Greatest Story Never Told Those Magnificent Gods In Their Flying Machines

4/10/96 #1 HATONN

I would especially like to honor a writer this morning by the name of Lana Cantrell who was born in Salzburg, Austria. Her accomplishments can't even begin to be listed here but there is one volume of work which is without peer, THE GREATEST STORY NEVER TOLD; The Scientific Inquiry into the Evidence of the Fall of Man from a Higher Civilization in Antiquity. I don't know how you get this book but it appears to be a publication of Biohistorical Press. The only address offered is 8215 Belden Blvd, Cottage Grove, MN 55016 and bears a year of 1988. ISBN #9-620749-0-X. The book itself is well over 500 pages and I have no intention of covering it. I would like to point it out to you because this author has pulled together some very accurate and wondrous information FOR YOU. Chapter One is entitled: "Those Magnificent Gods in Their Flying Machines". Now readers, I don't even have the first two pages of that chapter but I am going to offer the rest of the chapter for reference for it bears confirmation of exactly what I have told you about your "flying brothers". You need confirmation, not just more revelation from science fiction. Spielberg can give you enough fiction to satisfy the most addicted people, including monsters and satanic offspring.

GOOD FRIDAY

What might be "good" about the celebration of the murder of a Christ? Also, how is it that Passover comes immediately prior to Easter? What does it all mean? Whatever you have been told it to mean!

RON BROWN

There ARE some very important things to note, just in the U.S.A. this week, and hold it in your hearts, readers. The killing of all these men and Ron Brown in the Adriatic Sea area was an atrocity hardly matched in your political circles of death and destruction of this "New World Order" come upon you. These are indeed dark days as the Khazarians come up from their holes to take control. I am not going into what all has taken place in this one little scenario but it is NOT what you think. Ron Brown was a part of the crooked team of slave-masters ready, willing, and able to sell his soul for MONEY, and did. However, as with everything done by the Elite puppet masters—there is required a PRICE for security and it is not money—is it? Who took out Ron Brown? You will be finding out within mere days so we won't spoil that little surprise. Just know that planes in this sophisticated day and age do not go "off course" for the heck of it, and to NOT have a "box" for recording and location is absolutely unheard of in craft that, especially, would carry the most important men in your current business world. "Secretary of Commerce" SHOULD be about the most respected and highest office in your nation. So, did these men ACTUALLY perish or are they stashed somewhere to do their service another day in another way?

I find the games of evil men to be intriguing but, at the same time, boring. Why? Because they are so predictable as evil intent never changes its scripting.

UNABOMBER HEADQUARTERS

The Janet Reno Brigade HAD TO HAVE A MAD BOMBER IN CUSTODY because you approach the 19th of April which is the most evil of all days any more. There have been threats of more misery on the 19th and it is being blamed on this "Unabomber". Well, it is show-and-tell time for your Big Boy killers. It will also be made, once again, to appear to be Patriots and Zealots. No, it is the New World Order Khazarian Rulers in the sheep's covering. Get the picture of upcoming religious shenanigans tonight as Billy Graham lays out a wondrous Easter message. Just remember that Easter was the blackest of all the Ancient Ritual Holidays. And, by the way, don't buy that garbage about blood on the doorsill causing the Angel of Death to Pass-Over! That was a Satanic symbol designating allegiance to the Dark Side, not God of Light. You go forth and believe whatever you want to believe, but WERE YOU THERE? I WAS THERE!

There is a song which goes, "Were you there when they crucified my Lord? Were you there when they laid him in the tomb?" Well, I replaced the word "tomb" because, silly writers, there were not recognized such things as simple graves in those days and tombs were meaningful as "resting" places, prestige, and all manners of "stuff". If you think they killed Christ, think again. "Christ" CANNOT be slain for it is a "STATE OF BEING IN SOUL EXPRESSION". Not even symbolically can "Christ" be "taken out". All celebrations of the "time" are, you will note, very PHYSICAL in presentation! Blood, the symbol of bread, methods of murder, torture of the physical body and on and on. This is NOT OF CHRISTED (PERFECT) GOD, MY FRIENDS—THESE ARE THE ENTRAPMENTS OF THE TRAPPERS OF SOUL. Did a "soul" ascend? Of course, all SOULS ascend for they are EXTRATERRESTRIAL LIGHT and they must, by the law of the universe, ascend. If they are BOUND, then they very definitely descend and that indicates a bondage to the physical plane of experience.

UNDERGROUND
SECURITY SHELTERS

ELITE MAN has built his underground survival cities against the act of his own destruction, deep under the surface of the globe. Why? To protect him from that which he has conjured to destroy his enemies—YOU OF THE LIGHT. He believes, stupidly, that somehow it will protect him from the very LIGHT pulses and rays as "GOD BRINGS HIS WRATH UPON THE EVIL EMPIRE". Poo and phooey, he is HIDING from God and it simply does not work for there is truly nowhere to run, and certainly no place to HIDE—FROM GOD. The body may be tucked away but God keeps track of the SOULS and in the end that is ALL THAT MATTERS. No, this does not mean that you stupidly stand out in the line of fire—unless of course you want to rid self of that silly body. But OUR people have a job to do and I suggest that if you want merit badges and brownie points you will keep that body as secure as possible. Keep the soul tuned to God of Light, and the rest will take care of itself and you will be exactly where you SHOULD be to meet your PURPOSE. And, you WILL need some supplies for that body so don't be foolish in your assumptions that "God will take care of me"—for YOU WILL TAKE CARE OF YOU OR FORGET IT.

SUPPLIES

No, it won't be easy to sit back on your assets and wait for either someone else to "save" you or even, perhaps, make it on your own. You have some real heavy problems coming on and one of the things showing up is in the food supply of the bovine population in England. This same grain is being imported to the U.S. and all around the world. The culprits are Archer, Daniel, Midland Corp. who control the world grain supplies. Moreover, the contamination of a rather innocuous strain of smut has been already introduced into the growing seed and fields of grain. There are only a FEW types of grain which are NOT affected. Spelta is one.

Wheat seed is by and largely now contaminated. What happens is that the grain grows and the harvest may well seem OK. But, the GROUND is poisoned and contaminated and future plantings will be poisoned as will the harvest product. This will be all but impossible to clean up and even with the rather weak strain of SMUTVIRUS it will require some seven years of cleansing to get rid of the massive hazard. This "poison" will also, obviously, slip into the water supplies. This is a manmade assault weapon and you now must realize that it will wipe out the cattle and bovine population which would be in line to be fed the damaged grain which will have no other use. Well, it isn't too good for cattle-feed either. And remember something very important, world: Everyone who is not Zionist is considered in the Talmud as CATTLE. This includes ones of Hebrew ancestry who err in calling selves Jews and don't know that about which they project. Indeed, Ron Brown was a very, very BIG SIGN OF YOUR TIMES! Whatever HE THOUGHT HE WAS, he was a symbolic "BLACK" and the intent of the Talmudic Khazarians is to destroy all "Blacks". Then they will destroy all "patriotic" "others".

They won't actually meet their overpowering match until China (Asians) rises up and smites soundly. It is time you looked at FACTS and stopped the dawdling over the instructions the enemy has written for you in your GOOD books. The enemy has rewritten the text to suit their needs and blow you away.

So, go to your churches and synagogues and do that which you will—but LOOK AT WHAT AND WHY YOU DO IT! If it is to fill your hearts with love and respect, then fine—but you can do that from your nearest place in which you stand, without new robes or baubles. Enjoy the lily, I suggest, for its pure beauty as a flower and stop burying it in the trappings of a "murder" ritual.

The fact is that in the very scenario of Easter celebration there is little attention to such as lilies. The tradition started because in the Spring in the Easter Season of the Satanic Holiday, about the only flowers around were the spring lily-plants. A legion soldier picked up a withered lily and tossed it ON THE Teacher. As he did so he laughed and said, "...and a flower for your teaching. What better remembrance than a dead lily!" This was after he smeared it in the blood of the Man in point. So, in your pictures on your cards you have the symbol alright, usually growing right up through a crown with the cross. That is a Masonic Illuminati symbol. Do you see that it doesn't matter, however, what is on the picture card—IF you send the card in grace and love, God only sees the INTENT of love and sharing from your soul-heart, not the sketching on a piece of PHYSICAL paper? What is engraved or painted on and within your soul is YOUR TRUTH.

There is a wonderful little thought-provoking "invocation" which a friend, J.S. of Mt. Shasta, shared with Dharma years ago. She keeps it right by her elbow as she types and it reflects the purpose of our intent and it is in no way able to be restricted to a given "religion" or church for it MUST become the intent and desire of ALL Men.

I thank you, John, for this gift for it has brought us "through" the heaviest of days when the heart was broken and the path too difficult to confront without balance and focus. You are beloved of us, John.

THE GREAT INVOCATION

*From the point of Light within the mind of God
Let light stream forth into the minds of men.
Let Light descend on Earth*

*From the point of Love
within the Heart of God
Let love stream forth into the hearts of men.
May CHRIST return to Earth.*

*From the centre where the
Will of God is known
Let purpose guide the little wills of men —
the purpose which the Masters know and serve.*

*From the centre which we call the race of men
Let the Plan of Love and
Light work out.
And may it seal the door
where evil dwells*

Let Light and Love and Power restore the Plan [OF GOD] on Earth.

When YOU understand this petition unto God, you shall have seen the meaning of the Christed Being by whatever name you wish to call HIM.

ANTI-SATAN—ANTI-CHRIST

IT IS NOW THE TIME WHEREIN THE MAJOR CLASHES COME FORTH BETWEEN THE ANTI-CHRIST AND THE ANTI-SATAN. CHRIST SHALL PREVAIL OVER SATAN! So you may well go forth and call yourself Jew or Christian, Islamic or Buddhist—but if you MISS this one point of all importance, you have nothing save Satan in your closet. The very most important FACT OF LIFE IN PHYSICAL FORM IS THAT YOU ARE EITHER FOR GOD OF LIGHT OR YOU ARE AGAINST HIM—THERE IS NO MIDDLE LINE. And you shall be known for the company you keep and the actions you commit for those things reveal the SOUL INTENT WITHIN.

WHERE ARE YOU? CLUES!

It is required that Satan presents a clue, a sign, a MARK! That mark is scattered around on everything you touch for all you can "touch" is PHYSICAL for the sensing body. The mark of the beast is on everything, but that is not important, for anyone who experiences in the physical arena is "marked"—but, IT IS THE MARK ON THE SOUL WHICH HAS IMPORTANCE. And, it is through the mark on your soul which shall reflect in your physical actions and presentations. The mouth will LIE; the SOUL WILL NOT!

If you come from the LIGHT and remain as a Lighted Being, YOU SHALL RETURN TO THE LIGHT. If you are a repetition of the darkness and remain unlighted, you shall remain in the DARK without the presence of the LIGHT, GOD. Yes indeed, this is the TRUE meaning of HEAVEN AND HELL. Heaven bears GOD, LIGHT. Hell bears nothing save DARKNESS with absence of LIGHT. It is all in the mind, good physical readers, just as you are told about "things" and if the mind is misdirected, so too shall be the things of the physical sensing body. Ah, but 'tis the MARK which matters and it behooves you to consider what brand your soul might be wearing. You are birthed with the KNOWING OF TRUTH; what have you done with that asset? You SHALL be judged by that one recognition. How did YOU spend Good Friday, Saturday and Easter Sunday?

Well, Ekkers are spending theirs in a full "face-off" with Satan's representative in depositions. Already there are transcripts wherein the actual words have been CHANGED. This is a real bad scene, readers.

Food For Thought

On Ron Brown Death

Editor's note: Without any way to verify same, we offer the following information in light of what events the controlled media have not been able to suppress that stand out as "untidy" about the official version of the Commerce Secretary Ron Brown "accidental" deaths. The "suicide" of the airport maintenance worker, shortly after this violent plane crash event, was only one curious issue. As Commander Hatonn said in writings on p. 2 & 9, more will be revealed soon about this matter. For now, we share the following from a usually very reliable information source.

U.S. GOVERNMENT WRONGDOING ALERT

PRIORITY URGENT

(1) Cadavers from the Ron Brown shutdown have arrived at Dover AFB Delaware. All have chemical traces of Thermite, a chemical used in bombs to blow safes and bunker doors. Also the stewardess who was alive on the ground, Shelly Kelly was helped into the rescue helicopter with minor cuts and bruises. On arrival at the hospital she had bled to death from a neat 3" incision over the femoral artery. Necropsy shows that the wounds are three hours apart. Clinton has ordered all cadavers cremated and others are trying to block the order.

(2) The plane was flying in dangerous combat theater and had on-board fuel for the landing at Dubrovnik and two extra approaches for safety reasons. The plane was still burning eight hours after impact.

(3) In the Lear jet crash in Alabama, a two-star Air Force General was on scene within 30 minutes. His job: execute any survivors. Teddy Kennedy was the target on another mysterious plane crash. Others on that plane died on impact.

(4) There were no State Dept. officials on this flight and that is extremely unusual, given its nature, What did they know?

(5) Ron Brown's law partner at Patton, Boggs and Blow was murdered in South AFRICA WITHIN ONE HOUR OF THE PLANE CRASH. Congressman Hale Boggs of Louisiana was killed in a mysterious plane crash in Alaska. The government located the wreckage but kept it secret. Boggs was refusing to sign the final version of the Warren Commission Report. TV's Cokie Roberts is Boggs' daughter.

Remember we spoke of Dharma's confrontation (right out of the blue without warning) where the opposing lawyer leaned forward and asked, "Mrs. Ekker, are you anti-Semitic?" Doris later thought of a dozen better responses than "I" offered instantly. She thought it would have been better to say, "Are you anti-Christ?" or, "Define your term," but what popped out was: "I AM SEMITIC!" Now just guess how that one got later changed in the typed transcript with every hope it would never be noticed: "...no, I am sympathetic." Oh indeed, DELIBERATE TAMPERING, and that is not a good thing. There are several equally naughty things which shall remain unpublished but will surely carry the day in dastardly deeds of intent.

Why is Dharma here writing instead of being at the deposition? Well, the naughty trickster was going to substitute HER in today rather than according to the schedule for tomorrow. He really wants ME in the worst possible way. So, we decided to write until the explosion of disappointment blows over and the shattered pieces settle a bit. I sincerely enjoy "helping out" this little misguided missile sent against me. She will drift on over after a while and I will simply see to it that they have a really good day with E.J. I sincerely believe that our own lawyer is sharpening his teeth a bit, in addition. Since this whole thing is but a battle of wits of good against evil, let's WIN, shall we? I don't think it matters much in the final solution—but let's give something to ponder in their spare time. By the way, the Green Brigade might well sharpen up selves for this lead lawyer is pondering bringing charges of "false testimony" and "false information" against, starting with George Green! You see, early on in the taking of the house, George himself offered to cover the cost of the dwelling in sale. It turns out he had stolen enough funds to do so nicely so it was safe for him to be the nice guy and offer. Oh my, it is right there in the old depositions! The opposing counsel HAS TO LOOK AT THAT AND WONDER "WHAT WENT WRONG" (the three big "Ws"!). When he realizes he is more damaged than helped it should be quite an interesting revelation.

As we walk through the tumultuous storms, please check the weather-vanes, for a lot of "funny stuff" is taking place, from the holographic "comet" suddenly appearing, to the Worldwide Crusade of good old Billy tonight, to ships which appear and disappear—yours—in your oceans. They also manipulate clouds, energy fields and laser light beams from those same locations and there are ones confirming this right from their own inner circles [see p. 2 of last week's CONTACT]. May the FORCE be with YOU for there is protection in the LIGHT.

Yes, I know, Dharma, that it doesn't look that way from where you sit but it is so. Know that the seeming "win" which you might well view, is not necessarily the "last laugh" of the victory. Do not try to outguess God's magnificent plan. The opposition is not even fighting with an intent of "justice" or "right" as they fling hardship after miserable hardship in the pathway through dirty tricks and outright unlawful actions which seem to always remain OK with the judicial bench. The Judge, however, will have to realize that he will have to face some rather interesting "appeals" if he gets too far out of line and becomes an obvious servant to the opposition. At some point PUBLICITY will focus on this miserable mess and that is what they want to squash before allowing it to happen. Now, aren't you proud to know George Green, who is pushing and hiding behind the little nit of the "wit society"? That standoff will surely come sooner or later and I hope we all get to view the fireworks, for such as Abbott, Horton and Green are not even remotely a match for the shrewd skills of such as a Steven Horn. He will chew up and spit out as lunch appetizers. One thing is quite obvious about the REAL defined, according to Horn's definition, "anti-Semitic" blatherers such as the Green Brigade who don't have allegiance to ANYTHING, especially the false-One Worlders, is that the system of players on "that" side, will getcha and they despise the idiots who suck selves into the game. Where do you readers REALLY think the Tutens, Younts, Ences, etc., of the game will END UP with Green? Paying, of course, for he will COST EVERYTHING.

But will they destroy us? Of course not for there is nothing of value in your perceived game and the loss, at worst, is so temporary as to be amusing. The interesting thing is that it is costing the players on Green's Team the most important thing in their lives: their MONEY and their very soul transition out of the muck of the sensing world of temporary physical translation. Remember, team-mates, that every one of our systems have to be TESTED under fire and so it shall be and is being accomplished. I can only hope that each of YOU will see YOUR OPPORTUNITY FOR SERVICE AND NOT JUST PASS IT BY. That service opportunity will come always in such ways as to be quite overlooked if you are not paying attention. Just a word, a confirmation of support, is often THE DIFFERENCE in success or failure. Make sure you SUPPORT the RIGHT SIDE. Everything is PERCEPTION and INTENTION so let us see who will take an opportunity to support God and LIGHTED SERVICE and who will cop-out on the way to the witness stand to protect SELF's little ego and misperceptions. And, no, I do not just speak to the wide reader audience—is it not time to put your support on the line right in your dooryard? E.J. and Doris will NOT come and ask you, so you have to pay attention and think over your own experiences, travels, reasons for those travels, and focus on our goals of winning in LIGHT.

Check your goals and our journey and then see what might be your contribution and purpose in this supporting network. Sometimes it is the most tiny thing of a word, insight, sharing a burden, a song or a prayer for insight. Listen, then, and watch for opportunities flowing past.

I have to remind you that in every instance involving any of the players according to the Plan of the Protocols of Zion you will find producing their lies and witnesses to what did not happen. For instance, there were said to be, at the "NON-SALE" of Ekkers' property, three witnesses and a real estate agent present. Horn even produced a couple of secretaries who disappeared when the truth was noted with better and more accountable witnesses. I suggest you ponder this and if YOU can serve as witness to good, step forward. I remember the old times when a man would be singled out and, when asked to step forward, ALL PRESENT STOOD FORWARD. You who can remember any instance which might help as witness, is it not time to step forward?

I would example something about the last deposition of Dharma wherein the topic was on Father Ed Cleary. Things are not only CHANGED (tampered with) in wording but the whole dissertation of repeating what Green has said and scattered "secretly" about Ed came out as if Dharma felt that way and was speaking badly of the man. No, yesterday she actually took the block under the neck with the axe swinging and set the record to straight—except you can't get the records to enter so extreme measures have to be taken to bandage gaping wounds. Whatever Ed Cleary may be or may not be, he was a FRIEND, and I believe he will come to see that he chose the wrong-intentioned persons. However, that matters not in this scenario for Dharma has never felt him other than a friend and George Green badly abuses and insults him. So, will he somehow deliberately hurt her for some perceived gain with Green? I do not believe so! I believe the very antics of Green and his munchkins show that Ed Cleary told Green where to "shove it"—you know: into that place where the LIGHT doesn't have showing? Misplaced loyalties are a thing of which LIFE is made as the sensing flow ebbs and rises. So, check your gauges and see where your soul intent dwells, not the silly representations of the sensing network of confusion into which you are never allowed FULL VIEW.

The old adage, "know your enemy", is a good one, but a better one is, "know God and never mind your enemy". I don't accept "enemy" as a valid term in any way, shape, or form, although I use it to better explain my relationships as you would define opposition parties. However, enemies are not valid in perception if you KNOW GOD. These are simply adversaries doing their job FOR YOU. These are the challengers for your experiencing. When you make up your mind to overcome them, they will dissolve without your spoiling your own soul intentions. When YOU have no more use for your enemy—you will resolve the circumstance, and HOW you handle that conversion is the finest alchemical response of all translations. Physically destroying your enemy is NEVER a reasonable or workable solution for the consequences so far outweigh any "good" as to be remarkable in recognition. Dissolving the "enemy" status is the point and if it means to allow him to remove himself, so be it, but allow it to fully come to realization so that he or his toxins do not rise again to smite you down.

You might always consider your enemy as your friend who is UNCOVERED in his intentions and you will fare even better for you have, mostly, friends who are deadly enemies running about in friendship's clothing waiting to get what is yours, even if they have to steal it from you. Whatever they take, it is NEVER ENOUGH. It is always good to get those hidden enemies out where you can deal with properly and in proper sequence of their own events. JUST BE SURE TO BE WARY, AND CUNNING AS THE FOX AND GENTLE AS THE DOVE. Be patient, and if the intent of the other is toward evil—they will devour selves, so why tarnish your own soul advantage by soiling it in conflict? Conflicts are a basic part of life experience and you err if you sacrifice soul on the altar of ego "things". Contradiction is the major perception of life journey. The test of a human is in the perception regarding the conflict and contradiction. Sometimes it is better to consider HOW to handle wealth than poverty for wealth kills off more good souls than any one other physical acquisition.

Do all of you see that these cases of which we share and write have almost NOTHING to do with the point of any of the confrontations? This is sorting the grain time, people, both for good and evil, but the problem is that there is NO PLACE FOR THE GRAIN IN THE MIDDLE! Into which coffer will you find self? Will you find yourself eventually in the witch's brew or in the soaring essence of REAL LIFE? Oh yes, it IS up to YOU. Destiny has a lot to do with it—FATE, nothing.

On this thoughtful notation let us end this chapter this morning.

Thank you and may these days of focus on those things of greatness and micrology be ever considered with WISDOM. Salu.

NOTHIN' NOBLE ABOUT BROWN'S MISSION

This refreshingly frank letter from a Glendale, CA resident appeared in the April 10 issue of the (Los Angeles) DAILY NEWS, [quoting:]

The tragic nature of the 35 deaths of the Commerce Department flight in Bosnia should not be disparaged nor minimized. At the same time, the purposes behind this flight should not be provided a sanctity that they cannot support. President Clinton has asserted that the 13 chief executive officers accompanying Commerce Secretary Ron Brown were engaged in some noble crusade to restore the ravaged infrastructure of the former Yugoslavia. As recently as last year, the Democratic Party distributed written solicitations for donations, indicating that six-figure contributions would qualify donors for a specified number of semiprivate dinners with the president as well as passage on various "trade missions".

The United States has pledged to contribute hundreds of millions of dollars to the reconstructions of the former Yugoslavia as part of the U.S.-orchestrated peace negotiations. Most people are unaware that in many instances, U.S. foreign aid funds are actually distributed by the political administration (Republican or Democrat) only after U.S. companies are allocated portions of the aid. That is why these 13 CEOs were on this flight. They were doing their proper jobs in seeking new business for their companies, and their deaths in that pursuit are truly tragic. But, don't attribute a false virtue to a flight where Brown was paying back contributors to the Democratic Party by providing them a preference in securing contracts for Yugoslavian reconstructions that would be funded by the U.S. taxpayer.

Ron Brown

The April 15 issue of THE SPOTLIGHT also had some comments to make on this subject, [quoting:]

Say the word "censorship" and the mainstream media circles up the wagons and begins to talk about "those crazy conspiracy theorists". But censorship is the stock-in-trade of the lapdogs of the plutocrats. No more is it more evident than in the recent aircraft tragedy in Croatia. Commerce Secretary Ron Brown was leading another of his infamous "Ron Brown Express" tours featuring "special friends" of Brown and the Democratic National Committee.

Brown, now that he's dead, has become a national hero, lionized by the media. For the record: Brown was a bad guy. No one wished him dead [don't count on it!], but neither does his death cleanse his record of illegal activities.

PORTA-POTTY PACKING— A NEW FAD?!

I can't resist sharing this brief news bite from the same issue of THE SPOTLIGHT, if only for the sad, but also amusing mental picture it creates, [quoting:]

Immigration officials stopped a truck heading north from the Mexican border hauling a portable toilet. They found 17 illegals hiding in it, piled on top of each other.

BRANDO BASHING

This is the story to which Hatonn makes reference on page 25, from the April 7 issue of the (Los Angeles) DAILY NEWS, [quoting:]

The Los Angeles-based Jewish Defense League blasted Marlon Brando on Saturday and vowed to make his life "a living hell" for comments the actor made during an interview with Larry King on CNN. "You gladly take money from Hollywood producers and then vilify the industry with slanderous accusations and anti-Semitic vulgarities," the JDL statement said.

Irv Rubin, national chairman of the 6,000-member league, defended the heavy-handed language used in the message to the star of "The Godfather" [which was produced, in part, to focus attention AWAY from the REAL muscle behind organized crime—the Mishpucka Jewish crime syndicate] and other films. He said members of his organization will protest Brando's upcoming film The Island of Dr. Moreau and demand Brando's star be removed from the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Brando could not be reached for comment. [I think he yelled, "Stellllla!"] During Friday's interview with King, Brando complained about a Jewish-run Hollywood and of movie characters that stereotype minorities. He used derogatory words in reference to Jews and other groups

[What words? Here are some quotes from the version of this story in the April 9 issue of the CHICAGO SUN-TIMES, quoting:]

...the Oscar-winning star...said, "Hollywood is run by Jews. It is owned by Jews and they should have a greater sensitivity about the issue of people who are suffering. He enumerated negative stereotypes that he said have been depicted in the movies. "We've seen the nigger and the greaseball. We've seen the chink. We've seen the slit-eyed dangerous Jap. We have seen the silly Filipino. We've seen everything," Brando said. "But we never saw the kike because they knew perfectly well that that's where you draw the wagons around." [Definitely NOT a politically correct comment!]

"Mr. Brando's comments about Hollywood being controlled by Jews is about as sloppy an anti-Semitism as saying that Jews control banks," [and as true!] said Rabbi Harvey J. Fields of the Jewish Federation of Los Angeles.

WELL, TO HEAR HIS WIFE TELL IT, SCHINDLER WAS NO SAINT

From the March 31 issue of the (Los Angeles) DAILY NEWS, [quoting:]

A frail Emilie Schindler said in Buenos Aires, Argentina, Thursday that she was angry that the movie Schindler's List portrayed her late husband as a hero. Director Steven Spielberg "knows absolutely nothing. But it's not entirely his fault." Schindler, 88, told reporters at a Buenos Aires hotel where she was appearing to promote her new book of memoirs. Her late husband, Oskar Schindler, was credited with saving the lives of 1,300 Polish Jews during World War II by putting them to work at his factories. The couple, both German Catholics, came to Argentina in 1949. Eight years later, a homesick Oskar left his wife without money and returned to his homeland, where he died in 1974.

Emilie Schindler's book, called Memorias (Memoirs), is based on 200 hours of interviews with writer Erika Rosenberg. It is to be released in Argentina in early April and later translated into several languages, representatives of the publishing house Planeta said.

"Spielberg's film, (Thomas) Keneally's book and all the rivers of ink that have spilled over paint Oskar as a hero," she relates in the book. "But that's not true, neither of us were." She described her former husband as "a man with no virtue," claiming he had four lovers at one point after their marriage broke up. [More publicity for the Zionist agenda—by which standards, the Schindler's List storyline is made even better.]

