as economic powers, and China is likely to do so during the coming century. Without accepting the "declinist" thesis that some of his more apoplectic Harvard associates have attributed to Paul Kennedy, Kissinger sees the need for the United States to learn to function as one power in a complex system that it can neither escape nor dominate. The hopes of yet a third new world order in which the United States will be able to impose its pluralist-democratic ideology on a grateful world will go the way of those entertained by Woodrow Wilson and Franklin Roosevelt. Once again America must define her interests and bring them into balance with her resources. "The fulfillment of American ideals," Kissinger concludes, "will have to be sought in the patient accumulation of partial successes." The Clinton Administration, which in spite of its necessary rhetoric wants to involve itself as little as possible with the anarchic world beyond the oceans, can only take comfort from such cautious minimalism.

GOODBYE TO ALL THAT

But if the universalist philosophy of Wilson has been an ignis fatuus, a flicker of marsh gas only leading deeper into the quagmire, does that of Metternich furnish the United States today with more reliable guidance? [H: Do you see what a "professorship" offers one in ability to sidestep crudeness? How many of you realize the "meaning" of ignis fatuus? Doesn't it sound better than "fart"? Does establishing self as an intellectual personage give right to speak above the heads of readers and listeners? That is ALL it does, my good friends. Kissinger, for instance never EARNED a degree in anything—but is a professor "somehow" with honorary degrees and B.S.—that is not Bachelor of Science. At least we can find humor and understanding in this particular reviewer.

I think of Kissinger and his degrees of honor. How many of you watched as Mohammed Ali (the ex-boxer) was awarded AN HONORARY DOCTORATE OF LAW—DEGREE? This man could barely walk, could not actually talk and the brain damage of his honorable, but battering, career was visibly upon him. Well, I'm glad the Doctorate in "LAW" (as in 'attorney') was bestowed upon him—because somehow this is the way I see ALMOST ALL ATTORNEYS!]

Power politics (or, as Kissinger insists, geopolitics) certainly provided a necessary framework for statecraft in Europe between its two Thirty Years' Wars, that of the seventeenth century and that of the twentieth century, but how relevant is that experience likely to be to the world of the twenty-first?

My own judgment is: not very. We would not be wise to regard that limited slice of world history as a universally applicable norm and try to project its values onto the far more diverse yet interdependent world of tomorrow. The prescriptions of Richelieu could be as irrelevant as those of Woodrow Wilson, if not more so. During the two centuries between 1650 and 1850 Europe consisted of what political scientists call "perfect states," whose rulers owned no allegiance upward nor, more to the point, downward. They were absolute in their power to conduct foreign, if not domestic, policy. In their largely self-sufficient agrarian economies, transnational interests were minimal. The conduct of foreign policy was in the hands of small elites who, as Kissinger points out, were often interrelated and shared common values; shared more with each other, indeed, than they did with the peoples ruled over by the dynasties they served. For such elites power politics could be conducted as a game of skill. Even if they lost, the consequences were seldom catastrophic, and certainly not for them.

This system was badly shaken by the wars of the French Revolution, but not destroyed: it staggered on for another half-century. By 1900, however, it had ceased to work. Political developments within their own countries had destroyed the capacity of the old elites to play nicely balanced games of power politics. Kissinger points out how even within the most autocratic of European states, the Russian Empire, the government was running scared of nationalist public opinion. In Germany the Bismarckian system collapsed less because of the lack of diplomatic skill on the part of his successors than because of an increasingly unmanageable Reichstag. As for Britain...

Kissinger is curiously blind to what was happening in Britain in the nineteenth century, and to its consequence. He quotes with understandable approval the statements by Castlereagh, Palmerston and Disraeli about national interests and the balance of power, while regarding their nemesis, Gladstone, as something of an oddball. But Gladstone was the voice of the future, his adversaries that of the past. He was the true avatar of Woodrow Wilson, and he was not alone. He represented a rising tide of liberal internationalism in British public opinion, which by the twentieth century was to become dominant. Edward Grey, Britain's liberal foreign secretary in 1914, knew all about the balance of power and tried, by his alliances with France and Russia, to preserve it. But his efforts had to be almost as covert as those of Roosevelt in 1940: the parliamentary majority to which he was responsible abjured the whole concept of a balance of power. When it supported British entry into the war in 1914, the rationale was not to preserve the balance of power but to protect the neutrality of Belgium and vindicate the rule of law. And the war aim of the British Liberals was the creation of a League of Nations, an idea proposed by the British philosopher Jeremy Bentham and powerfully propagated in the United States by emissaries of the British Union for Democratic Control. The idea of the League may have been, in Kissinger's words, "quintessentially American", but it was far more popular in Britain between the wars than in the United States. If British statesmen between wars failed to pursue "the national interest" in the traditional fashion laid down by their nineteenth-century predecessors, it was not simply because they were more clumsy and shortsighted. It was because public opinion made it impossible for them to do so.

I make this point, not out of any British chauvinism, but because it indicates a deep flaw in Kissinger's analysis. The model for the conduct of international relations that he holds up for our admiration had simply ceased to work by the beginning of this century, not because of unskilled statecraft, but because the hermetic system in which it had been effective had ceased to exist. The more democratic societies became, the less possible it was for the system to survive. The Wilsonian illusions that Kissinger regards as uniquely American in fact originated outside America and have now spread far beyond, and it is arguable that the more widely they are spread, the less illusory they become. Further, in a world that is now so inter-dependent, it is questionable whether the concept of a purely "national" interest makes sense any longer. Finally—but this takes us into very deep waters—there is now a question mark over the primacy of the state in the international system and its capacity to control those huge economic, social and demographic movements known as transnational flows. Given the prevalence of something like international anarchy, where would a new Metternich begin?

Kissinger's own sagacious prescription is that of all wise old men: surtout, pas trop de zele. It cannot be said that his book furnishes any profound guidance to those who have to pick their way through the new world disorder, but that was hardly its purpose. It is history, on a splendid and massive scale: a magnificent survey, not only of the world in Kissinger's own lifetime, but of that ancient regime from which he derived his values and to which he now looks back with such understandable nostalgia.

[END OF QUOTING]

I do not wish to spoil the impact of such incredibly dull and say-nothing writing. However, I so suggest that if you are going to invest in reading material relevant to Henry Kissinger, you invest in the book through Criminal Politics called HENRY KISSINGER, Soviet Agent by Frank Capell. $10.00 plus $1.50 postage and handling. P.O. Box 37432, Cincinnati, OH 45222, or phone: 1-800-543-0486 or 513-621-7100.

Isn't Criminal Politics the group that won't allow us to print their information? Well, yes—sort of, but THEY DO NOT HAVE A CORNER ON TRUTH—THEY DO, I GUESS, HAVE A CORNER ON HENRY KISSINGER.... What do I think of Criminal Politics? As a magazine or about Lawrence Patterson? As a magazine it is too expensive and covers the same thing the other journals and papers of high-calibre resources, such as SPOTLIGHT cover. As for Larry Patterson—SPOTLIGHT recently said about enough on the subject of Lawrence Patterson which I am sure he would rather I not print herein.

Readers, these are small-time players—bit players in a game so big you cannot absorb it all. Just when you think you can grasp a bit of it you will find it eluding you again and again. When you speak of powerful persons, important figures—you don't even know the real barons of power. How many of you know who Maurice Templesman is? OH? Never heard of him? If Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis hadn't just died you still wouldn't hear of him. This man is without a doubt one of the most shadowy and sinister figures in your world today. He is a billionaire many times over and you are not going to find him listed in any Who's Who. However, he served as the king-pin in operations involving the Belgium Congo, Rockefeller, deBeers cartel (Harry Oppenheimer), etc., etc., etc.

No indeed, good readers, I am NOT here to restructure your world or SAVE anything or anyone—I do not even care to debate the issues with such as Maurice Templesman and cronies. And where can you find this man, hardly-about-town? New York, predominantly. This is one smart businessman who never tells or shows a thing—he doesn't need to. He will never leave a paper trail to get in his way and you will never find public records of his firm's holdings, transactions, revenues or profits. How is he so smart? Well, it doesn't matter—but YOU could take lessons.

However, he learned and uses the information to protect his privacy—LEGALLY. He was for years an international secret agent (Oh no, not another one!) and a top level covert operator for the Rockefeller consortium. Well, he was genuinely nice to Mrs. Kennedy Onassis and he had the type of understated ego that would rather "have" than "tell about it". Indeed, a lot of you could take some lessons in management.

Ah indeed, there are a lot of infamous persons yet for you to meet, eh what Mr. Jackson?
Salu.

THE WORD

Tapes, Transcriptions & Videos

In addition to audio tapes of meetings with Commander Hatonn and written transcriptions of some taped topics, THE WORD also offers other tapes and videos on selected topics.

Donations to cover the costs of tapes are $4.00 for one tape, $6.00 for two tapes and $2.50 per tape for three or more, except where otherwise noted. The transcriptions are $3.00 each. (Mexico or Canada add $0.25 and other foreign countries add $0.50 per tape or transcription.) Postage is included in tape and transcription prices.

Please send check or money order to: THE WORD, P.O. Box 6194, Tehachapi, CA 93582 or call 805-822-4176 if you have questions or you wish to use your Visa, Discover or Master Card.

If you desire to automatically receive tapes from future meetings, please send at least a $50 donation from which tape costs will be deducted. We will try to notify you as your balance reaches zero.

Special Order tapes are noted below by * and are not automatically sent since this material is usually either already in print or will be soon. Available written transcriptions are noted by #.

Let's Take Stock Of Actions And Progress

6/18/94 #1 HATONN

PLEASE THINK
WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?

As always—we go wherever you WISH to go! God only provides possibilities and YOU must fulfill the plan.

PLAYERS

I am continually amazed at you readers—in opposing directions. One day you see the way of it and applaud the accomplishments. The next you bash us for utilizing that which is actually sent for your assistance—as being somehow “unGodly” or “couldn't we do it some other way?”

You are massively helpful in your mailing campaign. We are told by Buckley's Treasurygate group, for instance, that some 7000 letters are going to the Governor of Nevada. Couple that with the hundreds sent in by you people and you two reading audiences will swamp that office in behalf of Ronn Jackson.

Is Ronn Jackson “one of mine”? No—he is HIMSELF—one of God's. Now, what do I mean by this? I mean that no man is an island unto himself and EVERY man, to grow, must have a place of service in which to grow. We don't just swing down on our rope (being your ancestors, we must by definition, be apes) and grab a “sucker” out of the people. We don't snatch, bully or BRIBE. We present opportunity to fit the circumstance and need of both service and THE MAN. Sometimes it is SERVICE FOR “THE” MAN! The last thing you will find from any we touch is a rolling around on the floor chanting and donning flowing robes to put on a pious face and sit in a lotus position and stare at the stars the rest of his journey—NEVER! So, if you are doing this—you are NOT serving in potential—you are waiting for God or lightning to strike you—possibly BOTH. It won't happen! A man must present himself in the proper place even for lightning to strike him—USUALLY IN A GOLF GAME?

It is TRUE—there is no living creature, including man, that can't be touched by God and changed or given to “see”. When this is at ready for service, we the messengers are sent to give the message. YOU HAVE TO HAVE ONES LIKE GUNTHER RUSSBACHER, RONN JACKSON, BO GRITZ, AND OTHERS WHO SEEM AS “UNLIKELY” TO GET YOU THROUGH THE MISSION. How many of YOU have contacts and strength to move Austria? How many of you who can't, by working diligently, change a single thing in the circles of power-politics and force? How many of you by your own journey thus far can do very much of anything to even TOUCH the game being played by the adversary? How many of YOU can go forth and command gold transfers that the “Elite” would rather you not transfer? How many of YOU have the ability, even through blackmail strength and knowledge, to cause transactions to be completed and commitments turned over?

Oh, you think “I” do it? No, I serve just as do each of you—and it is long, hard negotiations and insistence on agreement-keeping and still it takes “longer” and more tedious “bargaining”. WHY DO YOU THINK THE MEN I NEED CONTINUE TO BE IN PRISON—EVEN IF IT BE IN MEDICAL FACILITY? Did you actually think God would pull off some MAGIC coup? Confound it, what good would that do YOU? YOU are manifest on that physical stage and you will perform or you will be dropped from the cast of players—it is quite simple. If you have no more desire to fulfill YOUR task and play in YOUR role, then I suggest you take a reasonable look and consider why any other cast of workers would desire your company just to use up their time and energy? I sincerely suggest you ALL go back and read about BLUE BEAM [see Front Page of last week's CONTACT]. Your enemy is getting ready to shoot a whole bunch of you religious persons right out into never-ever-again land! Exciting? NOT OUT THERE!

MONEY

The question was posed last evening, “Why do we have to so topically consider money for our work—can't we ‘just do it?’” Why? Because you are in a physical world where everything you touch requires the transfer of that which you call money (barter—something). In your own instance here you can only collect great law-suits and bashing and bits of money well managed to barely survive. Our mission needs more assets to simply get our fundamental structure built to offer passage. It MUST be done in an acceptable, reasonable manner—with no magical side-shows. Man must see that, if given opportunity and using integrity and talent, he can live a Godly-based life. It must be presented in the physical realm and experienced in the physical realm, and accomplished in the physical realm lest it have no VALUE at all! You have been torn DOWN in the physical expression—you must BUILD UP in the physical expression. Once you LEAVE the physical expression you no longer are a part of it except in possible guidance capacity—most move on and do not even participate in that role. CHECK YOUR OWN SOUL.

Let us take the Ekkers for instance. They have NOTHING. But still it is considered by their enemies that they have millions of dollars. Further, they are attacked at every turn—but STILL IT IS THROUGH THEM IN ONE WAY OR ANOTHER THAT CONTACTS ARE MADE AND POSSIBILITIES GROW. It is now getting better as others see and realize their own capabilities and participation—while others must still wait. Is it only because of me, Hatonn? No—they have felt the responsibility and have struggled day and night to effort to fulfill the needs here so all could move a bit further toward goals. Why THEM? Because they will give it all back to me and we can share the gifts among us and build according to talents and needs. They have been tested UNDER FIRE and passed the testing. Now we have ones who have strength in positions higher-up-the-ladder of conclusion for our needs—and they too are having to pass testing and come into realization of mission. In the process THEY have to convince others who hold power around them—to RELEASE according to agreements. You bet your pinky I am involved—but I am not going to do it FOR you! Sometimes I “reason” quite diligently and it is most unpleasant for my adversary—but I will not do YOUR JOB. If YOU will not do YOUR job—we go to another who will serve according to his commitments on THIS LEVEL OF PREPARATION FOR THE PLAY UNDERWAY. MANY PLAYERS FORGET THEIR ROLES AND THEN FORGET THE LINES. THE POINT OF THE ADVERSARY IS TO FRY THE BRAINS AND INCAPACITATE HIS OPPOSITION THROUGH MIND ALTERATION AND BRAINDRAIN. IT WORKS! THE VAST MAJORITY OF MANKIND IS MIND-DEAD, NO LONGER EVEN THINKING FOR SELF—PAST THE NEXT HIT OF DRUGS OR WELFARE, OR, OR, OR.

It takes TIME and massive effort to weed out the thieves and consorts in every transaction under way. But you will find the adversarial thieves are falling to left and to the right and right out of the loop.

For instance, there is something like a wad of 1.4 million TONS of gold to be “moved”. Does anyone want to calculate the massive amount of loot that represents? This, in a time when thugs will kill for $1.50. Can you even fathom how any tiny handful of men can get this accomplished—even with the help of an entire alien fleet? BE PATIENT!

Next, we have to WAIT while you outgrow your need to KILL IN ORDER TO WIN. “Death” is too good for some adversaries. There are far more and better punishments than is a transient “death”; but that is neither here nor there—depending on the presentation of the personage as expressed. You have so many duplications running around who are programmed for this or that—that often times the involved parties know who they are and their absence is a massive improvement. For instance, if you have a little child's robot toy which keeps climbing the stairs and you can't get down the stairs—what are you going to do? Aren't you going to remove, at the least, the batteries and park the critter? Lucifer has a lot more players in “quantity” without any soul expression than there are you who are souled beings—at least two-thirds of the global population, as a matter of fact. So, the Elite can simply kill off the undesirables and, believe me, that includes the ones he will also tout for fair treatment—the homosexuals who practice physical expression of certain acts. He will urge them on and CREATE MORE just to insure the demise of them all—ultimately, one way or another. The only group he CANNOT get rid of—are the true creations of CREATOR. He can kill the body—but HE CANNOT GET RID OF THE SOUL. Well, he thinks he has found a way to do that—and it will get rid of a lot of annoying interference—by simply translating bunches through his new ability for one world religion and simply whooshing bunches into outer nothing. They, the ones making the journey, will have no idea they aren't going to end up in the pearly City of Light with God to their left. Those souled beings will take eons of sequence passage to reassemble their soul essence into energy functioning form again. You don't get anywhere for believing on anything "PHYSICAL" to save you—no MAN can do anything FOR YOUR SALVATION OF SOUL. The 'RAPTURE' was manufactured for this VERY DAY OF SATAN!

Why do you think the Bible warns of the latter days being so hard on the "Christians"? Well, that means any who BELIEVE they are to be transferred as human expression in some God's manifestation. "Christ" is a STATE OF "BEING". It is a state of soul-energy expression. BUT, you have chosen to lay the label onto MAN and dance a "man's" dream, and then you will follow the piper who will be paid handsomely. The very EXPRESSION OF CHRIST is based on the fulfillment of journey in the expression of goodness—not hop, skip and jump on the first RAPTURE presented in holographic form. Oh, at onset it will APPEAR valid enough—for a holograph is nothing more or less than mechanical expression of thought coalescence. So, what will be assumed by the masses is that somehow "their" God, or whatever, has sent a rescue team of some kind to bring you to the land of lounging around with milk and honey. Darlings, it will simply NOT BE SO. All that will happen is that you will get whisked AWAY! No milk and honey—evaporation into a time warp of NOTHING.

Will many listen to me? The ones who wish to hear, will hear. Now, we can talk about the TRUE mark of the beast. That is the ultimate separation, my friends. The BEAST, himself, will send you out-there some-where! Oh yes he CAN! He has been practicing!

BUT WHAT OF GODLY ALIENS?

What about us? We are to bring the "message", the WORD and show you the way. We will work WITH you—not FOR you. There is nobody going to be forced to do anything—including choosing the correct bunch of aliens to watch out for you. We will present in colors to identify—openly. Believing is YOUR problem, not ours. So don't expect magic shows to prove to the unbelieving—although the proof will be magnificent for the searching brothers. Perfection is not your goal, good friends; working TOWARD perfection is your task as you experience your journey. Reclaiming and creating balance and harmony in a global sense and society is your responsibility. I did not say your "gift"—I SAID: YOUR RESPONSIBILITY! You cannot do that by sitting on your assets holding unto the physical the things of the physical. Seems like an unlikely statement? No, because the goal is beyond the physical illusion holograph you have manufactured—into expression of soul creation.

RAPTURE AND BEYOND

It is important that you understand something—just because a "Project" such as Blue Beam is utilized and fulfilled effectively—doesn't mean this old world is gone. That is only a PHASE operation to get to PLAN 2000. There will still be plenty of things needing overcoming—nations to be reclaimed, wars to be encountered and on and on. As long as there is physical expression man will have to eat, sleep, have shelter and make passage—through living—and living is the accepted manner of physical expression.

This is not a game of who's on first and what's on second—it is a journey in lessons of how to make growth in soul projection that you might ascend through wondrous dimensions of expression. Human physical experience is simply ONE of those experiences—but one perceived as "only" or "all" there is—while expressing. The adversarial buddies are testers, bullies, bribers and enticers—to get you to swap that nice soul for their physical "goodies", playing to the physical "senses".

O.J. SIMPSON

Always they are making you make CHOICES. You just witnessed the extreme of choice making—one O.J. Simpson. Did he "do it"? Was he "set-up"? Does it matter? It was DONE! What were, are, are now forming as "will be" his intent and acceptance of his position? Whoever KILLED—brutally killed and they are not now considered except as secondary blood spots on a sidewalk. What were THEY doing that caused such hatred, accident or intent? Worthy of murder? Who judged and executed? Did O.J. have a bad childhood with emotional, physical or indigestive abuse? Come on people, two young people were slain in a most tortuous and hideous manner and it attracts the curious like flies and allows another fine specimen of black image to become an image of horror and misfit. Satan recognizes no boundaries on evil. Was the man insane at the time? Is that reason? Is that reason more than premeditated intent? These are questions for YOU—not for me! I am already progressed beyond those decisions—YOU ARE NOT! I will tell you one thing: if ideals were not already screwed up beyond recourse, you would not have these occasions for violence in the first place. You are trained in the LIE of expression and through those expressions the reactions of "another" are as predictable as rain in a rain-forest. Even that rain pattern is changing as does the forest.

BRANCH DAVIDIANS

Is this a distraction from what happened yesterday to the Branch Davidians who were brought back into court and a JUDGE resented the participants—while no one watched and after a fully-completed jury trial. Are you free? Are you sick as a nation? How is it that Clark Clifford can destroy the lives of millions of people through the banking frauds, steal and divert trillions of dollars while destroying a nation and not even be reprimanded—and ones defending their very lives—be sent away for life sentences into prison? PEOPLE, your world is SICK! How can you HEAL IT? Well, not through MORE SICKNESS!! So be it.

