Militias And Pentecostalism

As British Subversion

Who's Wagging Your Neighbor's Tongue?

The following provocative and heavily researched article has been extracted from the 9/29/97 issue of The New Federalist (P.O. Box 889; Leesburg, VA 20178; 800-453-4108). We here present Part I of what will be a series, due to our space limitations.

The number of devious ways in which the British Monarchy has worked to maintain control over their uppity American colonies is exceeded only by the oblivion of most Americans to what has actually been ongoing since the so-called War of Independence. Just as one example that is difficult for most to believe, the British rock & roll invasion of the late '60s comes to mind as one particularly well executed New World Order social degeneration experiment right out of MI-6

(British secret Military Intelligence) which was met here with open arms and overheated cash registers—as it is typical we pay for our own demise.

What is most important about this article is how it reveals both the subtleties and the intricacies of such sophisticated subversion tactics as they are here applied to dupe the unwary and well-intentioned alike. The play on fear and the pumping-up of easily-led egos are tried-and-true mechanisms of mind control, and their effectiveness is amply demonstrated in what you are about to read.

MOSSAD GUILTY OF LOCKERBIE PAN AM BOMBING??

Excerpted from the INTERNET, 10/97:
[quoting]

[The author had been talking about a person who was murdered in England just before he was to start marketing a free-energy device. He then continues with this story.]

...Speaking of cynical European powers, I have for long harbored the strong suspicion that it was the Israeli Mossad (and not any Moslem terrorists) who blew up the Pan Am plane over Lockerbie, Scotland with loss of about 350 lives. I have two strong pieces of evidence, one of which I have never before revealed but which I am now going to publish, even though I may also drop dead mysteriously as a result, myself, because it is based upon personal EYE-WITNESS knowledge that only a handful of people have.

There are 3 pieces of evidence which cause me to suspect the Mossad.

(1) It is well known that the Mossad uses assassination against those who help their enemies, e.g. the case of British [sic] inventor Gerard [?] Bull, inventor of a long-range gun which he was helping Saddam Hussein to build, who was killed in his hotel room in Paris and written off by the French police as a bungled robbery. Also the Mossad is currently assassinating Hamas agents.

(2) There is a former Mossad agent & confidant whom the Mossad uses as a "public mouthpiece" who has tried vigorously to pin the Lockerbie crime on "Muslim terrorists". He has (on behalf of relatives of victims, seeking damages in civil courts) testified under oath & penalty of perjury, and also openly published articles in reputable US publications, claiming that his buddies in the Mossad were watching the Muslim terrorists and tracking them & their explosive-laden suitcase, and even had Mossad agents inside of the airport—watching—the suitcase being loaded on the ill-fated plane!

This is tantamount to an official Mossad confession that they were "on the scene".

(3) The following may be taken to be close to a self-incriminating confession, by those who do not understand the subtleties of US law regarding Unlicensed Export of Technical Information (which is controlled by the US State Department). As recently as 1985-87 I was a consultant to the American division in Thousand Oaks, CA, of an aerospace company which was owned by the UK company Ferranti[?] Ltd. [or Marconi(?) Ltd., I forget!] and which was developing smart, TV-guided, 150-mile-range, stand-off air-launched "glide bombs" for unnamed "oil-rich Mideastern customers". The US State Department allowed this business to be done under the conditions that the military specifications were slightly inferior to the equivalent munitions in the US arsenals. This was before the Gulf War and was perfectly legal & sanctioned by the US government, specifically the State Department and the DOD. Around this time I had been Chief Scientist of the Litton Advanced Systems Group (LASG), which was a proto-division that would have been turned into a division if we had succeeded in winning a production contract for our anti-ICBM KKV (Kinetic Kill Vehicle) design. Later when the SDI program was taken away from the DOD and put under the physicists at LLNL (who were novices at GN&C), I had to laugh when I read the (classified) amateurish RFP's which LLNL sent out, because they were obviously the result of the studies which we had performed at LASG. On one occasion, I had been suddenly ordered to hand-carry a briefcase full of classified VuGrafs to Washington, D.C., where I handed them over to an AF Colonel, whom I saw with my own eyes depart in the direction of the White House where Edward Teller (father of H-bomb & founder of LLNL) and the President's Science Advisor (George Keyworth II) were waiting to be briefed on KKV's. At that time it was publicly known that ex-LANL director Keyworth favored directed energy weapons. A couple of hours later the briefing party returned, and I heard one of the civilian SDI scientists who had accompanied the Air Force Colonel say "That's the first time I ever heard the President's Science Advisor say anything good about KKV's." Therefore, I have eye-witness certain knowledge that I and my boss Dr. JR and our chief Consultant Dr. AVB (from UCLA) had been doing world-class innovative work on SDI. However, and despite the fact that our final bid met spec, and the winning bid from a competitor did not meet spec, we lost the competition and were all laid off. NOW GET THIS. The very same Headhunter/Recruiter/Agent who for LASG had recruited both Dr. JR and Dr. AVB said that since we were unemployed we might as well start our own company and get permission from the State Department to develop a spec-inferior version of KKV for "an oil-rich Mideastern power" (the same as the branch of "[?]i, Ltd." did). This particular Agent went to Baghdad to seek funding of the putative venture from Saddam Hussein. He was on the plane coming back to the USA from his trip to Iraq when the plane exploded over Lockerbie, Scotland. Go down the passenger list. Who else was a threat to the Israeli government? The Mossad have admitted that their own agents were in the airport and the Mossad has in print boasted that their own agents watched secretly while the explosive-laden suitcase was planted on the ill-fated Pan Am flight. If they were on the scene of the crime by their own boasted admission, then they had "means, motive & opportunity", the classical criteria for seeking indictment. Coincidence? Draw your own conclusions. (The evidence that citizens of Algeria did it is very flimsy; don't forget the FBI's admitted in writing "Forgery Laboratory" [Evidence of this given in a prior article not published here for lack of space.] run by an agent of the British SS during a time when the USA was claiming to be neutral before WW2.)

Sincerely,

Robert W. Bass, M.A. Oxon [Rhodes Scholar], Ph.D.

The confession of seeing the suitcase being loaded on the plane makes the Mossad guilty, at the least, as an accessory to the mass crime for not stopping it from being loaded on the plane. And what about misprision of a felony?

FUTURISTIC WEAPONS FOR COPS

In keeping with its role as the world's official policeman, the U.S. government is developing an arsenal of bizarre new high-tech weapons for global law enforcement and suppression of dissidents.

Excerpted from THE SPOTLIGHT, by Mike Blair, 10/22/97: [quoting]

Laboratories, both in the government and private sector, from coast to coast, are engaged in projects to develop new space-age weapons for law enforcement applications.

A "less-than-lethal weapons project", sponsored by the National Institute of Justice, has been underway at Oak Ridge National Laboratory in Tennessee, where the atomic bomb was developed, since September 1993.

Oak Ridge scientists are involved in locating and compiling data from tests, accidents, medical literature, etc., on "biological and biophysical responses to energetic stimuli", such as electromagnetic fields, according to scientific journals.

The scientists are analyzing the information and identifying promising possibilities to develop mechanisms "for further development for a friendly force application", and evaluating possible new means of dealing with such things as hostage rescue and riot control.

Oak Ridge scientists have already examined concepts for new "less-than-lethal weapons" based on "physiological responses to energetic stimuli". These weapons include a thermal gun, a seizure gun and a magnetophosphene gun.

A thermal gun would have the effect of heating the body to 105-to-107 degrees Fahrenheit, thereby incapacitating the individual, since even a slight fever has been found to affect the ability of a person to perform tasks. Supposedly, the concept of a thermal gun is based on four decades of research involving radio frequency exposure to body heating.

Epileptic-type seizures would be induced by a seizure gun, which would utilize electromagnetic energy to induce the attacks. It would affect persons within the range of a particular magnetic field developed by the gun.

The magnetophosphene gun would be designed around "a biophysical mechanism which evokes a visual response and is thought to be centered in the retina of the eye, known as magnetophosphenes". The effect of the gun is compared to the experience a person has when receiving a blow to the head and sees "stars".

AIR FORCE ROLE

Meanwhile, the U.S. Air Force Scientific Advisory Board notes that as we look forward to the future, it seems likely that this nation will be involved in multiple conflicts where our military might cannot be applied.

"We will be involved intimately with hostile populations in situations where the application of non-lethal force will be the tactical or political preference... One could envision a weapon that would render an opponent incapable of taking any meaningful action involving higher motor skills (e.g. using weapons, operating tracking systems). The prospect of a weapon to accomplish this when targeted against an individual target is reasonable... It would also appear possible, to create high fidelity speech in the human body, raising the possibility of covert suggestion and psychological direction..."

The Air Force panel indicates that the new biological weapons will "offer significant improvement in the capabilities of our Special Operation forces", such as Army Special Forces, Navy Seals, Marine Force Recon, etc.

It is obvious from the work being done under government control in the nation's top scientific laboratories that the world's policeman is being zeroed in on the Dr. Frankenstein approach to the development of super sophisticated weapons for law enforcement. [End quoting]

U.N. PROSECUTOR ENCOURAGED BY WAR-CRIMES ARRESTS

Excerpted from THE WASHINGTON TIMES, 7/22/97: [quoting]

Encouraged by a roundup of indicted Rwandan officials in Kenya and a pair of high-profile arrests in the former Yugoslavia, a top U.N. legal official yesterday predicted a new era of international cooperation and respect for the organization's war-crimes tribunals.

"You are already seeing the aggressive manner with which we expect to [fill] this mandate," said Louise Arbour, the United Nations' chief prosecutor for the two courts.

"This operation is unprecedented. This is the first time a government has offered assistance to a U.N. tribunal on that scale."

Kenyan authorities on Friday arrested seven prominent Rwandans in connection with the 1994 genocide in their country, including Jean Kambanda, prime minister of the interim government during the massacres, and former government minister Pauline Nyiramasuhuko. They were immediately transferred to the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda, based in Arusha, Tanzania.

Miss Arbour said the arrests mark a turning point for the much-criticized Arusha court, which has been mired in financial misconduct, nepotism and mismanagement, according to a harsh internal U.N. report.

Until last week, the court—which is charged with prosecuting those involved with the yearlong killing spree—had only 12 detainees in custody.

The arrests, carried out in a series of pre-dawn raids in Nairobi, also mark improved cooperation between the court and the government of Kenyan President Daniel arap Moi, who had not been receptive to the tribunal's requests in the past. [End quoting]

Now, all these U.N. personnel have to do is turn themselves in for prosecution for their massive crimes against all humanity.

This is another case of the biggest criminals prosecuting the weaker ones—or many times, the innocent.

BRIBERY OF KIDS CLAIMED

Excerpted from THE DAILY NEWS, Los Angeles, 7/97: [quoting]

If kids get a Popsicle at school for bringing home information on a school bond election, is that a bribe?

At least one parent thinks so, and is complaining about a flier sent home with Eastside School District pupils, providing information on its $15.5 million school bond issue plus a form for registering to vote.

Youngsters got a 10-cent Big Stick frozen treat if they brought back a form signed by their parents that they had received the information.

School officials say they did nothing wrong in encouraging children to bring home information to their parents about how to register to vote. But parent Randy Hall says giving out the treats is a bribe, and wastes taxpayers' money.

"I entrust these people with my most trusted possessions, and they are willing to use them in a scheme of bribery," said Hall, who has two children in Eastside Schools and believes the bond measure is unnecessary. "I don't know if it is (a bribe). It very much feels like it's wrong."

Students were given Big Sticks if they returned the letter signed by their parents, showing they read the material. The law allows the district to encourage voter registration, she said. [End quoting]

Any time money is voted for use of schools and is used to—yes, bribe—the children to apply some pressure to parents it is definitely wrong. These children aren't supposed to be used in school politics. What's the difference than if a politician pays someone to vote?

GINKGO BILOBA SEEN TO SLOW ALZHEIMER'S

From the Associated Press, 7/97: [quoting]
Washington—Ginkgo biloba extract [ginkgo biloba extract is available through New Gaia; see Next-To-Last Page for ordering information], a herbal medicine used for thousands of years by the Chinese, has been shown to slow the progression of Alzheimer's disease slightly in some patients, researchers report.

In a study to be published today in the Journal of the American Medical Association, researchers say about a third of the dementia patients treated with ginkgo extract showed some improvement after 52 weeks when compared with a similar group of patients who took a placebo.

Dr. Pierre L. LeBars of the New York Institute for Medical Research, lead author of the study, said benefits from the treatment were "modest" and were apparent only after about six months of taking the extract.

"The study is the source of more question than answers," said LeBars. He said the effects of ginkgo on the brain are not understood but may be related to antioxidants, compounds that neutralize a destructive form of oxygen.

Zavern Khachaturian of the Alzheimer's Association said the study of ginkgo "shows something is working a little bit for some people," but he said more studies are needed "before we can begin to draw any conclusions" about use of the plant extract for Alzheimer's patients.