THE COURT JEWS

I don't want to get on the bad side of the JDL like Brando did, but it's hard to resist passing along this article by Susan Poizner from the March 21 issue of THE JERUSALEM REPORT, [quoting:]

The Prince and Princess of Wales are finally getting divorced and the time has come to divide up the spoils of their sorry alliance....[The issues] are being negotiated by two teams of attorneys. Prince Charles's group is headed by Fiona Shackleton, of the long-established legal firm Farrer & Co. Princess Diana's attorneys are led by Anthony Julius, of the prestigious Mishcon de Reya firm. Both attorneys are aged 39. Both, in the cogent words of The Sunday Times, have "Jewish blood running through their veins". And with Mishcon de Reya's senior partner, the life peer (and rabbi's son) Lord Mishcon, acting as a consultant on Diana's behalf, blood type "Jewish" seems to be sloshing around the royal divorce in distinctly disproportionate quantities.

In a country of 60 million, with just 300,000 Jews, the prominence of Jewish lawyers in the royal divorce can hardly be considered a coincidence. Indeed, the truth is that, in seeking Jewish professional help in their hour of crisis, Britain's best-known mismatched couple are merely maintaining a royal tradition. "Jewish involvement in royal society is not new," says Nigel Evans, editor of Majesty magazine, a monthly devoted exclusively to the royals. "Edward VII (son of Queen Victoria and great-grandfather to the present queen) surrounded himself with Jewish advisers." Newman also cites probably the best-known royal-Jewish relationship—between Victoria and her Jewish-born (and Christian-converted) [at least superficially] prime minister Benjamin Disraeli who, on entering Parliament in 1837, rapidly established himself as the queen's "favorite minister", says Newman, "by flattering her outrageously".

Princess Di had sought out Jewish expertise even before the divorce: Jewish therapist Susie Orbach, best-selling author of Fat is a Feminist Issue, is said to have worked with the princess to help her overcome bulimia.

And while this generation of royals has made some Jewish acquaintances—Di's include banker Lord Jacob Rothschild [that name seems to ring a bell!], and Dominic Lawson, editor of The Sunday Telegraph—one recent experience may have set back the cause of relations some years. For it was a Jewish man, Steve Wyatt, who allegedly stole the heart of the princess's sister-in-law Sarah (Fergie) Ferguson, the duchess of York. They became friends after the Texan oil tycoon invited the duchess aboard his private jet for a trip to Mexico. In 1992, British tabloids got hold of holiday snapshots of them, and suggested a romantic involvement. The palace was appalled. And within weeks, the queen announced that negotiations for a separation between Fergie and Prince Andrew were underway.

LINE ITEM VETO: SLIDING DOWN THE SLIPPERY SLOPE

From the April 10 issue of the (Los Angeles) DAILY NEWS, [quoting:]

WASHINGTON—Ronald Reagan demanded it 100 years after Ulysses S. Grant first asked for it, but it fell to Bill Clinton on Tuesday to sign historic legislation finally granting presidents the line-item veto. The symbolic importance of the measure is clear: It gives the president new authority to cut bits and pieces of spending approved by Congress and thus tilts the 200-year-old balance of power toward presidents. President Clinton hailed the law with unqualified praise when signing it in an Oval Office ceremony. Sen. Bob Dole, who hopes to wield the power next year as a newly elected Republican president, saluted the statute in similar terms.

An article by Trisha Katson in the April 15 issue of THE SPOTLIGHT provides this analysis, [quoting:]

Despite cries that the line item veto is unconstitutional and it could lead to political "blackmail" and "usurpation of power", the Senate passed the measure on March 27 by a vote of 69-31 and the House passed it on March 28 by a vote of 328-91 [this overwhelming majority vote to give away its own power would be baffling if you didn't see the big picture]. The president will now have the unprecedented power to repeal and amend law.

HOW IT WORKS: Upon receiving a bill, if the president signs it, he then has five days to make a list of spending items he wants to cut. Congress would have to resubmit those items in the form of another bill, which the president could veto. Congress could then overturn it by a 2/3 vote.

"This line-item veto provision and its effect will be to start the gradual accretion of power in an American monarchy," noted Rep. David Skaggs (D-Colo.).

"We are making the White House too powerful," warned Rep., Jim Traficant (D-Ohio). [You may remember him as "Lurch" from Cathy O'Brien's account of his participation in Ohio's "Charm School" for mind-control slaves. He's been getting a lot of good press lately as a "patriot" opposed to IRS tactics and laws like this one.]

[And speaking of mind-control...] The Senate's leading [mini-membered] parliamentarian, Robert Byrd (D-W. Va.), had opposed the measure for years but finally agreed not to filibuster against it. "The control of the purse is the foundation of our constitutional system of checks and balances of government," Byrd said in a parting shot. "The Framers were very careful to place that control over the purse in the hands of the legislative branch." [You may remember HIM as Cathy's owner during her years as a Presidential model mind-control slave. If these are the FRIENDS of the constitutional republic, we surely don't need enemies!]

The line-item veto was a key structural change

avored by the international elitist Committee on the Constitutional System (CCS) in the 1985 book Reforming American Government. The 1986 book Constitutional Reform and Effective Government by James Fundquist, published by the globalist Brookings Institution, also supported the line-item veto.

INCOME TAX 101

It's definitely "that time of year", so it was very timely that this article by Jim Thomas—and others in a similar vein—appeared in the April issue of MEDIA BYPASS (1-800-4-BYPASS), [quoting excerpts:]

This article will attempt to cut through several hundred pages of regulations and get to the heart of the income tax matter. To understand federal income taxes, one must first understand the republican form of government established under the Constitution. The states of the union are referred to as "the several states" or "the 50 states" in federal laws and regulations. States outside the union—for example, the "state of Puerto Rico"—are referred to as simply "states". Thus, the "states" are within the federal government's jurisdiction while the "several states" are outside, or "without" the federal jurisdiction.

Each of the "several states" have their own governments, make their own laws, and have their own jurisdiction that is foreign to each other as well as to the federal government. The Constitution, in Art. 1, Sect. 8, Clause 17, gave sovereignty to the federal government over 10 square miles of territory—Washington, D.C. Thus the federal government can and does make laws under their own sovereignty (10 square miles) and other federal property (e.g. the post office) or territories, just like the several states do. Federal jurisdiction follows federal sovereignty, and ends where sovereignty ends. In other words, no one in the federal government can, under the Constitution, make law or regulations for the sovereign states or their natural born Citizens, unless the states or its Citizens volunteer themselves into federal jurisdiction. [This is a frequent theme mentioned in the media's minimalist exposure of the beliefs of the "Montana Freemen", such as this bit in a recent issue of the Daily News: "Members of the Montana-based organization consider themselves a sovereign nation and believe they have the right to establish their own banking system, authorities say."]

The "several states" are sovereign, but the "states" are not sovereign, and are subject to federal jurisdiction. This is so because the "states" are not part of the Union.... How did the free Citizens of the several states get involved in the taxing scheme in the first place? They accepted a government granted privilege, namely Social Security [or—the "privilege" of "discharging your debts" with Federal Reserve notes instead of real money]. When you signed the SS-5 application card, you affirmed that you were a "U.S. citizen" and you agreed to

SWISS COURT OKAYS CLAIM ON MARCOS MILLIONS

From the March 25 issue of THE ORLANDO SENTINEL comes this update on a story which appeared in the January 9 News Desk, [quoting:]

ZURICH, Switzerland—In a dramatic new twist to the long-running legal battle over the late Philippine President

Ferdinand Marcos' fortune, a Swiss court has recognized a new claim to the Marcos millions lying in Swiss bank accounts. A Swiss court has decided that a golden Buddha statue filled with diamonds—all Japanese war booty—was most likely illegally seized by Marcos from a poor Filipino locksmith who uncovered it in 1971. The Zurich Legal Office will within days send Marcos' widow, Imelda, an order to pay $460 million to compensate the locksmith's family which, under Philippine law, is owed half the value of any find, the family's lawyer, Andres Baumgartner, told the Associated Press on Sunday. The fortune also is claimed, however, by Marcos, the Philippines government and victims of human rights violations that a Hawaii court said the Marcos regime committed. After 10 years of legal proceedings over the Marcos millions, the new judgments, issued Feb. 23 by the Zurich district court, has opened an even stranger chapter.

Marcos

Many people think that shortly before World War II ended in 1945, Japanese Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita hid booty in the Philippines amassed during the war in Southeast Asia. The booty is said to include about 1,000 tons of gold bars and a 3-foot-high golden Buddha filled with diamonds. But while the Swiss court has recognized the statue's existence in Marcos' portfolio, no one knows definitely if the booty was ever discovered or where it is now. [The Shadow knows!]

Thank you, readers, for the time, energy, stamps, and love that you put into gathering and sending in news clippings. They arrive most timely when sent to NEWSDESK, P.O. Box 986, Tehachapi, CA 93581.

Spelt

New Gaia Presents Bread Mixes, Flour & Kernels

Spelt is the most ancient and very best grain. Spelta (its more formal name) is a grain of its own unique being. It is the best fiber resource and has large amounts of B-17 (anti-carcinoma). The grain berry grows an exceptionally thick husk that protects it from pollutants and insects. It is stored with its husks intact, so it remains fresher. Thus, unlike other grains, it is not normally treated with pesticides or other chemicals. The strong, protective husk may also be a metaphorical signature of this grain's capacity to strengthen immunity. Spelt contains special carbohydrates (Mucopolysaccharides) which are an important factor in blood clotting and stimulating the body's immune system.

New Gaia offers Bread Mixes that use pure Spelt flour instead of wheat. The taste is uniquely nutty and enjoyable for the whole family. Also offered are combination Bread Mixes with both Spelt flour and whole wheat flour. Both are perfect for a 2 lb. loaf of bread which can be utilized in the Hitachi Bread Machine or others of its equal. The mixes are easy to use with only the simple addition of water, butter & sweetener. The packages come in 2 lb. sizes only.

Also available are whole spelt flour packages for your baking and homemade bread needs that come in 2 lb., 4 lb. and 8 lb. sizes.

You may also order the whole spelt kernels that can be milled at home into flour. These come in 4 lb. and 10 lb. bags.

Yellow-Bellied, Bird-Brained Legal Attacks Continue

4/10/96 #1 HATONN

FAR FROM HOME!

Each of us think upon our own status and circumstance and memories wash over the being in waves of recognition of times gone by, times of which dreams are made, things which are undergoing impact both negatively and positively, each according to a given portion of each play in performance. It is not as simplistic as starting a novel by such as Snoopy in the comic strip Peanuts who simply sits atop his doggie house with his goggles and Red Baron flying scarf and begins: "It was a dark and stormy night, unlike most nights in which the stars show bright and sparkley in winter more intensely than in summer..." Then he is suddenly attacked by a canary with a banner that reads "Met Life".

Well, Dharma has no goggles, no scarf, but there is an abundance of yellow-bellied bird-brains attacking in hopes she will stop our writings.

We are honored that some do take the papers in which our writings are either honored or attacked, for out of "work" one always hopes a tiny voice is heard and sometimes believed.

Before the INQUISITION trial of the day in August it becomes more and more difficult to find a moment to write. I find that interesting in that lawyers want pay and yet no time is left for productive work. Useless DAYS upon days are spent in pounding, degrading depositions which have not one iota of relativity to the point. The opposition is ACTUALLY TRYING TO CALL DORIS AND E.J. "ANTI-SEMITIC" AND SOMEHOW THAT IS SUPPOSED TO DISTRACT ENOUGH JURORS AWAY FROM THE FACT THAT THERE WAS NO SALE, AS ADVERTISED, OF THE ADAM DRIVE PROPERTY IN MAY OF 1988.

MARLON BRANDO

Well, it worked with Marlon Brando, didn't it? I can tell you one thing and that is IF THESE GROUPS OF RACE-CLAIMING, RELIGION-CLAIMING PARASITES CALL THEMSELVES "SEMITES" THEN THEY ARE NOT GOING TO BE VERY POPULAR FOR VERY LONG. Why are they ASHAMED to have it noted that they own Hollywood? Would that not be something they would like recognized? Why is the very term "Jew" so disliked as to have the simple utterance a "hate" word? This is what they call themselves; is that not how to address them? How is it a hate crime to speak of such in supposedly interview circumstances? How is there no "hate" involved to speak of the "so-called Christian" evangelists and their like kind while if a non-Jew (Goyim) speaks of a Jew it is a "hate crime"? But that is not my point! My point is that in the myriads of articles we have written and in which I feel there is far more science than comment, being NON-RELIGIOUS and certainly NON-RACIAL, how is it that in a court of law such a reference is dumped on a simple grandmother who writes for Godly energies as would any journalist who has work put to public press?

If indeed Dharma were totally "anti-Semitic" (which she neither is nor can be for she IS SEMITIC), what can that possibly have to do with her and her husband going to a public auction sale with certified funds in hand to purchase a piece of property for which there was NO SALE, some eight years ago—PRIOR to any journal writing AT ALL? And how can a word such as "Semitic", which Mr. Horn just used in the breath before Dharma said, "I AM SEMITIC," with measured emphasis, be mis-transcribed as "I am sympathetic"? Did this little court reporter misunderstand or did she have help with corrections of perceptions in spelling and refreshing of memory? In other places words appear which were not spoken and in that there is some interest. No wonder Mr. Horn will NOT ALLOW a deposition to be taped; his tricks might be revealed. He very definitely objects massively to journalistic articles being written wherein he is mentioned.

Well, Doris writes about what happens and this is what happens. Commentators MUST write about their observations and perceptions and what is taking place as they experience it. Then these observations must be backed by journalistic backup material regarding the topic under discussion. What is a JOURNALIST?

JOURNALIST: One whose occupation is journalism.

JOURNALISM: The occupation, practice, and academic field concerned with writing, editing, and publishing newspapers and other periodicals.

JOURNALISTIC: Pertaining to or like journalism or journalists.

JOURNALIZE: To enter regularly or daily, in a journal. To write or describe in, or as in, a journal or as in, a journal or diary. To keep a journal or diary.

JOURNAL: A diary or record of daily or regular occurrences; especially, a ship's log or logbook. A newspaper, especially one published daily or regularly. Any periodical or magazine; as in a learned journal, etc.

(These definitions are from The Readers Digest Great Encyclopedic Dictionary.)

Readers, if writing now well over 160 JOURNALS, a hundred odd being already public in publication, and some six years of weekly newspaper articles of which at least three of Dharma's writings are published, if extras are not even considered, (6 X 52 X 3 = 936 full writings) PUBLISHED. What then CAN be considered journalism or being a journalist? Further, if you write as in journalism, do you not have to have reference backup? And furthermore, are not the publisher and editors responsible for seeing to their own business?

Now, how is it that a lawyer, in trying to say there was a property sale held (when there was NONE), can demand all of the writings, copies of writings, books, journals, paper articles, phone notes, e-mail, faxes, correspondence and backup materials used and produced by this journalist since Jan. 1, 1990 WHEN THE NON-SALE UNDER SCRUTINY TOOK PLACE IN MAY OF 1988? Of course he IS working directly with George Green, Betty Tuten, Leon Fort and, surely, George Abbott, esteemed lawyer of Nevada, including also David Horton and other, long since departed from God, suers and sue-ees. And is not a journalist entitled to her/his OPINION ABOUT THESE ENTITIES IN OBSERVATION OF THEIR ACTIONS WHICH INCLUDE LIES, CHEATING, AND THEFT DIRECTED ON TARGET AGAINST THE JOURNALIST(S)? Whether or not these people who represent the worst of officers of the courts and maligning malcontents like it, there is the obvious FACT that E.J. Ekker ALSO fits the title of JOURNALIST. Further, if a person is in court and is accused of being the brain-child in mental writing, then is that person not the ONE who has the right to be heard AND/OR PROTECTED by that law of the courts the same as the perpetrators of the attacks who HAVE NOTHING, NOTHING, TO DO WITH WHETHER OR NOT THERE WAS A SALE OF PROPERTY IN 1988, WHEN NONE OF THEM WERE SO MUCH AS PRESENT OR HEARD-OF AT THE TIME?

If there were ones of the reading audience who wished to purchase the property, for whatever reason, later, as an investment for collateral, is this unlawful somehow if Ekkers didn't know how or who structured the transaction? I can guarantee that Ekkers, of all parties, were the most shocked to find that such as Betty Tuten, Tammie Ally and family had made any investment in the property. Did they do that because they loved Ekkers or wanted to make sure the property would be under their control to cause the Ekkers to have to vacate without warning? These people now trying to destroy the Ekkers must surely have had no loving idea of helping and the proof is in the eating of the pudding, readers. It was an investment in property as collateral and it is assumed they thought it to be a good investment or THEY certainly would not have made such a business move, would they?

These enemies now claim, after they came, took and moved on, to have been programmed and brain-washed. How so? There is no group, no regular meetings, no seminars, not even more than an announcement of a possible meeting where all or any are welcomed to visit. Of all the things you will NOT FIND HERE, IS BRAIN-WASHING OR PROGRAMMING—and that is about the most OBVIOUS of all things regarding us. Our whole thrust is "no force", "no programming", welcome to go or come, and hopefully the seekers who didn't find La-la-Land would move on and seek in somebody else's pocket. It is not the job of these people here to see to others' business for they have about had enough of trying to salvage the leavings from the liars, cheats and thieves who move into the neighborhood and try to take over that which is not theirs, mismanage that which is also not theirs, and then lie, cheat and steal that which is others' and claim they are innocent children of God. Forget it, brothers and sisters, it just is not so! And, there was no SALE ON MAY 24TH, 1988 AT THE EAST FRONT ENTRANCE, OR ANY ENTRANCE, OF THE CITY HALL ON THAT MORNING BY LARRY MITCHELL OR ANY OTHER AUCTIONEER. THERE WERE NOT THREE SECRETARIES AS WITNESSES, NO REAL ESTATE AGENT, NOR ANY OTHER GATHERING, SO WHAT DOES "ANTI-SEMITISM", EVEN IF IN 1996, HAVE TO DO WITH 1988, EVEN IF IT WERE SO, WHICH IT IS NOT? AND WHAT DOES A JOURNALIST'S WRITING IN 1996 HAVE TO DO THAT WOULD CHANGE THAT FACT? AND, ABOUT AS BAD FOR PUBLIC IMAGE IS THE BAD SHOW THESE SUPPORTING PLAYERS ARE MAKING OF THE NEVADA COURT SYSTEM BY THE OUTRAGEOUS ACTIONS OF THESE SAME PLAGUE-BEARERS.

Well, it may be difficult for my writer to carry, and especially while "I" make it public, but we don't lie, cheat OR steal and we do not keep dark and dank secrets while trying to further damage anyone, even our self-proclaimed enemies and opponents. Dharma doesn't really like coming to work 365 days a year, holidays included, to write at daybreak or before. Neither does she enjoy getting nothing of value, for living, in return.

Mr. Green broke all of his agreements, so what else is new? Readers, life is what happens while you make other plans and so, too, it happens here to us and it happens to you! The alternative is to QUIT! Which will it be? Well, here, we don't quit—whoever we might be!

Now, I would like to turn to another topic for, after all, that is what our writings are about, OTHER TOPICS. These references are like life, that which happens while we try to do our appointed work.

LAWYERS ON THE MOVE

When George and Desiree Green moved away and off to bury their loot in Nevada they promised to continue the good fight, pass out the good word, support all that had begun in recognition of God and Light and finally the day came when the transfer would take place.

Desiree asked sincerely: "Can't we continue our work and serve God as well in Nevada as here?" My response? "Yes, you could, but you won't!" It doesn't matter WHERE you are for it is always WHAT YOU ARE that will tell your tale. The gold itself was already snugly hidden away for none to find. Now, when found out, it is deemed everyone's problem but theirs. A letter from Dave Overton which had nothing to do with the gold in point was then presented as if Dave had given Greens $350,000 for their bills and rent payments—without need of even sharing. That the letter didn't match the presentation made no difference whatsoever. Clever? No, quite stupid. George may be able to find bent attorneys as willing to lie, cheat and steal as is he—but the truth is out for anyone to see, clearly, the facts. So, having a court rule WITH YOU doesn't mean a thing when the facts are you lie, cheat and steal and bury truth.

It reminds me of a lawyer joke:

When it was learned that old Macauley, a member of the Bar for almost thirty years, had only a few days to live, his buddy Flaherty hurried over to the hospital. To his surprise, he found the patient sitting bolt upright in bed, leafing through the Bible in a frenzy.

"Take it easy, pal, calm down," Flaherty soothed. "What the hell're you up to, anyway?"

"Looking for loopholes," gasped Macauley.

How many of you are looking for loopholes which will allow you to continue in the LIE and perhaps maybe make it through into some glory-land which is ONLY available to TRUTH?

Well, Benjamin Franklin once said: "God works wonders now and then: Behold! a lawyer, an honest man."

And no, I am not picking on lawyers for how else are lawyers to work within the system as it is structured? They are but priests in the temple of their gods in the black robes.

I am further amused at what is taking place all around you and is as if the trick is to magic you into believing what is said and not what IS. The Ron Brown plane crash is now noted to have been stricken by, at the least, TWO FULL BURSTS OF LASER BEAMS. [Editor's note: See also Commander's comments on p. 2 and the intelligence report on p. 3.] And still the wagging tongues give homage and show-and-tell to cause you to not notice the murders. And among these same "take-out" games, just watch what "they" are doing with the Unabomber and the Montana hoopla over sovereignty in a tiny village of Justus, Montana. Do you really think justice is taking place in Justus? Oh citizens, it is now being readied for the "necessary Federal 'raiding' by troopers". It is in all the news, so how do you miss it? It is given that in a "week or so" there "will have to be action taken". Against who? People who never even leave their city-limits and do nothing but claim freedom? Ah, indeed; a week allows for you to reach the high-UNholy day of April 19!

So, the next hue and cry is "Well, where is Jesus to allow this to take place, for these people claim to be Christians!?!?" Good question, readers: Which Jesus? What Christ? YOU define the term for me and I can tell you where HE IS NOT. Otherwise he is everywhere.

If I ask YOU, "Where is God?", most of you will say piously "Ah, within my heart!" No, God is not JUST within your heart. God is everywhere, all things, all around and you are literally living and breathing GOD IN LIGHT. You are like a fish surrounded by water in the sea, so surrounded are YOU by GOD. Any MAN you refer to as "christ" is not a labeled being but a Man in a state of Grace or christness. Christ is not a name; it is a state of being so whatever name you call the MAN involved makes no difference. You can get rid of the Christ teachers one way or another from the physical plane but you CANNOT GET RID OF GOD NOR HIS DEMAND FOR YOUR "GOODNESS" (GOD-NESS). You only have an alternative of TWO places to TRY and hide, the physical or etheric expression, and therefore you don't have any place to hide your transgressions from God nor, actually, long from Man. And, you shall be KNOWN FOR THE COMPANY YOU KEEP. Seek out evil and you shall be accepted as evil.

Timely Notice From Gulf War Syndrome Advocate

To: Rick Martin at: CONTACT Newspaper

NOTICE From Peter Kawaja

On April 11th, 1996—my Home was sold ILLEGALLY by the County of Palm Beach.

The California FEDERAL Bank/now Nations Bank, an IRS asset—illegally foreclosed on my home, in a continuing effort to suppress the Gulf WAR CRIMES. The dates of actions are tied to my appearances at Federal Grand Juries, the IRS and CALFED. This follows a series of events from the threat to blow up the aircraft I would take, which canceled my speaking tour in California by the Granada Forum last year. I sent a certified letter to Louis Freeh of the FBI—they never called to even check it out, because they already knew who the perpetrators are. So much for wanting to stop Terrorism in America. Following this I received a warning call from Debra Von Trapp about a plot against me. Then a Judge threatened to incarcerate me INDEFINITELY—for "contempt". Next there was a seemingly innocent FIRE at my home, now not so innocent. The fire department took 15 minutes to get here even though they are LESS than 3 blocks away, and a dedicated department for THIS community.

Following that, my insurance company sent a letter to me stating they "heard" I had "guns and ammunition" in my home, and would NOT come out without a POLICE ESCORT, for fear of their lives. [I am being setup.] I wrote their attorney to ask WHERE did they "hear" this from, demanding a written apology. I have received no apology. How does owning a gun, LEGALLY, translate into being a radical? Whilst I was in one court, in a different court and building, the Judge in the case about my home granted a foreclosure in my absence, and there is much more in the way of FRAUD and violations against me. In spite of solid evidence I presented, the Judge IGNORED all of it. Now I am told, I have 10 days to get out of my home, where my wife shed her blood and died. Her blood is in the very foundation of this home. ALL of her blood came out of her and ran into the carpet and concrete. I could not hold an open casket burial. The fire could be perceived as a good way to destroy or perform an illegal search of my home for evidence AGAINST George Bush et al. I fought the fire with extinguishers and had to be given Oxygen in the ambulance whilst the firecrews went up into the attic and all throughout my home, unescorted. Having found nothing here, they then foreclosed. They understand the sentimental VALUE of this home—what it means to me. I had hoped to die here, and perhaps they want another WEAVER situation. By having on record that I am alleged to have guns and ammunition, and people fear me, the SWAT team can be used to make an assault in order to oust me from my home. So, I must go, knowing they have stolen this land from me. Whoever lives here will be under the curse of the BLOOD of my wife and ALL dead Gulf War veterans. This is SACRED ground. I will be moving and ask that those who have written to me for a video tape, or other materials, to please be patient and give me some time to get settled and I will be in touch with anyone who wrote or called.

My phone line will eventually be moved. If you call to speak with me in the next 30 days, please make sure to leave an explicit message and the Date and Time I can call you back. My voice-mail will let you know my new phone number and mailing location. Please do stay in touch, and forward this message to anyone you know who may be trying to reach me. This is not a win for them, and I will never give up. Don't any of you EVER give up. In spite of all odds, you MUST have Hope, you must believe it is in God's hands. WE need each other, especially in these days. Cling to your family and PRAY, pray and then keep praying.

America is coming under judgment and there are rough roads ahead. Pretending it isn't going to happen will NOT make it go away. This will be a trial by fire. The plagues that are upon us are the beginnings of what is to come. Ignoring them, thinking the Gulf War Illnesses won't reach you—will not prevent you from being afflicted or DYING. Live your life, daily as if it is your last day. Start living for yourself, start doing things with your family, your wife, your husband, your children. MONEY, and things mean nothing at all. Eat only healthy foods. They cost more, but you are worth it. Understand that the foods you have been buying are designed to be a major contributor to cancers and your early death, to breaking down your immune system, to allow the GWI to be transmitted to you.

PREVENTION is the key. Build up your immune system NOW! Once the GWI takes good hold of you, it is many times impossible to recover completely—most will die. Stop living in the closet in fear. By hiding and fearing to be counted on any list, you are ensuring the New World Order will come to pass in a bloody way. Stand up now for YOURSELF—not me, and peacefully demand change, for tomorrow you will not be allowed to even voice an opinion, and it WILL be too late.

GOD BLESS THE REPUBLIC!

[QUOTING, PART ONE: (Editor's note: To preserve the exact flavor of the document, no effort will be made to correct grammar and punctuation.)]

.... Though they may have no longer believed in the power of the Gods in these late times, in the days of Cicero, they still believed in their existence and why, as in these times, they suddenly abandoned the people.

This book is, I believe, the first 'holistic' study of man and his position in the world. Looking at the popular press of science books, particularly by so-called noted scientists, it is sorely obvious that eclectic thinking is missing from them for most of these people are studied in one area only with very minimal use of the myriads of others. How could anyone study Neanderthal man or even Napoleon without knowing what they ate, their environment, their physiologies, etc? The issue of whether or not Ancient Astronauts lived is a very touchy subject with the Carl Sagan gang, as I call them, scientists who just are not studied enough in all fields. This national clique has everyone believing that all scientists believe as they, but this is definitely not true. Just as with the theory of evolution, another subject of aggravation to many, but which, we will see is very much a part of this study too. It is a shame Albert Einstein is not around today when the debates over the issues of Ancient Astronauts is at its highest for he believed that man today is but the remnant of a once highly civilized and technological society. He would have sided more with Eric Von Daniken and Zecharia Sitchin than the Saganites and perhaps we would have had less quibbling over this controversial topic. I used to be rather undecided until, as a student of pathology and other natural sciences, I started reasoning that if all of what the Ancient Astronaut proponents said occurred were true, then there should be biological evidence of it. Taking the old texts and scriptures at face value is not enough; there has to be other evidence to collaborate it and I believe I have found it.