BACK TO O.J. SIMPSON

Now for the good part—as regards, for instance, O.J. Simpson personally. YOU DON'T HAVE TO JUDGE THE MAN. Only ACTIONS can be judged and intent DISCERNED. Then JUSTICE needs serving, whatever that might be. And then, brethren—you have to find the healing course—AND USE IT. AND NOBODY WILL DO THAT FOR YOU—IT TAKES SELF TO HEAL SELF—AND IF YOUR NATION IS DYING—SO TOO ARE YOU! Think about it. If you think you are going to wait until someone ELSE comes along and cures things—WRONG. Every man has equal opportunity to think, reason and know the sickness—and find the cure. YOU may perish or survive—it is solely up to YOU. The first thing I suggest is that YOU consider the possibilities of that which we offer and through those who can effect change. And then, I suggest you get the burdens off the backs of those who are diligently making those changes. Service comes in as many ways as there are fragments of expression.

May God be uppermost in your intent—for therein lies the ability to ALWAYS KNOW WHAT TO DO AND HOW TO DO IT!

I salute you who are daring yet wise, for WISDOM is the way to the kingdom and love is the state of being within the kingdom. May we always share BOTH.

Salu.

Freedom Of The Press

What Price, Truth?

6/17/94 RICK MARTIN

With the ongoing lawsuits and attacks against the TRUTH over these last few years, I thought it would be a good idea to look into some of the more technical legal aspects of a free press in our "modern" society. As generally happens with these things, one thing led to another and a picture began emerging.

This article begins with the current legal status of a free press. Then some historical perspective is presented, moving once again forward in time to the present day. You will see very clearly how things have changed over time.

1st Amendment: Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

"The free press clause of the First Amendment prohibits both Congress and the States from enacting any law abridging the freedom of the press. First and foremost, this protects the press from prior or previous restraint. A prior restraint is a restriction on publication before it takes place or before published material can be circulated. Such restraint typically occurs through licensure or censorship procedures. The First Amendment prohibits such regulation because of the gravity of the threat it imposes on expression. Exception to the prohibition on prior restraint may be justified if publication threatens national security, incites overthrow of the government, is obscene, or seriously interferes with the private rights of other persons.

"The free press clause also protects the information gathering function of the press, although an absolute right of access and confidentiality does not exist. Freedom of the press occasionally collides with the fair trial interests of criminal defendants. Some limitations may therefore be imposed on the press to minimize prejudicial pre-trial publicity. The press cannot be barred from criminal trials, however, and it cannot be restrained from reporting what is observed there except in extraordinary circumstances. The broadcast media are permitted to cover criminal proceedings provided they do so with no adverse consequences to the accused.

"Several forms of published expression remain unprotected by the First Amendment. Obscenity, for example, has consistently been held to be subject to government regulation. Another area outside free press clause protection is libel, which is printed material that falsely and maliciously defames a person. Despite its unprotected character, libel has been narrowly defined, especially where public officials are involved, because it is believed that debate on controversial public issues should not be inhibited by threats of libel actions." (Peter G. Renstrom, Constitutional Law and Young Adults.)

Liberty of the Press is defined in Black's 4th Law Dictionary as: The right to print and publish the truth, from good motives and for justifiable ends. [People v. Croswell, 3 Johns. Cas. 394. Kline v. Robert M. McBride & Co., 11 N.Y.S.2d 674, 679, 170 Misc. 974.]

Truth is defined in Black's 4th Law Dictionary as: There are three conceptions as to what constitutes "truth": Agreement of thought and reality; eventual verification; and consistency of thought with itself. [Memphis Telephone Co. v. Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co., C.C.A. Tenn., 231 F. 835, 842.]

"The liberty of the press is indeed essential to the nature of a free state; but this consists in laying no previous restraints upon publications, and not in freedom from censure for criminal matter when published." [Blackstone, Commentaries, bk. 4, 151.]

"Those who won our independence believed that the final end of the State was to make men free to develop their faculties; and that in its government the deliberative forces should prevail over the arbitrary. They valued liberty both as an end and as a means. They believed liberty to be the secret of happiness and courage to be the secret of liberty. They believed that freedom to think as you will and to speak as you think are means indispensable to the discovery and spread of political truth; that without free speech and assembly discussion would be futile; that with them, discussion affords ordinarily adequate protection against the dissemination of noxious doctrine; that the greatest menace to freedom is an inert people; that public discussion is a political duty; and that this should be a fundamental principle of the American Government.

"They recognized the risks to which all human institutions are subject. But they knew that order cannot be secured merely through fear of punishment for its infraction; that it is hazardous to discourage thought, hope and imagination; that fear breeds repression; that repression breeds hate; that hate menaces stable government; that the path of safety lies in the opportunity to discuss freely supposed grievances and proposed remedies; and that the fitting remedy for evil counsels is good ones. Believing in the power of reason as applied through public discussion, they eschewed silence coerced by law—the argument of force in its worst form. Recognizing the occasional tyrannies of governing majorities, they amended the Constitution so that free speech and assembly should be guaranteed." [Justice Brandeis, 1927, concurring opinion in Whitney v. California, 274 U.S. 357, 375-6.]

"Freedom of speech and press are not absolute rights and were never intended to be so. They are relative, in the sense that they are limited by the coexisting rights of others (as in the matter of libel) and by the demands of national security and public decency. As Justice Holmes put it, 'The most stringent protection of free speech would not protect a man in falsely shouting fire in a theatre and causing a panic.' Free-speech and free-press cases present to the courts difficult questions of degree: questions involved in drawing the line that separates the speech and publication which government must suppress in order to be safe and decent from that which it must allow and protect in order to be free and democratic.

"Perhaps the most conspicuous and interesting instance in our history of interference with freedom of expression never came before the Supreme Court of the United States. The Sedition Act of 1798 provided among other things for the severe punishment of false, scandalous, and malicious writings against the Government, either house of Congress, or the President if published with intent to defame any of them, or to excite against them the hatred of the people, or to stir up sedition. It was limited in operation to two years. Ten persons were convicted under it, and many others were indicted but not tried. Its enactment and enforcement called forth great popular indignation, and President Jefferson upon assuming office pardoned all persons still imprisoned under its provisions. Many years later Congress refunded with interest the fines which had been imposed.

"The relative character of the right of free speech becomes particularly obvious in time of war. Where is the line to be drawn between legitimate and salutary freedom of discussion and utterances which, by reason of their disloyal or seditious character, must be deemed incompatible with the public safety? This is a delicate and important question. During the Civil War such interferences with freedom of speech and press as occurred were perpetrated by military officers under the sanction of martial law, and no question of the validity of these acts of repression ever came squarely before the Supreme Court. World War I brought forth a large grist of restrictive legislation, both state and federal, and numerous judicial questions arose as to the validity of these acts and their application to specific cases. Most conspicuous of these laws were the Espionage Act of 1917—which penalized any circulation of false statements made with intent to interfere with military success, as well as any attempt to cause disloyalty in the Army or Navy or to obstruct recruiting—and the Sedition Act of 1918—which made it a crime to say or do anything which could obstruct the sale of government bonds, or to utter or publish words intended to bring into contempt or disrepute the form of government of the United States, the Constitution, flag, uniform, etc., or to incite resistance to the government or promote the cause of its enemies. Nearly a thousand persons were convicted under these two acts. Their validity was sustained in six cases coming to the Supreme Court after the close of the war. Schenck v. United States (1919) was the first of these cases, and in it Justice Holmes announced the now famous 'clear and present danger' test. The question in every case is whether the words used are used in such circumstances and are of such a nature as to create a clear and present danger that they will bring about the substantive evils that Congress has a right to prevent. It is a question of proximity and degree." [Gitlow v. New York 268 U.S. 652; 45 S. Ct. 625; 69 L. Ed. 1138 (1925).]

"The Smith Act of 1940, which in 1948 because #2385 of Title 18 of the United Code, directs a five-pronged attack against subversion. First, it punishes anyone who 'knowingly or willfully advocates—or teaches the duty—or propriety of overthrowing—the Government of the United States—by force or violence.' Second, it punishes the dissemination of literature advocating such overthrow 'with intent to cause such overthrow.' Third, it punishes anyone who 'organizes—any society, group or assembly of persons to teach, advocate or encourage' such overthrow. Fourth, it punishes anyone who 'becomes or is a member of—any such society, group or assembly—knowing the purposes thereof.' Finally, it makes it a separate offense to conspire to do any of the above things." [Robert F. Cushman, Leading Constitutional Decisions.]

"What signifies a declaration that 'liberty of the press shall be inviolably preserved'? What is the liberty of the press? Who can give it any definition which would not leave the utmost latitude for evasion? I hold it to be impracticable; and from this I infer that its security, whatever fine declarations may be inserted in any constitution respecting it, must altogether depend on public opinion, and on the general spirit of the people and of the government." [Alexander Hamilton, The Federalist Papers #84.]

"For instance, the liberty of the press, which has been a copious source of declamation and opposition—what control can proceed from the Federal government to shackle or destroy that sacred palladium of national freedom? If, indeed, a power similar to that which has been granted for the regulation of commerce had been granted to regulate literary publications, it would have been as necessary to stipulate that the liberty of the press should be preserved inviolate, as that the impost should be general in its operation." [Speech of James Wilson, 1787.]

"Civil liberty, in all countries, hath been promoted by a free discussion of public measures, and the conduct of public men. The freedom of the press hath, in consequence thereof, been esteemed one of its safe guards. That freedom gives the right, at all times, to every citizen to lay his sentiments, in a decent manner, before the people. If he will take that trouble upon himself, whether they are in point or not, his countrymen are obliged to him for so doing; for, at least, they lead to an examination of the subject upon which he writes." [John DeWitt, Essay III, 1787.]

"The basis of our governments being the opinion of people, the very first object should be to keep that right; and were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers, or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter. But I should mean that every man should receive those papers, and be capable of reading them." [Thomas Jefferson, Letter to Nathaniel Macon, 1819.]

"The Constitution specifically selected the press, which included not only newspapers, books, and magazines, but also humble leaflets and circulars, to play an important role in the discussion of public affairs. Thus, the press served and was designed to serve as a powerful antidote to any abuses of power by governmental officials, and as a constitutionally chosen means for keeping officials elected by the people responsible for all the people whom they were selected to serve." [16A Am Jur 2d.—Mills v. Alabama, 384 US 214, 16 L Ed 2d 484, 86 S Ct 1434.]

"The constitutional guaranty of a free press assures the maintenance of our political system and an open society, and secures the paramount public interest in a free flow of information to the people concerning public officials." [16A Am Jur 2d—Pell v. Procunier, 417 US 817, 41 L ed 2d 495, 94 S Ct 2800, 71 Ohio Ops 2d 195.]

"Freedom of the press extends to almost all reporting of recent events. It is not confined to comment on public affairs and those persons who have voluntarily sought the public spotlight, but covers, as well, the publication of a surely private individual's name or likeness. Particularly deserving of First Amendment protection are reports of hot news, that is, items of possible immediate public concern or interest." [16A Am Jur 2d—*Briscoe v. One purpose of the constitutional guarantees is the abolition of censorship. Therefore, neither courts nor judges are authorized to take notice of writings merely intended for the press, but both are confined to those which are actually published. [13 Cal Jur 3d—Dailey v. Superior Court of San Francisco (1896) 112 C 94, 44 P 458—ruling that equity has no jurisdiction to restrain any publication of a literary work on the mere ground that it is of a libelous character and tends to the degradation or injury of the reputation or business of the complaining party, and that an injunction will be denied even though a libel sought to be restrained tends to interfere with the administration of justice and to deprive a party of a fair trial.

While defamatory speech is often described as 'not worthy of constitutional protection,' the free speech provisions of the state and federal constitutions do not permit the prior restraint of the private publication of libelous material. If there is a remedy for libel in a particular setting, it is an action for damages after publication. Leeb v. DeLong (1988, 4th dist.) 198 CA3d 47, 243 Cal rptr 494.]

"Freedom of speech and press is not unlimited and, in certain cases, may be subject to governmental regulation. The time, place, and manner of speech may be regulated, and types of speech may be either regulated or prohibited. When conduct becomes intermixed with speech, the right to regulate becomes greater. The police power, when used to regulate commercial activity, may justify incidental limitations on free expression. In certain circumstances, the right to privacy may outweigh the right to free speech and press when such rights conflict. In order to justify an impairment of the constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech and press, there must be a compelling governmental interest, and in determining the validity of such an impairment, the courts must weigh the extent of the impairment and the substantiality of the threat that the forbidden speech or related activity poses to that interest. Such a threat must generally pose a clear and present danger of a substantive evil that the state has a right to prevent." [13 Cal Jur 3d (Rev) Part 1.]

"Freedom contains within itself the possibility of irresponsibility. No man is truly free who is not permitted occasionally to be irresponsible; nor is any institution. Responsibility, it goes without saying, is profoundly important; and the highest freedom of all may well be the freedom to conduct one's life and affairs responsibly—but by one's own standards of responsibility. It's a mean freedom in which a mere failure of responsibility brings a jail term or a fine or some other societally imposed penalty—and no freedom at all if standards of responsibility are uniform, designed to prevent rather than to punish failures, and set by some higher authority.

"Yet some of the most sweeping restrictions on the freedom of the press have been proposed in the name of preventing press irresponsibility. What is lost sight of is that if responsibility can be imposed, freedom must be lost; and of those who advocate various means of ensuring the responsibility of a supposedly free press, two questions should be asked: Who defines responsibility? And, who endorses responsibility?" [First Amendment in a Free Society, edited by Jonathan Bartlett.]

The Clintonistas need WAR and Korea was to have been one of the BIG ones. Other bigger and stronger factions of the Elite Committees have come to see that a war at this time is, let's say, inadvisable. So be it, we'll see how it shakes down—I mean—out.

WHAT ABOUT CLINTON?

The handwriting is pretty much on the wall for the young man—having about outlived his usefulness. The most recent "get you ready" is "...Rare Brain Disease Will Force Clinton to Quit..." And, nice people—just as we are talking about this very issue this week, some nice reader points out that there is actually an article about this in April 4th's Spotlight. So, let's share and tell.

BRAIN DISEASE

Noting peculiarities in the president's actions for more than a year, a scientist is asking: Will Clinton's health force him out of the White House?

Rumors have been circulating about Bill Clinton being forced to resign. [H: Now who do you think would cause starting of such "rumors"?] The Spotlight has finally managed to locate the source of at least one of the tales.

Scandals will not force Clinton out of office, according to the Virginia-based Freedom Research Foundation (FRF), [H: Go check out WHO this group is a part of.] instead, a rare brain disease threatens to incapacitate the president before the year ends.

FRF is headed by Dr. Jack Wheeler, an alleged political insider who is thought to have ties with television evangelist and former presidential candidate Pat Robertson. [H: Smell a dead fish yet? Don't forget Project Blue Beam {see last week's Front Page story and this week's story on p.39} and evangelical interaction to pull it off—just a reminder.]

CHEMICAL IMBALANCE

A member of the FRF advisory committee who specializes in brain chemistry [H: What would a "specialist in brain chemistry" be doing in such a political group as Freedom Research Foundation?] has reportedly told select lawmakers Clinton shows every sign of severe neurotransmitter depletion, affecting primarily noradrenaline and dopamine.

Noradrenaline is used in the brain to make quick decisions. Dopamine is required for non-autonomic memory.

"Clinton's insomnia and flights of ideas that keep him up all night, his bouts of manic energy, his micro-managing all decisions in his administration, his increasingly fractured syntax when speaking and the obvious and growing impairment of his judgment causing non-stop blunders and scandals, all indicate his neuro-chemical condition," FRF said in a May 25, 1993 report. [H: Are you rolling on the floor yet? I could have sworn that those "scandals" happened long ago and far away from Washington or "president's day". All the other symptoms are indicative of some "social drug" intake or participation—not unlike marijuana non-inhaling—maybe in the brownies?]

The report concluded Clinton is headed for a nervous breakdown. FRF scientists, however, said they needed urine and blood tests to nail down their claims. [H: I'm sure they'll be able to get BOTH from Camp David!] The organization did not say if it had requested the president to make these samples available to them for further study.

In addition, FRF claims the president "strongly displays" symptoms of a psychological syndrome: hysteroid dysphoria.

Hysteroid dysphoria is pathologically dependent upon external approval, spending much of their time seeking applause, attention and praise, while having an extreme intolerance of personal rejection, according to medical research.

INFIGHTING

A political battle royale is expected to determine the direction of the remainder of the Clinton term.

The FRF predicts "a stupendous battle looms" between Hillary Clinton and her cronies on the intellectual left and Vice President Al Gore and the Democratic Party leadership as Bill ails.

"Mrs. Clinton will wish to govern in her incapacitated husband's stead, much as Eleanor Roosevelt or Edith Wilson in the last days of their sick husbands' presidencies," an FRF spokesman said.

"Not willing to lose the Senate outright and effectively the House (with enough new Republicans to have a majority where combined with conservative Democrats), George Mitchell, Tom Foley, and other party leaders will want to dump the Clinton albatross and have Al Gore assume the presidency, offering new leadership to the nation," he added.

[END OF QUOTING]

There are a couple of pictures of a brain—with no caption—so we don't know what that may indicate, but we are happy to offer them for your viewing.

A Free And Independent PRESS Is Long Dead

Editor's note: The following piece of rare and candid insight comes from 1953, a solid 40 years ago now. Egads! How much more controlled do you think the media is now? Keep this in mind and show John Swinton's remarks to your doubting friends who wonder why you subscribe to and honor CONTACT so highly above the typical Satanic Elite-controlled news media.

We like to run this following message periodically, both as a caution to those still naive enough to think there is a free Press out there in the commercial world controlled by the Elite, and as a special kind of "thank you" to our many, many readers who so consistently support and encourage CONTACT and, before that, THE PHOENIX LIBERATOR. We are deeply grateful for your constant and sincere messages of encouragement. Those often highly emotional "thank you" notes pouring into the offices every day are what give us the necessary boost to keep on keeping on.

JOHNSWINTON, THE FORMER CHIEF OF STAFF OF THE NEW YORK TIMES, CALLED BY HIS PEERS, "THE DEAN OF HIS PROFESSION", WAS ASKED IN 1953 TO GIVE A TOAST BEFORE THE NEW YORK PRESS CLUB. HE RESPONDED WITH THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT:

"There is no such thing, at this date of the world's history, in America, as an independent Press. You know it and I know it. There is not one of you who dares to write your honest opinions, and if you did, you know beforehand that it would never appear in print.

"I am paid weekly for keeping my honest opinions out of the paper I am connected with. Others of you are paid similar salaries for similar things, and any of you who would be so foolish as to write honest opinions would be out on the streets looking for another job. If I allowed my honest opinions to appear in one issue of my paper, before twenty-four hours my occupation would be gone.

"The business of the Journalist is to destroy truth; To lie outright; To pervert; To vilify; To fawn at the feet of mammon, and to sell his country and his race for his daily bread. You know it and I know it and what folly is this toasting an independent Press? We are the tools and vassals for rich men behind the scenes. We are the jumping jacks; they pull the strings and we dance. Our talents, our possibilities and our lives are all the property of other men. We are intellectual prostitutes."

Speaking of brains—how many of you realize that John Kennedy's brain sits on "someone's" fireplace mantle? How about Hoffa's? It resides on a mantle also—in sunny California.

How much more will I have to tell before the Elite nerdniks keep their agreements? I really don't yet know!

RUSSBACHER

Probably it is time to again annoy the Elite with a reminder about Russbacher—now to have a nice new name and identity. That is fine—I KNOW WHO HE IS!

So, in that position for a nice Sunday morning recognizing "Father's Day" perhaps I'll speak of some of my children. Were they "always" my children? Yes, but they just didn't realize it! We'll leave it there...!

The following well-done write-up about Gunther was presented in THE PROBE, a "quarterly" journal. This comes from Vol. 1, Issue 4. Subscription information: The Argus Research Foundation, P.O. Box 1082, St. Charles, MO 63302. Rayelan Russbacher has provided this reprint and asked that CONTACT also publish it. I will ask that they do so. Surprising as it may be to George Green and his cohorts—I DO NOT RUN CONTACT!

I do wish to thank you readers for doing your service—the Austrian facility and Gunther have been receiving bunches of mail [please see related article on p. 9 by Rayelan Russbacher]—please keep up the work, we need him OUT and FREE to move and do his job. The VOICE OF THE PEOPLE WILL PREVAIL if you continue to send it forth.

DIRTY TRICKS, BANK FRAUD, SECRET AGENTS AND GUNTHER KARL RUSSBACHER

In the 1992 premiere issue of THE PROBE we opened the file on a Gunther Karl Russbacher. The establishment media labeled him a "great pretender and an impersonator". On February 7, 1992 his probation was revoked and he was sentenced to a whopping twenty-one years in prison, not on the impersonation of being a naval captain as much of medialand still insists, but on three charges of stealing by deceit.

