"Official Reality" Crumbling In Murder Of Princess Di Courageous Political Battle With Windsor

We were told by many sources, some of them from the halls of professional journalism, that our initial outlay on the MURDERS of Princess Diana and Dodi al Fayed was "bold". Well, truth is truth. What else could we have called the event? An unfortunate accident? Or maybe blame the media reporters like everyone else did? That would have been lame. Is nobody willing to outright tell the truth any more, in a public capacity, without arranging what may be offensive or inconvenient information beneath layers of political correctness? Indeed, it is a controlled media. In that initial Front Page story for the 9/2/97 issue of CONTACT, Commander Hatonn cryptically reminded us that: "...Murder comes in unexpected ways, even if it is expected." And then, "Are you actually READY to receive truth?" Some are and some aren't. Accepting The Truth in this matter means accepting a lot of other "attached" matters along the lines of: "Well, if THAT's true, then what about...?!" There go those confounded conspiracy theories again—and the attendant implied responsibilities to all of us who allowed the foxes control of the henhouses in the first place, and for all of these years as (Please see "Official Reality" Crumbling, p.16)

10/7/97 DR. AL OVERHOLT

AND NOW, A FEW WORDS FROM "THE REV." AL GORE

Excerpted from an UNKNOWN magazine page, 9/97: [quoting]

Were the Pilgrims and Puritans and the last six generations of Bible-teaching preachers actually all pagan mystics? Forum attendee Albert Gore thinks so.

In his book, Earth In The Balance: Ecology And The Human Spirit, he makes the most bizarre pronouncement in recent memory:

"Our religious heritage is based on a single Earth goddess who is assumed to be the fountain of all life."

Well. So much for American Christianity. So much for Judaism (in which worship of an Earth goddess was punishable by death), Islam, the Bible, and—for that matter—history. Gore prefers to shut out the actual past and worship Mother Gaia (the planet Earth).

Gore's mind is remarkably uncluttered by facts and his heart is free of political fears.

Totally rejecting the widely held sentiment that some sort of god created the universe, he writes that "...creation is god. Nature in its fullness is god." Then after this running leap into the arms of pantheism, he has the amazing gall to pronounce that Christians who believe in Bible prophecy and the Second Coming of Christ are, in his word, "heretical".

Obviously, he has set up a new standard of truth here, more or less of the same quality as Clinton's "I didn't inhale". It would all be laughable, of course, save for four facts: One, he's serious. Two, he has announced in no uncertain terms his determination to become President in 2000. Three, he's a key part of Gorbachev's New Civilization, whose 500 leaders lustily applaud the idea of getting rid of their enemies. And four, these people pretty much control most of the world already.

Did we say enemies? Yes, and if you harbor too much reverence for Christ or the Bible, that probably means you. [End quoting]

Don't forget that evil uses names, terms and phrases that originate from ones of Light to confuse you and make you think they are of the Light. Such as the name Gaia and that everything (all) is God—which is of the Light. But, be aware of the context in which these terms, names and phrases are used. This is how evil confuses you so you will be taken in by their tricks, such as their use in the above Gore(y) statement.

AUGUST: THE NIGHT OF THE LONG KNIVES; THANKSGIVING EARLY THIS YEAR:

The Turkey (Bill Clinton)
To Be Carved In Late Sept./Early Oct.
So Reports Ru Mills
(Formerly Rumor Mill News)

From the INTERNET, Conspiracy Nation, 9/97: [quoting]

In a phone conversation with "Ru Mills" (pseudonym), she reported on a series of terse faxes received. The faxes all bear a unique signature, one which Ru is sworn never to divulge lest her source cut her off from further inside info.

Recall how in Conspiracy Nation 9.74 (CN 9.74), Rumor Mill News reported on two factions in the intelligence "community"—there are two factions—the New World Order (NWO) faction, controlled by George Bush, and the anti-NWO faction. The anti-NWO faction, said to be linked to the Office of Naval Intelligence, is known as "Faction II". At this point, reports Ru Mills, Faction II is firmly in control and big changes will be coming soon. Among the items relayed by fax to Ru by her inside source:

"Be careful during the month of August; August is the night of the long knives. Thanksgiving will be early this year; the Turkey [Bill Clinton] will be carved in late September or early October."

But these predictions are not written in stone; Bill Clinton may have a few tricks up his sleeve. Note, for example, says Ru Mills, how the dread terrorist bombing in New York City—a "bombing" which never actually happened—is being played up big in the mass media. The public mind is being preconditioned—for what? For "Rally 'round the flag" (a.k.a. "Rally 'round Bill Clinton")? Bill Clinton, speculates Ru Mills, may actually create a real "terrorist" incident to save his own butt. On a different angle, she speculates that media magnification of the alleged "almost-bombing" in NYC may be a prelude to "discovery" that Muslim extremists were behind the TWA 800 disaster. Either way, Bill Clinton can then do a "standing tall" routine with consequent increase of support from the American public—thereby weakening maneuverers by Faction II.

Another reported card in Bill Clinton's deck is an alleged secret grand jury indictment of George Bush, Oliver North, John Hull, Don Gregg, and—get this—WILLIAM WELD. (Jesse Helms knows of Weld's indictment, says Ru Mills; that's why he's stalling Weld's confirmation as Ambassador to Mexico.) Bill Clinton may be using the alleged secret indictments of Bush et. al. as leverage: If you go after Hillary, we'll go after you.

Ru Mills believes that Senator Fred Thompson, heading an investigation into campaign finances, has a lot planned for August.

THE "TELEPHONE MAN"

Recall how in the movie, The President's Analyst (starring James Coburn), the secret power behind everything turned out to be the telephone company. Of course, that is an exaggeration, but the phone companies undeniably have great power. And ITT has been connected, in the past, to secret government operations. So when a phone company man turns up in your back yard, don't necessarily assume he's just working for the phone company.

The "phone man" turned up mysteriously at Ru Mill's home. "Why are you here?" she asked. "I have a work order here; it says your phone's not working," he explained. The "phone man" then handed Ru a sealed envelope, supposedly confirming the "work order". Inside the envelope, besides the papers, was a card with the following poem:

The Gunther Russbacher who lives with Jane
And the one you married are not the same.
To find the one with the real face
You have to look in the darkest place...
Try Langley, VA...
...and have a nice day.

Who is "Jane"? She, says Ru, is Jane Ryder, partner of film-maker Alan Frankovich, who made the renowned documentary about the CIA: On Company Business. Ru Mills was married to Gunther Russbacher. Russbacher was imprisoned in Austria. On his release, Russbacher was to have reunited with Ru. But Jane showed up at the Austrian prison gates and bedazzled Russbacher; he forgot all about Ru Mills and ran off with Jane. Later, April 17th, 1997 to be exact, Frankovich was coming through customs, reportedly carrying documents concerning the Lockerbie [Scotland] plane crash. Frankovich suddenly dropped dead on the spot. Then an item appeared in newspapers about the new CIA Director of Covert Operations, said to be 56 years old, a retired CIA agent that had been re-activated, and a former station chief in Moscow. Not coincidentally, says Ru Mills, Gunther Russbacher is also 56 years old, retired CIA, and a former station chief in Moscow. "But what about the name?" I asked. According to Ru, the name of CIA Director of Covert Operations is normally not given out; whatever "name" given in newspaper accounts would have been false. "Well, do you think there are two 'Gunther Russbachers' running around?" Ru replied that she knows (as suggested in the poem) that there are two Gunther Russbachers. And Jane may not be with the real Gunther Russbacher. <http://www.shout.net/~bigred/cn.html> <<http://feustel.mixi.net> [End quoting]

SOVIETS LAUNCH SCALAR WEAPON—U.S. PLANES DROP FROM SKY

From the INTERNET, 9/97: [quoting]

About 10 days ago, there was the announcement that the Soviets were launching a Scalar weapon; unusual. Then the US planes started dropping out of the sky. It could be coincidence, but this gives some answers. I would not be surprised to see that USA allows this to happen to "test" the weapons which are likely shared by the two countries, preparing for "alien invasion", or "trade offs"—the target practice as part of some deal.

Naturally, this is rather WILD SPECULATION.

P.S. Buzz Aldrin is heavily involved in zero point physics research. He is also upset that the aliens are presented in negative lights, as in, in particular, the movie Independence Day. [End quoting]

Some things to mull over.

THE FLECHETTE GUN

From the INTERNET, 9/97: [quoting]

I once mentioned the flechette gun. It is (was) a gas-powered pistol used by the CIA that shot razor-thin and equally sharp wafer-like darts that made no sound and caused no pain. The target died from blood loss. Usually the victim would not know he was hit until he noticed the warmth of his own blood flowing over his body.

Descriptions of the murders of thousands in the slums of Panama during our "heroic" assault on that impediment to drug funnelling by the USA into USA, describe large numbers of people who started oozing blood. Their bodies were burned by GIs. It sounds like aircraft-mounted large high-capacity flechette guns were used.

MORE CLUES TO USA BRUTALITY

I have seen "Puff the Magic Dragon" at work in Vietnam, the troika of Electric machine guns firing at 6,000 rounds [per minute] each from a cargo plane.