As I began reading the histories of Egypt, Sumer, India and Hebraic peoples, I began getting a pattern of history that no one seems to have recognized because we have allowed the Bible to influence our research through the ages. I kept seeing paralleling stories in all these texts and a new story to man's ancient past erupted. The latest translations of the Veda, or Mahabharata, the great India epic, (which itself means "The Great Story," and indeed it is!) has been looked upon as nothing but tales, but I was amazed to see the same stories in the Egyptian, Hebrew, Sumerian and, biblical histories. How old these histories of India are, no one really knows, but they, like the Egyptian and Sumerian, predate the Bible by thousands of years. Only by the wedded bliss of the natural sciences such as psychobiology, pathology, and a score of others, can we ever divorce the true history from the exaggerations and myths picked up along the way by man as he recorded his past. This is another part of it too, for all these histories stemmed from a common source, perhaps a record of the events left by the "gods" themselves, and it also points to a common origin of these people. The translations of the Veda by J.A.B. van Buitenen published by the University of Chicago has been a herculean task for this man who should receive credit for a superlative job. There are many versions of the Veda, but the stories all collaborate one another more or less much as in gnostic literature of the Bible, another forgotten source, for we shall see just why the Dead Sea Scrolls may have been hidden from us and written in such secrecy. But we are also indebted to van Buitenen for he disbelieves the Ancient Astronaut theory, which is a plus for those of us who do not, for he is then not biased in his translations.

There has been much debate that our government is concealing facts concerning UFOs, hollow earth, etc. I too was undecided in this until I delved into the past. It is rather narrow-minded to be skeptical that in the enormous universe someone else would not have already gained the knowledge we ourselves are trying to seek. We just do not know all there is to know in the areas of physics and the natural sciences to make a definite yes or no to this. The Lock Ness Monster is a good example. It is not so much, is it believable, but is it possible? Considering the fact we still have thousands of animals and millions of insects yet to be identified there is no reason, and certainly not from a natural science point of view, why it could not be true. One of the big problems in science is that we have too many people voicing opinions who are only studied in mathematics and physics and very few in the biological sciences for this is a high-tech world caught in the last stages of its own decline because people do not employ all the sciences together for that is the true scientist. Remember the gorilla, the coelacanth, animals they said were extinct, until they found them? It is nice to be confident about your world, it makes us feel secure, but putting horse blinders on may distract us from seeing the truth and dealing with it. It takes more intelligence to not believe in evolution, than it takes to believe in it, I have found. Those who are fanatics in its belief remind me so of the church that has kept man in the dark for ages. I am not a Creationist per se, but they have certainly hit the mark on many things by bringing up issues in science that are an embarrassment to the Saganite genre. But to teach such a shaky theory in schools is putting horse blinders on very young minds who should be able to explore the world for themselves. Quite frankly, this is communistic. Believe or else you will not pass the grade. I have read scores of scientific literature on evolution and they begin to all look alike for the same reason—it is what I call the Professor Cory syndrome. I do not know if anyone remembers this comedian, but he would start talking a long-lettered, scientific jargon, emulating his old professors, until he had an audience in stitches but actually believing what he said, whatever it was. No one wanted to admit they really did not know but he made you think you did. And this is pretty much the format of much of science as far as evolution goes. They get drunk with their words and really do not know themselves what they are saying, but with 20-letter words, anything looks good! I intend to prove that the evolutionary theory is one of the biggest hoaxes since the Cardiff Giant, and a test-case in what happens when people are not studied enough in all the sciences.

Whether you believe in the Ancient Astronaut Theory or not is irrelevant; actually this book covers so many areas of mankind from a biological and historical viewpoint I think layman and professionals will find it of interest. I come from the old school of thought that one must be well-studied in all fields before judgments are made, and writing something to please the general public or make a sensationalized statement to gain attention is very poor research. This research will step on many toes, but as a researcher, I am not out to win a popularity contest. I have had to deal with biological truths that affect us today which have their roots in this dark past.

It is a sad fact in this country that most science books have to be subsidy published for there is no public interest in improving their way of life. Every subject I have dealt with really could have had more volumes devoted to it, so this is very condensed. The problem is that the average citizen does not have the time or initiative to study anything in the sciences or medical fields and puts their faiths in the first persons who condone their paths in life, even if it means catering to their weaknesses which evolution most certainly does. If they were more well read, they would not be so easily duped. Evolution among scientists is not fact; it is still very much theory, contrary to Carl Sagan, whom I admire in all areas of his research, save this, and his disagreement against the Ancient Astronaut proponents. Many in the science fields advocate it. Our best two examples are from NASA itself. Josef P. Blumrich and Maurice Chatelain. Blumrich was chief of the Systems Layout Branch of NASA, a skeptic until he read the story of Ezekial and therein found the exact description of a spaceship and wrote his book, Spaceships of Ezekial, using his technical acumen of aeronautics to discern what went on here. Another superb book is OUR ANCESTORS CAME FROM OUTER SPACE; A NASA Expert Confirms Mankind's Extraterrestrial Origins (Doubleday & Company, Inc., NY-1978) by Maurice Chatelain. The title is rather 'campy' which truly hides this most interesting study by one of NASA's officials who helped put man on the moon and conceived and designed the Apollo space craft. Now, if the Ancient Astronaut theory is all bunkum, why are NASA officials advocating it? There are too many peoples in these fields who believe as do not. As Chatelain wrote concerning the Apollo flight:

But the astronauts were not limited to equipment troubles. They saw things during their missions that could not be discussed with anybody outside NASA. It is very difficult to obtain any specific information from NASA, which still exercises a very strict control over any disclosure of these events. It seems that all Apollo and Gemini flights were followed, both at a distance and sometimes quite closely, by space vehicles of extraterrestrial origin—flying saucers, or UFOs (unidentified flying objects), if you want to call them by that name. Every time it occurred, the astronauts informed Mission Control, who then ordered, absolute silence. I think that Walter Shirra aboard Mercury 8 was the first of the astronauts to use the code name "Santa Claus" to indicate the presence of flying saucers next to his space capsule. However, his announcements were barely noticed by the general public. It was a little different when James Lovell on board the Apollo 8 command module came out from behind the dark side of the moon and said for everybody to hear: "We have been informed that Santa Claus does exist!" Even though this happened on Christmas Day 1968, many people sensed a hidden meaning in those words that were not difficult to decipher.

He then went on to tell how the astronauts had photographed various UFOs and when the first moon landing of Apollo 11 was made on the Sea of Tranquility, two UFOs hovered over Astronauts Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin who took pictures of them which appeared in the June 1975 issue of MODERN PEOPLE magazine having gotten them from a Japanese source, so it was said.

There was even some talk that the Apollo 13 mission carried a nuclear device aboard that could be set off to make measurements of the infrastructure of the moon and whose detonations would show on the charts of several recording seismographs placed in different locations. The unexplained explosion of an oxygen tank in the service module of Apollo 13 on its flight to the moon, according to rumors, was caused DELIBERATELY by a UFO that was following the capsule to prevent the detonation of the atomic charge that could possibly have destroyed or endangered some moon base established by extraterrestrials. Well, there was a lot of talk and there still is.

Perhaps we will find out why the moon may have been off limits to us to detonate such a device. We are going to find we are very much not alone.

It was also said that during their flights our astronauts frequently felt as if some external force were trying to take over their minds. They experienced strange sensations and visions. What seems almost certain is that some of the astronauts did have psychological problems and changes of personality after their missions in space. Some turned deeply religious, some seemed to develop mental trouble—facts that of course could be ascribed to pure coincidences without particular significance.

The experiments in telepathy carried out in space by some astronauts have been discussed and even published. Special symbol cards of geometric figures were used to transmit thoughts from the participant in orbit around the moon to the correspondent on the surface of the earth. Most of these experiments were successful, much more so than similar telepathic experiments conducted on earth, which generally had a lower score.

One of the astronauts who is yet doing research today is Apollo 14 Astronaut, Edgar D. Mitchell who heads the scientific INSTITUTE OF NOETIC SCIENCES to study further the issues of telepathy and other so-called paranormal research which, we are finding, is not so paranormal. [END QUOTING OF PART ONE]

I choose to end this particular segment right here because the NEXT subject person referenced is GORDON COOPER, pilot of Mercury 9 in 1963 and of Gemini 5 in 1965. I want to tell you a little story about this man and his effect on Dharma. He won't know this but back at the time prior to her writing the little movie "treatment" called Sipapu Odyssey a man entered her life by the name of Jerry Popper. We will not belabor this tale but Jerry had worked on a project concerning filming of some Tesla material (black boxes) and so too was Gordon Cooper working on that project. Gordon Cooper personally gave a "silver medallion" copy of CONTACT WITH PLEIADES to Popper. Years later when he met Ekkers he was working on the project revolving around a possible project with Ekkers and "Little Crow" of the Lakota.

This gets more interesting because he dug out the Volume I picture book from deep in his closet to share the pictures. It became of total interest and many things came from that connection; however, several other things continued to occur along the roadway which followed. Not the least of these incidents was that this was a one-time edition which was not able to ever be replaced. It was on loan when the Ekkers moved to Tehachapi and guess what? Mr. Green had been involved in that book in a most negative manner. Moreover, the original book ended up missing after Mr. Green visited. Later, seminar attendees to Mr. Green's lectures said he said that he had an original book INSCRIBED BY GORDON COOPER. Now, you put the possibilities together, readers, and you might concur with us that a LOT of strange things took place. It was most expensive and terribly embarrassing to have to replace the volume with a substitute no longer of value, personally, at all. This is the same Green who is helping Mr. Horn destroy the Ekkers in a case involving a non-sale of property BEFORE GREEN EVEN KNEW THE EKKERS. IS THERE SOMETHING WRONG WITH THIS PICTURE? WHAT MIGHT THAT WRONG PICTURE REPRESENT? IS MR. GREEN ACTUALLY, AS TOLD TO US, AN AGENT FOR THE ADL B'NAI B'RITH? IS HE JUST A FOOL? HE IS CERTAINLY A THIEF OF GOLD AND PROJECT PROPOSALS. SO WHAT CAN HE ACTUALLY DO? EVERY NASTY THING HE CAN CONJURE! HE REPRESENTS THE VERY ENTITY WHICH IS AND HAS BEEN DESTROYING YOUR GLOBE SOCIALLY AND PHYSICALLY. DOES HE EVEN

BELIEVE IN UFOs? OF COURSE, HE HAS SEEN THEM AND WILL BE THE FIRST TO TELL YOU SO.

Just last week the Ekkers were smugly sent a brand new catalog from America West Distributors. It is noted that they still carry many of the books PUBLISHED with funds from the Phoenix Institute as "borrowed" from the Institute. These are NOT journals but rather Dr. Coleman's Conspirators' Hierarchy, etc., a tale of Bush, Immaculate Deception (This one just ripped off the authors and not the Institute.), Violet Flame meditations, Bridge to Infinity and several others—BUT THE INSTITUTE PAID FOR THE PUBLICATIONS OF WHICH HE TOOK THE RIGHTS. The most atrocious in his circle might well be the usurpation of Dolores Cannon's fine works on Nostradamus.

Dr. Coleman's book was partially typed by Dharma, and Janice Jaffee, who was working here with the Institute structure, retyped it, and the editors of the journals and CONTACT did all the editing and layout [see box below for ordering books directly from Dr. Coleman]. Dr. Coleman was not even GIVEN a customary box of books. And readers, THIS is the quality of persons (Green's Brigade) aiding and abetting Steven Horn in his all-out assault against two old people still struggling just to find a bit of justice in the now defunct and corrupted judicial system. Is Mrs. Green, Desirée, a party to this? How could she NOT BE? She still shows as "distributor" and still writes letters to further hide the misdeeds which continue to this very moment. Does this make the books they distribute somehow untrue? Of course not—get with knowing the difference, readers! Truth flows as well as lies from evil—so don't be silly in your discernment. Just as you must test your receivings against that which you KNOW IS TRUTH, you must allow all the input you can gather to allow for judging works and presentations. The most important books ever written are by EUSTACE MULLINS, and America West Distributors handles some of those volumes [buy direct from Eustace Mullins see box at left]. You won't get much of a discount for prices, though, I can promise you, from that source of distributors. There is also possibility of getting copies of the first 50 or so "journals" from them although there is no reference longer in the catalog. They should still have about 110 thousand copies, although at their last accounting in court they say they only have 40,000. A big difference in then and now? Who knows? Well, I guess The Shadow knows. I suggest the paper run the contact information for some of the books offered are hard to find in book stores and you might be interested. I find they follow CONTACT with great detail and offer many of the books we recommend or endorse. They won't yet, however, have this one. I am sure they will make every effort now, however, to get a corner on it somehow, if for no other reason than to keep it out of circulation. No, 'tis true, readers, I really do not like these people AT ALL and love has nothing to do with it. I despise evil but I don't waste my time in hate so don't even entertain such a thought as to my feelings. The more difficult they make our task, the more the truth will be noted. So be it and good morning.

Diagnosis: Cancer

Seeking Alternative Therapies

South Of The Border

4/11/96 RICK MARTIN

Cancer is something that always happens to someone else. But when it strikes closer to home, panic sets in. Denial is common. Anger is almost a certainty. Acceptance of a "higher plan" is seldom the first response. In the Fall of 1995, my mother, Zita Morris, was diagnosed with breast cancer. By all externals she appeared to be the picture of vitality and health, attributable in large part to the daily regime of exercise, diet, vitamins and health products. When she became aware of a lump in her breast a year previous, she tried to "will it away" through sheer determination. When the lump ultimately grew to larger than golf-ball size, she finally acknowledged to herself and me, "We have got to DO something!"

After a mammogram, a biopsy was performed and back came the diagnosis, as feared: cancer. An operation was immediately scheduled by the doctor, and we would find out later that the operation room had already been reserved at the time of the biopsy, so sure was the doctor of the test results. And so, in November of 1995, my mother underwent a radical mastectomy of her right breast and a good portion of the lymph system on that side. "It was a clean operation. It looks like we got it all," came the doctor's response immediately following surgery. The surgeon was absolutely professional, kind, and thorough.

The next step in the process was for Zita to be referred to an oncologist (cancer specialist) to continue in the evaluation of her ongoing medical condition. Additional tests, of course, were ordered, including drinking a radioactive dye prior to receiving what amounted to a full body scan—a test that does prove to be extremely diagnostically useful, though thoroughly unpleasant. And then there were the blood tests.

Finally, an appointment was made with the oncologist to review these test results. I attended the first and second appointments. (What would you do?) The oncologist was a kind, soft spoken man who was anorexic, pale as a ghost and looked like he was knocking on heaven's door. He very carefully went over the data, indicating that it appeared the cancer had spread to the bone. He warned us of the implications of breast cancer in the bone, which, as we understood it, is technically different from bone cancer. We were informed that, in the former, the bones become extremely brittle and are subject to shattering with the slightest wrong move, which then complicates things tremendously. We were told that the progression of the disease was paralysis, then eventual and, unfortunately, painful death. Chemotherapy was stated as my mother's ONLY viable option for arresting the disease. He was not forceful, merely matter-of-fact about how this disease proceeds once in the body. He indicated that Zita has something in her blood which he referred to as "markers", which would allow him to observe if chemotherapy was having an effect. We never really did understand what the term actually meant.

When I asked what the prognosis would be if Zita did nothing, he said very quietly and somewhat reluctantly, that "without chemotherapy she will not be around in five years, nor will she be around in three years; in fact," he said, "she won't be around in two years."

With all of this said, chemotherapy seemed like the only option in the world, as contrary as it was to everything we knew, felt and believed. He confided in us that about half of his patients elect not to proceed with chemotherapy. He spoke about Zita receiving a surgical implant in her front, right shoulder area which would allow for regular chemotherapy injections into a main vein going directly into the heart, which would prevent the burning and eventual collapse of the veins in her arms.

We then took a tour of the chemotherapy ward and saw the now comfortable and humane setting for the introduction of "strong medicine". Not all patients lost their hair, we were assured. Some looked as if life had long since stopped having meaning.

Depressed and shaken by this latest news, we left the doctor's office not knowing where to turn next.

If you ever find yourself in this situation, one thing you can count on FOR SURE: everybody you know will have an opinion about it. The question remains, what is right for you?

We had heard about a program in San Diego where, for two or three weeks, a person could detox, through the use of colonics and a very limited diet of only fresh, uncooked vegetables (no seasoning) and wheatgrass juice. Off Zita went to San Diego's Optimum Health Institute at 6970 Central Ave., Lemon Grove, CA 91945, (619) 464-3346. While at the Institute, Zita met many, many people who had come to the Institute AFTER receiving chemotherapy. Many had come from one or several of the alternative Mexican clinics, having hopped from one to another seeking treatment, seeking "cure". No one that Zita spoke with felt enhanced by chemotherapy—most were merely trying to detox from it. This feedback reassured her that her refusal of chemo was the right choice.

After her stay at Optimum Health Institute, Zita made arrangements for a local physician to obtain her records since it is always good to keep your options open. And so there was some additional blood work, always the blood work. The results? The cancer "markers" had more than doubled since Zita's last appointment. But what exactly were markers? We never really did get a satisfactory answer. Some seemed to think it was the body sluffing off or eliminating, cleansing itself after the extensive cleansing program she had just been through.

In the weeks that followed, I made many phone calls and sent out letters. I began collecting brochures and information on all the so-called "alternative" therapies I could lay my hands on. Before long I had a stack of documentation a foot high, and the realization set in that I still didn't know which was valid. And so, frustrated, I set them all aside for another day.

Then, coincidentally, a couple came to visit who had traveled the world for 30 years investigating alternative health treatments, particularly cancer treatments. These beloved CONTACT readers were in the business of KNOWING who is good and who is not, who heals, and who merely strips the bank account. And so, very carefully, we found ourselves on my living room floor pouring over that stack of alternative treatment facilities. They were absolutely clear about one thing. They said that there was one man who stood head and shoulders above the rest for cancer or terminal illness treatment—namely, Dr. Richard Schultz. Interestingly enough, I had received information on Dr. Schultz from three different sources, all in the previous two weeks. All roads were leading to Dr. Schultz. No longer in practice, thanks to the FDA, Schultz now offers SUPER QUALITY formulas, herbs, and tinctures through his American Botanical Pharmacy, P. O. Box 3027, Santa Monica, Calif. 90408-3027, (310) 453-1987. Dr. Schultz is also associated with the American Institute for Natural Healing, P. O. Box 3628, Santa Monica, CA 90408, (310) 576-6565, where training is offered in the form of home study courses using video tapes of his treatment methods. More on Schultz later in this article.

Right here I want to mention an organization that was absolutely the most helpful as a resource for alternative cancer treatments: the Cancer Control Society, 2043 N. Berendo St., Los Angeles, CA 90027, (213) 663-7801. If you send them $10 or $15, they will send you an entire kit of resource materials, including lists of doctors in the United States and Mexico, book lists and reference materials, and people to talk with. They will also provide information about actual tours of the alternative Mexican clinics. All in all they are an excellent resource for information.

Then we entered into a discussion of the Mexican clinics, specifically referring to the clinics in Tijuana. While some were good, the cost is generally $10,500-$15,000 for a four week stay, and most gave each patient the same prescription regime. There was, however, one doctor in Tijuana who stood out as the genuine article—a real physician who was in the business for the right reasons, namely, healing. We made a note of this man's name and tucked it aside as our ace in the hole. Little did we know that we would have to play that ace sooner than expected.

In March, 1996, stoic by nature, Zita seemed to be experiencing a great deal of pain and was even beginning to walk with a limp. Finally admitting to me that something was wrong, we decided to take some immediate action! Pulling out the doctor's name in Mexico, I made the call. An appointment was set. He agreed to see us right away. We made reservations at a motel he recommended, which had also been recommended by the earlier mentioned, well-informed couple who assisted us in discerning quality health practitioners. This motel, literally right on the border to Baja (Tijuana), is called the International Motor Inn, 190 East Calle Primera, San Ysidro, Calif. 92173-2901, (619) 428-4486 and they specialize in cancer patients, offering shuttle bus service to the various "alternative" clinics in Tijuana. Rates are reasonable (approximately $40 a night) and the staff are helpful.

Once at the border, prior to going into Tijuana, we met many people at the motel who were being treated at one or another of these clinics. We were somewhat surprised to see three separate Amish families from Lancaster, Penn. and from Indiana. One of the families had, as it turned out, been coming to Mexico for treatment of their daughter's brain tumor. This was a therapy that had been ongoing for three years thus far, and their daughter was still alive.

We spoke with one sage patient that first morning who said, "You know, people exhaust absolutely all options, including chemotherapy, before coming here and then they expect miracles. Do people die at these Mexican clinics? Of course! What do you expect. Do people survive? They sure do. Do people die in American hospitals?"

I spoke directly with patients from Alaska, northern Alberta, Canada, Wisconsin, Michigan, Florida, New Mexico and Arizona. Most had been given no time at all to live. Having started treatment in the Mexican clinics, most have been coming back for years now. Still alive. Most tried to recover from chemo. One of the common threads throughout all of Mexican clinics is BUILDING UP THE IMMUNE SYSTEM so the body can do its own work!

The doctor we had been referred to in Tijuana is Jeffrey Freeman, M.D., at the Europa Institute of Integrated Medicine. Information about the clinic may be obtained by writing to Dr. Freeman at P. O. Box 926, Bonita, Calif. 91908.

That first day we met with Dr. Freeman and his wife, Sonia Rodriguez, M.D., and they obtained a complete medical history. Dr. Freeman said to us, right up front, "I want you to understand something very clearly, I have not found a cure for cancer." He went on to add that some of the treatment modalities practiced at that facility were very effective in the alleviation of certain symptoms.

We were actually feeling guilty about all the time these fine doctors were willing to spend with us, which amounted to most of the day. By the afternoon they had diagnosed that there was metastasis (cancer) in Zita's lower right rib-cage area, which is why her side hurt so much. A treatment plan was developed which would take 10 days. Her specific treatment included treating her blood through the use of ultraviolet light. This was done by withdrawing approximately a quart of blood through an I.V., into a quartz crystal glass tube (flat), which sits atop an ultraviolet light machine (developed in Russia). The blood was then ozonated, treated with antioxidants, hydrogen peroxide, a drug known as chlordonate and then the blood was reintroduced to her body, again being treated with ultraviolet light prior to reentry. She also received I.V. amino acids, plus received electromagnetic therapy.

About half the way through the treatment program, the pain in her side subsided. Metastasis had settled in the fourth lumbar region of her spine, which had been giving her pain. Treatment continued as planned, with a slight increase in the use of chlordonate. When the 10-day treatment cycle was over, she wasn't "healed" but she certainly felt a lot better. Upon returning home, several people commented that she "glowed".

Upon our return, we continue to communicate with Dr. Freeman and Dr. Rodriguez.

Several weeks have passed since this clinic treatment. These last few days, Zita has been walking very "stiffly", deliberately, as if in pain, with a slight limp. Additional tests have been conducted, including a full bone scan. She received the devastating results of that scan. The cancer or metastasis has spread throughout her spine and rib-cage. She has a broken rib. The cancer is spreading aggressively and she is in extreme pain. There is so much pain and pressure from her spinal region that her legs give out from under her, so she is unable to walk. The few steps she is capable of taking are with both legs bent and the upper half of her body stooped over 90 degrees in front of her.

Yesterday we went to see the oncologist—not the same one we first met with, but the same office. Let's just say he was less than enthusiastic over the mention of the word Tijuana. He ordered an MRI (body scan), which fortunately was done the same day. He prescribed morphine for her pain, which has alleviated it only partially. Next week we will be receiving the results of the MRI and if it indicates that there is intrusion upon any of the spinal disks, surgery will likely be ordered. If surgery is not appropriate, radiation remains a viable option.

The doctor also prescribed tamoxifen, which is loosely described as "hormone therapy" but is technically referred to as an antiestrogen or antineoplastic drug. While the original oncologist did not prescribe this, even when asked about it, apparently the reason had to do with one of the other earlier tests performed on Zita. This new oncologist, however, indicated that the use of tamoxifen under certain conditions is a matter of some controversy and he happens to be of the school of thought that it DOES work. Therefore, we are pleased at that recent development.

We are utilizing the very best diagnostic tools available through M.D.s and Zita is keeping ALL of her options open concerning treatment.

The next step in attempting to overcome this vicious disease will be several fold, but certainly will include the use of Dr. Schulze's "incurables program".

Please understand, there are no guarantees when seeking ANY treatment for disease such as this. What will the outcome be? I won't hazard a guess. Zita has her affairs in order and we are taking it one day at a time, keeping the faith, utilizing whatever health tools are at our disposal or to which she is strongly drawn.

With regard to the Europa Institute of Integrated Medicine, I have never met more caring physicians. These people obviously are devoted to medicine and love their work.

Let's take a look at some of the information contained within their clinic's brochure, [quoting:]

You are an individual who takes the time to research your health care options. We at EIIM hope you will! Understanding you DO have options, and educating yourself in the process is actually the first step in taking an active responsibility in your treatment and recovery. We offer the most innovative and efficacious treatment protocols from among the most prestigious research institutions in the world, such as the Mayo Clinic, Stanford, and the best of the European scientific community. We at Europa Institute provide biologically and immunologically-based therapies for auto immune and degenerative disease. Our treatment protocols are impeccably documented, thus offering the most viable medical treatments available. Your "team" will consist of leaders in "cutting edge" European Biological Medicine, Immunology, Homeopathy, Naturopathy, Cardiology, Nutrition, and Psychoneuroimmunology. [Still quoting:]

HYPERTHERMIA FOR CANCER

Hyperthermia is the application of therapeutic heat to the center of tumors and cancerous areas. It is considered the 4th Modality (in addition to surgery, chemo and radiation). The core temperature must reach 41 degrees C or 106-112 degree F, and be maintained for approximately 1 hour. This is accomplished through the use of Microwave energy delivered via small diodes that attach to the area. It is painless. The number of treatments for Cancer depends on the severity of your case. The Cancer cells basically shrivel up and necrot, without harming healthy tissue surrounding it. We also use it as an adjunct to other therapies because of its ability to increase cellular porosity. This equipment is available in a few research centers in the U.S. and is only used with ionizing radiation or chemotherapy. MRI's, ultrasounds, X-Rays, etc. will be required to be brought to the evaluation. We will order them if you don't already have tests less than 2 months old.

For enlarged prostate, HYPERTHERMIA is designed to eliminate the need for traditional treatments such as a TURP (Trans Urethral Resection of the Prostate), and laser surgery. These older techniques have always required hospitalization under anesthesia, both of which are not without risks. The use of a water-cooled catheter similar to a common urinary catheter has the same shrinking effect and is, for the most part, available throughout the world. It has not been formally approved by the FDA in the United States, therefore only a few U.S. centers are offering this type of treatment for enlarged prostate. We're one of the few centers where this is commercially available in an office procedure.

Patients need to qualify by being examined and tested, including a PSA, TRUS (ultrasound) and blood chemistry (SMAC), which are covered on the U.S. side by most insurance plans. We need to determine what type of blockage is involved and rule out cancer (30,000 men in the U.S. die annually from prostate cancer). It's a fact that 1 out of 3 men over 50 will experience enlarged prostate. Hyperthermia gives a new lease on life and you no longer need to suffer or risk surgery and its complications. We prefer to do an entire program to eliminate the underlying cause, not just address the symptoms. [End quoting.]

While at the clinic, Dr. Freeman provided me with a series of technical, medical papers on the use of hyperthermia in the reduction of tumor cells.