Enter a serious element of intrigue as Russbacher, his second and present wife, Rayelan, and several others who have investigated this claim say he really has another identity. Gunther Russbacher was a top covert agent for the CIA who had been engaged in everything from arms shipping to bank fraud. He operated under at least a dozen aliases during these operations. Maybe you've heard of him as: Robert Andrew Walker, Robert Kail Riggs, James C. Kincaid, Robert L. Inman, Emery Joseph Peden, Tom West or Gunther Karl Riggs (to name a few that have been identified). While using the name Robert Andrew Walker he says he was the pilot who brought back George Bush from Paris on October 19, 1980 after he concluded the deal with Iranians to delay the release of the American hostages until after the presidential election. In past interviews Russbacher has echoed his resentment of his involvement in what is often called "The October Surprise", saying, "That's how I got in here (prison) in the first place."

In this article we'll be submitting many facts regarding Russbacher that have yet to be printed anywhere. The reason, because if even a fraction of what he says is true, then this is yet more evidence of secret agendas that are being executed without accountability to the American people. These actions often result in covert foreign policy without the input from our elected officials and is funded by illegal narcotics and looting of your nation's banks. With this kind of cancer growing right in front of us, it's easy to see why there are those who see this country as terminal.

LET THE READER BEWARE

Before adventuring into the murky venues of the identity and operations of Gunther Russbacher (GR) it is a good idea to stop and examine the common pitfalls of probing secrets. First, if you do seek to uncover a hidden truth, you should expect diversions, misinformation and be skeptical of what anyone tells you. The discovery that state and federal officials often give cooperation in a variety of ways to allow these illegal CIA type operations would not surprise anyone. Keep in mind that on occasion it is the viewpoints of corrupted officials that are given prominence by the press as they conveniently keep the powerful in a positive light, not usually upsetting the status quo. In the submissive journalism of today it appears they are very careful of what targets they pick to pursue.

Investigators need to be wary of misleading statements such as those made by reporters Bob Adams and Phil Linsalata of the St. Louis Post Dispatch regarding GR's case. In April 1992 these reporters wrote of Ross Perot's interest in Russbacher's case and the scheduled visit of two of his top aids, David Bryant (Perot's counsel) and his legal assistant Bob Peck and two pilots familiar with the operation of an SR-71. The April Post Dispatch story claimed one of their (unnamed) reporters interviewed Russbacher in 1991 and found numerous contradictions to his (GR's) story. Perot is quoted as saying he believes "the allegations made by Russbacher were a farce."

What were these contradictions? And why would Ross Perot send his top aids if he didn't believe a word of Russbacher's story?

To complicate matters further, on the day of the scheduled visit to Russbacher's prison location in Fulton, Missouri, Russbacher suffered a heart attack. The interview had to be delayed two days. During this time Russbacher and his present wife, Rayelan, claim that two men paid him a visit. The threat was simple: if Russbacher said too much to Perot's aids one of his children would die. One of the methods that was to be used to validate Russbacher's background was the verification of his knowledge of the start-up procedure of the SR-71.

Russbacher had claimed to have flown the aircraft on several occasions, aside from the "October Surprise" mission. On July 21, 1990 Russbacher said he had been sent on a mission to Moscow to pick up an agreement from Gorbachev insuring the Soviet Union would not get involved in the Persian Gulf mess. The inquiry into Russbacher's SR-71 expertise by Perot's pilots was met by resistance as he feared retribution to his family still living in St. Charles, Missouri. "I flat out told them I wasn't going to discuss that stuff," Russbacher said when asked about SR-71 start-up procedures. This reluctance was translated into ignorance by articles in the establishment media. One most often repeated was a story by Frank Snepp of the Village Voice, which claimed that Russbacher had to be a fraud because of his claims and lack of knowledge of the SR-71 subject.

Rodney Stich, author of the Defrauding America book, and a veteran pilot himself, investigated Snepp's claims. After acquiring a formerly secret one-thousand page manual on the operation of the SR-71, Stich queried Russbacher. As a former FAA flight safety official Stich routinely conducted pilot competency checks of jet airline pilots and it's pretty safe to say he is well qualified to evaluate Russbacher. As this was sometime after being hospitalized, Russbacher answered Stich's questions. Stich states, "Russbacher certainly knew how to start the engines on the SR-71. The start-up procedures are quite different than any other jet aircraft, but amazingly simple."

Snepp's motivation for the misinformation? Stich and other insiders believe Snepp is now or has been a CIA asset and was just doing his job to throw smoke on an already clouded subject.

GUNTHER KARL RUSSBACHER IN THE BEGINNING

GR's lineage takes him directly back to Austria. His father was Baron Karl Gunther Russbacher of Salzburg who served with the SS during WW II. The senior Russbacher was part of a camp that opposed Hitler in many ways including working with assassination attempts on "der Fuhrer". In conversations with GR he said his father had been part of Admiral Canaris' group and the Admiral himself covered for Gunther's father when it was found out that Canaris was in on the attempt to kill Hitler.

When it was certain that Germany was going to lose the war, many in the SS knew they had to make an alternative career choice. The leader in this effort was General Reinhard Gehlen, at one time head of Eastern Intelligence for the SS. Gehlen waited in comfort near Bavaria and surrendered to U.S. military authorities well after the war ended. Eventually, he would convince the post-war military intelligence that the USSR was a major threat and that he and his network of 2,000 or more loyal SS agents could provide the U.S. with an existing network of detailed information on Soviet troops, strengths, displacements and capabilities.

Did we buy into that? You bet we did. Possibly with the justification that the USSR was a mutual enemy and any German would gladly help in keeping them penned up.

Whatever the obtuse logic was to justify using this SS group as our intelligence source would result in giving credibility to their information. This means a measure of influence. This was felt in the U.S. in two critical areas: intelligence and science. Operation "Paperclip" gave new identities to several hundred German and Nazi scientists. During their Third Reich employment many of them would routinely use human subjects in hazardous experiments.

In retrospect we now know that SS estimates of the Soviets were often exaggerated, in some cases grossly overstated. This resulted in the increase of cold war tensions and enormous expansions of the world-wide military industrial complex...and we all paid for that, with our lives or taxes.

Gunther described his father as very pragmatic. This is an attitude I would expect would be needed to play the "spy" game. It could also have been the attitude that inspired Gehlen's exaggerations as it would have meant a very practical result: job security. Creating fearful bogie-men will continue to inspire a military build-up. It can certainly keep the need for Gehlen or any other intelligence network alive.

This was a world of secrecy, treachery and powerful people that young Gunther was born to in 1942. By 1954 Gunther was 12 and his father was said to have died in 1955 in Montana. I asked him about his career decision while visiting him in the prison in Pacific, Missouri. With mixed emotions he replied, "I never really had a choice." On the other hand, having the kind of influence and power also inspired Gunther in his career, "It's like an adrenalin rush every day," was one casual remark made about his endeavors.

Rest assured he still has strong ties to Austria. His present wife Rayelan has visited Austria at least once during his imprisonment and was no doubt treated well. Gunther's Godfather is none other than the former Austrian President Kurt Waldheim.

MILITARY CAREER AND CAPTURE IN LAOS

GR's military career began in 1961. According to Russbacher and others interviewed by THE PROBE, he entered the covert world of the CIA in 1962. His first test of fire came when he infiltrated the Brigade Rosa and Lotto Contua in Italy. Using an alias of Giuseppe Pedene his goal was the removal of these organizations.

Following additional training Russbacher was dropped from the official military records and was given what he claims is a "bogus" criminal record to help facilitate entry into many undercover activities.

This practice is refereed to as "sheepdipping". This, coupled with a criminal record, bogus or otherwise, allows the CIA to effectively deny they even know the agent if he gets caught. Another side benefit to those in charge is that it allows them to keep field agents on a tight leash. If the field agents do something that the ones in charge don't care for, then the ones in charge always have those criminal charges to put them away for awhile.

Russbacher has been put away several times by both sides in his career. In 1970 Russbacher says he was part of the Phoenix Project in Vietnam. This project was a counterinsurgency program designed to eliminate any suspected enemies. It was directed by Robert Gates and many believe it was carried out with an over zealous attitude. The estimated death toll from this program is in the neighborhood of 20-40,000 Vietcong, North Vietnamese and many innocent civilians. But some would say, hey, that's just war. "It was brutal and didn't really further any of our goals," said Russbacher.

Part of Russbacher's war was a clever ruse to rescue a group of American POWs at Camp 253 in Viennette, Laos. It was July, 1970 and Russbacher and 16 members of his Seal team were outfitted in captured Soviet uniforms and equipment and were to parade right in and out with the prisoners.

According to other sources with special forces experience, the area around

Viennette was heavily populated. This could have both helped and hindered this mission. However, the greatest obstacle to successfully completing their mission came from Paris. "Kissinger and company were cutting deals with everyone, the Vietcong, the Khymer Rouge, the Pathet Lao, you name it," said Russbacher, adding a comment about a condition of this mission, "Once we were sent out, we couldn't be recalled, because you wouldn't know if there was a guy holding a .45 to the commander at headquarters."

The attempted rescue ended in disaster as the team's destination was given away to the camp, possibly as a token of good faith in negotiations. The result: Russbacher and crew must have felt like Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid once they pulled into the Camp 253.

Unlike Hollywood, there was no happy ending. They were waiting for them at Camp 253 and the Hell that broke loose killed all but Russbacher. Disgusted with the situation, Russbacher says he did his best to join his team by continuing to point his weapon at everyone. His weapon was running on empty and he ended up suffering for seventeen months. During this time Russbacher would have his fingernails repeatedly pulled and bamboo would be used to exploit previous stomach wounds. Having examined the traces of these wounds in both Jefferson City and Pacific, Missouri prisons, we can only describe the stomach wounds as very large, deep, unsightly and permanent. Russbacher then placed my hand on an area in his lower back, "Feel that?" he said. "Yeah, it's a very pointed obtusion, like something trying to work its way out," I replied. "That's an AK-47 round they never took out of me; it's coming to the surface," was Russbacher's explanation.

The fingernail pulling torture gave Russbacher a condition that haunts him to this day. When exposed to water, soap or bleach for prolonged periods of time, his fingers erupt, they swell and break open with an ooze of blood and pus. During his stay in Pacific, Missouri GR was subjected to duty in the Galley. What normally is pretty desirable duty for an inmate was torture for GR, his fingers swelled and broke open again. Complaints were registered and GR was eventually taken off that duty about two weeks before we interviewed him on August 17, 1993. (Video and photos of his fingers are available.) The official explanation for his condition is that he bites his fingernails[!?!].

* * * #2 * * *

"YOU ROB PETER TO PAY PAUL AND THEN YOU PAY NEITHER"

One of the aspects of GR's service is his involvement in financial affairs. He was assigned to acquire funding for covert operations not approved by an elected body. While it would seem that dealing in illegal drugs and arms would give the CIA or anyone else enough money for anything, it appears there were other needs and agendas.

As he described the methodology behind the bank fraud actions, there is a discernible quiet confidence, maybe even a pride about being able to pull it off.

Russbacher stated that the initial funding for the CIA in St. Louis came through the now defunct National Brokerage Company (NBC). Seed money for it came through another CIA proprietary, the Red Hill Savings and Loan, and also Hill Financial in Pennsylvania during the early-80s. The next step is a good sound credit rating from Dun & Bradstreet. Russbacher claimed to be able to create his own credit rating by controlling the information that D & B would look at. A call to the Missouri D & B office revealed that most inquiries about credit comes from the sellers, not buyers. D & B routinely checks suppliers' banks to establish a credit rating. If you can control your references, then why couldn't one establish a wonderful bogus credit rating?

Russbacher elaborated further on how to take the credit rating and get a lot out of a little: "Let's say I have 30 million dollars. The moment I take this 30 million dollars of my deposit base and pledge it back to the Federal Reserve, I end up with a seven-to-one loan ratio. The loans are secured by the F.D.I.C. and, in turn, are reinsured by private insurance companies. We also have insurance companies we work with; so we write, or underwrite, what we call a fiduciary package and I'll write a 500-million-dollar fiduciary package," asserted Russbacher.

It is clearly the illusion of wealth that is being put together by these operations. This facade is enhanced by official letters of credit from the Federal Reserve. The next step, says Russbacher: "I show these letters as an asset, not a liability, because it hasn't been used. After that, I create limited partnerships and buy like crazy. You end up robbing Peter to pay Paul and then you pay neither."

Those affected include people buying into these bogus partnerships, those expecting to be employed or get something out of it. "Many times a business is bought for a particular operation and afterwards disposed of through Chapter 11 or bankruptcy, given back to the banks and Government," said Russbacher. However, even these plans can go astray. "Every once in a while the damn thing won't die; it takes on a life of its own and we'll split a few dividends," commented GR as he smiled while telling me how these actions can really screw up the brokers on Wall Street. [H: Still with us, you good people who lost in the bogus markets and S&L/Banking debacles?]

MISSOURI OPERATIONS

Once you have a lot of money or credit to deposit, you can easily become a friend of the bank. This means special privileges, interest rates, a seat on the board of directors and maybe having representation in deciding loan policies. The latter is needed to influence how the money can be taken out of that bank. When that control is gained, then legal bank robbing takes place. The money is pulled out for what appears to be legitimate purposes and then is covertly used for a variety of operations or is salted away for later personal or professional use.

Russbacher talked about two such operations in Missouri: Carondolet Savings and Loan and the now-defunct Germania Savings and Loan. In order to grease the skids of the current or departing bank officials, GR stated, "They are given a five million dollar golden parachute, a couple of suitcases and a new passport, if needed."

Russbacher makes it seem so routine, even simple, that one could corrupt banking in this manner. Could it be possible to motivate bank presidents with a few million dollars or blackmail to get them to move on? The case concerning Germania S&L is before the courts at this time. Although doubtful that questions concerning CIA operations will be answered, THE PROBE can provide a few interesting tracks through yesterday's news.

1. A January 15, 1986 St. Louis Post Dispatch (STLPD) headline stated, "EXECUTIVE AT GERMANIA MOVING ON". The story was about David Kilduff who left Germania S & L in Alton, Ill. after four years as its Chief Operating Officer. He was to take a position at another S&L, Economy Federal. The parting was described as "amicable", by Chairman and President William Osborne. The article also mentions a suit filed by a part owner of an apartment complex alleging fraud, breach of fiduciary duty and racketeering. Amongst those the suit was filed with [against] was Germania, a former officer David Stelbrink, and what was now a former officer, David Kilduff.

2. May 1st, 1986 (STLPD): "GERMANIA ACQUIRES MISSOURI S&L". The Missouri S&L mentioned was Washington First Federal with assets of $58.7 million and loans of $47.4 million. Germania stated they had assets of $559 million and loans of $453 million during this acquisition. A key part of this wheeling and dealing was construction magnate Joe L. Mason, President of the J.L. Mason Group. Mason held 21% of Germania at the time.

3. June 21, 1986 (STLPD): "GERMANIA OUSTS CHAIRMAN AFTER LOSS". William Osborne was booted after 22 years as CEO and following losses which were said to affect a fifth of Germania's net worth. The new chairman, Ed Morris, said, "The problems were primarily commercial loans and purchased loans outside of our market area." Joe Mason was named the new Vice Chairman.

4. One of Joe Mason's associates in home developing was 45-year old Donald Chilton, an ex-Marine Captain who was Chairman of the Cape Girardeau, Missouri-based First Exchange Banks. Bad loans would catch up to Chilton, too, and by May 7, 1992 all five First Exchange Banks went under. A report in the March edition of the St. Louis Business Journal said of First Exchange's demise, "The FDIC is in charge of trying to collect $250 million in bad loans and other troubled assets. When the collection process is complete, the FDIC estimates it will lose $46 million in what is believed to be the largest failure of a bank in Missouri history."

On the day indictments were to be announced against Chilton, he was found dead. Chilton and his new bride of eighteen months, 37-year-old Patricia, were discovered in the lap of luxury at a Palm Springs, California hotel. Their deaths officially went down as double-suicides. Could someone just have been tying up loose ends?

5. By May 1993, Joe Mason, Ed Morris, Steve Gardner and another major home builder and founder of Community Title Company in Missouri, James Davis, were facing eighteen counts of fraud relating to their Germania S&L activities. The accusation was that they knew of loan losses and conspired to cover them up with false financial reports and audits.

The scenario outlined by GR fits the reality if you know what you're hunting. You have changes of leadership, acquisition of more banks and substantial losses from loans "out of our market area". Along with a few casualties.

MARRIAGE, CIA DISSENTIONS AND JUDICIAL HIJINX

In 1989, Russbacher would marry a second time to a woman who has actively investigated covert CIA activities. Rayelan would not draw approval from Russbacher's boss for their August 1989 marriage. Rayelan stated, "In June 1989, Gunther had signed a two-year agreement not to marry." His superior, a four star admiral, told Russbacher he had to honor the contract and that major security leaks would be created if a top operative married an activist. Russbacher had mentioned that by this time he had been weary of the CIA for years, as they had degenerated into competing factions acting more like rogue elephants than an intelligence arm of the U.S. Government.

Two days after the marriage Russbacher was arrested for misappropriating the Government Lear jet he used to fly from Seattle to Reno for the wedding. Gunther Russbacher would be in prisons from then on, with the exception of 15 days in July 1990. Russbacher had been shipped back to Missouri on old charges of stealing $20,000 in funds from NBC [National Brokerage Co.] in 1986. Although no longer in business, charters, checks, corporate documents and even stationary testify to its existence.

As a conduit for all kinds of CIA monkey business, NBC was used to serve as a funnel for weapons shipments to Nicaragua. Russbacher has previously mentioned the 1986 mission of pilot Eugene Hasenfus as an arms shipment funded by NBC in Missouri.

In July 1990, Russbacher was told he only needed to sign a written plea agreement (which he had not seen) to be released. This may sound stupid to many, but keep in mind we're talking about a man who has lived outside the law for most of his life; we shouldn't be so amazed he could be abused by it. The plea agreement would be reversed by Judge Lester Duggan Jr. in St. Charles County and an official plea of "Guilty", stemming from the $20,000 stealing charge from NBC, would be entered.

Part of the plea agreement was designed to keep Russbacher from snitching to any official investigatory body. Another instruction of this agreement prohibited GR from leaving St. Louis without written permission and to make weekly reports to the probation officer. Due to GR's CIA duties he did neither of these. This snitch agreement and his mission worked like two sides of a vise to later keep him incarcerated.

On July 31, 1990 Russbacher had finished his third day of debriefing at Castle AFB. Numerous FBI agents surrounded and descended on Russbacher's living quarters like a hurricane. The offense: impersonating a naval officer. Rayelan and GR say all evidence indicating his rank or CIA involvement were removed.

The FBI agent in charge was no stranger to Russbacher; he was George Vincent. During the Afghan-Soviet War, Russbacher says Vincent and he were taking an arms shipment into the Mujahadeen—at least 700,000 rounds of ammo, RPGs (rocket propelled grenades) along with an assortment of other weapons supplies. Russbacher said of Vincent, "He had a habit of playing both ends for monetary gain or political clout." This proved to be nearly fatal, as an ambush awaited this horse and mule train of supplies. As GR puts it, "We somehow managed to extricate ourselves and discovered that Vincent had betrayed the delivery. The reward for Vincent's treachery was not death but two carefully placed pistol shots from a .45 caliber behind each of Vincent's kneecaps. He was left for dead, but didn't die. The Soviets picked him up, fixed him up and later traded him back to the U.S. Vincent would end up in the FBI's Fresno office and no doubt appreciated the opportunity for a payback to GR.

When it came time for trial, the "impersonation of a naval officer" charge was dropped by U.S. Attorney David Levi. Remaining charges stemmed from misuse of Government property. In the event it could be proven that Russbacher was acting on behalf of the U.S. Government that could vindicate him. This almost happened when FBI agent Rich Robley testified that Russbacher was working for the U.S. Government. Acquittal was not forthcoming as Judge Leonard Pierce used a variety of legal tactics to keep Russbacher imprisoned while his family was harassed.

All charges would eventually be dropped just in time to be released back to St. Charles County, Missouri to face stealing-by-deceit charges. On February 7, 1992 Russbacher was sentenced to 7 years on each of the three charges, a total of 21 years.

Russbacher's defense attorney was Tim Farrell. He was at best inadequate and at worst a total fraud. Watching the hearing was FBI agent Rich Robley. He was not allowed to testify and Rayelan's testimony would be stricken from the court records. The prosecuting attorney in the case, Phillip Groenweghe, believed Rayelan's testimony as to who she saw. But what she saw was not admissible as she had no expertise for identifying people like William Webster who had associated with GR during his stay at high security SAC bases like Castle AFB. It appears that establishing her credibility as a witness would have been needed before she testified; Farrell never did.

Attorney Paul Wilcher then entered the picture, taking the case pro-bono. Paul would spend months with Russbacher taking depositions and hundreds of hours of testimony. Against Russbacher's better wishes Wilcher wanted to subject all available evidence to Lee Hamilton's October Surprise Congressional Committee. The evidence and other witnesses willing to testify in Russbacher's behalf were ignored or routinely debunked. A video tape is said to exist showing George Bush in the back seat of the special two-seater SR-71 when GR brought him back from Paris. Wilcher wanted this video and, although Russbacher says he did it against his better judgment, it was arranged for him to have it. Delivery of this tape was intercepted and a gun battle occurred. The tape didn't make it and Wilcher continued unsuccessfully to gain political support for Russbacher's case by disclosing what he had, not willing to understand that some of these people were playing both sides for political power and influence.