COST OF INFIDELITY

From THE MODESTO BEE, 8/10/97: [quoting] CLEVELAND—A man who infected his ex-wife with a sexually-transmitted disease while they were married must pay her $275,000, a federal jury decided. A U.S. District Court jury found this week that Charles Moffitt, head of the Drug Enforcement Administration office in Toledo, was negligent in giving Rose Gonzalez a human papilloma virus. 250-MPH SUBWAY

From POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, August 1997: [quoting]

Switzerland is planning to link its major cities with a 250-mph underground maglev rail system called Swissmetro. The trains would be magneti-cally levitated and guided, and propelled by linear electric motors. To save money, the tunnels will be dug only slightly larger than the trains. The tunnels will maintain a partial vacuum to prevent problems with air blockage, and the train cars will be pressurized. [End quoting]

This is nothing really new in technology. The secret underground tunnels have vacuum trains which can cross this country in several hours.

WEAPONS SURRENDERED

From THE TORONTO STAR, 10/1/97: [quoting]

A year and a half after a gunman killed 16 kindergarten pupils and their teacher in the Scottish town of Dunblane, handgun owners across Britain surrendered their weapons yesterday under a new law banning possession of anything with a calibre higher than .22.

Parliament is considering legislation that will outlaw smaller handguns, possibly by the end of this year. [End quoting]

Australia is collecting all of their citizen-owned guns. Are we next??

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Excerpted from THE CIVILIAN MILITARY ASSISTANCE (CMA) newsletter, 1997: [quoting]

"First, we shall take all of Eastern Europe. Next, the masses of Asia. Then we shall encircle that last bastion of capitalism, the United States of America. We shall not have to attack, because it will fall like over-ripe fruit into our hands."—

Lenin 1922.

Eastern Europe fell to the Communists in 1945; China in 1947; Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos in 1975. Burma and India have close ties with the Communists. The Communists invaded Afghanistan in 1980. Ethiopia, Mozambique and Angola have Communist governments. Libya, Iran and the PLO have close ties with the Communists through the terrorist network. Syria is an ally of Russia.

Cuba fell to the Communists in 1959. Nicaragua was taken over by the Communists in 1979. El Salvador is struggling against Communist insurgents supported by Cuba and Nicaragua. Russia, Cuba and Nicaragua are supporting leftist insurgents in Honduras, Guatemala, Costa Rica, Peru, Chile, Colombia and Venezuela. Mexico, which has the largest Communist Party in Central and South America has future rebels being trained today in Nicaragua and Cuba.

SEN. HELMS: KILL AGENCY THAT SUBSIDIZES THE ARTS

From THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, 9/16/97: [quoting]

The annual battle over federal arts funding moved to the Senate on Monday with conservative Sen. Jesse Helms urging elimination of the National Endowment for the Arts. The House has already stripped funding for the NEA from a fiscal 1998 spending bill, and Senate acceptance with the White House, which strongly supports the agency responsible for federal subsidies for the arts. A Senate bill currently includes $100 million for the NEA. [End quoting]

I think I heard that the NEA managed to squeeze their funding "through a backdoor". It's awfully hard to kill off the funding that feeds the conniving snakes—oops, reptilians—that operate the NEA.

MORE LAWS MAKE MORE OUTLAWS

From THE ROUND VALLEY PAPER, 9/17/97: [quoting]

This simple fact remains: The main reason we have so many criminals is that we have too many too many laws. The best law would be this: Every voter who votes for a new law will get a life sentence if he or she violates that law (the death penalty to the legislator). If that person violates any other new law, it should be only a 10-year sentence. That way, we can rid society of its most dangerous subversives.

The way things are going, we can change the last lines of the national anthem. "In this land I am free, because everyone else is in jail." [End quoting]

I'm afraid this law couldn't be put into effect, however, until the mess is cleaned up first. It seems that it would be awfully difficult for things to get out of hand once this law was activated, though. (God disagrees with the death-penalty part.)

RUSSIAN AIR FORCE PHOTOGRAPHS U.S. BASES

Excerpted from THE ROCKY MOUNTAIN NEWS, 8/5/97: [quoting]

The Cold War must be well and truly over: With the blessing of the U.S. government, a Russian Air Force plane flew from Washington to Ohio to Florida taking photos of American military facilities.

The five-day mission, which ended Saturday, was a training exercise in preparation for implementation of the 1992 Open Skies Treaty. The treaty, signed by 27 nations, promotes openness by allowing participating countries to gather information about each other's military forces through unarmed observation flights.

The flight was the first over the United States by a Russian aircraft under the treaty. A U.S. team departs for Russia later this month.

Until the agreement takes effect, only training flights will be permitted.

It was unclear when Russia might approve the treaty, said Valeriy Verotnikov of the Russian Parliament's security affairs committee. [End quoting]

I think CONTACT readers already know that Russia doesn't need our permission to make this flight, all they have to do is tell our government "You better not interfere with our planes and plans!!"—to prevent being shot at.

REPLACE ESTROGEN, GET RICH

Drug Makers Race To Refine Substitute

Excerpted from THE DAILY NEWS, Los Angeles, 9/26/97: [quoting]

Barbara Zimmerman stumbled off a New Jersey curb and into a race between drug makers dashing to be the first to replace the most widely-prescribed drug in the nation: estrogen.

While nursing her broken ankle, the retired jewelry designer discovered she had osteoporosis. But she balked at taking estrogen—the conventional treatment for the bone-thinning disease—when her doctor warned it could raise her chances of getting breast cancer.

Instead, two years after her fall, Zimmerman is wrapping up her stint as a research subject in a blind test of Eli Lilly's drug, raloxifene. Researchers expect the drug to be the first estrogen replacement on the market that could replace estrogen therapy for women who have gone through menopause.

If the new drugs work, women would be able to protect their bones and hearts without increasing their chances of breast cancer. With women living longer and baby boomers just starting to take postmenopausal drugs, the potential market is immense. [End quoting]

You can also bet that the new drugs will have severe side effects. Always remember: the Elite are doing their best to help the older people to get into their graves early, but not until they can empty their pocketbooks—helping these poor souls to get well would be a contradiction.

Also, the Elite knew how to solve the osteoporosis problem many years ago—just follow the money trail if you want to really know what is going on. They tell you it's the most-prescribed drug. Would you really expect them to throw away this market, or would it be more practical for the Elite to keep you hooked and raise their incomes by jacking up the prices on some "new" drug that doesn't solve the problem either?

HEARINGS SPUR CALLS FOR IRS REFORM

Excerpted from THE DAILY NEWS, Los Angeles, 9/27/97: [quoting]

Donald B. Tackett got a shock of recognition as he read newspaper stories about the Senate investigation of the Internal Revenue Service's abuse of taxpayers.

"I said: 'That's me! That's my life!'" he said. Tackett, 59, a minister at the Church of God in Morehead, Ky., says he has been harassed by the IRS since 1993 to pay a tax bill originally set at $5,000. After penalties and interest fees, he's paid $11,000 on it so far, "and I still haven't got it completely resolved".

In desperation, he called the Senate finance Committee on Thursday seeking help.

The committee's high-profile hearings electrified a nerve of public resentment against the IRS and what critics call its pervasive "culture of arrogance", which was shown to lead often to a kind of torture by taxation of ordinary citizens.

"Unless somebody reins them in, they're just going to get more belligerent and more indifferent," Thackett said.

Virtually everyone in Washington—Democrats, Republicans, even the IRS boss himself—agrees with that now. The Senate hearings painted such a devastating portrait of a bullying, out-of-control bureaucracy that everyone favors reform.

The question is, what kind? [End quoting] I venture to say, what comes out of this is that the government will end up getting deeper into your wallets.

How long has it been since the government played with the tax laws and you ended up with more TOTAL value in your paycheck, when you went to purchase something—not more PAPER value in your pocket??

There are two sides to what's going on in these hearings: One is that all those hearing about this are even more terrorized by the goons at the IRS, and the second is that they will probably rake in more money than before without ending up doing anything to remedy the situation except for several highly-publicized cases of restitution. Thus, they net many more billions of dollars!!

My scenario doesn't have to happen if everyone does what they know they should do—and that is: don't let this opportunity fall through the cracks. Flood the politicians and bureaucrats with mail, faxes, phone calls and anything else you can think of so they KNOW YOU ARE FED UP AND WON'T TAKE IT ANYMORE!!

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

On the 7th of April 1996 Voice of Russia Science and Engineering programme, V.O.R. (Voice of Russia) transmitted a story about Russia's DEFENCE-LESS advanced "microwave plasma weapons, generators and weather modification technology".

In this transmission the "very likeable" Mr. Boris Belitsky said that Russia was some "5-to-8 years ahead of the United States and Western countries". Boris said that this Russian technology can bring down small objects, artillery shells, missiles carrying war-heads, and can also bring down "large aircraft like JUMBO JETS".

Hear it for yourself—V.O.R.'s claim is that this technology fires a plasma ball of energy and "is targeted not at the target itself"; however, in front of the target, it ionizes that region of space in front

A LOVING LULLABY

The loneliness seemed unbearable.
Didn't God know how much
I needed Him?

From ANGELS ON EARTH, May/June 1997, Guideposts, 39 Seminary Hill Rd., Carmel, NY 10512: [quoting]

Another day over, I thought, sighing, as I drove out of the parking lot at work that evening in 1992. On the nearby Santa Ana Freeway cars sped by, the drivers all eager to get where they were going. Not me. I was just heading home to an empty apartment. In the three years I'd been in Southern California I'd found it impossible to make friends—true friends, I mean. I'd met some interesting people, but I couldn't find the real companionship I'd known elsewhere. I missed my family. My husband and I had separated and divorced. Everyone was far away: my friends, my mother in Arkansas, my daughter in Michigan, beginning life on her own. Were did that leave me?

