SATANISM: A Practical Guide To Witch Hunting

...Charles Manson—Sharon Tate—Roman Polanski—Anton LaVey...

5/18/94 #1 HATONN

I am urged to share some miserable, degrading and totally unthinkable truths with you. We have spoken on the Satanic processes of the "Monarch" Project, etc., in the past editions and through those routings we are asked to continue with more input on the subject. Since we wrote at length about this subject in SATAN'S DRUMMERS (soon to be reprinted as we are no longer interested in wresting the journals from George Green who holds them hostage) we will offer additions which have been sent to us in response to recent offerings. We have been sent, under (and I agree) plain wrapper, with little identification reference to the AUTHOR, but FROM THE AUTHOR, an article which appeared in publication in September of 1970. It was sent to Dr. Young with a cover letter dated March 13, 1994. We have held it until now where it is most appropriate to recent subjects being considered.

It may well seem strange to you readers, however, that we will also be offering a rather long document on the DESTRUCTION of Freemasonry. Why? Because most organizations begin and ones take up without realizing there is anything at all amiss with them. The "corner" Mason is a benevolent service-club participant. There is no way to realize that what is being actually offered is NOT what appears. The ones who really take the rituals and secrets seriously—KNOW THE DIFFERENCE. This is true of churches, doctrines of any kind which control people, as well as governments and enforcer agencies. However, so many of ALL OF THE ABOVE are based on the fundamental ritual secrecy and anti-goodness behavior of oaths and ritual expression that you need to be able to relate the two—even to the manifestos you claim to detest. These in turn, are based on the original PROTOCOLS of the anti-Christ. In other words, NOT ON A MAN CALLED JESUS—but the ones who live in constant movement toward total HUMAN physical control and soul destruction of individual human citizen. Each individual has full RIGHT to participate in any manner desired—however, YOU ALSO HAVE A RIGHT TO KNOW WHAT YOU ARE DOING AND A RESPONSIBILITY IN ACCEPTANCE BY SELF FOR THAT WHICH YOU PERPETUATE!

We are going to offer, with author's updated entries, an article entitled: SATANISM: A Practical Guide To Witch Hunting. Published in September 1970 in a journal called American Opinion.

REPORT ON DEFENDING OUR TAX EXEMPT WAGES

Dear Patriot,

I believe in Miracles. You would too if you had access to all of the information that has come across my desk from many different sources. It used to be hard to be an Investigative Journalist, but not any more. With the advent of the personal computers, modems, fax machines, cellular phones, UPS, the postal service and AT&T, information is pouring into this office faster than we can utilize it.

I used to barter information. If you had some bit of information I wanted I would find some information I had that you would want. We would then copy and exchange the information by fax or modem and both our banks of information would be richer.

Although I still do that on occasion, it is no longer necessary. Those who know, realize that I am not only interested in gathering information about the IRS, the FRB and the fraudulent acts of our Government in general, but that I am also redistributing it to as many as possible as quickly as possible; they are now sending me documents and other vital information just in case I don't have it. I thank you. All of you.

I had heard of the "Pink Papers", an unofficial intra-departmental report that used to circulate through the ranks of the employees of the IRS in the past, but had not seen them until recently. They were sent to me by an interested party. After reading them, I decided to see if they were still in circulation among the employees of the IRS. I made a few telephone calls to friends on the inside. They denied their existence. A few days later the "Pink Papers" were anonymously sent to me with a note attached stating that the "Pink Papers" were available only among the rebels of the Service.

I thank Patrick E. Rudd for the first copy, and the anonymous donor for the copy I am making available to you.

Read it. Use it for research. Understand it. Use it in your defense. Enjoy.

Sincerely,
Albert E. Carter

Due to the increasing desire for revenue, our people inside the Internal Revenue Service are being advised to file tax returns for wages. This under the guise that it doesn't look equitable if we don't pay taxes on our wages, yet actively collect them from the common people. This situation is becoming more acute due to the recent unauthorized mention on National News that warnings have gone out to IRS agents who have not been filing. We have spent so much time trying to convince the general public they must pay taxes, apparently our supervisorial hierarchy has decided we must lose the one perk we get for being a parish in this society. Recognize that many of them file, solely for purposes of making themselves politically acceptable in their aspirations for higher public offices.

Our own Department Counsel (attorney) seems to be leaning toward making payment of taxes a requirement for new IRS employees, and was only minimally helpful in preparing this report. But as there are those of us who do not aspire politically nor wish to give up our perks and pay taxes on wages like common people, we have provided this in-house report, which covers basics of just WHY you don't have to file if your income is primarily wages, WHY it is not a crime, and the basic defenses for your personal lawyer.

While I doubt anyone in the supervisorial hierarchy will risk exposure of our perks and this information to the common people, we must be prepared to protect ourselves from our own organization. With that in mind, and with some help from our legal advisors, we have prepared this unofficial intra-departmental report.

INTRODUCTION:

There are both Civil and Criminal sanctions for violations of the Internal Revenue Code, which is found in Title 26, U.S. Code. We will address the criminal side, but the elements of criminal tax evasion and civil tax fraud are identical, (See Gray v Cir., C.A.6 1983, 708 F 2d 2243, cert denied 104 S. Ct. 1709) and we must remember, that government invocation of the Civil penalty does not bar a criminal proceeding for the imposition of fines or imprisonment. (Spies v U.S. N.Y. 1943, 63 S. Ct. 364, 317 U.S. 492) Among the more common Criminal offenses for which an individual might be charged are:

1. Aiding, abetting, counseling, commanding, inducing or procuring commission of an offense against the United States (Title 18

U.S.C. sect 2). This includes one who contributes consciously to the commission of an offense against the provisions of the code. (See 47B CJS sec 1255 and note 33.)

2. Any person who willfully attempts to evade or defeat a tax is guilty of a felony. (Title 26 U.S.C. sec 7201. See 47B CJS 1256 at note 43.)

3. Any person who willfully fails to keep records required for Federal income tax purposes may be providing the Government with an indictable offense. (Title 26 U.S.C. 7203 & 5603.)

4. Any person required to file an income tax return who willfully fails to do so is guilty of a misdemeanor. (Title 26 U.S.C. sec 7203; Spies v U.S. N.Y. 1943, 63 S. Ct. 364. See 47B CJS 1258 note 86.)

5. Any person who willfully fails to pay a tax required by law is guilty of a misdemeanor. (Title 26 U.S.C. sec 7203) (Sansone v U.S. Mo. 1965, 85 S. Ct. 1004, 380 U.S. 343.)

6. Any person who willfully supplies false or fraudulent information to his employer with respect to the withholding tax requirements is guilty of a punishable offense. (Title 26 U.S.C. sec 7205 as amended.) Economic Recovery Act of 1981 increased the penalty to $1,000. The Excuse that Fed. Reserve notes are not dollars was a valid defense. (U.S. v Tissi, C.A. Mo 1979, 601 F2d 372.)

If you would like a copy of this report please send $1.00 plus a self-addressed, stamped envelope (with $0.98 postage) to CONTACT (see Back Page for complete address). See p.11 for Commander's introduction to this important document.

7. Any person who willfully makes and subscribes any return, statement, or other document which declares that it is made under the penalties of perjury and which such person does not believe to be true and correct as to every material matter is guilty of a felony. (Title 26 U.S.C. 7206 [1]. See 47B CJS sec 1261 note 44.)

8. Any person who willfully aids or assists in, or procures, counsels, or advises the preparation or presentation under, or in connection with any matter arising under the Internal Revenue laws, or a return, affidavit, claim or other document, which is fraudulent or is false as to any information whether or not such falsity or fraud is with the knowledge or consent of the person authorized or required to represent such return, affidavit, claim or document is guilty of a felony. (Title 26 U.S.C. sec 7206 [2]. See 47B CJS sec 1262.)

9. A person who attempts to interfere forcibly with the administration of the Internal Revenue laws by a federal office or employer acting in an official capacity is guilty of a punishable offense. (Title 26 U.S.C. Sec 7212 [a]. See 47B CJS sec 1265.)

10. Revenue officers or employees who commit specific acts or omissions constitute criminal offenses. (See 47B CJS sec 1271.)

11. Taxation of Firearms, Bombs, Stills, etc. are incorporated in the tax code. (Firearms; Title 26 U.S.C. sec 5871, 5861, 5811, 5812, 5852, 5841.) (Bombs Title 26 U.S.C. 5845, 5861.) (Stills & Alcohol Title 26 U.S.C. 5601 et seq.)

The most common criminal charges we as individuals and employees of the IRS might face from those attempting to tax our wages are "Tax Evasion", and "Willful failure to file".

DEFENSE OUTLINE SUMMARY:

1. Income is not specifically defined in our manuals nor is it defined in I.R.S. Code. Congress did not define it.

2. Income has always been defined by the courts as to exclude wages.

3. Therefore persons whose income (NOT WAGES) in 1992 filing singly with less than $5,900 need not file a return or pay a tax.

4. If an individual has earned dividends, interest from bank accounts, or other moneys which are less than the minimum established, ($5,900 for one filing separately and under 65 in 1992,) he/she need not file, nor pay any tax. He/she is exempt, as wages need not be counted.

5. Make sure your supervisor is aware of the implications to his advancement if he reports you and you are forced to make this information public.

6. Make sure the prosecutor and your lawyer are both aware of the implications should the case not be not proessed, as this information will become public, and the Assistant U.S. Attorney probably won't be in line for any kind of promotion for endangering the proverbial "goose" when you are found not guilty, and the information goes public to a media already promoting the tax reform.

7. If you are actually tried Criminally, stress to the Judge your reliance on the U.S. Supreme Court in not filing or paying taxes on WAGES, and cite either the Sullivan, Bishop or Check case, which states that willfulness is negated if you rely on a previous decision of the U.S. Supreme Court.

8. If you are tried Civilly, have your lawyer move for "Summary Judgment", using the citations that follow or others of which he may be aware.

TAX LAW ORIGINS AND AUTHORITY

Congress has had power to lay and collect income taxes from the time of the adoption of the Constitution, (Brushaber v Union Pac. R.R.Co. N.Y. 1916, 36 S. Ct. 236, 240 U.S.1) This power was subject to the requirement that direct taxes be apportioned among the several states according to population. (Pollock v Farmers Loan and Trust Co. N.Y. 1895, 125 S. Ct. 673, 157 U.S. 429.) The adoption of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution, effective Feb. 25, 1913, giving Congress power to:

"lay and collect taxes on income, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several states, and without regard to any census or enumeration." (Evans v Gore, Ky 1920, 40 S. Ct. 550, 253 U.S. 245.) (Kasey v C.I.R., C.A. 9 1972, 457 F2d 369 Certiorari denied 93 S. Ct. 197, 409 U.S. 869.)

It did not limit or expand the power of Congress to tax under the Constitutional provisions authorizing Congress to lay and collect taxes but instead merely provided for taxation of income without apportionment. (Brushaber v Union Pac. R.R.Co. N.Y. 1916, 36 S. Ct. 236, 240 U.S. 1, 60 L.Ed 493; Simmons v U.S., CA Md 1962 308 F2d 160. Pledger v CIR CA 5, 1981, 641 F2d 287, Certiorari denied 102 S. Ct. 504, 454, U.S. 964, 70 L.Ed 2d 379.)

The Brushaber court ruled that the 16th Amendment separated the source (capital) from the income (profit) permitting the collection of an indirect (excise) tax on income, but leaving the source (wages, salary, compensation, fees for service, first time commissions and capital) untouched and free of tax. If these things were to be taxes, it could only be construed as a direct tax, unquestionably in violation of the Constitution, making the entire tax on income void.

There still remains the question as to what is Constitutionally allowable as "income" which can be taxed, as Congress is not Constitutionally free to define "income" in any way it chooses. (Simpson v U.S. D.C. Iowa 1976, 423 F.Supp 720, reversed on other grounds, Prescott v Commissioner of Internal Revenue C.A. 561 F2d 1287.) Further, the labels used do not determine the extent of the taxing power. (Simmons v U.S. C.A. Md 1962, 308 F2d 160—Richardson v U.S. C.A. Mich 1961 294 F2d 593 Certiorari denied 82 S. Ct. 640, 360 U.S. 802, 7 L.Ed. 2d 549.)

To reiterate, the tax authorized under the original U.S. Constitution has not changed except as to separate the source of "income" from the income itself, permitting the collection of an indirect (excise) tax on income, by leaving the source (wages, salaries, fees for service, and first time commissions) free of tax (Brushaber supra) despite how some politicians interpret the 16th Amendment.

(Note: The Brushaber court referred to an earlier case, Pollock v Farmers Loan and Trust Co., 158 U.S. 601 (1895) which declared the Income Tax Act of 1894 unconstitutional, as it's effect would have been to leave the burden of the tax to be born by professions, trades, employments, or vacations; and in that way, what was intended as a tax on capital would remain, in substance, a tax on occupations and labor. This result, the court held, could NOT have been contemplated by Congress.)

(Note: There are also the questions as to both the ratification and the constitutionality of the 16th Amendment, but neither has been ruled on by the U.S. Supreme Court and why clutter up a good defense?)

Since the general term "income" is not defined in the Internal Revenue Code, (U.S. v Ballard 535 F2d 400 [1976]) and the U.S. Supreme Court has ruled the Congress may not, by any definition it may adopt, conclude the matter, since it cannot by legislation alter the Constitution, from which alone it derives its power can be lawfully exercised. (Eisner v Macomber, 252 U.S. 1889 [1920].)

Since the Rules contained in the I.R.S. Manual, even if codified in the code of Federal Regulations, do not have the force and effect of law (U.S. v Horne, C.A. Me. 1983, 714 F2d 206) and the power to promulgate regulations does not include the power to broaden or narrow the meaning of statutory provisions beyond what Congress intended, (Abbot, Proctor & Paine v U.S. 1965 344 F2d 333, 170 Ct. Cl 408) and regulations cannot do what Congress itself is without power to do; they must conform to the Constitution. (C.I.R. v Van Vorst, C.C.A. 1932, 59 F2d 677.)

Since the ultimate appellate court is the U.S. Supreme Court, we must look to them for a definite answer on the question of conformance and affirmation of our little secret that wages are not classified as income which can be taxed.

The Court has recognized that... "it becomes essential to distinguish between what is, and what is not, 'income' "...Eisner v Macomber, 252 U.S. 189 (1920) and determined the... "income" as used in the statute should be given a meaning so as not to include everything that comes in, the true function of the words "gains" and "profits" is to limit the meaning of the word "income". (So. Pacific v Lowe, 238 F 847. U.S. Dist. Ct. S.D. N.Y. 1917; 247 U.S. 30 [1918].)

The Court determined that... "the definition of income approved by the Court is: The gain derived from capital, from labor, or from both combined, provided it be understood to include profits gained through sale or conversion of capital assets." (Eisner Supra.)

"Income within the meaning of the 16th Amendment and the Revenue Act means, gain...and in such connection gain means, profit... proceeding from property severed from capital, however invested or employed and coming in, received or drawn by the taxpayer for his separate use, benefit and disposal." (Staples v U.S. 21 F.Supp 737. U.S. Dist Ct. ED PA, 1937.)

In the case of Lucas v Earl, 281 U.S. 111 (1930), the U.S. Supreme Court stated unambiguously that... "The claim that salaries, wages, and compensation for personal services are to be taxed as an entirety and therefore must be returned by the individual who has performed the services which produce the gain is without support either in the language of the Act or in the decisions of the courts construing it. Not only this, but it is directly opposed to provisions of the Act and to regulations of the U.S. Treasury Dept. which either prescribes or permit that compensation for personal services be not taxed as an entirety and be not returned by the individual performing the services. It is to be noted that by the language of the Act it is not salaries, wages or compensation for personal services that are to be included in gains, profits and income DERIVED from salaries, wages or compensation for personal service."

The Court ruled similarly in Goodrich v Edwards, 255 U.S. 527 (1921) and in 1969, the Court ruled in Connor v U.S. 303 F Supp 1187, that... "whatever may constitute income, therefore must have the essential feature of gain to the recipient. This was true when the 16th Amendment became effective, it was true at the time of Eisner v Macomber Supra, it was true under Sect 22 (a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1938, and it is likewise true under Sect 61 (a) of the I.R.S. Code of 1954. If there is not gain there is not income... Congress has taxed INCOME and not compensation."

"...one does not derive income by rendering services and charging for them." (Edwards v Keith, 231 F111, 1916.)

Even at the State level, we find courts following the lead of the U.S. Supreme Court... "There is a clear distinction between profit and wages or compensation for labor. Compensation for labor cannot be regarded as profit within the meaning of the law." (Oliver v Halstead, 196 VA 992; 86 S.E. 2d 858, 1955.)

and:
"reasonable compensation for labor or services rendered is not profit." (Lauderdale Cemetery Assoc. v Matthews, 345 PA. 239; 47 A. 2d 277, 280, 1946.)

Since the above cases are not the undisputable law with respect to what is or is not income, we find the word income does not mean all monies that come into the possession of an individual, but profit or gain FROM the money one takes in, such as interest, stock dividends, profit from an employee's labor, but not from an individual's wages, which are compensation for his labor. This means that the average person in America, who has no large investments or riches upon which he receives interest, dividends, etc., in excess of the amounts listed above (1992) but merely works for wages, has income insufficient in amount to be required to file a tax return.

HANDLING A JURY TRIAL:

While you might be better off with bench trial, which may never be tried due to the nature of the suit, there may be a time when you are tried by jury. Even if you get a jury trial that is outraged by an agent not paying taxes you cannot be condemned. Both Tax Evasion and Failure to File require "willfulness". Again we look to the U.S. Supreme Court, and find that "The requirement of an offense committed willfully is not met, therefore, if a taxpayer has relied in good faith upon a prior decision of the court." (U.S. v Bishop, 412 U.S. 346, 1973 at 2017, 93 S. Ct. 2008, and U.S. v Sullivan, 274 U.S. 259, 263-264.)

Since any reasonably knowledgeable and intelligent person filing a return, invoking this argument MUST rely on U.S. Supreme Court's interpretation of "income" that person when brought into court may rely on the decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court to negate the element of "willfulness". Make sure those jury instructions are made to the jury, and bring them up in testimony if you like. As if this was not enough, any question in a juror's mind can be swayed in your favor with this citation:

"Statutes levying taxes should be construed in case of doubt, against the Government and in favor of the citizen." (Miller v Gearing 258 F 225.)

IF HANDLING YOUR OWN DEFENSE:

Make sure to read 47B C.J.S. Section 1283 among other sources regarding parameters of jury instructions.

INITIAL DEFENSE:

1. Determine what returns you are being charged with evading or not filing, as "Income tax liability for any one year constitutes a single cause of action" (Lewis v Reynolds, 284 U.S. 281.)

2. Determine whether they are beyond a statute of limitations to sue since Congress has consented to a defense to which in effect is a statute of limitations, (Lucia v U.S. C.A. Tex. 1973, 474 F2d 565) and under the Code, (Title 26 USCA sect 6502) a suit is barred when not brought within the statutory limitation period, and move to dismiss any counts which are past the statute of limitations.

3. Refuse to produce anything the government does not already have on us from payroll. We may refuse any I.R.S. Summons not judicially enforced, as long as the attack is in good faith the statute we usually refer to (Title 26 USC 7210) which prescribes criminal punishment for anyone refusing to obey an Internal Revenue summons for production records, was addressed by the U.S. Supreme Court, in Reisman v Caplink, 375 U.S. 440. The court stated:

"Non compliance is not subject to prosecution thereunder, when the summons is attacked in good faith." And by the same token, it seems that one who makes a good faith challenge to specific questions on a 1040 tax return is not subject to successful prosecution."

The courts have also stated that... "Broad Discretions given tax officers with regard to investigations, is for legitimate tax investigations and is not a license for official harassment of the citizenry." (U.S. v Cutter, 374 F Supp 1065.)

While we are insiders and not merely citizenry, and will feel heat at work, we are still citizens, and any prejudice or pressure put on us can be handled. They cannot "read our rights" while our supervisors are "talking to us" as enumerated in the Mathis Decision, No 726, May 6, 1938, 3 910 S Winterhaven FL. If no rights are given us then we move to suppress the evidence gathered through conversation.

4. Prepare motion to dismiss, using this document as reference.

5. Prepare requests for Jury instructions or requests for findings of fact and rulings of law.

6. Make sure the submitted Jury instructions contain what you want to argue in front of the Jury. (See U.S. v Watkind, Fed Case No 16.649 (3 Cranch, CC 441 U.S. 1829) as... "Counsel will not be permitted to argue before a jury questions of law not involved in the instructions asked and submitted to the court."

DISCUSSION OF SPECIFIC CHARGES AND CURRENT LAW:

Under provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, (Title 26 USCA Sec 7201), any person who willfully attempts to evade or defeat a tax is guilty of a felony (See notes 43 at C.J.S. 1256),

ELEMENTS:

The essential elements of the offense are:

a) Willfulness, (U.S. v Garbor, C.A. FL. 1979, 607 F2d 92) means a voluntary intentional violation of a known legal duty (See 47B CJS 1256 note 45) which may be shown through consistent patterns of not reporting large amounts of income. (See 47B CHS 1256 note 46) a misunderstanding is not sufficient. So while intent is a necessary element of the statutory offense, (See 47B CJS 1256 Note 48) there is no requirement of a showing of evil motive beyond a specific intent to violate the law. (See 47B CJS 1256 Note 49.)

b) The existence of a tax deficiency.

c) An affirmative act constituting an evasion or attempted evasion of a tax. (An intent to evade taxes is the equivalent of an intent to defraud the government. (U.W. v Miller, C.A. Cal 1976 545 F2d 1204, Certiorari denied 97 S. Ct. 1549, 430 U.S. 930.)

Generally, conduct which is likely to mislead or conceal is sufficient to raise an inference of an affirmative willful attempt, such as is required to constitute the offense of attempt to evade or defeat tax (See 47B CJS Sec 1256 att Note 67), and if the tax evasion motive plays any part in the conduct of the taxpayer, the offense may be made out even though such conduct may also serve other purposes, such as the concealment of other crime (CJS Supra at Note 68). Any affirmative act which the taxpayer might do where the effect and reasonable purpose would be to evade or defeat the tax will constitute the offense (CJS Supra at Note 69).

The filing of a false return is an independent crime and also one aspect of the more comprehensive offense considered here (CJS Supra at Note 70), and the crime is complete when a fraudulent is knowingly and willfully filed with intent to evade and defeat part or all of the tax (CJS Supra at Note 71). Where the necessary intention is present, the offense may be committed not only by the filing of a false original return (CJS Supra at Note 72), but also by the filing of false amended returns, proofs, or affidavit, even though such instruments are not required to be filed (CJS Supra at Note 73). The crime may be committed by taking fraudulent deduction (CJS Supra at Note 74), as well as by fraudulently failing to report income received (CJS Supra at Note 75.) When no wagering excise tax return has been willfully attempting to evade or defeat the tax, notwithstanding fact that wagering taxes may be due and owing (CJS Supra at Note 75.5).

The word "willfully" when used in the Revenue Code which renders certain acts criminal, has the same meaning in the felony provisions as it does in the misdemeanor provisions. (47B CJS sect 1254 at Note 23). This word as used in the Code's criminal provisions connotes a voluntary and intentional violation of a known legal duty ([47B CJS 1254 at note 24] at Note 25) and is not equated with mere carelessness or recklessness (U.S. v Swanson C.A. Iowa 1975, 509 F 2d 1205.) Even gross negligence is not sufficient to establish willfulness (47B CJS 1254 at Note 27). The willful requirement is not met if the defendant has relied on good faith on a prior decision of the U.S. Supreme Court (47B CJS 1254 at Note 28).

I.R.S. statutory offenses, where the law contains the words, "with intent to evade", the intent is material to the offense. (U.S. v Buzzo, Mich. 18773, 18 Wall. 125, 21 L.Ed 418.)

DEFENSES:

A) The offense is not committed unless the taxpayer has actual knowledge of the existence of the obligation and a wrongful intent to evade it. (47B CJS 1256 at Note 50.)

B) The requirement of willfulness is not met if a taxpayer has relied in "good faith" on a prior decision of the U.S. Supreme Court (47B CJS 1256 at Note 51).

C) A persons mistaken belief that his method of recording income is proper is a defense (47B CJS 12566 at Note 52).

D) Reliance on the advice of counsel in a tax evasion case is not a complete defense, but only a circumstance indicating good faith which may be considered on the issue of willfulness (47B CJS 12566 at Note 55). Essential to the claim of reliance on counsel is a showing that the reliance be in good faith, and that the advice be obtained after full disclosure of all the facts to which the advice pertains (47B CJS 1256 at Note 56). There must also be a showing that the taxpayer actually relied on the advice, believing it to be correct (47B CJS 1256 at Note 57).

E) A tax return is not criminally fraudulent simply because it is erroneous; willfulness is an essential element of crime of income tax evasion. (U.S. v Garner, C.A. FL 1979, 607 F 2d 92.)

F) It is not an offense for the taxpayer so to handle his affairs, as to avoid or reduce tax liability, provided his acts are legal. Continental Oil Co. v Jones, D.C. Kohl 1939, 26 F. Supp 694, affirmed 113 F2d 557, Certiorari denied 61 S. Ct. 64, 34 U.S. 687.

G) Good faith listing of three billion dependents on his W-4 was ruled proper. U.S. v Snider, 502 F 2d 645, (1974).

UNACCEPTABLE DEFENSES:

A) It is no excuse that defendant had kept no books, disclosing his income and expenses (U.S. v Zimmerman, C. Ac III 1940, 108 F2d 370), or that the income in question was derived from unlawful sources. (47B CJS 1256 at Note 54.)

B) Merely aggravating and daring the government to enforce the code does not create immunity from, or constitute a defense to prosecution. (U.S. v Stout, C.A. III 1979, 601 F2d 325, Certiorari denied 100 S. Ct. 481, 444 U.S. 979.)

C) Excuse that Federal Reserve Notes are not dollars was not a valid defense. (U.S. v Tissi, C.A. Mo 1979, 601 F2d 372.)

TAX EVASION VERSUS WILLFUL FAILURE TO FILE:

The felony of attempting to evade or defeat a tax may include one or several of other offenses against the Code (47B CJS 1256 at Note 63), the misdemeanor of failure to pay the tax. The difference is that an attempt to evade or defeat a tax involves some commission of some affirmative act in ADDITION to willful omission. (Sansone v U.S. Mo 1965, 85 S. Ct. 1004, 380 U.S. 343.) (Spies infra.)

WILLFUL FAILURE TO FILE:

Any person required to file an income tax return who willfully fails to do so is guilty of a misdemeanor. (Title 26, sec 7203; Spies v U.S. N.Y. 1943, 63 S. Ct. 364.) (See 47B CJS 1258 at note 86.)

THE ELEMENTS THE GOVERNMENT MUST PROVE ARE:

1. Defendant failed to file a return. (47B CJS 1258 at Note 89.)

2. He must be a person required to make a return. (47B CJS 1258 at Note 93.)

3. He must have done so willfully. (47B CJS 1258 at Note 90.)

The word "willfully" in the Statute means a voluntary, intentional violation of the known legal duty to file a return (47B CJS 1258 at Note 5), and the taxpayer's motives in failing to file such are immaterial and irrelevant. (47B CJS 1258 at Note 96.) Some cases have construed the statute as not requiring an intent to defraud the government or other similar bad purpose or evil motive (47B CJS 1258 at Note 97), while other cases have held that Failure to file a return "willfully" means that the act must have been activated by a bad purpose or evil motive. (47B CJS 1258 at Note 98.)

Willfulness means a voluntary intentional violation of a known legal duty (47B CJS 1256 at Note 45) which may be shown through consistent patterns of not reporting large amounts of income.

An act may be done knowingly and intentionally whether as the immediate act of the person charged, or his authorized act through an employee. (Prather v U.S. 1845, 9 App. D.C. 82.)

DEFENSES:

He must have actual knowledge of the existence of the obligation, and a wrongful intent to evade it. (47B CJS 1258 at Note 91.)

Defendant's good faith belief that he need not file his tax return (47B CJS 1258 at Note 99), or a good faith misunderstanding or an inadvertence on his part (47B CJS 1258 at Note 91) has been said to constitute justification for failure to file a return.

It has been held that a taxpayer, who in good faith, declines to acknowledge his income on an income tax return, asserting instead his Fifth Amendment privilege, has been held not guilty of willfully failing to file a tax return, since he sincerely believes that such 5th Amendment filing is not legal. (47B CJS 1258 at Note 77.)

Tax forms which do not contain financial information upon which the taxpayers liability can be determined, (47B CJS 1258 at Note 93) such as forms containing only one's name, address, social security numbers, and occupation (47B CJS 1258 at Note 94), do not constitute "returns" within the meaning of the statute.

UNACCEPTABLE DEFENSES:

a) A taxpayer is not excused from the offense because he had not previously been prompted or notified of his duty to file a return (47B CJS 1258 at Note 2), because he disagreed with the law (47B CJS 1258 at Note 3), or because he believed in good faith that the statute (47B CJS 1258 at Note 4) or the Federal Reserve System (47B CJS 1258 at Note 5) was unconstitutional.

b) Defendant's fear of self incrimination for previous violations of the Code is no defense to a charge of failure to file a return. (47B CJS 1258 at Note 6.)

Subsequent conduct of the defendant cannot relieve him from criminal liability for failure to file a return. (47B CJS 1258 at Note 8.) It is no defense that the defendant intended to file a return and to pay his taxes in the future (47B CJS 1258 at Note 9), and even the fact that the taxpayer voluntarily filed delinquent returns does not preclude prosecution. (47B CJS 1258 at Note 10.)

c) Compromise of Civil liability. The prosecution is not barred by a compromise of the civil liability. (47B CJS 1258 at Note 11.)

CONCLUSION:

As you can see, by negating wages as income, only profit or gain need to be considered, making most persons ineligible for filing. There is no willful act, no omission, no intent, and no income...hence no case for the prosecution and even if confronted by an angry jury, by relying on the U.S. Supreme Court decisions, YOU MUST BE ACQUITTED AS A MATTER OF LAW. If you are not acquitted, your lawyer will ask for a Judgment not withstanding the verdict, and/or appeal, from which you will be eventually found not guilty.

End.

Fate of Flight KAL 007

Passengers And Crew

Held In Soviet Union

Editor's note: This week CONTACT has received the following three communications, all relating different aspects of the fate of KAL-007's crew and passengers. Commander Hatonn has long ago described what happened in great detail, but the following are shared here because they act both as verification of what Commander said (see Editor's note under map) and as challenging update on details of the matter.

#1. (The following letter was received from: Mr. Jack T. Shindler, Executive Vice President, The Thomas Companies, 3890 Swenson, #924, Las Vegas, NV 89119.)

Dear Sirs,

We have received reports from Ukrainian refugees in Canada that KAL 007 did not crash in 1983 but is held captive in Siberia. The 269 passengers are held at five camps by the Soviets including the Korean pilots. You may call 1-800-263-8160 to confirm this information. Please do something to aid them.

Congressman McDonald is thin but well. The Russians also hold 175 U.S. Officers at Sverdlovsk in the Urals.

Thank you for the May 10, 1994 issue [of CONTACT]. McDonald's prison code name is "General Birch". His internment camp is 50 miles south of Sverdlovsk. The cream of POWs from Korea, Vietnam and Cambodia were sent there. Nixon was taken off KAL 007 at Anchorage by the CIA. McDonald authored a House Bill to take the U.S. out of the U.N.

Very truly, Jack Shindler

PS: On Station KLAV Las Vegas 5/13/94, Ted Gunderson, FBI agent in charge of LA office, announced that the White House runs a child white slave auction out of neaby Indian Springs Air Force Base, Nevada, for Arab sheiks who buy boys and girls for $10-50,000, then take off in their jets for Arabia, Pakistan, etc. Boys Town [NE] and Covenant House (NYC) provide the children. There is another auction in Houston, Texas.

Re: (1) Congressman McDonald and the alleged shoot-down of KAL Flight 007
(2) Arrow Air, Inc. DC-8 crash at Gander, Newfoundland
(3) Pan Am Flight 103 crash over Lockerbee, Scotland
(4) United States Government Complicity in a multi-facted cover-up
(5) Trading with the Enemy Act of October 6, 1917 [12 USCS 95a & 95b]

Dear Senator Gorton and Senator Murray:

Taking the above in their numbered sequence of order, I am in receipt of a FAX communication from a Mr. Jack T. Shindler, Vice President of the Thomas Company, 3890 Swenson, Suite #924, Las Vegas, Nevada 89119, which purports that he has received reports from Ukrainian refugees in Canada, that Korean Airlines Flight 007 did not crash in 1983 as reported by the media, but was instead forced to make a "water landing" and that the 269 passengers, the Korean pilots, and United States Congressman Larry McDonald are being held captive in a Siberia prison camp. The FAX report indicated that Congressman McDonald is thin, but well, and goes on the indicate that some 175 other persons, primarily United States military officers, are also being held in this camp.

I received the FAX communication on January 19, 1994, but needed to acquire further data to confirm the report. Now, after reviewing other information concerning evidence to suggest that the FAX communication I received in January is genuine. And if true, there is not one United States Senator or Representative, or American Citizen, that could not be subjected to the same fate, either through some ill-conceived covert operation gone wrong, or outright blackmail.

#3. (The following fax was received from the American Patriot Fax Network, It also contains the map and quotations from Mr. John R. Prukop, plus some recent comments on the subject from Commander Hatonn in CONTACT. For the complete story, please see p.40 of the 5/10/94 issue of CONTACT.)

RESCUE MISSION

5/4/94 #1 HATONN

NOTABLE INFORMATION

"Before we go one breath further, I WANT YOU TO REMEMBER SOMETHING: THE DOWNING OF KAL-007 WAS SET UP BY "SAN LUIS OBISPO CONNECTION" WILLIAM P. CLARK AND HIS BUDDIES. HOW LONG WILL YOU ALLOW THIS TYPE OF ATROCITY TO CONTINUE ON AND ON AND ON WHILE THE MEDIA AND CORRUPTION-ORIENTED CRIMINALS RUN YOU AND YOUR NATION?" —Hatonn

The following is a letter to Senator Slade Gorton and Senator Patty Murray FROM: John R. Prukop, Executive Director, Citizens for a Constitutional Washington, 11910-c Meridian East, #142, Puyallup, Washington, Postal Zone: 98373/TDC. Phone: (206) 840-8071; FAX (206) 840-8074."