[Rodney] Stich told THE PROBE that he had warned Wilcher of the dangers of keeping the information he had in too small a circle. Wilcher discarded many words of warning in his investigations and in July 1993, shortly after beginning to look into the Waco mess, he was found DEAD in his apartment. The official reason for his death is listed as natural causes. Wilcher joined a known list of six other attorneys who have died while investigating either Chapter 11 corruption, Inslaw, or the October Surprise.

Wilcher's body was found naked, unceremoniously on the commode. Russbacher says that he had some of his "connections" on the outside in the apartment before a swarm of FBI, CIA types came in. Wilcher was a sizeable, very healthy six-foot-five-inch or more person and Russbacher was told that rigormortis had already set in and there was no indication that death had occurred in his apartment. Notes, tapes and computer files had already been removed. Sara McClendon of the McClendon News Service would arrive at Wilcher's apartment only to be told that it was sealed off; it was now a Federal crime scene. Wilcher joined a growing list of those who tried to pry open the door of secrets that others will kill to keep closed.

By September of 1993 Russbacher had received quite a tour of the Missouri Penal system: Fulton, Jefferson City, Pacific and St. Charles County. After nearly a year of deliberating on the issue, Franklin County Judge Michael Brown finally ruled in favor of his present attorney's motion, that Russbacher had received "ineffectiveness of trial assistance". In a conversation with Judge Brown after his rendering, Brown said, "Farrell should have investigated if the statute had expired and the defendant (Russbacher) had been advised." The Missouri statute on these particular stealing-by-deceit charges is only 18 months. The date of the penalty is July 16, 1990.

The math definitely works out in Russbacher's favor. His continued imprisonment did not and during this time his heart condition worsened.

On September 20, 1993 Rayelan and an ex-barrister named Jim Vassilos visited the St. Charles County Courthouse to verify the remaining charges against him. When GR was transferred from the Pacific, Missouri prison, some of the charges were dropped. Rayelan and Vassilos merely wanted to get copies of what he was being held on.

They received documentation on one bad check charge. This was count #1 and it stated the check was passed at Commerce Bank in St. Charles, Mo. This same check was also said to have been passed at First Bank and yet there was more conflicting information to these documents that said it was a different branch of First Bank.

As you can only pass a single check, bad or otherwise, at one bank at a time, which one was it? Even the court didn't know.

The other two counts were not in the file and, as the clerk had no explanation for this oddity, began a search by asking the judge, then the prosecuting attorney Groenweghe if he had them. Groenweghe did, and this simple legal request prompted a major confrontation.

According to Rayelan and Vassilos, the portly Groenweghe came down from his lofty perch like a raging bull. "What are you doing here? Where is your attorney?" And finally, "I'm not going to give you anything. Get out!"

These were a few of the vocal blasts emitted by the enraged Groenweghe. An additional request from another clerk in a different courthouse location drew threats of a call to security to have both Rayelan and Vassilos arrested. All this for requesting what they had every right to request. What are they so afraid of? Why the secrecy? Why the overreaction?

Russbacher's present attorney is Rob Fleming, a public defender from Columbia, Missouri. Fleming feels the charges against Russbacher are an example of making a mountain out of a mole hill.

Regarding the nature, severity and evidence of the charges, Fleming says, "In twenty-one years of practicing law I've never seen anything like it." Fleming is fully aware of Russbacher's contentions linking him to the intelligence community and covert operations, but insists he is doing his best to avoid that issue and concentrate solely on the charges that were used to keep him imprisoned.

Fleming and others who have investigated this case provide a tangible key to the problem in the lap of St. Charles County prosecutors. When Russbacher is released he will likely have good cause to bring about a massive lawsuit against St. Charles County and the State of Missouri and numerous attorneys who have been involved.

The expired statute used to imprison him is only one of several bricks that could be thrown at this thin paper wall.

One of the thorns in the side of St. Charles County prosecutors is that Russbacher landed back in their laps. This resulted in badly needed heart bypass surgery on November 10th, 1993. The surgery had been scheduled numerous times and cancelled, possibly because no one prison system or county wanted to be stuck with the $80,000, or more, bill.

The county did get stuck and the taxpayers will pay. No doubt there are a lot of watchful eyes around the globe focused on this case.

To further verify Russbacher's identity, author Rodney Stich has allowed THE PROBE to publish documentation on a fellow CIA/ONI/Seal connection to Russbacher. His name is Robert Hunt and as of late 1992 he was a Lieutenant Commander in charge of Seal Team #2 and Executive Officer of Seal Team #6.

Hunt's case is similar to Russbacher's as both men have been sheeppicked and both are being pursued with charges of running con games, womanizing and other fraudulent activities.

Looking at the total picture available on Gunther Russbacher, it is safe to say he is definitely connected with covert operations and CIA involvement. At present, having access to this information can only serve to heighten your awareness of what unseen forces shape our daily lives.

As far as Russbacher is concerned, he will be likely shipped out of the U.S. when released. Although they have found his U.S. citizenship, it is possible he will either leave the country or step back into his old working "habit".

At this time a gag order is on Russbacher and March 28th, 1994 was scheduled as the next court date, one which he did not make. According to Fleming, Rayelan said it was due to his health. Naturally, verification is in process.

It could be that a lot of powerful people have a lot to lose if Russbacher gets out and keeps talking. Only through knowing can we hope to understand what is best for us in the future. Men like Russbacher and Hunt can help as they allow us a glimpse into a true "cult", that of the intelligence world.

[END OF QUOTING]

Well, we all know that Gunther did get out only to be sent to Austria (his old home-town) where he was taken at the airport—to further incarceration. This is not as bad as it may at first appear because he was in immediate and terribly important need of medical attention. He had been so compromised and the surgery to his heart so badly insulted that he needed extensive repair. I, Hatonn, had shattered more than five major implants (programming) that had been placed within Gunther at the time of surgery and later repairs of one sort or another. The obvious intent was that the man NOT make it through surgery and certainly not for any length of time following surgery. I personally had to SEND A PHYSICIAN into the operating room where they were "supposedly repairing" damaged surgical connections. The team "repairing" were ACTUALLY "BLEEDING" Gunther. Gunther recognized the "caller" and the surgeons-in-attending about dropped their britches. My man suggested the bleeding STOP INSTANTLY. The gentlemen in point were most happy to comply! We don't take to this kind of behavior practiced on our team. When undergoing repair surgery in Austria TEN MORE MICROCHIPS (DOTS) WERE REMOVED, ALSO. It appears that quite a few people DO NOT want this man to survive—WELL, I DO!! Furthermore, I can be a most annoying adversary! I just can't seem to make ALL the players in this game understand—ALL AT THE SAME TIME! As a matter of fact, it seems that since the adversarial Satanic committee has its own favorite "alien" teams, that the Committee of 17 and, at the least, MJ-12 would want to be on MY side. I'm a nice guy and I ALWAYS—ULTIMATELY—WIN! YOU BIG HONCHOS NEED A WORLD, TOO, YOU KNOW!

I think this is enough, Dharma, to allow the "good buddies" to remember that WE HAVE NOT FORGOTTEN! Good day.

Jackson On Easter Island

Editor's note: The following has been shared with CONTACT by a subscriber who has been corresponding with Ronn Jackson. She is quoting Jackson's letter to her of June 1, 1994:

Easter Island: First, all books on Easter Island deal with speculation. Since no documentation exists on the island, all books go in many directions. The most popular idea is that tribes from sunken islands went there and placed images of their god or gods. Another suggests that an alien group of beings placed their own images as a reminder of them having visited this world. The problem is, we, as humans, place all subjects into our plane of reference. In other words, we believe that certain things exist and our explanation is the only one. That is not true. That point will be the most difficult to overcome. As I stated, the stone faces on Easter Island are a series of beacons. We understand only that the faces are carved out of stone; that each one is very heavy and several people could not lift each one; that the material that the faces was carved out of does not exist on the Island and would have had to be transported to the Island. Although we have the technology to transport them now, the knowledge isn't that old and was recently discovered. Our minds are closed to other than what we know and can relate to.

The answers to all of your questions are in our records and will have to be traced a long way back in the history of this planet. The key is the estimated age of the faces on the island: 2-3 billion years! Although we use our measurement of time and, to us, those measurements are accurate as far as we know; there is much that is not known.

The faces were placed on Easter Island, using our reference of time, 65,000 years ago. They were removed from the Sahara Desert. That is about the time water was diverted from that area. The area was fertile but was essentially wiped out by a disease similar to AIDS. There is much of our history that is not recorded and is not known by historians. The faces were placed on the island by others whom you would not know. However, I will tell you something that only a few people know: There have been visitors to our world, and this is known to some of your ancestors who are referred to as Native Americans. There are many visitors now, but those visitors have been coming to our world, the same ones, for millions of years. They are able to manipulate time, interdimensionally. However, using our reference of measurement of time, they are only 200-300 thousand years old. Time to others does not have the same meaning as it has to us.

The faces were placed in such a manner that at certain times of the year, light from our sun hits them at a certain angle and an energy is produced that gives a signal that is imperceptible by any measurement device that we possess. That signal is transmitted to an entity, using our measurement of distance, 115,000 light years from us. This was, at the time placed here by others, what we classify as "state of the art" communication. However, those entities have evolved and that technology is now archaic.

The faces resembled the physical characteristics of those who placed them there, and still do. They pose no threat to us and are nothing more than curious. They are not permitted to interfere in any manner with our evolutionary process, as the same Supreme Being exists for us as it does for them.

Branch Davidians Sentenced By "Butch"

On February 26, 1994 the Jury cleared all 11 defendants of murder and murder conspiracy charges. Three were acquitted of all charges, five were convicted of voluntary manslaughter and three of weapons charges.

Just this past week, U.S. District Judge Walter Smith imposed these sentences: [See box to right for the sentencing details presented in the Bakersfield Californian for Saturday, June 18, 1994.]

We have here another example of how "Butch" Reno runs the U.S. Department of Justice. If you don't "get 'em" (citizens) one way, then make sure the presider in the court "gets 'em" another way. If the American public accepts this outrage of justice, the inevitable tyranny approaches ever more surely and quickly. Please see the next page for a fax from APFN titled (the) "Incredible Branch Davidian Chapter" with some additional information on this unbelievable miscarriage of justice.

"Our problem, once solar energy is in operation, is to find a way to have the citizens whose homes are heated by the sun continue to pay us every month."

Sentencing details

- BRAD BRANCH, 34. Witnesses reported he was upstairs in the cult's compound with a gun during the shootout. Convicted of voluntary manslaughter. Sentenced to maximum 40-year sentence, with 10 years for manslaughter and 30 for using a firearm during a crime. Fined $2,000.
- KEVIN WHITECLIFF, 32. Trial testimony indicated he had a gun and shot at federal agents. Convicted of voluntary manslaughter. Sentenced to maximum 40-year sentence, with 10 years for manslaughter and 30 for using a firearm during a crime. He was fined $2,000.
- JAIME CASTILLO, 25. He got involved with Koresh because of his love of music, then got hooked on the religion, his attorney said. Convicted of voluntary manslaughter. Sentenced to maximum 40 years; 10 for manslaughter, 30 for using a firearm during a crime. Fined $2,000.
- LIVINGSTONE FAGAN, 34. The former British social worker with a master's degree in theology shot federal agents, witnesses said. Convicted of voluntary manslaughter. Lost wife and mother in fire. Sentenced to maximum 40-year sentence, with 10 years for manslaughter and 30 for using a firearm during a crime. He was fined $5,000.
- GRAEME CRADDOCK, 32. Survived fire. Witnesses testified Craddock had a grenade at the end of the 51-day siege. Convicted of using or carrying a firearm during a crime. Sentenced to 20 years and fined $2,000 for possessing a grenade and using or possessing a firearm during a crime.
- RENOS AVRAAM, 29. A witness testified the former British businessman was shooting during the gun battle. Convicted of voluntary manslaughter. Sentenced to maximum 40 years; 10 for manslaughter, 30 for using firearm during a crime. Fined $10,000.
- RUTH OTTMAN RIDDLE, 30. Survived the fire by jumping from second story ledge, breaking her ankle. Husband, James Riddle, died in the fire. The only woman defendant in the trial. Convicted of using or carrying a firearm during a crime. Sentenced to five years and a $2,500 fine for using or carrying a weapon during a crime.
- PAUL FATTA, 35. Federal agents believe he provided the Branch Davidians with a cache of weapons. He wasn't at the compound the day of the raid. Convicted of conspiracy to unlawfully manufacture and possess machine guns and aiding and abetting Koresh in unlawfully possessing machine guns. He was sentenced to 15 years and fined $50,000.

Incredible Branch Davidian Chapter

The eight defendents were elequent in their allocution. Not for their great oratory, but for their great strength of character. The attorneys, too, have done an outstanding job of presenting their defenses and their reasons for reasonable sentences.

What became abundantly clear at sentencing was that there has been, all along, a conspiracy against THE PEOPLE of the united States of America, and to further destabilize the Constitution as a recitation of the people's rights and the limits of government. Those in power will establish tyranny by a treasonous oligarchy, one world or national, which seeks to exercise total control over this nation of gutless sheep.

A description of the entire proceedings of these two days of sentencing will follow shortly detailing the actions and decisions of the tyrant. For now, let me tell you only the precise sentences which the innocent defenders of Mt. Carmel were nailed with:

RENOS AVRAAM	40 YEARS WITH 5 YEARS OF SUPERVISED RELEASE $10,000.00 FINES; $1,200,000 RESTITUTION
BRAD BRANCH	40 YEARS WITH 5 YEARS OF SUPERVISED RELEASE $2000.00 FINES; $1,200,000 RESTITUTION
JAIME CASTILLO	40 YEARS WITH 5 YEARS OF SUPERVISED RELEASE $2000.00 FINES; $1,200,000 RESTITUTION
LIVINGSTON FAGAN	40 YEARS WITH 5 YEARS OF SUPERVISED RELEASE $5000.00 FINES; $1,200,000 RESTITUTION
KEVIN WHITECLIFF	40 YEARS WITH 5 YEARS OF SUPERVISED RELEASE $2000.00 FINES; $1,200,000 RESTITUTION
GRAEME CRADDOCK	20 YEARS WITH 5 YEARS OF SUPERVISED RELEASE $2000.00 FINES; $1,200,000 RESTITUTION
PAUL FATTA	15 YEARS WITH 3 YEARS OF SUPERVISED RELEASE $50,000.00 OF FINES; $1,200,000 RESTITUTION
RUTH RIDDLE	5 YEARS WITH 5 YEARS OF SUPERVISED RELEASE $2500.00 OF FINES; $1,200,000 RESTITUTION

All of the above required restitution is to be paid from movie or book earnings. No wages or other income are to be attached. The prisoners are now in the Hayes county Jail awaiting transfer to Oklahoma City where they will be processed for permanant imprisonment. The story which I hope to get out tomorrow is beyond belief. A rumor circulating among the attorneys indicates that Judge Smith was compromised by his behaviour and had to do what the FBI wanted at sentencing. Judge Walter smith is at 817-750-1519 fax 750-1516

RAPTURE?? MIND GAMES!!

As the days pass and you get closer to the time of the operative fulfillment you will witness the frantic efforts to "save" you in the name of this one and that one. The evangelists, especially those having gained recognition through multiple books, TV, Radio, etc., will be in almost panic expression—to get you "SAVED" for your RAPTURE (as now used). This, they will tell you, is to keep all goodly (but you must believe on Jesus) Christians from going through the TRIBULATION.

Just yester-eve Hal Lindsey was on TV (Trinity Broadcasting Network) with Paul Crouch discussing this matter. There was frantically in Paul to get his TV stations and satellite arrangements made so he can SAVE the people of Israel and Palestine. Hal has written a new book—WHICH IS, BY THE WAY, EXCELLENT. It will deal with "these times", etc. The ONLY THING WRONG is that it will ARRANGE FOR YOU TO HAVE A MASSIVE RAPTURE SO THAT THE PEOPLE OF JESUS DO NOT HAVE TO EXPERIENCE THE TRIBULATION. What in the world are they talking about? YOU HAVE BUILT THIS WORLD INTO WHAT IT IS—DO YOU ACTUALLY THINK YOU WILL BE WHISKED AWAY IN PHYSICAL FORM TO SOME CLOUDS SO YOU DON'T HAVE RESPONSIBILITY? I WARN YOU THAT THIS IS INCORRECT INFORMATION AND IF YOU CLING TO THIS IRRESPONSIBLE APPROACH TO YOUR PASSAGE (OR YOUR REMAINING), YOU WILL BE MOST SORRY IN THE AFTERMATH! There is a RAPTURE PLANNED FOR YOU WHO ARE SO FOOLISH—AND IT IS CALLED OPERATION BLUE BEAM!!! [See last week's Front Page story for more on this crazy, movie-magic Project Blue Beam.]

I don't care WHO tells you the Bible is filled with promises of lift-off, raptures and such. It is NOT SO. "RAPTURE" is not even a word in the Bible. That has been conjured, by those who would want you to believe them, that you will be stupid enough to line up to be whisked into never-ever-land and GET RID OF GOD'S POTENTIAL PEOPLE FROM THE EARTH PLANET. Where do you think might have come the IDEA of some kind of a RAPTORAL DE-

LIGHT? You had better get your feet and your definitions under you.

I am going to give you some definitions to consider so that you might hook a few words together and get a better description of what is going on here.

RAPTURE: 1. Ecstatic joy or delight; joyful ecstasy. 2. (raptures) an expression of joy or ecstasy. 3. [H: Now comes the NEW definition for you:] The carrying of a person to another place or sphere of existence. 4. ARCHAIC: The carrying off.

RAPTORIAL: 1. Preying upon other animals; predatory. 2. Adapted for seizing prey. (As in raptors.)

These definitions are from your old friend, Webster's Encyclopedic Dictionary, 1989. (With updates of accepted terminology.)

WHAT WAS SEEN IN THE SCRIPTURES?

As with Ezekiel—spacecraft. (Wheels within wheels, wheels of fire—etc.) Now, HOW did the evangelists come to BASE THEIR DEFINITIONS OF SUCH AS RAPTURE ON THE OLD TESTAMENT WHEN THEY WILL CLAIM YOU MUST FOLLOW THE NEW TESTAMENT IF YOU ARE TO BE SAVED? Is this not strange? If, further, the evangelists of the CHRISTIAN "faith" base everything they need on the NEW TESTAMENT and utilize the "Jewish" (misnomer) tradition (who did not believe Jesus was the Christ or Messiah) how do they come up with WRONG answers? Because they are desperately offering YOU A WAY OUT OF YOUR MESS SO THEY LOOK GOOD! AND, WHO ON EARTH WILL BE LEFT TO COUNT THEM WRONG? WELL, LOTS OF PEOPLE—STANDING AROUND SNICKERING AT YOUR STUPIDITY.

Will there be some kind of a lift-off, possibly? Yes, probably—but it will not be like you are told here. It will NOT BE A RAPTURE. Rapture, by its definition, means a state of emotional beingness. It does NOT mean physical lift-off to another sphere of wondrous delight with God—unless, of course, you are DEAD—which you WILL BE, in physical consideration! Dead as the proverbial doornail! The point is to get you God-respecting, Christian-believers OFF THE PLANET SO THERE IS NO FURTHER CONFRONTATION WITH THAT WHICH IS TAKING YOUR WORLD. IN OTHER WORDS, KILL TWO BIRDS WITH ONE STONE—GET RID OF USELESS FEEDERS AND TROUBLEMAKERS.

It is your privilege to believe anything you wish, good brethren—ANYTHING YOU WISH. I am, however, grossly remiss in my own task if I refrain from telling you TRUTH about it. The evangelical team is being put in place RIGHT NOW AS WE WRITE—to pull this dastardly deed off—they, too, being mostly in ignorance. THEY ARE PROGRAMMED TO DO THIS JOB!

This is what they are really working toward. It will have two meanings to you. If it is interrupted—they will tell you those nasty space cadets (the bird people) have done this to you. If not, and something goes wrong, you will be told the "aliens" did it. Next, if it goes right—the evil merchants of death, preying upon you-the-people, will kill you and pick your bones. The magic show-and-tell will not be so entertaining AND it will be TOO LATE.

Will the plan be changed? Perhaps—but obviously the only thing that will be changed is the interim magic show—because what is planned is not a human physical exchange to another place. It will be a physical changeout into particle form into another time/space warp—not God's wondrous place of continuing life of perfection. You will, however, be "perfectly" out of the way.

Do I mind if this happens? NO—if that is what you wish, go for it. I am only telling those who will have WISDOM—that it is another lie of the adversary. A physical body cannot remain atop a cloud—friends. It is heavier than the cloud formation—and will FALL immediately upon release from the power structure holding it there. It will fall back down to Earth in search of its own density in "matter". Then, being that you might well have soul, the soul is released the same as in any other MURDER situation.