Thinking I wanted some independence and adventure, I'd come out West. My parents had always said we were a can-do family, and I tried to keep up a positive front. Only God knew the loneliness that threatened to overwhelm me. I certainly wasn't looking forward to another night alone in my tiny apartment.

I turned on the car radio, searching for music. I had loved music since I was young girl, playing piano for the choir in my church. These days it seemed to be the only thing that would bring me some relief.

Some time after I got home, my phone rang. It was Mary, a woman from the Bible class I'd been attending. Mary had no family, and we had once talked about feeling alone. "Sometimes, it's more than I can bear," she'd told me. It helped knowing she understood what I was going through.

"What can I do?" I asked her. "I'm having a bad night. Another one."

"Ask God for comfort," Mary said.

"I've tried."

"Ask Him specifically for comfort," Mary responded. While studying the Scriptures, she said, she had become aware of the many times "comfort" appears in both Testaments. She reminded me that the Holy Spirit is often called the Comforter. "Now when I pray I concentrate on those passages," she said. Before we hung up Mary said a lovely prayer for me. Feeling a little better, I got ready to turn in.

My bedroom was just large enough to accommodate a phonograph on a stand wedged between the door and the closet. Every night I put on a favorite LP to help fill the silence while I drifted off to sleep. I put the needle on the record and climbed under the covers. As the first song began to play, I did what Mary said. Yes, I prayed, bring me comfort.

The moon spread a blanket of silvery light across me. I fluffed my feather pillow into a welcoming cradle and tried to relax, listening to the music, watching the spinning turntable. Spinning and spinning, just like my life.

My room was filled with music, and I wanted to lose myself in its embrace. Glancing at the phonograph, I saw what seemed to be black dots rising out of it. After I focused I realized that the dots were music notes floating into the air! I lifted my head to get a better look. The notes rose from the spinning record toward the ceiling. More and more of them filled the room, the very notes from a page of the music being played.

I looked up. The ceiling seemed to open like a window. Two figures descended, each alighting on one side of the phonograph, facing my bed. They appeared to be men—angels without wings—dressed in soft, white garments. They were taller than the doorways, and their wavy snow-white hair touched their shoulders. I knew with certainty that I was not dreaming.

Each stretched a muscular arm toward the other, and a large white sheet appeared between them. In one fluid motion the angels grasped the edges of the sheet and stretched it out flat. The music notes immediately spread across it in a pattern. The angels walked slowly alongside my bed, the sheet fluttering weightlessly behind them. They let the sheet drift down and cover me, then they fit the edges under the mattress, gently tucking me in.

Without a sound they strolled out the bedroom door. Somehow the wall became transparent and I saw that my living room was filled with angels! I heard no words, but I could see their mouths moving in conversation. I felt like a child, lovingly put to bed while the grownups stayed up for a while longer. Feeling protected, I quickly fell into a dreamless sleep while the music continued to play.

I awoke renewed, although my life hadn't changed in those few short hours. It would be four more years, in fact, before I left California for Atlanta, where my sister lives, and where I found fulfilling work. Even now, on occasion, those feelings of loneliness return. But ever since the night I was wrapped in soothing music, I have known God and His angels are my constant companions. [End quoting]

Oh, for some soothing music!

MERRY CHRISTMAS From New Gaia Products

Oh, you have no idea how much we hate having to say that already. After all, it is still 11 weeks away. Gadzooks!!! What did we just say? ELEVEN WEEKS!!!

Well there's nothing like getting the shopping out of the way early.

PART III

THE ENORMITY OF THE GAMBLING MARKET

In 1995, some $550 billion in legal wagers was placed at casinos, racetracks, off-track betting parlors, video poker machines, state lotteries, bingo games, and charity events, according to the United States Gross Annual Wager, 1995, a study by Christiansen/Cummings Associates, Inc., and published in August 1996 by International Gaming & Wagering Business, a trade magazine (Figure 1). That amounts to about $2,000 in wagers for every man, woman, and child in the country, and some $5,500 per household. Gambling is now legal, in one form or another, in all states of the United States except Utah and Hawaii (Figure 2).

The wagering figure is a measure of the annual turnover in bets, similar to the annual turnover in financial markets, representing the sum of all bets placed. As such, it is different from the revenue of the gambling facilities, which is the net take on those wagers. That is, a gambler might walk into a casino with $1,000, put all of it into a slot machine, and win back $750 in jackpots, leaving with $750 in his pocket; $1,000 was wagered, but a net $250 changed hands, the latter figure representing the casino's revenue.

Americans gambled away $44.4 billion in 1995, more than they spent on movies at theaters, spectator sports, plays, and recorded music combined (Figure 3). Casinos reported 154 million customers in 1995, more than attended all Major League Baseball and National Football League games combined. In 1996, it was even worse. According to Harrah's 1997 Survey of Casino Entertainment, casinos reported 176 million visits in 1996, including members of 32% of all U.S. households (Figure 4).

According to Harrah's, more than half of the states generate more than 1 million casino visits each year, led by California with 18 million visits; Illinois, Louisiana, New York, and Pennsylvania with 10-12 million visits; and Texas, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Nevada, and Minnesota rounding out the top ten with 7-8 million visits each. Among metropolitan areas, New York leads the pack with 11 million visits, followed by Philadelphia with 10 million, and Los Angeles with 9 million; these three metropolitan areas generated almost 17% of U.S. casino visits in 1996. Next among metropolitan areas were: Chicago, with 7 million visits; and Memphis and New Orleans, with 6 million each. Rounding out the top ten metropolitan areas are Minneapolis-St. Paul, Las Vegas, Phoenix-Flagstaff, and Detroit. These top ten metro areas generated approximately 40% of U.S. casino visits in 1996.

PLACE YOUR BETS

Legalized gambling in the United States comes in many forms. There are the casinos, with table games (roulette, blackjack, baccarat, poker) and slot machines; the lotteries; pari-mutuel betting on horse racing, dog racing, and jai alai; bookmaking; card rooms; bingo; charitable gambling; and Indian gambling, which includes elements of several of the other categories. As shown by Table 1, the amounts bet at casinos, at Indian reservations, and on lotteries, have risen sharply since 1982, while pari-mutuel betting has remained relatively flat. As in 1982, the non-Indian casinos dominated the wagers in 1995 (Figure 5), but the lotteries were nipping at their heels in terms of revenues (Figure 6).

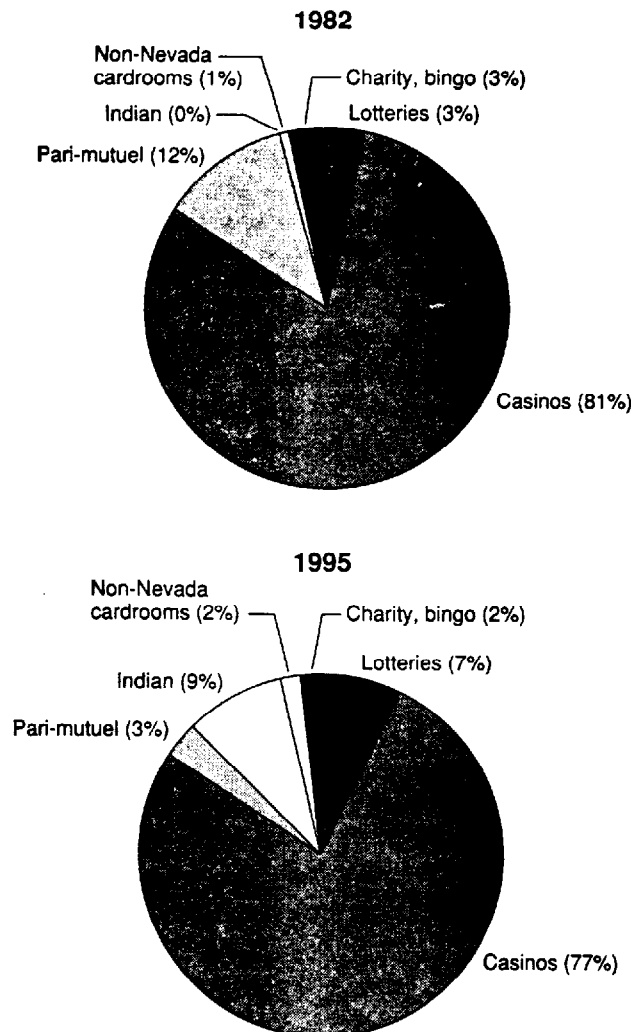

Nevada and its casinos still dominate the gambling market, with nearly 40% of all wagers placed; New Jersey is solidly in second place (Table 2). That still leaves a lot of money for the new gambling meccas, in Mississippi, Illinois, and Louisiana, all of which topped $20 billion in wagers.

CASINOS

In terms of wagers placed, the non-Indian casinos dominate the gambling landscape, with $423 billion in wagers in 1995, or 77% of all wagers; most of these non-Indian casinos are in Nevada, which has over 300 casinos, but 13 other states also have legal non-Indian casinos (Figure 7). In second place, were the Indian gambling facilities, with $49 billion in wagers, or 9%; followed by lotteries with $38.9 billion (7%), and pari-mutuel betting with $17.8 billion (3%). The remaining 4% was accounted for by card rooms, bingo, charitable gambling, and legal bookmaking.

Among the non-Indian casinos some $3 out of every $4 in bets placed were placed in casinos in Nevada and New Jersey, which accounted for $306.9 billion of the total wagers (Table 3). Another $88 billion was wagered on riverboat casinos, most of which are located along the Mississippi and Ohio rivers.