"Where is he now? I have seen the CIA confidential document showing Parker's ONI and CIA status, which is contained within the book Defrauding America. Trenton Parker stated that Congressman McDonald let it be known to the press that he was going to reveal the startling evidence upon his return from the Far East, showing that the CIA and certain high-ranking public officials were part of an operation responsible for drug trafficking into the United States since 1963 from Southeast Asia. Of course, McDonald boarded KAL Flight 007 for his trip to the Far East, that was allegedly shot down by the Soviets. We now understand that the alleged "shoot down" was a fake, orchestrated by highly placed government officials both in the United States and the Soviet Union! [H: Indeed, BOTH!]"

 RESCUE THEM. SNEAK

Editor's note: For background information on the remarkable deception that is known as the "downing" of Korean Airlines Flight 007, please see JOURNAL #44, pages 50-52 and JOURNAL #51, pages 80-86; see Back Page for ordering information. In JOURNAL #44, in a writing for January 17, 1992, Commander Hatonn said, "It might be interesting to note that the facts SORT OF LEAKED OUT right from, of all places, Jerusalem. So what did happen to that plane? It was hit and damaged by two rockets launched by the Soviet pilot, Col. Osipovich, from his SU-15 fighter plane; the Korean Boeing 747 did not go out of control of its pilots. The airliner had a very nice, soft landing near Sakhalin--an island occupied by the Soviet Union and which the Japanese and Soviets have both claimed, at least since the end of World War II. Begins to get sticky, doesn't it? Japan?..."

THE PHOTON ZONE

Truth Despite Confusions

5/16/94 #2 HATONN

THE PHOTON ZONE:
EARTH'S FUTURE BRIGHTENS
by Robert Stanley

The following arrived on a desk here without enough reference material to give a reasonable reference. However, I will make note that it comes from a "UFO" publication [UNICUS] which states that it is "The magazine for earthbound extraterrestrials". That, in itself, is enough to cause me to not pay attention but there has been so much fun and games about the "Photon Belt" as to suggest a need for everything you can get because in the "humor" and false information often lays a lot of truth. I am, however, sad to say that in the study of "metaphysics" is often found the most impressive mass of NON-INFORMATION or B.S. arising from your planet. At any rate, we share this with you:

[QUOTING:]

Many of us who study metaphysics are always hearing about the future shift of Earth's densities or dimensions. Well, how about some logical food for thought such as the little known or understood "Photon Band". No, it's not the latest New Age music group; it was discovered in outer space by satellite-born instruments back in 1961. It has also been called the Manasic Ring, which is a Sanskrit word meaning the faculty of mental perception that receives impressions from the senses and transmits them to the Atman or Soul. Our solar system enters this area of our Galaxy every 11,000 years and then passes through for 2,000 years while completing its 26,000 year Galactic orbit. Described as a cloud of photons that rotate at a 90 degree angle to our horizontal orbit, this is a little known or understood region of our Milky Way Galaxy. [H: Wow, I suggest that this is an even less understood subject—by this author.] These excess photons are being emitted from the center of our Galaxy, which is either a very large star or a super powerful black hole. Both of these generate what are called spiral jets from their polar areas. Pictures are available of other Galaxies such as Centarus A [H: Say what??], also known as NGC5128, that will give you some idea what we might look like from a distance. It has a denser spiral of star clusters in the central area, while also having a more circular glow or halo surrounding it.

For those of you that are unfamiliar with the nature of a photon, it is the quantum of electromagnetic energy generally regarded as a discrete particle with zero mass, no electric charge, and an indefinitely long lifetime. It is what we see in our night sky, emitted eons ago by a star that may or may not even exist, like a fossil made of light. Also, there are a variety of photons in the Universe that range from the super powerful gamma-ray or ultra-violet pho-tons, to the less powerful x-ray or infra-red photons. Almost everything around us produces infra-red photons, which don't contain much electric current. According to physicist Paul Adrian Maurice Dirac, each type of particle has its counter- or anti-particle. In 1932, Carl David discovered an anti-electron and called it a positron. Later, in 1956, the anti-proton and anti-neutron were discovered. These various particles collide and the reverse charges cancel each other and the total mass of the pairs formed is converted into energy in the form of photons. This reaction offers an unprecedented powerful source of clean energy.

The photon is about to become our newly enlightened environment. In 1962, we entered the influence of the outer edge of the photon belt, which I believe astronaut John Glenn encountered while orbiting the Earth and referred to as fireflies. It was also a time of great UFO activity. According to scientists, if the Earth was to enter the photon belt first, the sky will appear to be on fire, but don't panic as this is cold light, so there will be no heat generated. If the Sun were to enter first, there will be immediate darkness. Again not to worry, this is temporary and should only last an estimated 110 hours. [H: If, however, the radiation belt around your planet is ignited during this process the light will be so blinding as to destroy vision—further, massive damage is already resulting from the ongoing exposure to these invisible LIGHT RAYS!] Also, the interaction between our galactic solar radiation (starlight) and the photon belt will make the sky appear as though it was full of falling stars. As the Earth fully enters this radiation, all molecules will become excited, atoms will change, and everything will become luminescent. We will be constantly in the light, even in the deepest cave and within every cell of our bodies. As mentioned in the Bible, "All stars will fall from the sky and the night sky will be no more."

Some scientists speculate that the rotation of the Earth may diminish due to the reduced level of solar radiation. The temperature is expected to become cooler and the polar caps will eventually extend to about the 40th latitude. World communications centers, fixed satellites, U.S. bases and experimental sites (sorry, the next sentence is missing from the bottom of the page)...design or accident. In a February issue of Newsweek, Fidel Castro's brother, Raul, admitted that the Cuban government had been digging extensive tunnels and underground bunkers. According to him, they had 10,000 men working 24 hours a day for the past 11 years on this project. This was verified by the Pentagon, and is believed to be a long term project for the survival of this coming period mentioned as the twilight of the gods.

As we enter the photon belt, a normal person can expect to experience a jolt of energy similar to plugging your finger into a light socket, although I don't recommend trying this at home. I know from first hand experience what it might feel like, like having been struck by lightning twice in five minutes while meditating in the mountains during an electrical storm. [H: Now THIS is a very "bright" person and possibly has addled his circuits just a bit—however, the facts are that there is a photon belt and the "shock" effect may or may not present to you—BUT THE DAMAGE IS ALREADY HAPPENING—SHORT CIRCUITS OR NOT.] My personal advice is to completely relax or this energy transformation could kill you. By resisting the flow you could short circuit your nervous system. [H: I think this person has already short-circuited his own. Gosh, and Sir Gritz ridicules a suggestion that you get and keep DARK goggles handy. Why? Because when you have the sudden burst and then the ongoing intense light (brighter than looking into the sun for a long period of time, say, at an eclipse) you will blind yourselves. The intensity of a photon passage without protection BURNS out the retinal nerves!!] Theologians have written about biblical characters who lived during this period of light that claimed, "Ye shall be changed to immortality without the separation of death in the twinkling of an eye." The sky and atmosphere were different and apparently it never rained.

The contact of a Swiss farmer named Eduard [Billy] Meier with travelers from the Pleiades star system has given us many interesting photographs as well as thousands of pages of their conversations with him. Sometimes called the Contact Notes, they reveal much about Earth's true history and mankind's direct relationship to the Pleiadians. Some of the information tells us that this New Age we are entering will have fully begun by the year 2028. [H: Oh my....] The Pleiadian, Semjase, told Eduard "In respect to the cosmic changes which I have mentioned before about the Waterman's Age, which is called the Golden Age, in this regard I need to explain the religious interpretations of this age which have become absolutely unreal. A certain irresponsible fanaticism is treating the Waterman's Age as the proclaimed final time. By no means is this New Age a final time, because in truth it will bring the real life. The age will bring every....(sentence missing from bottom of page)....develop the spirit according to providence. But it will take many centuries to achieve. As usual, the atheistic scientists will profit and grow stronger during the beginning of the new time, while the common people are injured by religious quarrels. The changing of the ages will make it difficult to maintain the popular religious beliefs and people will fall into delusion. False offers of salvation and prophets will boast themselves publicly, searching fanatically for victims and new followers." [H: Well, I "can" buy this statement!]

Semjase continues, "This is the initial phase of the Golden Age, which will last 184 years. This evolutionary force began to transform Earth on February 3, 1884. The final confirmation of this age will begin on February 3, 2028. [H: Did these notes come prior to or AFTER the announced "death" of Semjase? We can hardly keep up with the "new" notes seemingly pouring forth from said entities. It would behoove you to check it out, readers. FOR YOURSELF. A lot of disinformation passes under and over bridges if your alertness slackens and interpretations of short-circuited writers enter the screen. I have said that you are not expected to move into this traumatic "belt" until around the ending of the first decade of the new millennium. You are, however, like moving into any gradually increasing radiation belt already experiencing increase in the numbers of the bombarding rays which radiate at very intense and very high frequency—INVISIBLE! "Light" is not always visible. In fact, light is NEVER VISIBLE OR INVISIBLE—YOU CAN ONLY SEE THE REFLECTION OR EFFECT OF LIGHT AND "PERCEIVE" IT TO BE VISIBLE.] The first half of the Earth transition lasted 92 years, from 1844 until 1936, when the Earth reached the outside radiations of the Fishes Age. On the 3rd of February 1937 the essence of the Watermans Age reached Earth. Since that date, rapidly changing events, discoveries, inventions, etc., are everyday standards, which are characteristic of no other age. The beginning of the Watermans Age certifies a new life. The whole Earth's sun-system and its creatures will live in a New Age. Everything will be influenced by it, for this is a cosmic law. According to this law, Earth human's origin will become newly constructed and evolved. The origin of these changes are caused by the radiation reaching out of the Galactic Central Sun, around which the Earthly system circles once every 25,860 years, passing through 12 different ages known to you as star circles or zodiacs. The Earth has already touched the outer border of the Golden Radiation of the central sun, which are the strongest evolutionary radiations of the whole universe and which will bring the greatest changes."

According to Nostradamus, in 1999, "it will rain no more, but in 40 years, all will be normal." The Aborigines of Australia believe that "Men were different to what they are now, we had a bridge to the stars." They also say, "We were cast out into the darkness and were much afraid, so the Gods gave us a sun to warm us and a moon to see at night." In all of their stories when they had a dispute with their Chief or Elder they fled to the sky, as did the Greeks. Could it be that space travel is easier in the photon belt?

When Erich Von Daniken visited a certain South American tribe, they proudly showed him an object given to them thousands of years ago by Sky People. They were instructed to keep it clean and, "When it hums like thousands of swarms of bees, we will return." It began humming in 1978. Is it a cosmic alarm clock waking us up to the coming of light beings? It is possible that some civilizations' solar systems may remain in constant orbit within the photon belt. When our planet's solar system exits the photon belt approximately 2,000 years in the future, will the visitors that we may encounter there return to the light and wait our arrival from the darkness some 11,000 years later? The Mayan culture departed in a hurry promising to return someday, which some scholars believe is now eminent.

If the polar ice caps grow larger during the time spent inside the photon belt, the increase of local solar radiation that we encounter outside of its influence would logically begin to melt the latest Ice Age. This would obviously cause worldwide flooding. [H: Oh? How would that be? Ice is considerably expanded from water and causes almost no displacement when melted! That is simple "physics". I would certainly ask this most foolish author to explain his reasoning. It is obvious ONLY that if you have water and it is not contained it WILL MOVE TO THE LOWEST LEVEL of its surroundings. This happens if there is a polar shift or rearrangement of land masses in some manner—melting ice will not change your oceans more than fractional amounts. If you readers continue to believe pure balderdash and hogwash—I guess you deserve whatever may strike you for you certainly have no perception of what is ACTUALLY amiss in your lives.] Gilgamesh [the ancient work called The Epic of Gilgamesh] spoke of a great flood that occurred 11,000 years before the days of Noah's flood. History tells us that there have been at least five Ice Ages that have already occurred on Earth that seem to last about 2,000 years.

Having considered the impact on our world's environment and the effect on a single person, what about humanity as a whole? It is possible that many people will not survive the initial shock if they are not somehow prepared for it. If the ice caps extend as far as the 40th latitude, covering half the USA, most of Europe and Asia, a lot of people will be without a home. Will they be accepted into other countries? With a limited fertile space to grow crops, will it be possible to support all the survivors? I truly agree with what the character in the movie Starman said about us just before he returned home, observing that "You are at your best when things are at their worst". THE END.

[END QUOTING]

What in the world is meant by that last statement? You are at a pretty "worst" condition at the moment—and I note very, very few in the overall counting being other than even worse! Many are awakening to your circumstances, looking around and declaring to stop the insanity—but I suggest you look around you very carefully and see what you see. And, moreover, I wonder what, exactly, this Mr. Stanley suggests you DO? And, finally on the back page of this copy there is reference to UNICUS. This must be the name of this publication. I find, also on the back page, a large

The Gulf Breeze Prophecies

Mind Control At Work

5/16/94 #2 HATONN

THE PROPHECIES OF THE GULF BREEZE SIX

Last week I said I would give you a listing of the prophecies called The Gulf Breeze Prophecies. These are from a group of six military personnel who played with a Ouija Board, got the prophecies, got scared and went over the hill, AWOL. I don't have space in this particular writing to either share what interviews have garnered nor to do much commenting on the plausibility of said prophecies. However, EVERY one of the things proffered are totally capable of presentation by mind-control antics and appear to be exactly that—in that all went unscathed for desertion. Will things come to pass as predicted? I certainly would expect so or there was no point in setting forth the scenarios. I have been given another small excerpt from a manuscript which apparently you can obtain for $25.00 plus $2.00 postage and handling. This particular offering seems to come from Sean David Morton, 2207 Hermosa Ave., Hermosa Beach, CA 90254-2527. It is called THE GULF BREEZE PROPHECIES By Sean David Morton and Vance Davis. Or, they print here that you can subscribe to The Delphi Associates Newsletter for $45.00 for a 12-issue subscription—to the same address. I do not speculate as to what comes with the subscription, so if interested, call (310) 217-7579. I will perhaps offer a few comments from that which I have been given but I would guess that this particular information is probably copyrighted and I have no intention of impinging. The interviews in point occurred on October 1, 1993. The actual predictions were given between December of 1989 and July of 1990.

THE PROPHECIES

[QUOTING:]

Editor's note: The following predictions were made between December of 1989 and July of 1990. This is a partial list of the predictions that were given to the US Military, along with nearly 1,500 pages of notes. The Gulf Breeze Six were then given honorable discharges after this information was handed over. These predictions were made in the seven sessions in which the Ouija Board was used. There are far more predictions being made even today which I will give readers updates on and can be seen by everyone who subscribes to my newsletter THE DELPHI ASSOCIATES.

Comments on the predictions in bold type are made by myself, after asking questions of Vance.

YOU MUST REMEMBER THAT PREDICTIONS ARE MADE TO WARN OR REMIND. PREDICTIONS ARE ALSO MEANT TO BE CHANGED BY THOSE WHO WANT TO CHANGE THEM. I PERSONALLY HOPE THAT THESE EVENTS DO NOT OCCUR. UNFORTUNATELY, SOME OF THEM HAVE OCCURRED AND WE CANNOT CHANGE THOSE.

YOU MUST ALSO REMEMBER THAT THERE ARE USUALLY WARNINGS BEFORE THE OCCURRENCE OF AN EVENT AND THAT EACH PREDICTION USUALLY TIES INTO ANOTHER. These are not in any specific order:

1. War between the US and Iraq—1990. This will last 100 days if the State of Israel does NOT get involved. (Occurred)
2. Los Angeles earthquake in late 1993—8.3 or higher.
3. Riots in Los Angeles in 1992. (Occurred)
4. An earthquake in Seattle, Washington in the magnitude of 5.4 or higher will lead to the eruption of Mount Ranier.
5. Mount Ranier will blow and destroy a large portion of Seattle in late 1993 or the Spring of 1994.
6. The US Stock market will crash in late 1994.
7. A huge explosion in New York 1993. (Occurred) [H: Sure did and it was caused by an Israeli Briefcase bomb about the size of a credit card!] (Editor's note: The World Trade Center bomb could be only the first huge explosion this year. Another explosion caused by a gas line rupture will take out a large portion of Manhattan. This will be caused by a 6.0 quake outside of New York City that will rupture the aging gas mains. This will actually be caused by a continental flux AFTER the 8.3 quake in Los Angeles.)
8. Destruction of New York City and Manhattan by many disasters, natural and manmade, between 1996 to 1998.
9. Race riots in all major cities—1993 to 1994.
10. Martial law enacted in major cities—1994/1995.
11. Russian earthquake which will kill 1,000. (Occurred)
12. Government will lose A.W.O.L. Military Intelligence soldiers in Atlanta, Georgia—1990.

(Occurred)

13. European Economic Community will be in power by 1992. (Occurred)

14. Borders dropped in all of Europe—1992. (Occurred)

15. Military troops will be controlling Chicago—1998.

16. Terrorist activity in the United States increases—1993 to 1995.

17. All U.S. air space will be restricted by martial law—1995.

18. The Constitution will be suspended for 90 days—1994/1995.

19. A house will be destroyed in Massachusetts with 140 people killed.

20. 20 major universities will be shut-down.

21. 50 of the world's top scientists will disappear.

22. An explosion at a supermarket in 1994 will injure fifty persons with no deaths.

23. Gun laws passed in 1994.

24. Explosion in space in 1993. (Occurred—satellite exploded.)

25. Youngest President elected since John Kennedy in 1992. (Occurred)

26. Shuttle not launched due to fuel leak—1990. (Occurred) (Editor's note: This prediction actually stated that another American Space Shuttle would explode just like the Challenger disaster, if the fuel leak was not caught in time. The fuel leak was found seconds before lift-off, a classic example of cause and effect probabilities and dual timelines.)

27. Terrorism increases in Israel—1993. (Occurring)

28. Israel declares war on the PLO—1993/1994.

29. Unification of Germany—1990.

30. Homeless and social undesirables rounded up—1994.

31. Systematic marking of Government employees and all general military personnel takes place—1994/1995.

32. The Rapture occurs—1995/1996. (Editor's note: This is one point Vance and I are in vehement disagreement over. This may have to do with the "taking up" of all of those who have been abducted and "marked" in the form of nasal or body probes. Is this benevolent, or is it just the negative aliens' way of protecting their precious breeding program? [H: OR, could it simply be more HOGWASH?]

33. True Spiritual leaders arise—1996.

34. The hidden keepsake comes forth with the true teachers. (Editor's note: This will be a book about the lost true religion of Man. The new teachers of truth will talk about our co-creatorship with God and our own divine intervention. This will be the beginning of the new "True" religion.)

35. Cancellation of a major UFO conference in Europe—1990. (Occurred)

36. The Seven Thunders will be revealed. (Editor's note: In the Book of Revelation, John The Beloved was shown, on the Isle of Patmos, seven books which were called "The Great Books of Thunder". They were so awesome that John was not allowed to speak of them. They were to be revealed in the last days, by God's "Witnesses and Prophets". The Vatican now possesses two of these books, according to Vance, and the other five will be revealed here in America and around the world.)

37. Biblical treasures are found—1994. (Editor's note: Many great truths about the true nature of the Bible will be revealed that will turn Christianity upside-down. The Lost Ark of the Covenant will be discovered, along with proof that Jesus traveled the world with his father and uncle in his early years and was "taken up" by a starship after his "death" and visited the Americas and the rest of the world to spread the teachings of light. This will prove much of the Mormon religion.)

38. Earth magnetic tilt—2011. (Editor's note: The Earth has already tilted 1.5 degrees on its magnetic axis as it comes into line with the rest of the solar system, and this has caused much of the dramatic Earth changes and weather we have seen. My prediction is that the Earth will shift another 5 degrees in 2004, 11 degrees by 2011 and a full flip or polar reversal by 2027.)

39. Increase in volcanic eruptions—1993 to 1995.

40. The lost library of Atlantis will be found in Egypt before the year 2000.

41. Increase in severe weather causes mass destruction—1992 to 1996. (Occurring)

42. Insurance companies collapse—1993 to 1994.

43. Admittance of alien life forms by the US Government—1995/1996. (Editor's note: Vance says that he sees the President at the time introducing one of the "greys" on television as our "New Friends" who will save us with their advanced technology. They will not be our friends, and they certainly will not save us.)

44. Quantum leaps in the evolution of Mankind after 2032.

45. 1000-year reign of Peace.

46. The United States of America will be the least destroyed by the chaos and Earth changes.

47. Fear of the new religion, the New World Order. (Here now!)

48. The last Pope will be canonized in 1996.

49. Peacemaker named to the World Commission.

50. Vatican releases never-before-seen histories of the world and its religions.

Taking Stock Of The Moment

INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE

There is a particularly important document which has come to our attention. I am not going to take time to reproduce it here on this keyboard but I do ask that a copy of it be placed in the current journal as well as giving it important placement and notice in the CONTACT [see p. 2]. A lot of you will be coming up for review and it can help you—even though the IRS will deny its existence. We thank Al Carter for sharing these priceless documents with us and, perhaps, some day soon we can do more than simply thank these ceaseless alarm clocks efforting to change the prison circumstances in which you citizens now find yourselves. It is through a full network of sharing every tid-bit you get which is set forth through the pen that you shall prevail for therein is your documentation, your confirmation and your power through education and information gathering.

How DARE we put information to press that is dangerous, horrendous and NEVER WOULD SEE THE LIGHT OF DAY ELSEWHERE? Well, number one, it will have seen the light of day in someone's KNOWLEDGE and perhaps even into print. Just as the Federalist Papers are all but buried, THEY DO EXIST. As long as there is even a shred of hope in your CONSTITUTION our teams will make every effort to offer all they can—and the troops GROW. Perhaps individuals may have direct purpose toward this or that project but as a PAPER this publication has ONE purpose: to make public that which we can for as long as we can, in open forum, always checked out to the best of our ability and always giving credit, as well as responsibility for information truth, to those who share. We will always protect sources as that, in fact, is the DUTY of both paper and journalist. This paper is a voice, like other small and struggling-against-all-odds papers who fight daily to simply bring that which is no longer ALLOWED in the controlled media. The controlled media is set up and totally dedicated to protecting the guilty and enslaving the innocent.

TELEVISION COVERAGE OF CIA FILES

I hope you will note that A&E channel is currently running a series of shows hosted by Jack Perkins which are referred to as "CIA FILES". They advertise that you can acquire a set of the tapes—I haven't the information but the program is called TIME MACHINE. I bring this up because of the reference to some very SPECIAL persons who are placed in a very dangerous position by being up-front with their information. I especially wish to note Victor Marchetti who wrote THE CIA AND THE CULT OF INTELLIGENCE and John Stockwell who wrote IN SEARCH OF ENEMIES. They have both written many other important works but if you want eye-openers—get these!

Last evening's program was regarding the "Phoenix Project" called PHOENIX RISING. We have written on this subject several times and devoted several journals to these types of subjects. This, however, was the epitome of a spiteful nation betraying its own CONTACTS and creating horrors beyond speaking upon innocent persons. Was this "ancient" times of inquisition or crusades? No—it was in Vietnam WITH YOUR CHILDREN and the hapless citizens of a nation now being used again by your thugs and corruptors. Vietnam was basically a CIA war, good buddies—and involved France to its eyeballs and other dirty activities unmentioned here.

Well, let it be recognized that the connections certainly didn't stop—as is evidenced by the influx FROM FRANCE into the United States through WHITE PLAINS, NEW YORK of the heaviest trafficking in COCAINE of anywhere—all orchestrated and utilized BY THE COMMITTEE OF 17 (OR SO), THE GOVERNMENT OF THE U.S., ETC. White Plains makes Mena, Arkansas look like NOTHING—relatively speaking.

"Ah," you might say, "but White Plains can't accommodate large aircraft so you MUST be WRONG!" No, it is that there is also a "NEWFOUNDLAND" CONNECTION. You see, refueling, etc., is done in Newfoundland—also massive transfer of product from big planes to smaller ones which can come in easily into White Plains. "Everybody" KNOWS it—it is just that nobody tells YOU about it—and the government's "war on drugs" is hardly noticed as being fought in White Plains, New York!! May you sleep well tonight—sleepyheads!

So what? Perhaps it is better that you don't ever wake-up? Well, some people don't like what is happening in your nation or to yourselves—especially your babies whom you have sacrificed to the devil as surely as if you were a participant in Satanic murder—the death is more insidious and insipid. But you continue to allow NO accuracy in the media or press or in any form by ones who would effort to bring you truth. It is exemplified in every hour of every day in THIS place.

Ones who would destroy the Institute, and the paper, along with silencing the journals as Mr. Green, Mr. Gritz, et al.—have shown their own colors and dedication to self-aggrandizement, self-greed, lack of insight and knowledge as to what we offer AND are working for the Elite crime syndicate—even if in total ignorance. They lash out and do everything in their power to cause grief and mischief—so be it. The accomplishment in intent is the same as the most horrendous criminal efforting to cover his deeds and destroy your nation and freedom. If these ones set forth themselves as LEADERS it is their RESPONSIBILITY to know every detail of that which they attack for thus far the FACTS AS OFFERED BY THESE EN-EMIES are a pack of garbage and any party reading or studying ANY of our presentations would KNOW AS MUCH!

Will we do anything to force these people to stop their painful misuse of you-the-people? No—except for offering you the Truth to whatever extent we can do so—just as they use whatever methods they have available to destroy us. You must, as well, always realize that no matter where you are or who you join in service—there will ALWAYS BE THE ENEMY AMONG YOU AND HE WILL NOT “GO” EVEN

THOUGH DESPISED AND RECOGNIZED—SO WHAT? CONDUCT ALL THINGS IN YOUR “DOING” THAT THERE IS ONLY INTEGRITY AND TRUTH TO BE FOUND, PROTECT THE PRIVACY (I DID NOT SAY “ALL SECRETS”) OF ALL AND PROTECT TO THE EXTENT OF ALL POSSIBILITY THE RIGHTS AND SECURITY OF ALL ONES WITH WHOM YOU ASSOCIATE. Conduct yourselves within the laws of God AND the regulations of the land, and yet you must utilize to the full extent those laws—that which is provided as security for the ones who make the rules—for those are “laws” set forth for themselves but, BY THE WAY OF THE COURTS, MUST ALSO PROTECT YOU. A bunch of locked-away patriots (or, better examples: DEAD PATRIOTS), proclaiming “rights” in the face of an army of military suiciding experts—are not “martyrs”; they are useless bodies who can no longer serve freedom.

When the Master Teacher said “Take up your cross and follow me”—he did not mean to hop on the cross and commit suicide by crucifixion! Ponder it.

More Hot Stuff On Caspar Weinberger (And Other “Angels”) From Gary Wean

THERE'S A FISH IN THE COURTHOUSE
by Gary Wean

The following are excerpts taken from Gary Wean's book. This book was self-published in 1987 after a great deal of difficulty. It was then personally delivered to 100 U.S. Senators. The book is not currently in print, but hopefully soon will be. Let's take a look now at some of the things Mr. Wean had to say that were so carefully overlooked by those in high places.

[QUOTING:]

Always the trail leads back to Hollywood. The brutal killing of a beautiful whore created one hell of a problem for the Mishpucka [meaning “family”, the same thing as “mafia” meaning “family” in Italian. The Jewish crime family, the Mishpucka, are very influential and powerful.] Bludgeoned to death while asleep, Vicki Morgan was a mistress of Alfred Bloomingdale, a rich Hollywood Mishpucka and a Presidential confidant to Reagan. Robert Steinberg, the original attorney for alleged killer Marvin Pancoast attempted to make contact with President Reagan offering video-tapes of Bloomingdale and other officials engaging in “Sodomasochistic sex parties with Vicki”. Steinberg told “administration officials” if Reagan did not want the tapes, which he said, “Constituted a high risk to the National Security if released, he will destroy them.” Steinberg told United Press International, “There are a number of people in the tapes shown engaging in sex acts.” In addition to Vicki and Bloomingdale, he identified the other individuals as “Friends of Bloomingdale reaching all the way to the head of the country.” But he made it clear that he was not indicating the President was on the tape. The film ran about an hour and appeared to have been made within the past several years.

At CBS NEWS, Steinberg ‘went further’ by saying the individuals were a businessman, three Government appointees and an elected official. He claimed that shortly after he got the tapes he viewed them with a lawyer and someone from the Justice Department, but he refused to name them. Suddenly Steinberg became frightened and wildly inconsistent. He told police he no longer had the tapes, they'd been stolen from his office. Marvin Pancoast, the defendant, also told his new attorney, Arthur Barends, there were sex tapes, both audio and video, that were very embarrassing to the Reagan Administration.

At his murder trial Pancoast's attorney, Barends, subpoenaed the FBI and CIA for any sex tapes on which Edwin Meese, Attorney General Designate, or other Government officials might appear. The defense repudiated the prosecution's ‘tape recorded confession’ as “An illusion brought on by Pancoast's masochistic urge to take blame for crime of others.” They maintained, “Morgan was murdered by someone other than Pancoast. Someone who wanted her dead because of compro-missing material she possessed about some very influential, powerful people. An agent for the real killer might even have hypnotized Pancoast into believing he had killed Vicki.”

But Judge Horowitz refused to allow any of the sex tapes' information to be heard by the jury. The Mishpucka Judge said, “This is just a simple case of Pancoast caving Morgan's head in with a baseball bat and confessing. That was all they needed to know.” Like the Rosenbergs...Pancoast was a sacrifice for the good of the Mishpucka. Judge David Horowitz was a Jew, the prosecutor, Stanley Weisberg, was a Jew, the defense attorney, Barends was a Jew, and his attorney, Leonard Levine, was a Jew. The courtroom charade proceeded precisely as Black Robe Mishpucka Judge David Horowitz directed.

It was shortly after Pancoast was found guilty: A phone call came from Hollywood. It was LeFleur, I picked up on the “nervous quiver” in her voice. For “The Flower” to lose her cool, something must be upsetting her damn bad. “Gary,” she shouted, rambling on swiftly, “I've got to tell you this; no one else would understand. Christ, every hooker and pimp in town is scared half to death, and you better believe Steinberg is too. He screwed up really good when he blabbed about those video tapes. Then he double blew it when he lied about them being stolen. He's still got 'em stashed out, that's to keep him from getting killed like Vicki.”

“Flower, relax, slow down a bit. I figure you are talking about Vicki Morgan's murder."

"Lord, what else, Vicki was a close friend. She was one of my girls for a while, and you can believe me, those video tapes are for real. She was counting on them in case Alfred backed out on his promises to take care of her financially for the rest of her life. She was very depressed having to do all those shitty things he wanted...especially for his kinky big-shot friends."

"Well, they are certainly burning Meese. It's mighty strange his name is the only one that they've brought out."

"That's the work of Pancoast's attorney, Arthur Barends; he's covering-up for the 'big guy' who's on the tape. The attorneys made a lot of noise just to make their defense of Marvin 'look good'. They knew Horowitz wasn't about to let any of those sex orgies into the trial; and about Meese, they don't like him anyway."

"One hell of a crazy situation; Hollywood ain't changed a bit. Flower, tell me, who is the big-guy you're talking about?"

With a catch in her voice, only calmer and much slower she said, "Weinberger."

That threw me. "Weinberger!...Caspar Weinberger? The Secretary of Defense...is that who you mean?"

"You got it right."

"Good Lord, is that why Steinberg was referring to National Security being threatened?"

"I suppose so."

Damn, it rang bells. Weinberger... somewhere in the past, it tied in. A piece of the puzzle had dropped right out of the sky into its slot. A bunch more of the pieces were hovering around, waiting to land; but I couldn't concentrate on it now. It would have to wait till later.

Flower was saying, "A lot of hookers were into this thing. Bloomingdale's orgies weren't exactly a secret on the strip. But when the pimps heard about those video tapes and the Mafia being mixed up in it, they damn near died of fright. The pimps grabbed all their hookers and split for Vegas, Phoenix and wherever, till this blows over."

"How does the Mafia come into it?"

"Bugliosi, hell you know...that lawyer, Vincent Bugliosi. He has big Mafia connections in the East, Chicago and New York."

"So, how does that..."

Flower cut in: "Look, this whole thing is crazy right from the beginning. Everyone on the Strip knows Marvin didn't kill Vicki. He's a fruitcake; Marvin would confess to anything if you talked to him right. You notice Barends did not put him on the stand to testify; they didn't dare to, he would blow the lid right off this friggin' town. Marvin has mental problems coming out his ears and I'll tell you...nobody knew this better than Bugliosi, he's known him for years. Back when Bugliosi was a D.A., Marvin confessed to the Manson Family Murders."

"I agree, Vicki's tapes were a hell of a motive to get her killed. More plausible than any reasons Pancoast appeared to have. You got some good ideas?"

"A damn good one. I think Marvin stole Vicki's tapes long enough for the Mafia to make copies, then they took them to D.C., where they got a big satchel full of money for them. Then the 'big guy' found out Vicki still had the original. Somehow Steinberg got them and is holding on to them for dear life. There aren't too many people on the Strip who think Marvin will ever get out of prison alive."

"Flower, I've got to think on all this awhile, and I mean a lot longer than five minutes. Hollywood hasn't changed a bit, has it?"

"Hollywood's Hollywood, and it will always be."

We drove Henry to Hollywood Receiving Hospital; they bandaged him up, but he wouldn't stay. We took him home; next day he was okay. His wife cornered us, pleading we should make Hank settle down. She had a good job, a nice apartment and took good care of him when he was there. She just wanted to be like other married people. I got Hank an easy job, from nine to five in a drug store on Hollywood near Highland Ave. They furnished a car. All he had to do was deliver medicine and stay home at night out of trouble. But Hank couldn't stand it without excitement. He got to taking pills to calm his nerves at home so he would not start an argument. One night Henry dropped one pill too many and died.

The waitress was leaving; Tony said, "Sorry to interrupt, where were we?"

"Talking about Hank, our operator. Frank and I'd been watching Mickey Cohen from a distance. We knew he was up to something out of the ordinary. He spent a lot of time with a weird-looking little guy at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel lunch counter and drug store area. What got our curiosity most was Mickey seemed to be taking orders from the stranger. Getting the van we put a new sign on it, The Village Florist, we parked it next to the hotel. On Wilshire Blvd., in prestigious Beverly Hills it fit in far more than an Ace Plumbing van. We got photos with our telescopic lens of Cohen and his friend. The office checked it out; we learned his name: Menachem Begin.

We gave Henry money to get a room in the hotel. His suits were pressed and he had a whole box of new white shirts. He looked more like a multimillionaire movie mogul than Metro-Goldwyn and Mayer. He spoke Yiddish, which Mickey and Begin were using. They were not the least uneasy when he sat next to them at the lunch counter. Hank had the Examiner sport sheet and Racing News. Scribbling on small pieces of paper and mumbling to himself seemed to indicate to Mickey and Begin he was above suspicion. He reported that the two had a deep discussion and were very excitable. There was a lot of talk about Cuba and military operations and the Kennedys.