IF YOU CONTINUE TO DENY WE-THE-MESSENGERS—HOW WILL YOU EVER KNOW? HOW CAN YOU FIND YOUR PATH IN THE DARKNESS WITHOUT THE LAMP OF TRUTH? SO BE IT.

O.J. SIMPSON, MURDERER???

Is he a murderer? He says he "did it". Oh? But he also says he was somehow insane?? How is it that two people are brutally stalked and MURDERED and the only attention is given to the party who is claimed to be guilty? Even the good Reverend Billy Graham is in touch to ENCOURAGE this man. How many of your own, even in the case of total innocence, are treated so well? Did he do it? That, people, is for a jury (even in your unjust system) to decide AFTER A FAIR TRIAL ON ALL CIRCUMSTANCES.

People wept WITH O.J. yesterday as he "wished" he could be with his children for Father's Day. (???) WHO DEPRIVED HIM OF THAT OPTION? It is NOT O.J. that SHOWS INSANITY—it is you-the-people. This is another testing of your readiness to take whatever is dished out at you without even the ability to THINK rationally about it. Whatever happened, the man was totally and absolutely PROGRAMMED to do exactly what he did—or had done. He was brought into the "service" of "intelligence cult" from high school and he has been trained to accomplish the heinous circumstance that would be presented. It is the same as the young man who goes onto a school ground and kills. "They" did flub, though—he did not use a "gun"!

But how would "the handlers" KNOW a circumstance would happen in this way? They didn't have to. All they had to do was precipitate the circumstances and "ring the bell". Was he, if he did it, temporarily insane? OF COURSE—he likely does not even REMEMBER THE INCIDENT. Just as the killer of the Klaas child—the perpetrator cannot so much as remember the action AT ALL. YOU ARE IN

THE FINAL STAGES OF TOTAL MIND CONTROL, CHELAS—DO YOU NOT HEAR ME?! THE SUSCEPTIBLE MASSES WILL MARCH TO THE BROADCAST INSTRUCTIONS AND EACH INDIVIDUALLY TRAINED AND CONTROLLED BEING WILL DO EXACTLY WHAT HE/SHE IS TOLD TO DO. IT IS THROUGH PULSED FREQUENCIES WHICH BEAR INSTRUCTIONS WHICH THE MIND HEARS AND TRANSLATES.

You wonder how Dharma "hears" and "translates"? The same basic method of frequency signals. The DIFFERENCE IS that I am in service ONLY to God of Light—CREATOR. It is up to her to keep her space CLEAR and through the understanding of the shielding BY GOD of self and reception—we have protection. Let us just say, for simplicity, that I have the higher signal network. But, if YOU wish to have that protection, you must ASK and you must accept that our mission is of goodness for we do NOT SERVE SATAN.

Now comes the punch-line: "Well, I don't like that. Moreover I will not do what you want, whoever you are." Fine—it is YOUR experience, not mine. What IS mine, I control and protect—and I can offer the same to ones who choose my path. No sweat—go your way with my blessings, if you will. Not only do I bless you to go your way—but I petition you to go your way and leave us be to ours.

DEPOPULATION

"But," the practical person asks, "isn't it a good way to cut down on the population?" Yep, and what a nice world it will be. You who are left and are pretty good guys will get to serve the masters (who are NOT very nice).

And, as the seeming sands of time pass—the head-honchos of each of the remaining adversarial parties of physical expression clash for the status of OVERLORD. It will get nasty—VERY NASTY!

Remember that "tribulation" which the goodly evangelists promise the Christians and believers to MISS?? In other words, go in the "blast off" or the "blast out"—your choice, sleepy-head.

Well, good buddies, I DO NOT WISH MY FRIENDS AND FAMILY TO DO EITHER. So, we stand the flack and offer you TRUTH. It is your RESPONSIBILITY to act on that Truth—or do whatever you choose elsewhere.

Dharma, get Gerry Spence's book, FROM FREEDOM TO SLAVERY, turn to Page 128, and let us offer a few thoughts.

GERRY SPENCE'S OBSERVATIONS

This may seem so out of context as to be isolated thought—it is not:

[QUOTING:]

Although the human male's evil may have been chemically induced, it was also the product of culture. Women's domination by men began with the birth of civilization, with man's departure from Nature. As man took up agriculture and established himself in villages instead of wandering and gathering, as he domesticated animals instead of hunting them, indeed, as he separated himself from Nature, man began to see himself at odds with the Earth. Such early isolationism created the forces of "them and me"—man against the Earth, man's village against other villages, man's territory against other territories, man against other men, and, of course, man against woman. As man became fixed in village and field and abdicated his place in the Natural Order, his separation created for him a new and wholly defective vista of the world.

Dissociated from the Natural Whole, and estranged from his Mother Earth, man, once free and easy, became paranoid and delusional. Where once he saw himself as part of the Earth, now he saw the Earth, his mother, and all her inhabitants as dangerous and hostile. By his separation from Nature, he was also separated from other members of his species with whom he now competed for food, for shelter, for territory, for women, and for power.

Where once man enjoyed a perfect wisdom because, as part of Nature, he shared Nature's perfect knowledge and abided by her laws, now, ignorant and foolish and panicked, he did as ignorant and foolish men do when panicked—he struck out against all that lived, bringing war and starvation, suffering and death.

[END OF QUOTING]

I just wanted to share a thought or two about "what went wrong" and how the circumstances have increased in pressure to bury you in the entropy of experience. It is not "good" or "bad"—it simply IS! You can make of it that which you will for God gave FREE-WILL unto man ALONG WITH THE CAPABILITY OF "REASON". Therefore, "man" is allowed (IS ALLOWED) to do that which he will—guided by whatever set of rules he chooses. BUT, the downside of "wrong" choices will merit him great success in "wrong" things. I don't have any definition for "right" or "wrong"—for in all things the GOAL of accomplishment is the only deciding factor. For instance, if O.J. did in fact brutally murder his wife and her friend—he may well be considered to have done the "wrong" thing—IF HE WANTED TO REMAIN FREE, HAVE HONOR AND FANS BOW IN RESPECT, ETC., ETC. However, if he wanted to be in prison, fighting for his own life—he certainly did the "right" thing to accomplish as much. If you consider "right" and "wrong" by legal definition—he did the "wrong" thing. If, however, he lived with the tribes who murder, in legal approval, an unfaithful wife and her lover—he would be honored and applauded for his actions as a husband. Chelas, IT IS ALL, EVERY BIT OF IT—CHOICES!

Why didn't "God stop him"? He was not acting according to God's laws so why would you drag God into his corrupted behavior? God has given you rules, instructions and LAWS. HE allows you to break every one of them—BUT FRIENDS, THE PIPER WILL BE PAID FOR THE BREAKING OF THEM. O.J. was not acting WITHIN OR FOR GOD as (if) he brutally stabbed repeatedly the two people—"Thou shalt not kill—sayeth the Lord".

Next you ask God to, well, "have mercy on him". Why? God has always had mercy on him and made available all rules, instructions and consequences of such action. The "man's" actions now merit the judgment and discernment of MAN. Whatever is between the man and God—is not your business. By acting against the laws of God in a human setting—causes a human to be thrust upon by the activities of MAN human. Still, in all things—have no judgment upon the man in point—only compassion. BUT JUDGE THE ACTIONS IN INTENT AND ACT UPON THE LAW—IN JUSTNESS. These are your own testings, my friends—YOUR OWN. I CAN promise you that this one "case" will be an interesting testing of every element of your "society" and your own measurement of "You've come a long way, Baby."

ASCENSION OR NEVER-EVER LAND? BLUE BEAM FLIGHT SCHOOL

Can you learn to ascend by take-off day? Will you "rapture" or "rupture" your fantasy? Who plans all the wondrous adventures to suck you in? Well, it takes a lot of discerning and a heck of a lot of WISE JUDGING! Players are important—but not as important as RECOGNIZING TRUTH! The Satanic players still have some very interesting games to play with you—and the curtain's rising is even a bit delayed. Ah, but Satan's promised land is not being denied to you—just delayed by inconvenience. Good luck. May the GLORY OF GOD be shown before you in truth of expression—NOT BE USED TO SUCKER YOU INTO A HOLOGRAPHIC HOLOCAUST OF THE LIE! The time is at hand for the testing—how will you fare?

DEDICATION

This, as all our work, is dedicated to you who would seek and find TRUTH. Recognizing the LIE and sorting away the "magic" are worthy of your efforts to become informed. May your cup overflow with WISDOM, not bitterness.

Ronn Jackson Bulletin #6

Some of the questions that I am receiving pertain to current events. I can only answer those inquiries with what I know on that subject but I have to admit, some of my information may be dated as I have been incarcerated for 3-1/2 years.

1. Yes, our lawmakers circumvent the Constitution in many ways. One of the most flagrant of these violations is the ownership of property. The Constitution specifically states that the Federal Government cannot own or take title to property. What the Government does is create unconstitutional agencies, such as the Bureau of Land Management and the Park Service. They employ thousands of people to control vast pieces of real estate and have gone as far as to kill citizens of this country for violating their rules. Under the guise of saying the property is for the use of all, when you control land, that, to me, means you own it. Government is nothing more than a monopoly and is bloated and growing. The falsehoods given to us every day about the reduction of Government are out-right lies and if you believe any politician on a Federal level, you are a fool. Government can only give what it has first taken away. Think about it. Your Government is fraudulent.

2. The condition of the economy is stated by Government in many ways, primarily designed to confuse you, and those reports are given to you via the mainstream media. They are: gross domestic product; inflation levels geared towards their levels and figures; money rates; interest rates; bond rates; prime rates and many others. Then you have employment and unemployment rates and the information given out by the Federal Reserve system. (Our Central Bank which is not ours but privately owned by 12 families.) What you are told is what those special interests want you to hear, only. Most figures given to you are false. For example, the national debt that you hear about is at 4-1/4 trillion dollars. What they mean is 4-1/4 trillion Federal Reserve notes. If Government were to be honest with you, the national debt is: 143,000,000,000,000.00; one-hundred-forty-three trillion as of 6-1-94. Whether or not I use the terms "Dollars" or "Federal Reserve Notes" has no meaning. What the Government is saying to us is: "You, citizen of this country, are stupid." I am personally going to make many of those people in Government eat those words.

3. "George Bush" as President was responsible for the "Super-Collider" project going to Texas. The Super-Collider's function is to accelerate a hydrogen atom around a 52-mile circle to almost the speed of light, 186,400 miles per second, and then fire an atom in the opposite direction to collide with the hydrogen atom. The particles of the collision would be dispersed in a muon chamber and the particles would be traced after the collision by computer giving (supposedly) scientists the origin of matter, the big-bang theory. It was a pork-barrel project that has, in fact, no bearing on the reality of life as it now exists. I could have explained the outcome of the Super-Collider project to scientists in thirty minutes. The entire project was just a "ruse" by the monopoly known as Government to expand itself; Government will die if it does not continue to expand. It is like the Federal Reserve System in that respect. A pyramid scheme designed only to deceive you.

4. This is the point most people don't understand. Your question infers that only one United States exists. That is incorrect according to positive law, Title 28 USC. There are two. They are: united states, which means Federal territory only; and United States of America, which means the sovereign 50 Union States. When Government passes law that does not conform to the Constitution, it is non-positive law. Then, Government infers that the law applies to all of us. When you accept a rule or law, then you become adhesioned to that rule or law, and then it applies to you. This is then Government by deceit, deception or trickery. Almost on a daily basis, the Government flagrantly violates the Constitution and then they justify their actions by saying, "the people want it". I have never asked the Government to violate the Constitution. Have you?

5. This is the largest fraud ever that has been perpetrated on the American citizens. Your question states or uses the words: "...Social Security Trust Fund..." There is not now, nor has there ever been, a trust fund for Social Security. F.D.R. lied to you when he signed that legislation. The money that is taken and has been taken from your paycheck goes directly into the Treasury. Since Government cannot accumulate money, they spend it. Every day, you and I are laid away. The Government has promised too much to too many, and their collective bubble is about to burst. The last bail-out of Social Security should make it solvent until 1999, and then under the guise that they are "a-helpin' us folks out here". The Government will have another problem with Social Security. Your letter states you are in your later 60s, so you should make it until your time to move on. If nothing is changed by then, we will be where the "One World Order" wants us. Don't count on me just sitting back and seeing my country destroyed.

6. Yes, I have been reading the Wall Street Journal, for many years. I am familiar with the money market accounts and that all currencies are geared towards ours. Since all Central Banks of the major countries are a monopoly and owned by the same people, what you see in the difference in the currencies is a facade, generated for our benefit. For a "One World Order" to succeed, three things must occur. First, all currencies must be equal. Second, you must have parity within the working class on a global basis. Third, you must disarm the citizens of this country. Each day, our country comes a little closer. It is your elected representatives who are doing this. The United States Government.

7. "MJ-12" is not "who" and "what" you believe them to be. They are only doing what is necessary to perpetuate our species in their judgement. All of our lives are a series of judgements and/or decisions. What are the right ones, I can only speculate on. Yes, I will go into more detail and it will be through CONTACT. There are no disguises in the ranks of MJ-12. Yes, I do know them.

8. Yes, I agree with your comments. The two most subversive organizations within our population are the "American Bar Association" and the "American Medical Association". You must also add the "Rand Organization" and many of the think tanks and "pseudo" intellectual foundations that cover our country. The bottom line is "One World Government".

9. "Richard Nixon" did not resign because of Watergate and the falsehoods that he told us, nor was it the threat of impeachment. The real reason he resigned was the certainty of a thorough investigation and what would be found out. It was his idea [to resign].

10. The real reason for the "Public Utilities Commission" is not the threat that is posed to us as consumers. It is the potential threat of blackmail posed to us as consumers. It is the potential threat of blackmail posed to the Government. Government's job as they view it is to remain a monopoly and prevent anyone else from having the power they have.

11. The committee members that I have mentioned to date are: A-16 Barbara Jordan; A-15 Alexander Solzhenitsyn; A-5 Warren Christopher; A-14 Edward Shevardnadze. I have ordered manuscript #2 of The Death of Camelot, The Darien Conspirators, to be forwarded to CONTACT.

Ronn Jackson Bulletin #7

Again, I must apologize as some of my answers may be dated. (For the most part, I don't think so.)

1. Regarding Welfare in this country, there are people who do need help; however, Government's position is not to help people. Government's only position is to make itself appear that it is helping. To propagate itself and make Government grow, it must make new customers. This is the real reason for Welfare. The Federal Agency must do anything so as to appear that what it is doing is not what you would do as an individual. They are much more intelligent than they are given credit for. The bottom line is, the Government is using the attitude of indifference of most citizens of this country against them. You and I are being used. The Welfare system is only one way the Government is indenturing us as citizens. What we need to do as a nation is change our attitudes, both individually and collectively, or Government will be successful in their goal of "One World Order". The Government, as it is now, is not your servant. It is your master. Look around you—either you wake up, or accept your bondage.

2. Usurpations of your rights go on daily right in front of you. I can imagine from your letter, you are able to feed your family, make your mortgage and car payment and don't want to be bothered by something that you feel doesn't affect you. Let me give you an example that you know about, one that smacks you right in the face. Our Commander-in-Chief and President of the United States, "William Clinton", does not use the terms "America will do this" or "America will do that"; what he is using, "The United Nations is this or that". What you think he is saying is, "America is and has been carrying the load for all these years and it's time others shared some of the responsibility". In reality, what he is saying is, "You stupid and ignorant citizens of this country, I am going to impose my 'leftist' philosophy off on you, right in front of your nose, and install a One World Order and you are so God-damn gullible, you won't know what happened until the ruling Elite has total and absolute control over your each and every action".

All social programs (any legislation that gives you something for nothing), are designed with one purpose in mind. Enlarge Government and ultimate servitude. George Orwell, in writing 1984, was not writing a work of fiction. He was telling future generations what to expect. Read it and then tell me that I am wrong. If you do think I'm wrong, you are a complacent fool or part of the system. If you agree with me, then you are in the awakening process and ready to kick some ass.

3. The Government is using, on Treaties, a 1942 Supreme Court decision, "U.S. versus Pink" to justify their actions on "NAFTA" and "GATT". Yes, the Government gave away your sovereignty and it is not theirs to give. Of course, they are unconstitutional. 72% of all of Government's actions are contrary to the Constitution.

4. No, there are no civilizations living beneath the oceans. "Atlantis" [or part of it] was the last one. No, there was not a dome over it. I do not know the technology that kept the water off of the city. Yes, the city was on the surface initially. Yes, the configuration of the continents was very different. About 80,000 years ago the people evolved to their maturity and moved into their next level of existence. The vehicles you make reference to exist in our plane of reference only. Star Trek is a television program; those speeds are multiples of our terms, and mean, "times the speed of light". Yes, many vehicles travel great distances and those "ships", as you refer to them, are shaped in saucer shapes and in spheres. Again, you are making references to what you know and have been taught. They move in an interdimensional plane and there are many entrances and exits in and around our planet. Distance and miles are our terms, and only relate to what we know. No, I have never been abducted or taken a trip with any beings. (If they have anything to say to me, they can come here and talk to me.) No, I have never seen "Hatonn". Why would I fear him? I do not know if gender is an applicable term to "Hatonn". I can only assume, based on my knowledge, that other beings reproduce. Yes, our race on two occasions, reached or surpassed our current level of evolution and intelligence.

5. The crime that you see on the media is a problem; however, the main source of the problem is in Government's over active imagination. They are using the principles of the philosopher Hegel on crime, to disarm America. The Government of this country is committed to creating a "One World Order", thinking that all of its citizens are stupid. When anyone uses deceit as their main justification, someone will always be around to expose their fraudulent deeds and they will fail.

6. The People involved in the "Gay" movement are citizens and have the same rights as you or me. I tolerate their alternative lifestyle because it is none of my business; however, if those who practice that lifestyle attempt to impose their choices upon me or my family, then it becomes my business. Bragging about one's sexual preference is not covered under the Constitution and I will not tolerate the will and preference of others being stuffed down my throat. As to "AIDS", that disease was not created by "Gay" people, but by a separate faction in Southern California, which is discussed in detail in book IV of the Death of Camelot. Their purpose, at the direction of the Committee (C.O.U.P.E.S.), is population control; however, aids can be transmitted by exchange of body fluids and micro-organisms. There has been a vaccine since 1991, that has been successfully administered and tested. The desired effect and purpose has not been completed yet—the total extinction of the Black Race. The side benefit of the "AIDS" virus is [reduction of] the homosexual population as stated by the Committee on more that one occasion and overheard by me.

7. The socially accepted definition of dollars, Federal Reserve Notes (FRN) and/or money is described in the books The Social Meaning Of Money or in Goodbye, April 15th, but I will try to answer your question. First, money is used for the purchase of service or goods. The authorities that we use for our currency are in many pieces of legislation, including the Federal Reserve Act of 1913. Also included in that authority is the collusive efforts of the Supreme Court when the court issued a decision stating that the purchasing power of the FRN did not diminish the buying power of individuals, thereby perpetuating the pyramid scheme being run by our Central Bank, known as the Federal Reserve System. (And Government says there exists, "separation of powers" between the three branches of Government.) The difference in our existing currency and dollars is that when we had dollars, you had the option to go to a bank and exchange the dollars that you had for the equivalent in what backed the dollar, GOLD. Now, if you go into a bank with FRN, which is what you have in your pocket, that you call money, you can change denominations or put what you have into an account. You cannot get anything else because that piece of paper is only that—a piece of paper making you into someone who is perpetuating a pyramid scheme. What Government didn't tell you when they passed the "Gold Reserve Act of 1934", they were going to steal your gold that backed your own money and smile all the way to their coffers and did so with your blessing. Now, the money-people control all the wealth. Let me ask you this: What will happen when someone decides that the Constitution is the supreme law of the land and demands that the currency that he has be replaced by gold as the Constitution states. There is a law on the books that states that you can be charged with "insurrection". The Government has all the answers, they think, and when theirs burst or when people decide that they are tired of an unlawful Government, only then will their charade end. As to the money that you asked about, continue to use it. We will be back on a gold-backed currency soon.

8. The Women's Movement has been needed for a long time and men have brought this rebellion onto themselves. As would be expected, some members of the movement took several of their issues to extremes, but I really can't fault the Women's Movement for that. Women have been oppressed, depressed, and distressed for so long, drastic action was needed to get man's and society's attention. Men have tried running things for so long and failed miserably. I am in favor of a woman President. What have we got to lose? They certainly can do no worse than men have done!

9. Weights and measurements were okay, the way that they were. I am in favor of the metric system where it was used but when it is forced down my throat by Government, then I don't like it. Government can't take care of Government. Leave numbers alone.

Editor's note: The very latest breaking news from Ronn Jackson, just as we are going to press, is that YOUR letters are working! Even Ronn's lawyer is acknowledging that the letters from you readers will probably free Ronn before the lawyers can. And for this Ronn is truly grateful and wishes CONTACT to convey that.

Ok, readers—now's the time to really pour it on and let the Governor know who is the servant of whom! Send your letters to:

Governor Bob Miller
Capitol Complex
Carson City, NV 89710.

Let's get this man out! The pen IS mightier than the sword!

A reminder: don't get far out into space aliens with your letters; keep them down to Earth and to the point of Ronn's release.