The remainder was accounted for by other land-based casinos, deepwater cruise ships (the aptly named "cruises to nowhere"), slot machines in non-casino locations, and the like.

Measured in terms of revenues, the non-Indian casinos again led the pack in 1995, but by a smaller margin, with $18 billion, or 41%, followed closely by lotteries, with $15 billion, or 34%. Indian gambling accounted for $4 billion, or 9%, and pari-mutuel betting accounted for just under $4.7 billion, or 10%.

INDIAN GAMBLING

There were 281 Indian gambling facilities in the United States as of the end of 1996 (Figure 8). In terms of numbers of facilities, California leads the nation with 41, followed by Oklahoma with 36, Washington state with 28, Wisconsin with 25, and South Dakota with 20.

The U.S. General Accounting Office, in a May 1997 profile of Indian gambling, put the revenues for Indian gaming at $4.5 billion, slightly higher than the figure from Christiansen/Cummings, and based its analysis just over half was paid out in winnings to the players, and the rest went for administrative costs (mostly to the lottery operators, such as GTECH) and awards to sellers of winning tickets.

Lotteries are big business in many states: Three states, Oregon, New York, and Texas, sold over $3 billion in tickets in 1995, and five more, Massachusetts, Florida, Ohio, California, and South Dakota, sold more than $2 billion in tickets. Another six states had sales in excess of $1 billion (Table 4).

Worldwide, some 125 lotteries sold in excess of $100 billion in tickets in 1996.

million up to $100 million) accounted for 17%. The survey's 109 Class III Indian casinos, as a group, reported $4.0 billion in gambling revenues in 1995, slightly more than the $3.6 billion reported by the 12 Atlantic City casinos, but well below the $7.0 billion reported by the 213 Nevada casinos included in the study (about two-thirds of the Nevada total). The Foxwoods Resorts Casino, run in Ledyard, Connecticut by the Mashantucket Pequot Tribe, claims to be the largest casino in the United States. Gambling revenues accounted for 93% of total revenue at these Indian casinos and 91% in Atlantic City, but only 64% in Nevada, reflecting the success of the Las Vegas casino resorts in grabbing non-gambling tourist dollars.

LOTTERIES

The numbers racket, in the form of lotteries, has proved lucrative to the states (Figure 10). Thirty-nine states (in addition to the District of Columbia) took in $38.9 billion in revenue in 1995, from ticket sales and video lottery machines (such as video lottery poker and keno) (Figure 11). About $13 billion—34%—of that money went to the state governments, gambling revenues 25 years ago, to just 8% in 1995, thanks to a relatively flat growth curve, compared to the hyperbolic growth of gambling as a whole. Some race tracks have begun adding slot machines to try to boost revenue, and Florida has begun to allow card games.

CARD ROOMS

Card rooms, where betting on card games such as poker are permitted, handled $9.8 billion in wagers and took in $763 million in revenues in 1995 (these figures are for card rooms outside Nevada, where they show up in the casino table games figures). The bulk of the non-Nevada card room activity took place in California, which had some 240 card rooms with about 2,000 tables. Other states with card rooms included N. Dakota, Washington, Maryland, and Montana (Table 6).

CHARITABLE GAMES AND BINGO

Charitable games, legal in 40 states (in addition to the District of Columbia), took in $5.7 billion in wagers and $1.5 billion in revenue (Figure 13). These games include a variety of raffles, "Las Vegas night" events, pulltabs, and punchboards. The leading charitable games state, Minnesota, took in revenues of $239 million on $1.3 billion in wagers in 1995; second place California took in $158 million on $526 million in wagers (Table 7).

Non-Indian bingo took in $4.1 billion in wagers and $980 million in revenue in 1995 (Figure 14). There are about 37,000 licensed bingo halls in 46 states (in addition to the District of Columbia). Texas led the bingo states, with $109 million in revenue from $497 million in wagers, followed by California with $60 million in revenue on $318 million in wagers, and Ohio with $58 million in revenue on $231 million in wagers (Table 8).

LEGAL BOOKMAKING

Bookmaking is legal only in Nevada. It is, in the words of Christiansen/Cummings Associates, both a "private gold mine" and a "Federally sheltered market". Making book on sporting events and horse races yielded $102 million in revenue on $2.6 billion in wagers in 1995.

kindness so that brutality will perish....

And, he who is strong,
will serve the weak that

The Untold History Of America

Editor's note: The first 16 parts of Ray Bilger's ongoing series, The Untold History Of America, have finally been compiled into a book, Vol. I, now available from Phoenix Source Distributors (see Back Page for ordering information). We present here the Preface, the Introduction, and the synopsis from the back cover of the book.

10/1/97 RAY BILGER

P R E F A C E

The Untold History of America began as a series of articles which were published in 1996 and 1997 in a newspaper that is distributed worldwide called CONTACT. The series was originally intended to encompass just a few segments in order to make some things clear which were not widely known. But it was soon realized that a proverbial Pandora's Box had been opened and that to cover the amount of material necessary to accurately portray what we have not been told turned the entire work into a task of significant proportions.

One needs to understand CONTACT in order to better understand this book. CONTACT is in the forefront of those cutting-edge publications that dare to speak out about what is appropriately called the New World Order (the One World Government). CONTACT is not beholden to any corporate advertisers and can therefore afford to expose the everyday, high-level corruption that passes for business-as-usual in the Halls of Congress, and behind the doors of America's corporate boardrooms and at the major think-tanks.

Contributing writers to CONTACT may threaten those who control the world and would seemingly be putting themselves in danger of repercussions from those whose toes are sometimes stepped on. However it is more than likely because of exposing the corruption that real protection is acquired. Truth is one of those rare commodities of which our modern world seems to be in extremely short supply.

To those who may believe that everything is really okay in America and that this book is probably just the rantings of some paranoid conspiracy theorist, consider the following:

Whenever a president, or a world leader, meets in private with some advisors, or secretaries, or ministers, or consultants, and a decision is made to withhold some small amount of information from the general population or to fabricate something to change the information released to the public, however minor this change (or even outright lie) might be, and even if the reason may be to protect some alleged "national security" interest, or to protect the people from learning some bit of information which may be perceived to cause a general unrest

(as determined by the so-called leader), then, by definition, we have a conspiracy.

Some might say that the real definition of a conspiracy involves evil intent. If we can accept a definition of evil which includes anything which pulls one away from one's path to truth and understanding, then who is to decide for us which information each one of us may need to arrive at our own truth? Do you want someone else to determine your truth for you? Then you are a "sheeple". Thus, any time any information is withheld from the public, it's too late, evil has already been committed and the conspiracy is complete.

When we understand that the nature of governing people throughout all of history has always been as stated above, then it becomes evident that the true history of the world is a history of conspiracies. There is not then, nor can there ever be, such a thing as a conspiracy theory. There can only be conspiracy fact. This is simply the way it has always been.

When we realize and admit the fact that we have been lied to by our government even once, then any further pronouncements from them automatically become suspect. If we are lied to a second time, then we already have a pattern developing. We have not been given the whole picture by our so-called "leaders", and in actual fact they are pursuing an agenda which requires them to lie to us.

We need to understand the absolutely crucial position the United States of America plays in the overall world picture at this critical time where the unfolding of truth is proceeding simultaneously with an enormous effort to suppress that truth. This is a real challenge in and of itself, and America seems to be destined to lead the way to whatever this world is headed for.

It is to counter this pattern of unending lies, and instead to present truth, that CONTACT exists, and this book was written. But today, the conspiracy has become so all-pervasive as to appear almost invisible.

The work of writing this book was not subsidized or underwritten in any way whatsoever by the Rockefellers, NBC news, any of the major oil companies, any of the major banks, the Federal Reserve, the Bilderbergers, or the MOSSAD, even though each of these entities, and many others, are discussed within these pages. As one might expect, what is said about them and their activities is not necessarily what they would want the American public to know. So be it. The story is now told.

To all those who continuously thanked this author for each chapter as it first appeared in print in CONTACT, here is the book you have so enthusiastically requested.

This work would have been impossible without the family, friends, associates, higher guides, guardian angels, and, indeed, everyone this author has ever met, known, or passed in the night. But more than this, the author owes his thanks to that Great Creative Energy Source which not only made and makes his life possible, but which makes all-life possible.

Thank you ALL.

godly Indians who had to be eliminated by "civilized" Europeans, the so-called conquering of the wild West, and the apparent necessity for ever-increasing instances of war instead of peace is not only uninteresting, it is also untrue.

Education in America has intentionally been made to go downhill for a long time, by employing a carefully crafted plan to make our children illiterate. Those who home-school their children may find this book very helpful as students will find American history interesting when they hear the true story. When students can read about what really happens with Black Ops (Covert Operations), C.I.A. gun and drug running, how banks launder huge sums of money, and how the Mafia regularly works with our government, etc., suddenly American history becomes very interesting. This book could well be an important new textbook for all high schools in America.

Powerful international forces have been manipulating America from behind the scenes since long before 1776, and continue to do so today. These forces have been orchestrating wars and other events, installing presidents of their choice, controlling our Congress and the courts, illegally and unlawfully controlling our money system, mind-controlling the citizens through television and other more subtle means, manipulating the weather, and much more, in a plan designed to culminate in the eventual destruction of America and her citizens. They have destroyed the family, the society, the manufacturing base, the ethically-functioning government, the judicial system, the educational system, and, as a consequence, the American Dream along with it.