LeBars, who presented the study at an AMA conference Tuesday, said the ginkgo extract used in the study was a highly refined compound produced in Europe from the leaves, nuts and branches of the ginkgo biloba tree. He said it differs from the ginkgo extract commonly available in health food stores in the United States.

A total of 327 dementia patients were initially enrolled in the study, but only 137 were included in the final results. The others were excluded or dropped out for various reasons, including death.

All of the patients had dementia, a progressive mental decline, with 251 patients diagnosed with Alzheimer's. The rest had suffered strokes. At the start, all of the patients were evaluated using standard tests measuring reasoning, memory and behavior.

The patients were divided, with about half taking the ginkgo extract and half taking a sugar pill. Neither patients nor their caregivers knew which got the extract or the placebo.

They found that 27 percent of the patients taking ginkgo achieved a four-point improvement on the Alzheimer's Disease Assessment Scale, one of the standard tests. About 14 percent of the placebo patients showed a similar improvement.

On a test based on the evaluation of caregivers, 37 percent of the ginkgo patients were considered improved, vs. 23 percent of those on placebo.

No difference was seen in a third test.

The ginkgo extract, called EGb 761, has been approved for medical use in Germany, but not in the United States. LeBars said it is uncertain if the herb sold as a diet supplement in this country would have the same effect as EGb 761.

Some forms of ginkgo have been a part of traditional medicine for thousands of years in China, where the herb is said to be beneficial for a variety of ailments, from arthritis to emotional depression. [End quoting]

"THE COMING FALL OF THE HOUSE OF WINDSOR"

From THE NEW FEDERALIST, 10/6/97: [quoting]

Special to New Federalist

Executive Intelligence Review magazine's Counterintelligence editor Jeffrey Steinberg described the contents of the weekly's latest Special Report, The True Story Behind The Fall Of The House Of Windsor, as constituting "essential combat manuals for the war which must be fought to save civilization". Steinberg wrote the Letter of Transmittal which introduces the assembled reprint of EIR's 1994-97 exposés of the Windsors.

The immediate impetus for EIR's decision to assemble its ongoing work, beginning with its ground-breaking issue of Oct. 28, 1994, featuring The Coming Fall Of The House Of Windsor, was the Aug. 31 murder of Diana, Princess of Wales. As an Epilogue in the newly printed Special Report, EIR included its cover story of Sept. 12, 1997, "Can The House Of Windsor Survive Diana's Death?"

In his letter, Steinberg summarized the three studies and how they have shaped the global battle against the oligarchy to restore "the republican ideas of the Italian Renaissance and its offspring, the modern nation-state, which were forged in the centuries-long struggle against feudal bestiality.

"Beginning with the Oct. 28, 1994 issue of Executive Intelligence Review, which featured "The Coming Fall of the House of Windsor", EIR has been both the chief source for intelligence on the troubles of the British monarchy and a major player in creating those troubles. The analysis of the role of Prince Philip within the Club of the Isles, which was presented by founding editor Lyndon H. LaRouche, Jr., in that issue, became the basis for a series of documentary studies which showed the pivotal role of the British monarchy in creating the environmentalist movement, the terrorist international, and a series of geopolitical conflicts around the globe.

"This issue of EIR was circulated broadly throughout the world," Steinberg continued, "becoming a political weapon in the hands of many of those who are in mortal combat with the monarchy.

"EIR followed up the first study with its May 24, 1996 issue, devoted entirely to profiling the global British Empire: 'The Sun Never Sets On The New British Empire'.

"The third study in the series, published Aug. 22, 1997 under the title 'Britain's "Invisible" Empire Unleashes the Dogs of War', provided even more extensive documentation of the ongoing war which the British Empire is waging to seize the mineral wealth of the planet, and to destroy that nation-state uniquely capable of stopping the Empire's designs: the United States."

The 224-page report can be ordered for $75 from EIR News Service, P.O. Box 17390, Washington, D.C. 20041-0390. Order number EIR 97-004. [End quoting]

DIANA MURDER COVER-UP

Excerpted from THE NEW FEDERALIST, 10/6/97: [quoting]

MORE TROUBLE FOR WINDSORS

As more and more people become aware that the death of Diana is by no means a closed case, the battle over the future of the House of Windsor has once again heated up.

Today, writer Andrew Morton, whose 1992 biography of princess Diana sparked a series of scandals over the internal politics and personal affairs of the British Royals, revealed that his book had been based on 14 interviews he conducted with Princess Diana herself. The Morton book is about to be reissued as an autobiography of the Princess. And this is sure to spark a new round of recriminations about the Windsors.

The issue on the table, once again, is survival of the House of Windsor. In the Sept. 28 Washington Post Book World, the London Guardian's European editor Martin Walker, who spent nine years in Washington, D.C. as the paper's bureau chief, published a book review of Kitty Kelley's recent book, The Royals, in which he argued that the fate of the British monarchy is in the hands of Prime Minister Tony Blair. Blair's policy, Walker wrote, is to "mend, not end" the House of Windsor.

Walker noted that there are only three ways that the House of Windsor could fall: by foreign invasion, as was the case in World War I, when the German, Austro-Hungarian, and Russian monarchies crumbled; by popular insurrection; or by parliamentary action. Walker noted that Queen Elizabeth II has unchallenged veto power over any act of Parliament. "Speculation of the monarchy's imminent demise would," therefore, "appear shakily founded." Speaking for a faction of the Club of The Isles that is tired of the Windsors' way of managing the affairs of the British Commonwealth, Walker wrote that Blair "seems likely to reform and tame it along the lines of what are known as the bicycle monarchies of Scandinavia.... Tony Blair's strategy for the monarchy is to mend it, not end it."

What Walker leaves out of the equation is the fact that the probe of the murder of Princess Diana has already come apart at the seams. Should the evidence emerge that her death was a political assassination, and should the monarchy in any way be implicated in her death, all bets would be off. When 10 million British subjects turned out in the streets for Diana's funeral, that sent shudders down the spines of the pro- and anti-Windsor factions of Club of the Isles alike.

The fact that EIR's coverage of the death of Princess Diana has now broken into major media markets in the United States—following the publication and wide circulation of three major EIR studies on the Windsors and the Club of the Isles—is no doubt contributing to still greater angst among the leading British oligarchs. [End quoting]

Looks like the fire is heating up under the British monarchy. Maybe Diana's death will be the death knell for it. What can't be accomplished through living sometimes CAN be accomplished through death!

BREAKTHROUGH MADE IN ELECTRIC VEHICLES

that yields twice as much useful energy per gallon as a car engine does, and with pollution 90 percent lower.

The development raises the prospect of an electric car, still quiet, swift and clean, but without the problem of heavy batteries that must be recharged often. Instead, such a car would be refilled with energy in minutes from the pump at the corner gasoline station and get twice the gas mileage of a comparable car with an internal combustion engine.

"We have a terrific breakthrough here," said Federico Pena, the secretary of energy, in an interview. He said, however, that the technology was not about to go into immediate use. Such cars could be on the road by 2010, Pena said. [End quoting]

This is some more of the Elite's promises while trying to forestall any reduction in their pollution-making policies. And trying to take away our freedoms through their methods of controlling our daily lives with their drive to cut down the use of fossil fuels by curtailing our travels and downgrading our living standards tremendously.

If you recall, News Desk has had a number of articles about how we have had, for many decades, the technology of energy devices that run indefinitely without refueling. Nikola Tesla was one of many who have brought forth these devices that have been taken from us by the Elite.

THE "SCHOOL TO WORK" PROGRAM

Excerpted from an EAGLE FORUM flyer, 1997: [quoting]

WHAT WILL YOUR CHILD LEARN IN SCHOOL?

To feel good—even though he can't read, write or calculate? That's called "Self Esteem".

That he should not try to achieve excellence because he must stick with the mediocrity of his class? That's called "Outcome-Based Education" or "Cooperative Learning".

That every behavior or lifestyle is acceptable and must not be criticized? That's called "Diversity" and "Tolerance".

That America is a bad and oppressive nation? That's called "Multiculturalism" or "National History Standards".

To make his own decisions, without adult direction, about which kinds of sex and drugs to do? That's called "Values Clarification" or "Decision Making".

To criticize his parents' morals and religion as out-of-date? That's called "Critical Thinking".

To guess at words (instead of sounding them out) and skip over words he doesn't know? That's called "Whole Language".

That it's OK to spell words any way he wants? That's called "Inventive Spelling".

To look to the school to provide all his medical care? That's called "School-Based Clinics".

To confide in school counselors instead of in parents? That's called "Guidance".

WHAT WILL "SCHOOL-TO-WORK" DO TO MY CHILD

Train him to be a compliant worker under supervision—instead of encourage him to read all he can read, and be all he can be.

Require him to take a curriculum that prepares him for jobs selected by "workforce development boards"—instead of teaching him basic knowledge and skills such as reading, writing, history, math, and science.

Dictate his future employment by using computers and counselors to do "job matching", usually as early as middle school.

Grade him primarily on attitudes, behaviors, predictions, teamwork, and "political correctness" instead of on objective knowledge.

Define him as a "human resource" to serve the global economy—instead of a free citizen who aspires to live the American dream.

Issue him a Work Card called a Certificate of Initial Mastery (CIM) or Smart Card—instead of a high school diploma.

WHAT IS THE PURPOSE OF THESE CHANGES?

To assist those who seek to plan and manage our national economy (e.g., Robert Reich, Ira Magaziner, David Rockefeller Jr., Marc Tucker) to federalize the public schools under the joint control of the U.S. Departments of Labor and Education, in order to use the schools as training institutions to serve future workforce needs as predicted by government officials. Marc Tucker, in his famous 18-page "Dear Hillary" letter, described this master plan—

"to remold the entire American [education] system" into "a seamless web that literally extends from cradle to grave and is the same system for every one", coordinated by "a system of labor market boards at the local, state and federal levels" where curriculum and "job matching" will be handled by counselors "accessing the integrated computer-based program".

But central economic planning is a failure all over the world and always spells the end of individual freedom! Americans do not want their children to be pawns in this giant and expensive experiment!

HOW CAN I TELL IF MY SCHOOL IS USING SCHOOL-TO-WORK?

Listen for the telltale jargon: School-to-Work, School-to-Careers, Career Awareness, restructuring, performance-based, outcome-based, cooperative learning, group grading, teamwork, peer tutoring, job shadowing, mentoring, job profiles, portfolios, job site visits.

Watch for the branding of children with ugly labels that will haunt them all their lives: "at risk" or "learning disabled". Remember, labeling children makes more money available to the school. Labeling the child means blaming the child for the problem.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

1. Tell your Congressman to get the feds out of the classroom. Defund School-to-Work, Goals 2000, and all laws that put job training or data collection in the schools, or that bypass elected officials. Capitol Switchboard: (202) 225-3121.

2. Tell your State Legislators to repeal all requirements for School-to-Work and National Standards. Tell them to sign letters protesting Congress' bypassing of State Legislatures.

3. Teach your child to read so he can't be dumbed down by the schools.

4. Tell your child not to answer any questions about feelings, attitudes, sex, drugs, suicide, social security number, or what goes on inside your family.

5. Don't sign any permit for the school to give your child any medical examination or treatment. [End quoting]

I'll remind all that many groups are out there to help in these causes, but some are fronts set up by the Elite to trap the individuals seeking help. It's best to join with the ones you already know and fight these causes. BUT DO SOMETHING!!

Ask God for guidance and listen, I'm sure you'll get the answers that fit your circumstances.

ONLY HUMAN?

From ANGELS ON EARTH, May/June 1996, Guideposts, 39 Seminary Hill Rd., Carmel, NY 10512: [quoting]

My husband, James, and I had been on the road for several hours when he started having an asthma attack. "I don't have my inhaler," he wheezed, fumbling in his coat pocket. I checked the glove compartment, then quickly searched my bag to see if I had thrown in an extra inhaler while packing, but no such luck.

We spotted a convenience store and stopped. James hurried inside, hoping to find some over-the-counter medicine for the time being. Right after, a huge, bald man strolled by our car and waved cheerfully at me before going into the store. Odd, I thought. I don't know that man.

James came out looking relieved. He was breathing easily now. "Good thing we came across that store," I said as we drove away.

"Yes, but even better was the man who helped me."

"What do you mean?"

"This guy walked right up to me and handed me the same prescription inhaler I use. It worked and I thanked him." James said.

"You probably saw him leave the store—big guy, bald?"

"Well, I saw him go in, but he didn't come out," I replied. "I'm sure of that—he'd be hard to miss."

So how did he exit? we wondered. Wings? —Lori Moores, Virginia [End quoting]

PART I OF A SERIES

10/22/97 GARY WEAN

Chaos!! Total destruction; annihilation is upon us—those who through their foolishness or cowardice refuse to fight back will perish.

Between the Christians whose beliefs and faith are in God and the Son of God, and the Jews who are devotees and followers of Satan—there is nothing capable of existing together. Those who espouse the Judeo-Christian lies betray God and Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

They must remain absolutely separate.