BIOMAGNETIC/BIOELECTRIC/ POLARITY THERAPIES

Cellular polarity imbalances are factors in illness. Reestablishing proper polarity helps the cellular potassium/sodium pump, enzyme functions, antioxidant and bio-oxidative mechanisms and keeps foreign invaders at bay. Various equipment is used for this including the Pappas Polarity Machine, InductoMag Pulsed Magnetic Therapy, TDP Mineral Disk Lamp, Electro Accuscope, and Pap IMI Apparatus. ULTRAVIOLET LIGHT

Photophoresis/Photoluminescence (Ultraviolet Blood Irradiation)

We are one of only a few clinics using this therapy. This therapy entails drawing/pumping whole blood into a special imported quartz glass cuvette, passing it through a special imported U.V. light machine (we use a Russian machine) into an evacuated bottle, then reinfusing it. The actions noted to date include the following: It up-regulates cellular immune function similar to ozone therapy, but has different effects on reprogramming cellular receptor sites in autoimmune disease, allergies, etc., and does not have the free-radical generating potential as oxygen/ozone; It inactivates viruses and toxins directly and increases bodily resistance to them; It increases oxygen potential; It activates natural production of hormones/sterols and Vitamin D; It restores normal chemical balances in the blood and normalizes size, shape, and movement of dysfunctional misshapen lipid elements, and much more. UBI is an old therapy and has been in use in the U.S. since the 1930's but was "shelved" with the advent of antibiotics, since there's more money and less hassle in "giving a pill". We are the only facility in the Western U.S. doing this therapy. [End quoting.]

In William Campbell Douglass, M.D.'s book titled Into The Light—Tomorrow's Medicine, Dr. Douglass provides a fascinating historical retrospective of the use of ultraviolet light in the treatment of disease. He also explores thoroughly the present and future uses of this tremendously valuable modality. This is an excellent book, which I recommend. [Quoting a portion:]

The most appropriate name for light therapy is probably "photoluminescence". So extensive has the research been in this area, and so varied the researchers, that it has been called by several names. Among these are hemo-irradiation, photophoresis, photochemotherapy, photobiological therapy, photo-oxidation, ultraviolet blood irradiation, photon pump, and photodynamic therapy. These names are instructive in themselves, giving some idea of the scope and diversity of photoluminescent research in the past.

The word photoluminescence sounds mysterious and hi-tech, but it is an extremely simple, painless, and safe means of treating a patient. "Photo" refers to light, and "luminescence" refers to emission of light. Although this book deals primarily with the ultraviolet portion of the energy spectrum, other energies, from x-ray through infrared, and perhaps beyond, can be applied to the treatment of disease. Starting with UV light, we are opening a veritable cornucopia of therapeutic possibilities using the electromagnetic forces that surround us.

Ultraviolet light has been used in disinfection for many years and is, in fact, still used for that purpose. Any contaminated object, whether it be surgical instruments, bedding, room air, the human skin, or body fluids such as blood, can be cleansed rapidly of viruses and bacteria.

This killing of infectious organisms is a useful quality of ultraviolet light, but it is not as important as another capability of this remarkable part of the energy spectrum: the stimulation of the immune system and various enzyme systems.

When a small quantity of blood is treated through photoluminescence, an astounding thing happens. Through some mechanism that is not completely understood, the body's defenses are organized rapidly to destroy all invading organisms, whether viral, fungal, or bacterial. The immune system comes to life and rapidly brings the body back to a state of balance. [End quoting.]

With all of this said, let's hear from Dr. Freeman directly about his practice of medicine in Mexico.

INTERVIEW WITH DR. FREEMAN

The following is an interview with Rick Martin from CONTACT and Jeffrey Freeman, M.D., A.A.F.P. Dr. Freeman shares this clinic with his wife, Sonia Rodriguez, M.D., Carolyn Bormann, N.D., C.P. (Naturopathy), Betty James, M.D. (general medicine),

A r m a n d o Montanez, M.D., H.M.D., Arne Liss, Ph.D., Prof. Maria Eugenia Padilla Fuentes, and their recent addition, William Hitt, M.D., Ph.D. This interview was recorded on March 20, 1996 on location at their clinic known as the Europa Institute of Integrated Medicine at the Allen W. Lloyd Building, Ave. Pasoo, Baja California, Tijuana, #406, Suite 201 (2nd Floor), International Border Zone. Telephone 011 526 682 4902. As a side note, Dr. Freeman introduced hyperthermia to Mexico and it is reported that Europa is the only clinic with this (very expensive) and effective equipment. If you do decide to contact these good doctors, please let them know that you read about their clinic in the CONTACT.

Dr. Freeman: I'll give you a little point of view of why I founded this clinic. OK?

Being an American, married to a Mexican physician, I have, in effect, a vested interest in two worlds. I also am a graduate of a Mexican medical school. I have done post graduate work at the Baylor College of Medicine in Houston, Texas; again, two worlds. But there is a point to this. The point is that I was a little bit annoyed at seeing so many non-practitioners, so many people who really have not paid their dues to practice medicine—especially in Baja California and Mexico, practicing. I spent a lot of time getting educated and trying to do the best job possible in delivering health care. I regard this, as I've told you before, as a sacred mission, so to speak, because I regard the human body as a temple, a sacred temple—mine and yours. And when you encharge me with the care of it, I take that as a very serious charge. A man with the background and training, clinical training, maybe has some book knowledge of biochemistry, which is fine, but is not a clinician. A Ph.D. in philosophy is a wonderful thing but that doesn't make them a health care practitioner. I feel people need to be qualified and educated in the best areas of science possible, not just hire a few Mexican people that are not as adept, that they've got a few dollars to buy. That's not the way to do it.

As the result, there is in Baja California a stigma as far as medicine, as being the land of the phonies. Alternative medicine has got a lot of validity and is not phoney. There is a lot of room where decent, ethical practitioners can work. And that was my goal objective—to bring that to this part of this world and to remove that taint that some of these other people, without calling names, have put upon this land; and to bring a high level of medical care.

But at the same time, my personal philosophy was to practice medicine according to the dictates of my conscience and not the dictates of a bureaucracy. This place gave me the freedom to do that. Now, we developed this clinic, bringing to the public well-documented, well-researched points of views and philosophies. Not necessarily by me, by reputable investigative institutions such as the Mayo Clinic, Stanford, a whole slew of them all over the world. There is a place in Poland, a place in Germany, Israel, etc. I have documentation from all these places of higher learning, and this justifies my utilization of certain therapies when we see the indications for it. We don't practice cookbook medicine here; there are no recipes. The medicine is applied according to the needs of the individual in the disease process, after we make our diagnosis because again, if you can't identify the enemy, you can't attack them. So that's why I approach things in this manner.

Martin: Let's talk about some of your treatment modalities. I notice in reading the brochure on the Europa Institute of Integrated Medicine that you use machines, technology, treatment modalities from a variety of different countries, including Japan, Germany, Russia. Can you just speak about some of the different treatment modalities and how you arrived at those.

Dr. Freeman: I arrived at them based on—let's take cancer. There's a good one. Hyperthermia—I initiated hyperthermia in Baja California. First, with another institution, and when I found out that this particular individual was trying to dilute it, milk it for whatever it was worth, I brought it here and we try to give good, ethical treatments. Hypertherapy is used as an injunctive therapy in the United States for the treatment of cancer, so that you can utilize low-dose chemo and low-dose radiation as an injunctive therapy. And the goal objective is: tumor control without good tissue damage. After carefully researching it out, and doing a lot of reading, a lot of literature, and getting involved with some of the people—for example, there's a major institution not too far from here, University of Southern California (U.S.C.), there's a researcher, Dr. Peckeridge—in talking to these people, I initially brought the prostate machine. Recent articles in the newspapers indicate it melts down enlarged prostates of the elder gentlemen, so they can avoid surgery. That's not an FDA-approved procedure, currently. The original research was done by the Mayo Clinic. I brought that procedure here and I've been using it for three years, very efficiently. That's number one.

Then we got into—of course, hyperthermia works well with large body cavity tumors such as the thoracic cavity, the abdominal cavity, liver, lungs, etc. But the theory for the standing, without being adjunctive therapy, the biological rationale is very simple—it interferes with the S-phase of the mitotic process which is the process whereby all cells replicate themselves. So, if we can interfere in this, two sources of energy, which is microwave energy and heat, we can invalidate the tumor's ability to grow, and good tissue is not damaged because it has good circulation and it cools down rather rapidly. Now, the Japanese recently came up with a publication that, I found out, if you stimulate as an adjunctive to hyperthermia, tumor necrosis factor, which is an immunological component, you will get a thousand percent better cytotoxic effect on the tumor cells. This is very significant because this is the body's immune system which can destroy tumor cells. So, we utilize that but instead of applying tumor necrosis factor, we apply our biological product from Germany which stimulates the production in the body, naturally, of tumor necrosis factor and we're getting very good results—significant results, to say the least.

Martin: And what exactly is that?

Dr. Freeman: That's a product called Purstulus [phonetic spelling], and it's a biological product made up by a laboratory. The formulas come from Germany. Pyro-immune stimulants, you might call them. OK? Or, biological response modifiers, is another way to phrase it. We utilize that.

Martin: I noticed you are using ultraviolet. Let's talk about ultraviolet.

Dr. Freeman: Ultraviolet light, another name for it could be photophoresis. Dr. William Douglass talks about it extensively in his book Into The Light. It's an excellent modality. It's another adjunct to our degenerative disease treatments because it has a lot of value. One of those values is that it is a fantastic antiviral. This, incidentally, goes back; this is not a new therapy. This has been established as being utilized in pneumonias before the onset of antibiotics, but what happened is: the antibiotic industry came on very strongly and, of course, organized medicine shelved it. It's not an illegal procedure, it's actually an FDA-approved procedure. It is used extensively, because of Russia's economy, I imagine, I'm not quite sure—antibiotics were a scarcity—they put this into utilization in the hinterlands and have gotten very good use. The documentation is fantastic. Actually, much of the documentation with some gastrointestinal diseases such as peritonitis, etc., other infectious problems, hepatitis and other viral problems, has been well established by investigators in the United States, by a Dr. Miley, back in the '40s. Interestingly enough, I came across a textbook which I'd like to show you, a textbook of immunology for medical students. I got it in a used bookstore at U.C.S.D. And, by accident, there's a whole section on the value of ultraviolet irradiation of the blood that they were teaching to medical students back in the '60s. Of course, this is a European book, it actually comes from England. But nevertheless, being documented as a textbook for students makes that, for me, a significant piece of literature and explains the mechanisms or actions and so-forth, and why it works. It is well-established in the area of immunology that this is a valid modality, stimulating, at times, interferon or the production of interleukin 2, which are the factors in the immune system that elaborate some of the T-cells, especially T-4 cells.

Martin: Now, there are those who would say that the pharmacological industry in America has a vested interest in seeing that these types of treatment modalities are not being used and are applying undue pressure to the AMA directly. Do you think that is valid?

Dr. Freeman: No, I don't think it's valid because ANY MODALITY THAT IS GIVING YOU BETTER HEALTH CARE, WHICH IS LESS TOXIC, SHOULD NOT BE SUPPRESSED—IT SHOULD BE ENHANCED! Just the contrary, more research should be done on it.

Martin: So, it is your view that there are suppressed treatment procedures in America?

Dr. Freeman: Well, suppressed isn't exactly the right connection. I don't like to knock. I think what they do is, they just don't put any emphasis on it by saying that they are valid or good modalities. So, they sort of put them on the side, they are put aside, very generally, so they're not competitive. Now, I don't know what the powers are that do this—I just have conjecture about that. But I do know the modalities work. The oxygen-carrying concentrate is significantly increased with the ultraviolet light. Of course, we add to that by using intravenous ozone in the form that the Europeans have been using for fifty years, which is also a great sterilizer, antiviral, antifungal, and antibacterial agent. So we find we are getting extremely good results with Chronic Fatigue Syndromes that are secondary to Epstein-Barr viruses and other viral components.

Martin: Now, there are those out there who would play devil's advocate and say that America has the best medicine available and all Third World countries, including Europe, are way behind the times medically and that these other treatments are just antiquated. How would you respond to that?

Dr. Freeman: Look, I'm an American. I don't want to make any mistake about that. I had training in the United States, and without a doubt the technology and the education is very good. BUT, there is a certain level of bureaucracy that exists that closes doors to new techniques and new approaches. And that's how I would answer that. And, I think that we could all learn. We need to keep an open mind that science is such a dynamic and changing subject that we need to keep an open mind to see that there are other means to accomplish healing.

I'll give you a good example—immunology, which is probably, for me, the future of medicine of pure and certain autoimmune diseases. How old do you think that material is? In 1896, a Russian immunologist by the name of Minor, I think his name is, I'm not pronouncing it, but anyway, he first brought out some of the theories that are basic to immunology. That's less than a hundred years ago. It's just come into its own in the forties. It's a new subject, relatively speaking. Textbook literature is coming out about different areas of autoimmune diseases and the immunological basis of tumors and so forth and so forth. So, we're dealing with new material. We're accepting that. Why? Because we're not interfering in a certain level of economics, I think. We're privileged to have one of our country's really fine immunologists as an affiliate of our clinic, William Hitt, M.D., Ph.D., who is a former professor at Johns Hopkins and Louisiana State University and, I think, that puts us one up on things in the kind of medicine that we do here.

Martin: As we talk with Dr. Hitt later we'll get into this more, but can you just comment on your treatment modality for substance dependency?

Dr. Freeman: Yes. What I use is an enzyme called [DPN] diphosphopyridine nucleotide; this is nothing new. This is a step—let's take alcohol, for example. In the metabolism of alcohol, the liver, where all of this takes place, when you break down alcohol, ethanol, the alcohol, plain whiskey, you build up a metabolic by-product called acetylaldehyde. Acetylaldehyde is a toxic substance to the nervous system and it causes cravings, because it's painful, frankly. So you need to do something to remove that pain. So what do you do? You drink more so you can go into a state of unconsciousness. Unfortunately, if you get too much acetylaldehyde, another step would be isoquinelons [phonetic spelling] which are really super-toxic, and subsequent death, if you ingest too much alcohol. And the reason for that is because there is a step missing. The step is this enzyme which controls the velocity of the metabolism of this, so you don't remove acetylaldehyde quick enough and that step is this [DPN] diphosphopyridine nucleotide. We remove that by supplementing this.

Now this is something that was researched out at the Schick/Schatil Institute in the state of Washington—many, many investigative studies have been done on this. As a matter of fact, millions of dollars were spent. The technique was taken to South Africa where I subsequently got it from one of the forensic psychiatrists who used it for over fourteen years in South Africa. It worked very well. Combined with what Dr. Hitt does with his amino acid therapies, with this and that, we have the answer to multiple addictions. I'd like him to explain it, since he is the expert in it; it's a neurotransmitter approach which is excellent. I think we have an excellent program. It's a physiological approach to addictions. The Betty Fords and all of these institutions that have good programs, I don't think address the physiological needs of the individual, but they are real. And there is a hereditary relationship, as well.

Martin: And what is that relationship, as you see it?

Dr. Freeman: Well, I think they are missing this link, this step; those people who have this addictive problem for alcohol, particularly the Orientals—they've discovered that they do, due to a "rites of passage" that they have—the Japanese drink to prove their manhood. Some of the young men were drinking to the point of intoxication, therefore, it was discovered that this step is missing to control the velocity of their metabolism, the speed at which they metabolize the alcohol and they don't get out enough acetylaldehyde; the subsequent isoquinelon build-up was toxic. So, this seems to be true in some of the other people that come from that particular genetic pool—Eskimos, some American Indians, I guess—true in a little different respect.

So, we have to say there is a genetic link there, that they are not metabolizing at the same rate. And what we do with our difosfopiridien nukleotide and diphosphopyridine nucleotide is to normalize that velocity, that metabolism.

Martin: And why is this not done all across the country?

Dr. Freeman: It hasn't been approved by the FDA, yet. First of all, I don't think they are that aware of it. Researchers are aware of it. There is a Blum at the University of Texas who has written around this; a Dr. Jeffrey Bland has written around this—he's an Australian researcher. Even the United States Government has written around this—they published a recent study on alcoholism and all the ramifications. They can identify it because it is basic biochemistry, but nobody calls it out and says, "This is what it is." That's the problem.

Martin: Let's get back to talking about medicine as practiced in the United States vs. practicing in Mexico, because what most people will want to know is: Why would a U.S.-trained medical doctor come to Mexico to practice medicine?

Dr. Freeman: As I stated before, FREEDOM; freedom to practice medicine according to the dictates of my conscience and the science that I have read and can apply clinically, as opposed to—because everything I do in the United States is subject to peer review, peer control, and they may not be as well versed in the area that I am interested in. I may be applying research to clinical medicine, and some gentleman that has spent 30 years applying penicillin injections, a few antihistamines for flu, is satisfied as he makes his $25 fee or whatever it may be in his office, and all of a sudden he is the one that is saying to me, "He is not practicing according to the standards of the community. He is using an ultraviolet light; what is that? I don't know that but that's not my standard, and I'm the community." I don't want to be subjected to that kind of nonsense.

Martin: One thing that is very obvious to me, coming down here, is that...

Dr. Freeman: Non-consensus medicine...

Martin: ...there is a tremendous lack in traditional medical practice in America when throngs are flocking from Canada, I notice, and throughout the United States, to the border of Mexico to get their treatment for cancer. Something is terribly wrong and it is an indictment against traditional medical practice when, in traditional oncology diagnosis, chemotherapy and radiation are the ONLY answers that are explored, without educating the patient and without offering viable alternatives to build the immune system.

Dr. Freeman: Well, the American system seems to be such that the physician is the omnipotent ruling power. He has got the ultimate word. For example, Taxal, which is a derivative of a Yew tree from the jungles—after many years of research proved to be modestly effective in cancer, how many years did it take for the American physician community to accept this? And still, it is very difficult to get an oncologist in the states to give it. We are dealing with a sick population, people with cancer, who are desperate. They have no real answer, except to be burned, mutilated, and made terribly toxic with the treatments, more so than the disease. Where is the quality of life that we can talk about? It doesn't exist when you are a cancer victim, unfortunately, if you're in the American system.

Martin: I've spoken with a number of people in the last two days who were given from anywhere from two months to nine months to live, and in various cases, that was five or ten years ago—they have been coming down here for repetitive treatments at one or another of the various clinics and they are all living, healthy examples of how wrong diagnosis can be.

Dr. Freeman: It also brings us to the question of, let us take prostate cancer, where there is some doubt about it. If you did nothing, how long would the survival rate be? Don't treat some of them. Now, I'm not advocating that, there is some controversy about that.

Martin: Let's talk about Saw Palmetto. What do you think about Saw Palmetto as a treatment.

Dr. Freeman: Enlarged prostate?

Martin: Yes.

Dr. Freeman: Well, Saw Palmetto, which is an herb, has a great deal of validity based upon clinical observation with an enlarged prostate. Now, I'm not going to recommend this for a cancer or anything as deadly as that. But, to remove some of the symptomatology of a gentleman that wakes up at night, it's a palliative treatment. It gives you some temporary amelioration of the problem which is the diminished urine stream, the frequency, the waking up in the middle of the night five and six times. But it is not the answer, there are much better things on the market. These things have to be taken in perspective and, if you have these problems, it is a good hint to go in and get yourself examined by a physician; get some definitive treatment. Not necessarily because it is such a problem to have an enlarged prostate. An enlarged prostate is annoying, to say the least, and it certainly is not deadly—it's an aronoma, that's why it's called benign, not a carsoaronoma, there is a difference. The carsoaronoma is the malignancy. So, Saw Palmetto, for those who can afford it or that want to get some safe, rapid amelioration of the symptomatology, I agree, it's good. We use it as maintenance here.

Martin: I know that all of our readers are going to want to know because they've read a little bit about it in the last few weeks' CONTACT, let's talk about Laetrile. You referred to it in the last few days as the fourth protocol. What did you mean by that?

Dr. Freeman: I don't know if I actually said "fourth protocol", but it is certainly a modality that has been used in Baja California. When it came out, good quality Laetrile has shown some good clinical results in cancer treatment, combined with other things. As a stand-alone therapy, I'm not 100% in favor of it.

Martin: When you say good quality Laetrile, what do you mean? How can the quality of Laetrile vary?

Dr. Freeman: The manufacturers of Laetrile have made some of second-rate quality in this area. I do know that German Laetrile is considered to be the much, much more superior than the Mexican, at this point in time. But I am not here to criticize the manufacture of Laetrile. I think that has since been rectified and they are now putting out a better product. But there are ways to produce anything—if you cheapen it, you don't get as good a product. It's quality control. But you have to be careful when you utilize any of these alternative products. Don't grab at it just because somebody put a label on it, is what I'm saying.

Martin: So you really think Laetrile has been over emphasized?

Dr. Freeman: I haven't, personally, in the alternative treatments for cancer, seen the most efficacious results that I would like to see with a product. As much publicity as Laetrile has gotten over the years, of course, it was before my time when it really got the better results, I think it was probably in the time when Dr. Harold Manner was alive, who was one of the primary movers of Laetrile.

Martin: You notice Laetrile is not available in the United States.

Dr. Freeman: No, and it hasn't been. And because of some of the lack of quality control—it comes from other parts of the world, Mexico, maybe, and then of course you get a different product from Germany. We don't use it. To put this thing in its proper perspective, proper research needs to be done on it that is well financed, not by a private company but by independent researchers perhaps through a school or university. I think that would be the more—rather than criticize it and say it's no good, let's get somebody to do it, if it hasn't been done, and let's see some publications on it. That's my opinion.

Martin: Let's talk a little about ozone.

Dr. Freeman: Ozone, I use it, very aggressively because of its beneficial effects on the body. As I described before, enhancing some of its oxygen-carrying capacity of the red blood cells is there. It is also good for cardiovascular problems, infectious processes, particularly viral problems. It has been used and well established in Germany and other parts of the European theater, for more than 50 years. There are textbooks on it, which I have. You should see some of the amazing results I've gotten with stasis ulcers. Stasis ulcers are those terribly nasty things that never heal on your legs, secondary to the varicose veins. These ulcers that people carry around for years and the only alternative open to them is that they have to have skin grafts. Well, frankly, I just had a gentleman in his 80s, a former airline pilot, had walked around with this thing for two years. He now has new baby skin growing there. There is another gentleman that I have who lives not too far away, same problem. He's been clear of his ulcer for the last two years, and the basic thing that turned it around was the ozone. One, it purified and sterilized the wounds, and it aided in the healing and the scarring and the growth of new skin tissue there. It really works well. Our techniques are a little bit different, with bags, and so forth.

Chlordronate is used for bone cancer, used very successfully in the European countries. I think it's Norway, Scandinavia anyway, in bone cancer, to prevent reabsorption of calcium so that you don't get further deterioration of the bone. Chlorphosphanate is well established. As a matter of fact, there are a variety of these used in the United States. There's another product on the market that, the commercial name is Eradia [phonetic spelling], it is similar to a biphosphonate, except it has a slightly different structure in the biochemical complex but it does do the same thing and it has been known to be fairly effective. I don't know if it has been totally cleared by the FDA for that indication yet. But, I've used it and it works. We alternate between Chlordronate and Eradia, which is the product I just talked about. These things do work to prevent reabsorption. They don't use them clinically that frequently in the United States. Didronel is the one they do use. It's not quite as effective.

Martin: A lot of the clinics down here, from what I understand, basically offer a standard menu prescription to all patients entering their facility. Can you talk about, from a diagnostic standpoint, treating cancer or related ailments, across the board, with...

Dr. Freeman: Cookbook medicine?

Martin: Yes.

Dr. Freeman: Sure I can talk about it. I think that is because most of these people are businessmen, policemen, ex-whatever they might be, and not medical people, not physicians. Not even remotely related to physicians, or scientists. But they think they can take a patent formula and apply it to the total population. WRONG! Wrong, wrong, and terrible. It's an abomination and its a disgrace, in my opinion. How can you just say, to somebody who walks in, let's take Chronic Fatigue as an example. "I feel tired." So, up comes some character who says, "Well, you take a little of this, a little salt and pepper, a little soya, and we'll get a good formula and we'll cook it up and see how you do." Does that make sense to you? Instead of saying, "What is causing your feeling tired? Is it a virus? Is it a bacteria? Is it an anemia?" What if the man had a dreadful anemia? I don't say that all of them do such terrible medicine, that they don't do any basic lab work because most of them do—because they do hire Mexican medical doctors, and some of them are very conscientious. But because of the economy of the organization, they are fast to apply the therapies of this individual who sits off in some distant place and dictates, "I want this formula applied because that's what the man paid for—my therapies." Who is this jerk who is applying these therapies? Why is he doing this? What are his qualifications? Because he sticks his name on it and says, "I am a healer"? That is not the way it works, I'm sorry. That's as dreadful as some of the systems are in the United States, playing God again. We can't do that.

Medicine, as I said, is a very sacred area of endeavor and it has to be regarded as such. I'm dealing with your life. Would you put your life in the hands of any nut that just says, "Take this." You want to know, what is his background? What is his standard? What is the justification for applying this? Have you seen his credentials? At least look at the guy's pedigree, that is the least you're owed. I don't say that the degree is what makes the individual. There are individuals with degrees that are also unethical, lowdown, disreputable people, but at least it gives you a parameter to start from. See what the man's background is to dictate to you what you should put in your body.

Martin: Yesterday I overheard some discussion about cancer being a virus. Let's talk about that.

Dr. Freeman: That's why I used some of the therapy. There is a good deal of theory about them being retroviruses. There is an origin, that certain cancers, not all of them, certain tumor cells definitely have an immunological basis and could be retroviral provoked. Therefore, the application of some—for example, some of the sarcomas have pretty much have been proven in mice to be of viral origin. As I say, this is experimental, in the lab. And some of these theories are not—but there are some real relationships in the immunological and genetic basis of certain tumors. Thus, to apply antiviral therapies to them seems to be rather logical. This is not all tumors, I must clarify that. This is only certain ones, and you have to identify the cell-lines to know what we're dealing with. There again, your diagnosis is extremely important. Does that mean you go out and get a biopsy on everything? Maybe yes, and maybe no. Everything is an individual thing. It has to be customized to the needs of the patient. It can not be just—I don't have a formula for anything. True we have certain parameters we work with, but that has to be tempered by the clinical criteria of the individual treated.

Martin: You are practicing here in Mexico, and I think in Mexico, as well as the Philippines and other places, there are a wide variety of healers, from psychic healers to the laying on of hands to shamans. Have you had any direct experience with any "fringe" healing methods?

Dr. Freeman: Shamans, no, though I know some. I've seen some interesting things that they do, I just know some of the Indian groups in the general area. And I've seen some interesting things. I don't use them here in my practice. But what I do see—the mind/body connection, I think, is extremely important. How do I put that into the perspective of science? We work with a psychologist that does psycho-neuroimmunology. That's basically, what he's doing is stimulating the mind to healing itself, healing the body. This is not quite so simple as that. Psycho-neuroimmunology is related directly to the immune system, but we notice a change in the immune system and the mental attitude of people. This is established medicine. But I do believe, sincerely, I've watched so many depressed patients. When I was in my residency, of course, I worked at Baylor, which is famous for its cardio-vascular unit. When we saw people who had critically bad hearts and you told them they only had so many days—if the doctor was so insensitive to say that, these people programmed themselves to die almost to the dot. This is a bit of an exaggeration, but it's not so far fetched. So, we find the mind and maintaining a positive attitude in dealing with who and what—light, hope and life is a key factor in getting well. I don't know whether that's shaman or what it is, but it's real, in my opinion.