A thorough exploration and outlay of every detail of the corruption that has gone on throughout America's history would take many volumes. The Untold History of America touches the major points in our history without becoming unduly lengthy. This book is for those who want to know why America is the way it is today, where we went wrong, who are the responsible parties, and what we can do to bring back the American Dream our forefathers and mothers fought so hard to establish and gave their very lives to defend.

This book is especially written with the hope that all Americans alive today will remember the rich heritage the Native Americans (Indians) have given us, passed on to them by their ancestors. When the Europeans (White man) arrived on the North American continent, the Native Americans numbered some 20 million. By the turn of the century in 1900, because of the incredible genocide waged against them, they had dwindled to about 250,000. They have now made a strong population comeback and expect to number about 2 million by the year 2000.

The Native Americans' religion (which recognizes a Great Spirit, or Grandfather, as our Source of Life, and our Mother Earth as a living, breathing entity which feeds us, clothes us, and shelters us) so far excels the established and organized religions of the world today as to make it apparent that the White man, generally speaking, may not really understand his own true being and existence.

You will read in these pages some of the most powerful words ever spoken by the greatest tribal chiefs of the North American Continent. Their words may be even more powerful today than when they were first spoken, as there was little appreciation for the Native Americans prior to the latter half of this century. Fortunately, there has been a reawakening of interest in the Native Americans' life and culture in recent decades, and one can now find many books about them.

The time of the Native Americans may soon be at hand once again as the White man, in just a few short centuries, has ruined the air, the land, and the waters of North America. As the Native Americans' legends and prophecies have always told them, the Earth would one day cleanse itself of what the White man has done and that the Indians will return to power as the rightful caretakers of Mother Earth.

It should be understood, as well, by the reader that it may be a misnomer to only refer to the citizens of the United States of America as being Americans. All of North and South America are part of the Americas, and the citizens of Brazil, or Argentina, or Canada are Americans just as much as are you.

It is our right, our responsibility, not only to ourselves, not only to our Creator, but also to our children who must inherit what we leave them, that we all do all we can to change ourselves, for in changing ourselves we shall find the way to change the world. This is what we have not been told. Find out why.

Volume I begins in 1492 with Christopher Columbus (America's first slave trader) and concludes in 1963 with the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. It is a somber tribute to those who control the world from behind the scenes that so many high-level and unseen figures knew about the assassination plan, but that the masses of the world knew nothing of it! Santos Trafficante, Jr. (Florida Mafia boss), a close friend of Carlos Marcello (New Orleans Mafia boss), told a mutual associate, "Mark my words, this man Kennedy is in trouble, and he will get what is coming to him... He is going to be hit."

Enjoy this book, and may it make you mad about what has happened to America. Perhaps then we may fix it...

This book shall be called The Untold History Of America, Vol. I, 1492-1963:

The Untold History Of America by Ray Bilger

This book shatters the image that has traditionally been portrayed as American History, by exposing the high-level corruption that passes for business as usual in the Halls of Congress, the White House and throughout our entire Judicial system.

The Untold History of America was written for the specific purpose of providing a high school textbook for all American schools that would educate students into the real nature of our national situation. With a clear understanding of things as they exist in reality, students will then be in a much better position to go on in life and do something to correct our current downhill course.

This book is for those who want to know why America is the way it is today, where we went wrong, who are the responsible parties, and what we can do to bring back the American Dream our forefathers and mothers fought so hard to establish and gave their very lives to defend.

Special emphasis is placed throughout the book on the original inhabitants of America, the Native Americans. They lived for thousands of years on this continent in complete harmony and balance with the Earth. With their help we may yet be able to turn things around so that our tomorrows will be something we will all be honored to pass on to the children who are our future generations.

Reviewing Your Lessons As The Play Gets Serious

10/1/97 HATONN

Good morning, Hatonn here in the Light of Creator and Creation. Be at peace, my son.

I thank you, our team, for your preparation, for the greater part of the mission is at hand. I must ask that you continue to carry the load a bit longer while adjustments are made in the casting of the play. Remember to hold the Larger Picture foremost in your mind as the unfolding events of planetary evolution present themselves to your conscious awareness.

All shall unfold in proper perfection according to God's Divine Plan. Be open to "new" ideas and sudden change in focus, for if and when the need arises, we will play our "trump" cards. Even many of our more aware Ground Crew members are limited by their own personal perceptions and beliefs that erroneously limit both God and selves.

Many believe that God or His Messengers must be or act in a specific manner to somehow qualify for the part. This is a limiting challenge that you as Ground Crew must face and overcome.

These "End Times" will not be as you imagine them. They will resemble, to some extent, the messages of the prophets and seers. However, the emotional impact will cause many a great man to weep with horror and disbelief.

We honor those of you who effort day-to-day to connect selves with Source, for when the walls about your dwelling-place crumble and you are stripped of all of your physical possessions, this connection may be all that you have that will pull you out of the shock of the impact that is coming.

While the rest of the world sleeps on, you who have awakened to the call are being asked at this time to reaffirm your connections and to go within for your personal instructions.

If you find yourself relying upon others for your guidance and focus, then you have surely missed the lessons here. Go forth and make do with what you have, and quit worrying about what you do not have. When your heart and head are in harmony with your God-self, you will manifest what you need. Note: I said need, NOT want! You will almost always have what you need, regardless of what you want.

The Light is shining forth from all directions at this time. Your planet is awakening, though the outward (physical) signs may be lacking at present.

If you are reading this source for your insights and clues, then it is because you are connected by way of purpose to Command. This is to say that you are Ground Crew. Your general purpose is to ensure that a remnant get through (survive) the upcoming planetary changes; part of carrying out that objective is to aid in fulfilling God's promise to the world that all lies will be exposed and that The Word will go forth, AGAIN, to the four corners of the globe.

This is not a single-handed task, and there are many all around the planet who are fulfilling this promise at this time. Know that you of Ground Crew have brothers and sisters scattered far and wide. Learn to spot them and assist where you efit of those truly efforting to understand, and call in The Light for help with same.)

On the other side of the coin, learn to respect the choices and decisions of those who turn away from this information source, for it is not for them, and causes them great discomfort. Allow each unique individual the freedom to find their own way back to Source, as they see fit. You may offer to help your brothers, especially where you have been asked to do so, but never insist or argue over who is right or wrong concerning PERSONAL beliefs, for it is futile and your time can be better spent.

Let your actions show the world who you are. Teach by example through actions taken, for the words will only fall on deaf ears.

Many of you who read these messages have loved ones who disagree with what you believe.

As a result, you find yourselves in a difficult situation wherein you must try to find a balance point so as to not offend the ones you love, yet try to convince them that they need to prepare, or at best allow you to spend the family's resources on preparation. These challenges are the challenges that will naturally cause ones to weed themselves from the play at hand.

You must each be responsible for your choices and decisions. YOU have chosen your family, and the pressures of going against them are inner pressures that come from fears (of rejection) which, in turn, come from personal insecurities that ultimately reach back to a state of disconnectedness from Creator Source.

Fear is not of God, and as your planet goes through her transition, the lower frequencies of fear, anger, and hatred will not be tolerated. Much like the moth that flies into the flame (high frequency relative to the physical body of the moth), so too shall those of you who hold on to old, low-frequency habits of thought and emotion not be able to withstand the higher relative frequencies that are coming.

Find those fears rooted deeply within and examine them for what they are—low frequency vibrational emanations that only exist to the extent that you are disconnected within from Creator Source. We find that many of you would feel drawn, from Inner Guidance and request. Too many erroneously "feel" that their role is to be played out close to this information source. That makes about as much sense as the idea that most all the grocery stores of your planet should be located in any one particular town!

These are times of learning to hold the Larger Picture in your minds. And certainly from where we look upon your globe, there is need for the assistance of Beings of Light EVERYWHERE.

In that capacity, you act as our most appreciated hands and feet. And you do that most effectively through efforting to sustain a constant conscious openness to the Inner Nudges which "come through" most clearly from the high-frequency condition resulting from efforting to connect to Higher Source in a balanced way. (Yes, that was a mouthful. But we often place much of our communication "between the lines" for the ben-rather “go down with the ship” than offend or go against your family or loved ones. If this be your choice, then so be it!

However, you will be less than satisfied when you make your transition back into the non-physical domain, for your plans for this experience were to face and OVERCOME your limitations and fears—NOT succumb to them! Now would be a good time to consider well the consequences of any decisions you have made which may not be “sitting” too well with the nudges from your Higher Self.

The casting of the play is ALWAYS flexible and there is ALWAYS enough room to include any and all who wish to participate. As ones come and go through choices and decisions made each moment, adjustments are made so as to maximize opportunities for individual and collective growth, while also utilizing the available talent pool to the fullest extent.

For those of you who walk this particular path of active, dedicated Ground Crew at this time, it is quite challenging, for the pace is rapid and there is little time to appreciate subtleties along the way.

Let us end here for now, for my scribe needs to take a break from sitting in front of the computer screen. Hatonn to stand by.

10/2/97 HATONN

Hatonn here to continue. I come in the Light of Holy God of Light! Be at peace.

There are great pressures for you ones in the physical at this time. There come, with these pressures, increased opportunities for growth and self realization. Many are, at this time, having difficulty with all the variables impacting their experience (both man-made and natural).

Perhaps the greatest distraction at present is the element of “time” as you ones perceive of it. Time is a plastic, yet relative, quantity that only exists in the physical reality. Plastic means that it is easily deformed and shaped; relative means that it is directly connected to your current environment and is a by-product of each person’s perception and agreement in relation to your planetary alignment.