One night they discussed plans to meet the next evening in the restaurant...then drive somewhere for secret talks with very important people. That night I parked the florist van a block west of the Beverly Wilshire Hotel. Hank was inside and Frank was across Wilshire where he could watch the entrance. If Cohen and Begin started to leave, Henry was to come out and give Frank a high-sign. Everything was working fine; Frank got the signal and returned to where I waited on the street corner.

Suddenly all hell broke loose. A car speeding east didn't stop at the red light, crashing broadside into a motorcycle officer. Running into the intersection, I halted traffic. Laying on its side, the motorcycle was roaring and jumping with its throttle wide open. I cut it off and used the mike to call for help. The officer's gun skidded down the street and Frank ran after it. We'd forgotten about Henry till I saw him coming toward me from the hotel. Within seconds the radio car arrived. Showing my badge to an officer, I told him we'd return to the station to make a report as soon as possible. Jumping into the van we forced our way out of the curious crowd that was gathering. I headed for the hotel. We were lucky, Cohen's limo was just pulling from the curb going east. Henry was jumping around excited and jabbering, "We've really got something going, don't lose them, for God's sake. I wouldn't miss this for ten million bucks. Mickey sounded like a politician. They were going on about war and billion-dollar appropriations, cursing JFK about his crazy Peace Corps and wasting money." We made a left onto La Cienega, following them to Sunset where we made a right.

Not too far the Cad went left on Marmont. Frank said we had a problem since it's a dead end. Anyway, the winding street narrowed down to an alley with sharp turns. Before I could do anything we suddenly were on top of the limo turning into a small parking area in front of a house. Another vehicle was already in there. I read the plate number to Frank who'd ducked out of sight in the back of the van. Another hundred yards and I was in a cul de sac. It was so small it took about seven jogs back and forth to turn around, then we got out of there.

The next day we checked it out. The house was Melvin Belli's. The car was Caspar Weinberger's. We naturally did a hell of a lot of wondering why Belli and Weinberger were meeting with a couple cut-throats like Cohen and Begin. And just as curious...shortly after this, Candy Barr, Cohen's girl, appeared at the hotel. Henry saw Begin making trips up to her room. Hank commented, everything must have been successful because Begin always came back with a smile. Belli also made trips, returning with a smile.

Chapter 21 [referring to revelatory book at the time] brought the lens to a fine focus. In Hollywood, Gruber, the man Ruby called minutes after shooting [Dallas policeman] Tippet...that was the connection, where the orders issued forth. Not long before JFK was killed, the conversation Henry Jacobs had overheard between Cohen and Begin at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel, Henry had been terribly excited. He'd felt it; he knew he was on to something big. Frank and I were amused at his exuberant rantings in the van. We'd kidded him, but we knew Henry was no novice with his imagination running wild. I remembered Hank's words, "Mickey was sounding real important. Like he's going in for big politics; he cursed Kennedy and his Peace Corps, and wasting millions on two-bit countries in Africa and South America." But what really chilled me now was recalling Hank's vivid description of their aroused, excited conversation about, "War and Peace and the catastrophic possibilities of losing 'multi-billion' dollar Defense appropriations." We had tailed Cohen and Begin to Belli's house in the hills above Sunset Boulevard, where they met a mysterious guest, Caspar Weinberger. To Frank and me this incident had meant intelligence information of obvious value, because of Begin, the terrorist's, presence. But hell, it would be more than twenty years before it began to add up.

We had not known Weinberger was the head man of a giant "corporate colossus" with powerful tentacles around the globe. The corporation was constructing "billions of dollars" of U.S. military installations in Europe, the Mediterranean, and in Southeast Asia because of overt threats of war. Until Conspiracy, Chapter 21, I hadn't known the biggest threat in the world to Weinberger's billions was news of President Kennedy's negotiations of World Peace.

With the killing of JFK, all thoughts and hope of Peace were instantly destroyed, shattered along with the lives, limbs and minds of thousands of America's young men caught up in the "premeditated insanity of Viet Nam's holocaust". And now, fantastically, over two decades later, Caspar Weinberger is the Secretary of Defense, demanding billions upon billions for his corporation to construct military installations. And this in the "face" of the tragic loss of servicemen's lives and the abandonment of billions of dollars of military bases and equipment in the "catastrophe" of Viet Nam. Simultaneously, he sinisterly demoralizes U.S. military strength and morale by undermining the servicemen's traditional pension plan.

In D.C., just prior to the President's trip to Dallas, a White House Correspondent, Seth Kantor had the "latest knowledge" of the Presidential motorcade routes. Through inside D.C. informants and sources, Kantor was one of the first to learn of secret Peace talks JFK was setting up with Fidel Castro. Besides knowing Belli and Cohen at the Hollywood meeting, and Jack Ruby, Candy Barr, and Oswald in Dallas, he knew Weinberger in D.C., Kantor was tied-in, full circle.

Belli was Ruby's lawyer. He refused to put Ruby on the stand for fear he'd lose control of his mouth and spill why he shot Oswald. Babbling, "I have been used for a purpose," Ruby was frightened almost to death by the Mishpucka about what would happen if he broke and revealed that the "assassination" of President Kennedy was a Jew plot. They had put the full blame on him for endangering their master scheme with his failure to kill Oswald the first time. He was told, "It would mean the torture of his family and Jews in the streets. There would be a total extermination of the Jews if the truth came out." Traumatized by the Mishpuckas' threats, Ruby, terrified, ranted on about his Jewish origins and how, "Jews would be killed by the millions because of what he'd done".

Four days after JFK's funeral, Lyndon Johnson, now President, summoned Chief Justice Earl Warren to the White House. Melodramatically he informed Warren that it was his National duty to head a "Commission of Inquiry" into the murder of Kennedy. Johnson told him, "If certain dangerous facts were not concealed it could cost forty million lives." Then commenced one of the most lurid, official, Governmental cover-ups of all time. Over the years it has grown into a national disgrace. Public demand for the true facts of the assassination of the popular John Kennedy has burgeoned and multiplied out of Government control.

"We had not known Weinberger was the head man of a giant 'corporate colossus' with powerful tentacles around the globe. The corporation was constructing 'billions of dollars' of U.S. military installations in Europe, the Mediterranean, and in Southeast Asia because of overt threats of war."

At one point Ruby was ready to talk; he stated, "The murder of JFK was an act of 'overthrowing' the Government". Then, most significantly, he elaborated, "I know who had President Kennedy killed". Ruby told Chief Justice Earl Warren, in person, his life was in danger and that if he would arrange to get him to D.C. under his protection, he would talk. Repeatedly, eight times in all, Oswald's killer begged Warren to arrange his transfer to D.C.; the Justice refused.

Several times when pressured, President Johnson had invoked secrecy in the name of National Security. It was to cover-up, first: the Phony Assassination by Hunt; and second: the Real Assassination committed by the Mishpucka. Hunt's wild scheme had created the lunatic effect of positioning Kennedy as the target in a shooting gallery. Johnson's National Security fears were tied to the Real Assassination operation. If it became known to the public that President Kennedy was killed by the Jews it could ignite a 'Holy War'. Forty million Jews in America could be exterminated, precisely as Ruby fearfully predicted, "Jews will be killed by the millions because of what I have done."

To Christians, white and black, President Kennedy's death would be tantamount to the second Crucifixion of Jesus Christ. Of course, this time it was a high-powered bullet exploding his head in a halo of blood and bone and brains. Not like nailing his hands and feet to the Cross—but still the second killing of Christ. President Johnson feared a populace out of control, gone mad, riots, revolution, a Holy War of fearful dimensions; so the decision was that people of the United States were not entitled to the truth.

Conspiracy, Chapter 21, page 419—on Sept. 17, 1963, with nine weeks left until Kennedy's Dallas trip, an American and an African met over coffee at United Nations Headquarters in New York. Seydou Diallo, a little known diplomat, was an Ambassador, the Guinean Envoy to Cuba. As his American contact he'd selected Ambassador William Attwood, "Special Advisor" to the U.S. Delegation at the U.N. Diallo knew and trusted Attwood as the former American Ambassador to Guinea. He was aware Attwood had met Castro and was also on close personal terms with Kennedy. Diallo's urgent message was that after three years of confrontation, Castro wanted to reach some sort of an understanding with the U.S. He was especially unhappy about the way Cuba was becoming tied to Russia and was looking for a way out. Just two days later, on September 19, JFK gave secret approval for tentative talks with Castro. He selected Ambassador Attwood to handle it. Robert, JFK's brother, was very concerned with the secrecy of the matter and was bothered about the possibility of a leak. But Peace was on the move, a hotline telephone link between the "White House and Kremlin" had been opened, a symbol of determination to bring the superpowers into closer touch on sensitive issues.

Soon Kennedy and Khrushchev would sign a nuclear test ban treaty, and the President had projected the return of a thousand troops from Viet Nam. The first stage of a withdrawal that was to bring all American personnel home within two years. Kennedy's quest for World Peace was taking shape. But Robert Kennedy's great concern for leaks in the proposed Castro peace talks was real. In a few weeks his brother's murder would shatter all hope of peace and security around the world for years to come. The intriguing facts of the White House events during those few weeks prior to JFK's death, as related in Chapter 21, were of overpowering interest. Of equal urgency in Conspiracy were the motivating "clues" pointing directly at the Mishpucka.

I saw that, in a burst of hope and zeal, I'd made a serious mistake. Fully aware several of the final pieces of the puzzle were still missing, I'd stupidly allowed myself to anticipate a situation. Equating in terms of the non-genius talents of people such as Pregerson, Phillips and Bocarsky, I let myself become over-confident; it was dangerous. I'd grossly underestimated the evil intellect and treacherous talents of Turkebtahn. In that one sighting he had been only a shadow, but I knew that dark form was a man, not a phantom or apparition vaporizing into the blackness of the night, leaving no trace whatsoever. There was only one way a man could vanish so totally in such a mysterious manner.

Turkebtahn had changed his name—moving to a new location he had assumed an entirely new identity within a completely different social-stratum. How had he done it? Who had he become? I wondered about that strange meeting at the arena. The conversation they'd had in the parking lot consumed only seconds; was it that Turkebtahn had received orders or had he been giving them?

My situation, I knew, was clearly more terrifying than ever; in a hundred ways I had revealed, in fact advertised, to the Black Robe Mishpucka leader that I was getting close. I was on his trail; I'd destroy him if possible. He could strike from any direction, I was sitting under a friggin' spotlight, trying to fight a shadow. Lord, who had this Turkebtahn been? Who in hell was he now? Was he a super-international hit-man, an evil specter commanding millions for his deadly services of "assassinating" world leaders and creating chaos? Was he a deep mole in the CIA or the FBI, a high ranking official in the Justice or State Department—maybe a powerful Federal Judge or U.S. Senator?

Sickeningly I realized Turkebtahn, the shadow, could be anybody—Caspar Weinberger, Secretary of Defense, Menachem Begin, a murdering international terrorist, Henry Kissinger, a powerful Jew who oddly always got appointed by the Presidents to supposedly "negotiate" foreign affairs for the U.S. Hell, it could even be Melvin Belli, but careful consideration eliminated this possibility. Belli was in the same wretched class as Pregerson, Phillips and Bocarsky. But I couldn't dismiss Belli completely—something was hidden there that I was trying to grasp. He had always involved himself deep in machinations trying to manipulate law enforcement. I was stumbling on a memory; it triggered a powerful explosion. Mushrooming wildly, its shock pierced my senses. Good Lord, "Law Enforcement". The implications were startling, so far-reaching I could scarcely believe it. A man, high in Peace Officer organizations—one who had managed to gain unbelievable stature through certain political and judicial power and news media backing. All city, county, state and federal criminal justice systems and their record facilities would be at such a man's command. A tremendous, strategic position. On the "surface", an impressive, manly configuration of good—but hidden, there was a dark soul consumed by malignant evil bent on "destruction" of the U.S. Constitution, replacing it with the Mishna, Jew law of chaos, conspiracy and corruption.

WEAN ON WEINBERGER: AN INTERVIEW

The following excerpts are taken from an interview by telephone between Gary Wean and Rick Martin, for CONTACT, which took place on November 29, 1993 and appears, in full, in the PHOENIX JOURNAL #85 titled: SHOCK THERAPY FOR A BRAIN DEAD WORLD.

Rick: In what city is that?

Gary: In Los Angeles. And then, later on, Harry Pregerson and Mickey Cohen were real good buddies from way back. Like I said, when I was working on surveilling them clear back to 1946, I was working narcotics on the L.A.P.D. in Old Chinatown down in Los Angeles. We'd follow Mickey Cohen to the fight arenas. That's where a lot of his money was and his racetrack wire service. A lot of it was over the racetrack wire service and a lot of guys got themselves killed in those days. Anyway—I want to stay a little bit on a level here so we don't go flying all over the place.

Dear Nora,

I have only recently finished reading your "Garden Of Aton" and I want to thank you for all the marvelous research you have done. The confirmations of the PHOENIX JOURNALS, Hatonn, Sananda, et al...are heartening.

I thoroughly enjoyed "Garden of Aton" and want to commend you on such a remarkable job. As an aside, it was your book that finally convinced my friend that perhaps old Hatonn just might be who he says he is, and she is now taking an interest in the PHOENIX JOURNALS.

Rick: It's interesting. You're staying on track. These things seem to be related.

Gary: Ok. It's the connections of all these people. In 1958 and '59 Mickey Cohen, what he was doing, the racket he had going was with Lana Turner. He had some of his Hollywood lover boys like George Miscatelli and Johnny Stampanada. You remember the old deal with Johnny Stampanada, he got himself stabbed to death and killed in Lana Turner's house?

Rick: No, I don't.

Gary: Well that was over one of the acts that Mickey Cohen had his hands in at that time that was very successful, moneywise, for him. He dumped these Italian lovers that he had working for him on Lana Turner and she fell in love with this guy Johnny Stampanada and he "fingered" the motels. Mickey Cohen would have it all wired up and make recordings of it and sell them for what was going on in the motel room between Lana and Johnny Stampanada. Then, it developed to a point where Johnny got stabbed and killed in her house.

Mickey Cohen had George Miscatelli working on Marilyn Monroe and at that time my partner and I, who was with the Los Angeles District Attorney's Office, (he is dead now), were surveilling this whole thing. That's how we came upon Mickey Cohen and Menachem Begin who used to meet at the Beverly Hills Hotel on Wilshire Boulevard. We were taking pictures. We had a man out in the van looking like the flower company florist shop and we took pictures. We had pictures of Mickey Cohen. Well, one night we followed Mickey Cohen and Menachem Begin and they went up to Hollywood off Sunset Boulevard to a house. When we got there and checked it out, it was Melvin Belli's house.

Now this is all in my book and all of this stuff was taken to the United States 100 Senators who covered it up and they've got quite a problem with this right now because of things that have occurred. And then we got license plates, and we're talking about 1958-1959, or maybe 1960, because it's about the time we ran into some other things when JFK came out here in 1960, when he disappeared from the convention down there in Los Angeles.

We had information from a big informant of ours, a madame, that they were going to have a big party out at Peter Lawford's house. We left the convention before JFK did and we drove as fast as we could down to Malibu, ah, down to Santa Monica actually, to Peter Lawford's house. When we got there we went down to the beach and we could see JFK had beaten us there. We could never figure out how in the hell he beat us there.

Later on, I met a guy by the name of Anthony Summers. He is a writer for BBC. He wrote Conspiracy and Marilyn Monroe and some very good books, Anthony Summers did. But when he got to the crucial parts, he got to me and asked me for a lot of information which I gave him and I gave him the names of people. I gave him the name of a madame; I gave him a couple of other names, one of them being Joey Bishop. I don't know if you have ever heard of Joey Bishop?

Rick: Yes, sure.

Gary: Bishop was in the old Peter Lawford-Frank Sinatra gang. He was the one who set up the party at Peter Lawford's house with Marilyn Monroe and, contrary to what they all say, this was the first time JFK ever met her. You can pinpoint that down because that was the night that he disappeared from the convention in Los Angeles. They try to say there was a big love affair and all kinds of crap going on prior to that, but that's not so. We never ran across any of that or anything else, but anyway, one of the crux of the things is that Joey Bishop setup the whole thing with a madame to have Marilyn Monroe there. There was a bunch of Hollywood girls and that's how we found it out. So, we were there that night and saw what was going on but, through certain circumstances, we didn't stay too long.

There was a guy that I went to the Los Angeles Police Academy with by the name of Freddy Otash. Well, Freddy Otash, in 1946 when I was working down in Chinatown, Freddy was working vice. He met a lot of people in Hollywood and later on he resigned from the Police Dept. and set himself up a Private Detective Agency in Hollywood. Freddy was one of the main participants in an old magazine called CONFIDENTIAL, if you recall that. Freddy knew everybody in Hollywood. He knew everything that went on and he was a good friend of Peter Lawford. And Freddy is the one who claims he and another guy by the name of Don Zanoff, who is a bond expert, well, they always claimed that they bugged Peter Lawford's house and the bedroom and were talking about it on TV. I've got my copies of my tapes where they came out on TV and made these tremendous false statements that, like Don Zanoff said, they asked him how he could know that Marilyn and John [JFK] were carrying on in Peter Lawford's house. Well, he "could hear the bed springs squeaking".

Well, this is the damndest lie you ever heard because I was living off in the West Valley of San Fernando Valley at the time and when I would go downtown early in the morning, I'd go across Topanga Canyon; I don't know if you are familiar with down there, but from Topanga Canyon you come right down into Malibu. Well, I was getting there early in the morning and I'd watch from a long distance, with my field glasses. Sometimes Frank, my partner, would meet me there. We'd watch John Banoff and Freddy Otash; Freddy wouldn't go up the pole, but John Banoff would climb these poles and would be up there frantically trying to get hooked into the telephone line. And that was as close as they ever came to having a bugging. This was really one of the last things that caused a whole bunch of strange things to happen through rumor and false statements, etc.

Ok, Mickey Cohen was making these records and bugging the motel rooms and Lana Turner, and then for Marilyn Monroe. This was shortly after Marilyn Monroe had met John Kennedy down at Peter Lawford's house which, as I recall, was 1960. My memory is clogged up with all these dates but I'm pretty sure it was 1960. Well, that was when we were following all these people and Menachem Begin was mixed up in it.

We know that Caspar Weinberger was there because of license plates on his vehicle. I read his license plates and it was Melvin Belli's house, which I knew and Caspar Weinberger was there, too. So there was Caspar Weinberger, who at that time was a powerful man with this construction company, Bechtel Construction Company; the same one that Charles Shultz was also involved in. I think they did billions, up to a half-a-trillion or a trillion dollars worth of defense work over in Vietnam and everywhere else. So, a lot of that was behind it, and also, when Caspar Weinberger became Secretary of Defense, he knew where all the arms were. There was no way that he couldn't know where all the arms were being shipped to South America and all of that.

Rick: Well, let's talk about William P. Clark and the here and now. Is there any new information about William P. Clark and what he is involved with?

Gary: Sure, one of the biggest things now that they are pushing, going back to this John Hunter and Malcolm Lucas is this Pacific Telesis Group. Lucas has got something going against him now, some kind of ethical and morals violations in his deals with the Insurance Companies that he's been playing games with, but that's another thing. They're trying to manipulate the State Commissions and it goes into the [Federal] Communications Commission and they're trying to put this giant cable through California—Pete Wilson is totally behind it. He has got to get elected again; they're desperate to get him in, him along with Lungren and Malcolm Lucas but we've got a little push against Malcolm Lucas to expand into the true aspect of what's going on.

Rick: Now does Clark own this company?

Gary: As near as we can determine at Pacific Telesis Group, he has got the major control of it. He has a big office in San Francisco. It's not too far from where that incident happened where that guy took out a machine gun killed a bunch of lawyers there. Then he has got another office in San Luis Obispo. He's got connections, he is the one that is doing most of the stuff to Ray Renick.

Rick: You are a bit familiar with the Ray Renick situation. Is there any light you can shed on that?

Gary: Oh, sure, just basically, they were taking everything the man had away from him. And as a citizen, when you start experiencing that it's a frightening experience. You go to Court and you lose every time. You cannot win whether you are right or wrong or indifferent, a terrible frustration sets-in on you. There was just a desperation and they drove the poor man into doing things that he thought was his only way out of a desperate situation.

Now, a real strange thing happened. Now get this. When they voiced this killing of Don Scott down there, one of the things that they said was that Don Scott had this .38, I guess up in the air, and that they ordered him to drop the gun. Now, nobody likes to drop a gun because it crosses your mind if you drop it, it will fire. So, he brought it down and when it got down to a certain point they lowered the boom on him and killed him. One of the things that they said was that he tried to kill them because they found a shell in his gun.

Now, nobody knows this theory except myself, and I'm expounding it to you right at the moment. And it's no secret if you want to put it out, but they in their ballistics, the sheriff and they covered it up. I got the name of Michael Bradbury, who is the D.A. in Ventura County and who is deeply, deeply, deeply involved in all of this stuff with Malcolm Lucas and John Hunter because they've all got secrets that they have done. I don't want to go into all of that because it is a long story. Now, they claim that they got a bullet out of Don Scott's gun that showed that he'd tried to fire and it had dented the primer except that it was offset or something and didn't fire, correct?

Rick: Yes.

Gary: This is the excuse for them trying to say that he had actually tried to kill them but had been unsuccessful and they were justified in killing him. Alright, now I understand that they have put the same charge on Ray Renick that he threatened and tried to draw a gun and kill them and I guess they wrestled with him but one of the pieces of evidence they got is another shell and they put the same story on it, that he tried to fire but it had misfired. You see what I mean?

Rick: Yes, I do.

Gary: As a point of defense, they explain that they killed a guy because he was trying to kill them and that he fired this gun and they have evidence that it was fired. "We are so fortunate that we didn't get killed, that the gun misfired." It's strange that this is the defense in both of those cases, correct?

Rick: Yes, it is.

Gary: Ray has brought terrible heat down on himself because he is screaming to high heaven, I guess, about William P. Clark.

Rick: Yes, and I don't imagine that's too popular.

Gary: No, it isn't, with William P. or his cohorts.

Rick: Who are his cohorts?

Gary: Malcolm Lucas, Pete Wilson [Gov., CA] and Lungren [A.G., CA.] Back in 1987 when I took my book and petition for each and every one of the 100 Senators to investigate judicial corruption and protect the citizens as they are supposed to, we had inside informants. I won't say who they are because they wouldn't have their job very long. A lot of people contact me because they don't believe in what is going on and are desperately trying to help the people even though they have to keep their job. 'Cause, if they lose their job, just like everybody, they ain't got nothing left. What are you going to do? Get a job at McDonalds?

So, anyway, we created deep consternation with the Master at Arms and with Michael Davidson, the head lawyer at the Senate. Now, a whole bunch of those Senators were old time buddies: Joseph Biden, Strom Thurmond, even though one is a Democrat and the other is a Republican, they are like one and the same. We've got a one party system. They all band together against the citizens when something terrible starts to come up, even Teddy Kennedy. I think that they have told him that what happened to his two brothers will happen to him and his family. And if this is so, the guy should have gotten out of office, because he couldn't operate as a free man.

What we were talking about was the 100 Senators when they read the contents of the book and how William P. Clark and everybody else was involved—Strom Thurmond—naturally, they had secret conferences as to what steps they were going to take to cover all of this up and one of the people that was there was Packwood...

Rick: Bob Packwood?

Gary: And this information is news from secret sources. I got this information that when they all met to cover up this thing there it is in Packwood's diary.

Rick: Interesting, interesting.

Gary: People contacted me and I told them I would be willing, if I received a subpoena, to actively testify as to what I knew and to what I could honestly say, at Ray Renick's trial. Bob Packwood and his diary—these things they tried to cover up regarding William P. Clark, and the 50 caliber machine gun and the burglary of the National Guard Armory and all those things because I've got witnesses, several lawyers, and I hope it takes place pretty soon and then I can testify as to seeing the actual gun set up in William P. Clark's home. And I was a gunners mate in the Navy and I know what a 50 caliber machine gun can do. It's a pretty good weapon, I'll tell you.

To get back to the fact that the FBI never recovered them and some of these weapons ended up in Mickey Cohen's armory, well, after Mickey Cohen went to jail and those things happened, another guy had come up the line, who was being pushed by the Jews, whose name was Irving Rueben. A psychopathic murderer, this guy, and he got all these arms and he travels all over the country stirring up trouble and everything else. As I said before, Koresh got involved and I'd have to look up the exact records as to the minute point where he got connected with all those people into guns. Now, some of the guns, they figured it would be a good place, these ones that were taken from the National Guard Armory, specifically the one in Oxnard, where better to hide them than in a religious institute? Well, Koresh got his hands on some of them; some of the 50 caliber machine guns ended up in his hands. One of the guys that is behind all of this thing, this goes way deep, is Lloyd Bentsen. Bentsen, as Secretary of the Treasury, is head of the Secret Service and BATF. This was the purpose for them going into Waco and getting these weapons and destroying any evidence because it would lead right back to Menachem Begin, and if it lead back to Menachem Begin and Mickey Cohen, then it would lead back to the Israeli government. All these guns had been transferred when Mickey Cohen went to jail and then Irving Rueben got his hands on them. And then some of them, as I say, went to Koresh in Waco. And that was the purpose of them doing what they did to Waco, to wipe out any evidence of this trail back to the National Guard Armories and to other people.

See what I mean? Caspar Weinberger—this was a desperation play.

Rick: What was Caspar Weinberger's involvement in that?

Gary: Caspar Weinberger was at this original meeting when Mickey Cohen and Menachem Begin went to Melvin Belli's house and...then Caspar Weinberger becomes Secretary of Defense in a powerful position where he can move government weapons and ammunition and most of it came from a place called Concord Naval Ammunition Dump right near Sacramento. When I was a Navy gunners mate, I was there in 1943. I was a second class gunners mate and we were loading ammunition there and, through certain events, I can tell you why that place blew up, you know. There were hundreds and hundreds of military personnel there and it blew up the next year after I left there, in 1944. Now, all of that Concord Naval Ammunition Station and another one in connection with it up in Hawthorne, Nevada—a good deal of the weapons that we are talking about going to South America and other places that they wanted them to go was under the direction of Caspar Weinberger and were loaded onto ships in Port Chicago on the Sacramento River. There was a whole bunch of records on the ship that was shipping out ammunition and arms from the Navy Ammunition Station there. Both sides of the case wanted these records and Caspar Weinberger wanted them dumped off the pier. They showed what ships were loaded, what guns and weapons, where they shipped to and would show him a liar, [about] him and Bush not knowing anything about Iran-Contra. Do you know any of these things I'm talking about?

Rick: No, I don't.

Gary: Well, that leads to a guy by the name of Brossnahan who owns one of the biggest law firms in San Francisco. He was appointed by Larry Walsh, the head of the special investigation authorized by Congress to look into the Iran-Contra deal when they were going to prosecute Weinberger. Well, Larry Walsh appointed Brossnahan as the chief prosecutor of Weinberger and he flew back to Washington and was preparing the case back there when it strikes all those people that were so involved in the dog-gone thing what it would lead back to—this is the reason for Waco and all that, and for Bush pardoning Caspar Weinberger so that it wouldn't go any further.

Brossnahan is a good friend of a guy (I can't remember his name right now; I'll think of it in a second) who was another powerful lawyer there at that earlier time. And this other lawyer, he was a good friend of Bobby Kennedy. In fact Bobby Kennedy was staying at this other lawyer's house—so the story goes—which is a lie, and he was supposed to be down carrying on with Marilyn Monroe and maybe having her killed.

They've got another book out here. I can't remember the name. The TV and everything else calls it a magnificent specimen of telling the story about Bobby Kennedy and the Kennedys with Marilyn Monroe. Alright, they have in there a story about Bobby Kennedy being seen driving up in front of Marilyn Monroe's house in a Cadillac convertible in the daytime, getting out and going in.

Well, this is the dumbest lie because at that time my partner and I and another informant that we had, were staked out on Marilyn Monroe's house. The guy that drove up in his Cadillac was this guy George Miscatelli that I was telling you about that was playing around with Marilyn Monroe and trying to get her in a motel and make secret records about what she knew about what JFK was going to do. At this time Menachem Begin and Israel wanted to know in the most dire way what JFK's reaction and relation was going to be to Israel. They were terribly concerned and they were very upset about the fact that he was going to give a lot of money all over the world to this Peace Corps thing and it would be more difficult for them. They wanted to get any information they could from Marilyn Monroe.

Rick: You mentioned Mishpucka. Is that the same thing as Mossad or is there a difference?

Gary: No, no, Mossad is their official intelligence organization like the CIA is our official intelligence service. Correct?

Rick: Yes.

Gary: And that's a government agency. Just look at it like we're talking about the Mafia. We are talking about a bunch of Italian hoodlums, correct?

Rick: OK.

Gary: And that's not government or anything else. That is what they call "the family". The Mishpucka, if you just look at the hierarchy of them, it's the same as the Mafia. They're far more sophisticated than the so-called Mafia ever thought of being. These people are in the government, every aspect of government, every fraternal organization in the United States or in the world, if you want to put it that way.

Rick: So, what is the essence of Mishpucka?

Gary: The Mishpucka, we are talking about Hollywood producers, top producers, multimillionaires, billionaires, call them, bond dealers and we could go on down the line, the head of the soap company, the head of everything.

Rick: Now when you mention the organization of Menachem Begin were you referring to specifically the Mishpucka?

Gary: Correct, correct, at that time. We are talking about 1958 to 1962 or so, where my partner and I were surveilling his activities in Southern California, Beverly Hills and Los Angeles along with Mickey Cohen, one of the biggest gangsters in California.

Rick: Now, who was Mickey Cohen linked to?

Gary: Everybody. Harry Pregerson specifically. In fact they were raised over in a place in east L.A. called City Terrace where all the Russian Jews immigrated in the early 20s and they set up their own.... You see, the Mishpucka don't mix with other people to a certain extent. They have their own—out there—I call them ghettos, like down at Fairfax and Beverly in Los Angeles. They group and they stay in there and they keep their own closed little thing going and it's my own personal observation that they basically have no loyalty to any country wherein they live. Their only loyalty is to the Mishpucka and their own country and their own ideology. We get that all over like we've got the Chinese and we've got all these other ethnic groups coming in from all over the world right now—Haitians, and whatever. They may tend to do the same thing but they don't have this deep-seated, deep-rooted thing in where they've got to take control.

They've played up this holocaust thing until it's just out of every proportion in the world, to put this guilt complex on the Christian people. They just literally rule our politicians and representatives by screaming this anti-semitic thing at them. And I have never had anybody, especially a Mishpucka, define anti-semitism. It appears to be anything where you look like you are going to get in their hair, then they drop it on you. But, ah, Mishpucka, you won't hardly be able to get a Jewish person to even say that word. They don't want that; if you notice in all our government agencies we've got a lot of publicity on the Chinese Triad, we've got the Japanese Jaccuza, we've got the Mexican Mafia, we've got the Italian Mafia, but never once do you hear anything about the Jewish Mishpucka and when they talk about a Jew who happens to be a well-known gangster and everybody knows it, they will say he is a member of "the mob". In other words, like the guy all of a sudden is an Italian and Mafioso. They are very clever at this thing of scapegoating and making phony trails involving a crime, having a phony trail leading to some other poor guy that doesn't know the slightest bit about what is going on. But to get back to what you were getting at, what was that again, what was that point?

Rick: Well, you have covered it. I was mainly asking if the Mishpucka is the same thing as the Mossad and you were explaining the difference.

Gary: Well, there are people, I mean, actually the Mossad has a word for the Mishpucka. The Mishpucka, the family, is your top overlying hierarchy of the entire thing. The Mishpucka over-rules everything.

Satanism

We will first run the cover letter:

Dear Dr. Young,

Although I certainly realize that you must be literally inundated by material from your many loyal Hatonn supporters, I thought that maybe you would nonetheless find this old article of mine of some special interest. As you can see, I wrote it almost 24 years ago—but I believe the subject matter is even more important today. I've also added some corrections and further information for your edification.

Shortly after publication of this article I not only received numerous death threats from the Satanists but went through several years of severe psychic attacks. There were also several attempts on my life. But with God's help I miraculously survived the worst. Altogether, over a four year period, I wrote 50 such exposés of many aspects of the Conspiracy we all face.

In another mailing to follow I will enclose some additional articles as well as a large Chart I have been working on covering the Satanic Conspiracy which will trace the very origins of evil on our planet Shan—fully a millennia before the Illuminati was ever heard of. Hope you enjoy the article.

For God, family and country, I am...(signature).

[H: I do not have in my possession the other referred-to documents but perhaps Dr. Young will check and see if he has them. You will find them illuminating. If not, perhaps D.G. will send them to my attention. Thank you.] {They haven't arrived yet.}

SATANISM:
A Practical Guide To Witch Hunting,
Part 1
by D.E.G.

[QUOTING:]

While a battalion of tough homicide detectives puzzled over the grisly manner in which the killers had dispatched their victims—using knives, guns, bayonets, and even a fork—the nation sickened to Press accounts of the gory "ritual" slayings. Horrifying reports of multiple stab wounds, hideous mutilations, and bloody hoods left over the heads of the victims added to growing apprehension already heightened by rumors of a practising "witch cult" seeking victims for performance of the "Black Mass". Such was the fear haunting Southern California in August of 1969 that terrified residents of Benedict Canyon added double-locks to their doors and hired private guards to protect their neighborhoods and homes.

After almost four months of intensive investigation, during which police and reporters were led through a nightmare world of drug cults, Satan worshippers, and "speed freak" emporiums where frenzied dancers cavorted before idols of the Devil, it became obvious to even the most skeptical that a terrifying new underground movement was already well established. It was a movement which stretched the length of the land and which embraced drugs, Devil worship, wanton sex, mutilation for pleasure, and ritual murder. It was a fantastic Twilight Zone inhabited by some of the most monstrous sadists and perverts imaginable. Here was a subterranean movement in which weird sexual aberrations were de rigueur, with Communism and revolution part of the cult.

Eventually police were drawn to a secluded area just twenty miles northwest of Beverly Hills, to the old Spahn Movie Ranch, a crumbling relic of a bygone era of celluloid cowboys and Indians. There, amid a cluster of filthy shacks near the foothills of the Santa Susanna Mountains, investigators picked up the trail of a cadre of drug-cult revolutionaries known as "The Family". Some months earlier they had moved on—to a heavily-fortified desert stronghold in the vastness of Death Valley. They said they were leaving to prepare for "the coming Revolution".