As I wrote more than 20 years ago in my book There's A Fish In The Courthouse, quote, "Ages and ages ago the world's wickedness began. Satan offered the Jews the secret of acquiring great wealth and political power, but in return they must accept him as their leader. Upon the acceptance of his evil contract Satan impregnated into Jews a primordial, bestial lust for gold and power. It was their inexorable curse struck with the mark of Cain; the evil ways established by Satan worked fine for the Jews. As the years passed they became wealthier and more powerful. Then Jesus Christ, son of God, the Savior, appeared. Entering into the Jews' Temples he toppled their idols of gold and denounced the evils of murder and usury.

"Raging at this intrusion into their lucrative, well organized rackets, the Jews screamed for Satan's protection. Obeying Satan's order of covert intrigue and vicious lies, they conspired to kill Christ. For gold, the Savior was betrayed; the Jews perpetrated their ultimate crime. On Mount Calvary, blood flowing from hands and feet cruelly spiked to the wooden cross, Christ was crucified. A sight that can never be forgotten or forgiven, except by God Himself, father of Jesus Christ. Upon his death the Jews were stricken suddenly, not by remorse, but by uncertainty. They'd been enticed by Satan's sly words, 'Seize the wealth of the world, steal, kill and lie. Sate yourselves lavishly, fear no spiritual punishment for "believe me", there is no hereafter, you have no soul, when you die you are dead. This is the secret of your power. Now go, propagate, teach your offspring in our ways to perpetuate themselves as possessors of all wealth.' A psychological dread smote the Jews, they'd been tricked. Satan had said, 'When you die you are dead.' Though they could control the wealth of the universe, shadowy, brooding wings of death constantly hovered over the Jews, while Christians had eternal life in the hereafter.

"They realized they had made a bad deal, a Jew's death was final, there was nothing after death. The Jews were terrified; a maddening jealousy engulfed them. Raging, they screamed that Satan must give them life after death. But he could not; he did not have that power. In covert attempts to gain life after death, the Jews joined Christian congregations. They even ate pork trying to prove their assimilation. It would not work. As devotees of Satan they could not comprehend faith in Jesus. How could Jews ask Christ for eternal life? They had killed him. Idolatrous rituals of the Jewish Temples were conducted by the High Priests. They presided over offerings and human sacrifices in worship of their idols of gold.

"Per their ancient accords with Satan, their Temples had become extremely lucrative. Their success was comprised of a simple, uncomplicated racket involving only the basics of money and power. It was the Crucifixion of Christ that undid all the simplicity of their evil. With the advent of the hypothesis of life-eternal, great confusion and turmoil spread among Jews. A new value had been perceived, their rapacious traits demanded that they possess it. This was a dangerous turn of events for Satan, he became very frightened of losing his followers, thus his power.

"Satan knew the Christians' source of strength was derived from their faith, their everlasting faith in God and His promise of salvation through the Savior, Jesus Christ. Tortured with the furies of madness Satan swore with vengeance, he would destroy their faith. No vestige of it would escape the wrath of his flames of hell; then he became calm; Satan schemed.

"Satan ordered Rabbi Juda to write new laws that Jews have to obey. Proceeding with instructions from Satan's special source, Juda contrived the 'Mishna'. The Mishna became the absolute law that all Jews must study and follow in criminal, political, civil, religious and family matters. After this accomplishment, Rabbi Juda was known as The Holy, and all rabbis became spiritual heads of their communities. Presiding over mysterious idolatries, oblations and sacrifices, the rabbis were the authoritative teachers of Satan's law, the Mishna, an evil diagram of ruthless sabotage, intimidation and terror.

"Satan was positive the Mishna would wreak utter havoc with the orderly processes of the sovereignty of Christian states. Their judicial and legislative systems would crumble under the Mishna's cunning chaos. Financial institutions would fail, the entire global monetary and economic structure would collapse. The Christians' governments would become paralyzed, and their world demolished. Overwhelmed by chaos, poverty and degradation, the Christians' way of life would become a cruel shambles churning within a slaughterhouse. When all hope was gone, their faith would die, signifying the end.

"The Jews were dispatched to wander across the face of the Earth. Invading every country, they formed communes within their borders, then connected them around the world with their secret system of communications. Their tightly-knit communes were a bloodline that could not be penetrated by outsiders, an enigma of morbid hate that Christians have never understood. Satan and his followers were now ready to launch their major assault. Deadly germs of confusion and disorder were spread; the fatal disease of chaos would penetrate the heart of the Christian governments. Soon the world would belong to Satan; through the rabbis' constant teachings of the Mishna to the Jews never-ending offspring, they would create 'a form of eternal life'. Nearly two thousand years have passed since the events of Satan's evil plot signaled the beginning of the end, the end of the world, the prophecy of Armageddon...

"All the fierce battles fought on the great plains of Esdraelon put together could never equal the approaching cataclysmic clash in space...the inevitable, final conflict between the forces of good and evil. Be it Faith in Christ the Savior, or the Mishna, the evil law of the Jews, only one could survive."

At this time the focus will be more intensely on just one of the Mishpucka's (Jew Crime Family) thousands of evil sabotage cells.

It will reveal their hidden, secret saboteur and provocateur infiltrations of county and city government departments and the employees. And, very important, how they twist and blackmail Christian people into joining their evil machinations.

In the City of Oxnard, California, Roy Lockwood had been running for the city council for many years. He had seen the terrible corruption being carried on in the city government. As a citizen and loyal American, he had aspired to become a city official for the purpose of putting an end to the rank, corrupt politicians who infested the local government.

Roy always came real close to winning, but for some strange, fathomless reason never quite made it. This was always a mystery.

On Sept. 10, during Lockwood's 1996 campaign he appeared before the City Council at their weekly public forum on TV. He held up my book, There's A Fish In The Courthouse, and praised its documented exposé of county corruption and suggested that the members of the council read my book.

This set off an immediate furor and chaos within the council chambers—an overwhelming gang of Mishpucka Jews leaped to their feet, lies and insanity were screamed, and shyster lawyer James Reach screeched hateful accusations, a diatribe of anti-Semitism and racism against Christians. Reach demanded that the book not be allowed in the public library, quote, "because it has no redeeming social value—I draw the line at a book which makes members of my faith in this community the villains for every judicial and political corruption that has occurred. To have a political candidate running for office with these views on the Jewish religion should not be tolerated. As a Jew I find this to be a serious issue; this book should not be a part of public dialogue.”

All of the Jews' corruption shyster Reach is whining about is a matter of documentation. Shyster Reach tried to get the Oxnard Community Relations Committee to pressure the Oxnard Library not to obtain the book; however, they turned him down.

When pinned down, Shyster Reach admitted that he was committing censorship over what the public can read, but Reach claimed, quote, “that is alright because, I am doing it for the public's good.”

The Jews were all screaming at the same time, Rabbi Michael Berk of the Temple Beth Torah in Ventura was bellowing over the chaos: “It's important to expose the book and the would-be-elected leaders like Lockwood who refer to it. He's really revealing himself to be a hate monger and I feel he is a dangerous person in the halls of power—he has tipped his hand as a racist.”

But the worst and most unexpected shrill voices were coming from Reverend Larry Tyler-Wayman and Al Gorsline, senior pastor at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oxnard. It was discovered that Wayman and Gorsline are actually rabbis connected to Rabbi Michael Berk's Synagogue through their evil conspiracy they call “Faith Connection”. This is deadly Jew-crap which poisons and destroys young Christian children's minds as to the real truth of Jesus Christ the Son of God.

Reverend-rabbis Wayman and Gorsline shrilly screamed: “The book There's A Fish In The Courthouse is the worst kind of anti-Semitism; we are dismayed that Lockwood is using the book. Jew corruption is a 'world view' that not only in my mind is wrong, but I believe is evil.”

Then, further, the two phony reverends, Wayman and Gorsline, screamed over the TV and in their newspaper the Oxnard Star Of David that “This is what is wrong with Democracy; it is one of the risks in letting nuts and kooks have a right to speak.”

Reverend-rabbis Wayman and Gorsline do not know the author of the book or anything about him—nor have they ever read the book or investigated any of the facts of documented corruption exposed in the book. Yet they excoriate Roy Lockwood and Gareth (Gary) L. Wean in public in the harshest of language. They use the power, influence and guidance of the United Methodist Church to destroy the author's commercial ability to sell his book and Lockwood's rightful opportunity to run for government office without criminal intimidation and under fair and equal electoral process.

The United Methodist Church is a powerful and influential organization operating throughout the United States.

Now, if it was the Church's stated belief that I was lying, then their American, Constitutional recourse was to sue me in court and bring the facts to light.

But instead, the 'Reverend-rabbis' Wayman and Gorsline met in the secret, dank chambers of Rabbi Michael Berk's synagogue. It was a big, important gathering—all the Mishpuckas from the newspaper Oxnard Star Of David were there: M.E. Sprengelmeyer, Tom Kiskan, Laurie Koch Thrower, Timm Herdt, Steve Chawkins—the top Mishpucka, ADL leader Abraham Foxman himself from New York ordered the West Coast 'top-dog' of the ADL, Roni Blau (headquartered in Los Angeles) to take charge of their sabotage-propaganda attack. Roni Blau, much better known lovingly by the Jews as “Roni Blaw-Blaw”, is a disgusting, vindictive, fanatical Jew transvestite who has spent a miserable life attacking Christians and their moral and ethic way of life.

The ADL Mishpucka's attack in the Oxnard Star Of David burst forth in deadly condemnation of Gareth (Gary) L. Wean and Roy Lockwood just before the election of November 1996.

M.E. Sprengelmeyer, staff writer, writes front-page headlines: “CANDIDATE ACCUSED OF 'anti-SEMITISM' FOR CITING COUNTY BOOK”. In this article Sprengelmeyer carries on, repeating the ranting, raving diatribes of shyster Reach and the Reverend-rabbis Wayman and Gorsline.

And then we have Timm Herdt, Opinion Editor: “For 20 years Roy Lockwood has been a fixture at Oxnard City Hall—every two years he runs for a seat on the City Council, always losing, but sometimes coming close. It was disheartening to see Mr. Lockwood come again before the Council—this time to promote an obscure book that presents one man's demented version of power and politics in Ventura County. Asked by a Star Of David reporter to renounce such garbage, Mr. Lockwood declined. Until he does, he will no longer merit being taken seriously by the citizens of Oxnard—in fact they should henceforth look upon him as dangerous.”

Who in the world does Rabbi Herdt think he is?

Does the Oxnard Star Of David's Editor speak for and control all Oxnard citizens? NO, he does not. Numerous responsible citizens took the microphone at the City Council meeting, on TV—prominent resident Ventura Fernandez said, “I don't know why Lockwood is being singled out for this criticism. I don't know why there's so much trauma about this book; I think the racists here are the newspapers.” Numerous citizens said they were cancelling the Oxnard paper and would read the L.A. Times from then on.

The rabbis, not liking this opposition, shut-down the 'public Council' meetings and forum for three weeks while they controlled the pre-election propaganda with their newspaper and the churches.

The paper was full of articles such as staff writer Laurie Koch Thrower: “A Jewish lawyer, James Reach has expressed outrage that Lockwood was promoting the book. Since last week, religious leaders and others have joined the outcry.”

Koch Thrower goes on, “The anti-Defamation League has condemned Lockwood and the book—this material is abhorrent. Roni Blau, Director of the San Fernando Valley office of the ADL said in a written statement that the ADL has condemned the book's distribution. The ADL will continue to expose and counter racists as well as those who deny and distort the Holocaust.”

Then comes Rabbi Steve Chawkins, an Oxnard Star Of David columnist. In his page-long diatribe, Chawkins starts off, “There's A Fish: if you read it, hold your nose.” (Yes, I admit those Jew thieves exposed by my book do give off a terrible odor.)

A treasonous judiciary... a secret Black Robe Cabal... so powerful, so evil, they make the Black Hand Mafia look like kindergarteners!

More of Chawkins' diatribe: "To gain an appreciation for the dilemma facing librarians in Oxnard, I sat down this afternoon with a bright-yellow 700-page volume called There's A Fish In The Courthouse. It was like sitting down with a soft-cover toxic-waste dump." (Rabbi Chawkins' description of the Jews as a toxic-waste dump is real good.)

More of Chawkins: "This is the book that Oxnard City Council Candidate Roy Lockwood has been urging on the public for our general edification. For your $29.95 you'll get a good pound-and-a-half of paranoid venom." (Rabbi Chawkins can't even tell the truth for a second—the book is over two pounds of the Jews' venom exposed.)

Then the wobble-mouthed Rabbi Chawkins really slips. Maddened and overcome by his hatred for the Christians, and outraged like all Jews get when their thievery is discovered, he gave away one of the Jews' most guarded secrets, which is the Mishpucka, their Jewish Crime Family. Chawkins went to his Mom and asked her: "Is there a Mishpucka?" She said to him: "Yes, son, there is a Mishpucka, a secret Jew Crime Family, but in Yiddish it is spelled Mishpocha."