When you ones move away from the surface of your planet, there is the observable “phenomenon” of variable “time”. This is best illustrated by your astronauts who have taken their atomic clocks up in orbit around the Earth. While these clocks should not lose or vary in accuracy more than a second over several thousands of years, they have been observed being several seconds “off” from their reference clock, after only a couple of weeks in orbit around your planet.

There is much that your “scientists” do not understand about your “physical” universe. The frequency shift as ones move away from your planet’s presently-darkened energy field will cause a speed-up in the “relative” surroundings of these ones, and thus the “time” shifts. The decay rate of nuclear material also is affected by the frequency of its relative environment. The trapped darkness (low-frequency energy), in conjunction with the intensifying high-frequency energies infusing your planet currently, cause localized temporal distortions which can be quite disconcerting and even disorienting to those of you who are wondering where all of your “time” has gone.

Moreover, there are major external factors affecting your current environment (relative surroundings). Your planetary orb (starship) is entering into a relatively high-frequency energy field in space. This is the so-called “Photon Belt” area that we have talked about prior (and which CONTACT will re-run from my 1992 lecture as soon as room permits). This is a natural course of evolution of your planet as she traverses space. This is a time for renewal and cleansing of the old—a rebirthing and new beginning. Like the caterpillar that is ready to come out of its cocoon and be reborn into the next phase of existence, so too is your planet readying herself for transformation into her next phase of existence.

You each know that there are great rewards in the way of growth and realizations to be gained from going through this process with your planet. You ones are being caused to confront the low-frequency emotional pains. You will have need to let go of these things that cause you to be held in the lower vibrations. It is time to face your fears and look closely at that upon which you focus your energy. The lower frequencies of fear, hate, apathy, greed, and such will cause you ever-increasing discomfort in the times to come.

This should serve as a guidance system for you (a “bio-feedback mechanism”) so that you can learn to recognize the habits of thoughts that you ones are fond of holding onto that cause your vibrational frequency to lower. These are like computer programs that at one time perhaps helped you to deal with a difficult situation. Or, for some of you, you hold onto past pains that assaulted your perception of “reality”. Physical loss of a loved one that you were not prepared to accept, is perhaps the most common type of thought that will cause your frequency to be lowered.

There is no death, and there is no time in the Larger Picture, and there is no separation—meaning that ones for whom you grieve are still “there”, though they may not be presently focused in the physical. You each create your own worst hell.

The lonely hearts of ones who perceive of themselves as somehow being alone or without a mate, is perhaps the next greatest affliction that we find many of you of Ground Crew focused upon that lowers your frequency. Your relationships are not working out for most of you because it was not your intent at this time to focus in that direction. Yet, the “social” pressures of society, coupled with the natural biological urges, make this a difficult challenge to deal with. We find many of our Ground Crew members embroiled in very difficult personal situations that will, again, cause ones to weed themselves from any great level of participation due to the pressures of family situations.

It is time to look within and find your inner convictions concerning who you “really” are and what it is that you are wanting to accomplish in this life’s experience. YOU are responsible for whether or not YOU will evolve with your planet, or be cleansed from the physical experience. There shall be far more cleansed than not, and your choices, thoughts, and actions will determine your next environment of focused existence.

Go within for your guidance. Search the depths of your inner being. Find first a point of balance within the Light, and from there see that which is pulling on you, trying to shift your focus elsewhere. Almost without exception this will be a fear or doubt that causes you worry or consideration. This is where you must find the cause of your fear or doubt and overcome the challenge if you are to keep up with the frequency shifts that are coming.

Fear and doubt are by-products of being disconnected from Source. Effort to strengthen your connection, and the fears will show themselves to you, for the adversary does not wish to lose his foothold within you, and there will be a flare-up within. Regain your point of balance within the Light and see the fear for what it is! Reconnect and know that this is a challenge for you to face.

Fear of being rejected by loved ones who “just don’t understand” or fear of the embarrassment that you may have to face for making a “paranoid” decision like wanting to store up six months of food for the family in preparation for hard times ahead, are common challenges that you ones are being faced with. Many will simply succumb to these fears.

The job of the wayshower is seldom a popular one, yet it is quite rewarding after the fact, in retrospect, looking back. Many a wealthy person will wish they had been awake enough to see the clues staring them in the face. The regret is a heavy one for the person of means who only later sees how they could have made a difference.

Let go of the fears! You did not come into this experience to win a popularity contest; you knew that there would be these challenges to face and that you would have to make unpopular decisions and choices. The way of your “modern” world is the way of insanity—where black is called white, up is called down, and wrong is right. Confusion reigns supreme and ones are programmed about what to think and how to act, talk, dress, and respond, so as to “fit-in” and be “normal”.

As always, the choices are yours to make and we shall honor your choices. Our promise to you ones reading this is that we would send forth the necessary guidance and instructions so that you would have the tools to overcome your challenges. We never said we would force you to recognize or use these gifts! We shall assist you each when the petition is sincere—made with the heart and not with the tongue.

I am Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn, Commander of this mission. I come with the Hosts of God by way of Pleiades. I come in and of the Light of Creator Source. Salu!

Balancing Faith And Common Sense

10/1/97 #1 HATONN

When you walk through the storms know that no storm lasts forever, but forever is the Sun shining beyond those clouds. You cannot have a silver lining unless you have both the clouds and the Sun.

There shall also continue to be the walk within the shadows, for man never seems to be able to see the lights as they attempt to break through his consciousness. Man will go with habitual behavior in an effort to protect his most vulnerable self but, ah, if you do not allow God to move within, how expect ye to receive HIS abundant blessings and gifts?

To experience trust and faith, how many of you will go ahead and get something in expectation of promised funding, or that which is told to you, will come? Especially for things you will not receive for a while and can return, how many of you will reach out and place the order? Yes, I know, wisdom is in seeking factual truth and acting in such a way as to protect selves in all instances. So, read again, this paragraph. What will you order, even if it need be returned, to build some positive expectation within selves?

Our hearts are with Charles today as he stands in vigilance with his son who must decide whether or not to stay in your dimension. Is it not comforting, however, to be able to know that either way the choice resolves there will be that which you need for sustaining self and those remaining? Let go and let God!

But, how many of you will use that which is in your keeping under the assumption that "someone" or "something" will fill in if need be? How many of you use that which is in your keeping unwisely or without the reality in your own power to make sure that it is available when needed by the rightful earners? And then, how many of you will blame the persons providing the service or commodity for your circumstances after you have acted foolishly? This is typically human behavior—so, who has grown into responsibility instead of using that which is not yours to use? Dharma and E.J. pay constantly and dearly for that which, by others, is used, abused and then they are accused by the very ones who brought the painful reality for the circumstances which brings assault—when they had carefully attended their responsibilities and thought they were using safekeeping actions.

But then again, lately a friend called to inform CONTACT that they had just seen George Green at a Global Sciences meeting. As he circulated, it was noted that he was so shunned that he had turned his name label backwards so it could not be seen and was clean shaven so that old buddies might not recognize him from pictures or previous encounters. Do you wish to live in shame as to cause you to hide even your countenance? Well, you cannot hide it from GOD.

IN ASSURED REALITY—
YOU ONLY HAVE

We are going to "make it" in spite of these things constantly upon us, but who will be left to share? Right, the ones who were faithful from the start and GOD knows HIS people. And by the way, trusting children: it is not OK to allow these damaging parties to go unchallenged when intent or negligence is the base cause of negative circumstance. YOU must realize the difference, for carelessness and misunderstandings are often the basis of negative outcome in any passing circumstance. But, with permanent negative damages it is NOT OK to simply say it is "God's WILL", for it is not God's will; it is the responsibility of the MAN OR WOMAN committing the misadventure. It is never God's will to take, to blame, to cause loss, or for war and/or destruction—and not so, either, with death. GOD CREATES! Man does these things in physical expression. It is good to meditate upon these things quite carefully and long enough to see beyond the dense haze of misperceptions.

There are examples of these attitudes and actions scattered all through every book you call "Holy". If you are asked to hold in security the price of a loaf of bread for the one who entrusted the funds into your care against that day of known need, but you use it for your own wishes and/or desires—how can there be trust enough to sustain a longer relationship in which trust and faith must be "everything"? Then, when approached, does he say it is somehow your fault for leaving it in his care in the first place? LOOK and LISTEN to that which people tell you, promise you, and profoundly wish to push off on you, i.e., "I can't stand a person to lie to me" while he lies to you in the middle of his "I can't stand". Always be generous with another man's reasoning but pay little attention to his EXCUSES. And do not JUDGE for you may well be INCORRECT in your assumptions.

Know that what "you have" others will always "WANT". People who push always "WANT SOMETHING", so measure carefully whatever input you receive. If you have something "they want" and you "can give", so be it, for you have a nice exchange in the form of barter. Beware those who take, take, and re-take without intent of return or exchange.

When hearts are heavy with that which is laid forth upon your plate when you asked not for the servings—let it go for it will only distract you from that which is waiting in abundance for your proper actions. Each must come to sort his own course and life is what happens while you are planning the course.

I marvel at those who hear that "El Nino is due in January and February!" What about the end of December or the month of November or the floods in October? What of the Month of the Lion, March? And what of the COLD waters coming directly behind and under the El Nino warmth? People, if you are prepared, it doesn't matter, does it? However, it is terrible when someone fails to prepare for self and then would have everyone lose because he chose to hurt everyone he could for his own losses. I suggest you make sure that ones do not WAIT with their interplay with Betty Tuten and that bunch—until the rains have come and the craft is a total loss. [For those of you who are guided to contact Betty Tuten, see box at end of article.]