Police now knew they were searching for the members of a guerrilla commune, including more than a score of half-nude females, some with small children, and all addicted to narcotics. Here was a veritable harem controlled by an odd little psychopath named Charles Manson. It was now only a matter of time. That December second, the Los Angeles Times reported, "Police believe they have solved the Sharon Tate murder case and that an occult band of hippies...committed the five murders. Members of the band—a mystical, hate-oriented tribe of twentieth-century nomads—also suspected of the LaBianca—or 'copy-cat'—killings and at least four other comparably grotesque butcheries...."

Arrested and charged with an earlier torture-murder, a member of the "Manson Family" named Susan Atkins casually admitted complicity in the atrocities and named those of the cadre who had done the actual killing. Susan described how she and the others had carried out a frenzied orgy of torture and bloodshed at the direction of Charles Manson, a self-styled Satanist, hypnotist, and revolutionary. Susan told how Manson—who preferred to be known as "Satan"—had repeatedly warned her: "If you ever decide to leave [The Family], I'll take you and hang you upside down, and slit your throat, and use you as an example...." He was said to have threatened others of his execution squad with the command: "Follow my orders or meet a horrible death." Those he kept mesmerized with terror, drugs, acid-rock music, occult "magic", and rampant sex orgies, obeyed his every command without question.

Charles Manson meant business. He is a hardened criminal who has spent more than twenty of his thirty-five years in prison for such crimes as violation of the Mann Act, pandering, auto theft, etc. He was also somewhat of a musician and song-writer and ran with a rich Hollywood crowd as a friend of the The Beachboys, a well-known singing group. His attraction for them was a curious one. While a federal prisoner Manson became fascinated with the "black rites" and necromancy. Becoming an adept Satanist, he joined a London-based Satanist cult known as "The Process". Operating in both Los Angeles and Boston (headed by someone named Brother Malachi), this Devil cult has been working to "influence young persons, particularly American youngsters". Manson's Hollywood friends treated him as a Satanist guru. (Update note: The full name of this sicko group of perverts was then the Process Church of the Final Judgment, founded in 1962 in London by Satanists Robert and Mary Anne de Grimston. In 1974 it changed its name legally to the Foundation Faith Church after having been repeatedly linked to ritual murders of children. The current leader is one Rafael de Peyer.)

The revolutionary aspects of this business are particularly chilling. When Manson was arrested he called on a battery of well-known attorneys to provide him with legal aid. Among the legal defenders he sought were Lawrence Steinberg and George Shibley, both for many years members of the National Lawyers Guild, an organization cited by the House Committee on Un-American Activities as "the foremost legal bulwark of the Communist Party". Shibley, in fact, admitted to having represented Charles Manson as early as the mid-Fifties.

In his book The Killing of Sharon Tate Lawrence Schiller relates the experience of a hippy visitor to the desert headquarters of the Manson Family who told how its leader had talked repeatedly of promoting a revolutionary race war between negroes and whites. As commandant of his Death Valley outpost, Manson was said to have planned a guerrilla assault on Los Angeles to foment revolution by killing whites and laying the blame on Negroes. Susan Atkins said a Communist Black Panther, perhaps skeptical about the Manson scheme, was murdered, dismembered, and buried by Manson's ghouls somewhere on the Spahn Ranch. The hippy informant says Charles Manson told him "he was building a bunch of dune buggies. He said he was going to mount machine-guns on them. He said he would take his army of dune buggies and kill every white mother—every white pig..."

An admitted Red, Satanist cult leader Charles Manson is getting support from the Communists while awaiting trial on seven counts of murder.

And that last word, of course, is the one that Manson's assassins left scrawled in blood at the scene of each of their cult murders—"Pig". It is the term used by Communists and other revolutionaries to describe both policemen and "capitalists". Manson planned to start the bloodletting, as he said, and then just "sit back and watch the revolution." He had by then turned his followers into a cell of hard-core Marxists.

On January 10, 1970, less than a month after Charles Manson was captured by Los Angeles police, the revolutionary Communist Guardian carried a lengthy report of a "War Council" at Flint, Michigan, convened by the violent Weatherman faction of the Communist Students for A Democratic Society (SDS). During this important gathering not only were the vicious murders of Sharon Tate and the others praised by the Communists, but victorious chants of "Charlie Manson Power" and "Red Army Power" echoed through the hall. An admitted revolutionary Communist, former S.D.S. Interorganizational Secretary Bernardine Dohrn, then enthused from the rostrum: "Dig it, first they killed those pigs, then they ate dinner in the same room with them, then they even shoved a fork into a victim's stomach! Wild..." Comrade Bernardine, currently being sought by law enforcement officers for her role in the Communist riots which rocked Chicago in October 1969, was referring to the Manson cult's murder of Mr. and Mrs. Leno LaBianca.

To emphasize their solidarity with Charles Manson and Company, the S.D.S. Communists formally adopted "the fork"—or four-fingered salute—as a sign to be given interchangeably with their traditional clenched-fist salute.

On Page 20 of the revolutionary Berkeley Tribe for June 5-12, 1970, we learn of a two-hour visit in May between Communist Jerry Rubin and Charlie Manson in the latter's Los Angeles jail cell. Manson told Comrade Rubin: "I'm for the revolution. It's got to take place. The Panthers and the Muslims are part of the revolution. I approve of Weatherman's latest statement from the underground. The Revolution should tear down all the jails..." After the interview, said the report, Rubin visited each member of the Manson Family commune. The Underground Press, loaded with articles and ads promoting narcotics, homosexuality, Satanism, and witchcraft, has recently devoted front page coverage to the growing Red defense of Manson, proclaiming 1970 "The Year of the Fork."

Rumors of Satanist activity continue to haunt Southern California because of the odd link between the Sharon Tate coterie, the Manson Family, and the whole black occult "bag". It has been revealed by authorities that all five persons either stabbed to death or shot during the early morning hours of August ninth in the $200,000 estate rented by Sharon Tate and her husband [filmmaker Roman Polanski]—as well as those found to have committed the grisly murders—were involved in the illegal use or sale of narcotics. All were connected with a much larger cult of Hollywood personalities which is said to have met regularly for "sex-drug rituals". Found in the Tate mansion were black leather masks, whips, ropes, and chains—the "tools" of the Satanist cults. And in a car at the murder scene police discovered a quantity of cocaine, LSD, marijuana, and methedrine ("speed"). Both the victims and the killers were known for their active interest in "black magic" and other aspects of the occult.

From published news accounts one notes that Roman Polanski, husband of the slain

actress, had first come to Hollywood to make the controversial film Rosemary's Baby, a disquieting picture in which the lead actress (Mia Farrow) is raped and impregnated by the Devil, discovers that her husband, her doctor, and her next door neighbors are members of a "witches' coven" operating secretly in the heart of New York City and, finally, gives birth to a child of Satan. (Author's updated notation: Bernardine Dohrn, Jerry Rubin and Roman Polanski are Jews. And Sharon Tate was the daughter of a high-ranking officer in U.S. Military Intelligence, although this was not generally known.)

It is perhaps significant that Roman Polanski, an admitted atheist who attended schools in Communist Poland and became a noted movie director there, still travels on a Communist Polish passport. It is not without meaning that this "genius of the Polish cinema" had, as head of Cadre Films, Ltd., produced two export films entitled Repulsion and Cul de Sac, both of which promoted sexual perversion, sado-masochism, atheism, and witchcraft. Even more telling is the stirring comment on Comrade Polanski's tragic loss which appeared on August 19, 1969, in the Communist Daily World. He must be very important indeed. [H: If you find it difficult to believe this "old" stuff about good old Roman Polanski, I suggest you go look up his record SINCE this was written—his mo-leaving of young girls, etc.]

[END QUOTING OF PART ONE]

Let us keep the writings to a manageable length. We will continue with the subject of Polanski when we again write.

5/18/94 #2 HATONN

I purposely saved this opening copy to allow you to be fresh as you start into a new reading for it will refer of witchcraft and such as a big "thing". The facts are that most NEW AGE crafters will draw from the craft in one way or another in chanting, rituals and thus and so. I have spoken on this subject several times—each time offending many listeners who believe themselves to simply be reaching "higher consciousness" and other states of ecstasy while piddling about in something they think to be some sort of magic and without cause for alarm. The "white" witches, for instance, will say that they are totally in search of fulfilling goodness. I think you can see by this that is written over and over again and by the fact that "witches" are honored on Halloween and NOT as holy-goodness participants that it lends one to realize that there is danger to the moth who flies into and around this particular flame. Again, it is a practice of spiritual stuff in the most base of PHYSICAL antics.

When I speak on these subjects there are ones taking exception all the time—just as do ones when I say you don't need a guru or a priest/priestess or an ill-trained religious spouter of the tampered doctrines. And, perhaps YOU will be THE one who does not fall prey to the negative side of the teachings—however, I have yet to find anyone who does not pay dearly for the experiences—at some time, in some way in negative energy assumption needing cleansing or too late smart—in total loss of connection with true spiritual Truth.

The facts are that, when confronted within a setting of non-witchie believers, they will always deny connections—or loudly boast of attachments while deliberately defending the practices as being somehow "Godly". Sorry, the two things are simply not adjacent in the line of connections—they are at opposing ends of the extremes and, frankly, NEVER MERGE WITHIN EACH OTHER—EVER! So are you somehow OUT of my little circle if you choose to chant and do rituals? No—but if you cling to the adverse practices—I can't imagine why you would want to be in my presence at any time—anyway! Do what you will in free-will, but do not lie to self or others by saying it is "fine", "goodly" and thus and so. Further, there is no need to send up great smoke and fire against me—it is your business so why bother to argue if you are assured you are correct and I be wrong? Righteousness needs neither defending nor, certainly, argument.

Thank you for the delay in starting the copy of the article, SATANISM, but this discussion comes up over and over again. I always ask that you not inquire of ME as to your favorite Guru, Guide, Witch, Warlock or GOD. TRUTH will bear its own substance in Truth. If you learn your guidelines and check out these other practices and intents and what is expected of you in time, practice, zeal, input, subservience to another HUMAN PERSON and MONEY requirements (tithes, donations, etc.), you will soon be able to make your discern-ments pretty accurately. In other words, "What is exacted OF YOU, for what, to whom or what and WHY!" Do NOT, for instance, confuse a newspaper with God's laws. Or, God's workers WITH GOD! IF A THING BE OF PHYSICAL MANIFESTATION ON AN EARTH PLANE—IT IS NOT PERFECTION. GOD IS PERFECTION! IN GOD THERE IS CELEBRATION OF LIFE. IN WITCHCRAFT, EVEN THOUGH OFTEN TIMES NATURE IS EXALTED, DEATH IS THE CONSIDERATION AND, IF YOU CANNOT DISCERN THE DIFFERENCE, IT IS PAST TIME THAT YOU STUDIED YOUR LESSONS.

CONTINUATION OF SATANISM. An article from American Opinion, Sept. 1970. This is shared directly FROM the author whom we will identify only as DEG. We can consider this to be:

SATANISM:
A Practical Guide To Witch Hunting,
Part 2
by D.E.G.

SPEAKING OF POLANSKI,
WITCHES AND OTHER
CUTE TRICKS

[QUOTING:]

And surely it is not without meaning that Polanski chose as his technical advisor for Rosemary's Baby the much publicized founder and "high priest" of San Francisco's First Church of Satan, Anton Szandor LaVey—an ardent Socialist and radical. LaVey claims his goal is to so destroy organized religion as to supplant belief in God with worship of Satan. And he is getting plenty of support.

Not since the movie Bell, Book And Candle has the subject of witchcraft received such wild acclaim in the Establishment Press. In fact, since Polanski's Establishment-promoted "masterpiece" made the rounds, the interest in witchcraft has mushroomed unbelievably. Today, we see on television such popular shows as Bewitched and Dark Shadows; we note advertisements for Vincent Price's Witchcraft-Magic record album ("An Adventure In Demonology") released by Capitol Records; we read news accounts of a vicious motorcycle gang in Philadelphia called "The Warlocks"; we see advertisements for such films as Satan's Mistress; and, on and on. Witchcraft is the rage. As I write, a current song hit is Tom Jones' ballad, Daughter of Darkness.

Among the more offensive Satanist albums is one released by Mercury Records (Stereo SR61239) entitled Witchcraft Coven: Destroys Minds & Reaps Souls. For sheer vulgarity it has no equal. A complete Black Mass was recorded for the album, in which participants are heard breaking a crucifix and swearing allegiance to "our Lord Satan". After the solemn oath, we hear the words: "If I ever break this oath, I do now decree to have my throat cut, my tongue and heart torn out...and to be buried in the sand of the ocean that the waves of it may carry me away into an eternity of oblivion." Finally, the "high priest" threatens: "If you ever break this oath, we shall pronounce sentence upon you in the name of our Lord Satan...that you shall fall into dangerous disease and leprosy, and that in the sign of this vengeance, you shall perish by a terrifying and horrible death...." [H: This is really so bad—go recite the Masonic ritual oaths and if you want a REAL KICKER—YOU SHOULD BE PRESENT AT A SKULL AND BONES PARTY AT YALE WHERE THE BUSHES HOLD COURT! If it were not so deadly serious—it would be totally laughable that grown people could be so stupidly idiotic. These, however, are NOT games, readers, and ones who hold oath and allegiance to these rituals and practices are in control of your globe.]

Another hit album is the Rolling Stones' Beggars' Banquet. It includes a song called Symphony For the Devil, which declares: "I was around when Jesus Christ had His moment of doubt and faith; I made damn sure that Pilate washed his hands and sealed His fate." The Rolling Stones have long been a favorite at Communist rock festivals and rallies. Indeed, the group's "singer" [and leader], admitted bisexual Mick Jagger, earlier this year (1970) scored a motion picture about Devil worship entitled Invocation To My Demon Brother. Starring in the film as Lucifer is Bobby Beausoleil, one of the "Manson Family" arrested for the murder of Gary Hinman, a man who had opened his home to Charles Manson and Company. The lyrics to Midnight Rambler, one of Jagger's songs in the film, relate what happened to

on the walls of the murder scene. Oh yes, another featured star of Mick Jagger's Satanist film is Anton Szandor LaVey. (Author's updated notation: The Rolling Stones and other such British rock-groups were fielded 30 years ago by Gen. John Rawlings Rees, head of the Tavistock Institute For Humanistic Relations, headquartered in London. Their name is a clever takeoff (or put-on) of the name: Rawling's Tones. Jagger, a graduate of the Fabian Society's London School of Economics, is a long-time agent of the subversive Isis Urania Order of the Golden Dawn, an international drug ring controlled from London by Morris Strong, an officer of MI-6 [British Intelligence]. The Beatles were also fronting for this operation. [for more on this, see CONSPIRATORS' HIERARCHY, THE STORY OF THE COMMITTEE OF 300 by "Dr. John Coleman", p.4.] In fact, John Lennon was not only a homosexual drug addict—but a member of the Young Communist League of Liverpool, England. Truth IS stranger than fiction.)

Esquire for March 1970 devoted a 26-page feature section to "The Style of Evil" in California, in which it outlined the alarming growth of Satanism and witchcraft there. The authors noted that among the Beautiful People and their hippy retinue along the Sunset Strip it was in crowd knowledge that the Polanski mansion had been the scene of some pretty far-out "happenings" prior to the tragedy. One Strip affair was described to Esquire's Tom Burke by a young female singer from Los Angeles who claimed to have attended most of them. She relates how guests "were greeted at the door with a glass of their special hallucinogenic formula," and continues: "You went in and there were three altars. On two of them, these boys were tied with leather thongs. They were sobbing. These two faggots, dressed as nuns—one had a goatee—were beating them with big black rosaries. On the middle altar there was a very young girl. This guy wearing a goat's head had crushed a live frog on her privates. When I came in, he had just cut a little cross on her stomach; not deep, but the party had just started. I don't know how deep the cuts got, because, man, I split from there like Wonder Woman...."

What the singer describes is a version of the Black Mass as practised for centuries by Satanists the world over. She went on to explain how use of such drugs as LSD (acid) introduces weird perversions. When one starts taking daily acid trips, she related, "First you're Christ, then you're Lord of the Underworld." Another habitué of the Sunset Strip added there is also the odd fact that the killers from groovier." He was apparently speaking from experience, claiming to have taken 172 acid trips.

Next was a young Beverly Hills policeman who admitted that it just wasn't safe to travel his beat alone any longer because of the heavy Beatles, "influx of Satanist dope fiends". He was not scrawled alone in that opinion. As one deluded and in blood irreverent Californian put it: "The Second Coming has already come. Only J.C. didn't show up; Satan did. It hit Los Angeles first..." Terrifying as it sounds, that is exactly the way many of the pot-smoking hippies with whom your reporter has spoken feel about the matter. Thanks to their drug cult and an incredibly clever build-up by both the Establishment media and the Communist press, they're now turning on to what they call "The Lord Satan".

Commenting on the sudden rise of Satanist activity the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner reported on December 21, 1969: "Tales of witchcraft cults that sacrifice animals and turn humans into 'slaves of Satan' are coming out of the mountains that form a bucolic backdrop to the Northern California coastal town [of Santa Cruz]. Police are paying greater heed to these macabre stories in the aftermath of disclosures about the so-called 'black magic' practices of Charles Manson...." The Herald-Examiner then quotes a young inmate at the Santa Cruz County Jail who tells about "participating in fire dances and blood-drinking rites at nearby Boulder Creek...." In fact, says the report, "Investigators also tell of teenagers who described witchcraft initiation ceremonies in which participants must eat the entrails of an animal while its heart is still beating. There are also numerous reports of persons being placed under hypnotic-type spells by a head witch who slips LSD into ceremonial wine...."

Concerned about the slaughter of animals in these grisly rites, the director of the Santa Cruz Animal Shelter commented: "Whoever is doing this is a real expert with a knife. The skin is cut away without even marking the flesh. The really strange thing is that these dogs have been drained of blood." In San Jose, Chief of Detectives Barton Collins notes a horrifying application of this technique to humans. On August 2, 1969, two young girls were viciously stabbed more than three hundred times, says Collins, "Yet there was virtually no trace of blood where the victims' bodies were found."

There have been many murders in recent years not unlike the Manson Family atrocities. Describing just one of these, the London Sunday Pictorial of October 5, 1958, devoted several columns to the case of a "respected" citizen of Vineland, New Jersey, named Juan Aponte who, after having been arrested on a minor charge, surprised police by admitting a murder. A long-time student of black magic and voodoo, Aponte was found to have killed a thirteen-year-old boy during a Satanic ritual "by striking him a blow upon the back of the head and then strangling him with a cord...." He buried the body under the dirt floor in his home. Seven months later he dug up the body, cut off the head, and carefully dried it in a stove. Then he performed a hideous ritual with a lock of hair from the woman he desired, placing it within the skull of the sacrifice.

Frighteningly enough, six psychiatrists at the preliminary hearing in the Aponte case found him perfectly sane and rational—and he was convicted of the crime. He obviously knew full well what he was doing and why.

Another such case came to light in late November 1967. The U.P.I. report read as follows: "Two parents practicing black magic dipped their six-year-old son feet first into boiling water every two days during a month of torture, police said... 'When we recovered him, his feet were just globs of raw and bleeding flesh,' said Colonel Palma Cabral. 'The rest of his tiny body had been burned and cut....'"

The child's mother and father readily confessed to having tortured their son as part of a "witchcraft sacrifice" to the Devil. Like Manson and Aponte, they too were found "sane and rational". As practising Satanists they were advocates of what, next to Communism, has come to be the fastest growing criminal menace of our time. Indeed, in many instances of record, the two are not at all exclusive. [H: And keep in mind—this was noted a quarter of a century AGO!]

One of the most striking examples of this developed during the early Fifties when Communist Jomo Kenyatta led a murderous band of guerrillas in a bestial rampage of death and destruction aimed at Kenyan blacks. These were the incredibly savage Mau Mau, a "blood brotherhood" which had the full support of Russian and Indian Communists whose goal was to take control of the British protectorate of Kenya. In doing so, Comrade Kenyatta used a foul blend of black magic and jungle witchcraft to influence and control the Kikuyu, largest of the tribes in Kenya. The Communist-led Mau Mau took stomach-wrenching blood oaths and forced unwilling tribesmen, under threat of unspeakably revolting tortures, to do the same. Charles Lefebure notes in Blood Cults (Ace Publishing Co., New York, 1969, Page 23) that Mau Mau ceremonies included "forced cohabiting with animals, the drinking of...blood, cannibalism, eating the brains of disinterred corpses, and many other practices." All who resisted—and even many of those who did not—were brutally tortured and killed, their bodies then mutilated beyond printable description. All in the cause of the Communist revolution. The same process was repeated (unsuccessfully) in Angola where hideous Satanist atrocities were perpetrated against whites and blacks by the drugged cut-throats of Communist Holden Roberto, and again in the Congo where the witch-cult slaughter was directed by Communist Patrice Lumumba—this time with the aid of the United Nations.

During the late Fifties and early Sixties, Satanist cults made headlines around the world, achieving considerable notoriety especially in Europe. Eric Maple notes in The Domain Of Devils (A.S. Barnes & Company, New York, 1966): "In 1959 a society of black magicians was exposed in Switzerland. Under the direction of their high priest, the members of the cult had practised terrible rites and sexual perversions with the object of raising demons. One of the rooms used by the society was discovered to be fully equipped as a torture chamber. Not even the imagination of de Sade could have conceived of such a realistic application of sadistic principles. [H: Except, of course, the Government with its PROJECT MONARCH!] Many of the cult members, young girls, were almost demented when rescued...." Such was the case, you may remember, with many of Comrade Manson's "slaves".

A product of Mercury Records, this popular album presents the first Black Mass ever recorded. The back of its jacket declares that to Satanists "the most effective sacrifice is an unbaptized baby."

In 1962, reports of the large-scale revival of witchcraft in Germany caused a prominent Munich doctor to remark: "Tens of thousands of people now believe in witches." The following spring, in Bedfordshire, England, "No less than nine graves had been desecrated and the exhumed skull of a girl had been impaled upon a spike during a hideous ceremony akin to necromancy." That November, pressed to reinstate the laws against witchcraft which had been removed from the Statute Books in 1951, Britain's Home Secretary said he "refused to turn back the clock to 1735...." Yet the following year, in October 1964, the revival of a particularly grisly form of Satanism called "death witchcraft" caused yet another sensation in the heart of "Witch Country" at Rockford, Essex. Search magazine estimated in January 1968 that there were 12,000 actively practising witch-cultists in Great Britain. [H: So, how many would you "guess" in 1994?]

Why the revival of witchcraft? Upon publication in 1921 of The Witch Cult in Western Europe by Margaret Alice Murray (Clarendon Press, London) the public horror at witchcraft was generally eased. As a respected British Egyptologist and folklorist, the late Dr. Murray did more to influence the growth of modern Satanism than any other author of this century. As an apologist for witchcraft she claimed that those practising "The Craft" were merely reenacting ancient pagan rituals which in no way involved the worship of Satan. [H: Does this sound a bit like "old Salem" today where the witches are THE neatest tourist attractions?] They were, she said, practising the "Wica", a "religion" as old as man himself. Dr. Murray has been aided in her defense of witchcraft by such authors as Jules Michelet (Satanism And Witchcraft, 1939), Geoffrey Parrinder (Witchcraft, 1958), and Justine Glass (Witchcraft, The Sixth Sense—And Us, 1955).

Numerous other books, of course, have been written by self-proclaimed "witches" pursuing this same line. Some of these include: A Mirror Of Witchcraft by Christina Hole; Diary Of A Witch by Sybil Leek; and Witchcraft Today by Dr. Gerald Gardner. All of these, and many others, are today being pushed in bookstores across the nation. Not only has the largest of these outlets, Brentano's of New York, recently opened a "Boutique of the Occult", but practically every other major bookstore has followed—including nearly all of the Communist bookstores! The obvious question is—Why?

The Egyptian occultist, Rollo Ahmed, presents an excellent analysis of Satanist cults in his Complete Book of Witchcraft. He notes that: "Many people famous in history are mentioned as having had dealings with witchcraft...." Ahmed names Sextus (the "decadent son of Pompey"), Benvenuto Cellini, Catherine de Medici, and the Count de Cagliostro. In ancient Rome both Nero and his mother had reputations for sorcery and the sadistic Emperor showed his disdain for Christians by "illuminating his gardens with flambeaus of living men and women soaked in burning pitch." Many centuries later, in 1440, Gilles de Raiz and his sorcerer, Francis Prelati, were executed for indulging themselves in "the most hideous practises of the black art imaginable, in which the mutilation, torture, rape and murder of little children of both sexes played a large part...."

In 1610, the infamous Hungarian Countess and Satanist, Elizabeth Bathory, was tried and executed after the bodies of some fifty girls were found chained in the cellar of her castle. The noted journalist William Seabrook tells us in his book, Witchcraft, that the Countess had a quirk about bathing regularly in fresh, human blood.

During the reign of Louis XIV (in 1676), a riot broke out in Paris over the appalling disappearance of children. Four years later, a Satanist named Catherine Deshayes (La Voisine) was executed after investigators found her furnace loaded with the remains of scores of children. This woman and her henchman, the Abbé Guibourg, were proved to have sacrificed at least 2,500 children over the years at their abominable black Masses. Police found on the premises rare books dealing with black magic and candles made of human fat. Catherine Deshayes' own daughter testified to having witnessed some of the hideous ceremonies.

Such was the demonic current of the times, says the authoritative Rollo Ahmed, that "An enormous number of monks and priests gave themselves up to sorcery, and there was no lack of apostate priests to perform the ceremonies of the Black Mass." A similar observation is made by Ronald Seth in his Witches And Their Craft (Award Books, New York, 1969). Both authors write of the Abbé Lemignan, a vicar of St. Eustace in Paris, who was convicted after having "dedicated and sacrificed children to Satan," and of Abbé Cotton, who was found to have "baptized a child in holy oil, strangled him and offered his corpse as a sacrifice to the Devil." Far from being wild imaginings, these cases are carefully documented history. Although many writers quote extensively from such questionable works as Malleus Maleficarum (Hammer Of Witches) written in 1486 by the fiendish Inquisitioners Jacob Sprenger and Henricus Institor, carefully detailed and scholarly proofs can be found in Francesco Mario Guazzo's Compendium Maleficarum written in 1608, Johannes Nider's Fornicarius written in 1517, and the Errores Gazariorum published in 1450. Another good source is Bartolomeo de Spina's Tractatus de Stringibus et Lamiis, written in 1533, which describes how the Witches' Sabbaths of the Middle Ages—just as the acid-rock Satanists of today—carried on their affairs while "harsh, strident music droned all about them."

[END QUOTING OF PART TWO]

No, we aren't finished with the article in point, but I will break it into manageable portions so my scribe isn't stuck with this dreary duty too long at a time.

If you are under the impression that I am going to now lecture on the sins and evils of playing in such games—forget it for I am NOT. My job is to present the information—YOURS TO DO WITH IT THAT WHICH YOU WILL. I judge not any man but I take careful discernment with actions as they are projected. I would, parents, keep close watch over your children and selves—for these deeds are being carried out by ones who will shock you into unbelieveability and the prime target is, of course, the innocent and untouched child. I repeat, I am not here to argue, debate or deliberate for man of Earth physical expression has free-will of choices. However, at some point it may well be that the "normal in action" man will one day rise up against you who perpetuate and perpetrate these grossly evil activities which, in fact, bring harm and damage upon ANOTHER and shall cause you to be drawn and quartered in your own places of evil.

I will, however, again point out that I do not invite you who play in these games to be my table-mate nor my guide. I have no need to invite you within those places wherein I AM nor should any of those who function in attempts at righteousness have need to allow you your practice in their places. I have had ones who rise up in total indignation when they are not "called" to a meeting when we share. We do not have any group, gathering as such or public anything. No one has right in the places wherein ones are working than would anyone have right to come and ENTER YOUR HOME OR BUSINESS and demand entrance, participation or invitation. If you want a "cult", "commune", "church" or other—go where that is the point for ye shall NOT FIND IT HERE! There is constantly the enemy among the various places of business and I am amazed at the attitude of those who are in charge of such business facilities in the ALLOWING of any and all to come, to manage, to presume structuring and then demanding attention and graciousness. In any other BUSINESS SETTING OR MEETING—you would call the local police for trespass. So be it—one day your total "allowances" shall rise up to smite you in your own face. God is NOT UNCONDITIONAL—GOD HAS A WHOLE SET OF CONDITIONS! May HE grant you the wisdom to know the difference...!

MOVIN' ON...

If we might just skip this evening's meal, Dharma, we can get another portion of this article to print and have a head start tomorrow. There simply will have to be enlargement of the paper to handle these increased offerings and urgent outlays. Readers will simply have to keep up or go behind for the reclamation squads are picking up steam and we will be right there to offer the locomotion and locomotive. We have one who has offered to fund the work in full and, since he has the most input these days, we are humbly grateful. All we have to do is get him out of his prison cell wherein he is being kept—hopefully silent—but incredibly LOUD AND OUT-SPOKEN. It seems strange to me that the ones who most want silence go about TRYING TO GET IT in such a stupidly insidious way. The thing most overlooked by these bulldozing crooks and thugs is that they forget THAT THERE ARE STILL LAWS...EVEN THOUGH THEY BE WEAK AND OVERRUN.

It will likely come to the point that CONTACT will begin to be published in several places around the country under different logos, etc. Some will be in full conjunction with others and most will be separate AND IN CONJUNCTION to protect BOTH entities. Very informed personages are coming forward having been under the gun for their work for long—to share, join in and begin to bring legal actions. We can go to a daily paper if necessary, with adequate funding, but it would seem wiser to scatter the output so that ALL cannot be silenced as the big boys manage to silence one or some. Already the information is scattered in MANY places in safe-keeping to protect the resources and persons. And, readers, YOUR KNOWLEDGE AND SUPPORT IN SHARING ARTICLES, LOVING ENCOURAGEMENT AND “JUST KNOWING” IS THE GUARANTEE OF SUCCESS AND BLANKET OF SECURITY. For instance, it behooves ones, who are Dharma’s enemies, to secure her to their best advantage in all possibilities—for guess TO WHOM AND WHERE the finger will be pointed should she be damaged. The same with Rick, AND THE SAME WITH JACKSON, E.J., WEAN AND ON AND ON...! Even the Jerry Spences of the nation will begin to see that the ones he has turned FROM at the information given as input by the deceivers, will have to look unto the lamps now burning and SEE! Spence has given some of the best Constitutional LAW observations to his peers (well, he actually has very few “peers” being an outspoken and daring LAWYER in the field). As you see the unfolding and the truth of the ones with the sword of truth and the battering received by these ones—shame will fall upon the ones who listened to the deceivers and refused to take the hand of the needy and walked to the front WITH THEM.

Well, good readers, there are OTHERS and now there will be funding made available to attend some of these who struggle against all odds and YOU THE PEOPLE SHALL AGAIN BE HEARD! The “few” who have walked this daring mile ask no “attention”—they ask that YOU STAND IN KNOWING AND DEMAND YOUR NATION AND YOUR FREEDOM—THEY ASK NOT HOMAGE—in fact you will note that even “dharma” ceases to appear on the journals and it will be only a short while before her name and the names of these others are but historical mentionings in long-forgotten volumes of discrediting legal forms. The Ekkers, and hundreds like them, want no notoriety—only a regaining of Truth and Freedom, one nation under God, with Liberty and JUSTICE for all out from under the tyranny of the controlling evil Committees of control, deceit and enslavement.

Indeed, many will be remembered by their labels for they will be as the past “important” persons in “history” who can affix their names to that which represents foundation and freedom—AND, he who shall deny Truth unto a brother for his own reward—shall languish in the sea of forgotten persons who, if remembered at all, will be remembered as the treasonists and disinformation-misinformation toads that they ARE! He who holds the WORD of TRUTH hostage or causes it to be removed from ALL mankind shall reap most bitter rewards for their citizen brother will pull them from their self-proclaimed perches atop the podiums of lies and half-truths. I remind you of the French Revolution—it was ACTUALLY a revolt against the JUSTICE SYSTEM OF LAWYERS AND JUDGES AND CONTROLLING POLITICIANS—BY WHATEVER LABEL YOU CHOOSE TO USE—AND THEY CAME DOWN WHEN THE MASSES STOOD UP! WOULD IT NOT BE BETTER TO GAIN TRUTH AND FREE-DOM AGAIN, THROUGH THE LAW AND NOT THROUGH THE BLOODY SWORD? I TELL YOU NOW, THAT EITHER WAY—IT SHALL COME TO PASS AND IT WILL NOT BE BY MY HAND—IT SHALL BE BY YOURS!

There are some able and observant speakers and writers already doing all they can to inform and “alarm” you. One of these writers has written an Editorial in a small paper she presents. As in the CONTACT or any other paper, there is much amiss, much personal and some errors and lots of “omissions”—but Virginia Meaves of WISCONSIN REPORT, VOL. XIX, No. 19, Thursday, May 5, 1994, has written an editorial comment: “Why is there so much killing? What are the super planners afraid of?” which bears reprinting. We will do so following this present offering of SATANISM. Wisconsin Report continues to rerun the work and offerings of Dr. Peter Beter which in themselves makes the paper worthy of full subscription numbers of every citizen seeking the truth of your conspirators’ hierarchy.

How fortunate to now have ones coming forth willingly hooking up those brave offerings of how it was, only a short while ago, into and through the workings of then and now! I need not be a sooth-sayer or speaker of revelation—IT IS ALL ABOUT YOU AND NOW YOU SHALL HAVE THE ONES COME FORTH AND TELL THE TRUTH OF IT—AND, YOU SHALL BE GIVEN TO SEE—IF YOU BUT LOOK. THEN, BELOVED FRIENDS, WE CAN MOVE ON INTO THAT WONDROUS STRETCH CALLED SPACE AND INFINITY WHICH IS ALREADY PRESENT BUT HIDDEN FROM YOUR SEEKING EYES AND BENEFICIAL “HAVING”. AH INDEED, IT SHALL BECOME A TIME OF THE BROTHERHOOD OF MAN—IF YE TARRY NOT!