As the California Attorney General and then later on as the Governor of California, George Deukmejian in his official Annual Report to the Legislature Regarding Organized Crime in California backs up the author and his facts in his book by citing evidence and the facts from his 'Bureau of Organized Crime and Civil Intelligence'. The Governor states unequivocally: "The admitted existence of Israeli organized crime—the Jews are competitors of the Mafia. They are involved in drug smuggling and specialize in narcotics dealing." (See the October 1, 1996 issue of CONTACT, page 18, RE: RABBIS ATTACK CHRISTIANITY)

Rabbi Steve Chawkins got with the Jew shyster James Reach; between them, with their terrible hatred for the Christians, they hatched more Jew deviltry. Quoting Chawkins, "Attorney James Reach has asked the library to pass on the book; he told me the book is self-published by a nut with wild conspiracy theories that are untrue." Chawkins says: "I agree totally; I wouldn't be outraged even in view of the First Amendment if they turned it down. Their guidelines would allow them to do so, on the basis that it is written with the intent to incite hatred and intolerance." (Yes, I admit, I do have an intolerance for Jew corruption and their everlasting scheme to destroy America.)

It was set up that the Oxnard Library Board would hold a meeting on September 25, 1996 to consider acquiring the book There's A Fish In The Courthouse, but the Mishpucka put pressure on the Board not to consider acquisition until after the November '96 election.

On September 26, '96 in the Los Angeles Times, Ventura County Section, front page, appeared an article by Times staff writer Lorenza Munoz, "LIBRARY STAFF ASKED TO CENSOR BOOK RIGHTS. A panel will review the work by a writer who tells of a crazy Jewish plot by the local court system to destroy him. TO OFFEND OR TO CENSOR, THAT IS THE QUESTION. Caught in the middle of a controversy, Oxnard Public Library staff members Wednesday discussed whether they should buy a book that has been labeled anti-Semitic and racist by the Anti-Defamation League. The book purports to chronicle the inner workings of the Ventura County Government and Court System. Library staff members decided Wednesday to appoint three librarians to read the book, review criticism of it and recommend whether it should be stocked. They expect a recommendation within a month. One of the three librarians, Peggy O'Donnell said, 'If people are concerned, one has to respect and give due deliberation. There's hardly a thing that someone wouldn't take offense to; anytime you deal with ideas, you are going to have people getting offended. You can't have a public library that has only one point of view.'"

Roni Blau Blau, top ADL provocateur, said, "We are advocates of the First Amendment and will not tell the library not to carry the book." Blau added: "However, the library should make a clear distinction between revisionist theories and factual literature." (In other words, the threat is there: if the library buys the book, the ADL and ACLU will sue the City of Oxnard for everything they've got.) This is Jew Blackmail.

Obviously Blau Blau has been aware of the author and his book for years and has been stabbing him in the back all along, because now that she-he has been forced to come out in the open, Blau Blau screams to high heaven, "Wean has been spouting this anti-Semitic rhetoric for years."

With a diligent search, I find nothing in either criminal or civil codes which says it is a violation to oppose Jew corruption, or as they call it, 'anti-Semitism'. Munoz says in the L.A. Times: "A recent article in American Libraries magazine said there has been a nationwide increase in individuals and groups asking libraries to remove books they consider offensive. The article said that many librarians were worried about a general climate of intolerance for unpopular views (Jew censorship), yet nearly 90% of the librarians said they have not withdrawn a book because of a community request."

Oxnard librarian Adrienne Morse, who will review the book, said: "We don't have to agree with everybody's point of view, we trust our readers—we carry the complete works of Adolph Hitler."

The ADL, knowing that they were violating the First Amendment, brought their lawyer big-guns into the fray with more lies: Douglas E. Mirell, an ACLU lawyer who claims he specializes in First Amendment issues, said in the L.A. Times: "Because the book is not already on the library's shelves the decision is really a matter of purchasing guidelines and not a First Amendment issue. Not having been already purchased, this really becomes a matter of policy whether you want to open your forum to this kind of book. Anyone is free to express their opinion on whether a book is or is not appropriate...it is purely a matter of personal predilection."

In 1992 my book had been in the library for 5 years, since 1987. Because of vandalism, Jews tearing pages from the book, the Library Director, Gail P. Warner had received many requests for it. On Sept. 11, 1992 Warner signed a Library Book Purchases check No. 2717 and sending it to the author ordered a new book—2nd edition.

On Sept. 12, 1996, upon reading the onslaught of ADL lies in the newspapers a prominent Oxnard lawyer wrote a letter and sent it to the Editor of the Ventura County Star newspaper. The lawyer, Joseph D. O'Neill, had been present at the City Council meeting on Sept. 10, 1996 when Roy Lockwood spoke and he totally refuted shyster James Reach's lies. In the letter, lawyer O'Neill makes the proper statement that "No person or agency has the legal right to decide what another person can read or refuse to read."

NOTE: (The Oxnard Star Of David refused to publish this letter.)

On November 13, 1996 shortly after the election in which Roy Lockwood lost, there appeared headlines in the Oxnard Star Of David newspaper by staff writer Tom Kiskin: "FISH IN THE COURTHOUSE RAISES STINK AT OXNARD LIBRARY. The Oxnard Library will not purchase a book that argues a 'Jew-cabal' controls the government in Ventura County and across the globe." Continue quote: "Acting on the recommendation of a team of librarians, administrators have turned down citizens' requests that the library buy There's a Fish in the Courthouse, said Wendy Penrose, Support Services Program Leader at the library." (Then the allegedly free-minded librarians dropped all pretenses of their unbiased positions.) Still quoting Kiskin: "Cathy Thomason, a library administrator, said, 'Librarians and library program leaders agreed the "self-published" book did not meet library standards and only three people have requested the book over the past several years.'" (This is a bare-faced lie—the purchasing department would not have ordered the book without having a large number of requests.)

Thomason goes on: "The book lacks credibility because it is filled with a number of inaccuracies," and she added, "the librarians characterized the writing as confused and incoherent." Then librarian Adrienne Morse, attempting to cover-up her own guilt, tried to back up Roni Blau Blau and ACLU lawyer Douglas E. Mirell by repeating their lie that "This is not a First Amendment issue."

In staff writer Kiskin's article also appeared 'Reverend-rabbis' Wayman's and Gorsline's vicious propaganda to sabotage and destroy the First Amendment through the United Methodist Church. "This is one of the risks we make in a Democracy. Nuts and Kooks have a right to speak."

It is very easy to see how long the First Amendment would last if the 'Reverend-rabbis' and the United Methodist Church have their way.

On November 13, 1996, the headlines in the L.A. Times were not quite as strident. Staff writer Lorenza Munoz headline, "LIBRARY REJECTS BOOK CALLED ANTI-SEMITIC"—"The Oxnard Public Library has decided not to stock copies of the book, There's A Fish In The Courthouse, nearly a month after it was praised by a City Council candidate, but then blasted by critics as being anti-Semitic. The book, written and self-published by Gareth (Gary) L. Wean was considered by the librarians to be inaccurate, lacking in credibility and badly organized, with a confused, rambling and incoherent writing style, said Cathy Thomason of the library's Public Services Program. We wanted to find something good about this book because it had gotten so much attention, but it was just so bad, said librarian Adrienne Morse, who was one of the three librarians who read the book and recommended that the library not purchase it."

Shyster James Reach said: "I'm happy that the library chose not to acquire the book. It's besmirched the Jews in our community on virtually every page and has no redeeming values." (I ask, what is redeeming value and do all the books in the library have it?)

Still quoting from Munoz: "Librarians said the controversy surrounding the book did not make a difference in their decision, rather, they based their decision on the significant number of inaccuracies in Wean's book. For example, he refers to the former editor of the Ventura County Star Free Press as Judas Gius instead of Julius Gius. Wean also states that Gius' father was a Jew from Russia, when in fact his father was an Italian Catholic according to Thomason. It doesn't have historical value because of the inaccuracies in the book, said Thomason." (Is Thomason confusing Catholic Gius and Catholic Madeline Albright who is over fifty years old and claims she was never told by any of her relatives she was a Jew from Russia.) And don't forget the Director of the FBI, the Jew Louis Freeh, who claims to be a Catholic. Albright and Freeh are both Jew spies and saboteurs who infiltrated the Catholic Church. Cathy Thomason is well aware that the Jews from Russia are treacherous, treasonous people and tries to cover up for Gius by lying and claiming that Gius' father was an Italian Catholic. These people involved in censoring (burning) books in the Oxnard Library are a very strange group—shyster James Reach's father was a Jew doctor trying to pretend he was a Christian—he was caught by Satan eating pork and Satan strangled him to death. Shyster Reach, in some twisted, Jew way of thinking, blames the Christians.

Before the November 5, 1996 election and the librarians' decision not to acquire my book, I had visited Roy Lockwood in Oxnard. Roy told me he was a life-time honorary member of the Oxnard Library and that he had great confidence in the librarians' integrity. And that he had always used the library's copy machine to copy all his political campaign material and strategy. Everytime he was there the library Director, Gail P. Warner, always came over, very friendly and showing great interest in his campaign material and strategy and what he was planning. Roy said that Gail P. Warner had left Oxnard and was appointed the director of a public library in Oregon and suggested that I contact her; perhaps I would learn something about how the Oxnard library operated.

I located Gail P. Warner; she had become the Director of the Grants Pass, Oregon, Public Library. Contacting Gail Warner at the library, she told me she remembered Lockwood very well, but when I showed her a copy of the check she had signed when she ordered a copy of my book to replace the old one for the Oxnard Library, Warner suddenly became very nervous and she claimed she had no recollection of ever signing the check or knowing about the book or that it had been vandalized in the Oxnard Library. Warner said that she had people waiting in her office and that she had to go. She left very hurriedly.

Warner's nervous, furtive actions and looks had stirred my thoughts—I knew something was wrong—there was something far more sinister to all this than I had thought. But when you are dealing with the Mishpucka, everything is suspect—they have infiltrated everything.

I remembered, it had been a little over a year ago: In a Grants Pass newspaper I had read about some real 'dirty-tricks' involving the head librarian of Grants Pass. At that time I had thought it was a very strange story—why would a librarian be involved in such a clandestine, underhanded operation as trying to destroy a man's business, a little, small-town newspaper. The man had been exposing local corruption involving members of a school board.

The small newspaper was the Josephine County Courier; the owner was John Tefteller.

It was after the November 5, 1996 election—I had a meeting with John Tefteller. He, like Roy Lockwood, had been running for local office for Josephine County Commissioner (same as County Supervisor in California). Like Lockwood, Tefteller had been running on a platform of exposing corruption and returning the local government to the people. Tefteller was sure to win by a solid margin—but when the votes were counted, Tefteller had lost, strangely, just like Lockwood.

Tefteller related the story sticking in my mind about the librarian. He gave me a copy of the September and December 1995 issues of the Josephine County Courier which carried the articles (copies attached hereto). It was Gail P. Warner alright! The same one who had been vandalizing books at Oxnard Library. The amazing facts of Warner's corruption, her stealthy, criminal conspiratorial acts of trying to destroy a man's business and interference into the process of free elections while using her government office, exposed an extraordinary trail of sabotage, provocateur and evil.

I talked to Roy Lockwood again and he now realized why Gail P. Warner had acted so friendly and shown so much interest in him and the copies of his political strategy at the Oxnard Library. (He had thought that she was just a nice person.) Until now he had long puzzled as to how the Oxnard Star Of David newspaper was always ahead of him in blocking his political plans and strategy. I talked with another man in Grants Pass: He stated that he was well aware of Librarian Gail P. Warner and her activities of purging the Grants Pass Library of books (book burning) with things in them she didn't like and didn't want the public to have access to.

Then this man rambled off an amazing statement: "My relative in California is an official of the United Methodist Church; she preaches all kinds of kookie things...and I know about their 'Faith Connection' activities." I said, "But that is all Jew, rabbi lies that they are messing up the Christians' minds with." He answered, "Oh no, I am a Christian but I believe what they preach...about Mary was a prostitute and whored around with the Italian soldiers and that Jesus was not the Son of God and that the Jews didn't kill Jesus, the Italians did it."

Shocked, I said, "Good lord, if you believe that filth, you can't be a Christian."

He smiled, "Oh yes, I am a Christian, that's what the Christians believe." Unable to stand any more of this idiocy, I left.

The really frightening thing about this was that the United Methodist Church has day-care schools. How can any real Christian who believes in Christ possibly turn their children over to this so-called 'Faith Connection' evil? This Satanic rabbi garbage has only one goal—the eventual destruction of the Christian Religion.

As British Subversion

9/29/97 ANTON CHAITKIN

The following article is edited from a presentation Aug. 31, at the ICLC-Schiller Institute Labor Day Conference which took place in Reston, Virginia.

In April 1993, followers of David Koresh were wiped out in a horrifying massacre at Waco, Texas.

Two years later, approaching the anniversary of that fiery death, enraged Americans, populists, many of your friends, people you call on the telephone, were being pumped up by the British. There was a newsletter that came out from Lord Rees-Mogg in London, with a false warning that the government was about to declare martial law, that [Attorney General] Janet Reno was going to take away people's guns; that they were going to have an assault on private militias. That the people would be disarmed. This was a newsletter from London to here, put out to the militia people.