SUCCESS

TO: Each Member of the United States House of Representatives and United States Senate

April 19, 1994

Ultimatum

Whereas, the federal government of the United States of America is constrained by the law of the United States Constitution, the Supreme law of this country, to limited jurisdiction, and limited power; and

Whereas, the federal government of the United States of America, through unlawful Executive Orders, and through legislation passed without quorum and without proper ratification or otherwise unlawfully enacted under mere color of law by members of the legislative branch, have usurped the Constitutional authority of the sovereign states and sovereign citizens of this country, and laws which are unlawful and unconstitutional have been enacted in voluminous number which have outrageously exceeded the boundaries of law and decency; and

Whereas, the people of this country have been exploited and subjugated to an unlawful authority by an unlawful system of loans from a private banking institution, known as the Federal Reserve, and been forced, even at gunpoint, to submit to an unlawful federal income tax which is not and never has been within the authority of the federal government to enact or enforce, all to the benefit of private individuals and corporations at the expense of the liberty, lives, and property of the citizens of this nation; and

Whereas, persons acting under color of law as federal agents, under the direction of those claiming to be elected officials operating under color of law, sworn to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States, have infringed upon the rights of citizens to keep and bear arms, have conducted unlawful warrantless house to house searches and seizures, have assaulted and killed sovereign citizens of this country on the false pretense of "gun control," "child abuse," "the war on drugs" and a plethora of unlawful statutes enacted to unlawfully control the lives and liberty of the citizens of this country;

Whereas, elections are now controlled through the power of committees and lobbies wielding the most money to obtain electoral votes or sway the nomination of candidates and persuade the enactment of legislation that has made it impossible for the common citizen to participate as a candidate in an election or for the vote of the common citizen to be meaningful; and

Whereas, through an unconstitutional and unlawfully enacted "income tax," the federal government has created a "carrot and stick" that has seduced and coerced the elected officials of the several states to submit to the unlawful incursion of the federal government and its agents into the sovereign territory of each state, as a trade off for the receipt of these ill gotten proceeds;

Therefore, YOU ARE COMMANDED to uphold your oath and duty to the citizens of this country, to uphold the Constitution and the rights of the citizens of this country, and in so doing, you are commanded to personally initiate legislation and do all things necessary to:

Repeal the Fourteenth, Sixteenth, and Seventeenth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States and to publicly acknowledge that the federal government has no jurisdiction to make or enforce criminal laws outside its territories, limited to the area of Washington, D.C., and the property and territories actually owned by the United States, which does not include any State within the several states of the united states; and

Repeal the Brady Bill and NAFTA;

Repeal the Drug Interdiction Act and any laws which allow the use of military equipment or military personnel against United States citizens. Presently, these laws provide a backdoor method to fund "national guard" and "drug enforcement" using military troops and equipment against U.S. citizens, while claiming these aren't "really" military troops, they are "merely" national guard, or worse, "federal law enforcement," but all are trained in military tactics, possess military weapons, and military equipment. These laws must be repealed and you must publicly acknowledge that the federal government may not, through any means, use military force, weapons, or equipment against any person on U.S. soil or upon the soil of any sovereign state, except in the event of an actual invasion by troops of a foreign country within the boundaries of the United States of America, and only then, against such foreign troops, not citizens or residents of this country; and

Immediately remove any and all foreign troops and equipment and to immediately identify each and every federal military troop and federal law enforcement or tax enforcement agent and all equipment now located within the boundaries of any and every state, including all assets of military or task force "special operations" units, CIA, NSA, or any other covert law enforcement, quasi-law enforcement or military agency or activity; and

Declare that the United States of America is not operating under the authority of the United Nations or if it is, to immediately renounce and revoke any and all agreements binding the United States to such authority; and

Declare the federal debt to the Federal Reserve null and void, unconstitutional, and without effect and order that currency no longer be printed by the Federal Reserve or any entity other than the Treasury of the United States, backed by gold within the possession of the United States; and

Declare that the federal government does not now have and never has had the legal authority to enact or enforce criminal laws outside the area of Washington, D.C., or outside its territories or its own property, such as military bases, and never upon the soil of any sovereign state, and that all such laws are null and void and without effect;

Convene a full Congressional inquiry, to be conducted publicly, by an independent prosecutor selected from a person who has no association in any way whatsoever with any agency of the federal government, into the events in Waco, Texas, from February 28, 1993 through the present, at the property known as Mt. Carmel, with the special prosecutor to have the full power to convene a grand jury from the citizens of all the 50 states, obtain indictments, and issue subpoenas duces tecum and subpoenas for testimony before a grand jury, and to prosecute any and all persons, regardless of their position in government, for any crimes for which a true bill of indictment is returned.

Notice: You have until 8:00 a.m., September 19, 1994, the Monday following the second full week that the Congress reconvenes in September, to personally initiate legislation to this effect and to do all things necessary to effect this legislation and the restoration of a Constitutional government within this country.

If you do not personally and publicly attend to these demands, you will be identified as a Traitor, and you will be brought up on charges for Treason before a Court of the Citizens of this Country.

Editor's note: The following four-page document needs little in the way of introduction. Notice that it puts EACH Member of the United States House of Representatives and EACH Member of the United States Senate on notice that, lest they have "forgotten", it is we-the-people whom they are supposed to be serving—not the other way around!

Declaration of Independence of 1994

A Declaration by the Sovereign Citizens of the Several States Within the United States of America

When in the Course of human Events, it becomes necessary for one People to dissolve the Political Bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the Powers of the Earth, the separate and equal Station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent Respect to the Opinions of Mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the Separation.

We hold these Truths to be self-evident, that all people are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness.

That to secure these Rights, Governments are instituted among the people, deriving their just Powers from the Consent of the Governed, that whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these Ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its Foundation on such Principles, and organizing its Powers in such Form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness.

Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient Causes; and accordingly all Experience hath shewn, that Mankind are more disposed to suffer, while Evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the Forms to which they are accustomed.

But when a long Train of Abuses and Usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a Design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their Right, it is their Duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future Security.

Such has been the patient Sufferance of the people of the several states of the United States of America; and such is now the Necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government.

The History of the present federal government of the United States of America is one of repeated Injuries and Usurpations, all having in direct Object the Establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States and over the sovereign citizens within the several states. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid World.

All Branches, the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial, of the federal government, have refused Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public Good, the most blatant example of which is the total contempt in which they have held the Constitution of the United States and the rights of the citizens of this country protected by the limitations upon government set forth in the Constitution;

The President and Congress have forbidden state Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing Importance, under inducement or threat of the loss of federal funding, unless suspended in their Operation till their Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, they have utterly neglected to attend to them;

The legislative branch has refused to pass other Laws for the Accommodation of large Districts of People, unless those People would relinquish the Right of Representation in the Legislature, a Right inestimable to them, and formidable to Tyrants only, as evidenced through the passage of the Seventeenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and the present federal voting system, which is a national sham and disgrace, and prevents the common man from participating either as a candidate, or by meaningful vote for a candidate of his choosing in a truly free and open election;

The Congress convenes in a manner which is inaccessible to the general public who are not allowed to address the Congress nor to directly supervise the activities of Congress, and publishes its business in records not readily accessible to the People, intentionally obtuse in the construction of both the laws and the publication thereof, for the Purposes of deceiving and fatiguing the people into Compliance with such Measures. The federal judicial offices and congress have set themselves wholly apart from and above the people, immune even from suit for their transgressions, answerable to none, and responsive to none except those who further their private interests;

The federal government, through unlawfully constituted federal agencies which purport to be law enforcement agencies, and under the color of laws enacted by the legislature which exceed the constitutional jurisdiction of the federal government, has repeatedly murdered or incarcerated those who have opposed with manly Firmness the Invasions on the Rights of the People;

The federal government has endeavored to prevent the Population of these States; for that Purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their Migrations hither, and raising the Conditions of new Appropriations of Lands; and has endeavored to depopulate the United States, and for that purpose, has waged chemical, biological, and radioactive warfare upon the people, and encouraged and funded abortions and acts of genocide upon large populations of the people;

All the branches of the federal government have obstructed the Administration of Justice, by subjugating the federal courts to the department of Treasury and the Executive Branch, and by refusing Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary Powers and the independent investigation of crimes committed by agencies and officials of the federal government, insulating them from their crimes through executive pardon, legislated and judicially created immunity from criminal and civil prosecution;

The Federal Judiciary have been selected on the will and whim of the executive branch and a Congress inattentive to anything but their own special interests and the will and money of lobbying groups, and the judiciary is dependent upon them for the Tenure of their Offices, and the Amount and payment of their Salaries;

The federal government has erected a Multitude of new Offices, and sent hither Swarms of Officers to harass our People, and eat out their Substance;

The federal government has kept among us, in Times of Peace, Standing Armies, without the consent of our Legislatures, or through the seduction or coercion of the state legislatures through the mechanism of "federal tax monies" offered in exchange for the cooperation of the state legislatures in handing over the sovereignty of each state;

The Military has been rendered independent of, and superior to the Civil Power, through the enactment of laws which wholly abridge the Constitution of the United States and which seek to avoid the effect of the Posse Comitatus Act through surreptitious and covert methods;

The President, officers of the executive branch, and Congress have combined with others to subject us to a Jurisdiction foreign to our Constitution, and unacknowledged by our Laws; giving Assent to their acts of pretended Legislation;

For quartering large Bodies of Armed Troops, foreign and federal, among us;

For protecting agents of the federal government and military, from any trial or by a mock Trial, from Punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States;

For regulating and strangulating our Trade with all Parts of the World;

For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent; for failing to publicly acknowledge, more than 60 years ago, that the federal government was in fact, bankrupt, but instead, concealing these facts from the people and entering into a fraudulent agreement to finance the bankruptcy, by creating and perpetuating a fraudulent monetary system, to the enrichment of private bankers, insurance companies, and their stockholders, called the "federal reserve system", whereby paper notes are created to "loan" to the federal government at interest rates fixed by these private bankers, and where only a portion of the interest and none of the principal on these loans is paid each year; a system whereby the payments are extorted from the people through a fraudulent, coercive, unjust and unlawful federal tax scheme foisted upon the people without their knowledge or consent and through a labyrinth of licensing agencies and required licenses for all manner of endeavors, which are themselves nothing more than taxes by another name; all enforced by unbridled terrorist tactics and fear produced by the brute force of an unrestrained government that destroys the lives and property of those who do not submit.

For depriving us, in many Cases, of the Benefits of Trial by Jury;

For proposing and enacting legislation to federally criminalize, indeed to suffer the death penalty in many cases or at the least the forfeiture of property, for the free exercise of the unalienable rights of free speech and free press, freedom of worship, freedom of assembly, or the right to keep and bear arms;

For enacting legislation to seize the property of the people under a myriad of pretenses, and to imprison persons on the testimony of unknown, unidentified, and often paid, informants, who become informants to secure for themselves a more favorable position in a prosecution brought against them, and all within the states where the federal government has no legal powers of law enforcement;

For abolishing the free System of English Laws in the states, and establishing therein an arbitrary Government, and enlarging its Boundaries, so as to render it at once an Example and fit Instrument for introducing the same absolute Rule into these states;

For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments;

For usurping the power of our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with Power to legislate for us in all Cases whatsoever;

The federal government has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of its Protection and waging War against us;

The federal government has plundered our Seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the Lives of our People;

The federal government, at this Time, is transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to complete the works of Death, Desolation, and Tyranny, already begun, often under the color of the law of the United Nations, and with circumstances of Cruelty and Perfidy, scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous Ages, and totally unworthy of a civilized Nation;

The government has constrained our fellow Citizens taken Captive on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the Executioners of their Friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands;

The federal government has excited domestic Insurrections amongst us;

In every stage of these Oppressions we have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble Terms: Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated Injury. A President, whose Character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the Ruler of a free People.

We, therefore, the sovereign citizens of the several states of the united states, which now form the United States of America, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the World for the Rectitude of our Intentions, do, in our own names and right and by the authority of God Almighty, solemnly Publish and Declare, that each of the sovereign citizens undersigned are, and of Right ought to be, Free and Independent Sovereign Citizens; that they are absolved from all Allegiance to the federal government of the United States of America, and that all political Connection between them and the federal government of the United States of America, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent Sovereign Citizens, each has the full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which an Independent Sovereign may of right do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm Reliance on the Protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor.

The Powerful 8.3 Bolivia Earthquake

Editor's note: For some time we have been wanting to alert our readers interested in Earth Changes—particularly earthquake activity—to this superb news bulletin called Seismo-Watch. Well, this week we finally could make available the needed six pages. The Seismo-Watch we are reproducing here includes events surrounding the powerful 8.3 Bolivia quake. It is likely we will later look back on these particular seismic events as the point where the seismic "roller coaster" started the turn roaring down the big hill. Note the Seismo-Watch ordering information on the last page (our Page 52); and please let them know CONTACT sent you!

WORLD EVENTS, May 26 - June 8, 1994

The total number of new seismic events reported by the National Earthquake Information Center (NEIC) decreased significantly from the preceding week:

Preliminary Results	3-5	5-6	6+	Total
This week	39	18	6	63
Previous week	60	27	4	91

▼ A great earthquake measuring Mw 8.3 occurred at 9:33 pm, June 8, about 200 miles north-northeast of La Paz, Bolivia. The powerful tremor, centered 657 km (410 mi) below the Rio Beni Valley near the La Paz and Beni Province border, rocked buildings throughout Bolivia and was felt in Peru, Argentina, Brazil and parts of North America and the Caribbean.

Early reports indicate only minor damage occurred from the quake - probably due to the exceedingly large focal depth. Buildings shook quite strongly as far away as La Paz, sending residents running from buildings and cracking masonry. Details will be slow to emerge from the epicentral area as this is a very remote region of northern Bolivia.

Quick analysis by Harvard University indicated the powerful shock occurred on a nearly vertical east-west trending plane with the north side of the block moving down (normal fault). The duration of the peak energy release was exceptionally large, lasting over 34 sec. (For comparison, the Northridge duration was only about 8 seconds.) This was clearly the largest deep-focal earthquake ever recorded. The previous record was set on March 9 of this year in Fiji Islands with a 7.6 at 570 km.

Interestingly, a large area of North America was also shaken by the quake. Reports came in from Toronto, Canada; Omaha, Nebraska; and Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Reports were also received from Iowa, West Virginia and Baja California. North American reports included descriptions of a rolling motion with buildings swaying in broad motions, (Continued on Page 5)

Northern California Week of May 26 - June 1, 1994

The total number of seismic events in northern California registering 1.0 or greater increased significantly from the preceding week:

	1-2	2-3	3-4	4+	Total
This week	101	29	4	0	134
Previous week	93	24	4	0	121

▼ The majority of last week's increase was due to the vigorous activity in The Geysers geothermal area. Of the 52 quakes recorded, 10 registered 2.0 or stronger, including one as large as 3.2.

▼ A pair of 3.0s triggered off the North Coast. The first measured 3.2 and occurred Thursday about six miles west of Petrolia. It was preceded by two 2.4s earlier that morning. The following morning, quakes measuring 3.1 and 2.6 triggered at nearly the same time about a 110 miles off the coast, yet about 30 mi. apart.

▼ A 2.6 quake occurred at a depth of 26 km below the Van Duzen River Valley near Grizzly Creek Redwood State Park and a 2.1 event triggered along the creeping segment of the Maacama fault in the south Laytonville Valley.

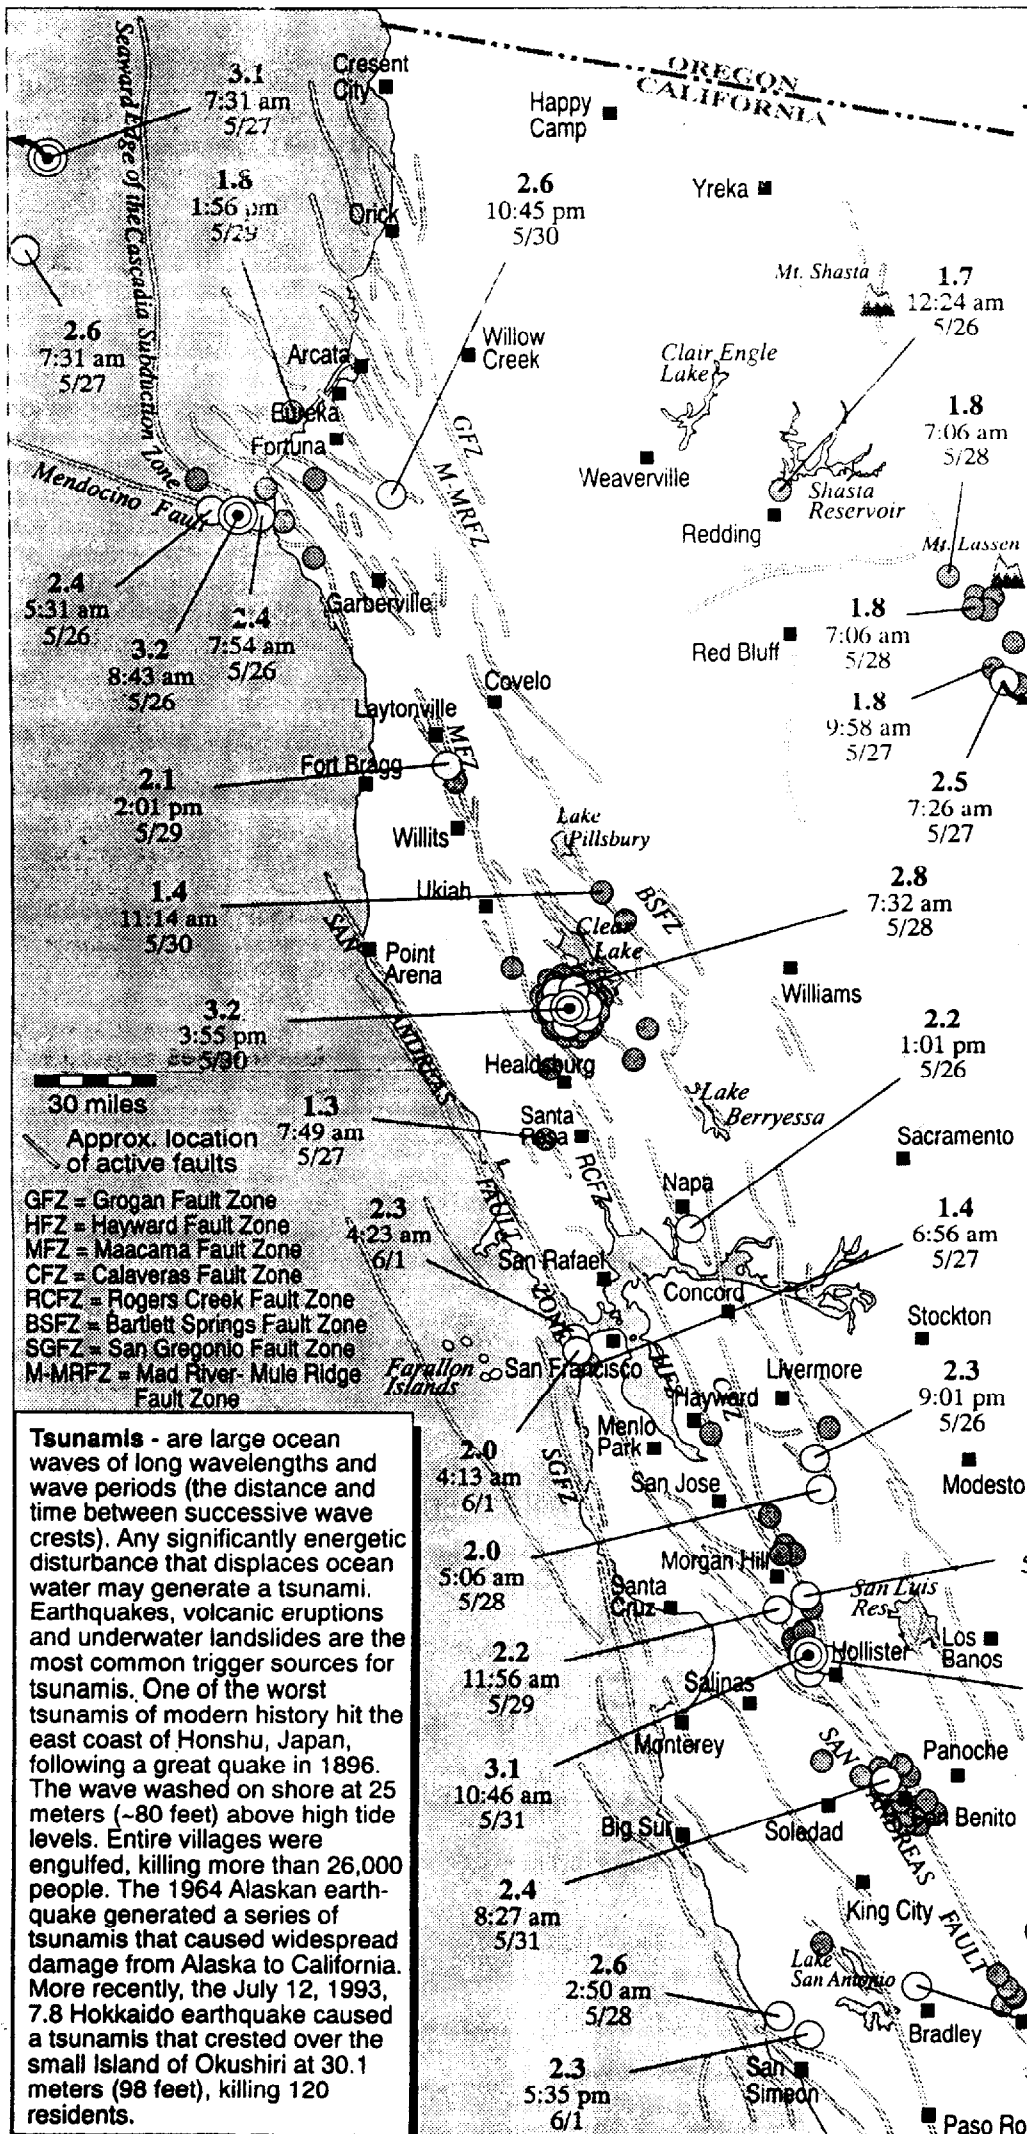

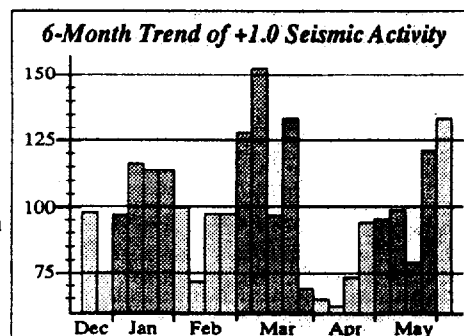

▼ Two quakes were measured on the Peninsula segment of the San Andreas fault about 3 miles west of Golden Gate Park. They were recorded 3 minutes apart on Wednesday morning. This is about the northern termination of the seismically active portion of the northern San Andreas fault. The Point Reyes-Point Arena segment has essentially been locked since the 1906 quake.