Please now, back to the presentation:

SATANISM:
A Practical Guide To Witch Hunting,

[QUOTING:]

INQUISITION

Although the “Holy” Inquisition started by Pope Gregory XI in 1374 was instituted to stop the foul deeds of the witch cults and save children from brutal deaths at the hands of Satanists, it became perverted into the most pitiless and ferocious institution of its kind until the rise of Communism and Nazism over five hundred years later. The Inquisition indiscriminately condemned men, women, and children to the flames after submitting them to the most ghastly tortures. [H: In this manner the “saviours” became worse than the original offenders. Will you, too, cause the same as you turn over the evil-mongers? If YOU are no better than the evil that sets its hand upon you—you too shall perish in like manner as YOU are overthrown.] Not only were practising witches and black magicians burnt at the stake, but also innocent children whose parents had dedicated them to Satan, wandering Bohemians (gypsies) whose clairvoyance seemed suspicious, and even lonely old women whose only crime was that they appeared to fit the popular description of a witch. [H: Again, upon your place it will be a bad show-and-tell for those who proclaim themselves to be Satanists and witches, etc., for the masses of human, ordinary men shall pull you apart in their urge to destroy the demons you have created and represent in yourselves—no matter how tiny the participation or degree. This is the nature of the human—to destroy that which he despises and does not understand. I suggest you who ponder these things in your “unconditional allowances” of all things—give careful thought to this for the “mob” has NO RULE.]

Of course we could go on and on detailing the atrocities committed by both Satanists and Inquisitioners alike. But, the documentation available in over two million volumes on Satanism and witchcraft in public libraries all over the United States, as well as in the countless volumes found throughout the world in such collections as the one in the archives of Bayonne, France, leave no doubt that the actual practise of witchcraft is an historical fact of no small political importance.

The London Times of October 7, 1931, related a modern equivalent of what took place with regularity during the Middle Ages. The Times says a “horrible scandal of graveyards desecrated for black magic” was that fall sending a chill of terror throughout Scandinavia. It reported that police suspected “they were dealing with black magic” when they found more than forty bodies had been exhumed and mutilated by a local mortician named Saarenheim, a practitioner of necromancy, the raising of dead spirits for evil purposes. Horrified authorities believed, says the London Times, that this Saarenheim was a member of an immense and secret black magic fraternity—an international Satanic society.

For untold centuries nearly every nation has from time to time witnessed the rise of strange and demented cults whose chief preoccupation was Satan worship and black magic. While some of these groups were holdovers from some dim, pagan past, others were secret political organizations which sprang up around opposition to the powerful Catholic Church and operated in such a fashion as to invoke the wrath of both clerical and secular leaders everywhere in Europe.

Richard Cavendish’s invaluable book, The Black Arts, points out how as long ago as 1184 members of a Satanic cult known variously as the Vaudois were operating in Europe and were accused of cannibalism and Devil worship by the Church. Two hundred years later the Inquisition uncovered members of this same group near Turin who “held religious services followed by orgies and on initiation the candidates had to drink a potion made of toad’s excrement...” Cavendish says, “They acquired such a reputation that sorcery became popularly known in France as vauderie and witches as vaudoises (and this is the origin of the word ‘Voodoo’).” They survive as a sect to this day.

In 1227 A.D. the Pope sent Conrad of Marburg to Germany where “rumours circulated of the hideous Satanic rites practised by a sect...called Luciferans.” In Jules Loiseleur’s La Doctrine Secrete des Templiers (1872) we learn that the Luciferans worshipped a black cat (a symbol of Satan) and “at their horrible nocturnal orgies sacrifices of children were made and their blood used for making the Eucharist bread of the sect.” And in Secret Societies And Subversive Movements Nesta Webster writes: Styria, the Tyrol, and Bohemia, even as far as Brandenburg; by the beginning of the thirteenth century it had invaded western Germany, and in the fourteenth century reached its zenith in that country, as also in Italy and France...." From 1432 to 1440, she relates, "literally hundreds of children disappeared," because of this movement.

During that same period, Pope Innocent III organized an armed crusade against a mystical group in the south of France called the Cathars, or Albigenses, [H: The author has stricken the following from the article and made comments. I will present the original and add the comments. The original script will be here in italics.] who worshipped the Devil in the form of a goat and slaughtered children whom they kidnapped for sacrificial purposes. The Cathars derived inspiration from a Satanic sect in Russia known as the Bogomiles. C.W. Heekethorn writes in Secret Societies of All Ages And Countries (1897) that the Bogomiles were an early Communist movement. [H: You who have studied and know what and who are the Khazars must also realize that the "Cathars" are approximately the SAME in every detail—from origin BUT WERE ACTUALLY "CHRISTIAN" IN PRACTICE—ONLY TO BE OVERTAKEN BY THE KHAZARS. These Khazars are the ones who, in the 1300s took the religion of the later-to-be-called-"Jews" (1770s). They were not and are not "Semites" (Shemites from the tribe of Shem) and they stole the heritage of a now recognized Middle Eastern people. They are pronounced and publicly SELF-PROCLAIMED group who are "Zionists" and ACT on the basis of the Manifesto called PROTOCOLS OF ZION-AND—have every intention of becoming monarchical rulers (slave-masters) in a One World Order devoid of GOD! They are your self-proclaimed ANTI-CHRIST! THE "CATHARS" and Bogomiles were caught in the flood, so to speak—JUST AS ARE YOU, OF WHATEVER RACE OR TRIBE YOU CLAIM.]

(AUTHOR'S NOTE: A LONG OVER-DUE CORRECTION: The Cathars & Bogomiles were actually underground Christian sects which were opposed to the pagan rites and trappings of the Catholic Church—and were thus ACCUSED of being worshippers of the Devil—by the Pope.

Another such group which later was operative in Russia was the Skoptsi—"The Castrators", formed circa 1757 among radical so-called Christian members of an earlier group, the Sect of the Flagellants—a people who mutilated themselves as part of their off-beat religion. But they were not actually Satanists. The Skoptsi, please note, are the "tough Christian sect of Russians" which Dr. Beter and Hatonn have told us have finally overthrow the Khazar Bolshevik Jews!) [H: Well, they haven't YET overthrown them—but they have the POWER and the full technology to accomplish EXACTLY that and they will not be gentle. When you say the "Russians are coming" it may not yet be a gentle overthrow of things you love and desire. Communism itself was started (created) by Jews of the Bolshevik tribes

(Khazars) and they have now flooded the world. It is said that the United States is now THE actual home and state of "Israel"—home of the "Jews". This does not bode well for the populace for I remind you—there was NO SUCH THING AS "JEW" IN HISTORY OR IN BIBLICAL TRUTH UNTIL IT WAS ADDED INTO THE TAMPERINGS OF THE SO-CALLED HOLY BOOKS. MOST "JEWS" HAVE NO IDEA...! It is THIS INFORMATION that the Elite controllers FEAR in revelation—not numbers in a "Holocaust" of some kind. This is why the "hate-crime" LAWS—so that

ONLY PHYSICAL EXPRESSION! Soul, however, lost to this dimension of Satanic allegiance—is lost in a Godless, void of darkness—at passage. Would GOD of Light ALLOW SUCH A VOID? Indeed—for each CHOOSES and the absence of God and Light—IS HELL, my friends.

I am not here to preach "salvation", "rapture" or anything of the kind as relates to "RELIGION" for it is "religion" that has destroyed you—through the doctrines put forth BY MAN and presented as IF they are the rules of GOD—no, sorry, little sheeple, YOU KNOW GOD'S LAWS AND THEY IN NO WAY RESEMBLE ANYTHING THAT IS FOISTED UPON YOU IN YOUR "RELIGIOUS" CIRCLES OF "ALLOWANCE" OF ALL ACTIONS, ALL MANNERS OF BEHAVIOR AND ULTIMATELY DONE IN THE NAME OF "MODERNIZING" EXPRESSION. YOU HAVE ABOUT "MODERNIZED" YOURSELF INTO THAT "HELL" EXPRESSED ABOVE!]

In 1307, French and English members of the Order of the Knights Templar came under attack and were formally charged with "stamping, spitting or urinating on crucifixes; homosexual vice; and ritual homosexuality on admission to the Order." [H: Any of this sound like something out of last year's inquiries? How about yesterday's or today's?] (On Page 273 of Eliphas Levi's Hostore de la Magie the Templars are described as "those terrible conspirators [who] threatened the whole world with an immense revolution.") Founded in 1118 at Palestine to protect the Holy Sepulchre, they became extremely wealthy and powerful after their wars with the Saracens. And, as the occultist Manly Palmer Hall noted in 1949 in his The Adepts In The Western Esoteric Tradition, "The knights were...accused of adoring a curious deity in the form of a monstrous head or a demon in the form of a goat. This idol, named Baphomet, the goat of Mendes, has been called the secret god of the Templars." (Several passages in the Old Testament mention a cult which copulated with goats, their leader being chief of the seirim, or goat-demons. [See Leviticus 18:23 and 17:7.) A similar cult is known to have existed during Plutarch's time in Egypt where a divine he-goat was worshipped at Mendes as a sex symbol.) One of the best known occultists in the world, Hall, looks favorably upon such groups truth cannot be published or spoken! Again, I remind you that I only present historical fact—I have no part in interference or intervention—SAVE TO BRING THE "WORD". You may take it or deny it for it is your journey and your experience—but I suggest you quit blaming GOD of Creation and Christed LIGHT for your failure or refusal to SEE AND HEAR. Satan, dear ones, is the antithesis (opposite) of the Christed intent and is ruler, if you will, of the human senses of PHYSICAL expression—the passing fancy of a few years of perceived experience. In the reality of existence—GOD WINS! THAT MEANS THAT SATAN LOSES—IN FACT HAS ALREADY LOST—FOR HE IS RESTRICTED TO THE PLACES OF ILLUSION—THE PLANES OF as these, which he claims are part of a "humanist" movement which has continued down through the centuries and will eventually emerge under one name or another as—and these are his words—"the Invisible Government of the World".

Pursuing the history of secret societies, Rollo Ahmed tells of a Satanic group "founded in Westphalia and called the Vehmgericht (in France, the Saint Vehme)...." This "terrible and mysterious band of men" operated in an area of Germany known as the "Red Territory" and committed atrocious acts. Founded in the middle of the Thirteenth Century, they eventually reached a membership of at least 100,000 initiates and held tremendous political power in Germany. Sir Walter Scott wrote of the terror perpetrated by this Satanist organization, and Arkon Daraul states on Page 251 of his History of Secret Societies (Citadel Press, New York, 1962): "...even in the nineteenth century it was said that they still existed, though very much underground." [H: Ah, and they do—but just WHO might they be after?]

In 1453, a sect known as the Brethren of the Cross, which practised flagellation and celebrated orgies as part of its ritual, was discovered in Thuringia. The members claimed to believe "that Satan would regain his lost power and place, and would expel Christ from heaven." One of the foulest of these groups sprang up towards the end of the Eighteenth Century at Linburg. Known as "The Goats", these Satanists met at night in secret chapel to perform the Black mass, "after which they put on masks of goats with long gowns and set out in bands to commit rape and murder.... The tribunal of Foguemont over a period condemned four hundred of this society to be hanged, but the Goats were not stamped out till 1780."

As we have noted, a number of Satanic cults grew to such a degree and achieved such tremendous wealth and power that in time they began to wield mighty political influence in Europe. Such was the case with a Satanic organization, created in 1748 in England, which in later years virtually ran the British Empire.

Founded under the name, "The Friars of St. Francis of Wycombe", in honor of its creator and leader Sir Francis Dashwood, a wealthy member of parliament, it became known as "The Hell-Fire Club" because of its similarity to a "defunct" Satanist group which had operated in London some years earlier. According to Daniel P. Mannix's history of that organization, The Hell-Fire Club (Ballantine Books, New York, 1959), it was "an association dedicated to Black Magic, sexual orgies, and political conspiracies...." Anton LaVey claims the author of The Hell-fire Club, Daniel P. Mannix, as a life member of this First Church of Satan in San Francisco. HE MAKES THE SAME CLAIM OF NEWSWEEK'S NICK KAZAN.

HELL-FIRE CLUB

The members of the Hell-fire Club were nearly all closely connected with the government and included such influential persons as Sir Francis Dashwood, the Chancellor of the Exchequer; The Earl of Sandwich, First Lord of the Admiralty (one of the most important men of the time, whose control of the English Navy and friendship with the King "exerted a profound influence on the destiny of the British Empire"); the Earl of Bute, the Prime Minister of England (he played a large part in training the boy who became King George III); Thomas Potter, son of the Archbishop of Canterbury ("an ardent Satanist [who] wrote psalms for the Black Mass ceremonies"); and, Paul Whitehead, the "Atheist Chaplain" and Secretary of the Club who acted as sexton during the Black Masses (a composer of blasphemous "hymns," he was its "brains and backbone").

Perhaps the most notorious of the lot, however, was a bisexual transvestite known as the Chevalier D'Eton, an expert swordsman who was "an undercover agent for Louis XV of France and conspired with several of the brotherhood...to overthrow the throne." Other Hell-Fire Club members included the Lord Mayor of London, the Prince of Wales, several of England's greatest artists (Hogarth) and poets. (Author's Note: Mannix also stated that Benjamin Franklin [under the name "Brother Benjamin of Cookham"] was also a member. It appears, however, that Mannix was lying.)

At its headquarters on Dashwood's estate at West Wycombe, some thirty-three miles northwest of London, the members of the Hell-Fire Club engaged in depraved sexual rites carried out over a span of more than twenty years. Having outfitted a network of underground grottos for this purpose, Dashwood often presided over Black Masses where the body of a naked woman was used as an altar and the unholy congregation "drank the sacrificial wine from her navel." During these ceremonies, "The crucifix was inverted and black candles were burned [while]...lamps of lewd design were used." To summon up the forces of evil, herbs were burned in braziers: "belladonna, hemlock, henbane, verbena, and mandrake—all powerful narcotics". [H: By golly—sounds a lot like the "Bohemian Grove" children, doesn't it? This, of course, is the club which meets annually on the West Coast (made up of the most important men in your imaginings). They go to "piss on trees—naked" and such the like. Doesn't it make you feel secure? These include such as Kissinger, your presidents and on and on and on go the listings—!]

Upon the death of King George II in 1760, and after the 21-year-old son of Prince Fritz had ascended the throne as George III, members of the Hell-Fire Club became all-powerful in Britain.

[QUOTING:]

VENEREAL DISEASE AMONG THE ELITE OF THE HELL-FIRE CLUB

During the considerable period that these practicing Satanists maintained their grip on the British Empire, they managed to infect an enormous number of their prominent members and guests with venereal diseases, many of whom eventually died from such infections. The Earl of Sandwich, for example, who later became head of Cambridge [University], controlled the Royal Navy while his mind was affected by syphilis. It wasn't until 1763, however, that the cult was finally exposed to the public when a curious book by Charles Johnson, entitled Chrysal, Or The Adventures Of A Guinea, laid bare their conspiracies. That same year, an outcast member of the cult named John Wilkes attempted to raise "the banner of revolt against the entrenched classes who were running the nation"—and failed. Although supported by a shocked citizenry, he was declared an outlaw by the members of the Hell-Fire Club in the Parliament and forced to flee to France.

In 1781, after an incredible life of wanton debauchery and Satanist perversion, Sir Francis Dashwood died at the age of seventy-three. The immoral activities and conspiracies of Dashwood and the Hell-Fire Club had polluted an empire.

While all of this was undermining the British Empire, a similar conspiracy was being created in Germany. This was the infamous Order of the Illuminati, among the most successful of all such conspiracies.

Founded in Bavaria on May 1, 1776 by Adam Weishaupt, a young professor of Canon Law at Ingolstadt University, the secret Order of the Illuminati recruited some of the best-known intellectuals of the day, men of wealth and following. A considerable number of the "Brothers", addicted to the teachings of Rousseau and Voltaire, were reigning princes, noblemen, prominent educators, scholars, scientists, and men of letters. All pledged blind obedience to their superiors and only knew about the secret Order what their immediate superiors told them. The purpose of the Illuminati—though ostensibly to bring universal happiness to the human race—was revealed by degrees as members progressed through the ranks. As it turned out, the more bold, ruthless, and immoral the member, the faster his rise to the top.

(Author's note: Weishaupt, a Jew, was born on Feb. 6, 1748, and was most likely a homosexual (according to the evidence). He was born the same year as the Dashwood group was founded. Exactly 100 years later—to the very day—the Communist Manifesto was issued by the League of Just Men—an Illuminati front headed by Horace Greeley, Charles Dana, and Clinton Roosevelt, in New York City. Exactly 100 years after that the Marxist State of Israel began to legally function—as a bloody thorn in the side of the TRUE SEMITES, the Arab peoples of Palestine.)

And what was the purpose of Weishaupt's Order of the Illuminati? Its purpose was to RULE THE WORLD! The principal sources of information regarding Weishaupt's Illuminati, which have been all but ignored by contemporary historians, are Professor John Robison's Proofs Of A Conspiracy, first published in 1798, and the Abbé Augustin Barruel's impressive four-volume study, Memoirs Illustrating The History Of Jacobinism, published in 1799.

Though trained as a Jesuit, Adam Weishaupt somehow developed a vast loathing for all forms of religion, and his Order followed in the footsteps of the supposedly disbanded Knights Templar. One year following the formation of the Illuminati, Weishaupt joined the Society of Freemasons and was invited into the Lodge Theodore of Good Counsel at Munich. After taking over the Munich Lodge, the Illuminists used Freemasonry as both a cover and a vehicle for their own purposes. Within a few years the Order had expanded far beyond the borders of Bavaria with secret lodges all over Europe. It is even known to have spread to America. On October 24, 1798, President George Washington confirmed this in a letter in which he warned of the "Diabolical tenets" of the Illuminati.

(Author's note: Contrary to popular misconception, the Founding Fathers of the (u)nited States were NOT Freemasons—but rather were members of the Rosicrucian Fraternity of Beverly Hall, located at Quakerstown, Pennsylvania. Formed in 1614 AD in Germany, then a chapter created in the U.S., its Grand Master was the same "Clymer" that signed the Declaration of Independence. Its President today is one Emerson M. Clymer—and for a good number of years I was a member in good standing. The Rosicrucian Fraternity and AMORC are the complete antithesis of the Illuminati!

Meanwhile, as rumors of their foul deeds spread—thanks to the irritating habit the Illuminists had of leaving their victims hanging about by their necks from trees—a Bavarian Court of Inquiry was instituted to investigate matters. In 1786 the home of an Illuminati lawyer named Zwack was raided by investigators, bringing to light detailed evidence of the Conspiracy. From captured correspondence it was learned that Weishaupt and his cohorts, far from being upstanding gentlemen as commonly thought, were Satanists, liars, revolutionaries, embezzlers, and debauchers. Weishaupt and the other leaders were banished from Bavaria and their operation forced underground.

According to the report of the Bavarian Government, Nachtrag Von Weiteren Originalschriften Zwi Abtheilungen, the documents seized in the 1786 raid on Zwack's home at Landshut, Bavaria, included tables of secret symbols, initiation rituals, instructions for recruiting and indoctrinating new members, the conspiratorial objectives and plans of the Illuminati, and a partial list of its members. Also uncovered was proof that Weishaupt's Order maintained an intelligence service; planned to assassinate Heads of State and replace them with Illuminists; worked to destroy patriotism and nationalism through infiltration of education, administration, and the press; and, had plans to infiltrate both national and international organizations through which they would maintain secret cells—all while posing as promoters of peace and brotherhood.

Sound familiar? It should. This is exactly what the Communists have been doing ever since 1847, when their propagandist Karl Marx wrote the Communist Manifesto at the direction of the mysterious conspirators known as the "League of Just Men".

In the interim, comments Manly Palmer Hall in his Orders of the Quest (1950), a Lodge of Masons had been established at Paris in 1781 for the purpose of uniting the Illuminism of Weishaupt with the new mystical revelations of Emanuel Swedenborg. This merger added the names of such Satanists as the Comte de Cagliostro, Dr. Franze Mesmer, and the Comte de St. Germain to the secret Order. [H: OOPS!!] Cagliostro, an agent of the Knights Templar, was the infamous Satanist whose machinations kept not only the Cardinal Prince de Rohan in his power but many others in high position as well. He was an adept of that powerful force popularized by Mesmer, the father of hypnotism.

An ardent supporter and defender of Weishaupt and the Illuminati, the occultist Hall nevertheless reveals that in a little-known book entitled Les Societes Secretes by "Deschamps", published at Paris in 1881, it is established that the Comte de St. Germain was also a member of the secret Knights Templar. He states that "the ritual used in the Theosophical Lodge, which the Comte had established in the castle of Ermenonville, was the ritual of the Knights Templars..." You will remember that this ritual involved the Satanic Goat of Mendes.

In yet another rare book, La Sect des Illumines, first published in the 1790s (author unknown), we find: "The huge chateau of Ermenonville near Paris was one of the chief lodges of the Illuminati. It belongs to the Marquis of Gerardin, who protected Rousseau and later gave him a tomb on his estate. St. Germain, the notable imposter, presided over it. He claimed to be a thousand years old, and to be able to make gold. He was said to be immortal, but died in 1784." In the pages that follow, we read of the Knights Templar-Illuminati initiation which resembles a Black Mass, complete with blood-smeared crucifixes, black candles and an altar built of human skeletons. Also included in this ritual are the drinking of human blood and grisly oaths to summon evil spirits. A similar account of this initiation can be found in the Marquis du Luchet's Memoires Authentiques pour Sevir a l'Histoire du Comte de Cagliostro published in 1785.

It was from this Satanist base that Weishaupt's inner circle launched the subversive movement which was to culminate in the bloody French Revolution of 1789, inciting (and paying) Parisian mobs to storm the Bastille, and beginning an incredible reign of terror which lasted six full years. With the aid of such traitors as the Duc d'Orleans (who helped finance the Revolution) and other top officials in the Government, the Illuminists rose to positions of supreme power. Elevated in this manner were such Illuminist conspirators as Mirabeau, Robespierre, and St. Just.

Weishaupt's program and methodology were a prototype of the Communist Conspiracy operating in the world today. In the realm of ideology, the line from the Illuminati to Marx's Communist Manifesto is straight and unbroken. As Arkon Daraul notes in his History of Secret Societies, the Illuminati "contributed in no small measure to the development of revolutionary doctrines which eventually culminated in the Russian and other Communist machines...."

It is little wonder, then, that Marx began his Manifesto with the words: A spectre is haunting Europe—the spectre of Communism." (Author's note: Marx, the son of a Jewish Rabbi, was also a homosexual pedophile who had been molested as a child by a favorite male schoolteacher.) Both he and Engels knew very well that the Communist movement—steeped in the Satanist occult of Eighteenth Century Illuminism—had been operative for years. It is also interesting to note that the most important holiday of the International Communist Conspiracy has always been May first—May Day—the date of the founding of the secret Order of the Illuminati. As the 1953 Report of the California State Senate Committee on Education put it: "So-called modern Communism is apparently the same hypocritical and deadly world conspiracy to destroy civilization that was founded by the secret order of the Illuminati in Bavaria on May 1, 1776." (Pp. 169-170.)

Then there's Hillary Rodham Clinton. What dark power does she exercise over her husband, Bill? What's her real goal? Is she plotting behind the scenes to become President of the United States of America? Will she then go on to usher in a frightening New Millennium.

York by Madame Helena Petrovna Blavatsky, editor of a magazine called Lucifer. It is currently said by her followers that Madame Blavatsky wanted her Society to be "unconcerned about politics: hostile to the insane dreams of Socialism and Communism, which it abhors...." Nevertheless, upon her death in 1891, the mantle of the Theosophical Society was inherited by Annie Besant, a prolific writer and occultist who was also a member of another cult founded in England in 1884. This powerful organization was called the Fabian Socialist Society. Its avowed goal was the same as that of the Order of the Illuminati: complete control of the world. Madame Besant founded the Fabian Parliamentary League.

While lecturing widely on Liberty, Equality and Fraternity, the Fabian Socialist Annie Besant predicted that Socialism was "the wave of the future". She was deeply involved in a tax-free foundation of the Theosophists called the Lucis Trust, a vast financial combine which even today supports such Leftists Fronts as the Arcane School, the Lucis Publishing Companies of London and New York, the Triangles, and many unusual "peace" groups of a decidedly crimson hue.

Headed for years by a Fabian occultist named Alice Bailey, the Lucis Trust is now recognized as a non-governmental cooperating agency by the United Nations. And one of the Trust's avatars is the demonic $5 million Temple of Understanding operated for the U.N. by the United Lodge of Theosophists of New York. Veiled in Illuminist symbology and mystique, the Temple's list of sponsors includes more than a score of well-known Communists, eight American Ambassadors, and such men as Robert McNamara, John D. Rockefeller IV, Senator John Sherman Cooper, I.B.M.'s Thomas Watson, and others. The purpose of this Satanic Temple, reported syndicated columnist Edith Kermit Roosevelt in 1962, is to create a "spiritual UN" in our nation's Capitol. She stated that an "international apparatus" of Communists and Socialists "is working to set up a Universal Theocratic State."

And, of course, no discussion of Satanism would be complete without mention of Aleister Crowley, a Satanist par excellence. A noted English magician, poet, painter, big game hunter, satyric, heroin addict, and homosexual, Crowley was a world traveler of vast wealth. Well-known for his sadistic rampages and his burning hatred of Christianity, he was nevertheless praised by such novelists as Somerset Maugham, who wrote a book about him entitled The Magician.

In 1898 Crowley joined a secret Berlin-based Satanic cult called the Order of the Golden Dawn, attempted to take control of its operations, and was later ousted for his troubles. He then founded his own secret society, the Order of the Silver Star, Argentum Astrum, and began publication of a weird magazine called The Equinox. In a lengthy monograph by Daniel P. Mannix, we find that Crowley decided to start a new Satanist religion with branches throughout the world, "each branch operating as a secret society with elaborate rituals somewhat like the Golden Dawn." He envisioned an international conspiracy rooted in Satanism and completely under his control. His followers erected a temple in the Palomar Mountains in California. (Author's note: An American cult group later linked to Crowley's Orders in London and Germany was the bloody Ordo Templi Orientis (OTO) which has a main headquarters in Southern California, and has been involved in numerous ritual murders. The top member of its National Supreme Council is one William E. Heidrich, and it is linked directly to NAMBLA (founded in 1978).

Moving to America during World War I, Crowley began writing anti-British propaganda for the Germans and "received the backing of Imperial Germany for his propaganda efforts." He had several years earlier been invited to join another German Satanist society called the Order of Templars of the Orient, which specialized in "sex-magic". Crowley was head of the British branch of this cult.

Mannix says that after the Communists, aided by the German General Staff, had overthrown the Government of the Czar and established their Marxist "dictatorship of the proletariat" in Russia, Aleister Crowley "wrote Trotsky, in Russia, offering...to join the communists..." Daniel Mannix continues: "There is a striking similarity between the workings of this group [his religion], as Crowley conceived it, and the operations of modern Communism. Like the communists, Crowley planned on having cells, operated by dedicated agents, whose purpose was to undermine national and religious loyalties and substitute a blind devotion to [Satanism]."

Although there is no record that Crowley ever joined the Communist Party, it is doubtful that the Communists would have refused a man of his skills and wealth.

During the period in which Aleister Crowley was writing to Trotsky, another curious liaison was taking place in Germany. For some years prior to the war there had existed in that country a powerful occult organization called the Thule Society, made up of Socialists whose aim it was to be "masters of the world". Of nebulous origin, this group worked closely with a similar Satanist organization known as the German Vril Society, or Luminous Lodge, headquartered in Berlin. The Luminous Lodge is known to have also had close associations with the previously mentioned Theosophical Society and the Order of the Golden Dawn. Nesta Webster, commenting on the Order of the Golden Dawn in her scholarly Secret Societies And Subversive Movements, says that "the real directors of the Order were in Germany and known as the 'Hidden and Secret Chiefs of the Third Order'." (Page 313.)

HITLER'S EARLY TRAINING

Louis Pauwels and Jacques Bergier note in The Morning Of The Magicians (Avon Books, New York, 1968) that in 1920 a Bohemian playwright named Dietrich Eckardt and an architect named Alfred Rosenberg—members of the Thule Society—introduced a young radical named Adolph Hitler to their organization at Barest, Germany, "and for the next three years they were to be the constant companions of the little Reichwehr corporal, dominating all his thoughts and acts..." In Adolph Hitler, by Konrad Heiden, we note that "Eckardt undertook the spiritual formation of Adolph Hitler." Herr Eckardt also gave Hitler two levels of instruction during this period: "one being concerned with the 'secret' doctrine, and the other with the doctrine of propaganda." Dietrich Eckardt related some of his private conversations with Hitler, in fact, in an ugly little pamphlet entitled Bolshevism From Moses To Lenin. In July 1923, guiding his new-found pupil, Dietrich Eckardt "became one of the seven founder-members of the National-Socialist Party."

From the beginning of this liaison between Hitler's National Socialist Party and the Thule Vril combine, a Vrilist named Karl Haushofer commanded "the magic center" of the Nazi movement. In Jack Fishman's penetrating history, The Seven Men Of Spandau, we are told that the last surviving member of the secret Thule Group, Rudolph Hess, formally charged that Haushofer was "the secret Master." Authors Pauwels and Bergier, whose 416-page book devotes considerable space to the Hitler enigma, reveal that it was Karl Haushofer who chose the swastika as the emblem of Nazism. Even more startling, we read that "the theories of Haushofer and the projects of [Alfred] Rosenberg...form the basis for Mein Kampf." Both were leaders of the Satanist Vril Society.

A startling number of Satanist organizations have found their roots in Germany. Indeed, the mythological heart of Communism, Marx's "Dialectical materialism", was a marriage of the dialectic of Hegel and the materialism of Feuerbach. And the "Luminous Lodge" does sound suspiciously similar to the Illuminist Lodge of Weishaupt, does it not? This business is all very odd indeed. But, lest one drown in it, let us return to the United States in the Year of our Lord, 1970.

[QUOTING:]

EXPLOSION OF OCCULTISM
IN THE U.S.

In the course of our research on the recent explosion of occultism in the United States this reporter traveled in May (1970) to San Francisco for an extended interview with the Black Pope of the Church of Satan, Anton Szandor LaVey. We had little trouble finding him. Squeezed into a row of brightly-colored houses in the Richmond District—just around the corner from the Golden Gate Bridge—LaVey's imposing, three-story Victorian home stands in stark contrast to the others, its tightly-shuttered windows and somber color giving it the sinister aura one might expect of such a place. The house is painted silvery black and the mood seemed to complement the ancient hearse sitting at the curb on flat tires and the huge Manx cat sleeping on the stone stairway. Climbing the steps a bit apprehensively I rang the doorbell.

After a considerable time the door was opened cautiously by an ashen-faced man dressed in the flowing robes of a priest. He was clearly not a priest in any good sense, for about his neck hung a silver medallion in the shape of the Goat of Mendes. After a few quiet words of welcome he motioned me inside and led the way through a dark and narrow hallway, past a stuffed jaguar, into a dimly-lit parlor painted deep purple. I was told to be seated, that Anton LaVey would appear momentarily.

Sitting on a faded leather couch, I looked about at the walls cluttered with a half-dozen or so poorly executed paintings—nightmare scenes only a psychiatrist could love. They were signed by Anton LaVey. At my feet a worn and filthy rug of obscure red-and-black design seemed to complement the seedy lamps, overstuffed Victorian furniture, and antique gynecologist's table which made up the room's furnishings. Against one wall, adjacent to a brick fireplace and a small bookcase, stood an upright glass cabinet displaying a human skeleton, the skull of which gaped open on a hinge. And in front of the couch rested a "coffee table" of white marble—an actual tombstone upon which had been chiseled the words: "In Memory of Lucas Machado, Died April 14, 1892." The room was chilly, like a mausoleum, and smelled of mold and must. Indeed, the effect was one which might be described as "Early Bizarre".

In an expansive, dusty bookstall covering half of another wall were titles by Aleister Crowley, Margaret Murray, and Socialist Annie Besant. There were books by assorted Fabian conspirators and by identified Communist Howard Fast. Copies of Mein Kampf and Das Kapital were slotted amidst dozens of expensive volumes on Satan worship and sexual deviation. There was a well-thumbed copy of the Communist Manifesto.

As I replaced the Manifesto on the shelf I heard a door open quietly behind me. Your reporter was now in the presence of Anton LaVey, garbed in a flowing black robe with white Roman collar. In the dim light his bald head and carefully sculpted mustache and beard, and the dark circles under his small, weak eyes, produced in me an effect of more discomfort than I would care to admit. But, far from what one would expect from a former wild animal trainer, calliope player, police photographer, and clinical hypnotist—his former professions—LaVey's handshake was limp and clammy and he soon seemed ridiculous in his theatrical outfit.

Here was not at all the strong, vibrant hulk of a man described by McCall's Judith Rascoe in her March 1970 whitewash of the Church of Satan. In fact, as he settled comfortably into a barber's chair propped in a corner, folding his hands in his lap, he appeared entirely too effeminate for comfort.

Commenting on his exhausted condition, LaVey explained that the events of the prior evening had been physically wearing. He had been celebrating what the Satanists call Walpurgisnacht, the most important festival in the lore of magic and witchcraft. It was the fourth anniversary of the day he shaved his head, announced the formation of his new "Church," and proclaimed "the new Satanic Age"! That, he told me confidentially, was the beginning of "Phase One" of the Satanic Plan. "Phase Two" was the spreading of The Word, which he had done in such pornographic publications as Sundisk and Nude Living, and through a lurid article in True Confessions entitled "We Were Married By the Devil". He had also made a brief tour of the nightclub circuit in San Francisco's North Beach, where he was advertised as "Anton LaVey and His Topless Witches' Sabbath". And then there were his lectures to the Jesuits and their students at the University of San Francisco.

"Phase Three", he said, was the formalization of his Satanic Church—which he claims now has more than seven thousand dues-paying members throughout the world ($20 to join, $10 per year). This, thanks to the favorable publicity given his movement in the Establishment media. There are still six more phases to go, he says, before the Plan is completed. He told me that a good picture of the Satanic future can be found in Perry London's book, Behavior Control, which promises that the future will bring a controlled society "more sophisticated and efficient than Orwell ever dreamed". Satanism, says Anton LaVey, is a philosophy of the will. "We sincerely believe that it will, by one name or another, be the society of the future...."

Midway through our two-hour talk, LaVey asked that I follow him into his private chambers, rose suddenly, and disappeared through a hidden passageway in the bookstall. Feeling rather foolish, I followed and found myself in what is called the Red Room. Above his cubicle-like "office," perched on a black-shrouded construction, was his "bedroom". It was flanked by a row of grisly masks, among them the head of the Satanic Goat. Other curios in the room included a collection of torture devices.