INTERVIEW WITH DR. HITT

What follows is a brief interview with William Hitt, M.D., Ph.D., a recent addition to the Europa Institute of Integrated Medicine. This interview took place on location in Tijuana, on 3/29/96. Dr. Hitt, a U.S. physician and medical/scientific researcher, taught immunology at Johns Hopkins and Louisiana State University and Tulane. He is the founder of Allergy Control Group in Dallas and the Microallergy Clinic in Houston where over 10,000 patients have been treated for allergies. Dr. Bonin, a U.S. physician, discovered the treatment for alcoholism while practicing at the American Hospital in Paris, France in 1937. Over the years following World War II, Dr. Bonin treated hundreds of patients for alcoholism. In 1985, Dr. Hitt collaborated with Dr. Bonin on the medical efficacy of the treatment. Dr. Hitt confirmed that the neuroreceptors of the brain and the immune system are directly correlated to alcoholism. He expanded on Dr. Bonin's research to include effective treatment for drug addiction. Upon the death of Dr. Bonin in 1989, Dr. Hitt assumed the legacy and has dedicated himself to the research and treatment of alcohol and drug addiction.

Martin: I know that you are coming on board here for, is it primarily an alcohol treatment program?

Dr. Hitt: Well, I would not say primarily—drug and alcohol. But I consider alcohol a drug, and drugs a drug, also.

Martin: Let's start with your professional credentials.

Dr. Hitt: I have been affiliated with teaching at a medical school level and also, in research, for principally 40 years. I have owned my own immunology allergy clinics in Dallas and in Houston, that I owned for approximately 15 years. In 1982-1983, I met Dr. Wilfred Bonin of Houston who was doing the principal concept of the alcohol treatment that we're doing now. I worked with Dr. Bonin for a few years until his death. He died in 1989. Dr. Bonin was an internal medicine doctor and so, basically, he sought me out because of the fact that I was research-oriented and he had something that he just didn't know how it worked. Quite frankly, the timing of this was very unique because Blum, from the University of Texas, whom I had associated with, and Dr. Noble at U.C.L.A., had basically worked out a new concept that really what we were dealing with in alcohol and drugs was a genetic concept. And now, it looks as though, basically multiple addictions are that way. In 1994, the Nobel Prize for medicine was awarded on the substance called G-Protein. Basically, the G-Protein, actually I had to write this in for a newspaper because they didn't even know how to explain this in the paper. And even when I wrote this, it was a little too complicated to publish in the paper. But, the G-Protein is essentially a protein, a catalytic protein that works between the neuron and the neurotransmitter, basically converting and holds maybe the genetic coding of all addictions, and even compulsive/obsessive behavior. So, in a sense, you may have really an alcoholic father, a mother whose father was alcoholic, a child who may have a compulsive/obsession with gambling.

Martin: A direct link.

Dr. Hitt: Yes. And you can just crisscross these links, but almost all of these behavioral patterns will be compulsive.

Martin: How can you diagnose such a thing?

Dr. Hitt: Well, they are running—Blum and some of these other people now, have tests. The truth of the matter is, really, you're dealing with clinical history here. If someone walks in to see me and tells me, "I'm an alcoholic", I believe him. You know? If someone walks in and says, "I'm not an alcoholic", I might not believe them. You understand? But if someone walks in and says, "Look, I'm a compulsive gambler, I can't stay out of it, I can't keep from making bets," I believe him. Why would I not believe him? If someone says, "I'm anorexic, or I have bulimia," I'm not ever going to say, "Are you sure, now, are you really sure? Maybe its your thyroid." I believe what they are telling me because obviously the people will do almost anything to avoid telling you the truth about this. Bonin taught me that. I used to say, "How do you know that so and so is an alcoholic?" He said, "I ask him."

Martin: (Laughter.)

Dr. Hitt: It makes sense. When we get into the semantics of this thing though with somebody from—this will be a very common thing—some psychiatrist will say, "How do you know those 10 people were really alcoholics?" And I said, "Well, if they tell me they're alcoholics and they believe they have a drinking problem to the point that it is causing sociological problems and all kinds of problems", I would much rather err in treating one guy who thought he had a problem than not treating. Now, ironically, I have a psychologist that I've treated for addiction in drugs, but they kept trying to tell her that all of this was coming from the fact that her childhood, a disorientation of childhood, you know—everything from bed-wetting and thumb-sucking and all this sort of stuff—and not addressing the problem. What they were trying to do was make her, because of her knowledge of psychology, they didn't want her to feel, apparently, that she had a problem and she did. She was just as hooked as anybody else. She knew how to hide it.

Martin: Let's go back over your credentials.

Dr. Hitt: I have an M.D. in medicine, and also a Ph.D. that I got a few years later. Now, I've been working essentially as an immunologist. I do not have a degree in immunology. In fact, no degrees were even available until 1984-85. Now, allergists back in those days, I kind of worked in that area, call themselves immunologists but there was no degree in any medical school until, as I say, 1984-85.

Martin: Then you really did get in on the cutting edge of this field.

Dr. Hitt: Yes. We were the authors. So if in '85, '86 you went off to an immunology meeting and you saw some guy with a degree in immunology, he wasn't even shaving yet. But here were a bunch of old guys, 55 and 60 years old who had pioneered this.

My background was strictly in clinical research but then, all of a sudden, it wasn't fun and I just started wanting to put this into some kind of practical use. That's when I started in with five other medical doctors and we formed the Microallergy of Houston and in Dallas, and then I was starting to have a little more fun except that even that became routine. But when I met Bonin and I saw that he was onto something here, and Blum gave me the mechanism to go on with this, because I knew this was not just "Look, I'm going to tell you something and it is common sense." Let's just take two or three modalities of thinking. If you were dealing with a psychiatric problem and say a hundred people went to that psychiatrist for a psychiatric problem and out of that hundred people the psychiatrist got zero changed, you would say, undoubtedly—Let's look at homosexuality. If you try to convert a hundred homosexuals back to heterosexuals, you'll accomplish zero. Now, even a lousy psychiatrist, whatever the aberrancy was, you would expect them to at least get a few. And maybe they would only get 10% or 12%, but essentially that is what has been happening with alcohol and drugs [treatment]. They've been working on about a 10% or an 8% or a 7% level. If you don't believe me, ask the insurance companies because they have done all of these statistics and they have all of these people who have been in 15 or 20 different programs at $25,000 to $30,000 a program and the insurance company, after spending half a million dollars on the guy, has started to say, "Wait a minute. This is too much. This is ridiculous, nothing is working." And yet, on the other hand, these programs, what they were doing were literally, paying a finder's fee to get these people in there and paying 10% or 15% finder's fee to get the patient in. In most states, you could lock someone up for 30 days without their permission. You could get a guy in there and put him under lock and key for 30 days. But the only people they did that with were people with insurance. Now, insurance is not paying for this. What I was doing, I had to get a program that was accepted. Now, there was no way that I was going to go back to a bunch of psychiatrists who were already onboard on some kind of a program like this, and get any help from them. So I thought, "Where can I go to work on this program?" What did I need? What I needed were some drug addicts and some alcoholics. Any place you can find drug addicts and alcoholics is acceptable, but also, I was trying to finance most of this research from money that I had saved over a number of years, myself. And so, I went into Mexico City for two reasons. Dr. Comatti [phonetic spelling] and I were real good friends. He was an immunologist and he invited me in, and Dr. Valaquez Juarez, who was kind of the head of medicine in Mexico and had been the primary doctor for every President of Mexico, and Dr. Castellanos [phonetic spelling] who was a psychiatrist and even today is the psychiatrist for the presidential families. These people were helping me. And so, I was able to take a program through the Salubridad (the Mexican Department of Health, or FDA of Mexico) that would have taken me fifteen years in the United States. And, in fact, as you go into the Salubridad on any given day now, you'll find 5 agents from the FDA in there.

So, I went there for two reasons. Number one, at my age I would have probably never seen any program that I was doing come to fruition in the United States.

And secondly, I was working with the same type of patient, because an alcoholic patient in Mexico is no different than an alcoholic patient in the United States, and in Mexico I have treated now over 4,000 patients for alcoholism, and another 500 or 600 patients for drug addictions. I came here to Tijuana; we do have other branch offices in Mexico, other branch clinics.

Martin: And of all those you have treated, how successful have you been?

Dr. Hitt: In alcohol?

Martin: Yes.

Dr. Hitt: We have, right now, a going success rate of about 70%. This is contrasting to 7% or 8% from a Betty Ford, an Oceanica, or whatever type of program you're talking about. In Dr. Freeman's treatment, what you have to have, requires almost one full-time person to be checking up on these patients for the first two or three years in our research program. You have to be following up in order to be able to tell somebody how you're doing on your program. Obviously, when somebody fails they're probably not going to get in touch with you.

Martin: Let's say one of our readers out there has a drinking problem and they want treatment. They read about this. What could they expect and what kind of costs are involved?

Dr. Hitt: What I would want them to do, from my standpoint, and this is from what I've seen will work. Basically I would want to talk to them, I want to know if they have any other drug addictions. If they do, then I would probably want to combine my program in with Dr. Freeman's program, because his program works on the dehydrogenation of acetaldehyde, which is very important because that is more of a blanket type of thing. Eventually then, what I would want to do is, say, if they are principally alcoholic, then go in also with the amino acids, desensitize the neurotransmitter, so we don't have a dry alcoholic or somebody who, later on, is craving or something like that. Do you see? We've got to abolish the craving for the thing so that if they are in a bar or somebody offers them a drink—the craving, if it's not there, they don't have to take the thing. But if the craving is there, even though you've got the acetaldehyde blocked, they probably will take it, even at their own demise. You see?

Martin: Do you find many pure alcoholics?

Dr. Hitt: In Mexico. In Mexico almost everyone is pure alcoholic or a pure cocaine addict or something. In the United States—and that's why I came to Tijuana—obviously, you have more multiple addictions—but, depending upon the age of the patient that you're dealing with. If you get an older person, generally it is a single addiction. If you get a younger person, you're dealing quite frequently with multiple addictions. If you're dealing with Hollywood types, multiple addictions. So you've got to have different processes and that is why I'm here. To be honest with you, I came here because I had never—I had been reading a lot about crystal methamphetamine. Do you know, in all of the years in Mexico City, I've never seen one such person ever come in. Now, imagine, I've interviewed maybe 5 thousand patients and yet, not one person has come in and said, "Look, I'm hooked on crystal." So, I thought, "Well, I've got to go some place where there is some crystal." Because this is an important drug and I've got to make this work. Anyway, we have treated now maybe 30 crystal patients right here in Tijuana and, of them, all but one or two of them are alright.

Martin: That's amazing.

Dr. Hitt: With the crystal patients that we've treated here, though, all of them were single addictions.

Martin: I'm trying to let our readers know what all is being offered here, because there is so much not offered in the United States, as you know.

Dr. Hitt: Essentially, what I think we could do is a better job with any kind of compulsive/obsessive behavioral problem by the treatment modalities that we have here, than any other place. If I didn't, I'll be frank with you, at my age, at this point in my life, if I thought that somebody else had something that worked better, I would go to that. You can't fault an AA, you can't fault the Scripps programs, but on the other hand, they've been horribly unsuccessful. Let's be realistic. Now, for the few people that have made it through, God bless them. If you walked up to a cardiologist and he says, "I've got to do a double valve bypass." And you said to him, "What are my chances of making it?" That's what you're going to ask him. And he says, "Seven percent." I think you'll get up and walk out of there. And that's what these people have been up against. So, consequently, right now, nobody has any credibility. That's why if you go to an AA meeting and somebody says, "Where's Shorty?" "Well, Shorty went down to Charter and he's doing a 30-day hospital train." And everyone in there boos. They all start yelling, start booing, the fact that he went off to see a psychiatrist. And then, what does the psychiatrist do? When he finishes Shorty down at Charter, he dumps him back into AA. Because everybody is passing the buck. You understand? So, Shorty is getting ping-ponged around. Now, if he fails, and they get him out of Charter, he's been locked up there for 30 days. Then, they put him into AA and he fails in two weeks or three weeks. Then they just say, "Well, it was AA's fault."

Martin: But you're taking the biochemical approach.

Dr. Hitt: Yes. And, in fact, we're looking at it as a disease—and, in fact, AA says it is a disease, but we're looking at it and treating it as a disease. We're not treating it as psychological only. In other words, from a sociological standpoint, we're looking at this, basically, and we are the exemplar of the discourse. We are trying to say that the people who have been doing this are heretical and that we are changing, and this is a heretical discourse, and we're changing this concept. This isn't easy to do. If you've got the rooting in whatever your discourse is...

Martin: It's entrenched...

Dr. Hitt: Yes.

Dr. Freeman: What we have works.

Dr. Hitt: Right, what we have works. Essentially this is an outpatient modality, 10 days, which is not like a month or forty days. It's a program where a person can continue working. The woman I'm working on right now, she's going back to work after her first treatment.

Martin: Now, is this a $50,000 proposition or...?

Dr. Hitt: We're talking now down into realistic terms, where, if after a while, they start seeing the results of this, insurance companies should love us. What we would be talking about would be, on an outpatient level, is a $2,800 to $3,800 treatment, depending on whether they are having to use two treatments or one. If, on an inpatient basis, we could be talking about a $4,000 or $5,000 treatment, as opposed to $30,000 or $40,000 dollar treatment, or a $25,000, or whatever. It has got to be a lot less than anything else. Life is too short to work with something that doesn't work.

Dr. Freeman: Tell him about your other research.

Dr. Hitt: From a technical standpoint we know that there are immunomodulators, urinary immunomodulators. And anybody that knows anything about immunology knows that that can be removed from urine. We know the interferons, both gamma and some of the other interferons, we know the interleukins 1 through 16 can be removed from urine; we know, urea can be removed from urine and is used in many drugs. We know many hormones, Premarin is made from pregnant mare urine, that's where it gets its name and it is one of the biggest selling conjugated estrogens in the world. But, there are many immunomodulators in urine. And, there are also antigen receptors that can be collected from urine that can be removed, filtered out, and reinjected back into the same host. If you would take an antigen receptor, let's say for any antigen bothering an individual, say, olive trees. Or, say, rag weed, or pine trees, and inject that back into the host, the host will make an antireceptor antibody against that, so over a period of a few weeks, you can literally just cover the antigen receptors that are causing whatever the reaction is in that individual. You could do the same with shrimp, or dairy products, anything. There is really no reason for anybody to be allergic or showing chemical intolerance or food intolerance with that simple procedure. The other side of the coin is this: On the viral work we are finding now that virus predisposes many, many diseases. For example, virus predisposes now cytomegalovirus, or Epstein-Barr virus. Many of these, are, we know, the foundation of many things like Chronic Fatigue Syndrome. And many of these diseases have not been addressed very well but we're finding them. What happens is, they elude the immune system.

Martin: By hiding within the cell, usually.

Dr. Hitt: By hiding within the cell, exactly. And changing to where there is no antigen receptor so that they can be processed out and where an antibody can be produced to knock them out. So, consequently, what we have here is the ability to take this material, like the gamma interferon or gamma interleukin from that individual, inject it back into that individual to where it will keep these viruses from replicating.

Martin: Very interesting.

Dr. Hitt: I got a call from a doctor whose wife I'm treating in Phoenix, Arizona. This guy's wife is suffering from Chronic Fatigue for 20 years. For the first time in 20 years, she's starting to feel better. And she's been under this treatment that I sent over there with him for 10 days. I have a treatment that deals with knocking out virus using the person's own system and just backtracking the immune system. Obviously something had to go wrong in the immune system for this virus to get a hold. In other words, why didn't this virus make an antigen receptor to where it could go through?

You could say the same thing—why doesn't an AIDS virus? And yet, we know a lot more about it now, because we know, for example, interleukin 16 from the TH-cell will stop reverse transcriptase from having the same effect that it would under natural circumstances and so, therefore, a person could live without very many T-4 cells, if you can stop reverse transcription. If we can combine ultraviolet treatment, and some of these other, again, old, old, these things go way back.

Now, again, Dr. Freeman has the methodology to do these treatments better than they could be done than if somebody doesn't have the knowledge of how to do them. So, combining that with immunology, is the best of both worlds. [End of interview.]

OTHER MEXICAN CLINICS

Are there any other resources available to provide information about these "alternative clinics" in Mexico? Yes. In a just-published book titled Tijuana Clinics—Alternative Therapies—Hospitals and Medical Centers—Where and How to Go by Sally Wolper, you will find a fairly complete listing. This book may be purchased by calling (800) 231-1776 X 13. The cost is approximately $20 plus shipping. However, BE CAREFUL! Not all of those listed in this book are medical doctors. Shop around very carefully, and check out the credentials of those offering their services.

Information about tours of the Mexican clinics can be obtained by calling the National Health Federation at (818) 357-2181 or by calling the Cancer Control Society at (213) 663-7801.

Two of the best known of the alternative cancer clinics are: American Biologics and the Hospital Ernesto Contreras. For information about American Biologics, you may write to their national headquarters at AB-Mexico, 1180 Walnut Ave., Chula Vista, Calif. 91911, (800) 227-4458, or within Calif., (619) 429-8200.

Hospital Ernesto Contreras, write to: 2505 Congress St., Suite 120, San Diego, Calif. 92110, (800) 700-1850.

Remember, buyer beware when seeking alternative treatment modalities.

Are there holistic, alternative dentists in Tijuana? I am told that there is one who is excellent, namely, Javier Morales, D.D.A., Multualismo 1217 (corner of 6th St.), Tijuana, B.C. Mexico, phone 001-52-66-883242.

I have also been referred to another dentist, not so alternatively oriented, named Dr. E.R. Herrera, in the same building as Europa Institute of Integrated Medicine, phone (619) 585-0084 or 011-52-66-835323.

Two additional sources (books) for alternative therapy referrals are:

Third Opinion—An International Directory to Alternative Therapy Centers for the Treatment and Prevention of Cancer by John M. Fink, Avery Publishing Group; and Alternative Medicine Yellow Pages—The comprehensive guide to the new world of health, by Future Medicine Publishing, Inc. in Puyallup, Washington.

Now, let's return to our earlier discussion of Dr. Schulze.

In a message from his Patient Handbook, Dr. Schulze writes, [quoting:]

When I first started my own healing journey in the 1960s, one of my first great shocks was that most health products didn't work. This included all of the herbal formula I tried. I was constantly amazed at the weakness of these so-called intense herbal formula that were suppose to change my life, they didn't. I would take them diligently and nothing would happen.

Out of frustration, and my own illness, I remember taking 20 to 100 times the dosages, the whole bottle, and still nothing, no effect. In order to get myself well from a terminal heart attack, I had to break all the rules and make it up as I went. Because I broke the rules I got well.

In the 1970s, I started helping others get well and opened up my clinic. From the early days of my clinical practice I was especially interested in helping people with serious illness and degenerative diseases. Almost all other graduates from the various institutes I attended worked mainly on young healthy people who wanted to be a bit healthier, but I was obsessed with emergency treatment and the sick and dying. The same useless herbal formulae that failed me years before were now failing to help any of my patients. They thought they were doing something wrong and this is why they were coming to see me. I was forced to improve upon the crude formulae I had developed to heal myself and also create new formulae that worked. Why were all the herbal formulae useless? Why didn't they work? As far as I could see there were three main reasons for this.

Reason #1: (Antique Formulae) Most of the herbal formula available were designed in the middle to late 1800s, (Arnold Ehret born in 1866), some even earlier. The 1800s were very different times. Today we have junk food restaurants on every corner, get less exercise and have more stress than probably ever before in history. What it took to stimulate and cleanse Wyatt Earp and Buffalo Bill 150 years ago doesn't work today. Even some of the more modern herbal formula available were still designed in the 1940s or 1950s. This is still over 40 years ago when herbs were looked at as a cute little hobby to alleviate headaches and tired feet, not cure life threatening disease. Many other modern formulae are just remakes of these ancient formulae, the herbs are just shuffled and a so-called new formula is dealt. These formulae just don't work.

Reason #2: (Weak formulae, wimpy dosages, poor manufacturing and poor quality herbs.) Most modern American natural healers and herbalists have been educated and grew up in a hostile legal and political environment. Recent history dictates that the A.M.A., F.D.A. and other organizations have been on a witch hunt for practicing herbalists and have jailed many including me. Out of fear, most herbalists and manufacturers want to make sure that no one ever gets sick or has any reactions with their products, even a cleansing reaction. They feel it's far safer to make products that have little or no effect. Like many medical doctors today they are operating out of fear of legal and financial repercussions, not what is best for the patient.

One way these herbal manufacturers assure their safety, not your health, is to design formulae with very small amounts of the potent herbs, or none at all! Then to be really safe they suggest a dosage that is so low it's useless. They don't want to take any risks. To further weaken any potency many manufacturers have abandoned the tried and true methods of old herbalists for quick extraction processes, high tech (high heat) machinery, freeze dried herbs, ignoring the moons and seasons, mostly to make a quick buck. The results, most herbal products I see today are worthless junk. Many manufacturers are more concerned that their product tastes good or looks good, with a whale or rainbow on the label, than whether you will get well using it. I also see labels loaded with sophisticated laboratory testing results for potency, trying to convince you that the colorless, tasteless and odorless water inside will actually benefit you. How stupid do they think we are!

One of the worst aspects of many herbal formulae today is the poor quality of herbs used. The vast majority of herbal products are made from herbs grown outside the United States. There is only one reason for this, they are cheap. Herbs brought in from India, China, Egypt, Mexico or Eastern Europe cost literally pennies a pound. I never used these poor quality herbs in my clinic, I always used American organically grown herbs that can cost over 20 times as much. I have visited these countries and found filthy, disgusting growing conditions, toxic pollution and out of control use of pesticides and insecticides. When we travel to these countries we don't drink the water, don't even want to eat the food, then why would we want to use herbs grown there? [End quoting.]

And now, from a very timely newsletter received here just yesterday, titled The Last Chance Health Report, Vol. 6, Number 2-4 (804) 973-0262, let's see what Dr. Richard Schulze has to say to Sam Biser.

[Quoting:]

Dr. Schulze: Medical doctors kill you with their treatments. Natural healers and herbalists kill you with their inexperience, their ignorance, and their impotent therapies and remedies.

Biser: Most readers won't believe their eyes. You, of all people, talking bad about natural healing!

Schulze: If you use their watered-down therapies, wimpy programs, impotent cleansing routines, and minuscule herbal dosages, you'll end up 6 feet under. There are only a few practitioners in the world who have the guts to put their patients through half of what is necessary to heal a deadly or chronic disease. Sure, these people can cure the odd case of pimples or dandruff, but the really sick just get sicker and die. [End quoting.]

References To "Jesus"

In Jewish Talmud

4/11/96 #1 HATONN

JESUS CHRIST

As Easter and Passover have just whizzed by and there is song in the hearts while the eyes remain blind, I am nagged to explain the man, Jesus. I can't explain a figment of Saul's brain. I CAN speak of Esu Emmanuel (Jmmanuel) but that too only seems to cause confusion. Perhaps I can better look at the Talmudic references to this Man called by the "Jews" many names but RARELY as "Jesus".

This becomes difficult in anything other than simply reference for there is more attention to the name and the possible MAN than on the Christed presence. Since I don't want to give supposed information perhaps we should go directly to reference material already assembled. To disallow bias as to these references and end up on the wrong end of the "anti-Semite" swear-in I shall take the information from that which is referenced in the Jewish TALMUD.

This information was assembled and presented in Latin which would hardly serve many people so we have to have a translated version and we will take the translation as presented by a scribe of prominence and respect, I.B. Pranaitis, which is simply also a Latin term.

[QUOTING:]

JESUS CHRIST IN THE TALMUD

by I.B. Pranaitis

Many passages in the Talmudic books treat of the birth, life, death and teachings of Jesus Christ. He is not always referred to by the same name, however, but is diversely called "That Man", "A Certain One", "The Carpenter's Son", "the One Who Was Hanged", etc.

Article I.—CONCERNING THE NAMES OF JESUS CHRIST

(1.) The real name of Christ in Hebrew is Jeschua Hanotsri—Jesus the Nazarene. [H: Ah, but there is NO REFERENCE AT ALL IN THAT OLD TESTAMENT ABOUT "NAZARENE". This becomes important because "Jesus, the Nazarene" was to be the fulfillment of that being which would be from Nazareth. There is NO MENTION of such a thing.] He is called Notsri from the city of Nazareth in which he was brought up. Thus in the Talmud Christians also are called Notsrim—Nazarenes.

Since the word Jeschua means "Savior", the name Jesus rarely occurs in Jewish books. It is almost always abbreviated to Jeschu, which is maliciously taken as if it were composed of the initial letters of the three words Immach Schemo Vezikro—"May his name and memory be blotted out."

Footnote: cf.1. Buxtorf in Abbrev. Jeschu: "The Jews among themselves do not say Jeschu, but Isschu, so nearly corresponding to the words of this curse. When talking to a certain Jew about this some years ago he told me that it not only meant this, but also Jeschu Scheker (liar) Utoebah (and abomination). Who would not be deeply horrified at this? This Jew lived at Frankfurt and at Hannover and had travelled all over the world. When he saw how this horrified me, his faith in Judaism began to weaken, for he was not adverse to the Christian faith and had often discussed it with me and Dr. Amando Polano. I also discovered here and there two other secret words from the Jewish Cabala which have to do with this name. It is well known that the Israelites are often warned in their sacred writings to shun the worship of Elohe Nekhar—strange gods or god. What does Elohe Nekhar really mean? By the numbering method of the Gammatria these letters equal 316, which taken together make the word Jeschu. This is found at the end of the book Abhkath Rokhel. They therefore teach that to dishonor God by the worship of Elohe Nekhar is the same as to dishonor him by the worship of Jeschu. Behold the malice of the serpent! [H: Still believe that Judeo-Christian can have meaning when looped TOGETHER? They are opposite IN MEANING.] Antonius also found a marginal note in a book about the Jewish faith and religion. In a Jewish prayer book there is a certain prayer beginning with Alenu. Formerly the wording contained certain things which were afterwards deleted for fear of the Christians, but the space remains vacant to warn children and adults that something is omitted there. The deleted words were hamischtachavim lehebel varik umitpallelim lelo ioschia "Those who bow down exhibit vanity and foolishness and adore him who cannot save." This is generally said about idols, but is secretly meant for Jesus whose name is here signified by the letters..."

(2.) In the Talmud Christ is called Otho Isch—"That Man", i.e. the one who is known to all. In the Tract Abhodah Zarah, 6a, we read:

"He is called a Christian who follows the false teachings of that man, who taught them to celebrate the feast on the first day of the Sabbath, that is, to worship on the first day after the Sabbath."

(3.) Elsewhere he is simply called Peloni—"A Certain One". In Chagigah, 4b, we read:

"Mary... the mother of a certain one, of whom it is related in Schabbath..." (104b).

That this Mary is none other than the mother of Jesus will be shown later.

(4.) Out of contempt, Jesus is also called Naggabar naggabar—"the carpenter son of a carpenter" (cf. Abhodah Zarah, 50b.), also Ben charsch etaim—"the son of a wood worker".

(5.) He is also called Talui—"the one who was hanged". Rabbi Samuel, the son of Meir, in the Hilch. Akum of Maimonides, refers to the fact that it was forbidden to take part in the Christian feasts of Christmas and Easter because they were celebrated on account of him who was hanged. And Rabbi Aben Ezra, in a commentary on Genes, (XXVII, 39) also calls him Talui, whose image the Emperor Constantine reproduced on his banner. "...in the days of Constantine, who made a change of religion and placed the figure of the one who was hanged on his banner."

Article II.—THE LIFE OF CHRIST

The Talmud teaches that Jesus Christ was illegitimate and was conceived during menstruation; that he had the soul of Esau; that he was a fool, a conjurer, a seducer; that he was crucified, buried in hell and set up as an idol ever since by his followers. [H: Now don't blame anyone ELSE, readers, this comes right from the Jewish TALMUD!]