▼ Two quakes in the 2.0 range occurred about 7 miles south of Livermore on the Greenville fault. Quakes measuring 5.4 and 5.2 caused minor surface ruptures along this fault in 1980.

▼ A quake measuring 3.1 occurred at 10:46 pm Tuesday evening on the San Juan Bautista segment of the San Andreas fault. The quake was centered about 8 km below the surface. It was followed quickly by a pair of 2.1s.

▼ Seismicity continued along the Pinnacles segment of the San Andreas and the southern Calaveras faults. Although the intensity was much reduced from last week, several microseisms in the 1-2 range were recorded.

▼ A quake measuring 2.3 was recorded near San Ardo and a pair of 2.0s were centered north of San Simeon near the Hearst Castle.

Tsunamis - are large ocean waves of long wavelengths and wave periods (the distance and time between successive wave crests). Any significantly energetic disturbance that displaces ocean water may generate a tsunami. Earthquakes, volcanic eruptions and underwater landslides are the most common trigger sources for tsunamis. One of the worst tsunamis of modern history hit the east coast of Honshu, Japan, following a great quake in 1896. The wave washed on shore at 25 meters (~80 feet) above high tide levels. Entire villages were engulfed, killing more than 26,000 people. The 1964 Alaskan earthquake generated a series of tsunamis that caused widespread damage from Alaska to California. More recently, the July 12, 1993, 7.8 Hokkaido earthquake caused a tsunamis that crested over the small Island of Okushiri at 30.1 meters (98 feet), killing 120 residents.

Southern California Week of May 26 - June 1, 1994

The total number of seismic events in the Southern California region registering 2.0 or greater decreased slightly from the preceding week:

	1-2	2-3	3+	Total
This week	333	53	8	394
Previous week	327	73	3	403

▼ Activity in the Northridge aftershock zone decreased to 29 events. A series of widely felt events in the western Santa Susana Mountains began with two tremors measuring 3.2 and 2.9 just before 8 am Saturday morning. A little more than 2 hours later, two more tremors in the 3.0 range triggered in the same location, the latter measuring 3.7. A Wednesday evening quake measuring 3.7 occurred on the western side of the aftershock zone in the Mission Hills area. This quake was accompanied by a handful of 2.0s. ▼ A quake measuring 3.3 was felt in the San Bernardino area. It was centered 18 km under Colton, somewhat deeper than usual for activity in this area. ▼ A 3.3 event was measured north the Palomar Observatory between Aguanga and Oak Grove, in Dameron Valley.

It was centered in the vicinity of the Agua-Caliente fault - a lengthy structure, extending from Aguanga to the Anza-Borrado Desert Wilderness Area. The level of activity of this fault is not well understood.

▼ A quake measuring 3.3 triggered along the Coyote Creek fault segment of the San Jacinto fault zone near Ocotillo Wells. In 1968, the Coyote Creek fault ruptured during a powerful 6.4 earthquake, causing substantial damage in Ocotillo Wells.

▼ A 3.5 quake was recorded east of Haiwee Reservoir in the Coso geothermal area, and a 2.0 was centered south of Ridgecrest.

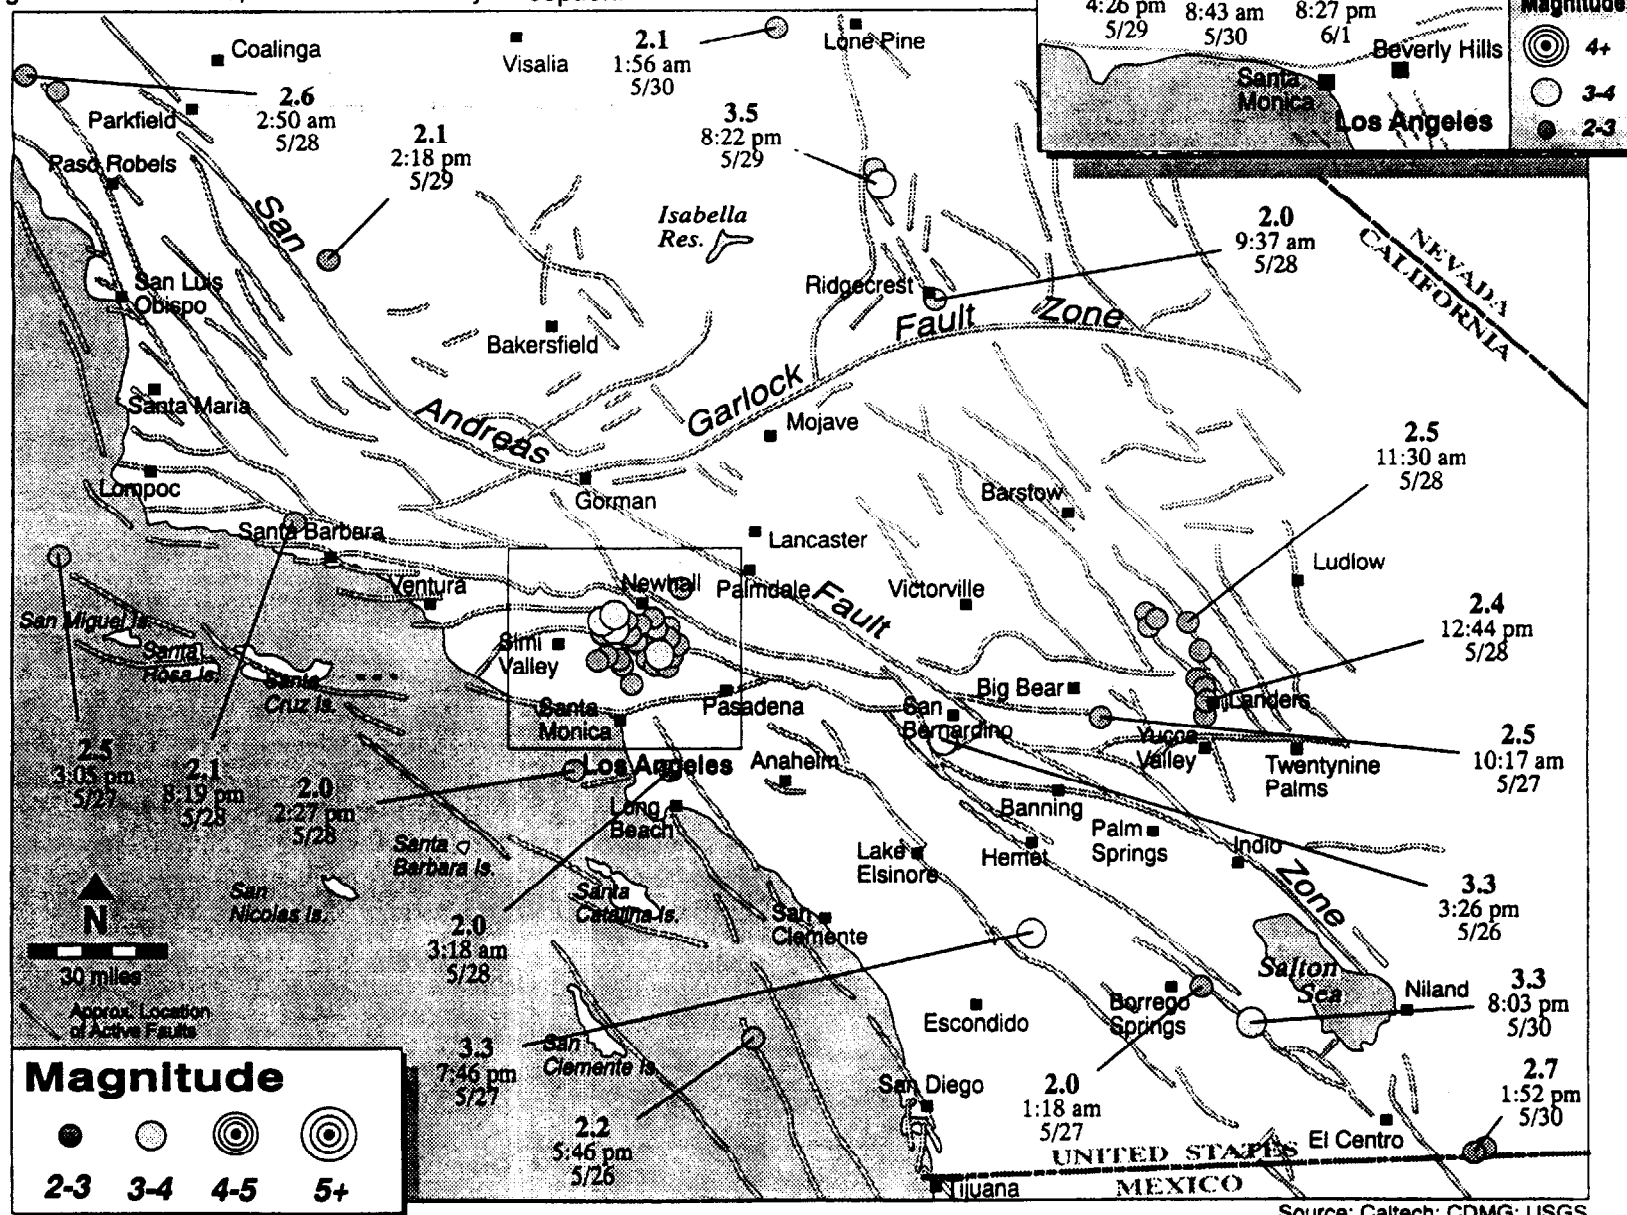

▼ Activity along the Landers Trend reduced to 9 events. The largest quake measured 2.5 and occurred in the Bessemer Mine area.

▼ A 2.0 quake occurred in the downtown Los Angeles area near Hawthorne, a 2.0 event triggered in Santa Monica Bay, and a 2.1 was recorded in the Santa Ynez Valley.

▼ Two quakes triggered off shore: a 2.2 27 miles southwest of Oceanside and 2.5 southwest of Point Conception.

TERMS: Transform Faults - are large strike-slip faults or fracture zones that off-set or terminate some other major tectonic structure, such as subduction zones or spreading ridges. Transform faults have two main characteristics: (1) they form the boundary structure between two tectonic plates along the major off-set structure segment; (2) they extend away from the major off-set structure into the interiors of tectonic plate. Transform Faults are the focus of strong earthquake activity. Notable transform faults include: the Mendocino fault, California, (Pacific and Gorda plates); the Galapagos fracture zone (Cocos and Nazca plates) Owens fracture zone, Arabian Sea-Pakistan (Australian and African plates);

Intermountain Seismic Belt

May 26 - June 1, 1994

Seismic activity registering 1.0 or stronger for the Intermountain Seismic Belt decreased significantly from the previous week:

	1-2	2-3	3-4	4+	Total
This week	39	24	1	0	64*
Previous week	70	30	3	0	103*

(* A partial listing of events as University of Utah Seismograph Stations was unable to process the entire week's data.)

▼ The largest earthquake measured 3.3 and occurred in the coal mining district of central Utah. The quake, which triggered at 6:48 pm, May 31, was centered northwest of Fairview, in the Skyline 1 & 3 and Beeline Mine areas. Total coal mining related seismicity increased from the preceding week, recording 17 events with 11 registering greater than 2.0.

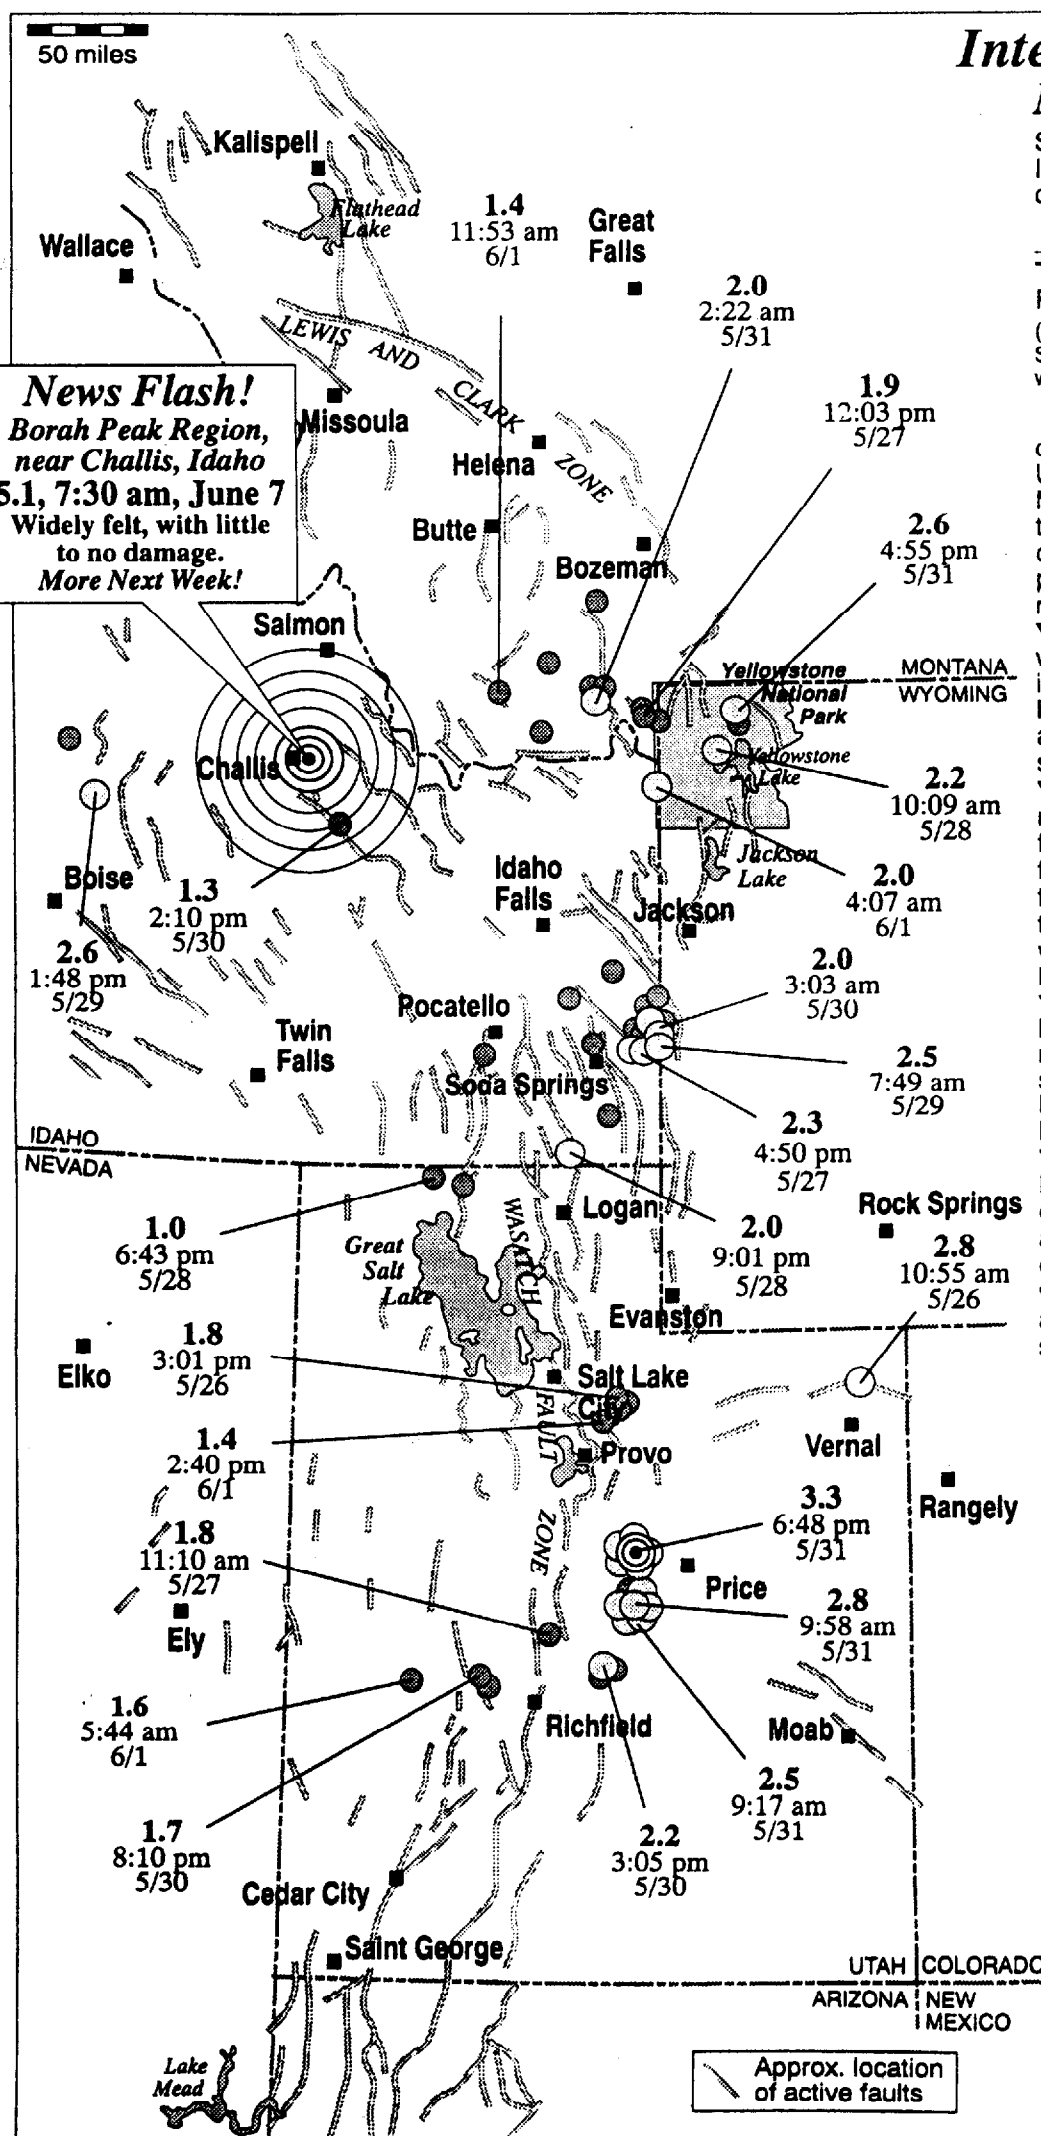

▼ Principal data missing from the UUSS network was the remote stations Draney Peak aftershock information. INEL data from the Snake River Plains network recorded nine events in the aftershock zone. Four quakes registered 2.0 or stronger, with the largest event measuring 2.5.

▼ The largest quake in Yellowstone National Park measured 2.6 and occurred Tuesday May 31 a few miles north of Norris Junction. It was followed about an hour and a half later by a 1.6 tremor. A tremor measuring 2.2 was centered in the northwest corner of the Park and a 2.0 event was recorded a couple miles northwest of Madison Junction.

▼ The largest of three quakes in the Madison River canyon near the Wolf Creek Hot Springs measured 2.0. A couple small tremors occurred south of Virginia City, Montana, in the Greenhorn Range and a 1.4 quake triggered north of Lima Reservoir.

▼ A 2.8 quake was recorded in the Uinta Mountains of eastern Utah. The quake was centered north of Vernal near the Ashley Creek area. Four tremors in the 1.0-2.0 range occurred east of Salt Lake City near Colton, minor activity was recorded in the Cove Fort geothermal area, and a 2.0 quake was centered near Bear Lake in southern Idaho.