A man named Jon Roland—the same day, March 22, 1995—warned the news media; he sent this out to newspapers, and the militias, that “crowded public places” were going “to be bombed, and the bombings blamed on militia leaders”. This Roland, a former Air Force officer, and a globalist, a World Federalist, told me in an interview that his information on this bombing and his other information, comes from intelligence agent contacts set up for him by the British writer Ambrose Evans-Pritchard. Four weeks after these warnings were given by these gentlemen, the Oklahoma City federal building was blown up by terrorists, and 168 people were killed.

This Roland personally started the private militia movement in Texas. He organized the private group known as the Texas Constitutional Militia the year before the Oklahoma City bombing. So the British were prophets of this bombing, and they were pumping up the militia, pumping up the populists. Out in Texas, March 25, right after this warning, just before the Oklahoma City bombing, the militia turned out to a rally to see if they would be slaughtered as Rees-Mogg said they would be by the Federal government. Nothing happened, but they were being pumped and pumped and pumped.

HOW WE HELPED TORPEDO “WACO II”

Last April, of this year, there was a siege in southwest Texas. Do you remember that? It was the Republic of Texas separatist group, completely deluded, completely separate from all reality, historical and present. And some few among them were threatening to repeat the Waco slaughter on a much larger scale. They were asking for reinforcements to come from around the country, armed, to join them in a big huge shootout with the federal government. We intervened in that.

First of all, many of them believe the world's about to end, by God's judgment, so what's the difference? And they're being led to hate their own country by being pumped up with lies against the United States government.

We found out the background of a leading provocateur plated among them, who calls himself “White Eagle,” that he was actually trained by an Air Force officer, who was a New Age guru, who went around the world with British Intelligence people like Gregory Bateson of MK-Ultra.

We put the story out about this provocateur. We got it out to the militias and to the separatists themselves, so that what happened in this siege, is that it was discredited. People did not come and make this a big blowup; it failed. They gave up. You might have seen the end-result in the newspapers.

But reports came in to us—and they continue to come in (many of you hear these reports, and pass them along to us in Leesburg) of provocations, that people are being pumped up for civil war. They're being told that a civil war is inevitable, using lies, pumping fear into people: “The government is going to attack you; the government is going to enslave you; Washington is going to enslave you; you must arm against the United States,” they're being told.

One of the most persistent in this subversion is a man named Jim Ammerman. You're going to hear [transcribed below] an audiotape made by him, where he is talking about Armageddon: The end of the world is about to happen, and he's ready for it. And then he is going to say that the people are getting armed, the government is arming against the people, and we may have to have civil war—but he's for it if it's necessary. He says that he is going out to mediate between the militias and the FBI, and he's got people on both sides of it.

Ammerman audiotape segment of Feb. 1997:

“[The end of the world is] real close. And I'm ready for it! And I want it! I read the Bible through when I was 13, in 90 days, that summer. And ever since then, I've said ‘Lord, let me live until You return, I want to be there for that glorious Rapture experience.’ Now, I know there's going to be a few tough things happen just before then. I said, ‘I don't care how tough it gets, I still want to there.’”

“Now, at this point, the best thing I can say about America's situation is that many people in America—citizens; good, honest upright citizens and many of them ‘souled-out’ Christians—are arming themselves against our own government. Back and forth across this nation it's happening. And the other side of the story is, our government is arming itself, and preparing special units against our own citizens. Now that's the calmest thing I can say to you this morning. Because it's worse than that, really.

“And these people are saying—I had a man call me—I'm meeting with some leaders of militia, and this is the only militia man that I know by name and could identify. I've met a lot of them, and a lot of them talk to me. I make sure I can't identify them, and I don't know their name, for their protection and mine. And then I can say, ‘I don't know any militia.’”

“But I'll tell you what. They're in a protective mode, to protect, and conserve, what God gave us in this great nation. But here's what they're saying—and I'm to meet with eight of them, down in central Texas, and with five FBI leaders next Saturday. Gonna have an all-day meeting.

“And I've been saying, ‘God, let us begin to communicate, and tell the story that needs to be told so that the officials up the line will understand the people.’ Because our leaders in Washington, they don't understand us. I don't think they care. But they don't know and understand. And I'm going to do what I can to communicate.

“Because I'd rather have a battle of words than a battle of bullets. I've lived through three wars, and I'd just as soon not have another one, now that I'm up in my 70s. But if I have to, I will.”

Colonel; he was a chaplain in the armed forces, and special forces and some other things. But he now controls 200 chaplains in the armed forces: the Army, the Navy, the Air Force and the Marines, throughout the world. Also, inside the FBI, and in prisons, throughout the country. He's the head of a network of chaplains. He controls their paychecks: if he says to the government, 'this man doesn't represent our group,' they have to fire him.

His bulletins, and faxes, and audio and video tapes are being pushed onto separatists and militias all over the country. People in the Republic of Texas group have gotten all of this material, and I talked to an awful lot of them about this.

Now we are going to see a video. You are going to see him warning his militia and separatist viewers about the "imminent military takeover of the United States." He warns that the military is training to seize the cities and put the people under slavery.

IMMINENT MILITARY TAKEOVER: THE VIDEO:

"Welcome to Prophecy Club, where we study, and research, Bible prophecy... Our topic tonight is "The Imminent Military Takeover of the USA, II." This will be the second video that we make of Jim Ammerman.

"Now, we prophecy students look at the Bible, and we say, 'Wow, some of this seems to be coming to pass!' We look at the newsletter and say, 'there's some more of it coming to pass.'"

"But we're blessed to hear tonight some additional information that you'll never hear, you'll never see, in the newspaper or on TV. Our speaker tonight is uniquely qualified to talk on it. He has 26 years in the military. He was the head [sic] military chaplain for the Army, and he is now retired. He is former Green Beret, CIA [sic], and has Top Secret security clearance [sic]. Will you help me welcome Jim Ammerman!"

[Ammerman speaking, wearing American-flag tie and standing under Prophecy Club logo:] "...[Some of the Army is] training as a part of the multi-jurisdictional task force, and that main training is at Fort Polk, Louisiana, where they just built a $20 million city to train in. It's only the outside of the buildings.

"I went down there. I get there fairly often. I have a granddaughter who is an Army doctor there, and I have some chaplains assigned there. So I have an official reason to go down there; a logical reason.

"And I said, 'why do we have a [training] city like this?' [The answer was,] 'Oh...we train...in case we need to go over to Africa, like Somalia, again.'

"Somalia doesn't have any cities like ours. That's not what they're training for. That's not what they're training for. They're training how to take you out of your home, out of your office, and all!

"...[E]very major ground training [facility], both Army and Marine [has a similar arrangement].... To control terrain, to control people, you must have ground forces....

"I have in my files...the six-page questionnaire...that was given about three years ago at Twenty-Nine Palms [California] infantry training center for the Marines there—you know, it's pretty tough to control all Americans...got an extra copy and brought it out, and they published it and so I got a copy of it—the full thing. It started out very innocuous.... But you go down to the last question. It said: 'If America chooses to disarm its citizens, and they refuse, would you shoot American civilians?' And they were supposed to answer yes or no. Some answered yes; would you believe they were put in a special detachment, for special training, and were given a United Nations ID card when they finished training?" [On the film,

Ammerman pauses and nods his head affirmatively.]

"That's pretty serious stuff, isn't it? They were placed under United Nations control because they would shoot civilians."

Bunk! Now later in this tape, he says—to the loud applause of this Prophecy Club audience—that Jane Fonda should have been executed, publicly.

"Oh, rah, rah!" Because people are angry. They're angry at what happened in the Vietnam War. They're angry about the government. Right after they are applauding, while they've got their blood up, he says, "And right behind her, they should have executed Bill Clinton." And they are quiet; they're thinking, "are we applauding for that too? I'm not sure."

In other tapes and discussions, he says that Clinton has killed dozens or hundreds of people and deserves the punishment that is obvious for that. That the President has committed crimes of immense magnitude to cover up his murders.

Ammerman was down there in Texas working in that siege, while I was working on it from Virginia. He was mediating between the separatists and the FBI. He was an intermediary: a guy pumping people up to attack and overthrow the government and assassinate the President.

Now, "populists" get this kind of material. What do we mean by "populists" today? Look at an ad that is in a magazine called The Barnes Review, that goes out to populists in America. It's published by Willis Carto, publisher of Spotlight newspaper. This is an ad for a book called Friedrich Nietzsche, written by the Nazi ideologist Alfred Rosenberg. The ad describes Nietzsche as a "social populist". This is openly Nazi.

There is an ad for a tape, "Battle Songs and Marches of the German Armed Forces in World War II". You can buy this if you send money to "NS Publications".

The Aryan Nations and Ku Klux Klan and Christian Identity movements are being pumped up with this type of material, with a whole cross-section of precisely what Ammerman is getting out. Now those movements, as we demonstrated to the police authorities in Europe, are riddled by, and are run by professional provocateurs, professional intelligence agents. There is no "indigenous" movement of that sort. And we have discredited and wrecked several of the leaders of these things, including the neo-Nazi faker Gary ("Gerhard") Lauck, who is a British intelligence asset, who is now in jail in Germany.

PROMOTING RACE WAR

These people are aiming for race war, separatism, and disintegration of the United States.

Ammerman is a clergyman. What kind of a clergyman is he? He's called "Pentecostal" or "charismatic". (His organization is called the Full Gospel Chaplaincy; that's a denomination that he made up, with his backers.)

What do we mean by that? Well, he "speaks in tongues". That is, he speaks nonsense words, or syllables, and this is to take the place of prayer. He claims to have supernatural powers, he claims to have power of prophecy. In one instance, a guy came up to the stage in pain, and Ammerman said, "God told me that 12 years ago you were in an auto accident and injured your left shoulder." God didn't tell him that. It's like some of the Masonic insurance companies, used to have people out there who told them personal things about people so they could cancel their life insurance.

So, we investigated. This is a pretty startling case, of a man who's pumping people up for civil war, and he's running chaplains, who are in a confidential relationship to servicemen all over the world. How is he protected? How does he get away with this? He says in his speeches, that his chaplains in the Armed Forces tell him about the movements of American Armed Forces, so that he can alert people to counteract them! How does he get away with that, if he is officially running these things in the military?

The aftermath of the bombing of the Oklahoma City Federal Building.

Author Anton Chaitkin addressing the Labor Day Conference

We have a network of retired and active-duty people in the military. We call them followers of [Alvin] Toffler: "Third Wave", New-Age futurists. And they are also, the same people, End-Times freaks, in the Army, Navy, Marines, Air Force; the Special Forces; active duty, retired and reserves. I'm not talking about all military people. Quite the contrary. But I'm talking about people who have a lot of power, and who are very dangerous.

Ammerman told me in an interview that when the showdown comes between the government and the people: "There is a network of Colonels and above, throughout the military, who would stand by the Constitution and against the President. They know who they are, and they are in close communication with each other. They could control the country if they need to."

THE GLOBALISTS BEHIND AMMERMAN

We found that there is in fact a "globalist" corruption within the military. This man Ammerman, and many others like him that you hear about, they warn about globalists. But it is those globalists who created Ammerman's organization, who put him up to his treason.

He talks about "foreign troops" on American soil. How many people have heard that story? "There's foreign troops here! There's foreigners in America! Did you know that?"

Now what does he mean by "foreign troops"? Well, he says, particularly German troops. And he pumps this thing up about German troops in America. And then he slips in the word—after he has repeated about a German soldier in Dulles Airport, a German soldier down in Texas—he says, "enemy troops"; he substitutes the word "enemy" for "foreign".

That's called a "demagogue".

The British are not "foreign", in his lexicon. They are his guides.

There was a fight in the Pentagon, about the matter of allowing this abomination to exist within our military. When his group applied for the permission for him to be the "endorser" for these chaplains, in 1983-84, there was a fight that took 13 months. The traditionalists fought against it. But that was the era of George Bush the Vice President, running covert operations, with Oliver North working for him—who is one of these Pentecostals—and this was put through.

Now this is the "foreign" operation in the United States. This is a British underground network, that goes through the military, though Pentecostalism, and the militias. The British globalists who set up his chaplaincy, created the Pentecostal movement. They seek to reduce Americans to mindlessness, to the self-conception of lower animals. We have to demonstrate that. I think you can reflect about that.

Think about the fact that the British Empire, the Anglicans, the "high church", the very wealthiest bankers of that sort, high aristocrats, the "Lords of the Earth", who look down on the people who take up their manipulated faiths, their manipulated movements: they have gathered "low church" subjects in the United States and throughout the world.

A certain Gen. Ralph Haines commissioned this Ammerman chaplaincy to be set up. He asked Ammerman to do it. An April 12, 1968 Washington Post article shows Gen. Haines when he was running the United States Army, all army troops within the continental United States. He was using all the counterinsurgency and intelligence operations underneath him, while moving his troops into Detroit and Washington, D.C. to counter riots, before and after the Martin Luther King assassination. If you think the military or somebody connected with the military might have had something to do with the assassinations, or the riots, ask him about it.