DELAYS ARE NOT GOD'S DENIALS—BUT THEY ARE MAN'S DOWNFALL! GOD HAS A "FUTURE" IN ASSURED REALITY—YOU ONLY HAVE THE PRESENT MOMENT! Wow, we just learn something every day, don't we? Perhaps you could begin to place your trust and faith in GOD's "future" that you might also be assured of that possibility for self? Do not, therefore, limit or restrict GOD, for it will always be self caught in those limitations and restrictions.

I wanted to reassure some of my team this morning, for the days grow short (or long) as might be perceptions while you have to have patience for things to unfold. They will unfold—or, they will not! So be it.

There is no distinctly native,
American criminal class—except Congress.

"Official Reality" Crumbling

we look the other way.

After sharing a scenario of politically very incorrect data, Commander Hatonn later said:

"You have, world, just witnessed the assassination of troublesome people to preserve the 'Grand Plan'."

And then a few clues for the investigators out there to pursue:

"Ah, but there are several things that will come out through questioning the photographers present. One: that there were at least two blinding lights coming from AHEAD in the tunnel; and two: there were already people present at the scene IMMEDIATELY prior to the accident—on foot."

More information about the unraveling threads of the official version of the Princess Di tragedy were our Front Page story for the 9/16/97 issue of CONTACT. By that time, others had more aggressively begun to publicly question "official reality" in this matter. We also called to your attention at that time some of the darker historical connections which were important underpinnings to this tragedy, connections which were largely overlooked but definitely part of the Larger Picture.

To say that Diana was at war with Windsor, is a delicate understatement. To say that Windsor was afraid of what Diana COULD do, is to provide motive to the murders.

Right now, things continue to fall apart, as far as the official story goes. And in that vein, we present the following news from the 10/2/97 Executive Alert Service bulletin of Executive Intelligence Review (Executive Intelligence Review, P.O. Box 17390, Washington, D.C. 20041).

There's no doubt that the truth is out there, as more who know make the effort to come forward with their contributions.

— Dr. Edwin M. Young, Editor-In-Chief

INVESTIGATE POSSIBLE LASER USE IN DIANA'S KILLING

EIR Alert has received a source report, from a qualified scientist, indicating his hypothesis that the reported light source in the car crash leading to Princess Diana's death may have been a xenon high-energy arc-lamp, known to the military as a tactical anti-personnel device. This device is reportedly capable of blinding pilots, and is sufficiently compact to be hand-held.

EIR is familiar with this technological capability, going back to the days of the SDI, and will be looking at the possibility that it might have been used in the attack.

RIVERA SHOW INCLUDES EIR'S STEINBERG

Executive Intelligence Review editor Jeffrey Steinberg appeared Sept. 30 on the nationally syndicated Geraldo Rivera television show, to review the mounting evidence that the French authorities' coverup of the murder of Princess Diana is coming unraveled. The one-hour broadcast which featured several other guests as well, afforded Steinberg the opportunity to detail a whole series of paradoxes, in the evidence released to date, and to provide the American public with critical information that has been otherwise blacked out of the major U.S. media.

*Steinberg sharply challenged the three purported blood tests of the driver of the Mercedes carrying Princess Diana and her friend Dodi al-Fayed, pointing out that eyewitnesses had told police investigators that Henri Paul had not been drinking at all on the day of the crash. And, while the final blood test claimed to reveal both alcohol and prescription drugs, Steinberg noted that none of his doctors had prescribed the drugs, and there were no records anywhere in France of such a prescription for Paul.

*Steinberg, for the first time on U.S. television, detailed news accounts of the first hospital debriefing on the lone survivor of the crash, bodyguard Trevor Rees-Jones, in which he said that the Mercedes was being chased by several cars and motorcycles in the seconds before the crash. This story, Steinberg added, cohered with at least six eyewitness accounts of the final moments before the crash, including those of two new, named witnesses, American businessman Brian Anderson, and British barrister Gary Hunter.

Hunter told the Sunday London Times that he saw a dark-colored Fiat Uno speeding from the tunnel, seconds after the crash, in an apparent effort to flee the scene.

Anderson, in an appearance on CBS-TV news on Sept. 26, reported that the Mercedes was not speeding as it entered the tunnel. Anderson was traveling in a taxi that was passed by the Mercedes a moment before the crash. He confirmed that the car carrying Princess Diana was being aggressively pursued by two motorcycles, that were attempting to cut the Mercedes off.

*In contrast to the soap opera characterizations of Princess Diana by several other guests on the broadcast, Steinberg revealed that the Princess had been involved in a crucial political battle with the House of Windsor for several years, beginning with her November 1995 BBC Panorama interview, in which she said that Prince Charles was unqualified to be king. While Steinberg was recounting the BBC interview, the Geraldo show aired news clippings.

Steinberg ended the hour-long interview show by urging people to avoid accepting the official French coverup, while new crucial evidence is coming to light every day. Steinberg drew the parallel to the coverup of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, pointing out that a third of a century after the JFK murder, nobody believes the "official" account of the lone assassin. This view was supported by another guest on the show, Dr. Cyril Wecht, a world-renowned forensic pathologist who did breakthrough work in both the JFK and Martin Luther King inquiries, that helped expose the official coverups.

A Season Of Choices & Consequences

There is a season for all things, large and small, and it must be through wisdom and care that we find the differences, for most cannot see well enough to recognize the greater purposes of this journey and, moreover, once they seemingly can see darkly through the glass, forget to clear the fog so that they can clearly view in wisdom the facets of the gemstone. Or they remain so entrenched in what they "thought" would be the direction that they fail to accept the possible detour or lack of mapping in the first place. You must come into knowing when the sequence is correct, lest you be unlearned enough to miss the entire higher plan and follow man instead of God. May we always walk in clarity of sight and hearing that we do not miss the next instructions. It is only when we see that something CAN be accomplished that we can therefore, accomplish it. This is a time of calling and of culling so that the higher purposes may be served and not the individual preferences of some man or men. We must also beware the call of the sirens for it is such that, in your day of semi-blind evolution, your adversary will bring your downfall through the female aspect of his license to kill. Beware the women who would run everything without reason other than their claim to female rituals. Listen to the wisdom of the grandmother but beware, again I warn you, the would-be sirens who will take you back again into the wilderness in their modern desire to claim CONTROL.

This in no way claims that men are somehow more worthy than women. It does mean that there has been a great shift in the demands of each so that traditions are lost and the extremes become the modes of operation. Further, if a person misreads and misunderstands what I have just stated here—THEY ARE PROVING MY POINT. Greatness evolves from that which is wise and great in concept and actions; it comes not from pushing rights or rites.

Now, just because we will be making available great wealth to accomplish our goals, it does not mean that funds and other assets are going to be dumped helter-skelter over all the Natives who think they have been badly treated. We are here to create, share, and build—not rectify some perceived ill-doing before our own time. We will build correctly or we will take our gold and move elsewhere. Each must be responsible and self-worth is geared by properly finding ability and contribution within selves—through somehow "earning" the right of passage into freedom. I can promise you that TOO MANY BOSSES (COOKS) WILL NOT BE ALLOWED IN THE KITCHEN. We will function according to that old "golden rule" and sometimes we who have earned and offered the gold will have cause to remind everyone involved OF THE RULES. And no, we will not accept "half-doing" something. We will do it right or we shall be sorely put upon for being careless and limited in our attitudes. Furthermore, we will work brother and brother in harmony or we will not work at all in any given location where this is unacceptable. There are more kinds of bigotries than meet the eye as to color and race.

Just as the knowing seers of the Indian Native Nations have always known it would come through the pale eyes that the barter possibilities could flow, it is unacceptable for the Native or those of color to persecute the White humans because they are White. It will come to be that ONE without THE OTHER will come to nothing. And, frankly, IF I CANNOT BE ACCEPTED, WE SHALL GO WHERE I AM RECOGNIZED. GOD IS MAKING THE WAY FOR US AND MY TEAMS SEE AND KNOW AND WILL NEVER FAIL TO SHARE AND GIVE—BUT I WILL NOT BE EXCLUDED FOR I AM THE SERVANT OF GOD SENT FORTH TO SEE TO THIS MISSION. I AM THE WAY, THE LIGHT—AND THE GOLD—SO LET US NEVER BECOME TOO WISE FOR OUR BRITCHES TO FIT OUR BACKSIDES, PLEASE.

This is no problem? Look carefully AT SELF, AGAIN. If you expect me to recognize who YOU ARE and give unto you humble respect, then you will be expected to recognize and respect that which I AM! And remember well, something quite important as we move along: YOUR DEMANDS ARE NOT GOD'S, NOR MY, REQUIREMENTS TO FULFILL. We will each labor and CREATE that which we desire and need and YOU will not control other than SELF. To replace tyranny with just another form of tyranny is not acceptable. If we cannot build and grow within the laws and guidelines of peaceful creation, then we will build nothing nor shall we grow worthy change. Just as goodness comes in all races and colors, SO TOO DOES EVIL. It is the LIGHT or "soul" of an individual which is the deciding measure of any entity. If you need help and I offer my hand, it behooves you to not take measure of the color of that hand lest you otherwise be left to your own miserable resources. God only takes note of intent within, and that is the color of LIGHT measured in intensity of energy and frequency or tone as in "harmonics", so don't give me the "old abuse" stuff to qualify your misbehaviors. We won't accept such trite speakings or intent. It is with humble appreciation and gratitude that we have such a wondrous adventure to SHARE and begin to CREATE that which is magnificent within the Light of God.