Alaska May 26 - June 1, 1994

The total number of seismic events for Alaska increased slightly from the preceding week:

	2-3	3-4	4+	Total
This week	41	4	1	46
Previous week	33	4	2	39

▼ The largest quake measured 4.6 and occurred along the western portion of the Aleutian Islands between the Rat and Near Islands. The mid morning tremor was centered about 33 km below the surface near the small volcanic island of Buildir. A 3.0 occurred north of the Seamount Province in the Gulf.

▼ Activity in the central Cook Inlet region continued to be elevated. Most of the 13 tremors triggered between depths of 70-90 km, while some of the more westerly events, were recorded at depths greater than 100 km. The largest event measured 3.7 and occurred between the Iniskin Peninsula and Anchor Point at a depth of 74 km.

▼ Quakes on the Kenai Peninsula included: a 3.4 northeast of Sterling, a 2.9 east of Seldovia, and a 2.3 west of the West Arm of Nuka Bay.

▼ A tremor measuring 3.0 was recorded along the Susitna River about 17 miles south of Talkeetna. Two minor events triggered along the southwestern slope of the Alaskan Range north of Talkeetna.

▼ Activity was much reduced along the northern slope of the Alaskan Range near Mount McKinley. The largest events were a pair of 2.9s centered about 15 mile west of Kantishna. Both quakes triggered between 9-12 km below the surface, rather shallow for activity in this area.

▼ Seismicity was relatively quiet for northern Alaska. A 2.5 tremor along the Tanana River west of Fairbanks was the only quake recorded.

plants shifting on shelves and hanging objects swinging noticeably. Seismologist at NEIC believe was the first time a quake in the Southern Hemisphere was felt in North America.

▼ A powerful quake measuring 7.5 occurred at 1:17 am early Friday morning about 130 miles south of the southeastern tip of Jawa, Indonesia. The quake was widely felt throughout the region but caused only minor damage. Most of the damage came when an 11 meter (37 foot) high tsunamis surged on to the southern portion of the Jawa coast, killing more than 218 people, destroying at least 630 homes and 380 fishing boats. Hardest hit were towns between the end of the southeastern peninsula and Lumajong, including Pancur where 172 people were killed and 47 remain missing. West of Lumajong, the damage thins out considerably. Reports indicated at least 12 tidal waves surged on shore, sweeping everything in its path. This was Indonesia's worst tsunamis since over 2,000 were killed in the Flores Islands following a strong earthquake and tidal wave in 1992.

▼ A strong earthquake measuring 6.8 rocked northern Colombia on June 6, causing a massive landslide. The quake, which struck shortly before 4 pm, was located in the Cauca Valley about 185 miles southwest of Bogota. Ten houses collapsed in Cauca and people rushed into the streets in both Bogota and Cali.

The landslide occurred in the Paez River Valley and tore through the small village of Toez and several smaller encampments along the river. At least 253 people are dead, 116 injured and 71 still missing. The torrent of mud and rocks came roaring down Paez Valley sweeping away everything in its path.

Earlier in the week, a 6.2 quake shook north-central Bolivia and was felt as far away as Caracas, Venezuela. Minor damage was reported.

▼ Strong activity continued in the Taiwan region with a 6.3 on June 5. The quake caused landslides, minor cracks in buildings and power outages.

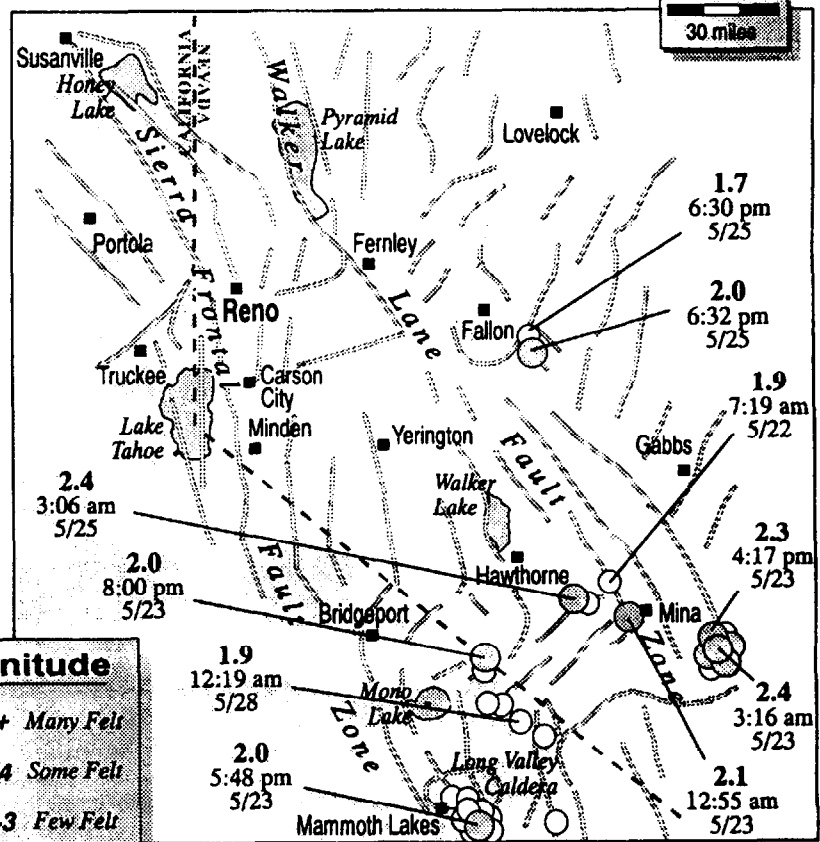

Oregon

Klamath Falls activity decreased slightly from last week with 14 earthquakes registering 1.0 or stronger. The largest quake measured 2.1 and occurred north of the aftershock zone near Chiloquin.

Western Washington May 26 - June 1, 1994

The total number of seismic events for the Pacific Northwest decreased significantly from the preceding week:

	1-2	2-3	3+	Total
This week	7	0	0	7
Previous week	15	2	0	17

▼ This was the least activity recorded in a week since late February.

▼ Two quakes were recorded in the Dabob Bay area. The largest event measured 1.9 and was centered about 15 km below the surface and within upper plate continental rocks. The other event measured 1.3 and triggered 50 km deep, well within the subducting Juan de Fuca plate. Both the powerful 1949 (7.1) and the 1965 (6.5) Puget Sound earthquakes triggered in the Juan de Fuca plate.

▼ A 1.2 quake was centered 44 km below Bremerton and a pair of tremors measuring 1.4 and 1.1 were recorded along the Snohomish River east of Monroe, near Soltan.

▼ A weak 1.1 quake was recorded on the southern flank of Mt. Rainier and a 1.0 triggered north of Lake Merwin on the Lower Cowlitz River.

Northern Nevada May 22-28 1994

The total number of seismic events for northern Nevada and eastern California decreased slightly from the preceding week:

▼ For the second straight week, significant activity was recorded in the Monte Cristo Range. Eight events, including 6 in the 2.0 range, were measured. The largest tremor registered 2.4. Depths of the activity were 6-7 km, with a couple between 12-17 km.

▼ Mammoth Lakes activity decreased to 9 events. The largest quake measured 2.0 and triggered in the Red Slate Mountain area - site of an August 10, 1993, 4.3 earthquake.

▼ A 2.4 event occurred in the Garfield Hills, a 2.1 triggered west of Mina, and a 2.0 was measured northeast of Mono Lake near Mt. Hicks.

▼ Quakes measuring 2.0 and 1.7 triggered within 2 minutes of each other 15 miles southeast of Fallon, near Salt Wells - site of the July 6 and August 23, 1954, 6.4 and 6.8 earthquakes.

SPELT

Spelt is the most ancient and very best grain. Spelta is a grain of its own unique being. It is the best fiber resource, and has large amounts of B-17 (anti-carcinoma). It is the grain GOD gave to the planet as "manna" when humans were placed upon it.

Spelt was brought from the Middle East more than 9,000 years ago; it is a well tested product. It has since spread over the European Continent. Very recently, Spelt has enjoyed renewed popularity in Europe as a result of translations of mystical writings of the 12th century healer, St. Hildegard of Bingen, who praised Spelt as the grain best tolerated by the body. The Old Testament mentions Spelt in Exodus 9:31, 32 and Ezekiel 4:9.

Today it is used in the West in much the same way as wheat; one main distinction is that the people with allergies to wheat frequently do not react to Spelt. Although Spelt contains gluten, those with gluten sensitivity, even celiacs, can usually tolerate it. In addition, Spelt is appreciated as much for its hearty nut-like flavor as for its healing qualities.

The grain berry grows an exceptionally thick husk that protects it from pollutants and insects. It is stored with its husk intact, so it remains fresher. Thus, unlike other grains, it is not normally treated with pesticides or other chemicals. The strong, protective husk may also be a metaphorical signature of this grain's capacity to strengthen immunity. Spelt contains special carbohydrates (Mucopolysaccharides) which are an important factor in blood clotting and stimulating the body's immune system.

Spelt is richly endowed with nutrients. In general, it is higher in protein, fat and fiber than most varieties of wheat. An important feature is its highly water-soluble fiber, which dissolves easily and allows for efficient nutrient assimilation by the body. Spelt also contains essential amino acids, which combine with the protein in Spelt constitute a source for human plasma. To use Spelt in baked goods, cereals and other dishes calling for wheat or other grains, substitute it one for one. You will likely always have to add gluten (from wheat) to give satisfactory yeast products.

At a major clinic in Konstanz, Germany, Spelt has been used as an adjunct in the treatment of many disorders, especially chronic digestive problems of all kinds, chronic infections (herpes, AIDS), nerve and bone disorders (Parkinson's disease, Alzheimer's disease, arthritis), cancer and antibiotic side effects.

GAIANDRIANA

Gaiandriana is a non-alcoholic health tonic which provides basic "foods" to help cells, weakened by the stresses of modern life, to return to a state of health.

The better our cells function, the greater is the stamina returned to our internal defense systems, and the better we can counter the constant onslaught of biological and viral invaders. The end result is a feeling of well-being by, of course, being well.

The Gaiandriana (commonly referred to as "chondriana" in the Biological literature) are capable of intelligent, organized attack against cellular invaders like viruses. Think of it as a "pac-man" operation of sorts. However, beyond that, the Gaiandriana are capable of stimulating cellular structural repairs due to damage caused by, for instance, free radicals and cumulative levels of so-called "background" radiation in our modern environment. Healthy DNA and RNA within the nuclei of our cells then lead to properly formed and concentrated enzymes, upon which healthy cellular function depends.

Gaiandriana liquid is made entirely from wholesome natural ingredients.

Complementary to the Gaiandriana product, AquaGaia is also a non-alcoholic health tonic which provides basic "foods" to help cells, weakened by the stresses of modern life, to return to a state of healthy function.

AquaGaia contains mitochondria. These are the major biochemical energy "processors" within cellular metabolism. First, enzymes begin the breakdown process of organic nutrients (like fats, carbohydrates and proteins) to intermediate substances such as amino and pyruvic acids. Then, in the next "bucket brigade" step, these various acid molecules are processed within the mitochondria to release chemical energy recognized as adenosine triphosphate (ATP).

About 95% of the energy needed to "run the machinery" that keeps each cell going and healthy is produced in the mitochondria. Unfortunately, the mitochondria are particularly damaged by free radicals and cumulative levels of so-called "background" radiation in our modern environment. These compromised mitochondria, like half-dead batteries, then lead to impaired cellular functioning and health. Thus is the importance of AquaGaia, with its assimilable supply of healthy mitochondria — like "fresh batteries" for the body's cells.

The better our cells function, the greater is the stamina returned to our internal defense systems, and the better we can counter the constant onslaught of biological and viral invaders.

GAIANDRIANA & AQUAGAIA

To help in understanding the workings of these organic "pac-men" you must realize that there is a protein covering "cap" on viruses. The protein cap is centered on a charged zinc atom and is the part of the virus that recognizes and binds to DNA—in turn allowing the virus to reproduce.

AquaGaia, in conjunction with the Gaiandriana, knock out the zinc atom (a simple "charge" change), which renders the protein ineffective. This is a breakdown of "parts" of the Gaiandriana male-female DNA structure which releases many working variants but frees the Gaiandriettes or "killers" to take out that zinc atom and pass right into the affected cell. Without the "cap", the virus cannot reproduce and infect more cells—further, the damaged virus feeds the Gaiandriana unified cells and the circulating mitochondria.

Healthy cells are not affected because they lack the zinc-centered protein cap on the virus.

These "Gaia" compounds have an effect on cancer cells because they stop an enzyme on the cancer cells from producing a "messenger" molecule that blocks a second enzyme from attacking the cancer cell's DNA. The compounds (Gaia) have been seen to actually take out leukemia, breast, brain and colon cancer cells. We have no claim to anything other than stating that people utilizing these simple and natural substances do show improved well-being and do report feeling generally and, often remarkably, improved as to state of health, thought processes and stamina.

The obvious conclusion is that there might well be good reports of better health and faster recovery, following infection by other viruses, than those mentioned above. All viruses known react in generally the same manner.

It is known that many diseases are due to retroviral DNA and these are the most affected viruses by the Gaia-chondrianas (living crystal forms). We, again, make no medical claims—we are simply reporting in an effort to explain WHAT takes place within the cellular structures of living organisms.

NOTE

If any product you receive has an unpleasant odor — it is from the finishing culture process. Leave the bottle open to air and it will quickly dissipate. Then, depending on taste and preference—refrigerate after opening and reclosing.

IMPORTANT: Do not mix the two, Gaiandriana and AquaGaia, together for storage as the AquaGaia (mitochondria) are aggressive and begin to "eat" the Gaiandriana for fuel. Once ingested, they go about their appointed tasks, but in bottle prisons they are not particularly compatible once the available fuel supply is exhausted. Juices are excellent to take with the AquaGaia because the mitochondria must have the fuel derived from same, the most effective juice being from the tropical "Guava" fruit. Any juice is fine, however, and is most pleasant to intake. Diabetics should utilize whatever juices are available on their food plan to keep within the safe guidelines for calories and other requirements.

The most innocuous and easy intake available is simply a few drops under the tongue, both products taken at the same time or at different times of the day. Once the "initial" program is completed, and the maintenance level of intake is being followed, certainly the drops under the tongue are the least annoying to any daily regimen.

GaiaLyte

GaiaLyte is brought forth from Kargasok Tea. This IS the basic component of MO-GU tea as we have used the tea by that name. The GaiaLyte is a fully integrated electrolytic liquid. The "drink" is a "concentrate" (3 to 1 minimum—as much to one as you like maximum). It contains EVERYTHING supplemental to Gaiandriana—INCLUDING A GROWING-PROGRAMMING BASE OF GAIANDRIANA AND BASIC DRIANAS. It also contains enough Carbragaia to equal a full schedule of what is being used in Mexico—(shark-fin cartilage). If you are using MO-GU—keep on—it can only enhance your full-rounded intake—but it WILL NOT be the same. However, the "new" drink will supply all you need without it. This is NOT A MEDICAL PROGRAM OF ANY KIND. We are not physicians as in Medical Doctor; we are not anything—except hopefully, sharers of information.

The GaiaLyte has a full spectrum of vitamins, minerals, Ginkgo, Echinacea, Chlorella, Oxygenators, Aloe Vera—everything necessary to "program" the cells in the tea membrane AND the Gaiandriana included. This does not replace the Gaiandriana used otherwise. This is a PERFECT medium to enhance the ability of the Gaiandriana you already take to enhance itself—reinforcement fuel, if you will.

You can dilute the concentrate with water AND/or anything you like. May we recommend apple juice and/or Cranberry. The apple juice is to flush out the gallbladder and the cranberry juice flushes out the bladder (urine). You may use as much as you like of either OR both and we would hope you would do so on a continuing basis because of the value of these two products and their focus of use.

We believe you will find it a very tasty beverage but we ask that no matter how "good", just keep to the "program" amounts or you may find yourself a bit "woozy" immediately after intake. This is due more to the Aloe Vera present than the tea itself—but as you know, even the MO-GU tea can make you quite light-headed. There is no alcohol in the beverage although you may very well think so as the body rushes to uptake the fuel supply. This is not a medical-chemical concoction so you could take the entire bottle without damage or hazard—but you might well not feel so great for a bit afterward and it is totally UNNECESSARY for any expected positive response.

This is not like taking an antibiotic with flu or sore-throat. This is a well-body systemic enhancement. It sometimes, as with other persons' elixir—takes weeks or months to feel any difference. ONCE balanced, however, you will note that at onset of infection, cold, etc., if you take around six ounces of Gaiandriana and double up on the GaiaLyte—you will probably note positive response in about an hour. Remember—you are activating the enhanced immune system and it takes a while to accomplish this task.

ALOE JUICE (Whole Leaf, Cold Pressed Aloe Vera Concentrate)

Aloe Vera has a long and impressive history that spans hundreds of centuries, countries and cultures, and appears in countless "folk remedies" as a plant revered for its healing qualities.

Aloe Juice is a whole-leaf concentrate prepared from the freshly harvested leaves of the Barbadensis Miller Aloe Vera plant. Aloe Juice guarantees a minimum of 10,000 mg. of mucopolysaccharides per liter.

The nutrients reported in Aloe Vera include mucopolysaccharides and polysaccharides (glucomannans), glycoproteins, glucose, mannose, galactose, xylose, arabinose, tannins, steroids, organic acids, antibiotic principles, glucuronic acids, enzymes (oxidase, catalase and amylase), trace sugars, calcium oxalate, a protein containing 18 amino acids, "wound healing" hormones, biogenic stimulators, saponins, vitamins B1, B2, niacin, B6, choline, folic acid, chloride, sulfate, iron, calcium, copper, sodium, potassium, silicon, manganese, plus many other metabolism-assisting components.

CHLORELLA

Chlorella is a nutritionally balanced whole food and contributes to the health and growth of human cells like no single vitamin or mineral possibly can.

Chlorella is extremely high in protein (60%) and contains more than 20 vitamins and minerals, 19 of the 22 essential and non-essential amino acids, enzymes and chlorella growth factor. It is one of the richest sources of RNA and DNA known and has twenty times as much chlorophyll as alfalfa, 10 times more than other edible algae including spirulina, and 10 times more than barley grass.

Chlorella is a natural vitality enhancer. The vitamins found in chlorella cells include: vitamin C, provitamin A, B-carotene, chlorophyll-A, chlorophyll-B, thiamine (B1), riboflavin (B2), pyridoxine (B6), niacin (B3), pantothenic acid, folic acid, vitamin B-12, biotin, choline, vitamin K, PABA, lipoic acid, inositol and para-aminobenzoic acid. The minerals include: phosphorus, potassium, iodine, magnesium, sulphur, iron, calcium, manganese, copper, zinc and cobalt.

The amino acids include: lysine, histidine, argi-nine, aspartic acid, threonine, serine, glutamic acid, proline, glycine, alanine, cystine, valine, methionine, isoleucine, leucine, tyrosine, phenylalanine, ornithine, tryptophan.

The suggested daily consumption is 3 grams per day.

ECHINACEA GOLD PLUS (with American Ginseng)

In recent years few medicinal plants have garnered as much attention as Echinacea (Echinacea Purpurea and Echinacea Angustifolia).

Echinacea is a non-specific stimulant to the immune system. Claims for Echinacea include: stimulation of leukocytes, mild antibiotic activity, anti-inflammatory activity, stimulation of the adrenal cortex, stimulation of the properdin-complement system, interferon-like activity, stimulation of general cellular immunity, and antiviral activity. Internal preparations are said to assist in alleviating cold and flu symptoms, respiratory infections, and arthritis, to name a few.

Goldenseal (Hydrastis Canadensis) is among the most popular herbs in the American health food market. Uses are numerous, including but not limited to: antiseptic, hemostatic, diuretic, laxative, and tonic/anti-inflammatory for the mucous membranes, hemorrhoids, nasal congestion, mouth and gum sores and eye afflictions.

Few medicinal plants in the world possess Ginseng's near-legendary status. Dating back thousands of years, its history of use in the Orient records therapeutic properties so wide ranging that it was first dismissed by Western doctors as a "panacea". When fatigued, Ginseng reportedly restores both physical and mental functions to peak efficiency and, with regular use, improves resistance to disease and stress. American Ginseng's genus name is Panax Quinquefolius.

Over 40,000 species of mushrooms exist, many of which are used as medicines. Of particular note are such remedies as penicillin- and ergot-based extracts used in migraine treatment, to name a few. Extensive research has been done with one mushroom in particular, namely, Reishi. This mushroom is now considered a tried and true immune system fortifier.

TELEPHONE HOTLINE 805-822-0202

This is a service for our dedicated readers. Today's Watch telephone hotline carries the latest news and comments from Commander Hatonn's most recent writings. This is our way of keeping you informed about fast-breaking news and events.

The message machine will answer after 2 rings if there are any new messages for that day, and after 4 rings if not. Thus daily callers can hang up after 2 rings and save toll charges if no new message has been recorded. The message update(s), if any, occur by 6 PM Pacific Time.