'OPERATION GARDEN PLOT'

Gen. Haines told the media that he was activating a plan called "Operation Garden Plot", which was for the military to link up with local police departments and state governments, and with the FBI, to take over all the cities in the United States, for the military to move into them and take them over. He used the counterintelligence files of the military on the dissidents that might be active in all the cities. This is what he told me.

So, he made headlines there, but then he faded out of the picture.

Ammerman warns about a military takeover of the United States! Yet this Haines is the man who asked him to set up his organization, and who is on his board and lectures to his chaplains, right now.

How did Haines go from counterinsurgency to this insurgency against the United States? The New York Times reported Feb. 1, 1973, on Haines' retirement from his powerful Army post. General Haines told me in an interview about his fateful experience two years earlier.

He went to meeting of a Masonic-like organization, called the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship. I'm sure some of you in the audience have heard about that group. The meeting was run by a British Intelligence asset, a professional brain-washer named Harald Bredesen.

Haines told me, that the "businessmen" there were speaking out, and tears were running down their cheeks. He said, "I was getting very uncomfortable." I signalled to my aide, let's get going, let's get out of here. But Harald leaned over to me; he said, "Are you charismatic?" I thought it over. I answered, I don't think so. What did charismatic mean?

"Harald was the speaker.... People were putting up their hands (in uncontrolled fervor). I put my hands up a little bit—the discreet Episcopal level. People asked me, 'General, what's your problem—why only half mast?'"

"After Harald gave his talk, there was renewed praising of the Lord. My hands crept up to fully extended. I felt things happening to me. I felt things beyond my comprehension. It was not elation. I was dazed by it. Everyone crowded around me—they could all see something was happening. People closed in on me—I got out—I went to my room; I wanted to be alone. Harald came and ministered to me.

"The next day I saw that the speech I was to deliver was pabulum. What would satisfy these people? The people were saying, 'The general got zapped last night.' So, though I used the core of what I had prepared, I now spoke differently, tailoring it to what had happened. I then thought, I don't know what God wants of me but I'm ready to do what He says."

A few days after he retired from active duty, he started a new career. He went to a meeting in Dallas, in 1973, to organize and supervise the Pentecostal element in the Episcopal Church, along with some world agents of the Anglicans. In 1978, Haines went to England for an Anglican meeting and other strategy sessions. The objective was to set up a world-wide drive to spread this lunacy that he was inducted into.

I'm not speaking now about what Pentecostalism is. I'll get to that in a minute. But what he went through, he was now being inducted to spread around the world, under the guidance of the Queen of England's church. And he met with the top leaders of that church, working in strategy sessions to spread it around the world. It was at that point that Haines asked Ammerman to set up his chaplaincy organization.

A Sketch Of Important History: Who is Yahweh/Jehovah?

10/15/97 NORA BOYLES

Before I get into the subject of this article I believe some critical truths and perspectives must be restated:

(1.) Every souled being has a personal connection to God, their Creator. God is in and through all of His Creation. He is within each unique individual, awaiting their turning to Him. There is no need for any intermediary in the form of priest, rabbi, minister or church. Although you may have found an informative teacher, no one can take this responsibility for you.

(2.) When an individual seeks God within themselves through prayer or meditation, it matters not what name they call Him. The critical factor is their sincere and sustained heart desire to contact Him. God judges the intent of the heart, not the label you give Him. He has been called by many names among various civilizations with differing languages and development.

(3.) According to Hatonn, Esu Immanuel's (pronounced Immanuel) primary purpose when he was on Earth about 2,000 years ago was to teach people about the Kingdom of God within themselves. According to Esu Immanuel in the biblical Book of Matthew, 24:14, the end of our corrupt civilization will not come until this teaching about the Kingdom of God within each individual has been preached in all the world. It is between you and God, that is all. He is Light, and you are Light, unless your soul has been bred out of you by evil beings.

(4.) Many teachers have been sent to help man understand the Truth. Man in his ignorant and illiterate state is often taught with the use of symbols (word pictures). In that primitive state he does not understand well enough or have access to enough information to make comparisons or judgments of information. Therefore, he is often the prey of those who would lie to him in order to use him for their own ends. It has always been thus. Nevertheless man is born knowing good from evil. His soul responds within him, and he can come to know God by following the good within himself. Unfortunately, man has most often denied or suppressed the inner promptings of his soul.

Our lives are actually our own responsibility and the results of our own choices. It is the law of cause and effect. We learn our lessons in this way. If we do good, we reap the rewards. If we do evil, we also reap the rewards. We are the cause of both circumstances.

What is "good"? Briefly, it is to love God, to love ourselves (whom God Created), and to love those others that God has Created—our neighbors as ourselves. Who is our "neighbor"? All of God's Creation! It will be by this criteria that we are enabled to judge the worth of any teaching or teacher and our own progress.

Having restated the Truth of your own worth and independence from the imposed "traditions" of others, I proceed with a short review or summary of some history which I believe is important to your recognition of God, especially when He revisits this Earth following the tribulation period of this ending Earth cycle, according to the prophecies of John in the biblical Book of Revelation.

I. Pre-Historic Times In Babylon—Father-God (Bel)

God visited Earth and was known to man as a Sun God, who could "fly"! He brought a special tree called the Tree of Life with Him. The tree had "twelve manner of fruit". Bel was active in "slaying dragons", symbolic of putting down corrupt governments and civilizations. (In this regard, remember, people bring the affects of their own actions upon themselves. God does not punish them.) A great deal has been discovered about Bel from archaeological digs of the last 150 years, even though much of the information is still unavailable to the general public.

The Semites later took up much of the "religion" of Babylon and incorporated it into their own writings and beliefs. However, they did not include God's Name "Bel" in the Old Testament.

Bel was also known by the word idiom "Guer", translated as "George" by L.A. Waddell. In other words, Bel was also "George the dragon slayer". Bel's early name was "Enlil"—"En" meaning "Lord", although "Bel" became a generic term for "God" in Babylon. The title of "Lord" was carried over by the Semites as a name and description of God.

Statues of Bel began to be worshipped in the Middle East. This worship deteriorated into the practice of making food offerings to the statue (idol), a practice still underway at the time of Daniel the prophet (about 607 B.C. according to Ussher's Chronology). The "worship" deteriorated further into the worship of many idols now call "Baal". Baal worship was practiced by the Ten Tribes of Israel, who had separated from the temple worship in Jerusalem, up until their defeat in 722 B.C. It (Baal Worship) was conducted by a bevy of priests.

II. 2,000 B.C. The Habiru and their "God", Jahueh/Jehovah.

There were many city-states at the time of Bel and later in the Middle East. People grouped together for trade and protection. About 2,000 B.C., according to archaeological discoveries in Babylon, Cappadocia, Mari, Nuzi, Ugarit and Alalakh about the turn of this century, nomadic bands of mercenaries from various places and peoples were employed by wealthy landowners and became fierce desert raiders known as "Habiru". The Habiru included men from both Semitic and non-Semitic groups. There were no identified or named tribal groups or leaders among them.

The Habiru had someone named Yahweh/Jehovah for their "God"! Given the fact they were all paid mercenaries from a wide variety of peoples, it has been impossible at this point to identify this Yahweh/Jehovah as a cultural god of known or verifiable, historic precedents, people or place. Therefore, one is inclined to consider the possibility that he is some kind of leader—either wealthy landowner, king or military general who demanded worship from those subjects under him—a not uncommon demand among tyrants of all times. Certainly, information about Yahweh/Jehovah given to us in the Old Testament would identify him among the most greedy, warring, egotistical and tyrannical leaders of all times. It appears that his name was a battle cry to all the Habiru from about 2,000 B.C. and forward. (Remember, the modern world, or some few in this world, did not become aware of the existence of the Habiru until the archaeological finds beginning at the end of the nineteenth century.) Catholic Encyclopedia.) Hatonn has said that Yahweh/Jehovah was a tyrant king. Hatonn does not include this name among his own.

However, it is quite interesting that, according to Ussher's Chronology, the story of Abraham in the Old Testament begins in 1996 B.C. In other words, the "history" of the "Hebrews", which was developed and written in later centuries, is said to begin at the same time the Habiru were becoming known and active in the Middle East, from Babylon to Egypt. There are archaeological finds which tell us about the Habiru. There is as yet no archaeological find which supports a "Hebrew" presence as early as 2,000 B.C., or even 800 years later. This is why the "Hebrews" today are frantically digging to find a "record" of their "history", including that tunnel under the Islamic Mosque on the site called the "Dome of the Rock" in Jerusalem, and is also a reason why so much was made of the Dead Sea Scrolls, even though they are not of early origin.

III. 1355-1325 B.C. Akhenaton, King of Egypt, breaks with the old priesthood of Amon-Ra in Thebes, moves his administrative city to Akhentaten (later known as Tel el-Amarna when it was discovered in an archaeological dig in 1897 A.D.), and taught his people about "Aton", the One God, God of Light, and the Central Sun of His Creation.

Akhenaton was called a heretic, and his teachings destroyed or suppressed. Tel el-Amarna proved there were no "Hebrews" in Palestine or Egypt prior to or at the time of Akhenaton! Egypt was in control of Palestine at the time of Akhenaton. However, a fierce band of desert marauders, called "Habiru", were causing problems.

When you consider that most people still view the Bible as the Truth, and have had the accepted Ussher's Chronology of the Old Testament impressed upon them, both by preachers and heavy media propaganda, for so long they still do not realize that most of its early "history" is not verified by recent archaeological finds. The very foundation of the biblical story of Abraham up through the Israelite's exodus from Egypt and Moses' receipt of the Ten Commandments cannot be as stated in the Old Testament! Egypt was still in control of Palestine over 150 years after Ussher would have the Israelites masters there.

Of course, dating of historical material has always been a tricky business, and Ussher did not claim perfection. Still, according to biblical texts "Jacob" was in bondage to Egypt for over 200 years and some say 430 years—so there should have been a record of that at Tel el-Amarna or elsewhere in Egypt. There is none!

I am fortunate to have purchased a KJV of the Bible in 1940, which has an attached Concordance and gives Ussher's Chronology of biblical events. I know that Ussher and much of the Old Testament cannot be accepted as even close to the facts. Nevertheless Ussher gives us the record of what people were earlier taught to believe and still unknowingly use to base most of their beliefs regarding Old Testament events since, indeed, the biblical stories have not been corrected. Bibles and Concordances purchased more recently (I have seen several as early as 1962) no longer contain Ussher's Chronology or provide any attempt to date Old Testament material. They cannot—it is not true! Are these facts pointed out to you when you see the frequent movies on Old Testament stories? Not to my knowledge. However if you research any quantity of historical or archaeological material written by scholars of this century you will soon discover they have begun to use dates much later than Akhenaton (1355-1325 B.C.) for the beginning of the "Hebrew" stories. That is, unless they are among those scholars who are attempting to show the "Habiru" and "Hebrew" are one and the same—an idea the "Hebrews" have not yet officially accepted.

'Aton', the One God of Light, also known as the Central Sun of Creation, was known in Egypt and elsewhere prior to the development of the "Hebrew religion". The "Hebrews" picked up the idea of "One God", "God is Light", as well as other scriptures and claimed them as their own. The language versions of Aton's name incorporated into their writings by the "Hebrews" were Adon and Adonai. These names were translated into English as "Lord" in the Old Testament. They were used as a general substitute by the "Hebrews" for "God's Name", which according to Hebrew tradition, could not be pronounced except once a year in the Holy of Holies part of the Temple by the high priest!

IV. The "Hebrew religion" of their "God", Yahweh/Jehovah, was developed into a priestly craft sometime much later than Akhenaton (1325 B.C.).

According to Hatonn, the "Hebrews" had earlier overcome the Sumarians (aka Sumerians), took their records, reworked them to fit their own history and claimed them as their own. Some support for this statement can be found in my article in the 9/16/97 issue of CONTACT newspaper. But, who were the "Hebrews"? There is no certain origin for the name, according to The Etymological Dictionary of the English Language, and Harper's Bible Dictionary. These facts, together with the newly revealed knowledge of the Habiru and the lack of archaeological data to support the "early history" of the "Hebrews" in Palestine has led many scholars to believe that the Habiru and the "Hebrews" are one and the same! Of course, this means that the biblical events and characters portrayed in the Old Testament, at least for the period between 2,000 B.C. and 1325 B.C., are not supported by facts.

A review of the word "Hebrew" may be in order here. We know that the word "Habiru" is derived from the consonantal word "HBR", as found in cuneiform documents. The word has a variety of spellings using different vowels in different language usages (i.e. Habari, Habiri, abari, also Khapiri in Ascadian, etc.). It would seem that the word "Hebrew" is one of the possible spellings of the consonantal word "HBR", except it has that consonant "w" at the end. This is actually a rather strange development. It does not fit into the word patterns generally found in translations of various names and words. For example: If you take the name Eshoo in Aramaic, it is translated into English as Esu, using the short "s" and the vowel "u" in place of the Aramaic double "o" You don't find this same kind of variety in the language spellings for the word "Hebrew". It would seem that Hebru or Hebroo could be possible translations and vowel usages with the same sound as "Hebrew" if the word is from "HBR", the consonantal word—and it must have been, otherwise there is no known origin or history for it other than Old Testament accounts, which are now very much in question. The word "Hebrew" was simply written into Old Testament accounts without known historical precedents.