Each may well deserve that good which comes for positive repositioning in freedom—but it is not some RIGHT just because YOU demand it. Nothing comes through MAGIC and many have to work diligently without rest nor respite to accomplish their own individual step along the pathway—so again, your demand is not a brother's need to supply you with ANYTHING. And further, if you think that you should "have" just because you "want"—then go find the way and earn it for self and let us see what you would SHARE with others and how much of "your stuff" would you fling away so that some other "wishing" party might be buried in riches and magic.

Those entrusted with the "management" of that abundance offered to be earned by God's offerings must forever be outstanding stewards in ALL INSTANCES. And yes, we will have ways of measuring intent among the Native Americans just as among any other groups of entities. What will your richer brethren offer to fund or help the overall united Nations of America? Will the Navajo fund a contract to help the Sioux? We certainly will have opportunity to find out as we move along.

Neither gaming nor gambling are ANSWERS to great problems of groups of our people. Industrial self-sufficiency is the answer, and acquisition or RE-acquisition through the law is THE WAY to achieve power and freedom. Wars only kill the slayers and the slain. Peaceful growth with reclamation of property, respect and honor is the only way to achieve freedom for all sides within intent of goodly intent within Creator's wondrous game waiting for your next adventure.

When you only want to have and accomplish those things which are the very downfall of human species, then you will have accomplished the way to destruction. Seek first the "kingdom of God", and all these things of other shall be added unto you. Furthermore, bless our so-called enemies for they shall have made the way possible. If you do not understand this statement, then you are not nearly through with your lessons.

Will I, and my people, wait for YOU to catch up while demanding lessons and direct input from myself or them? NO! We have a job to do and if you are doing yours, you will not ask nor require such input from us because you have chosen badly in your prior understanding. Each now has opportunity of getting, for self, all lessons from me to thee thus far so, no, we will not return to grade school to meet your needs while forfeiting our obligations and distracting from our responsibilities.

Can you walk through a rain-storm without being wetted? Of course, IF you gather unto you and cover yourself with anti-wet gear and an umbrella. Do you expect God to provide you with both the gear and the putting it on thine body? Stop your fantasizing of ways to keep out of responsibility for self for you waste of everyone's time and energy in your childish games in "wonderland". If you can't swim, then I suggest you stay in the very shallow water and check it out—a lot of very deep water is headed your way! And, how much of your luggage of “stuff” will you be able to carry AND ALSO SWIM?

You do not have need to ask of my people, “Where should I be?” for if you are OF US, you will recognize that which is given as your instructions and you will hear, see, AND KNOW. If you feel you must ask my people for your directions, then you err for if you cannot carry your “OWN”, then you certainly cannot expect them to stop and collect you or your trappings. Perhaps then, you might start seeking within that which is reality and begin to see thine attachments for excess baggage along with that overwhelming desire to GET MORE, ONLY NEWER, STUFF. What you acquire and achieve will be measured exactly according to that which you gave and earned.

If your actions have brought pain and misfortune to the least of God’s people or creations—expect some pain and misfortune to come within thine own circle. And, do not think that a sudden turn of attitude to “oh my gosh, NOW I see and I’m sorry...” is going to merit more than a sudden strong urge to hic-up all over you. And if, through your actions, you cause even one OTHER to suffer or lose through your doings, you will suffer the same level, or greater, of loss and suffering that you have caused. This is the universal law of action and reaction. If through your intents and actions another loses anything, then be prepared to meet your consequences. Forgiveness has NOTHING to do with the return responses and/or reactions which are the measure of your expectations or deserved backwash. In addition, as a “think about it” issue, should anyone you personally have attempted to destroy, damage or cause great loss of property or health—turn then in their gained and earned prospering, offer you ANYTHING goodly? Why should anyone keep a contract which has been broken by the other in every possible manner? Well, NEVER without full accounting and all deductions for assault damages.

You who are “after” Ekker-Ekker-Phoenix, as the Green Bunch likes to report and hopes to have attached, had best look again as all three become less and less visible for your assaults and target shooting. Moreover, beware, for the ones you tricked and manipulated are opening their eyes and are seeing truth and a need to act in their own behalf. Why should ANYONE involved wish to help Tuten, for instance, when Tuten [see address box on pg.15] was willing and IS WILLING to destroy everyone else involved to gain some weird and defective imagined ways of gaining solely for self—following her own foolish misdirection through even more foolish teachers and instructors? The injured ones are hardly interested in her headaches caused at her own hands holding the hatchets which have been used for the most damaging bloodletting by her accepted team of selfish and greedy mongers. The day of demanding responsibility be placed on the ones responsible is at hand and it will no longer be accepted by innocent parties at your whims and pretense of innocent “had” victims to make any effort in your behalf whatsoever. You who have raped, pillaged and plundered shall have the accounting for that lying, cheating, thieving and assaulting. So too shall those unsavory beings of turncoat brigades find it a most unwelcome mat awaiting their return “to the fold”. Each has had many opportunities to reconsider all actions, so do not expect any self-respecting being to further bend to your wishes or, even, unto your needs when you have cared only for SELF at all others’ expense and loss. Their losses shall be added unto your own and not onto the backs as burden for my people.

The viper you send forth to strike thine targets will simply turn upon the sender with renewed venom. And, the Phoenix shall catch up the serpents in his talons and cast them out of the kingdom of goodness. These adversaries of God and brother shall find no fuel in their lamps and the light shall be extinguished that they find their way in darkness. There will be no magic fuel supply, so expect it not.

It is time to leave as we have guests this weekend and shall attempt to make them comfortable and “at home” for they are “of us” and are of our crew and we are greatly blessed by their presence and the beauty in intent and within their hearts. May we always, team, through the dark days, focus only on these brothers and not upon that which has been so negative and hurtful in our past days. Those are “dead” in living experience, and therefore the dead must bury their own dead for ours is a choice of life and creation—never upon destruction and death. The vipers shall lose their fangs and strangle on their own venom and poison.

When we learn to desire hurt upon selves rather than to hurt or damage even one tiny aspect of “another”, then we shall see the outpouring of God in abundance as in a tidal wave of goodness. However, consequence of choices shall forever be forthcoming for that, again, is the universal law of cause and effect.

Let us go and may the remainder of the day be filled with further blessings which might be recognized for their reality.

Salu and good day.

Editor’s note: As the outdoorsy focus of Summer slips into our past (hopefully with good memories of fun times), replaced for most of us by the cooler temperatures and stunning colors of Autumn, it is time to revive cool-weather baking skills. In that vein we offer the following recipe from an enthusiastic CONTACT reader in Canada. I (E.Y.) know from personal experience the mmmmm goodness of these spelt muffins with a glass of fresh apple cider. And for those of you who may not be aware of the multi-faceted nature of many CONTACT readers and contributors, among other talents “Mama Bear” was THE premier dress designer in Hungary before World War II’s Nazi cancer drove her “over the mountains” with the crooks literally shooting at her, in pursuit, when she refused to join their ranks!

Spelt Muffin Recipe

10/1/97 MAMA BEAR

- | | |
|---------------------|---|
| (1) 2 cups | whole spelt flour |
| (2) 2 heaping tblsp | gluten flour |
| (3) 1/2 tsp | salt |
| (4) 1 tsp | baking powder |
| (5) 1 tsp | baking soda |
| (6) 3/4 cup | brown sugar (packed down) |
| (7) 2 | whole eggs |
| (8) 3/4 cup | cooking oil |
| (9) 1 cup | milk |
| (10) 1/4 cup | fresh lemon juice (to be mixed into 1 cup milk) |
| (11) 3/4 cup | chopped (coarse/medium) walnuts or pecans |
| (12) 1 | large apple chopped into small pieces including skin (makes about 1 and 1/2 cups) |
| (13) 2 tsp | cinnamon (mixed into apple) |
| (14) 1/2 tsp | nutmeg (mixed into apple) |

(makes 18 muffins)

- Butter muffin pan(s).
- Heat oven to 400°F.
- Mix together dry ingredients #1 to #5.
- In a separate (large) bowl, beat well sugar and eggs until smooth and bubbly.
- Add oil and mix again.
- Alternatingly add flour mixture and milk/lemon mixture to sugar/egg mixture.
- Mix until smooth (no lumps).
- Add chopped nuts and apple with spices, and mix again.
- Distribute mixture equally into 18 indentations in buttered muffin pan(s).
- Bake at 400°F for 10 minutes, then at 350°F for another 20 minutes.
- Let stand 5 minutes in pan.
- Prod gently with pointed knife to loosen.
- Turn each muffin halfway over, and let cool to room temperature in pan.
- In sealed containers in refrigerator, the muffins can keep for many weeks.

Useful preparation note: chopped nuts and apple/spices mixture can each be prepared ahead of time and stored in the refrigerator.

TELEPHONE HOTLINE

As an adjunct to CONTACT, the Telephone Hotline keeps you as informed as possible on current events and other important information that needs to get to our subscribers before our publishing date.

The message machine will answer after 2 rings if there are any new messages for that day, and after 4 rings if not. Thus daily callers can hang up after 2 rings and save toll charges if no new message has been recorded. If the Hotline does not answer your call, then that means there is currently no Hotline message.