(1.) Illegitimate and Conceived During Menstruation

The following is narrated in the Tract Kallah, 1b (18b):

"Once when the Elders were seated at the Gate, two young men passed by, one of whom had his head covered, the other with his head bare. Rabbi Eliezer remarked that the one in his bare head was illegitimate, a manzer. Rabbi Jehoschua said that he was conceived during menstruation, ben niddah. Rabbi Akibah, however, said that he was both. Whereupon the others asked Rabbi Akibah why he dared to contradict his colleagues. He answered that he could prove what he said. He went therefore to the boy's mother whom he saw sitting in the market place selling vegetables and said to her: 'My daughter, if you will answer truthfully what I am going to ask you, I promise that you will be saved in the next life.' She demanded that he would swear to keep his promise, and Rabbi Akibah did so—but with his lips only, for in his heart he invalidated his oath. [H: Good old Kol Nidre at work?] Then he said: 'Tell me, what kind of son is this of yours?' To which she replied: 'The day I was married I was having menstruation, and because of this my husband left me. [H: Do you see anything wrong with this little cutie, readers? I thought that Mary was to have already been with child at her marriage?] But an evil spirit came and slept with me and from this intercourse my son was born to me.' Thus it was proved that this young man was not only illegitimate but also conceived during the menstruation of his mother. And when his questioners heard this they declared: 'Great indeed was Rabbi Akibah when he corrected his Elders!' And they exclaimed; 'Blessed be the Lord God of Israel who revealed his secret to Rabbi Akibah the son of Joseph!'"

That the Jews understand this story to refer to Jesus and his mother, Mary, is clearly demonstrated in their book Toldath Jeschu—"The Generations of Jesus"—where the birth of our Savior is narrated in almost the same words.

"The bad news is that all the property we covered in Sodom and Gomorrah has been completely wiped out. The good news is we won't have to pay a single claim since it was destroyed by an act of God."

Another story of this kind is narrated in Sanhedrin, 67a:

"Of all who are guilty of death by the Law, he alone (namely, a seducer, who tries to seduce another to worship an idol and to join a false religion) is caught by a ruse. How is it done? They light a candle in an inner room and place witnesses in an adjoining room outside where they can see him and hear his voice, but where they cannot be seen by him. Then the one whom he tried to seduce says to him, 'Please repeat here privately what you told me before.' If the seducer repeats what he said, the other asks him, 'But how shall we leave our God who is in heaven and serve idols?' If the seducer repents, then all is well. But if he says, 'This is our duty and it is right for us to do so,' then the witnesses outside, who have heard him, bring him before the judge and stone him to death. This is what they did to the son of Stada in Lud, and they hanged him on the eve of the Passover. For this son of Stada was the son of Pandira. For Rabbi Chasda tells us that Pandira was the husband (A marginal note says this son of Stada was called after his father, not his mother, although he was illegitimate.) of Stada, his mother, and he lived during the time of Paphus the son of Jehuda. But his mother was Stada, Mary of Magdala (a ladies' hairdresser) who, as it is said in Pumbadita, deserted her husband."

The meaning of this is that this Mary was called Stada, that is, a prostitute, because, according to what was taught at Pumbadita, she left her husband and committed adultery. This is also recorded in the Jerusalem Talmud and by Maimonides.

That the mention here is of Mary, the mother of Jesus, is verified in the Tract Chagigah, 4b:

"When Rabbi Bibhai was visited once by the Death Angel (the devil), the latter said to his assistant: 'Go and bring to me Mary the hairdresser' (that is, kill her). He went and brought Mary the children's hairdresser—in place of the other Mary."

A marginal note explains the passage as follows:

"This story of Mary the Ladies' hairdresser happened under the Second Temple. She was the mother of Peloni, 'that man', as he is called in the tract Schabbath," (fol. 104b).

In Schabbath the passage referred to says:

"Rabbi Eliezer said to the Elders: 'Did not the son of Stada practice Egyptian magic by cutting it into his flesh?' They replied: 'He was a fool, and we do not pay attention to what fools do. The son of Stada, Pandira's son, etc.'" as above in Sanhedrin, 67a.

This magic of the son of Stada is explained as follows in the book Beth Jacobh, fol. 127a:

"The Magi, before they left Egypt, took special care not to put their magic in writing lest other peoples might come to learn it. But he devised a new way by which he inscribed it on his skin, or made cuts in his skin and inserted it there and which, when the wounds healed up, did not show what they meant." (This is treated at greater length in the book Toldath Jeschu, where it speaks of Jesus as a conjurer, as we shall see further on. It is also mentioned in the Jerusalem Talmud in chap. 12.)

Buxtorf (cf. Lexicon. Jud. in verbo Jeschu.) says:

"There is little doubt who this Ben Stada was, or who the Jews understood him to be. Although the Rabbis in their additions to the Talmud try to hide their malice and say that it is not Jesus Christ, their deceit is plainly evident, and many things prove that they wrote and understood all these things about him. In the first place, they also call him the son of Pandira. Jesus the Nazarene is thus called in other passages (cf. The Jerusalem Talmud, Abhodah Zarah, ch. 11, and Schabbath, ch. XIV, Beth Jacobh, 127a.) of the Talmud where express mention is made of Jesus the son of Pandira. St. John Damascene also, in his Genealogy of Christ, mentions Panthera and the Son of Panthera.

"Secondly, this Stada is said to be Mary, and this Mary the mother of Peloni 'that certain one,' by which without doubt Jesus is meant. For in this way they were accustomed to cover up his name because they were afraid to mention it. If we had copies of the original manuscripts they would certainly prove this. And this also was the name of the mother of Jesus the Nazarene.

"Thirdly, he is called the Seducer of the People. The Gospels testify that Jesus was called this by the Jews, and their writings to this day are proof that they still call him by this name. (cf. Sanhedrin, 107b)

"Fourthly, he is called 'the one who was hanged', which clearly refers to the crucifixion of Christ, especially since a reference to the time 'on the eve of the Passover' is added, which coincides with the time of the crucifixion of Jesus. In Sanhedrin (43a) they wrote as follows:

"On the eve of the Passover they hanged Jesus.

"Fifthly, as to what the Jerusalem Talmud says about the two disciples of the Elders who were sent as witnesses to spy on him, and who were afterwards brought forward as witnesses against him: This refers to the two 'false witnesses' of whom the Evangelists Matthew and Luke make mention.

"Sixthly, concerning what they say about the son of Stada that he practiced Egyptian magical arts by cutting into his flesh: the same accusation is made against Christ in their hostile book Toldath Jeschu.

"Lastly, the time corresponds. For it is said that this son of Stada lived in the days of Paphus the son of Jehuda, who was a contemporary of Rabbi Akibah. Akibah, however, lived at the time of the Ascension of Christ, and for some time after. Mary is also said to have lived under the Second Temple. All this clearly proves that they secretly and blasphemously understand this son of Stada to be Jesus Christ the son of Mary.

"Other circumstances may seem to contradict this. But that is nothing new in Jewish writings and is done on purpose so that Christians may not easily detect their trickery." (There are Jews who themselves confess to this. For instance, in the book Sepher Juchasin (9b): "The Rabbis have always deceived the Nazarenes by saying that the Jesus of whom the Talmud speaks is not the Jesus Christ of Christians. They permit themselves this falsehood for the sake of peace," in Rohling, Die Plemik and das Menschenopfer des Rabbinismus ul supra.)

(2.) Furthermore, "In the secret books, which are not permitted to fall easily into the hands of Christians, they say that the soul of Esau came into Christ, that he was therefore evil and that he was Esau himself." (Synag. Judiaca, p. 217; cf. also Buxtorf, Lexicon in verbo Jeschu.)

(3.) By some he is called A Fool and Insane.

In Schabbath, 104b:

"They, [the Elders] said to him [Eliezer]: 'He was a fool, and no one pays attention to fools.'"

(4.) A Conjurer and a Magician

In the infamous book Toldath Jeschu, our Savior is blasphemed as follows:

"And Jesus said: Did not Isaiah and David, my ancestors, prophesy about me? The Lord Said to me, thou art my son, today I have begotten thee, etc. Likewise in another place: The Lord said to my Lord, sit thou at my right hand. Now I ascend to my Father who is in heaven and will sit at his right hand, which you will see with your own eyes. But you, Judas, will never reach that high. Then Jesus pronounced the great name of God (IHVII) and continued to do so until a wind came and took him up between earth and sky. Judas also pronounced the name of God and he likewise was taken up by the wind. [H: My, my—awfully big “winds”, it would seem to me!] In this way they both floated around in the air to the amazement of the onlookers. Then Judas, again pronouncing the Divine Name, took hold of Jesus and pushed him down to earth. But Jesus tried to do the same to Judas and thus they fought together. And when he pissed on Jesus, and both thus being unclean they fell to earth; nor could they use the Divine name again until they had washed themselves.”

Whether those who believe such devilish lies deserve greater hatred or pity, I cannot say. (Wagenseil, Sota, p. 1049.)

In another place in the same book it is related that in the house of the Sanctuary there was a stone which the patriarch Jacob anointed with oil. On this stone were carved the tetragrammatic letters of the Name (IHVH) (No one knows how this august name of God is to be read). It is certain, however, that it was not pronounced Jehovah, although it is thus commonly pronounced. For the vowels of this tetragrammatum are the vowels of the name Adonai [H: Certainly is and in the name of “Adonai” I often place my own salute.], and it is thus that the Jews read IHVH. Out of reverence, however, it is never written in their books, with the exception of Sacred Scripture, but only indicated by: “, or Haschem, the Name.) and if anyone could learn them he could destroy the world. [H: Ah so... Since I know them does that mean I have the power to destroy the world?] They therefore decreed that no one must learn them, and they placed two dogs upon two iron columns before the Sanctuary so that if anyone should learn them the dogs would bark at him coming out and he would forget the letters through fear. Then it is related: “Jesus came and entered, learned the letters and wrote them down on parchment. Then he cut them into the flesh of his thigh and inserted them there, and having pronounced the name, the wound healed.” (Buxtorf. Lexicon)

(5.) Idolater

In the Tract Sanhedrin (103a) the words of Psalm XCI, 10: “No plague shall come near thy dwelling,” are explained as follows:

“That thou mayest never have a son or a disciple who will salt his food so much that he destroys his taste in public, like Jesus the Nazarene.” [H: And you foolish people thought it was good for your heart to cut out salt?]

To salt one’s food too much or to destroy one’s taste, is proverbially said of one who corrupts his morals or dishonors himself, or who falls into heresy and idolatry and openly preaches it to others.

(6.) Seducer

In the same book Sanhedrin (107b) we read: “Mar said: Jesus seduced, corrupted and destroyed Israel.”

(7.) Crucified

Finally as punishment for his crimes and impiety, he suffered an ignominious death by being hanged on a cross on the eve of the Passover (as we have seen above). [H: Now, since Passover in these modern times is BEFORE the Easter Crucifixion, would it not seem somebody has set more convenient timing of events to distract all OTHERS from the event of the death of that one thought to be Christ?]

(8.) Buried in Hell

The book Zohar, III (282), tells us that Jesus died like a beast and was buried in that “dirt heap... where they throw the dead bodies of dogs and asses, and where the sons of Esau [the Christians] and of Ismael [the Turks], also Jesus and Mahommed, uncircumcised and unclean like dead dogs, are buried.” [H: Ranos, I ask that you pay very, very close attention to the terms “Zohar”, Zehar, and Seehar and see what you think about them! Also note how very close we each come to total distraction and loss.]

In the book Synag. Judaica, (Ch. III, p. 75) is the following: “He who cuts himself off [namely, who does not believe blindly in the Rabbinical teachings] will suffer the tortures of the damned, as is decreed in the Talmudic law of punishment in the Tract de Repudii (Gitt. c.5): He who despises the words of the wise men shall be cast into the dirt heap with the damned.” ...

(9.) Worshipped as God After His Death By His Followers:

George El. Edzard, in his book Avoda Sara, quotes the following words of the commentator on the Hilkoth Akum (V,3) of Maimonides:

“In many passages of the Talmud mention is made of Jesus the Nazarene and of his disciples, and that the Gentiles believe that there is no other God besides him. In the book Chizzuk Emunah, part I, ch. 36, we read: ‘The Christians build up an argument from this [Zachary .II, 10] and say: Behold how the Prophet testified that in future ages the Jews would lament and weep because they crucified and killed the Messiah who was sent to them; and to prove that he meant Jesus the Nazarene, possessing both the divine and human nature, they quote the words: And they looked upon him whom they transfixed and they wept over him as a mother over her first born child.’”

[END OF QUOTING]

This dissertation on the names of “Jesus” has moved on into too lengthy a discussion and becomes distracting in its presentation. It is most interesting but causes our own presentation to become unwieldy while we only wished to discuss, actually, the misperceptions of simply naming a person.

It must by now be evident that you who do not speak Yiddish as a language CANNOT possibly translate correctly from that language which is not even Hebrew. Just as I have to have a translator to speak in your language, so too is it impossible to correctly interpret what is presented to you if you have no idea of the original language or scripting. How could you otherwise realize “Adonai” is “a” term meaning (IHVH)?

Can you begin to see that it is just possible that you have been fed a pretty long line of probable errors? I have no interest in YOUR RELIGIONS for they ALL are filled to overflow with MAN-MADE errors. It does not matter, do you see? It matters only according to that which is according to GOD within your soul and heart. Right and Wrong are birthed within SOUL at your presentation so you who try to fool all the people, including self, all the time, are in real deep trouble when it comes to TRUTH and FACT within that TRUTH.

Lying, cheating and stealing are not of God’s Commandments, readers, no matter how you choose to handle yourselves. And yet, supporting another as to absolute truth is seemingly difficult to you. Say, you have gone with someone to pick up or handle funds. If you have seen a transfer from one to another of, say, an envelope which you later consider holds funds, did you or did you not “see” the funds? Well, you didn’t actually see or count the funds enclosed, but you did later realize it was a most important envelope. What is your TRUTH? Your TRUTH is exactly what you came to know for hindsight causes realization of that which occurred as surely as that which you witnessed or experienced. The problem always comes when the adversary comes against you with conjured witnesses who were not even present but are only claimed by the evil liar to have been there at a given time to lie about happenings. It is difficult to realize this happens—but that action is within the very PROTOCOLS themselves. Wherein does YOUR alliance belong? How are the rest of your truths? Do you hide in “fear” of some kind? It is time for all of you to begin to realize what TRUTH really IS and stand forth with goodness when you have opportunity—for otherwise, you are going down in the bloodbath which is before you.

And to you who simply gain revenge over those you falsely perceive have harmed you in some manner, I suggest you look very carefully at that which you join and do for you are WRONG and shall be sucked into the pit right along with the liars, cheats and thieves. And you who deliberately break your alliance and agreements and betray a brother—check it out carefully for you shall be the one to fall, for every betrayer of another—WILL HAVE SKELETONS IN HIS OWN CLOSET WAITING TO BETRAY SELF.

Can you see that it matters NOT what you call goodness or how much goodness is called by other names to mock it—it shall stand into INFINITY on its own TRUTH?

Any man who betrays his brother is despised by those to whom he offers that betrayal. The betrayed need do nothing to cost that “other” (betrayer) his respect for the RESPECT is gone forever more from the perceptions of even the Elite who accept the betrayal. You become the FOOL in such games of directed hurt. You who join with the enemy of those you shared your own liaison in shelter—have just announced YOUR OWN ENEMY. No man shall again trust you in any circumstance. Those who stand on Truth without deviation shall prevail ultimately and shall gain the trust of all who come thereafter. Sometimes that journey is difficult, but always worthy, students.

FATHER ED CLEARY

Not in your wildest dreams, readers, can you perceive Ed Cleary turning from that which he deems to be God, whom he has come to realize bears the title "Aton" of the Creator One Light. What he has turned from are people who "others" have denounced and pushed aside in their own anger and transgressions. Yes, it is hard to believe that one of YOU in your most confidential sharings would actively turn into evil destruction of all for which you stand.

I am grateful that even in their interruptions of linear flow with our team that he and his old friends still consider, plan and work for a project which benefits all. They could not know truth for it resided too close to them to see what was happening. Father Cleary, without realization, was aiding and abetting that which would later mock his own name and tradition.

George Green, he claims, had the full ear of Cleary and continued to have same. This is simply, as usual with the tellings of Green, NOT TRUE. It IS true, yes, that Father Cleary came here when Greens moved to this place but it was through my own connection with Father Cleary that he joined us. He had been for many years retired from the active participation as priest in the Catholic Church. He retired a bit early because he had a confrontation with the hierarchy of that Church. He RESIGNED. He was not "kicked out" because of any activities of immoral nature as is now advertised about the circle of the enemy. I cannot stop the George Abbotts, Greens and Ences from telling these tales—I can only offer here that the lies grow and grow and are choking the very tellers.

As Ekkers and attorneys dig out what, exactly, the "house circumstance" is all about, a lot of information is flowing. It is NOT what has now been fed to the Horn/Santa Barbara/Green Brigade. And the thieves and liars are in a worse position for the deeds they have done. And, yes indeed, I will tell it for I am sick to my own soul at seeing those who pretend to be gracious, giving, honest and wondrously Godly, living the LIE OF LIES.

Those who watched and participated in the very presence of the Ekkers as the BATF surrounded the wooded area around their house and the lock-smith waited at the corner to come and drive them out and change the locks, finally had opportunity to allow longer struggle. As the RTC [Resolution Trust Corporation] took over the property, it was put up for sale. Silently a group of valid and wonderful friends gathered to see what could be done. There was little funding to pay the cost of the litigation which had moved into multiple years.

Beautiful Sharri sent funds to cover the holding price of the property. She, however, did not want to have the house as collateral, so as other things eased a bit, she held her funding, put it in through the Institute and then most of it went DIRECTLY into a couple of corporations she was using. She was neither officer nor director in any corporations. She had and used the ONLY bank accounts for any of those funds. She later pulled out the funds which is a terrible IRS error as to bookwork and this again left Ekkers to answer to those nice people about the withdrawn funds. It is fine for it brought to light the fact that the corporations were STILL TOTALLY in Ekkers' care and direction. There were now no funds to consider in the accounts for those, too, Sharri closed, then abandoned the corporations themselves.

These are the SAME corporations later taken by Betty Tuten from the Agent's Office unlawfully. Those corporations were not registered in any way to Sharri. Months before the taking of actual books a secret transfer of those corporations was made to a silent agent in Reno. This agent is cutely referred to in the legal community as the Corrupt Attorney's Incorporation Company (CAIC). The name, of course, is not the same. Well, the corporations got changed out unlawfully and when confronted the State of Nevada demanded that the corporations be returned and hold charges against the perpetrators. Nevada Corporate Headquarters saw to the correction of documentation and is now told by the State that they must bring some kind of legal action to "close" the case.

Sharri claimed to have nothing going with Green and that she did not allow her stock or anything else to be used by Green. But none of those original documents, including the stock, which is the BIG NO-NO, has been returned as demanded by both the State and the Agent. We now know that Green, Abbott, et al., have tampered with that stock and are using it as backup for their dirty tricks. Most of this is not realized by Sharri, who again will not accept calls. After calling CONTACT and writing a pre-prepared letter to Doris, who had to attend the corporation mess, disclaiming any use of those corporations—there is a letter from her in Mr. Horn's files—right there in deposition. While lecturing us on "love", "goodness" and "understanding", there is the hate mail right on top of the pile!

Ah, but there is more, for Mr. Green sent out dozens of "packages" denouncing Ekkers and sending lists and copies of short-form trust deeds about the house (in which Sharri is not involved at all) to everyone he could conjure up to lie to. The Ekkers are not stupid, readers, they KNEW Father Cleary had done something which "temporarily" secured the house but they were deliberately kept out of any loop which involved the property. The understanding, if there ever was any "understanding" about the matter, was that the house was sold in order to have collateral to continue the legal processes. And, essentially that is what happened, only the Ekkers didn't have the slightest notion of how it was handled and knew that the property was no longer in any way, shape or form, theirs.

This is not presented to Mr. Horn in that way and now months more of deposing, etc., is oncoming. What difference it makes is beyond anyone involved but somehow Green and Brigade are trying to help Horn prove the Ekkers are frauds (his words). Now, George Green got away with being an Officer AND Director of the Institute, diverted funds from CLC into at least TWO other corporations and at least one bank in Colorado, took untold amounts of gold, $350,000 + KNOWN and other things. Rod Ence was Officer and Director of the Institute and got off using friends of MINE to get $23,500 KNOWN and a note covering, at the least, the same amount, to buy farm equipment which he said his "mother" loaned him money to purchase and which he took and sold. Now we are in over $50,000 outstanding if you count nothing more such as the total lack of farm return in several years and finally coming to a total disaster. He has now drawn maps to turn in to the County Building Inspection Dept., tattling on the original owner of the farm. Well, he is pretty unpopular for they came, inspected, and found little to cite anyone for and what was noted was from years and years before anyone had heard of Ence or Ekkers. Having to ask Ences to leave the farm resulted in the following from Sandy's Father:

"To Whom it May Concern;

Due to the vicious lies, manipulation and transgressions by Doris and E.J. Ekker also spy Charles Neil, to have the Rod Ence family evicted from the Ranch, please remove my name from your "Contact" list. Also include the tape list, journals and Gaia products, as I can no longer support an operation under such evil leadership as Doris and E.J. Ekker.

Thank you,

Robert E. Rhoads

P.O. Box 60

Victor, MT 59875."

Interesting? Well it gets more interesting for Robert Rhoads is also in the list of Horn helpers who had bought a tiny piece of the property on which he holds a deed. There was also Tammy Ally and her husband Steve, who also each held a tiny portion in deeds. Tammy is Sandy Ence's sister and Steve is her estranged husband. Tammy left owing rent after having had her small loan to the farm repaid in full. She had been given a job and it is noted that gossip attributed directly to her doorstep caused ongoing confusion and problems at several companies.

Ence owned a corporation called Challenge Met and the farm was sublet to him with permission of the owner, Turner. Charles is the manager of Sunshine Valley Farms which carried the lease. Therefore Charles was and IS the Manager. So what do Ekkers have to do with the farm? Nothing save making loans TO the Farm Research programs and to pay Ences for their work through the Institute which is set up for these very research purposes. The farm is THE research place for Spelta which is now gaining a real notable foothold in the market place BECAUSE OF OUR THRUST. "Spy" Charles now has arranged and has growing with the biggest organic grower in the U.S. spelt fields scattered now through the whole local area between Tehachapi and Bakersfield. They are also testing the addition of pumice which will allow for no irrigation as the land soil is prepared and "finished". The soil is going to be de-weeded and prepared for research of several crops AT THE FARM.

Now, for you who think Ences were "kicked out", naked and poor, they were NOT. They had been handsomely paid and had, further, been getting assistance from ADC and the Food Stamp program. All their living quarters and expenses were fully covered. And, a job was being worked on for Rod elsewhere in Bob James' Jojoba oil extraction project. By the way, E.J. had to listen while he was accused of having an airplane hidden away. Sorry, it is Bob James' and it sleeps in a hanger shared by Rob Davis.

Who is Bob James? He is "just" a person who develops ionized water which alone will save your lives. He builds and researches radionic devices and pulse stimulators—THAT WORK for all manners of things, including fat loss and parasite ridding. He is the full support system for our products. He knows Drs. Beck and Merkl and, and, and. He has invented a small motor which WILL REPLACE all motors as you now recognize them and can be utilized anywhere on anything for which you need a motor with efficiency, light weight, and exceptional power. He knows about bladeless Tesla/Posell pumps and turbine generators and "Brown's gas", just to name one or two research capabilities. He is not even a reader, except occasionally, of the paper or the journals. We have a WORKING respect—not some kind of silly following.

It is now claimed by Betty Tuten that people come and are brainwashed and programmed here. How so? Even Dharma doesn't have time to read the paper OR THE JOURNALS and neither does E.J. The lawyer claimed Ms. Tuten had even told "everybody" of Mrs. Ekker's waste by having elaborate layouts of party things, expensive cakes, etc., at meetings of the "cult". Cult? Offering our visitors and friends a bit of cookies or cake for visiting? What do you do in your home of which Mrs. Ekker no longer has one and is not allowed personal visitors? It is presented that Doris has the social leadership under full CONTROL with an iron fist. How so? She doesn't get to attend hardly any of the activities of ANYONE, other than an occasional baby shower in which she participates in the expected delivery.

Now let us look at this Leon Fort who claims to have lost everything at the evil hands of Ekkers! He loaned some funds to the Institute after having come to know of the Tehachapi opportunity from George Green. He was given everything anyone is given and Ekker did the paper work. The funds were almost "passed through" to George Green for publishing books, of which the journals were used as collateral but included at least five other authors including John Coleman. Then when Green left, with the gold, and went to Nevada, Green summoned Fort, took him to Texas to a "dome building" school and asked him to withdraw his funds and join him and others in a development using domes. The project was, of course, NOT HIS but did in fact belong to a research venture funded by the Institute.

Well, time went by and because of the thefts, the Institute had to respond to the "run" by going totally under the shelter of fiduciary responsibility and secure ALL notes. A plan was worked out to repay Mr. Fort and $40,000 was, in fact, PAID to Mr. Abbott, Fort's attorney. This funding was never acknowledged and after months of "receiving" payments was laughingly told by Fort as never having an agreement and certainly he "never signed the stupid agreement" and they were just "going to see how much the Institute would pay before they noticed." The funds paid were immediately used personally by George Abbott.

At the same time you nice readers were helping get a hearing from Gerry Spence, Ann Beam and Leon Fort were writing poison letters to Spence. Remember, readers, the request was for Spence to help get legal hearings STARTED after seven years of inability to get the case to court trial. The letters sent by Beam did stop Spence but for the WRONG REASONS. The letters were filled with lies provided George Abbott with proof otherwise and dealt with the Green garbage in Nevada. Ann later, through Fort, acknowledged publicly the "errors" and "misperceptions", started to bring charges against Abbott and within a week was right back on the Abbott suit list paying for Abbott's new assaults with Horton and Green. My goodness, and then we are bastards and evil for noting this kind of behavior? An INSTITUTE of which many of you are participants is at stake here. YOUR interests are being destroyed here—what is this? The courts allow it to go on and on into infinity and yet "goodness" is not supposed to speak out? Well, just WHEN does "goodness" speak out? Ah, NEVER? What might be wrong with your world, readers? CRIME PAYS HANDSOMELY! These "nice" groupie friends of Green's used Eleanor Schroepfer to DESTROY both John and herself along with her son. They stuck John into a prison institution care facility AFTER, John claims, he was hit over the head with a fire extinguisher. Abbott drained Eleanor and is still trying to get all the rest of her meagre assets now that she is in an elderly care facility having been placed there by the son who doesn't want to tend a "crazy old woman". Read this and weep, people, for this is where you have come to in your world.

Well, it is obvious, is it not, that there are so many cases ongoing wherein the banksters have unlawfully acted as to cause terror in their hearts if ONE loses in a single case? There comes a note y FAX this minute that speaks of the unlawful sale of Peter Kawaja's home and property—as we write here [see p. 9]. People, the goodness is over—can't you see it? The Elite intend to HAVE EVERYTHING and the "helpers" are just along for what they can grub out of you in the killing fields. Green has made sure through his thugs that Ekkers can NEVER have anything ever again for his buddies have gotten judgments against them to the extent of endless litigation or "give up". Either way the assets are used up to further the evil invaders.

I don't want to belabor this further but I am not going to longer sit and allow these things to continue to go in secret coverings before you who were sold a bunch of defective "goods" by the pious pretenders to goodness.

I am, however, especially interested in Father Cleary for he is now in his long-shadow years and those things which were precious to him in his church experience are being likewise shattered as has been in recent trusting relationships.