Taken from another point of view, look at the use of the consonant "w" in the "Hebrew" consonantal word (YHWH) for "Yahweh". The English translated this name as "Jehovah", interchanging the "J" for the "Y" and the "W" for the "V". The question is: Why, in the case of the word "Hebrew" didn't the English translation take the form of "Hebrey"? Nothing actually fits, although we are so accustomed now to the word that no one generally questions it.

In addition to the above there is a question about Abraham's lineage. He is said to have been a descendant of Heber at the time he was first called "Hebrew" (Genesis 14:13). Heber is another name taken from the consonantal word "HBR". In my Bible Concordance the people who were descendants of Heber were called "Heberites". Why wasn't Abraham called a "Heberite"? Since I discovered this anomaly I looked in other, later concordances and have found they do not always contain references to either the word "Heber" or "Heberite". It appears that a lot of "cleaning up of their act" has quietly and surreptitiously been taking place among publishers of religious reference works, even though the general public is still given, and is accepting, the Old Testament accounts as the truth. (I suggest you hang onto any Bibles and Concordances published early in this century just to compare with those being published today. As it is going, very soon the new generation won't be able to discover the discrepancies in the later editions even though the stories are not changed.)

I believe from the above, and from some further information I shall share on the consonantal word "HBR", that people will begin to see that we are all "Jews", as Hatonn said sometime ago. How? Well, I believe the "Jews" started out as "Habiru"—mixed peoples hired for mercenary duties—not distinct tribes and not all Semitic people. HBR has also been translated to mean "fellowship" or "brotherhood" (Haber). In Latin it is spelled Hiber. The "H" is dropped in the Spanish version, whose people are called Iber, or "Iberians". Then we have some islands off the West Coast of Scotland named "Hebrides", and Ireland which was called "Hibernia" in Latin. We are obviously all "brothers" and the "Hebrews" are not the origin of the circumstances, although they claim to be.

If you read the biblical Book of Genesis, chapter 13 and 14 you will see that Abraham, when he is first called "Hebrew" (Genesis 14:13), was engaged in activities very much like those in which the Habiru were involved—war! Further, his companions in arms were from a variety of groups and peoples. Is it possible that some group of wealthy landowners rewrote some "history" in order to claim a distinct "religion" and "race" and thereby gain perpetual control over a mass of people whom they could use to support and further their aggressions? Think carefully about this question.

One more comment on "Heber" before I leave the subject. According to my Bible Concordance the word means the same as "Eber". If you look up "Eber" you find it means "a place beyond". The "Hebrews" have claimed that this place is beyond the Euphrates River—which places them in the area of Babylon, and also accords with the origins of the Habiru as well as the Semites who took over the Babylonian "religion". On the other hand, when you also know that most of us were either brought to this Earth or seeded here by those who came from other civilizations in the Universe, then "a place beyond" could certainly refer to a place beyond our Earth in space! This is all the more conceivable knowing as we now do that Father-God (Bel) and His companions were space travelers. In other words, the word meaning "a place beyond", could have been included in the material taken over by the Semites from the Babylon area and interpreted to fit their own "history".

When did the "Hebrew" god Yahweh/Jehovah, enter the "history"? According to the KJV of the Bible he introduced himself to Moses on Mt. Horeb at the time Moses was discussing with God the release of the Israelites from Pharaoh (Egypt). (According to Ussher's Chronology this would have been about 1491 B.C. However, we now know this date is not possible, and the biblical "history" is also not correct.)

The Book of Exodus (second book of the Old Testament), 6:2 & 3: "And God spake unto Moses and said unto him, I am the Lord:

"And I appeared unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob by the name God almighty, but by my name JEHOVAH was I not known to them.

From the very clear statements above, it appears we should not find the name of "Jehovah" in the Bible prior to Exodus 6:2 & 3. However, this is not the case.

In Genesis 22 we read about Abraham setting out to sacrifice his son Isaac. He is stopped by an angel. A ram was provided for the sacrifice instead, and Abraham called the place "Jehovah-jireh", which, according to my Concordance means: "Jehovah will provide".

Of course, if "Jehovah" was not called "God" at that point, but was in his capacity as leader of the Habiru (of which it appears that "Abraham" was a part) then this bit of "scripture" might be historically understandable. However, how do you account for the second "Jehovah" that later shows up in Exodus 6:2&3? The scribes who put this "history" together obviously did not have all of the Old Testament available for comparison, or were unconcerned or unknowing about the Truth! On the other hand, they may have been adding the story of the Habiru to other material and did not notice the discrepancies. Something of the sort has to be considered. Interestingly, the words used in the Aramaic version of the Old Testament, Genesis 22:14 is "Mariah-nekhzey" instead of "Jehovah-jireh". One wonders if the Aramaic-speaking people ever heard of "Jehovah". (This is critical because Esu Immanuel spoke Aramaic.) Both the words "Mariah" and "Jehovah" have also been conveniently translated as "Lord" by biblical translators today. In fact, according to George M. Lamsa, who translated the Aramaic Bible into English, he was required to follow currently-approved English versions of the Bible in his translation. There is no freedom of the press in America today.

Is there any reference to Jehovah being a temporal leader in the Bible? I found one reference which uses the words "Jehovah-nissi" in Exodus 17:15. My Concordance translates these words as "Jehovah is my banner". However, George M. Lamsa, who translated the Peshitta (Bible) from the Aramaic language has translated the word "nissi" as "nasi" in his work. The word "nasi" was and is used by the Jews to identify their temporal leaders, and especially those who are recognized or claim to be descendants of King David. Therefore, that "Jehovah" is given this title is certainly indicative of his position as temporal prince. Remember, the Jews do not look for a return of Immanuel or of God to this Earth. Their hope of a "Messiah" rests in a temporal king of the Davidic line—one who will be both priest and king in a resurrected Jewish kingdom intended to rule the world.

There has been great criticism of the biblical "angry God Jehovah" down through the centuries. Jehovah certainly did not follow God's Laws in any way. This is the best means of judging him as a "God"—he was not, and did not attempt to be one, although he claimed the title and the power, which was either ignorantly or fearfully given to him by his subjects or paid for with stolen goods and property. Consider the "covenant" that "Jehovah" is said to have given to Abraham, first in 1912 B.C. (according to Ussher). He and his descendants after him are supposed to get all of the land between the Euphrates River in Babylon and the Nile River in Egypt. This sounds exactly like a military tyrant urging his troops on to ever more fighting with the promises of vast tracts of land (belonging to the defeated people) as the spoils of war. It certainly was not God, Whose Laws include: Thou shall not kill; Thou shall not covet thy neighbor's property; Thou shall not steal, etc. (According to biblical accounts the "covenant" was periodically renewed, and, of course, today those who claim to be Jews are still fighting to make that "covenant" a reality after almost 4,000 years. But, was "Jehovah" God? And, has it truly been 4,000 years or are we looking at a remarkably durable myth, in the real sense of the word? Where does the "history" of the "Hebrews" begin and end?)

The concern over Old Testament accounts which reveal Yahweh/Jehovah as a "God of wrath" is basically sound, in my opinion. Many scholars have spent years analyzing the Bible, and have arrived at the conclusion that "Yahweh/Jehovah" is included in texts primarily subservient to the priests. If this is true, and there is much to support it, then "Yahweh/Jehovah" is a character developed through human authorship rather than a True Higher teaching. This is not the first time in history that the priesthood has usurped God's Laws and set systems up to work to their own advantage. The story of the statue of Bel being given food offerings in the Apocryphal book titled Bel And The Dragon, is a good example (see 9/16/97 issue of CONTACT for more details). (Ref.: Ancient Judaism, Biblical Criticism From Max Weber to the Present.)

Indeed, today there is another formidable question: Who is a Jew? The Book of Revelation tells us about those who "say they are Jews but are not, and are of the synagogue of Satan". We know from Hatonn's teachings and the research of several scholars that from 75% to 90% of the "Jews" today are Zionists and Ashkenazi Jews. They are not "Semites" or descended from the original "Israelites". Their forefathers joined the Jewish religion about the eighth century A.D. They are known as Khazars, and were originally from the area around the Caucasus Mountains, the Black Sea and the Caspian Sea (once known as the Khazar Sea). They have no claim to any "covenant", however questionable, said to be given to a man named Abraham about 1912 B.C. Further, they do not follow God's Laws which should be the primary criteria for claiming any connection to "God's people". Yet, they have demanded the land of Palestine for themselves based on this very shaky "history" of a "covenant" from "God".

Look at the situation from another perspective. Pretend you are, for example, a Greek living in the United States. Your life is not going well and you decide to join the Greek Orthodox Church. Further problems develop and you decide the government should repatriate you to Greece and provide you free maintenance. Do you think your concerns would be heard? Are you not as worthy an individual as a Jew, and even more legitimately a Greek? In my opinion, democracy really does not live in the United States, Israel, or the New World Order.

In November 1993, I started a series of articles titled: The Descendants of King David. They can be found in the back issues of CONTACT newspaper for 11/9/93, 11/16/93, 11/23/93, 12/7/93 and a supplement of 3/15/94. In this series I present all of the material I could find regarding the claimed descendants of King David. The possible range of "descendants" is critical because, according to the religion of the Jews, their expected Messiah (world leader—anointed one) must be a descendant of King David. The original King David was king about 1055 B.C.; according to Ussher's Chronology the date was revised to 1017 B.C. using Assyrian records. The genealogies were put together by Jewish scholars and rabbis attached to the various Talmudic Academies prominent in various cities of the Middle East around the turn of the first century, A.D., and later. Most of the material is taken from the Talmud and Old Testament accounts, which were also compiled near the turn of the first century A.D., and which are so far unsubstantiated and unsupported by archaeological finds. The material is not continuous in many instances, having gaps in the dates, requiring the composers of the accounts to rely heavily upon "tradition". Further, the accounts are not signed and the "authors" unknown, although there is speculation upon their identity. In their present forms, the Seder 'Olam Rabbah and the Seder 'Olam Zuta, which are the two documents compiled in the Academies and used to establish the line of David's descendants, first appeared together in 1514 A.D. This was at the time Abraham b. David's Sfer ha-Kabbalah appeared. The texts have had several translations and editions since that time. (1514 A.D. is a very long time from King David, and longer still from Adam, who is listed at the head of the accounts.)

A new twist in the "genealogies" taken from today's plethora of "New Age" speculation is to be found in the book Holy Blood, Holy Grail. Supposedly, the "elite" of Europe are descended from Esu Immanuel (pronounced Immanuel) through a child born to Mary Magdalene and said to be sired by Immanuel. This child supposedly headed the dynasty of the Merovingians, which ruled prior to Charlemagne. There is nothing but myths and speculation in the accounts, although we are told that there is a record in the Vatican showing they supported the Merovingian's claims.

When you know that the Vatican is heavily infiltrated by Masons, Zionists and Communists, and the heads of all these groups are Khazarian Jews, you can better judge any possible "record" held by the Vatican in regard to the Merovingians. Further, the Vatican announced in the Connoisseur magazine of December 1989, that it has no archives older than 1,000 years. Therefore, it appears there will be no valid records forthcoming in the future regarding any Davidic claims of the Merovingians from the Vatican, unless they decide to conveniently change their story on the antiquity of their archives. A problem to watch for is that the Vatican often stands upon their "ecclesiastical" rights, and even though they could make some kind of infallible pronouncement on the subject of the Merovingians in the future, there will be no adequate or secured investigation of the documents upon which it is based. This statement is based upon knowledge of the previous denial of requests for archival information from the Vatican. In any event, when Immanuel (now known as Sananda) returns, any question about Mary Magdalene's pregnancy will be cleared. Remember, the Catholic Church was first a Roman State Church, set up in the fourth century A.D. Its first "pope" was Julius Caesar who controlled church policy from the beginning. Later emperors were known Khazars (Theodoric, Odoacer).

V. God's son, Esu Immanuel, lived and taught in Palestine at the turn of the First Century A.D.

What little of his teachings remain in the New Testament clearly show that he was not in agreement with the established temple worship of the day. Further, most of his teachings were destroyed, and most of the facts concerning his life obliterated. He was sorely persecuted by the Jewish priesthood. It was at their urgings to Pilate, the Roman governor of Palestine at the time, that Esu Immanuel was crucified. (Ref.: Josephus Complete Works)

According to Hatonn, the two "Commandments", as presented in the Bible which are not God's Laws are the one about the rules for the Sabbath and the requirement to give 10% of your earnings to "God" (the temple). Both of these "commandments" were also condemned by Esu Immanuel, and clearly show how the treacherous priesthood worked to gain power and wealth for themselves. (If you think about it, only a third-dimensional being would have any use for "tithes".) (With this system the priests of Thebes had gained control of one-third of the property and wealth of Egypt at the time of Akhenaton.) Immanuel taught that you need no intermediary such as a priest or temple to contact God within yourself. This was the teaching that was most threatening to the wicked priests and their controllers—they could see that their control and wealth would vanish if too many people followed Immanuel.