Hanging on the wall next to Anton's desk was a large Nazi flag. When I questioned him about this he replied that it was "a symbol of power" and that, after all, Hitler had been a Satanist. "The origins of National Socialism in Germany", LaVey theorized, "were Satanic and paganistic and were implemented to do away with organized religion. It was surely an admirable goal." Discussing the Illuminists, he said that Weishaupt was also a practicing Satanist and that "the Illuminati was quite a powerful force for evil". And that too, he said, is "admirable". The rituals performed in the Church of Satan, LaVey told me, "are the same as those once performed by the Knights Templar". The Church worships the Satanic Goat of Baphomet. (Author's note: The co-founder of this Church was the homosexual pederast and film producer, Kenneth Anger, author of Hollywood Babylon.)

From the Red Room I was ushered through a passageway behind a gilded mummy case into the "ritual Chamber". There was a large fireplace which served as the Satanic altar upon which a nude woman reclines during ritual ceremonies. On this altar rested the "Chalice of Ecstasy", a bell, a phallic "holy water sprinkler", a staff, a skull, and several black candles. In one corner of the room was a gong "to summon the Powers of Darkness", and in another corner stood an organ. A current long-playing record called "The Satanic Mass" had been recorded in this very room.

Returning to the parlor we continued our conversation as before. On the subject of organized religion, LaVey declared that his Church of Satan is now listed in Religious Bodies in America, and that he has been in touch with the National Council of Churches but is not yet affiliated with the organization. Referring to such N.C.C. agitators as the "Reverend" Malcolm Boyd and Harvey Cox, he commented: "...they're practicing crypto-Satanists. They're revising the traditional faith." He added, "I respected Bishop Pike. At least he realized what he was saying was heresy."

As we discussed the various divisions of membership in his Church, the telephone rang and my host took a call from someone he identified as Melvin Belli. In hushed tones he apologized for something or other and said he would return the call later. I remembered that Belli has long been a member of the Communist Front National Lawyers Guild and was the attorney who initially defended Jack Ruby—the man who “executed” Communist Lee Harvey Oswald. I noticed that LaVey wore a medallion with a superimposed lightning bolt, a symbol like that displayed by the National States Rights Party.

Anton LaVey described for me his role as a technical advisor on the forthcoming movie Mephisto Waltz, and his roles in the Italian movies Angela Neri, Angela Blanca and The Power of Magic, soon to be released. He said his recently published books, The Satanic Bible and The Compleat Witch, were selling nicely. The first of these, published in December 1969, carries the “philosophy” of his movement. When I admitted that I had never seen a copy he flitted across the room, deftly opened a hidden panel in the fireplace, and vanished down a flight of stairs.

I remembered a report in the New York Daily News that on January 31, 1967, LaVey had performed the first Satanic wedding ceremony in the United States in that lower chamber, with more than a hundred guests in attendance. He had married John Raymond, a radical reporter for the Berkeley Citizen, to a wealthy socialite named Judith Case. (A nude woman was used as the altar.) Among the guests were a reporter from the pro-Vietcong Berkeley Barb, a reporter from the radical Communist National Guardian, and singer Barbara McNair. I peered into the cellar and caught a glimpse of something red hanging on the wall. It was the flag of the U.S.S.R.

Almost as suddenly as he had disappeared Anton popped out of his hole and handed me a new copy of The Satanic Bible. He had autographed it warmly, closing with the words “Regie Satanis”!

I was now given a “Confidential Questionnaire” made up of forty-seven questions, one of which asked: “If you are a woman, would you consider being an altar?” As a potential member of his Satanic Church I was informed that “Active members have the opportunity to meet and correspond with other Satanists via our monthly publication, The Cloven Hoof.”

On that note our interview was terminated, and after a soggy handshake I left the strange house at 6114 California Street amusing myself by wondering if, after he reads this article, Anton Szandor LaVey will try to turn me into a toad.

During the next few days your reporter studied LaVey’s 272-page handbook, published by Avon Books in New York. Avon is an Establishment firm, a division of the Hearst Corporation. I noted that the introduction, by Burton H. Wolfe (author of The Satanists), declares that LaVey’s Church of Satan descended from “traces in voodoo cults, a Hell-Fire Club that existed in 18th-Century England, a Satanic circle led by Aleister Crowley in England a century later, and the Black Order of Germany in the 1920s and 1930s...” The intent of these Satanic groups, says Wolfe, “was to blaspheme, mock the Christian church, and address themselves to the Devil as an anthropomorphic deity that represented the reverse of God.” [H: How many of you remember the given purpose of Hillary’s Hellcats? “To get rid of God!”] {See the information on p.28 for ordering the dynamite book called Hillary’s Hellcats. It’s a doozie.}

(Author’s note: A very deadly spin-off cult group of LaVey’s Church was the The Temple of Set, founded in San Francisco during 1975—by Dr. Michael Aquino—a LaVey disciple who refers to himself as the “Second Beast of Revelation”. He was, in 1987, linked to the child molestations at his day-care center on the Presidio Army Base. Both he and his wife, Lilith, are bi-sexuals. Nevertheless, he still holds a top-secret security clearance in the military as a Lt. Col. and has attended the National Defense University in Washington. Two other major Satanic cult spin-offs are: The Hand of Death and The Knights of the Black Circle.)

In the Third section of LaVey’s book, under the title “Satanic Ritual”, we learn that one of the prime motivating forces “is that of destruction”. On Page 118 LaVey counsels: “Be certain you DO NOT care if the intended victim lives or dies...and having caused their destruction, revel, rather than feel remorse.” Anton LaVey invokes his demons to “Strengthen with fire the marrow of our friend and companion, our comrade of the left-hand Path”. Comrade of the Left? Indeed.

Touring the San Francisco area, with a side trip to Berkeley, and moving along the West Coast between Seattle and Los Angeles, your reporter visited dozens of large bookstores, a number of which are operated by the Communist Party. In each a special section on the occult had recently been installed with heavy emphasis on Satanism. The same held true with bookstores in Denver, Chicago, New York, and Boston. The Big Push was on. What seemed especially curious was that of the thirty most poisonous new books in this field which kept cropping up in my research, a majority had been published by the Citadel Press at 222 Fourth Ave. in New York. If the Communists were so anxious to sell these books, I reasoned, there must be some connection.

And so there is. Literary Market Place lists one Morris Sorkin as a Director and Sales Manager of Citadel Press, Inc. A check of the Indexes of the House and Senate Hearings of the past twenty years reveals that his name appears half-a-dozen times during important testimony on May 9-10, 1956, in Part 23 of the Hearings before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee entitled Scope Of Soviet Activity In The United States (Pp. S1195-1206). From the testimony of one Philip S. Foner we learn that he and Morris Sorkin are equal partners in both the Citadel Press and the Remainder Book Company, both of which operate jointly out of the same address.

Cited in the list of books published by Citadel Press were dozens of titles bearing the names of such identified Communists as Morris U. Schappes, Clifton Fadiman, Annette T. Rubinstein, John Howard Lawson, Maxim Gorky, E. Franklin Frazier, and even Herbert Aptheker, chief theoretician for the Communist Party, U.S.A. In fact, Philip S. Foner, who was identified under oath in 1940 before the Rapp-Coudert Committee as a member of the Communist Party, had been a founding sponsor (with Comrade Aptheker) of the American Institute for Marxist Studies.

(Author’s note: Significantly, comrades Sorkin, Foner, Schappes, Fadiman, Aptheker and Rubinstein are all Jews and the last is the sister of Jack Ruby—who was a well known Trotskyite Communist in Chicago. I saw his police file.)

In addition to writing for the Party’s house organ, Political Affairs, Foner has taught at all the major Communist schools around the country and is even featured in the Winter 1970 “Lenin Centenary Issue” of the Communist Party’s New World Review. On page 93 of that same edition we find a plug for Citadel Press in the foreword to an article by Jerome Life magazine glorified Louise Huebner as the youngest of three generations of “good” witches.

Anton LaVey performed a "marriage ceremony" in January 1967 for New York socialite Judith Case and radical writer John Raymond at the First Church of Satan in San Francisco. Among the guests was singer Barbara McNair.

Davis, an old Comrade of Lenin's.

With such powerful support from the Communists, as we have seen, it comes as no surprise to learn that Marxist-Satanists are holding classes in "The Cabala" at the Free University of Berkeley, and showing such films as Witchcraft Through The Ages; that a self-proclaimed "witch" named Deavlin Le Mohle is teaching "The Craft" to radical students at San Francisco's Golden Gate Free University; and, the Universities of Alabama, New York, and South Carolina are offering credit courses in the occult.

It should come as no surprise to note that a U.P.I. report of May 24, 1970, reveals a radio program in Southern California "has shifted emphasis in the last four years from astrology to witchcraft as listener interest in sorcery increased, and 'spell-casts' have been held in the Hollywood Bowl and on college campuses". We should not be too appalled when we turn on the Johnny Carson Show or the Merv Griffin Show and see a "witch" named Louise Huebner teaching "The Craft" on nationwide television, or when we read in the Los Angeles Times of May 5, 1970, that "In addition to their own supply houses and booksellers, the witches have their own newspapers". Nor when we run across the Black Magic Shop Catalog listing recent witches' "tracts, books, and pamphlets dealing with the occult" from the Marlar Publishing Company. (Author's note: Merv Griffin is a Jewish homosexual friend of homosexual Jew, Henry Kissinger. Both are members of the Bohemian Grove north of San Francisco.)

With such feature articles in Esquire, Life, Cosmopolitan, and McCall's as have appeared this year there is little wonder that a confused fourteen-year-old girl recently wrote to Life asking: "Could you help me to become a witch?" She was mainly influenced, she said, by a Life magazine glorification of "witch" Louise Huebner that appeared on April 10, 1970, in an article entitled "The Good Witch Of The West". And it should be of only passing interest that the San Francisco Chronicle reported on April 27, 1970, that "The youth in Britain are finding witchcraft immensely attractive", and "60 percent of people joining Satanic cults in Southern England are under 30". We shouldn't be too upset when Christian missionaries point out that today, in France and Germany, sorcery has become a major pre-occupation even as religious activity is on the wane.

Surely it means nothing when Newsweek devotes two columns in its issue for August 25, 1969, to promote an obscene play by Krzysztof Penderecki entitled The Devils Of Loudun (based on the novel by Fabian Socialist Aldous Huxley), featuring "a stageful of young nuns simmering with lust and auto-eroticism..." Nor should we be concerned when a revolutionary Communist group calling itself the Women's International Terrorist Conspiracy from Hell—the W.I.T.C.H.—makes Front-Page news for one of its radical forays in New York or Chicago or wherever.

Surely we should not be upset by the gory report in the San Francisco Chronicle of July 16, 1970, regarding the cult murder of a young social worker in Montana. Nor even when we read that two hippies arrested in July near Big Sur "were carrying gnawed human finger bones" in their pockets; that several days earlier the mangled torso of their victim—minus head, arms, and legs—had been found floating in the Yellowstone River; that one of those apprehended, Stanley Baker, admitted to having hacked the body to pieces and eating the heart. After all, Baker blurted to police, "I am a cannibal". He and his companion admitted to being members of "a Satanic cult".

No, these things mean nothing more deadly than that the Establishment record companies, television, and slick magazines; the syndicated radical press; and the Communist network are now glamorizing Satanism like they glamorized LSD and psychedelic music in 1967, marijuana in 1968, and Sensitivity Training in 1969. As before, of course, America will reap the ugly consequences.

WHY IS THERE
SO MUCH KILLING?
WHAT ARE THE SUPER PLANNERS AFRAID OF?

by Virginia Meves

[QUOTING: TOPIC #1]

Wisconsin Report, May 5, 1994:

EDITORIAL COMMENT: There is a frenzied preoccupation with death in this country—death education, suicide education which includes how to; funeral education which may include visiting a morgue etc.; and then the movies on television, the movies on video cassettes; the lyrics of many songs, especially rock music—so much about death, guns, violence! It is as though all people should concentrate on ending their lives or support gun control. Is this why—to remove the guns and make us a defenseless, helpless disarmed nation? The plans are right on schedule as the vote in Washington on HR 4296 indicated. So many times, as we've tried to teach about "The Plan" for a "World Government" people have waved us to be gone and said, "Oh this will never happen", instead of researching to find out for themselves!

Satanist organizer Aleister Crowley, a sadist and homosexual, corresponded with key Communist Leon Trotsky to whom he offered his services.

We see nation after nation embroiled in wars—even ethnic cleansing—and then the daily media shows the heaps and heaps of bodies and the gruesome realities from all the wars. Where is that peace that the United Nations Treaty was to insure for all time—prevention of wars forever????

Is all this emphasis on death to cause severe depressions and such deep concentration on loss and grief and sadness so that people, especially here in America, may be moved along into this New World Order—that they are not able to think and realize what is being done to them in their country, and especially to keep them from objecting to all the changes, the takeovers and controls that are being forced on a people who can't think or project or imagine ever living in total enslavement? This is something to think about and jolt us Americans into reality about having been betrayed over and over again!

IF THE DEAD COULD SPEAK!

In Scotland, Ireland, Somalia, Bosnia, Rwanda, Burundi, China, Ethiopia, El Salvador, Russia, Nicaragua, Palestine, Korea, Viet Nam, Cambodia, Laos—the list goes on and on and we do not want to forget the butchered babies who never even had a chance to be born! What would they say to us if they had the opportunity? I think they would all shout in unison: "Murderers, ruthless unregenerate mankind!" What else could they say? There was no mercy, no compassion! [H: Ah, but dear friend, if your very nation is run by Satanists who revel in DEATH—what more can you expect? And, as you said above, Virginia—would you too wave us off as a statement that it could not be...?]

ORPHANAGES FOR CHILDREN— LITTLE VILLAGES—WITH ONE MOTHER TO RAISE ALL THE CHILDREN...WHAT IS TO BECOME OF THE CHILDREN?

Kibbutzum! Kibbutzum! Are the children never going to be allowed to be happy in a fine secure family? Ann Herzer just told us that Chester Finn, in his book We Must Take Charge has finally blurted it all out. It seems that the time has come to put all the resources—men and women—into jobs in the world to work and take the children. Maybe there are just too many parents with a C- on their report card! What do you think, parents of America? Are we going to allow the children to have this final punishment—to be wrenched away from homes to live with a Kibbutzum manager forever?—until they grow up, of course, when they too must join the world of work as a productive resource! [H: But is it no worse or perhaps even better than where you are headed now as murder is the birth control method of your day; and are sacrificial offerings of your children on a Satanic altar acceptable? How many will ever understand WHY and WHAT has happened in your society?] There are boot camps too for the damaged children!

THE ERROR OF KEVORKIAN— WHAT HAS HE PROVEN? THE YOUNG PEOPLE SAY: "PROVE IT"

The case of Dr. Kevorkian has proven to young people that life means nothing when man takes over to rule the world. Man, without the love of God in his heart, can be ruthless, cruel, inconsiderate of other people's feelings, beliefs, desires. Ruler man becomes so greedy that he has to assume power over life and death. Ruler man is so greedy that he must be able to exercise all control and power over everything. In this nation of America, "We the people" have never wanted to control the universe—the environment—air, water, land, ozone, and even environment that is not! Life is very precious. It is too dangerous to ever allow man to usurp that kind of power on this Earth. It results in only one "outcome"—destruction of the civilization and the cruelty causes such suffering that people pray to die. If Dr. Kevorkian wants to kill himself—he may do so. A higher Judge will meet him. But because he has desire to take others with him doesn't give him the right to even think it! All of us on this Earth—especially here in America—love our freedom and we want to exercise it for a very long time. Dr. Kevorkian has a very clever lawyer who is young and charismatic. That doesn't mean that juries should just allow him to hypnotize them. Dr. Kevorkian kills. He does not just alleviate suffering. He deliberately plans death for this one, for that one and for anyone! But he has not and is unable to prove that he has the right to play God and take the life of anyone!

And so, let's take a little time and just think about all who have died needless deaths and think about our futures in the hands of ruthless planners whose one and only thought is to control the whole world and all the resources including—US. Wisconsin Report, 18310 Benington Dr., Brookfield, WI 53045.

[END QUOTING]

The Lyrics The Message

Friends I want to tell you, I've got a dream,
I want this group to behave like a team.

A group will become a team only when people deliberately set out to create teamwork.

We are all individuals,
we can do things on our own,
but there are times
we need teamwork, and we cannot work alone.

Some tasks are so simple they do not require a team and they are best performed by individuals. However, the majority of tasks performed at work are more complex and require the co-operation of others because they cannot be carried out alone. In this situation teamwork is needed. It doesn't matter how good your plans are, if the group of people with whom you are working are not pulling together as a team, the task is unlikely to be completed satisfactorily.

We may develop a plan that's foolproof or another clever scheme, but it will come to nothing,
if the group is not a team.

When a group is a team
it's got energy
no-one can catch us, and no-one can match us
if one plus one makes three,
when the sky's the limit we're reaching for,
we can do what we dare to dream.
There's more than one winner
when a group becomes a team.

When a group of people is working together as a team, fresh reserves of energy are generated. This is often referred to as synergy, where the output of the team is greater than the sum of its individual members. This is the real pay off from teamwork. It enables a working group to perform beyond the individual capabilities of its members. In this situation, everyone in the team is a winner.

You may want to be a lone wolf, or a shining, shooting star, but if the team doesn't back you,
you will not travel far.

Competition is often encouraged within companies and a certain amount of it is healthy. However it can lead to individuals acting solely in their own interests. There may be times when this seems appropriate (e.g.: in individual sports events) but at work you can only go on succeeding at the expense of others for so long. It is far better for the skills and abilities of the individual to flourish within the framework of a team, which can still result in individual recognition. The key to this is to deliberately give co-operation, understanding and support, which will then be returned by others.

Everybody can be a winner, in a team that can't be caught
if we give co-operation, understanding and support.

When a group is a team,
and it's starting to jive,
we know what we've got,
when the teamwork's hot,
and two plus two makes five.
When the sky's the limit we're reaching for,
we can do what we dare to dream,
there's more than one winner
when a group becomes a team.
When a group is a team
When a group is a team.

When a group starts behaving like a team the benefits soon become apparent. People gain confidence which breeds success which breeds even greater confidence. People are more prepared to take risks and attempt things that they previously only dreamed about. In this situation there is an absence of the destructive effects of competition among individuals within the organization. Instead, companies become strong through the effects of teamwork, and people are in a much better position to take on their real competitors in the external business world.

NASA's Big Joke: Dr. Beter On Our Space Shuttle Program

5/19/94 #2 HATONN

Dharma, I am going to ask you to do something for which I apologize in advance; I ask that you run the insert from the Peter David Beter files as is offered in this same paper [Wisconsin Report]. We have covered so much of these pieces of information that I think we should stir the people's curiosity a bit. There is so much denial and, yet, here in the middle of May, 1994 comes a reprint of a regular column offered by Beter on December 22, 1981 and it reads like something out of Buck Rogers—but I assure you TRUTH IS FAR STRANGER THAN ANY FICTION YOU WILL CONJURE!!

5/19/94 #3 HATONN

As life unfolds and in this day a man like Ronn Jackson or others of the same ilk appear, it seems that the truth simply cannot be so. And then as time passes the public forgets—the exact thing planned by THE planners. You NEVER knew truth about your space program and all the writing we have offered has not changed that greatly. I realize it is difficult to think in terms of Cosmospheres and deadly "killer" satellites, etc. While you slept, citizens, your world has been "fiddled" away and the lies are so abundant and so great that you cannot hold and comprehend the truth even as it unfolds. Let us offer this short writing. Those of you familiar with Dr. Beter's work will be pleased to see the repeat—and you who have no idea what we speak about here—will continue to doubt....Ah, and likely it will ever be thus.

Dr. Beter died March 14, 1987, but the information he left with us—the Intelligence Reports in the Audio Letters and Commentaries—will continue to help our readers to understand what is happening today. This is from the Dr. Peter David Beter Audio Letter #70, recorded Dec. 22, 1981.

NO HUMAN PILOTS ABOARD

SPECIAL PHOTO RECONNAISSANCE EQUIPMENT INSTALLED. NASA KNEW THE ENTERPRISE WAS DESTROYED WITHIN AN HOUR.

It will soon be four years since Russia finished destroying all of America's spy satellites with her fleet of Killer Satellites. The military shuttle team were hoping to use "surprise" last month in order to get at least a little bit of reconnaissance over Russia. It was hoped that the Russians would consider the Enterprise to be no threat since it could not carry anything in its cargo bay. NASA also did everything it could to convince the Russians that a non-threatening orbit would be used last month. Finally, the launch time was shifted by about 2-1/2 hours on the morning of November 12th. That was intended to make it hard for any Russian Cosmos Interceptors to readjust their orbits to attack the Enterprise.

This last item, my friends, reflects a deadly Intelligence error being made by the United States military Shuttle planning team. They know about Russia's orbital cosmos interceptors, the Killer Satellites. They also know about the first generation Cosmospheres, Russia's levitating Weapons Platforms. Both were first deployed about four years ago [H: Now well over a decade later!]. The American planners know that the Space Shuttle can outrun the first-generation Cosmospheres, therefore they believed that the orbiting Cosmos Interceptors are the main threat to the Shuttle.

What they do not know so far is that Russia now has a small fleet of semi-experimental second-generation Cosmospheres. Last April there were seven in operation. Now there are at least eight. These new Cosmospheres, called "Super Heavies" or "Jumbos", can outrun and outlift our Space Shuttle. The Russians gave NASA a very spectacular hint about their existence last April, as I detailed in Audio Letter No. 64.

There are some in America's Intelligence community who have correctly interpreted what happened, but the Bolsheviks here who control America's military space program are refusing to believe it. They are explaining away the fragments of Intelligence about the new Russian Jumbo Cosmospheres and thereby guaranteeing their own failure.

When the "Enterprise", re-labeled Columbia, took off from Florida last month there were no human pilots aboard. It was a suicide mission. The Enterprise followed an evasive, curving launch, just as the Columbia did last April. It headed far to the north toward a near polar orbit. When it passed over Russia the Enterprise was to be upside down with its spy camera staring downward through the crew compartment windows. Five Jumbo Cosmospheres were on hand and kept pace with the Shuttle as it climbed toward orbit but when they notified Moscow of the course it was taking, they were told not to fire. Instead the Russian Ballistic Missile Defense Forces were alerted. The Russians know war is coming and they decided to use the approach of the Shuttle as a test drill.

Nearly two years ago I reported that Russia was preparing to deploy a new anti-ballistic missile system. It's based on charged particle beam weapons fired from modified supersonic TU-144 Jet Transports. On November 12 a squadron of TU-144s were scrambled to intercept and shoot down the Enterprise.

The Jumbo Cosmospheres continued pacing the Shuttle from a distance as a back-up if the TU-144s should fail—but they did not fail. The Enterprise swept downward from the north across their strategic Kola Peninsula. As it crossed over the White Sea the big jets began firing upward with their beam weapons at the Shuttle far above. The third beam blast tore through the mid-section of the Shuttle and it broke in half just behind the crew compartment and disintegrated.

Here in the United States NASA went ahead with its made-for-television space movies and followed the pre-planned script for a shortened mission. They knew within an hour after launch that the Enterprise had been destroyed. Having learned about Russia's plans last April to create an international incident with a crashed Shuttle, they wanted to complete the flight in the world's eyes quickly.

The Shuttle landing at Edwards Air Force Base, California, on November 14th was a replay of the Shuttle we saw last April. And when I say "replay", my friends, I mean it literally. Those long distance telephoto shots of the Shuttle swooping in from the stratosphere were the same ones that we saw last April. NASA merely fed video tapes of the long distance scenes from last April to the networks and added a fresh narrative to them. The only part of the landing that was live last month was the terminal portion which could be seen from the ground. The Shuttle we saw land, my friends, was one of the secret new Shuttles from White Sands. It had been carried aloft by the launch aircraft, boosted to a modest speed/altitude by a pair of solid fuel booster rockets, and then swooped down to delight the crowd.

As of now, NASA claims to be planning the third Shuttle flight for March 1982, just three months from now. And, my friends, this time the launch may well take place on schedule or close to it. The embarrassing quandary of what to do with the Enterprise is now over with.

Now a new Shuttle, the third we have seen with the name "Columbia" on it, is at Cape Canaveral. Its cargo bay awaits a new secret military pay load. My friends, this Shuttle has been modified. It is armed for battle in space but the Bolshevik military planners here refuse to understand what they are really up against—and so at Cape Canaveral another tragedy is now in the making.

[END OF QUOTING]

How many of you good readers realize that all the first Shuttle launches were pure FRAUD? How many of you realize the truth has been out there for years and years and years—and you NEVER KNEW!? Oh my—what will it take? Salu.

"The Shuttle landing at Edwards Air Force Base, California, on November 14th [1981] was a replay of the Shuttle we saw last April. And when I say 'replay', my friends, I mean it literally."

Nevada Corporations

The IRS & Corporations

"Inactive" vs. "Active" Status: We have always held the belief that every corporation is not required to file annual tax returns, especially with corporations that aren't doing anything, or are just holding property or assets. These corporations have been labeled "Inactive" corporations. We have found that this is an acceptable term with the IRS. They will allow us an Inactive status, basically so that we can get off their rosters and not be required to send in their quarterly filing of estimated tax payments for the year, nor will you be required to send in the annual corporate tax returns for corporations, called the Form 1120.

However, if your corporation has income, you will have to file a Form 1120 or the Short Form 1120A. It is a requirement of the IRS and will protect you in the long run by hopefully keeping any investigatory agency out of your corporation. If a corporation is opened and initiated with, say, $10,000, and that is all that is there, it is not classified as revenue or income to the corporation, and therefore it would still be an Inactive corporation. Those original monies that were placed into the corporation were put into the corporation as either a capital contribution from its stockholders or a loan to the corporation.

When someone has a corporation that is Inactive, it may be holding property, it may be just holding $10,000, but it is not actually out there actively doing anything that is generating revenue in the corporation. To document this status for our records, we have written letters to the Internal Revenue Service stating our corporate inactivity and been notified that we are no longer required to file (an unusual response from the IRS).

Please keep in mind that if your corporation does start to generate revenue, the IRS is constantly compiling documentation and data and they are taking all of that information and cross referencing it with all of their files on every individual, corporation and entity that is in their system. You just never know if someone is going to file a 1099 with the IRS on your corporation even though corporations don't send 1099s to each other. Then into their system goes the 1099; they recognize that the corporation currently has income, it is doing some activity and they are going to start sending you letters again asking you why you didn't file a corporate tax return when you should have. This also occurs when you earn interest income from bank deposits. If you have corporate bank accounts but you want to keep a low profile, you are usually best off to have a non-interest-bearing account, unless you are an active corporation. Interest payments that are made to corporations or individuals are reported to the IRS annually and you are sent a notice about the interest that you earned so you can file your taxes on that. That will trigger a flag in their system and they will again come back to the corporation and ask why you didn't file.

The tax brackets for corporations are set up in such a way that if you spend time considering what you personally make and pay in taxes, and what you would pay if you made that income Corporately, you will begin to see many advantages gained by utilizing a corporation. Let's take a look at the corporate tax rates. Corporations making less than $50,000 pay 15%; between $50,000 and $75,000 they pay 25%. So if they earn $75,000, on the first $50,000 they are paying 15% and on the next $25,000 they are paying 25%. Between $75,000 and $100,000 the tax rate is 34%. Between $100,000 and $335,000 it is 39%, and over $335,000 it is a flat 34% (up to $10 million).

If you are single and file a personal income tax return, the 15% tax bracket ends at $21,500. So, if you work through a corporation, you could take home $21,500 personally and earn another $50,000 in the corporation and only get taxed 15% on the whole amount. Let your corporation do your investing, your purchases of real estate, whatever you may be getting into now or in the future.

CORPORATE TAX RATES 1993-94: $0 to $50,000: 15%; $50,001 to $75,000: 25%; $75,000 to $100,000: 34%; 100,000 to $335,000: 39%; $335,000 to $10 million: 34%; over $10 million: 35%.

OCTOBER SURPRISE

Although I have no documents or paperwork with me... The October Surprise operation, to a degree, has not been totally understood. To fully understand the confusion, the fact should be realized that the CIA inner department—whose only responsibility was to give disinformation—that false information was designed for foreign nations only. It was not intended for this country. This is a classic example of politicians whose knowledge usually pertained to law of this country and their attempts to impress their electorate or others for a multitude of reasons.

To begin with, several newspapers in the States are funded by agencies to give out false and misleading information. Those same agencies then contact the main-stream media to discredit those sources, i.e.: like underground newspapers. The Government also used the tabloids to discredit those sources.

The largest single source of disinformation was a contract agent who was known by many as Richard Brenneke. He also used Richard Bennett, Dick Bennett, Randy Bernardo, and based on my own knowledge, many other aliases. At best, Brenneke was a mediocre agent and was not trusted with any knowledge or information of any significance.

Gunther Russbacher is a name mentioned to me by Bill Casey; however, I cannot verify anything about him as I had no reason to know that information. Had Mr. Russbacher's background been made available to me it would have been for a specific purpose, but not be in existence today. I seem to remember other names associated with Mr. Russbacher but do not recall for what purposes. I am referring to aliases.

My only information and knowledge of the Mossad is as follows: Their agency works in concert with many parts of Government, usually at the request of the Department of State. One sanction which can be verified (the early part of 1974) was due to his confiscation of property from two German Generals in South America, that was obtained in the Second World War, for his own use. Mossad agent Ari Ben Menashe was a flake, and it was known by this country and Israel. He was used, only.

On many occasions Jewish organizations in this country have been told to back off. Those organizations are a threat, and that threat will have to be addressed in the near future, by the citizens of this country. The entertainment industry is an example of an industry that is controlled and those in power can be traced directly to the CFR and to the Committee of 300. Since both are controlled by "kooks", I would expect a mass exodus from this country in the near future.

Newsweek is owned by the Washington Post. At the Graham family instruction, the investigating work on October Surprise and the discrediting phase was initiated by them. You can also refer to the membership roster of the Committee of 300, the CFR and the Trilateral Commission. The Graham family was connected with all three, and is.

The CIA owns several printing companies and you will find that most information put out for and against that agency is by those printing companies. One of them is, or was, Sheraton Square Press (the name has been changed).

October Surprise originally had nothing to do with the hostage situation. Because of the usual level of competence of Government personnel, the hostage situation was drawn into that program.

The decision to squash October Surprise was a bipartisan endeavor of the Congress of the United States. Two Governments that had been tarnished by scandal would have further diminished our credibility, and the sacrifice of innocent persons of this country was not ever considered.

History will show the complicity of George Bush and several members of the Republican Party as being conspirators to remove Jimmy Carter from office. Although Mr. Carter was one of the worst Presidents in our history, risking the lives of American citizens is an intolerable act. In this case, politicians believe they have the ability to think for the masses and that practice is about to cease. As I have stated, it will be my privilege to pull the trap door on the gallows.

This is part my country and I love it very much. The Constitution is the supreme law of the land and when Government circumvents that document, they, as in Government, are breaking the law. Society sees and knows of Government's actions, and I, as a citizen, must conclude that Government, by their own actions, is breeding unlawfulness. It is they who are responsible for what is reflected in our times. It is not my intention to direct blame or responsibility. It is my intention to awaken the American people.

RED BECKMAN

I believe it will be obvious NOW that you cannot simply buck the "system" and win. The actions taken against the Beckmans are heinous. Their own security is somewhat preserved but their property in the form of dwelling, etc., have been bulldozed down, property (furniture and personal) sealed away until he can BUY them back and thus and so. [Please see p. 41 for latest update on the Beckmans]

I have recently been denounced, my people ridiculed and other insulting assaults made against us; however, I warn you people—there are some among you WHO ARE NOT YOUR GOOD BUDDIES AND "WILL TURN STATE'S EVIDENCE" IN BEHALF OF THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT. These EXAMPLES are going to continue until you can shut down the conduits of betrayal (realized or not) and you move into a unity of recovery of the laws as Constitutionally correct—not just to take a stand of some time against the "regulators". I remind you that the guns "they" have are LARGER than the ones YOU HAVE. And, furthermore—there is no honor nor integrity among them.

How can you tell the good-guys from the bad-guys? It is very difficult when the deceivers are well-trained operatives working with greed-soaked deceivers who HOPE you never get the information about them. You will, further, notice that, in some instances, ones who have priorly had important positions within some of the "groups" are no longer there in publication, because they have been revealed even if not legally confronted. All the documents and evidence are available and ones involved who know are under targeting (AS WE WRITE HERE) for death to silence information. Gary Anderson, for instance, who Gritz says he utilized to set up his SPIKE seminars but not his "trust" operations (longer), turned State's evidence and became totally beholden to the Treasury Department and, in that connection, the IRS. One who is touted by Gritz, Richard Flowers, "Christian Patriot Association (CPA)", "has the only truly discreet means of banking in America. If privacy is important, Richard's CPA is the only way." This is the SAME Richard Flowers who had a major law case (wherein it is stated that Flowers "dba Christian Patriot Association") for the time period of December 1985 through January 1989.

Further in the documentation it covers the fact that information which was demanded by the IRS was given to the IRS: "Richard Flowers' affidavit states that the IRS has most of the information sought by the summonses. Flowers states that a bank employee told him that the IRS has been monitoring the CPA account and that an IRS agent told him that the IRS was going to shut down the CPA. Flowers identifies neither of these sources."

So, readers, the facts are that no matter whether or not the laws are WRONG—the actions are taking place and if you THINK you are receiving privacy—you are NOT. Not only are you NOT, but the ones offering it to you—KNOW IT.

The "TRUST" operation is even more monitored and those "trusts" that are being set up are going to get you caught if you have used them to "hide" anything because the IRS already KNOWS ALL ABOUT THEM! But worse, participation with this particular group of "patriots" and defenders of privacy in the structuring of a "Covenant COMMUNITY" in the security of the Idaho wilds—is EVEN MORE OPENLY KNOWN AND WHETHER OR NOT YOU ARE LIKE, SAY, A WACO KORESH GROUP—YOU WILL BE TREATED BY "BIG BROTHER" AS SUCH.

I believe you have to know that there are ones involved here who come directly from the old Monarch Project and Delta Forces who were programmed and are to be "awakened" to task in the MK-Ultra project. This fit several of the participants of the Koresh "Project" which was an MK-Ultra PROGRAM. We understand that all Delta Force participants were trained in the Monarch Project Mind-Programing—directly from such as the Montauk Project of time-space warp mind shifting.

Are these good guys or bad guys? Neither—they simply ARE.

The outcome of the Flowers situation, as explained, is that in exchange for Treasury protection and turning over records, the Flowers were not set forth for "criminal" charges—and this would be continued as long as information (State's evidence) would be supplied by said parties.