I hope all of you will pay attention to yesterday's writing [see p. 21] because today I shall offer something on "QUEEN OF THE JEWS", about beautiful Mother Mary and the calloused degrading of such a wonderful and wondrously beautiful entity. Are these writings true? What mean you? They are provided here to share and, as a newspaper journalist and journal writer, we have obligation to share. At the very LEAST, Mary was always respected, it seemed—but as you saw yesterday, the Talmudists degraded her and her memory. Now Father Cleary is coming under the worst kind of attack upon his character and in a way TYPICAL of bringing down Holy Fathers (Priests) in the Catholic Church. This is predominantly a focus of misbehavior in sexual indiscretions. If the tales of Green were actually true I certainly DOUBT that Father Cleary would have told Ence and, much the less, George Green. But alas, it seems the enemy never knows when to quit. I do suggest Father Cleary take a good long look at what has come to pass—through his friendship and defense of Rod Ence/Enz. I also suggest Mike take an equally long, hard look for he is being the one quoted in the damaging tales. When this comes out in third party DEPOSITIONS, unrelated to anything, it is serious and MALICIOUS! Tuten, is using Father Ed even more crassly—look for yourself. She has totally destroyed Dr. Hoffmann's relationship with his family and wife and it is noted it was not too steady before. He has simply tried to offer humanity the benefit of his healing knowledge. At least, now, I believe he realizes all moves to protect him were worthy of his note when at the time he couldn't fathom such actions by Green and others—HE HAD ACTUALLY HELPED ALONG THE WAY.

How dare I continue this personal discussion? Because I do not PLAY to the WORLD, readers, I send messages to you who WAIT for your connections. I don't come to bring groupies to join into some patriotic or religious activity. I am simply making acquaintance with you who know you are and were, waiting for the itinerary you seek. These people touch our lives and therefore TOUCH GREATLY, YOURS. I don't wave flags or religious banners; I simply am a journalist to inform and you may discard or receive as you choose. It is YOUR journey and it is YOU who must judge and discern but I shall not hide the perpetrators of directed evil war against you, my friends, or shelter them longer from you whom they claimed to desire to serve. This means that Dharma and E.J. are no more than busy JOURNALISTS trying to write on matters which impact YOU. They do not plead change in YOU or demand anything of you but certainly they expected more from those who actually CAME and claimed to wish to share the journey. How be it the strikers hurt mostly the elderly? Well, they can't fight back much better than the babe, can they? There is never an equal playing field with the evil-mongers and greed-snatchers—they always structure the lies to hide the truth of their actions. Then they claim "those UNGODLY people" about you others. It is as old as Satan himself so why do you act surprised? Ego and Satan are one of the same cloth. This then is also whereat the sins of the Father are laid upon the backs of the sons and daughters. Think carefully about it for many will be lost in their precious direction, to the lies.

This would take days to cover so let us simply move on. I get so many letters for updates and I try to ignore them and then I get more and people are getting badly hurt out there among you whose names were pulled from stolen mail-lists and offered black lists of these very few misfits. I just remind you to look what they did to THE TEACHER, THE MESSENGER, THE GOODLY PROPHET. AND, LOOK AT WHAT THEY DO TO THE BELOVED "MOTHER" AND THEN LOOK AT WHAT YOU ALLOW TO HAPPEN AND CONTINUE. So be it. Ed, I am sorry, son, for my soul weeps WITH you.

Dharma is required to be away much of this day and be available to attorneys so we haven't probably time to finish the dissertation on the topic of MARY but, please, let us at least begin. I ask that the Editors please do not correct or change spellings, punctuation or make other "corrections" for in the "quoting" of material, it must remain unchanged from the original even as to apostrophes. We do not need to spend time integrating our own type of print or Editing for it only leaves Dharma open for further accusations. I weary of such garbage on our desk in such continual assault.

[QUOTING, PART ONE:]

QUEEN OF THE JEWS

by Arthur B. Klyber

[Remnant of Israel Publications, New Hope, Kentucky 40052]

The booklet was presented in April of 1960.

FOREWORD

This booklet speaks to Catholics and Jews about a Jewish maiden praised everywhere as the "Virgin Mary". Hundreds of millions in every nation venerate (not worship) Her as the holiest child of Adam ever to have blessed our sordid earth with the sandals of Her feet.

In one language after another Her Name falls with gentle veneration from the lips of more than half the world's population because they acknowledge her as the Mother of the Messiah.

At times gentiles have been moved by a holy envy of the honor that reflects on the whole Jewish people through the honor given to Mary. One such gentile is the Sainted Ignatius of Loyola, Founder of the Society of Jesus. When someone once spoke to him about 'pure' Spanish blood, un-mixed by any Jewish blood through marriage, Ignatius countered: "I would consider it a special favor from God had I been born a Jew. What a marvellous privilege it is to be related to the Messiah and to the glorious Virgin Mary, His Mother, by ties of Blood!" Is there any Son of Abraham who does not feel a thrill of exhilaration on learning that one of this own people is being so honored as Mary by gentiles? Paraphrasing the words of a well-known American Poet, I make bold to call this Virgin of Israel the Jewish People's "Solitary but Magnificent Boast". I want to etch into Her Crown therefore, the perhaps hitherto unspoken but most appropriate Title: "Queen of the Jews." For, this Virgin Mary Whose Son is worshipped as "King" of the Jews, must be, in an unique way, "The Queen of the Jews".

CHAPTER ONE

IT IS A WONDER

Might not the twenty centuries of honor to a Jewish Maiden prompt Jewish people to ponder: 'In view of the continual disdain that many gentiles hold for Jewish people, how is it possible that one Jewish woman ever came to get so much honor from them? She has been credited with a multitude of miracles: Did those alleged miracles really occur? Could this Woman possibly be the "Virgin" (the "Almah") of the prophet Isaiah? Can

She be the prophet Jeremiah's "Woman Who shall encompass a man"? And is She perhaps the "Woman Whose Seed (Son) shall crush the head of the serpent"?

Prayer from Jewish Morning Service)

O God, and God of our forefathers, bless us with the threefold Blessing of Thy Law, — written by the hand of Moses Thy Servant, and spoken by Aaron and his sons to Thy holy People: "The Lord Bless thee and keep thee; May His Face shine upon thee and be gracious to thee; may the Lord turn His Face to thee, and give thee peace."

"ABOUT SIX..."

Before proceeding with the subject of this book I think something about Jesus in particular would help to its better understanding. Let me begin with a pleasant memory of my seminary-days. One day a student for the priesthood asked his Professor of Scripture this question: "Father, about how many Jews, do you think, were fully responsible for, and guilty of calling for the crucifixion of Jesus?" The Professor, a really holy and very learned man in His Subject after twenty-five years of teaching It, answered almost at once: "O, about six."

That unbiased opinion nails the full guilt of the crucifixion to the few, where it belongs. The mere mob-action of the ordinary Jews who were present at the Trial of Jesus, is so clearly stated in Church Tradition that only a blindly prejudiced person could miss it. Simon Bar Jonah, better known to Bible-readers as St. Peter was very likely an eyewitness of the Crucifixion of Jesus. On the Day of the Descent of the Holy Spirit on the Apostles, he proclaimed to some three-thousand Jews in Jerusalem: "I know that you did it (shouted for the crucifixion of Jesus) in ignorance, just as did your Rulers." (Book of the Acts of the Apostles, Ch. 3, verse 17.)

The sage utterance of the Scripture Professor above quoted, pinpoints the inescapable lesson of history, that every nation will pay in suffering, for the crimes of its leaders. I have tried to present that fact at greater length in my book "THIS JEW".

So much at the moment, for the Crucifixion-Event. Its inseparable connection with what I write about the Virgin Mary should be evident as I proceed: the Two, Jesus and Mary, are everywhere inseparable.

[END QUOTING OF PART ONE]

This would seem a good place to break this writing so that we can begin next writing on the focus to Mary, "Who is She?—What is She?"

The writer of this journalistic piece is not anti-Jewish; he simply, like any other speaker or writer, is without ability to separate, by name, those who would break asunder a planet and those who simply walk through their goodly journey in ignorance thrust upon them by the self-proclaimed Elite. The Elitist Christians are, sadly, worse in perceptions and at gaining REVENGE. None WANT truth and that sadly is simply the way it is.

There are three very involved people with the writing and presenting of this very little book: Klyber, McCormick and Ritter. I use only "Sir" names because the foolish reaction of the "community" is to destroy the messengers to keep the lies unto themselves. God is infinite, readers, and to keep ignorance into infinity is to separate self FROM GOD. It is your choice, most surely, but a "hearing" might well be worthy of some note. Could YOU possibly be ever so slightly WRONG in concept and knowledge? Were YOU perfect and ALL-KNOWING you would not be stumbling around in a third-dimensional character of God's thought projections. If TRUTH prevailed at present, there would be no problems on your place as you now experience. How many messengers do YOU help crucify? DARE you not consider possibilities? So be it. Good morning.

4/13/96 #1 HATONN

WATCH YOUR ICONS

I would like to continue right on into our subject of Mary, the assumed Mother of the one you call Jesus. The memory of one you respect becomes the image. If that image is conjuring a message, then it is a worthy entity indeed if you can become discerning. Let me example: Once I received a short letter from a young man who was quite damaged in Vietnam. He sent along with the letter, several pictures. The pictures were of mold and fungus growing around his worse soiled bathroom walls. He was truly without resources and lived in poverty. He was physically alright and did, in fact, "work out" almost to obsession. He found images of Jesus, the Devil, Mother Mary, urchins and angels outlined in the mold. He was searching for Icons to fit the feelings of any given day. I told him to wash his walls and stop this groveling for God in the refuse of disease. You will find GOD EVERYWHERE but to enshrine fungi is not where to keep your mind. If he were fascinated by the growing and ever-changing patterns then he might well study the growth of mold and fungi but not to find religious icons. As the different references were marked and presented there were at least double the number of ill-begotten images of "bad stuff" than of good. Clean the bathroom and paint it and the devils would be gone—except, of course, those burned into the heart and obviously it was those very ones who dealt the constant misery. If you play mind games the mind will play games with you.

MARLON BRANDO

Mr. Brando is under attack by the ADL and JDL these days for suggesting that "some" Jewish groups are less than wonderful. Are there not groups of White people, Asians, Indians, ANYTHING, that are not perfection in fairness? The thing I find interesting is the major demand of the man, who had described and explained himself quite carefully, was demanded to make apologies on the property of the staged museum of Holocaust! He simply said that the "Jews owned Hollywood" and therefore, what else is new? Ah, but there was blackballing, black-listing, etc., underway to see to the non-acting position of this man forever. He met their demands and still there is no satisfaction and I ask you this: If the man is being anti-Semitic, Semitic apologetic, pro-Semitic, or warbles "Dixie" in a nightclub, does making this public display under pressure and force MEAN anything at all? And I repeat something: very, very few of these people, or any people, are from Shem, the recognized Shemite (Semite). This is a term which no longer represents its true meaning and has simply become a hate word. Dharma is being asked that same question about being anti-Semitic in a deposition over a thing totally unrelated which happened eight years ago. What is this? Then the response was not accurately written, to allow for further deceit. This term is applied as A SIGN that the party accused is to be destroyed politically and socially. It is something akin to a death sentence for intimidation. The accusers are harsh, bitter, loud and raspy in their finger pointing and demanding and still no one defends the speaker. It is indeed sad but is part of the play unfolding. Doris worked for, with, and within Jewish circles all her adult public work life, from politicians to doctors and lawyers and loved them all. Accusations from a Jewish lawyer in opposition will not change a breath of it but the insertion of exchange words does. She said: "I am Semitic" and it just somehow got printed "I am sympathetic". Sympathetic? What would that even have in meaning? Everyone in the room heard it and nothing save the written and accepted transcript missed the word. Is this not reason enough, Lawyers, to demand a TAPING of the sessions as well as the recorder's transcript? Or is Mr. Horn afraid his antics and insulting intonations will show up on tape as they DON'T on a printed page after the transcriber cleans up the "errors"? Mr. Horn has demanded all of Dharma's tapes since 1988 so why can't you at the least demand a taping of the depositions? He considers there is something of value in tapes so why DON'T YOU?

DR. HOFFMANN

Dr. Hoffmann has sent a reasonable questionnaire regarding the use of the word "Jew" in the book And They Called His Name Immanuel. Since I don't know what copy or printing to which he refers I am at a loss for being able to explain another's intention. In the original manuscript there was a long explanation of the use of the word "Jew" for it was not a term used in the days of Esu "Jesus". It is, however, the later translated term used. As readers come along and read such a book wherein in other places the word is "Jew", there is no way without long reference to know the difference. There are several versions of this translation NOW and those other equally good translations use the term AS ACCEPTED by the later generations. It is for identification and nothing more. To translate anything from one language into another where it remains unknown is not our primary focus. We always try to identify "terminology" but can't take the time to explain, with every USE of a term, a dialogue regarding each word. The actual enemies of Esu "Jesus" were the Pharisees. In addition, you will note the difficulty there is in the word "Jesus" for it was NOT his original name but you call him by that name and if we don't use it, also, there is no way for you to identify with that intended energy. And by the way, readers, it was well over 300 years (three centuries) AFTER the Man Jesus that the gospels and the New Testament were written and chosen FOR INCLUSION, by German scholars. Nothing was written in book form prior to that. The Man himself never wrote anything!

I do wish to also thank Dr. Hoffmann for turning his attention to Christopher Reeve for there is no physical reason his spine can't heal, for all that is necessary is for the spinal nerves to realign themselves and make their proper connections. GOD WILL CHOOSE HIS PERFECT TIME. I fear the man himself will fall as shackled to the Hollywood scene. The Protocols demand you be brain-washed by the movies you are shown within the limitations of the instructions. There will be very few Godly pictures made for public consumption, without tampering.

I am hard pressed in wondering whether or not this particular topic of "Mary" is just another way to cause more hurt to my Scribe or if it can be accepted as presented by scholars. We have nothing save the recognition of respect and reverence for all men and their religions as to their RIGHT to believe, practice, worship anything as they so choose. BUT EACH BEING HAS A MORE RESPONSIBLE STANCE TO STUDY ATTITUDES AND TRUTH. If only the myths are allowed presentation, how can there ever be a correct recording of FACT? Well, we shall simply go on as offered and continue the writings begun yesterday.

Because I offer this information as asked by the sender of the booklet in point DOES NOT MEAN THAT I CONCUR IN HARDLY ANYTHING OFFERED. For instance, "Virgin" did not mean what you think, in those days—THAT ALSO, is a mistranslation of language. Spirit of God or Angels is different from a human man's touch OR artificial insemination. My purpose is to burst silly bubbles in any instance, not just the ones YOU don't like. I find almost NOTHING OF ACTUAL TRUTH in these writings and do, in fact, believe this does more harm than any good which can come about from the argument. BOTH ATTITUDES ARE BASED ON PHYSICAL PERCEPTIONS ACCORDING TO VERY NARROW-MINDED PRESENTATIONS.

If you ponder "differences" then consider this as used: "Jesus" in this instance is the NAME OF A MAN. "Christ" is the label used for representation of the Spirit of Soul in Goodness. And, readers, unless you have the RIGHT connection with God in Spirit—all the rest has NO MEANING! Physical aspect of experience is temporary at best; Soul is eternal. YOU are "not" your body physical—YOU ARE THE YOU OF SOUL.

I will share another chapter or two from this booklet to allow you to see the direction taken and then realize that the author never actually extends beyond the argument over physical myths. And worse, spends most of his time apologizing for his own perceptions. It is like arguing over whether the candy is better as a Baby Ruth or as a Butterfinger. The point is they are both simply a matter of preference for both are candy and both are "physical". ONLY the "Idea" is of spiritual recognition. You argue over "THINGS" BECAUSE YOU ARE SO ILL-INFORMED AS A SPECIES AS TO HAVE LOST THE MEANING OF YOUR EXPERIENCE ALONG WITH YOUR REALITY OF YOUR PERFECT CREATION. Were YOU created in a Man called Jesus? By a Mother called Mary? Were you created in Atlantis, Mu—Pan??? No, YOU were created with God, FOR GOD and BY GOD in the projection of HIS THOUGHT INTO MANIFESTATION. In this sense, readers, there CAN BE NO one Man who is the basis of LIFE or can be YOUR salvation. There CAN ONLY BE teachers, messengers, and leaders toward, or away from, GOD. Does it matter what Marlon Brando thinks? No, certainly NOT. It matters only what YOU think AND HOW YOU THINK ABOUT IT! These thought demands and restrictions are for the PURPOSE OF CONTROLLING YOUR EVERY MOVE AND YOUR EVERY PERCEPTION.

[QUOTING, PART TWO:]

CHAPTER TWO

WHO IS SHE?—WHAT IS SHE?

I here apologize to my own Jewish people for part of what I am about to write. I love them... what else? but before God I do not see any other way to accomplish what simply must be done. Certainly too, I haven't the slightest intention to call down on Jewish heads the anger of any Christians who may read this book. In centuries past, and even nowadays, some dastardly calumnies about Jews in general, have been circulated by gentiles who do not deserve to be called Christians. Who would think of upbraiding the Jews for fighting back with their justified complaints about all that?

On the other hand we find equally malicious calumnies on the Jewish side against cherished basic Christian Beliefs. So, as the French adage has it:

New Gaia Products

Offer Help

GaiaCol

GaiaCol is a combination of Colloidal Silver and Trace Colloidal Gold. This combination of ingredients has produced a product that is so high frequency and potent that it could quite possibly be the solution to our ongoing fight against the new antibiotic-resistant diseases that we face today. Colloidal Silver was used extensively and very successfully against bacteria, virus, fungi and the like before the advent of the first antibiotic, penicillin. The uses of Colloidal Gold were also significantly used in the restoration of health as early as 1885 and was noted for its ability to calm and harmonize the emotional body. Once the chemical companies began manufacturing the myriad of antibiotics, silver and gold were no longer looked to for treatment. The antibiotics they were producing, however, produced no effect on the more resistant viruses, fungi and parasites. Now we face a new generation of bacteria that are completely resistant to any antibiotics merely due to antibiotic over-prescribing and resultant survival of the fittest bacteria.

Research has demonstrated that Colloidal Silver is nontoxic to humans and allows no presently known disease-causing organism to live in its proximity. With the addition of Trace Colloidal Gold the frequency of GaiaCol is remarkably enhanced to allow these newer, more powerful viruses and bacteria to be eliminated. GaiaCol is gentle enough to use topically on just about any skin, hair or mouth condition without fear of toxicity and is outstanding for burns.

For internal use during any type of infectious process, start with one teaspoon the first day and then 10-12 drops, 3-4 times per day under the tongue until the infection clears. Then maintain with 3-4 drops, 3-4 times per day under the tongue. Important: Due to the powerful nature of this product, friendly bacteria can be affected so it is advisable to replace the natural intestinal flora with some type of acidophilus/lactobacillus supplement daily or at least when symptoms are noted such as cramps, bloating, diarrhea/constipation and a general feeling of malaise.

GaiaCol is said to be safe for children and pets and can be taken with other medications without incident. This product is not addictive and does not build up a tolerance to it in the body. 2 oz. $10.00

GaiaGold

GaiaGold is a solution of 100% Colloidal Gold which is one of the oldest used substances for medicinal purposes and has no equal in affecting the physical body positively. Around 1885, colloidal gold was commonly used in the United States as the basis for the cure of alcoholism with additional uses including treatment of Arthritis, skin ulcers, burns and certain nerve damages. Colloidal gold does not have the same Germicidal/Antibiotic action of Colloidal Silver when topically applied, but it does have tremendous effect if taken internally for such as Syphilis and other diseases.

Colloidal Gold has been noted for its tremendous ability to balance and harmonize the emotional body, particularly in regards to unstable mental and emotional states such as "depression", "autism", "Alzheimer's", etc. Gold has further been found to aid in the healing of heart muscle and is highly beneficial in rejuvenating sluggish organs—especially the brain—as gold is the best electrical conductor yet recognized for nerve action. Another use for Gold is in cases of glandular and nervous incoordination because Colloidal Gold is said to rejuvenate the glands and stimulate the nerves which releases the pressure and allows the signals for function to reach through to the various organs and glands.

GaiaGold intake can benefit self-control in diet and quit-smoking programs because it helps to balance the brain's craving or need for such overindulgence or addiction. Taken in conjunction with GaiaCol, overall renewed vitality and longevity may be achieved. 2 oz. $20.00

"Noblesse oblige"—that is, "nobility obligates". As Christians are willing and ready to defend the Jews against gentile calumnies, so we expect our Jewish fellowmen to bear up with our own complaints about some Jewish mistakes. Informed Christians just cannot in conscience allow certain untruths about Jesus and Mary to go their destructive way unhindered. Honest-minded Christians and Jews will see the reasonableness of this. With that observation let me go ahead. I refer here to the total blackening and destruction of the good Names of Jesus and Mary in a certain printed Work of the 13th century known as GENERATIONS OF JESUS (in Hebrew, TOLEDOTH JESU). The contents of that Book are known chiefly to the Yiddish-speaking people of eastern Europe; and, those contents are explosive. Discussion about them makes me think of something that happened to a friend of mine who was inspecting a carbide-pit while smoking a cigarette. As he bent over the pit some of the cigarette-ashes fell into the pit and caused it to blow up into his face and hands.

With a smile—let me say to the reader whoever you are: please try not to read this book with the "lighted cigarette" of prejudiced mind: it might blow up into your face. A Jewish reader could be strongly tempted to condemn me as a "jew-hater", and Christian readers might feel like condemning Jews as anti-Christian. Please be on guard against that, and credit me with sincerity of purpose in relating the following incident, and in drawing conclusions from it. I am stretching it, only because of the calumnies it reveals as buried in the minds and hearts of many really religious Jews. [H: Is this not sad that half the writing has to be in apologies for expected rebuttal? What happened to your freedoms to debate and research possibilities? How come a writer must walk on glass shards to simply give you a story to consider? It is sad in history when the debates are smothered and only ONE tale is allowed, through force of Law. I don't care either way for I consider that there is little remaining TRUTH in either side of THIS TALE.]

THE MAMSER

Out of respect and love for the feelings and religious convictions of my dear Aunt, my mother's sister, I refrained from visiting her, or writing to her for about twenty-three years after I had come to believe in the Messiahship of Jesus. [H: You must see that even here a false impression is controlling even the author!] However, I finally decided to visit her because of her advanced age, lest she go to God without my ever seeing her again. As I stepped across the threshold of her home she greeted me with a warmer than usual motherly embrace. We had hardly gotten seated than the dear woman began to scold me, and after a couple of minutes she asked me point blank: "Do you believe that Yaysus (Jesus) is God?" She spoke the Name "Jesus" in her Yiddish accent, and surprised me by pronouncing it at all. Since she was nearly stone-deaf I had to answer "Yes" with a nod of the head. At that she countered with an unmistakable sting of sarcasm: "Don't you know that he is a mamser?" ("Mamser" is the Yiddish word for "bastard-child".) That was a severe shock, not only because of what she had said, but because she had said it to me. It made me sick at heart. I had read that 13th century Book called GENERATIONS OF JESUS (TOLEDOTH JESU) in which the moral character of Mary and Her Son Jesus are dragged in the mud in vile verbiage that I choose not to write in these pages. I was aware too that the calumnious sewer-language of TOLEDOTH about Jesus and Mary was still circulating among the best Yiddish-speaking Jews in the world, and possibly among the non-Yiddish-speaking Jews. [H: I am caused to pause and ask you, reader, a question: Is it the "somehow" fault of a baby as to how his parents consort? Is not the Hollywood of current vintage overfilled with unmarried child-bearing people, both Mothers and Fathers? Does "legitimacy" make a child better? Worse? Well, certainly, it appears, disadvantaged if not properly credentialed. Is THIS the perfection of GOD in understanding and Christ-goodness, Jewish or Gentile? Do you not argue stupid topics? You CLAIM you want freedom in allowance and then find that THIS is actually "the allowance". Is it not time YOU determine your position in the reality of TRUTH of all things, not just religious or race doctrine and dogma?]

As was hard to grasp that this devout Aunt of mine, 85 years old, had always sincerely believed that Catholics gave divine adoration to One who "had been born out of wedlock to a prostitute named Mary". Again, to think that my Aunt Ethel had thought of me for some 25 years as one who venerated and asked heavenly intercession from that woman whom she honestly believed was a common slut and street-prostitute! In addition to this, it is saddening and mind-boggling to know that of all Jews it should be the really religious ones who still believe those lies, while the less-religious Jews had thrown GENERATIONS OF JESUS into the sewer long before. This is verified in VALENTINE'S JEWISH ENCYCLOPEDIA in its column headed "Toledoth Jesu as follows: Toledoth Jesu is a Hebrew biography of early composition with no background in fact." (Emphasis is the author's). The master Work known as THE JEWISH ENCYCLOPEDIA (1908) has the following in Vol. 7 under the subheading "Jesus in Jewish Legend": "Many of the legends (Jewish) have a theological background. For polemical purposes it was necessary (?) for Jews to insist on the illegitimacy of Jesus as against the Davidic Descent (of Jesus) as claimed by the Christian Church." Right here, but also in the abominable language of GENERATIONS OF JESUS we may see the reason that our religious Jews remain blind to the real, historical Mary and Jesus; it all explains why the Synagogue condemns Jesus and Mary as deserters from the Jewish People, and as persons condemned eternally by God Himself.

SMEAR AND THEN FORGET

The facts about the history of the Virgin birth of Jesus were originally proclaimed and written by Levi (St. Matthew) [H: Just how many of you knew St. Matthew as, in fact, Levi? Do you see how actually little you know about those times and those people involved?] and by St. Luke. Christians will recognize in GENERATIONS OF JESUS the butchered account of that Gospel. [H: Furthermore, NO THEY WON'T! Christians are less prone to "think" or study the FACTS.] The few leaders ("about six") to whom I have referred, transmitted to their unsuspecting Jewish posterity the horrible smear that the Mother of Jesus was just a filthy prostitute: and this they did so as to give the impression that they were consistent in rejecting also Her Son Jesus. They injected their spiritual poison so doggedly and persistently into the minds of their People as at last to completely sterilize their spiritual bloodstream of every "germ" of genuine love of Mary and Jesus which they had in the beginning. Consequently, a "prayer-curse", uttered often by Yiddish-speaking Jews especially, is: "May His Name be blotted out," and in blotting out of their memories the Name of "Jesus", they also blotted out His Mother's Name. If they find that they must speak about Jesus they will "sidestep" that Name, and say instead: "that man", or "that bastard", or "that apostate". [H: Can you see that here,

CONTACT: The Phoenix Project

CONTACT is a unique and inspired newspaper for concerned citizens everywhere, though it particularly focuses on the United States because of this country's special mission in the affairs of the world. That is, "As goes the United States, so goes the world."

CONTACT is a vehicle for Commander Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn's most recent writings on important current affairs, plus those from other enlightening sources, on matters critical to a responsible and informed public at this time of planetary transition and final days of battle between the Forces of Light and the "Evil Empire" forces of darkness.

CONTACT exists to counteract the manipulating lies and clever half-truths put out (on purpose) by the regular print and broadcast media prostitutes of the Satanic Elite controllers—parasites who are in the process of economically, physically, and spiritually collapsing this once great country (and actually the entire planet) down to a slave-state level of existence under their diabolical control plan called The New World Order.

This newspaper, CONTACT, began life on March 30, 1993, risen, like the mythical bird, with great determination "up from the ashes" of its internationally acclaimed predecessor called THE PHOENIX LIBERATOR.

THE PHOENIX LIBERATOR, in turn, began life in mid-October of 1991, having evolved from an earlier newsletter called the PHOENIX JOURNAL EXPRESS, which itself came into existence as a faster way to get THE TRUTH out to you readers than was possible with the more substantial "book" format of the PHOENIX JOURNALS. Much incredible ground has been covered so far in that mission.

While the PHOENIX LIBERATOR's motto reminded all that "The Truth Will Set You Free", the CONTACT's motto, displayed prominently in the masthead, takes that thought another important step forward and proclaims: "Ye Shall Know The Truth And The Truth Shall Make You Mad!"