Immanuel taught that he would return, and the Book of Revelation, 19:16, tells us he will have a new name when he returns. According to Hatonn the new name is "Sananda", a new status revealing his progress. He has not been idle for 2,000 years.

Immanuel did not die on the cross. There is historical evidence which shows that he recovered and traveled to India, living to an old age. It is only recently that this information has been uncovered and shared in the West. (Ref.: The Jesus Conspiracy, Jesus Lived In India.) Whether or not the Roman State Church was aware of Jesus' recovery is not publicly known.

It is the Truth that will set us free from all of the imposed lies of the past, and that day is coming.

VI. 1987 A.D., we reach the end of the Mayan Calendar and contact is established with Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn.

The "Word", or the Truth of the way things are is going forth from Hatonn and His Scribe. We are nearing the end of the millennium and most of the signs pointing towards the tribulation period and the end of our present system of things are in place. According to the biblical Book of Revelation, God will return with Sananda at the end of this period. God is Light, there will be no need for a Sun when He is present. He is 'Aton', the Central Sun of His Creation. Hatonn is Commander of the galactic fleet of space ships presently in our skies. He is in the fourth dimension in order to work more closely with us. In His higher aspects He is 'Aton'.

1 John 1:5:

"God is Light, and in Him is no darkness at all."

Revelation 21:23:

"And the city (New Jerusalem) had no need of the Sun, neither of the Moon, to shine in it; for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof."

It should now come as no surprise to you that this Sun God who travels with His Son, who has progressed to the status of Sananda, will, as He did in Ancient Babylon, be bringing a Tree of Life with Him.

Revelation 22: 1 & 2:

"And he showed me a pure river of Water of Life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb. [The real Age of Aquarius begins?]

"In the midst of the street of it [New Jerusalem] which has descended from heaven], and on either side of the river, was there the Tree of Life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations."

In my opinion, that prophesied "New Jerusalem" will actually be one of three things.

1. The Phoenix space ship, which will be in our skies and much closer to our Earth following the tribulation period.
2. A huge space platform which has been prepared in the space ship and is lowered to our Earth.
3. A beautiful city which is caused to be built on our Earth by God and through the activity of His people.

Because the prophet John, of the Book of Revelation, was viewing symbolic events, and because we now know, unequivocally, that God works with us and not for us, I am inclined to accept possibility #3. as the potential reality regarding "New Jerusalem". However, The Phoenix space ship will also be in our skies at some point and will look like a second Sun.

You already know that John's symbolic "New Jerusalem" cannot be lowered to or created on the site of the Old Jerusalem, because, according to John's prophecies, Old Jerusalem will be destroyed in two major earthquakes and the land where it now sits will be broken up into three parts (Rev.: 11:13 and 16:12-19). It is called by John: "Sodom and Egypt", the city "where our Lord was crucified" (Rev.: 11:8).

Sananda will not be returning to the site of Old Jerusalem, although God's two witnesses will warn its inhabitants for 1,260 days prior to the first major earthquake wherein a tenth part of the city will fall (Rev.: Chapter 11).

Sananda: There Shall Be No Lie Left Unexposed!

10/25/97 ESU "JESUS" SANANDA

Good afternoon, my scribe. I, Esu Immanuel "Jesus" Sananda, have come at this time that a much-needed message go forth.

Your environment is changing and, with each passing day, you will notice more and more outward signs of this change. Many resist the change and will refuse to see the clues all about them. These are the times prophesied some two thousand years past.

There shall be no lie left unexposed!

The heart of man will become as an open book for all to read. The quiet (behind the scenes) manipulators of those ones who crave power, control, and physical material are beginning to see that their games no longer work and that the whole world can see right through them. These ones need the cloak of secrecy in order to keep their "status" in society. This is to say that their ego demands the status and these ones are slaves to their ego-self.

Such was the fall of one called Lucifer ("the Lighted one"). As he continues to succumb to the pressures of his ego, he efforts to manipulate others to walk his path and thus justify his position or argument with his Creator — GOD!

You cannot be greater than He who created you! In the physical, you may become greater than your parents in some material way, but you can NEVER be more than Infinite Source. You CAN attain the level of a "leading-edge" awareness WITH Him, and therein is the background for the statement "I and my Father are one".

To hide in secrecy, due to shame of actions taken, is but to deny self-responsibility. If you are hiding, then you know that you have done something wrong. Yet, God knows you! You are not hiding from Him!

And, as your environment continues to shift upward in frequency, so too shall your physically-oriented brethren come to know the REAL you—as a result of a heightened perception of the interconnectedness between all things.

It is time to let go of the garbage and the pretense, for the days of pretending are but over. YOUR responsibility for YOUR own spiritual growth is becoming ever more apparent to all as more of you ones "grow up". Would you take on the blame because another has chosen to smoke cigarettes for many years and now has lung cancer? No, the "blame" and consequences fall squarely on the shoulders of the one choosing to chronically poison their vehicle in such a manner. THIS IS A TIME FOR HONESTLY CONFRONTING THYSELF!

Those of you who cannot accept the changes happening all around you, and who are embroiled deeply in the physical-material aspect of this experience, will find yourselves in an ever more difficult environment in which to survive.

To begin with, ones will no longer see you as somehow being helpless. Ones will see you, rightfully, as a fragment of Creator.

So when you try to make excuses for your actions or inactions, such will be seen for the ego fear-based responses (fear being the polar opposite of Joy/Love/GOD!) that they are, and there will be little-to-no sympathy to be found. Thus the ego-self will literally starve into submission, or the physical experience will expire due to the severe unbalanced condition.

This message is intended as a "heads-up" indicator to you who are seeking, so that you can know the mechanism by which peace shall be attained on your planet. When there can be no lie or manipulation or conspiracy, then there can be no war.

When you finally can see your brethren, animals, and plants with the eyes of a TRULY connected soul, you will see the beauty and magnificence of Creator in ALL things. You will not listen to anyone who speaks of destroying any part of it!

You ones are experiencing in truly wondrous times, for there are great insights to be experienced, and even greater growth to be achieved, as this transformation unfolds. Our purpose is to assist each of you with this process and to provide you with guidance when you have TRUE desire for same.

You may do that which you will with what is offered here. Our hope is that you will look beyond the words, and go within and connect for yourself, and experience the meaning and intent of each message. You will find that such is offered with great Love and Higher Understanding.

Your world is in great, great chaos and you are not being shown anywhere near the whole picture in your general media sources. This is in large part due to the fact that the illusionary facade of the "elite" is failing to fool you-the-people.

MANY are beginning to see through the lies—especially those of you who maintain selves in a high-frequency state. Thus, those who are responsible for manipulating (mind-controlling) you through such media conduits have had to provide ever more "artificial" "entertainment" for your consumption in the guise of your so-called news programs. In many respects, your "news" must be carefully manufactured, and even more carefully presented, to avoid having to tell you truth.

However, as more and more people draw upon the Courage to speak out, the truth of any situation cannot be contained. This is the TRUE meaning of the phrase "the power of the people" and it would be wise to remember that such is your birthright as a Lighted fragment of Creator Source. In this regard is there "safety in numbers" since the control tactics of the elite would-be-kings break down when enough stand in the Light of Truth and share that Truth. And as I said so many years ago, to those ones close to me at that time, who likewise battled with their fears of inadequacy or overwhelm, "Where two or more are gathered in My name, I am also there!"

The programming of the people has one great error and that is the fact that the God-force within can only be contained with the consent of the individual. When there comes, within the individual, a desire to understand and be free, then there is no programming, anywhere, that can contain the potential energy of that desire! To attempt to contain such desire defies the most fundamental Law of The Creation: "Achieve the wisdom of knowledge inasmuch as this will enable you to wisely follow the Laws of The Creation.”

This is the Power behind the phrase “the call compels the answer” and the controllers know their days are numbered as you Lighted ones wake up and ask, with heart desire, to be shown Truth, for those are powerful energies of inquiry set into motion, and such sincere questioning also then allows us (gives us permission in your free-will environment) to help you more in finding those answers you seek.

Meanwhile, the experience of being a puppet has its value, too, in the evolutionary cycles of the soul. The value comes from the experience of overcoming the “lie”. You must agree to be trapped in order to be trapped. Many of you enjoy the challenge of solving difficult puzzles and will, at some level, agree to become trapped. Again, there are NO victims, only volunteers.

With this said I, Esu Sananda, hope that you can see that there is no fear-mongering here and that I am simply pointing out the observable facts. For a great deal of your population, the fear of death is only surpassed by the fear of living! This is to say that many of you have been mentally conditioned (mind controlled) to worry about doing the “right” thing. So much so that you actually spend more time contemplating activity than actually DOING.

Your fears of doing the “wrong” thing cause you to procrastinate to the point of inaction. These are the subtle tactics of the “puppet masters” who are pulling your strings.

For those of you who are sitting out there wondering, “What can I do?” I say to you: go within and find within your Heart that which has great value to you in terms of inner fulfillment. Then take action while holding the inner Joy foremost within. From this position of True Power you can create universes, let alone move the mountains that seem to be in your way.

You limit yourselves; it is not God or some evil being somewhere who does so. You are, indeed, your own worst enemy, by far! Look within and cast out that which causes you worry (fear). There is nothing to worry about or fear when you TRULY understand WHO you are and acknowledge, WITH FEELING, your personal connection within to All That Is!

You only have to get quiet and find within that which your heart will guide you to, and then you will know with certainty that there is NOTHING to fear—EVER!

Look forward to the rebalancing-rebirthing process that is taking place at this time. It is what you came here to be a part of and experience. Your inner desire is in alignment with facing the challenges of this experience.

May you have the Eyes to see, the Ears to hear, and the Heart to understand that which is coming into your experience.

I am Esu Immanuel Sananda. Many refer to me as “Jesus”. The name matters not, for in time that too will fade. I come to honor my promise to your world and to my Father, that all of my responsibilities be met. With great Love, I place my blessing upon this message.

In Light and Love—Salu!

The group includes former FBI Special Agents, heads of CIA airlines and financial institutions, drug traffickers, Mafia families, and other spooks. The book, Defrauding America, is filled with facts and documentation; no conspiracy theories. A must-read to understand the cancerous extent of government corruption in the three branches of government and the obstacles facing Americans in defending themselves.

CREDIBILITY OF THE AUTHOR, THE BOOK, AND THE GROUP:

Diverse deep-cover background of Stich's group of deep-cover sources, Stich's background as federal investigator, the evidence generated from his aggressive 30 years of David v. Goliath battles to expose government corruption, hundreds of government documents, and reference to judicial and other government records, provide outstanding support. The author was a Navy pilot, an airline captain, and has appeared as guest and expert on over 2500 radio and television shows since 1978 in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Germany, and Holland.

BOOK REVIEWS:

Unclassified, the magazine of the Association of National Security Alumni: “It is required reading for anyone concerned with national security system abuses... This is a moving book by a man of integrity deeply affected by the injustice, criminality, and suffering he has seen and personally experienced over the past two decades.”

Nexus magazine: “This is a thoroughly researched and comprehensive book. I highly recommend the book as an all-time classic in its field.” L. Fletcher Prouty, author The Secret Team, and JFK-The CIA, Vietnam and the Plot to Assassinate John F. Kennedy: “Your book is great.” John Austin's HIS Features in Hollywood: “The most explosive book on the market.”

The group's data and documents on government corruption, in which they are either participated or observed, include:

- Decades of CIA drug trafficking into the United States, often with organized crime, later joined by the Drug Enforcement Administration, the military, and the National Security Council, aided and abetted by the coverup and disinformation tactics of government and non-government checks and balances.
- CIA looting of U.S. financial institutions, including the savings and loans, HUD, and other financial operations.
- The looting of Chapter 11 assets, turning many Americans who naively exercise this statutory protection into pampers. Heavily implicated in this corruption are federal judges, trustees, and law firms.
- Government-ordered “termination” of American POWs in Indochina, and supporting documents.
- Key role played by the CIA and Justice Department in the Pan Am 103 Lockerbie and TWA Flight 800 disasters.
- Other covert operations that have, or are, defrauding America, including October Surprise, Inslaw, BCCI, BNL, and Iran-Contra.
- Government retaliation against those seeking to report these activities, including assassinations, mysterious deaths, and the 30-year persecution of the author.
- Symbolic involvement in these activities by Congress, Department of Justice, federal judges, Supreme Court Justices, and much of the media.
- Details of the great harm suffered by Americans as a result of these and other government activities.
- Details of how the American public is kept uninformed of these activities.

TELEPHONE HOTLINE

805-822-0202

As an adjunct to CONTACT, the Telephone Hotline keeps you as informed as possible on current events and other important information that needs to get to our subscribers before our publishing date.

The message machine will answer after 2 rings if there are any new messages for that day, and after 4 rings if not. Thus daily callers can hang up after 2 rings and save toll charges if no new message has been recorded. If the Hotline does not answer your call, then that means there is currently no Hotline message.