Do the ones around whom these troops rally believe themselves to be other than "patriots"? I doubt it. The "laws" are WRONGLY WRITTEN AND APPLIED but that changes not the fact of RULE BY FORCE as your nation has become in its current orchestration and enforcement. To openly DEFY these enforcers becomes gross error. The CAUSE must be changed—if ever the "EFFECT" CAN BE ALTERED!

What I really DO NOT want is to be in any manner involved and I would recognize the right of these deceivers to continue their "free-will" games if they would cease and desist their assaults against me and mine. However, when it is criminal action in every sense of the words of "business" and moral integrity for ones such as George Green to be allowed to steal actual gold in coins from an Institute in which he served as Director and Officer—and then, to STILL be efforting to force it into receivership and forced bankruptcy so all parties involved are hurt—I don't think it JUST that these ones continue without rebuttal. Since there is coalition with the Treasury Department and other Federal agencies, including the Justice DEPARTMENT, then it is all but impossible to obtain fair hearing—so the plan is that the LIES STAND. No, "they" may destroy and they may win—BUT IT WILL NOT BE BECAUSE OF TRUTH! AND, THAT, DEAR ONES, IS THE FUNDAMENTAL BASIS OF WHAT IS DESTROYING YOUR NATION AND YOUR FREEDOM. A BUNCH OF CROOKS EXCHANGED THEIR FREEDOM AND ARE OBTAINING PAYMENT—TO DECEIVE AND BETRAY YOU-THE-PEOPLE! SO BE IT.

There is massive involvement with someone called "Wolfgang" and some operations which skived off MILLIONS of dollars. Some of the names most involved are involved at present with the S.P.I.K.E. operation and, now, the Christian Covenant Community in Idaho. This is going to be a Rajneesh (code label) type of operation when it comes down on the innocent heads of participants. When asked who would fund this major participation—the answer comes back EVERY time—"the Treasury Department".

JACKIE KENNEDY

If one wishes to speak of "trouble in Camelot", you have it in the odyssey of one such as Jackie Kennedy. With respect to all passages there are the sentiments which overshadow the facts of underlying motivation of those who would "get rid of her". So, today and yesterday, I am barraged with inquiries as to how she deteriorated and died so terribly rapidly. Well, she was GIVEN the fastest spreading type of lymphatic cancer—if indeed, that is what she ACTUALLY had as "true" diagnosis. I am not going to cloud the waters into murky fingerprints of intended damage. However, since you ask, and ask, and ask again—so be it. There are MANY "reasons" she would not be wanted around. However, there are equally as MANY reasons her children will now have to bring to the forefront truth in circumstances of which they will be unaware. Jackie had no option except to carry some secrets to and into her grave. These silences would protect her family while the evil whoremongers would continue their world intrigue, greed and domination.

It would be good, however, if the children realized a couple of things relevant to their own "property".

One is the death of their FATHER. I have dragged my feet a bit in continuing with the Jackson revelations in "The Death of Camelot", realizing the pain coming up shortly as the TRUTH of John's and Robert's deaths (murders) are unfolded. Of course Jackie KNEW! One of the killers was the driver of her vehicle the terrible day of the murder of John. Was John killed by the CIA? How about the Mafia? No, readers, John F. Kennedy was killed on orders from the Committee of 17—the power brokers and ruling Committee which is superior in power, even, to the Committee of 300.

Secondly: Jackie Kennedy is a holder of a massively VALUABLE and LAWFUL debt document (gold certificate) which is not "wanted" to be brought forward. The Committee and others in the insipid Government set up by the impostors are right now having to deal with gold certificates, i.e.: Buckley's holdings of "Treasurygate" fame, Cosmos and "Big Red" and others—of which one "missing" one to "Sadam Husein", we printed in the paper. Well, there is another one of massive value—from the Shah of Iran who was brought to your country years ago (as you will remember) and was murdered for his own participations, or "non"-participations as the case may be. JACKIE HAS (HAD) THAT CERTIFICATE! Now, I guess you will just have to wait and see what unfolds. Yes, it had something to do with her "friendliness" to the Clintons and the spiraling intrigue will be most interesting in the unfolding I'm sure. So be it and may the lady in point rest in peace. Life on your place is indeed a cruel game! Will the perpetrators of these heinous crimes of direct or indirect evil ever be uncovered? Yes, it is happening as we write.

MONEY

Ok, readers, the first of the "new-old money" is being seen around here and there. The first bill to come to our immediate attention is, I believe, a marker of a value of $1. It is green as in your current money but bears no mention of the Federal Reserve. It will, however, be found to bear the printing date of 1994 and bears a notice as a "Treasury" paper. CONTACT will offer a copy of that bill when it comes into their hands.

DNA-GENETIC ENGINEERING BEWARE NEW TOMATOES

It is, I guess, a time of reminding you that we have written at length on genetic engineering and DNA cloning and alterations. The release, yesterday, of the genetic-tomato into the public for consumption brings the next onslaught of questions. I won't repeat the old writings because the CONTACT has no space in this paper to handle such massive information—but perhaps over the next weeks, as the paper must grow, it can be, in part at least, rerun for you readers—especially you NEW readers. Our reading audience has for long been "the largest" but the least subscribed to paper, in the world. I do wish there were more readers who would PAY for their subscription so we could more easily handle larger editions—but you know how it is—Government and Military and the wealthy controllers—NEVER PAY FOR ANYTHING WHEN THEY CAN STEAL IT. So be it.

SAGAN—MJ-12

For the "deniers" of such as MJ-12, (Majestic 12, Majority of 12 "committee", etc.) I would like to make a note here that it won't be very long until I believe Dr. Sagan will be speaking with some of our people. Whether he will speak of that which YOU want to hear, or not, shall be left to the unfolding. I can promise you one thing—IF YOU CAN get him to speak truth, he can tell you about such as entrances into the underground (literally) at the Antarctic. He can also tell you as "eyewitness" about the massive underground facilities and WATER LAKE under the area of Austin, Texas, and so forth. His energy has been sidetracked in garbage about putting up massive receivers for "seeing if aliens are 'out there'" when he KNOWS we are RIGHT HERE! Is he, and are others, going to come forth now because they want to share and tell? No, but actually he does and I would hope he would honor his own integrity and tell you the truth. Will he? Well, the strength of the hand which writes on the wall would certainly make it worthy of his consideration, for mankind would then honor him rather than denounce him for treason and fraud—a legacy no man REALLY wants to leave in his memoirs.

It was once decided to hide truth in favor of gaining world control—but such as Bernard Baruch, Eisenhower and even ones from your most prominent religion—met with us and still decided to hide truth from you of mankind and DEAL with the darker side of alien brothers. YOU broke every agreement and promise you made and now, I fear, a lot of "those brothers" are not happy with you having trapped themselves in your dimension playing your games. Crime simply does not pay—IN THE LONG-RUN, little brothers. So be this, also.

BACK TO GENETIC ENGINEERING

I got off onto the subject of Sagan and space-brothers [back on p. 37] (enemies or friends), because of this subject in point. You have and are playing with actual "life" energy which can be called electromagnetic, scalar, prana, life, cosmic, etheric and thus and so. I am here to tell you RIGHT NOW, that you do not even need to introduce by injection one DNA into another—that DNA programming can be transferred right through electromagnetic waves from one sealed container into another. And by the way, the Photon Belt "rays" (high frequency light waves) now abundant in your atmosphere are capable of doing this trick on their own fluke of presence. However, it becomes quite interesting as MAN learns how to tamper and play.

We have one very human individual who doesn't even call himself a scientist—who can literally place a certain "metal" plate on the roof, run a wire to a dark basement and into a pot wherein seeds are planted, seal the container with foil wrap to further darken the area—and grow quite healthy and productive plants. This should tell you that what you sees is not what youze is gettin'. These same frequencies are carried right through containers to energize anything and everything. The energy will flow first to its own kind and then it will proceed, under certain circumstances, to cross with anything and everything around.

Through the Chinese and Russians this has become a recognized art and science—but these things are hidden from you in the general public as best the beasts can do so. There is even a term now recognized as "Bioenergyinformatics". You have come a long way, babies, and now you REALLY have a bull by the tail because—once unleashed—you cannot control this insanity.

AN ALTERNATIVE TO GENETIC ENGINEERING

AURA-Z, VOL. 1, No. 3: (Spring, 1994.) [H: I have to admit, readers, that THIS is a Russian journal-type of document which has been translated. This may, for your information, account for your not having easy and ready access to the information. We are not even offered the name of the Editor (or the direct author) of the paper in point for international protection. However, you will note that in Russia this has been utilized and is not directly taken by the government.

It is not utilized on a wide-spread basis either—again a reflection of your power-brokers.]

[QUOTING:]

We are pleased to introduce a man whose name has long been known in scientific circles, but is only coming to be recognized by official science.

D O C T O R
CHIANG: His name needs no additional attributes. Held in high esteem by some, it evokes apprehension and lack of understanding among others. It arouses gratitude and guarded curiosity.

In the dark Middle Ages Chiang's fate would, probably, have brought him to the fire of the Inquisition; in the 21st century he will perhaps be revered as highly as Einstein or Tsiolkovsky. [H: I wonder how many of you have even heard of Tsiolkovsky?]

It has always been difficult to be ahead of one's time. CHIANG KANZHEN's story is no exception to this rule.

Without going into the details of his biography, which is worthy of separate attention (four years imprisonment during the "cultural revolution" in China, an escape, crossing the border into the USSR in 1971, an ordeal in the Khabarovsk Territory, and Soviet citizenship only in 1989), let me mention only the milestones:

- born in 1933 in Changtu (Liaoning Province, China), the son of a school headmaster;

- a diploma from the Chinese University of Medicine in 1959;

- in his student years, parallel with medicine, he studied cybernetics, quantum mechanics, and radio engineering, which enabled him to formulate the hypothesis: "In the process of the body's vital activities, its atoms and molecules HAVE TO BE linked by bioelectromagnetic fields—the UNIVERSAL MATERIAL CARRIER of energy and information.

Chiang's entire subsequent life has been devoted to obtaining evidence confirming this hypothesis and has brought him to a STUNNING DISCOVERY: genetic, biological, and psychic information is transmitted by biological EHF communications (biomicrowave communications). A technique has been discovered for the directed transmission of such information by means of a special-purpose device.

The initial experimental results were obtained very long ago, at a university laboratory in China. After Chiang had to start all over again in Khabarovsk, these results were confirmed.

The Soviet press from time to time reported his experiments, invariably under such headings as "Sensation" or "Defying the Imagination". However, the authorities kept silent, although Chiang had applied for the registration of his discovery of biomicrowave communications as far back as 1974. Nor had there been any response to letters addressed to the highest authorities: to Brezhnev, Andropov, or Chernenko, to various presidiums, ministries, and academies.

His sole consolation was KNOWLEDGE, faith in himself, and in his MISSION.

The breakthrough came in 1989.

A special "seminar to discuss Yu. V. (Yuri Vladimirovich is Chiang's Russian name - Ed.) Chiang Kanzhen's paper on biomicrowave communications" was held in Novosibirsk. The seminar, held under the auspices of Acad. V. Kaznacheyev, was attended by some 130 scientists in various fields, most of them with Dr.Sc. and Cand.Sc. degrees. There were also representatives of the USSR Academy of Sciences, the Academy of Medical Sciences, the Agricultural Academy.

Chiang's hypothesis was finally recognized. A Chiang Scientific Foundation and Chiang Institute were founded.

THE WORK CONTINUES....

THE BIOELECTROMAGNETIC FIELD AS A MATERIAL CARRIER OF BIOGENETIC INFORMATION

The bioelectromagnetic radiation of every living being is now no longer in question.

Up to now, however, it was considered that genetic information is transmitted by DNA (deoxyribonucleic acid), known to contain the genetic code in its molecules. [H: Hang on to your seats, readers, and get ready for a "far-out" proof of what we have given you prior to this in that everything in your universe is "electric" ENERGY—at LIGHT FREQUENCY AND HIGHER, IF IT BE "MANIFEST".]

Advances in modern physics have led me to assume that DNA is, in fact, only a "cassette" with recorded information, whose actual material carriers are bioelectromagnetic signals. In other words, the electromagnetic field and DNA together make up COMBINED GENETIC MATERIAL, which exists in two forms: a passive (DNA) and an active (bioelectromagnetic field) form. The passive form preserves the genetic code, the active (transmitting) form is able to modify it. [H: Does, say, Dr. Sagan know about this? Well, if he doesn't he should be flunked from his doctoral degrees! These are the better-kept secrets being held at LEAST until the "control" grid for mass brain-manipulation and population "control" is in better working order. I would suggest that Dr. Sagan does not know very much about the extensive advances in this science except from observation—but indeed, this is one of the "hidden agendas".]

In what part of the spectrum is the bioelectromagnetic radiation emitted during

BLOCK DIAGRAM OF «BIOMICROWAVE COMMUNICATIONS INSTALLATION»:

- 1 - Receiver;
- 2 - Transmission line with regulator unit, and
- 3 - Transmitter

The installation «picks up» DNA data from one living object and directs it at another the organism's vital activities?

Bioelectromagnetic signals (signals transmitting energy and information simultaneously) are moving PHOTONS [H: Remember our old "photons"? You know, the ones that got me tagged by Herr Gritz as a phony bunch of baloney??] which, according to the quantum theory, possess corpuscular and wave properties.

The corpuscular properties of the photon presuppose the use of the low-frequency band, for in that case the organism receives the largest amount of information. It is known that the lower a photon's frequency is, the smaller is its energy and, hence, the organism's limited energy can excite the most photons. [H: Does it make more sense now that someone(s) DOWN THERE wants to keep you from having the material being held hostage by US&P?]

The photon's wave properties, on the other hand, dictate the need to study the highest-frequency portion of the spectrum, which has a big transmission bandwidth. This would make possible the reception of a large body of information and a high quality of transmission.

Consequently, the bioelectromagnetic field, i.e., the material carrier of energy and information, exists in both the microwave and the IR range, in the middle portion of the electromagnetic spectrum.

Laboratory experiments with the "biomicrowave communications" installation yielded positive results in the field transmission of genetic information. The work was conducted in several areas: in agriculture (plant and animal selection), in medicine (fighting diseases, organism rejuvenation), and in other fields of genetics. [H: Perhaps out of all of this you will finally REALIZE that "cancer" is simply a mutation of cells and the "treatment" utilized is fantastically more damaging than the disease itself. The "treatment" is always to radiate, poison or whatever, the cells in point—only to the destruction of the immune system which is supposed to handle any mutated cells as they occur. And, as a matter of FACT, it will be found that the microwave frequencies do alter the frequency of cellular structure—but do not, in fact, (as you recognize the explanation) cause "cancer". If, for instance, one is on a regime of something such as Gaiandriana—the microwave frequencies can only enhance the immune system frequency as carried in those Dria/Drio cells (within reasonable exposure, of course). If you humans do not bring up the frequency of your BODY electric, you cannot offset the assault of these frequencies upon that BODY physical. Also, as can be seen by this very article in point, if you allow your immune systems to become so corrupted and insulted as is planned by the would-be "Kings", you will very definitely have tumorous changes in cellular mass and the long-shot of such is death of the host body—and/or mutation of such proportion as to cross-hybrid your own species. If it can be done with a tomato or a chicken, good buddies—IT IS ALSO BEING DONE, AS WE WRITE, TO THE HUMAN!]

PLANT AND ANIMAL SELECTION EXPERIMENTAL RESULTS

1. The effect produced by the bioelectromagnetic field of green wheat mass (the donor, placed in the receiver) on germinated maize kernels (the recipient, in the transmitter). [Editor's note: this is accurate to the original article, but it would seem to make more sense to reverse placements of the words "receiver" and "transmitter".]

The grown maize had many side stalks; in place of the cob heads there formed original ears with grains like those of both wheat and maize. Besides, the tested maize was found to be superior to a reference lot by 200 percent in kernel yield and by 300 percent in mass. Furthermore, the acquired changes were inherited by subsequent generations.

2. The effect produced by the bioelectromagnetic field of donor melons on germinated cucumber recipient seeds.

The grown cucumbers had the taste of a melon. Biochemical analysis proved the presence of DNA modifications. The acquired changes were passed on from one generation to another.

3. The effect produced by the bioelectromagnetic field of donor peanuts on recipient sunflower sprouts.

The sunflower seeds underwent a change of shape; part of them acquired a peanut taste.

4. The effect produced by the bioelectromagnetic field of a donor duck on recipient hen's eggs.

Four hundred and eighty chicks hatched from the 500 eggs subjected to the influence of a duck's bioelectromagnetic field. The following changes were observed in the chicks:

- the development of foot webbing (in 25 percent of the chicks);
- a flat-shaped duck-like head (in 80 percent);
- a long neck (in 70 percent), and

- mid-section opening of the eyes (in 90 percent).

The acquired changes were later transmitted from generation to generation.

5. The effect produced by the bioelectromagnetic field of a donor goat with long curved horns on a recipient pregnant female rabbit.

The offspring rabbits developed large curved teeth.

ORGANISM REJUVENATION

As a doctor, I am particularly interested in the effect of the electromagnetic field of young organisms on older ones.

The initial experiments were staged on old mice. They were exposed to the bioelectromagnetic radiation of young plant sprouts and animal embryos.

The obtained results:

- restoration of the sexual and reproductive functions (in 31 percent of the mice);
- extension of the life span by 1-1.5 years compared to the control group of mice (in 53 percent), and
- an improvement in appetite, reactions, and mobility (in 68 percent of the mice).

In 1987 I performed a similar experiment on myself. Its positive results were borne out by both objective and subjective evidence.

The second person who volunteered to test the method of organism rejuvenation was my 80-year-old father.

As a result, some of his 20- and 30-year-old health problems disappeared, among them an allergic itch, noise in the ears, and a benign tumour; hair appeared on bald spots six months later, the grey hair turned black, and a new tooth appeared instead of one that had fallen out 20 years earlier.

The positive results obtained in this area had by 1991 provided the grounds for patenting the invention "A Method of Organism Rejuvenation" and securing the Health Ministry's authorization to practise the microwave therapy technique.

THEORETICAL GROUNDS OF ORGANISM REJUVENATION

There is a biological law that the average life-span of mammals equals five to seven of their development periods. Therefore, the average life duration of a human being should be 125-175 years, since the human development period lasts 25 years. The actual duration of a human life, however, comprises only three development periods.

I consider that the aging of the/an organism is caused by a variety of factors, which upset the delicate structures of active genes so that these structures cannot be restored.

Only 0.2-2.0 percent of all the genes are active genes.

In my opinion, the bioelectromagnetic radiation of young organisms of other species activates the silent genes in old organisms. The process involves the law of ontogeny, i.e., the curtailed recurrence of the major systemogenetic processes, and the law of regeneration.

RESULTS OF THE APPLICATION OF THE METHOD OF MICROWAVE THERAPY (INCLUDING REJUVENATION)

After the Health Ministry granted me permission to use the method of microwave-therapy, a group of 14 patients who had volunteered for the treatment was formed. [Please see chart below.]

The nosology distribution in the group was as follows: atherosclerosis—5 cases; stenocardia—2; earlier insult—2; ulcerous condition of gastrointestinal tract—4; hepatitis—5; spinal osteochondrosis—6; arthrosis—2; eczema—3; psoriasis—1; neurosis—7, and benign tumor—2. All told, there were 39 cases in 11 nosological units for 14 patients (averaging about three diseases per patient).

Treatment results: complete cure—6 cases, including benign tumour; considerable improvement—21 cases; improvement—8 cases, and no change—2 cases.

Rejuvenation signs:

- improved general condition—12 patients;
- improved appearance (5-10 years "younger")—11 patients;
- disappearance of grey hair—9 patients, and
- improvement in sexual functions—7 patients.

TREATMENT OF CANCER

The treatment of cancer, AIDS, and post-

Patients	Age					Total number

transplantational immunity have occupied a special place in my work.

The first positive results in this area were obtained more than 20 years ago in a series of experiments in transmitting biogenetic information from ten donor rabbits with inoculated cancerous cells to recipient mice with artificially provoked malignancies (a total of 300 specimens).

As is known, rabbits do not develop cancer, and their immune potential, stimulated by the inoculations, helped the majority (70 percent) of the test mice to cope with the disease.

At the same time, all the 300 mice in the control group with artificially induced cancer perished.

When I was a laboratory assistant at the Khabarovsk Medical Institute in 1973-78, I conducted a research project of my own, entitled "Combating Cancer by Biomicrowave Communications"; in 1991 I received a patent protecting my invention of "A Method of Regulating the Immune Response" (for use in cancer treatment and organ transplantation).

IMMUNOLOGICAL RESEARCH

The application of the rejuvenation technique in medical practice was (to prove its efficaciousness) combined with immunological research, conducted at the leading clinical laboratories in Khabarovsk.

The following immunogram indicators were determined:

- the phagocytic index;
- T-lymphocytes;
- "active" T-lymphocytes;
- T-helpers;
- T-suppressors;
- B-lymphocytes;

- Class A immunoglobulins;
- Class G immunoglobulins;
- Class M immunoglobulins, and
- leukocytes.

The analysis of the processed data led to the following conclusions:

1. The application of the method achieves an optimal status of the phagocytic system, making possible a full-scale immune response to the introduction of pathogenic agents. The effect of the bioelectromagnetic radiation in this case is vitally dependent on the initial condition of the organism: if the functions of the macrophages are reduced severalfold against the norm, the bioelectromagnetic radiation can either normalize them or restore them closer to the norm. If, on the other hand, the organism is initially functioning normally, the bioelectromagnetic radiation has practically no effect on the macrophages.

2. The dynamics of the T-lymphocyte changes demonstrated the regulatory and stimulating effect of the bioelectromagnetic radiation on the T-lymphocytes.

3. While the rejuvenation technique was being applied, the lymphocyte activity was adjusted, i.e., the activity of the immunocompetent cells was brought closer—or, in some cases, even restored—to the limits of the physiological norm. This makes it possible to employ bioelectromagnetic radiation as an instrument of immunity correction.

4. A study of T-helper dynamics shows the tendency of both high and low values to normalize. It may therefore be assumed that the bioelectromagnetic field tends to activate the mechanisms of the adaptation and self-regulation of the immune system for the maintenance of homeostasis.

5. A complete description and evaluation of the T-suppressor dynamics requires a modification of the group selection method. The emphasis has to be shifted to a specific pathology of the immune system:

- a pathological condition involving hyperactivated immunocompetent cells (such as autoimmunity or allergy);
- a pathological condition involving an inadequacy of the immune system (immunodeficiency), and
- an immune status not involving any substantial changes.

This approach to group selection will henceforward be adopted in examining other T-lymphocyte subpopulations, for example, T-helpers and B-lymphocytes.

6. The examined patients who had initial Class A immunoglobulin factors below normal demonstrated, in the course of treatment with bioelectromagnetic radiation, an improvement of these factors. This points to protective and restorative processes in the organism, including the immune system.

If the immune system functions normally, there are practically no radiation effects.

7. As far as leukocyte dynamics are concerned, no unambiguous conclusions can be drawn. This factor should be viewed in conjunction with the dynamics of the lymphocytes, T-lymphocytes, and phagocytosis, and the initial status of the system.

The immunological research is still at an early stage, new avenues and methods have yet to be explored, but it can already be said that the application of bioelectromagnetic radiation to the body in accordance with the method we have developed creates the conditions for the formation of protective, restorative, and compensatory processes in the immune system, which improve the patient's health and cause rejuvenation.

RED BECKMAN--UPDATE

From: Gary Hunt at the Outpost Of Freedom in Phoenix, Arizona
Date: May 22, 1994 Phone: (602) 863-4912

Early on the morning of May 20, 1994, between eight and ten members of the Yellowstone County Sheriff's SWAT (Special Weapons and Tactics) Team entered the Beckman property. They lay in wait until Red left the house, at about 6:30 A.M., to feed the livestock and complete his chores. They grabbed Red just outside of the house and secured him. They then banged on the door. Earline, thinking it was Red, got up from bed and went to the door where she was grabbed by three of the SWAT Team members, who forced their way in and secured her. She was allowed to change from her night clothes into jeans and a sweatshirt. They explained that they were there to serve papers, and to sit tight. They then called the Sheriff who came and served the Writ.

The Swat Team then took Red's van up the street and drove Red and Earline, in a Sheriff's vehicle, up to where the van was. They were turned loose and told NOT to return to the property. They were allowed to take the clothes on their backs, a small cardboard box with miscellaneous papers and a briefcase.

The Sheriff's Deputies then blocked access to the road from both ends, much as was done in Waco. These guards stayed on duty until Sunday afternoon.

Immediately after the property was "secured" a contingent demolition party arrived. A moving van was brought in to remove personal property. Six to eight double-trailer dump trucks and a flatbed with a bulldozer were brought up. The process of removal and demolition began, and the property has been totally leveled at this writing.

Red is not sure what the disposition of his property is at this time. Red and Earline have accepted the events as the will of God. Red and Earline are staying with various friends around the Billings area and have taken these events with faith and understanding. These events will not stop Red's pursuit of exposure, absolute and complete, of the illegality of the Internal Revenue Service and the Income Tax.

GOD bless Red and Earline Beckman. Their efforts will serve us all when Red's task is completed.

Keeping The Watch As “Big Brother” Gains Control: Freedom Is An Earned Reward

5/22/94 #1 HATONN

SOMEBODY ELSE, PLEASE

As we move along with some very exciting, but far-out, revelations about “how it is”, our mission, your mission, their mission, and nobody’s mission—I am amazed that you continually miss the point.

As each thing unfolds and you realize that you ARE GIVEN HELP—I watch you back off and say, “Thank goodness, there is somebody to change these things.” Worse, however, you conjure and fiddle and do and redo, that which needs NO “re”doing in your haste to just “do som- thing.”

There is beginning to be a very large spread “notice taking” and in the sleepiness of the moment and the total misunderstanding of God, help, elders, what to do, how to do it, etc., we watch as you go hither and yon tagging behind this one or that one who is willing to take the lead. Why do you blindly follow ANYONE?

I must repeat: First, you must discern WHAT IS WRONG AND WHAT NEEDS FIXING, THEN DETERMINE THE BEST WAY TO FIX IT AND LASTLY, FIX IT! So, along come ones with this way or that way—WHEN THE ORIGINAL WOULD DO FAR, FAR BETTER! The “ideas” in “newness” may well be grand but the facts are that you have never been without the “what’s wrong”, the how to fix it—only missing was the actual fix it as ones who broke it continue to take, break and enslave.

If I told you, Americans, that the Founding Fathers are RIGHT HERE—AGAIN, to show you the way—AGAIN! What would you say? Would you just go back to sleep and turn to your earthy self-indulgent focus and “leave it to them”—AGAIN? I don’t think so, good friends. I really don’t think so. Why? Because they won’t do it FOR YOU.

REWRITING

Why do you spend hours and days, weeks and months—and on into infinity REWRITING that which OFFERED the answers—IF MAN WOULD SIMPLY ACT ACCORDING TO THE RULES, REGULATIONS, LAWS AND GUIDELINES? YOU DO NOT NEED MORE—YOU NEED THE ONES YOU HAD FOR THEY WERE BASED ON THE NATURAL LAWS OF GOD, NATURE AND JUST FAIRNESS. The CONSTITUTION was ENOUGH. The reasons that it was enough are amply covered, errors of intent were offered and justness was returned where it was totally missing in such manner that, had you continued to USE the guidebook, you would have rectified errors. For instance, had you HONORED and adhered to the LAWS, there would have been NO FACES DEACING THE BLACK HILLS OF SOUTH DAKOTA. You broke all the laws and, then, put men into high places to continue to break, misuse, abuse and grab, for their own greed, the very lifeblood of your selves and your nation. No, brothers, you do not need MORE—you need to take that which WAS and USE IT.

From time to time ones efforting to structure a workable method of “recovery” will quote from this one or that one of the Founding Fathers or politicians, or great speakers—or stupid speakers—but the facts are, you OVERLOOK THE asset which will give you back your freedom. However, if you do not take up your TRUTH soon, the New Order will have ripped it from your sleeping arms and it will be GONE.

I am going to again utilize another’s summary of “where you are.” and then, readers, patriots and would-be “reclaimers” of your historical heritage—we are going to take up the CONSTITUTION. I find that not one of you can recite correctly, the Constitutional document—AND INTERPRET IT CORRECTLY. I watch as you ponder, toss aside, argue, critically debate, relate, compare and despair while all the interim—the points and authority ARE ALREADY LAID FORTH FOR YOU! We are going to take up that document AND the reasoning behind, around and integrated with truth, intent and abundant wisdom, that which was offered BY THE PERSONS IN POINT AT THE TIME IN POINT. THEY HAVE NEVER LEFT YOU AND NEVER WAS THE INFORMATION TAKEN FROM YOU—YOU MOVED IN AN OPPOSING DIRECTION TO THE MARCH OF SATAN’S DRUMMERS. We are going to hit hard, long and tediously, the Constitution AND the Federalist Papers. [See article on p. 46 for beginning of series] Unfortunately, most of you will NOT even know, at this point, of that which I speak. Well, get ready for some shock-a-roos, readers, the Founding Fathers in great Wisdom are RETURNED—WITH THE ANSWERS—IF—YOU WILL BUT ATTEND AND ACT. At this point the Constitution is not GONE somewhere—it has simply been buried by the political New World Order. BUT SOON IT, IN FACT, WILL BE LOST TO YOU AND WHEN IT IS SO, SO SHALL YOU BE LOST TO FREEDOM.

I am not going into differences in Space Brethren or energy presence—nothing GOES anywhere, the perceptions alone change. But, NO, we of the brother tribes are NOT all from the same experience or locations as you perceive location and source. We too are growing and learning and responding as we, too, are taught and trained. You move in a spiral of energy—without time or space—only perception. However, in manifestation into dimensional format of human physical, you are presented with the perception and DIMENSION of various “directions” of expression. “YOU” don’t go anywhere and it is not time-consuming as the tick-tock of a clock to be there. However, you present sequence after sequence of experience as you ebb and flow in your pulsing universe. Pulsing? Waves? Yes, but not as you perceive it for all is a spiraling motion in perceived “action” or “motion” itself. But it is more as a “piston” which moves neither right nor left but only up and down—each stroke of this magnificent engine (motor) of manifestation responding to YOUR thought and direction.

Do you need “leaders”? Yes, because you have forgotten that YOU ARE THE LEADER and it is your responsibility to bring your brothers (self) into freedom and honor. Will there be leaders? Yes, the SAME ONES WHO SERVED IN THE FIRST INSTANCE—along with ones who will fill those roles. I suggest, however, that the thing you do now is to STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN—CAREFULLY. To do “something” is not always better than simply doing nothing. WHY NOT DO IT RIGHT? ALL THE ARGUMENTS AND ANSWERS FOR RECOVERY OF YOUR NATION—ARE RIGHT THERE IN, ACTUALLY, THE FEDERALIST PAPERS AS REGARDS THE CONSTITUTION. AND, WE SHALL OFFER THEM FOR YOUR ATTENTION [see p. 46 for beginning of this presentation].

But what of the Blacks? Indians? and on and on?? What about them? I am not saying much of ANYTHING was right and certainly ACTIONS were WRONG. However, THE WRONGNESS OF THE ACTIONS WAS NOT

“First, you must discern WHAT IS WRONG AND WHAT NEEDS FIXING, THEN DETERMINE THE BEST WAY TO FIX IT AND LASTLY, FIX IT!”

OFFERED AS PERMISSION IN THE BLESSED DOCUMENT. I AM GOING TO REPEAT SOMETHING TO YOU PEOPLE: THIS IS A BLESSED NATION, YOU HAVE A BLESSED FLAG AND YOU HAVE ALL BUT DESTROYED IT. IT IS, HOWEVER, THE PLACE CHOSEN FOR GOD TO TAKE HIS STAND AND SEE IF THERE BE ANY AMONG YOU WORTHY OF THE TRIP HOME WITH HIM!

Is it harder now than "then"? NO—you have more tools with which to work to reclaim TODAY than ever in the history of nations. Those errors and thefts of, say, the Native American's lands CAN BE RECTIFIED and SHALL BE RECTIFIED—but they too must step forward in TRUTH (not political revenge or greed) and join hands with brothers of whatever races—and march together in non-acceptance of that which has come upon you. Do not expect the change to come as if by a sprinkling of magic sand and stardust—for the majority of the very innocent and Godly tribes will have "joined" the adversary in an attempt to "get something" out of the insanity. There is overwhelming need for forgiveness, love and movement, as brothers in friendship—not just brothers in blood-line who act as brothers who quibble, grab, punch, insult and bumble in your ego aggressions.

MALCOLM-X

There is a mural, a picture, of Malcolm-X which has been offered for the public viewing. On the day-before-yesterday it was defaced by someone throwing red paint on it. I am purposely not telling you where it is or who did these things for it matters NOT. The Jews say it is anti-Semitic in intent and the Whites complain and thus and so... Why? Who is Malcolm-X? It doesn't matter—what does matter is that now the community is up in arms and the efforts are to try to "clean" the paint off and restore the picture before it is "set" and "worthless". Do you not see that the very defacement says more than all the pictures you can paint??? Why, the very paint used, as in blood, is dripping down the portrait and across the flags and symbols—and the defacement itself takes on THE VERY MEANING THAT COULD NEVER BE EXPRESSED IN A PICTURE OF A MAN. If you ones cannot come to see these relationships—you aren't ever going to achieve peace and freedom. May you come to see....

A THOUGHTFUL COMMENTARY

I am, as a summary, well done, of your situation and intents of world government, going to ask that you study the following. This is an address by a man called Charles Williams, 305 96th St., Kenosha, WI 53143. Phone: 1-414-694-7562. I am giving this information because he has great insight into the problems and wishes to "do something" and it is time, for you who are "heard" around the nation, to become integrated with directed purpose. Ronn Jackson, for instance, thinks he can come forth and everyone will rally—and, it CAN BE SO—but only if YOU DO YOUR PART! YOU ARE NOW HOLDING IN YOUR HAND THE POWER TO TURN ABOUT AND TAKE BACK YOUR NATION—AND MOVE ACROSS THE GLOBE IN FREEDOM—OR FOREVER SINK INTO OBLIVION AS A CIVILIZATION—ONCE AGAIN HAVING BEEN TAKEN AND DESTROYED BY EVIL ITSELF. SO BE IT.