The "Phoenix Project" is about those preparations needed—at body, mind and soul levels—to both understand and survive the great healing changes which are beginning to energize this beautiful little planet, now so frazzled and tortured from abuses of all kinds. We look forward, with great expectations, to the *CONTACT*ing with all of you—a coming together that is rapidly taking place as the entire Phoenix Project "ground crew" continues to connect, solidify, and gain strength through becoming informed of THE TRUTH. Indeed, welcome aboard, friends!

again, there is only argument over the PHYSICAL ASPECT OF EITHER AND BOTH OF THESE BEINGS? IS ONE MAN'S OPINION BETTER THAN THAT OF ANOTHER? IF BOTH BE PHYSICAL—HOW CAN THEY BE SPIRITUALLY IN TRUTH? PHYSICAL AND SPIRITUAL ARE TWO OPPOSING IDEALS AND IDEAS! We too are categorized and you cannot separate the facts of presentation—one is PHYSICAL, the other SPIRITUAL. IF YOU CLING TO THE ONE WHILE CASTING OFF THE OTHER, YOU HAVE ERRED AND ANOTHER MAN'S OPINION CAN DESTROY BOTH IN FACT.]

More devastating than a nuclear bomb was that campaign of "smear first and then forget". Only a sad vacuum remained in the good hearts of those deceived Jews. God's People in Israel justly expected their Leader-shepherds to walk them to green pastures where they might find their Redeemer; but instead they marched them into dark, forbidding wastelands. [H: It doesn't matter whereto you march, YOU are your REDEEMER or there won't be one.]

Well—whom they once loved they can love again because "Nothing is impossible to God." If the charm of the real Mary of Nazareth should once again capture their hearts, and if the "Second-Moses" (Jesus), Who loved His People unto death on a Cross, ever becomes known to them they will again fill the air with their Hosannas. It is undeniable that if those two "boasts" of Israel ever became known to our Jews, they would evict from their minds forever the hideous ogre that now lives there, and would hug Mary and Jesus to their hearts with tears of joy.

And may His Kingdom soon be revealed and made visible to us: and may He be gracious to the Remnant of His People, the House of Israel, granting them grace, kindness, mercy and favor.

[END QUOTING OF PART TWO]

I'm sorry, I simply can't go on with this diatribe. It becomes a bigoted article which is worse than that which it is supposed to venerate. I remind you of my prior explanation: exchanging one physical perception for that of another physical perception is missing the life-boat to Spiritual Life. I would example that I prefer you to pray FOR me in your own name than in the name of anyone or anything else—I KNOW that it is YOU who can make a difference and not some possible figment of imagination. You have no PROOF of the existence of anything, including SELF. WHAT you THINK is what YOU ARE. When you dump your responsibilities onto the head and shoulders of another—YOU HAVE THE WRONG IDEA! GOD OFFERS THE "WAY" TO SALVATION BUT NEVER, SALVATION. IF YOU WANT SELF "SAVED" THEN I SUGGEST YOU GET WITH THE SELF-SAVING PROGRAM. YOU HAD BEST GET YOUR THOUGHTS AND IDEAS, IDEALS AND DIRECTION, INTO PROPER ORDER, SEQUENCE AND TRUTH OF HOW IT IS! NEVER MIND THE CHRIST IN JESUS—WHAT ABOUT THE CHRIST IN YOU?

By the way, as long as you attend and focus on the Christ in Self, you don't have to pay much attention to the Evil in Another. It is only when you allow self to slip into the evil patterns of intention and behavior that you might well have great concern. Revenge for perceived injury to self, usually by self, is the really big scene to watch for, because it consumes you and wisdom is lost to the fire of hate.

Let me just give you a story in TRUTH of something which now many of you have as reference. Betty Tuten has been writing and stating that she "called her note" and left this area. She is angry because she "says" there was a million dollars in the Institute the "month before". Let me just explain something since the "money person" is in point here and so many false statements have been foisted off onto you unsuspecting relatives.

Sharri Yount had some funds from mutual fund changeouts. This made for a large sum of money in the neighborhood of "around" a million dollars, give or take a bit. She sent it THROUGH the Institute and it was IMMEDIATELY AND DIRECTLY transferred in sums over $600,000 INTO HER OWN PRIVATE BANK ACCOUNTS. The majority of the remainder purchased gold FOR Sharri's account at the time, prior to "calls". There was not enough LEFT IN THE INSTITUTE FROM THOSE SUMS TO PAY THE INTEREST ON THE NOTES! What is there that you readers don't seem to understand other than almost nothing? Do you actually expect a good business person, as Sharri was, to tell you she had then emptied those bank accounts and paid HERSELF? This has MAJOR IRS implications for wrong-doing. That is certainly the business of one, Sharri, but it would have been far more simple to DO IT CORRECTLY AND SECURE HERSELF. You who have given Sharri such WRONG information are far more responsible than anything Sharri did on her own account. You don't shift and then steal corporations at the whim of a Betty Tuten at the instructions of Mr. Berger and certainly not from George Green. Theft of corporations is Felony Grand Theft and whether or not that is by "little old ladies" or criminal thieves is only different in intent. Now, YOU WHO CHOOSE TO REVEAL YOUR OWN PRIVATE MATTERS CAN NO LONGER EXPECT ME TO COVER YOUR ASSETS. YOU MAKE THE CHOICES BUT INNOCENT PARTIES WILL NOT BE HELD LONGER RESPONSIBLE FOR YOUR PROTECTION THROUGH SUCH PREVAILING LIES AND MISREPRESENTATIONS. GEORGE GREEN HAS SPREAD WORLDWIDE THE INFORMATION ABOUT EACH OF YOU THAT HE CAN CONJURE OR GET OUT OF YOU, YOURSELF. IF YOU WANT THE LIES TO STAND THEN YOU HAD BETTER GET A DIFFERENT VANTAGE POINT BECAUSE I WILL NOT COVER YOU LONGER!

Can you see that if you have only a tiny part of a story—the rest is what will "getcha". Ekker has protected your assets; GEORGE GREEN AND ROD ENCE HAVE TAKEN YOUR ASSETS—UNLAWFULLY—AS THE THIEVES IN THE NIGHT! Would it not pay you unthinking badgers to KNOW THE FACTS? How much do YOU EXPECT Ekker to stand for when he only has tried to protect both the Institute and all its business—AND YOUR ASSETS? And, furthermore, is not this ganging up to destroy you and your businesses, a CONSPIRACY TO DAMAGE? YOU had best think about these things for this is the pattern of everything in your world this day!

Ekker simply allowed Sharri to get her funds and hold them in her own accounts for security. This is called PRIVACY. He most certainly DID NOT owe Betty Tuten or George Green or John Doe an explanation of Sharri's business in her own bank accounts—which did not, in fact, even affect the Institute in any manner businesswise. This simply provided Sharri with the flexibility to handle her affairs as SHE WANTED. Do you see that if you get a story it is better to get the WHOLE STORY correctly stated? The FACTS make the nightmare team look pretty stupid and leaves each open for consequences and repercussions of your own errors and omissions. A lot of people are offended and damaged by YOUR ACTIONS and MISPERCEPTIONS. "Oops" and "But I thought..." won't cut it once the hounds of legal hell are loosed and they certainly seem to be, now that you have joined in a case having NOTHING TO DO WITH ANYTHING BEING BROUGHT FORWARD! If it were not so sick it would be amusing and, in fact, is amusing to watch the total irrelevancy unfolding as each and EVERY name of your secret coalition is laid bare for the world to see in its worst light. A snitch and thief uncovered is never again trusted by ANYONE, especially the ones you claim to serve. Why do we continue to share? Because THESE ARE THE LESSONS OF LIVING! THERE IS NO BETTER TEACHER THAN "EXPERIENCE". THERE IS NO BETTER EXAMPLE THAN TRUTH UNFOLDED. Remember that only names are changed in your never-ending tales. On which SIDE of TRUTH does YOUR NAME FIT? So, how will it be? Exactly as it will be! Is it not interesting that ONLY YOU can decide how it will be with you? And, what you ARE is none of my business. What I AM is ONLY my business.

Let me close this with a tid-bit of waksope (WISDOM) from Little Crow:

"You are not an accident thought up. You are not an experiment. You are from the universe itself and you are made up of the universe in its entirety. It flows through your veins and you call it blood; it flows through your mind and you call it THOUGHT." 6/24/90

I don't wish you a "nice day" for it would be so nice if you went forth and did something WORTHY and REAL this day—like THINK. We don't rattle these keys to make Dharma's day! She is pretty tired of the repercussions of pounding these alphabet and number keys. It becomes, however, worthy of the labor if only ONE thinks and hears while seeing the TRUTH presented in the silly symbols of Man's lacking languages. Ignorance is not silly nor cute—the ignorant man deserves compassion and then when he refuses to learn truth and knowledge—he must have pity. Above all, however, he becomes no longer ignorant, but, rather, stupid and foolish. A world built on foolishness by fools cannot stand. He who builds on an earthquake fault might well expect a good shaking so when is your earthquake coming? How much do you have stored for food between life and starvation? How long between home and homelessness? Ah indeed. There truly ARE other things to think about than the Mighty Ducks hockey team and your brand of beer. Further, there may be no big meaning in sorting Jesus and Mary from the recognized myths of any religion—BUT YOU HAD BEST GET THE STORY OF GOD CREATOR QUITE STRAIGHT IF YOU PLAN TO CATCH THE BUS "HOME". Salu.

Using Or Abusing The Gifts From David Hudson?

4/14/96 #1 HATONN

ON ANY SUNDAY

I would wish that on EVERY Sunday the preachers would stand up and recite from I Corinthians, 10:13 NIV.

"No temptation has seized you except what is common to man. And God is faithful; he will not let you be tempted beyond what you can bear. But when you are tempted, he will also provide a way out so that you can stand up under it."

How many have you betrayed simply by listening to, and passing on, gossip, that of which you have no knowledge—anger, revenge, false testimony for which you have no facts or only few facts? Check your list and see where YOU fit.

Why do I begin this day with this message? Because my scribe wants to have this "cup pass from her"! Well, chela, so too does Zita want hers gone and Wally wants his gone and most certainly John wants his gone and on and on right through all of the people you can think to list.

Dharma says, "But with me it is different..." Isn't everyone's cup of problems unique and individual? If you just work on the ones that are in sameness you still have plenty of problems to pass around. Sometimes the only way of solving the problems is to unite and brainstorm.

DISCOVERING DAVID HUDSON

Ah, but when Dharma did this in the Phoenix Institute Board meetings she finds the very Board Members now betray her to the world and her worst enemies, and build case after case against her BECAUSE SHE WORKS WITH ME. But this is not the reason she believes she can again suggest less writing and speaking—it is because of David Hudson and the recent interest being stirred within our little ground crew. More people are diving off into Hudson's games than pay attention to my own. I find it amusing for I called attention to Hudson's work two years ago now—where have YOU been?

This does NOT mean that I do not approve of Hudson's work; I just find it interesting that you have MORE, and in a perfected way of use for whole health. What you want is to express the "ecstasy" without working for it.

What Hudson is speaking of lately is NOT particularly monatomic gold but rather, iridium, rhodium, ruthenium, palladium, platinum, etc. Well, these are the SAME things offered in OxySol and are already in their monatomic form. You simply want to fly before you crawl. We need people with both feet ON THE GROUND and not a bunch of scatter-brained Lolly-Loophole-Land airheads. What gets the most attention to Hudson's recent revelations? Ah yes, the sexual aspects of satisfaction without the having to be gracious or giving to another person—a sort of do-it-yourself tension-stress reliever. Get your mind in the right focus and you can accomplish the same thing.

Hudson understands HIS role very well and there is great healing in his offerings—just be sure you don't perpetuate the WRONG intentions in your lust for lust fulfillment. God always has a hooker on the line which is duly noted by the Evil Empire. Where are Hudson's products MOST USED? In the homosexual community of the garment industries, in the circles of deviant behaviors and child abusers, in the hairdresser-products companies and, generally, where there is a full-fledged effort to maintain deviant behavior as a lifestyle. "If you don't get the diseases of the game, then why stop the game?" is the hue and cry. We have the perfect product for offering the same thing in its natural form IF SOME OF YOU WOULD JUST DO YOUR JOB AND GET IT TESTED, WORKED AND AVAILABLE. Why do you wait always for us to prepare it into your bottled applicators? Well, when the scientists get focused on that which is available, perhaps we can have some assistance. You do not have to GO ANYWHERE to gain what we have been offering you for YEARS.

WHY DON'T I JUST MANIFEST LIKE BABA?

Why don't YOU just manifest like Baba? You want ash with all the alchemist's attributes? You don't even have to manifest it to get it! YOU have it but you don't want the responsibility of having to live in such a manner as to be near perfection in relationship to God. I am not going to present it on silver platters because then you have a following which is called a cult and which endangers the very lives of ones who must be protected. We want truth within GOD and not some frolicking idiots dancing in their tu-tus. To heal self in order to simply reinfest self with disease is hardly my idea of proper attitudes.

Do not think that I am putting down David Hudson—for I AM NOT! He has a responsibility to GOD and he recognizes that aspect of himself. He knows even MORE than he tells and he knows that these very metallic products are exactly the substance of true extraterrestrial flight craft. He also realizes that properly expressed you shall have the freedom of interdimensional explorations WITHOUT SPACE VEHICLES, save your own. LIFE is not out there somewhere—it is right wherever you THINK YOU ARE.

I am a rather pragmatic and practical teacher, students, and my job is to instill some sort of balanced KNOWLEDGE and RESPONSIBILITY within your eternal soul-minds. I have no intention of teaching you to simply further lock selves into the physical non-reality of dreamland. I am in full recognition of the substance of LIFE—monatomic gold. But, realize something, brothers: the thrust of the group you seek is for the iridium-rhodium products in the natural form of earth samplings. You are not getting refined monatomic gold. If you convert these substances by Drias you have more than the same thing as you convert to "frequency" while not even a scientist can recognize anything in the end product. You can watch it being added, and later, nothing shows. That is natural conversion (alchemy). Just be careful that you don't utilize another's output to the extent we cannot accomplish our own very different needs. These people know they can't corner and patent this "earth" any more than dolomite can be patented. Please use your God-given brains, students. What I see happening is an outlawing of being able to use these natural substances just as you can no longer use the plant, hemp. I do not want to discourage you for you need confirmation every time you can get it. But don't go dive off a springboard with no water in the pool. If you want these things so much, why have you not been working with our own products? Well, I'm not in the make-you-feel-good operation for I am trying to allow some of you, a remnant, to get through the tribulation and negative things coming upon you. All the rest can simply try to heal the world and somehow offer salvation and ecstasy to any and everyone who comes along in a search for "doing it without any effort on your part". I do not agree with the end possibilities. I do agree with the perfecting of DNA/RNA etc. for the RIGHT REASONS. So, just make sure YOUR reasons are "RIGHT" and go for it.

I certainly agree that the products lose so much in the oral taking of same as to discourage those who are ill. All are far more effective given by injection and especially by IV modality. However, we are not in the medical business, drug business or any other kind of such so I will NOT jeopardize anyone or anything by suggesting things which are limited by any kind of regulation at all.

The digestive tract emits enzymes and acids which negate a lot of the product taken orally but it is the only method you are going to have suggested by me—other than enemas, possibly. Those things are up to you. More product is negated by the parasitic invaders you carry and the toxins given off by other life-form microbes. So what is new? Well, lots of things. I suggest that the frequency boxes be made available because daily use of same will rid the body of parasites in about three weeks and then will allow the body to balance itself and fat will be able to be controlled. Surely these are not unlawful uses. But again, why do YOU have to go get such simple products from others when you have great need for product sales to keep your own businesses alive and thriving? These are not patentable products any more than is a battery charger. These are the most simplistic of all.

Everyone is looking for the magic. Well, you have it but it needs some attention. I will tell you now that all anyone has to do to accomplish what Hudson's crew is pushing is go to a volcanic area and EAT DIRT. Please allow some of the team to keep our heads about us. Yes indeed, I DO think you need to get some memberships with Hudson—for the connection. But don't go sell us out to his bunch, please. The Ramtha misfits are gaining total control over his operations and the Spiritual profits will be diminished exponentially. If a man is allowed to believe HE IS THE ANSWER TO THE PROPHECIES, you have inherited the wind in a most unfortunate manner. You can accomplish the same fine feeling of ecstasy, for goodness sakes, with heroin or morphine right from the poppy plants of Asia. This wave of artificial "flying" will result in multitudes of suicides because you have to separate from the physical body to truly have freedom as expressed. This will become just another thing for the government to control and remove from your ability to have and share.

This is very definitely NOT what Dharma wanted to hear because she searches for someone else to take this responsibility from her and for others to stop waiting for her to finish one assault attack to allow the enemy to get on with the next. Well, the enemy is never going to stop attacking so why don't we just deal with that reality?

What else is new? Well, several things have been ordered up by the opposition which have NOTHING to do with the fact there was NO SALE of the property in 1988. In fact, nothing of the new assaults have anything to do with the property at all. Mr. and Mrs. Ekker have now been ordered to deliver to Mr. Horn ALL DOCUMENTS, ACCOUNTS, PAPERS, COPIES OF TAPES, WRITINGS, BUSINESS, NOTES, HANDWRITTEN NOTES—EVERYTHING THEY HAVE DONE SINCE 1988. Mr. Horn is trying to enforce a psychiatric evaluation of Mrs. Ekker to see what is in her brain—like "me". This is, of course, being demanded with a Dr. Goldberg.

Well, if it is the same Goldberg Doris knows of already, fine—she will enjoy it immensely. If Doris is nuts NOW, she certainly was NOT in May of 1988! She could see, hear, tell time, speak, eat, sleep and do all those normal things on the day there was NO SALE as advertised, of any property to which she had claim of interest. And even if she is not “sound”—what are they going to do with E.J.? He was, after all, the very one who made arrangements to meet the obligations of the sale transfer. Can all of you see to what lengths the Evil Cartel will go to “getcha”? And, in addition, do you also see how far the judicial system is sunk into the cesspool of injustice?

It would appear to me to be a wonderful opportunity for you nice people here to enter Horn into a position of co-conspirator with Green, Abbott, et al. He is personally doing the damage at their behest and mandate. If they think they are proving Ekkers are somehow unable to have said property, all their claims of money-getting only PROVE their ability all along to get the property! If they have taken MILLIONS OF DOLLARS from hapless innocent victims as Tuten claims—they could have bought the property ten times over. They didn't, however, so somebody must be “honest” around here. Tuten certainly doesn't have her stories even remotely or nearly correct. Sharri simply left out the most important information in her offerings to Tuten. Worse, this sucks into the lies such as Father Cleary and now, Mike, et al. Father claims Ence/Enz and Tuten as HIS FRIENDS. (???) Better think again, CAREFULLY! They have betrayed all trust ever placed in or with them. Look around and see what they have done—even unto YOU.

YEAST AND OTHER PROTEINS

Yes indeed I am changing the subject. I weary of the narrow focus and the demands of some people on our time and output for the satisfaction of their own narrow tunnel vision. I have a full-blown and quite insulting bit of thrust against us for dealing with anything save THEIR interest focus. I am told that you can convert microbes to fight against other microbes. This is so and is in use so why aren't you nice people free of disease? The idea is to fight fire with fire, so to speak. I also am reprimanded for not offering you the transitional information of using yeast to offer a protein base, yeasts being a whole product life-form as are the algae, etc. Ok, readers, I am going to offer you a little information and I want you to respond to me with a full explanation of what I offer you, by return mail in 30 seconds or less and certainly use no more than 50 words.

TURNING YEAST SEQUENCE INTO PROTEIN FUNCTION

We will only deal here with the most studied genome Saccharomyces cerevisiae. Why? Because this is the genome getting the most DNA attention in your scientific community. Separation of structures were long ago begun and by March when the information was due from the scientists as to sequencing. Well, as of April of this year a mere 1% of the 12.5 million base yeast genomes remained to be sequenced. And, moreover, what will you do with the information when you finally get it?

There are 6200-6300 potential open reading frames (ORFs) in the genome, around 25% have been sequenced and functionally characterized before 30% encode proteins with significant similarity to proteins of known function from other organisms, and the remaining 40% represent completely novel proteins. Work is now underway in your laboratories to make a rapid assessment of the functions of these NEW genes by gene disruption, and, for some genes, by more detailed phenotypic studies. Remember, readers, MUSCLE is made up primarily of proteins. Does this smack of genetic tampering and reproduction or what?

The yeast data has already led to the identification of a number of proteins that had previously not been suspected to be part of the S. cerevisiae genetic repertoire. It is interesting to know, however, that a very large number of plasma membrane proteins with different transport functions have been identified by sifting through about half of the genome with hydrophobicity analysis and sequence alignment methods.

Some of these are clearly homologous to the multidrug-resistant proteins of bacteria and higher eukaryotes. This is fine because we have grown into the cellular membranes of the Drias a merging factor for all cellular structuring. This is most important in considering the multidrug-resistant homotypes and homologous structures of those resistant proteins of bacteria and higher eukaryotes. Still with me, readers?

Let us consider a most interesting example which is simply noted as PDR1, a protein that has all the hallmarks of the so-called ATP-binding cassette (ABC) proteins, but with the ATP-binding domains attached on the N-terminal rather than the C-terminal side of the membrane-embedded domains. As is usually the case for membrane proteins, overproduction of this protein turned out to be difficult for your scientists. However, and this is usually the case, a mutation in the PDR1 transcription factor was isolated that not only led to a 100-fold increase in synthesis of active PDR5, but also allowed efficient sorting to the plasma membrane. Whether this or similar mutant strains will be a general panacea for membrane protein over-production in yeast remains to be seen; the success with the PDR5/PDR1 system certainly suggests that genetic selection of overproduction strains may aid the assignment of protein function. Ah, but what happens if the mutation becomes part of the functioning genetic structure of the CONSUMER?

It must be noted, readers, that the rapid accumulation of fully sequenced prokaryotic and eukaryotic genomes puts new demands on bioinformatics. If, for instance, the sensitivity of sequence similarity searches can be increased by even a few percent, hundreds of new genes may be functionally and even structurally classified with minimal requirement for tedious experimental investigations. My goodness, won't this be a wonderful boon to cloning science? We might point out that already there are about 15% of all the yeast proteins which are fully and sufficiently similar to proteins of known 3D structure to allow automatic generation of 3D models. Aren't you glad to know that you are going to be a simple yeast product? These models are already expected, in scientific circles, to be very accurate and almost identical around an active site and are fairly accurate within the central core of the protein, and yet are still quite unreliable in the exterior loop regions. These would be useful, however, in, for instance, guiding site-directed mutagenesis studies. Fine so far? What do you think your exterior mutation appearance will be after all this “blending” and tampering? Those exterior loop regions are quite important for external appearance and identification.

Well, you now have this information floating around on your Internet—unfinished and making it as easy to tamper with DNA structuring as is making a bottle-bomb for the kiddies. There are MAJOR studies underway in laboratories world wide, readers, that would take away your breath. Now we can just slam this on the Internet and the awaited unification of experimental and computational biology will be in vogue. Where will this take you, World? It is anybody's guess, I suppose, but MY guess is that a lot of people will be playing with deadly toys and wipe out your whole species! So be it.

Is everybody now happy to have this wondrous information revealed herein? Does it make your day? How nice that you can get this revelation and understand it fully. How nice that you are all going to be so careful henceforth to understand fully everything fed to you. To you who are bored with my presentations and impatient to get more of what you can't possibly understand, much the less comprehend—go latch onto the world of the Internet. Information in and of itself is as worthless as a Mensa meeting of nit-wits lacking any kind of common sense. Is it information you desire or do you hyper-wits think I will somehow be impressed that you “don't” know enough to even ask a proper question? All you need to understand is LIGHT, ladies and gentlemen—JUST LIGHT!

Am I not weary of the distractions? Of course! But there is something you must understand and that is that MY KNOWLEDGE and your knowledge are two different things. YOU ARE GOING TO GET WHEREVER YOU ARE GOING ON YOUR INFORMATION—I AM ALREADY THERE! THEREFORE, IT MIGHT BEHOVE THE STUDENTS TO ALLOW THE PROFESSOR TO TEACH THE CLASS IN HIS STYLE INSTEAD OF THE UNLEARNED STUDENT RUNNING THE LECTURES.

You can all blow your minds with iridium and rhodium, etc., but what have you achieved? You have achieved an alternate state briefly for your minds which, in fact, will distract you from GOD and not TO GOD in a permanent understanding of LIGHT WHICH IS GOD. Be careful, readers, for the life you SAVE might well be your own. Likewise, the life you lose may also well be your own. These tamperings can and will, if continued, wipe out your SPECIES. Think about it for you might well not like what you are now or how you look or how fat or thin you are, but you are definitely NOT GOING TO LIKE WHAT YOU ARE HEADED FOR TO BECOME.

Each person of souled being has a purpose and a gift to share and offer. Be careful with those precious holdings lest you get carried away with your “allowances”. Note the government boys will leave you alone until many are sucked into the trap and then you are going to get pinched as the door shuts on you. Addictions come in many, many forms and the addiction to disassociate mind from living responsibility is the greatest of all desires. MIND addiction is worse than any physical body addiction. What are YOU doing with yours? Mind, that is. There simply aren't any shortcuts to living as God demands and conditions, but there are a zillion short-cuts to reaching Hell in many forms of presentation.

Childhood's end has come, readers, and with that comes responsibility. Why don't you just stop the silly search for magic tricks and uncover the great and wondrous MYSTERIES so that LIFE can be forthcoming—not just a journey through loop-the-loop land. Any plane which is airborne and runs out of fuel or breaks its motor will CRASH! It is not the flight that is hard on the body—it is the landing! It is not enough to KNOW how to get the plane off the ground—you must know how to, more importantly, LAND IT.

How many people will MISUSE Hudson's products? ALMOST EVERYONE! He is quickly going to become the Timothy Leary of brain blasters. And yet, he holds the priceless pearl of great value in the monatomic realms of substance. Can we not be patient in our eagerness to serve SELF? When man can relate to his relations, then, and only then, can “self” be put to the rear burner and allow the unfolding of God's great mysteries of infinite LIFE.

My scribe is tired and I can't argue the merits of how that comes to be and I apologize for such lengthy dissertations that not three in any billion people understand. And, if you now have something which allows you such incredible insight and psychic KNOWING—DON'T YOU THINK POSSIBLY YOUR ENEMY ALREADY HAS IT IN USE? HE DOES!!

Is the “giving away” of the “substances” an altruistic gesture? No, the “GIVING” away of the substances without full instructions in a “how to use” guide with the product indicates an effort to protect the people involved. The structured “memberships” and offshore TRUSTS indicate good business which protects, further, the people involved. Don't be blind and silly. Use these tools well and recognize in KNOWING what is taking place and then you aren't among the foolish dingle-dangles who destroy all the good opportunities through your selfish need to make others pay for your mistakes.

So, the Hudson plan sounds too good? Well, so be it. Just how are you going to turn your dirt, when you get it, into all those abundant and valuable metals? How are YOU going to get your gold out of the dirt? Ah so? Alchemy is the cat's meow isn't it? It is just that it is so elusive to the masses to perform. And the “factory” tour that you don't really want to take? Well, consider that a rock crusher isn't such an interesting thing. You are focused on the “idea” and by his own presentation—it is NOT THE MONATOMIC GOLD PRODUCT HE REFERS TO IN THIS OFFER OF CURRENT UNDERTAKING. When are you going to get out of the sandbox, upside down? Or better yet, if you choose your sand wisely—stay in it.

No, I do not put-down this wondrous man for he is gifted and special, but I do dislike the method of using the gift so carelessly. When we are given the very gift of the knowledge of LIFE, we must attend it most carefully and selectively lest it be scattered as the pearls before the trampling swine and is lost to man forever.

Good morning.