I again offer appreciation and gratitude to

[QUOTING:]

KEYNOTE ADDRESS AT BROOKFIELD CONFERENCE WARNS ABOUT STANDARDS AND WORLD GOVERNMENT IMPLEMENTATION— TOTAL CONTROL

Charles Williams is employed by a Kenosha business. He knows first hand the pressures put on competitive businesses today. He has a son in the public school where restructuring has turned education upside down. He is concerned about massive usurpation by government officials and calls out to fellow Americans to help with "State Action" before it is too late! He was the keynote speaker for the Wisconsin Legislative & Research Committee, Inc. Annual Conference on April 9, 1994 at the Embassy Suites Hotel in Brookfield, WI. Appreciation is given to Ruth Cody, Milwaukee, WI, for her labors at transcription of this speech.

The thrust here will be:

INTERNATIONAL STANDARDS ORGANIZATION STANDARDS (ISO)

Good morning! It's good to see so many of you here today. How many country boys and country girls do we have here today? That's kind of a trick question. I'm a country boy too—American. This is my country. And our country is in a lot of trouble right now. Our country is in deep trouble, but we have a group here that is representative of all of America. We have many, many groups like this across the Nation—people who are waking up! They see danger on the horizon and Americans have always been good about rising to danger. The Bible says that "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge."

Well, today, we are going to try to pass some of the knowledge that we have gleaned from the various sources over to you, so that we will no longer be ignorant of the knowledge that may, in fact, save us from, well, for lack of a better word, the damnation that Satan is trying to pour upon us.

I have a quote here, actually several, that I would like to read to you—one from Winston Churchill. Winston Churchill wrote this in the Sunday Herald in London, on Feb. 8th, 1920: "From the days of Spartacus Weishaupt to those of Karl Marx and down to Trotsky of Russia and Bella Kuhn of Hungary, Rosa Luxembourg of Germany and Emma Goldman of the USA—this world-wide conspiracy for the overthrow of civilization and for the reconstitution of society on the basis of arrested development of envious malevolents and impossible equality, has been steadily growing. They played a definitely recognizable part in the tragedy of the French Revolution. It has been the mainspring of every subversive movement during the 19th Century and now, at last, this band of extraordinary personalities from the under-world of the great cities of Europe and America, yes, even America, have gripped the Russian people by the hair of their heads."

A history professor by the name of Arnold

Toynbee said, in 1931, "We are working discretely, but with all of our might, to undermine the sovereignty of our respective nations."

Mortimer J. Adler—I used this quote in an article I recently wrote titled "Communitarianism"—it stated: "No disorder results when the state requires the individual to sacrifice or give up goods for the good of the community. On the contrary, the State is then only requiring the individual to give up individual goods that are detrimental to his own ultimate good."

A book called The Spirit of Community, which President Clinton was photographed carrying in January, was written by Amital Etzioni. This book is endorsed by Bill Clinton, Al Gore, Daniel Moynihan, Jack Kemp and Henry Cisneros. On page 265 of that book this quote appears: "There is little sense in gun registration. What we need, to significantly enhance public safety, is domestic disarmament. That exists in practically all other democracies." (We are not a democracy, folks.) "We join with those who read the Second Amendment the way it was written, as a communitarian clause calling for communities, militias, not individual gun slingers."

On page 266 of the same book, it says: "Our communitarian concern may begin with ourselves and our families, but it rises inexorably toward the long imagined community of mankind," commonly called the New World Order.

This article appeared in the Kenosha News, picked up from AP—The Associated Press—and it refers to Communitarianism and the book which I just mentioned to you. It also used some of the quotes in here, but you see what is happening—we are being socialized, communized and we are being told it is good.

Some of the statements from that article on Communitarianism simply indicate that America must re-align the balance between the rights of individuals and the responsibilities of members of the society. Individual rights are to disappear. Communitarian proponents, such as Bill Clinton, believe that sacrifice of individual rights is for the collective good. It sounds an awful lot like Communism to me, folks. Or Socialism!

Here is an interesting statement from a book called The Coercive Utopians. This is a statement by Patricia Weis Fagan, Toward Detente With Cuba, Issues and Obstacles. It states: "For most Cubans, the progress of the revolution and the promotion of human rights are one and the same thing. The Cuban government operates to protect and align what are previewed as collective rights—those of the majority. When individual rights are thought to endanger collective rights, they are sacrificed." So the communitarian aspect is no different than what they already have in Cuba. What do they have in Cuba? Communism!

I brought with me some updates on ISO-9000 to show you how this will interrelate with business, how it is going to interrelate with the global economy and in education. Before I go into that, I have a little piece here from a news-letter that I received that gives you an overview of what is happening in America. It says: "Our share of world GNP has now fallen 60%, from about 50% in the early '50s to less than 20% today. We have dropped 30 [percentage points] from what we used to have. There are no steel mills in Pittsburgh, not a single one. Our steel production comes from overseas where they produce it cheaper and better. In 1960, nine of the world's ten largest banks were American. Today, not a single American bank is even in the top twenty. They are all Japanese and European." (By accident?)

"General Motors, once the largest corporation in the world, used to sell two out of every three new cars in the world. Today they are struggling to keep a share of the market at one of four. We no longer have the refinery capacity to meet our demand for refined oil products. We have nowhere to refine our oil from Alaska's North Slope, so we sell it for a song to Japan. They refine it and send it back to us—sophisticated resins and plastic at 100 to 1000 times as much. We don't have a single factory capable of building VCRs, color TVs, or video cameras—not a single one! All lap-top computers come from Japan, or from other Southeast Asian countries. Many of our major shipyards are closed down. Our Merchant Marine, once by far the mightiest fleet in the world, is almost nonexistent. Hundreds of ships are rotting in the docks. We used to build the world's great ships. Now, when we do need ships, we get them from Korea."

You know, this epitaph sounds an awful lot like pre-World War II Germany, doesn't it? Strangely enough, our politics seem very much pre-World War II Germany.

An article appeared in Kenosha News on Sunday, August 22, 1993, and stated: "Europe Sets Its Standards", and talking about the processes in Europe, trying to standardize procedures for business, for selling, for economy, for transportation and going to a single system—a "One World system."

"Wisconsin University-Parkside, Professional Development—the ISO 9000 Standards—A Practical Overview." It states: "Ian Durand has served for more than six years as a US delegate to the ISO-9000 series of quality standards. These standards provide a worldwide set of quality assurance guidelines applicable to both manufacturing and services industries."

"Today corporations around the world are building sound quality systems based on the ISO standards and both the American National Standard Institutes and the American Society of Quality Control have adapted these standards for use in the United States. The result is that for the first time a single and consistent set of international guidelines is available to evaluate a company's ability to provide goods and services. To achieve ISO certification, an increasingly necessary part to do business, both service and manufacturing companies must undergo a quality audit by an accredited third-party organization."

We at Snap-On-Tools just had our audit last week. How we did, I don't know. The point is, if we don't do well, we are out of business. As our officer in charge of ISO for Snap-On said, "ISO will not give us any new business; it will simply prevent us from losing that which we already have." I think that is rather obvious. What he is really saying is: "Either we get on board or we are out of business."

ISO is the International Standards Organization. It also is in reference to the Isosceles Triangle of the Greek nature referring to equality. So when you say ISO referring to equality, you are also referring to equal standards among nations so everybody has a "level playing field". In other words, America's advantage is to be disadvantaged.

I have a bill here in my hand—a proposed bill that is still in committee from the Oregon Legislative Assembly of 1993—the December session—House Bill 2458, a Bill for an Act, relating to Economic Development, and it states: "Be it enacted by the people of the State of Oregon, the Legislative Assembly finds that Oregon businesses that intend to trade with the European community must be registered as conforming to the production standards described in the ISO 9000 Standards series. Businesses that are not registered will not be able to continue serving foreign existing customers within the European community or sell their products or services in new European communities."

So, as you can see, even the Legislatures are pushing this ISO. Well, I had a rumor from a friend of mine, from Kenosha, who had heard that the Department of Defense was busy putting in a process of standardization for businesses doing business with the Department of Defense—contractual businesses. So I called up the Department of Defense in Washington and talked to a fellow by the name of Frank Doherty, who is the Division Chairman of Industrial Liaison to the Department of Defense. I asked him, "What is this about standards that the Department of Defense is setting up?" He says, "Well, we're setting up the ISO recommendations, and mandatory confirmation that this be set up in every industry—not only in America, but every industry in the world that does business with the Department of Defense must be registered into the ISO process."

Now he says: "ISO is the minimum standard. There are higher standards but we will accept no less than the ISO." I said, "Is this the ultimate of where you are heading?" He said: "No, ISO is the first step. Ultimately we will move into a process of (listen to these things and I think some of you will recognize them) advanced quality concepts. We will empower people instead of design teams, and we will have continuous improvement and there will be a team approach to everything." Sounds a little bit like Outcome Based Education, doesn't it? Or does Outcome Based Education sound a little bit like what the Department of Defense wants?

If you were to go back and study in the '60s, you'd find a process known as PPBS—Planning, Programming and Budgeting System. It's the same thing. They just brought it back home to roost.

The home base for ISO is Geneva, Switzerland. But that's a ruse. The "secret societies" are good at telling us one thing and doing something else. It is not in Geneva. That is only a front. It goes further. It is actually in—let me read to you right from this article which I received from Senator Kohl's office. I don't see it here, but I'll tell you what it says. It says, "Many people believe that the ISO Standards are home-ported and controlled out of Geneva, Switzerland. But in fact they have the controls from the international banking houses of London, England." But that's still not where it stops. It further went on to state "that the international banking houses got it from the Department of Defense, Washington, D.C." How about that?

So, now we see where this is all coming from. The statement from the Bureau of National Affairs, International Environment Daily, December 23, 1993—another article I received from Senator Kohl's office—says: "ISO 9000, International Standards is voluntary. Don't believe it. But it will become somewhat of a requirement—that you can believe. Given the world-wide trend toward quality system registration, an expert on the issue told a European environmental regulations conference on November 18th, ISO 9000 is an international standard that describes elements of an effective quality system." It was written by technical committees of 176 of the International Organizations for Standards.

Another statement here, "20th Story of Level 1" printed in full format from the 1993 Businesswire Number 406. It says that "the ISO 9000 is a set of technical standards developed in the 1980s to offer a uniform way of determining whether manufacturing and service organizations implement and document sound quality procedures. While ISO 9000 standards are rapidly becoming a requirement for success in the international market-place, many US companies are either unaware of the standards or have failed to register their compliance." There is that word—compliance. Does that sound voluntary to you? Even though the article previously said that this is all voluntary, "Experts estimate that more than 20,000 companies from the European community are registered under ISO, while only 621 in the US have been registered by the end of 1992." Well, Snap-On Tools is very close.

Another statement from 1993, from McGraw Hill Incorporated Data Communications says: "Boxes and packages shipping from networking vendors now often sport a label that is fast becoming an industry seal of approval. That is an ISO 9000 designation for buyers and the ISO 9000 tag of a vendor's official assurance of vendor quality." But how much assurance and what kind of quality? "For those not familiar with ISO 9000's inner workings the answer to these questions may be a little surprising."

And, it goes into some of the reasons: "The reality of ISO is—it does nothing for quality. It does nothing for production, except slows it down. ISO is really just a control mechanism." That is the name of the game, folks, total control! Isn't that what Revelation 13:17 and 18 referred to? (from the Christian Holy Bible). It is a total control system where no man might buy or sell—just total control.

I occasionally go through various papers and here are just a few ISO ads that have been appearing in the Kenosha News, the Milwaukee Sentinel, the Wall Street Journal, and the Chicago Tribune. Some of these papers have as many as nine on one single little spot that I've cut out. So, it's here!

IT IS HERE!
PPBS—PLANNING, PROGRAMMING, BUDGETING SYSTEM—OUTCOME BASED EDUCATION, MANAGEMENT BY OBJECTIVES!!!

Now, here is a nice little trick hand of fate. Has anybody here ever heard of W. Edwards Deming of the Deming Process? ISO is moving, it is like a map, and it is a road map leading to the Deming Process. This is the mechanism by which they intend to control. This is it, folks: the Deming Process, PPBS—Planning, Programming, Budgeting System—Outcome Based Education, Management by Objectives, the same thing they have used in Soviet Russia and Red China for years. That is what they want to do to America. Are you going to let them (the planners) do it? I do not intend to!

Here is a news note from the Kenosha Public Library. "Total Quality Management coming to KPL (Kenosha Public Library) in 1994. In 1994 KPL will undertake a comprehensive effort to introduce Total Quality Management" (ISO 9000—Outcome Based Education—same thing) "into the way we do business." This means reform in how we think, and about the library as a workplace, and changes in the way we deliver services to our customers. You'll notice, too, when you get into Outcome Based Education, and I'm sure Mrs. Herzer will get into that this afternoon, that even students and parents are referred to as customers. Everybody is now a customer because we are in business. We people are children or resources, so therefore we are utilized by business and are customers and resources combined.

"Implementing TQM is not a matter of making minor modifications to the way we think and carry out our work. Instead, it is a matter of radical restructuring." Amen to that because they want to totally turn over America from what we were to what they want us to be—a global operation and a global fascist state.

Here is an article from The American School Board JOURNAL. This is what your school board members across the nation get. This article appeared in May of 1992 and is called, "The Skills for the New World Order". I bet they didn't tell you that they received any information about that or were working on it, did they?

"Skills for The New World Order: New standards and advanced technologies now require all students to master skills once demanded only by white collar and technical elites. The National School Conference Institute had (on this little page—a foldout) its 11th annual Effective Schools Conference—the Total Quality School, Site-Based Management and Total Quality Management, in Phoenix, Arizona, on February 24, 1994. This was just a few weeks ago—actually a month or so ago and some of the featured speakers, for those of you in education, this should be a name for you—LARRY LAZAT, and others by the name of Madeline Hunter, David Langford and Patrick Dolan.

In TIME magazine in January, there was an article that appeared: Standards, Compliances and write to US Chamber of Commerce to get more information. So I did. I received this little booklet from the US Chamber of Commerce and guess what? TOTAL QUALITY MANAGEMENT AND TOTAL QUALITY LEARNING—the very same thing again.

The Total Quality Learning was about a 75-page book and I've got page one in my hand. It was passed out to certain administrators and pre-selected teachers in the Kenosha Unified School District. Total Quality Learning is nothing more than TQM which is a road map section to ISO 9000 and world control mechanisms. In that book, there was something I found very interesting. One of the things they showed was a graph—a time line—and the time line graph shows the current school system. It shows individualism—everyone learning on an individual basis. Then it shows a time line for the future school—collectivism! Are they trying to tell us something?

Somehow, some of this is moving into the Education System. I'm going to steal a little bit of Mrs. Herzer's powder—hopefully I don't cover too much of it. I'm going to show you exactly where this is heading, with Business and Education as a partnership. First of all, recall just a few weeks ago, on April 1, 1994, when Clinton finally signed the Education Bill—Goals 2000. So it is in place—all the structure is now being put in place. One of the hard pushers for the Goals 2000 is the NEA (the National Education Association), the teacher's union. This is from the NEA Journal. It comes out once a month. A teacher friend of mine passed this on to me—asked me if I would like to read it and I said, "Sure".

On page 31 of the February issue, it says: "NEA Plays Key Role in UN Agency Founding." Which agency?—UNESCO! THEY ADMIT IT NOW, FINALLY, THAT THEY WERE KEY IN PLACING UNESCO. WHAT IS UNESCO? IT IS THE UN EDUCATION ARM, TO MAKE US BELIEVE IN WORLD GOVERNMENT, COLLECTIVISM, SURRENDER OF SOVEREIGNTY, DISARMAMENT—THIS IS ALL THAT THIS IS FOR. We are supposed to like this.

From the desk of our school administrator in Kenosha, Wisconsin [H: Actually it is "Everywhere, USA (and world)."], Superintendent Anthony Bisciglia—it even has his name on here—this is called: "The School Administrator" and inside of that booklet, on page 13, it has a list—profiles of far-right citizen groups. Let me name some of the groups that they say are far-right and therefore dangerous fanatics: "American Family Association; Christian Coalition; Citizens for Excellence in Education; Concerned Women of America; Eagle Forum; Focus on the Family and Traditional Values Coalition. That is what the school administrations are learning about these organizations, and that is what they apparently think about any organization, family, or citizen where great values are placed on God, family and country. This is what is called PLANNED DECEPTION.

How many of you folks scrutinize newspapers and read them real carefully? I have been doing a lot of that lately and, you know what? They tell us what they are doing. They are not a bit shameful about it. Well, I'm going to give you a whirlwind, hopefully, a whirlwind view of some newspaper clippings that will probably really astound you—they are so open about this. Did you ever hear of a fellow by the name of Walter Annenberg? [close friend of Ronald Reagan started TV Guide]. He just gave $500 million to the education system. Well, did they tell you what he designated that money for? It has a listing in here for that: "The initial grants go to the Coalition of Essential Schools headed by Brown University's TheodoreSizer." Ann Herzer can tell you more about him this morning. Another grant goes to the "New American School Development Corporation,"—a private-sector venture launched by the Bush administration and headed by its former Deputy Secretary of Education, David Kern, who sponsors a variety of 'break-the-mold' schools. What that simply means is no-holds barred—anything goes—except the law, if YOU violate the law, folks. (Ed. note: Actually in this instance many of the State laws are waived so that the new School partners may do their independent planning.)

The third recipient is the Denver-based Education Commission of the States—the primary resource center for governors who are pushing education reform plans. Its president, Frank Newman, who is very handily involved in the restructuring of Wisconsin's school system and has been in the forefront of an effort for results-oriented or Outcome Based schools. So you can see that Mr. Annenberg, whether he is good, bad or indifferent, I don't know, but he has certainly picked some very, very leftist groups. [H: Annenberg is a powerful and rich player in these games, good friends—remember, he is THE one who is always supplying HIS home as a guest house retreat for PRESIDENTS and thus and so—never overlook him because you will also ALWAYS see his name as sponsor and donor to such as the Public Broadcasting System, etc. Indeed, a name to WATCH!

"Westosha Board Discusses No Fail Classes." What is this? OBE classes include global issues, government instructors do not issue a failing grade but give students an incomplete, allowing the students an additional nine weeks, if necessary, to complete assignments. If they can't get them done in the regular school year, they can finish it up in summer school. If they have no summer school, then they can finish it up the following year. That is what they say right here in the article. [H: Do you believe the Federalist Papers relative to the Constitution will be "must" study and homework—OR, SCHINDLER'S LIST?] {The beginning of our on going presentation for your study and homework begins on the next page.}

"Electronics firm cites skills needed." They are going to train the children for the specific regional skills of a particular region, according to what the businesses want. Now that doesn't necessarily mean they are going to train your children for the skills necessary in Milwaukee, Phoenix or Kenosha. The skills they need might be a regional business in Shanghai, or a regional business in Hong Kong. So, you notice, if you have been watching the papers, they are now making foreign language mandatory—no longer an elective. Why? You have to train them to speak the language in the area where they are going to work. Remember, part of the Communist Manifesto was the redistribution of resources! Don't forget now, industry has named us, Government has named us— and just about everybody has named us a resource (people). We are to be redistributed to locations wherever they see fit.

Listen Folks, this all sounds negative. And granted, it does seem like we have an unbeatable battle before us. But we have somebody—someone who is always greater than ourselves and that is the Lord Christ. They can't beat HIM. They tried before and He rose from the dead, proving them wrong. He is coming back. In the meantime, we are to be as watchmen on the tower walls. And we are also to be out in the streets or to be out in the business communities making a stand. We are the salt of the Earth. We are not going to let them win this because we have Christ on our side.

We will win this battle. We may lose the initial battle but we, in fact, will win the war. So with that, God Bless You and keep fighting the good fight!

[END QUOTING]

So, I suggest the same: That we fight the GOOD FIGHT and get on with WINNING THE WAR! Salu.

The Point Is To Remember Our Constitution

This is an introduction to a series which is going to be presented in the CONTACT over the next few weeks. It may well be the most important series of history lessons for the reclamation of a nation ever presented. Also, please note a most important JOURNAL (see the MORE READING box) which contains all the background information you will need to keep up with this ongoing presentation. Stay tuned for "History 101" as you've never experienced.

5/23/94 #1 HATONN

PATRIOTISM VS. USE OF PATRIOTISM

While you run on "empty" you are distracted by myriads of various and sundry ideas, rewritings, refoundings, Constitutional conventions, Amendments and other things which invariably cloud issues instead of clarify the foundation upon which your national LAWS were established. There are, however, the Federalist Papers offered under the identity of "Publius" and all were published in, I believe, the New York Times. There are also what are called the "Anti"-Federalist writings. Chelas, we don't have time for you to go about your continued haphazard "shopping" for a "better way". YOU DO NOT YET EVEN BEGIN TO UNDERSTAND THE WAY ALREADY LAID AS FOUNDATION FOR YOUR USE. This is NOT in any way to lessen the value and/or evidence presented by ones who would give their very lives to reclaim the freedoms you have lost and therefore work around the clock to present understandable and workable attachments or explanations to that which you were offered in the Constitution of the United States of America.

We did not give thought lightly to that which was established in the founding of your nation—under GOD with liberty and justice for all as a DEMAND within the LAWS. If there were errors, we diligently tried to rectify those injustices (as to the slaves and Native Americans). Remember, you were working with a diverse group of "politicians"—just as you must rise above and beyond this day. You have the same resources in your hands and an awakening mass of citizens to aid and abet your flow, through the fundamental law of the Constitution—IF YOU UNIFY AND EVERYONE CAN BE GIVEN A WAY IN WHICH TO HAVE CLARIFICATION—FOR YOU NO LONGER ARE AL-LOWED TO TEACH THIS IN YOUR FASCIST SCHOOLS!

We have offered a document compiled by Michael Silverhawk, called The Refounding Amendment. [Presented in 5/10/94 CONTACT p. 50.] Indeed, we have met with Michael Silverhawk and shall offer help in his continuing call to duty. There are, however, questions which arise one upon the other as readers effort to understand, clarify and define. These need attention, yes, however I shall not take time to do so. I will, though, lay forth the two major paragraphs which cause inquiry. I shall not attempt to define, in 30 seconds or less, the meaning or "should be" of such writings. Ronn Jackson petitions me this day, to do that in two instances, Paragraphs 3 and 6. No, I will offer the paragraphs as they are and now, give you explanation as to why I will not stop and take up these individual subjects which are out of sequence for that which we are doing, starting this day.

As yesterday, I repeat today, we will take the Federalist Papers AND THE CONSTITUTION AND INTEGRATE THE DIRECT COMMENTS ON INDIVIDUAL POINTS WITHIN THE CONSTITUTION.

You do NOT need ANOTHER CONSTITUTION: YOU NEED TO RECLAIM THE ONE YOU HAVE—IT COVERS ALL THE THINGS, ABUNDANTLY, THAT YOUR POLITICIANS (and Ross Perot) CLAIM NEED OF FORMING A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION. I warn continually AGAINST such a convention. I try to make you see that in the calling and holding a Constitutional Convention—ALL OF THE CONSTITUTION WILL BE ABORTED (as has actually happened already in the PRACTICE). This is what happened with the formation of THE Constitution. Was "it" for the better in that instance? YES, but it will NOT be better in this instance as you will be basically changing to the Communist Manifesto, The Protocols of Zion—under the United Nations Chartered ONE WORLD ORDER. [To get up to speed on the above mentioned documents, see MORE READING box on this page.] SO, DO NOT ALLOW SUCH A CONVENTION TO TAKE PLACE.

"You do NOT need ANOTHER CONSTITUTION: YOU NEED TO RECLAIM THE ONE YOU HAVE—IT COVERS ALL THE THINGS, ABUNDANTLY, THAT YOUR POLITICIANS (and Ross Perot) CLAIM NEED OF FORMING A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION."

THE REFOUNDING "AMENDMENT"

THE REFOUNDING "AMENDMENT" is a guideline only for the REFOUNDING OF AMERICA. Where the contradictions and confusion in this document come about are in exactly that which is laid forth in wording—again, language and translation of definitions are the big "stoppers". Example? In Paragraph 3: Defining Our Citizenship: "It is essential for the survival of this nation, for the people to know exactly who they are and be able to define their citizenship." And yet, from the writing in point, one is unable to give exact definition because of the variances in the use of United States of America and "Americans". So, Michael, are we speaking of The Western Hemisphere (and should we be) or are we efforting to bring back stability FIRST into the society which CAN PULL IT OFF BECAUSE OF ITS INDEPENDENT STATUS AS A NATION?

Michael (and I refer to Michael as a generic direction in no way intending to offend or delete other writers who have worked diligently over this document) states in this Paragraph 3:

"The People of this nation are Americans. Only People who have been born of an American or who have been explicitly and legally naturalized as Americans shall be Americans. Americans who establish a domicile in one of the several States may be referred to as American Citizens or more simply as Citizens. In the constitutional republic, Americans are Citizens by virtue of their State Citizenship. Those Americans who have not established a domicile in one of the several States shall be referred to as American Nationals.

American Nationals shall become Citizens upon establishing a domicile in one of the several States. No State shall restrict an American from establishing a domicile in the State. The Federal Agency shall establish no special class of Americans or federal citizenship over which it shall have jurisdiction. Only Americans shall participate in public service."

So, the problem comes in defining "American". By this, I do not mean the definition as listed herein—for that becomes quite clear. Is it, however, correct to refer to the United States as the ONLY substantial "America" in which a citizen is referred to as "American"? No—it is not but it was always chosen to speak in that manner. The meaning of the term is

For a JOURNAL that presents all the documents you need to become familiar with, including the New States Constitution, Protocols Of Zion, Communist Manifesto, and the UN Charter, plus our own United States Constitution; order ECSTASY TO AGONY THROUGH THE PLAN 2000, JOURNAL #68; see Back Page for ordering information.

VERY CLEAR, however, and ones should not become hung-up on semantics because the "Initiative" in point is a working document. YOU must come to understand it in detail to stop such misunderstanding in the finalized Constitution—but let us be generous with our picking before the carcass is even presented. It clearly states that "Americans are Citizens by VIRTUE OF THEIR STATE CITIZENSHIP...." In other words, to become sovereign as persons (citizens) you are going to have to ALSO reclaim STATE SOVEREIGNTY!

THE POINT IS TO REMEMBER THE CONSTITUTION IS A FOUNDATION FOR A REPUBLIC, NOT SOME SORT OF FASCIST-SOCIALIST DEMOCRACY!

You have the personages, the information and the DUTY to bring forth that WONDROUS DOCUMENT called the CONSTITUTION of the United States of America. You have wonderful input from which to draw strength—there is NO NEED TO START OVER! We will offer those arguments which present truth and wisdom in the founding of this nation with use of this document. It is time for factions, races, creeds and colors to put that aside—we are again talking about reestablishing a REPUBLIC before you get the old one suicided into its everlasting grave. Errors can then be rectified, justice can be again established, Natives can reclaim their rightful lands and heritages and thus and so....

The next major question about the "Re-founding" document revolves around Paragraph 6: Protecting Property Rights.

[QUOTING:]

The right of the people to have the lawful ability to own and possess property is vital for a free society. When government becomes the landlord and the dictator of property, the people are not free.

"Allodial ownership and full possession of property is fundamental to individual liberty. The right of Americans to lawfully acquire, possess, and own property of any form shall not be restricted, abridged or denied. The Federal Agency shall not lien, levy or apply in any way an assessment, claim or tax to the property of the American People. [H: Now readers, this is already covered in the Constitution. What you as the reading public must do is go forth and study up on that which IS already explained, such as the term "allodial", etc. Then, and only then, can you move forward in understanding. We will work as quickly as possible in our attempts to clarify and "council" as well as "counsel" on these points. However, sequence of presentation in this type of "mass" media must take proper cooperation. The CONTACT is prepared to make this paper your LIBERATOR as from Garrison in the days of Civil War in a struggle to preserve the Union and presenting equality to citizens—ALL citizens. You will also be able to obtain help from such as the NEW FEDERALIST and SPOTLIGHT as focus begins to shift around. You have US (WE/ME) AT THE ORIGINAL MANIFESTATION—AND WE ARE HERE IN EVERY SENSE OF THE WORD—NOW—TO ASSIST. SO BE IT. "THEY" DIDN'T UNDERSTAND IT THEN BUT PERHAPS YOU WILL COME TO UNDERSTAND IT NOW! The Federal Agency will neither own nor have title to any property. All property administered by the Federal Agency shall be held in trust for the benefit of the American People. The Federal Agency shall not sell, give or transfer property directly or indirectly to foreign powers or foreign individuals. The Federal Agency shall not leverage or collateralize property in any way. Upon the ratification of this amendment and whenever this nation is again re-founded, all claims and title to the real property held within the several States under the jurisdiction of the Federal Agency not explicitly authorized by this Constitution shall be conveyed to that State in which it is held. All currently defined territories of the Native American Peoples shall be recognized as separate and sovereign nations and offered the protection of America. The People of the territories within the jurisdiction of the Federal Agency shall hold a popular election every seven years to approve or reject the jurisdiction of the Federal Agency. The jurisdiction and power exercised within the territories by the Federal Agency shall have the same scope and limits as within the sovereign States of America."

[END OF QUOTING]

Do you not see how ALL nations could make free decisions to come within the label of Americans? Say, Canada, chose to do so; she and each province could become recognized as a State, retaining all sovereignty but establishing citizenship individually under one protective Constitution which COULD NOT BE TAMPERED NOR USURPED BY THE FEW. Your problem as "citizens", now, is that you are convinced (trained through the lie) that that "federal legislative United States" is somehow your GOD. You set up a greedy, Satanistic, humanistic FASCIST Monarchy in Washington D.C. I would suggest you even relocate your national or "general" republic governing body. In other words—STOP DOING BUSINESS WITH THE BULLDOZERS IN THAT CORRUPT AND DISREPUTABLE CITY! Until you clean out the palace (White House)—don't move into the palace where the guards still protect the KING! You don't even NEED A BUILDING—a nice hillside under a lovely tree is more appropriate at WORST. Stop building TEMPLES to Satan and stop paying his henchmen! Can you do it? Certainly!

Now, what is it that I have in mind here? Well, let us "example".

We will take your Constitution as presented and integrate portions of the Federalist Papers to reference the points as we move along. We will be able to cover ALL, but we will also present both these documents, in full, as we move along. If you are eager—we can ask for a reprinting of the CONTACT papers which have offered the various Constitution(s) as you hold and as projected (New States Constitution), etc. Or, perhaps the editorial staff will offer the "journals" in which these are reprinted. Thank you. [Again, consider the JOURNAL #68, in the MORE READING box on the previous page, as the first textbook for Commander's ongoing new History class.]

Let us example, now, the method of which I herein speak:

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA (RELATIVE TO THE FEDERALIST PAPERS), (Chapter 1)

We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this CONSTITUTION for the United States of America.

Excerpt from Federalist Paper number 84, Alexander Hamilton (Publius):

"...thrown into the form of an act of parliament called the Bill of Rights. It is evident, therefore, that, according to their primitive signification, they have no application to constitutions, professedly founded upon the power of the people and executed by their immediate representatives and servants. Here, in strictness, the people surrender nothing; and as they retain everything they have no need of particular reservations, "We, THE PEOPLE of the United States, to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America." Here is a better recognition of popular rights than volumes of those aphorisms which make the principal figure in several of our State bills of rights and which would sound much better in a treatise of ethics than in a constitution of government.

"But a minute detail of particular rights is certainly far less applicable to a Constitution like that under consideration, which is merely intended to regulate the general political interests of the nation, than to a constitution which has the regulation of every species of personal and private concerns. If, therefore, the loud clamors against the plan of the convention, on this score, are well founded, no epithets of reprobation will be too strong for the constitution of this State. But the truth is that both of them contain all which, in relation to their objects, is reasonably to be desired.

BILL OF RIGHTS

"I go further and affirm that bills of rights, in the sense and to the extent in which they are contended for, ARE NOT ONLY UNNECESSARY IN THE PROPOSED CONSTITUTION BUT WOULD EVEN BE DANGEROUS. They would contain various exceptions to powers which are not granted; and, on this very account, would afford a colorable pretext to claim more than was granted. For WHY declare that things shall not be done, which there is no power to do? Why, for instance, should it be said that the liberty of the press shall not be restrained, WHEN NO POWER IS GIVEN BY WHICH RESTRICTIONS MAY BE IMPOSED? I will not contend that such a provision would confer a regulating power; but it is evident that it would furnish, to men disposed to usurp, a plausible pretense for claiming that power. They might urge with a semblance of reason that the Constitution ought not to be charged with the absurdity of providing against the abuse of an authority which was not given, and that the provision against restraining the liberty of the press afforded a clear implication that a power to prescribe proper regulations concerning it was intended to be vested in the national government. This may serve as a specimen of the numerous handles which would be given to the doctrine of constructive powers, by the indulgence of an injudicious zeal for bills of rights...." [H: Various emphases mine.]

I do not intend to comment on each "speech" for this is but a small excerpt which diminishes "meaning" from the contents of the full message and, realize, this is paper no. 84 of 85 so you have 83 such papers and speeches leading up to full understanding of No. 84.

What is at point here is indeed wondrously comprehensive—YOU DID NOT NEED THE BILL OF RIGHTS—FOR THE INTENT IS COVERED NICELY IN THE BODY OF THE CONSTITUTION. This reminds me of the LAWS OF GOD. HE GAVE LAWS and man tampered with them to SUIT HIS OWN WHIMS. God didn't say to hold every "Sunday" open as a Holy Day. YOU DON'T EVEN KNOW WHICH DAY IS THE "SABBATH" OR...! So, it becomes apparent that WITHIN the Ten Commandments—MAN HAS MORE INPUT THAN DID GOD!

So, WHO was "Publius"? ALEXANDER HAMILTON, JAMES MADISON and JOHN JAY.

[QUOTING:]

ALEXANDER HAMILTON

Alexander Hamilton was born in the West Indies in 1757, the illegitimate child of a Scottish merchant. He came to the American colonies to study at King's College (now Columbia University), and became an early and ardent supporter of the Revolutionary cause. During the Revolutionary War he was aide-de-camp to George Washington [H: An EXTREMELY IMPORTANT person!] and a member of the Continental Congress. He was a leading figure at the Constitutional Convention (1787) and a principal author of the Federalist Papers. As first Secretary of the Treasury he articulated a policy of protection for manufacturing interests, strong central government, and establishment of a national bank. [H: Do not confuse ANY of these things with WHAT YOU HAVE TODAY!] After leaving the Cabinet, he practiced law in New York. His personal attacks hindered the political career of the volatile Aaron Burr, who finally challenged him to a duel in 1804. Hamilton was shot, and died of his wounds.

[H: I ask you: Is it better to use the confounded gun to settle a problem AND LOSE ONE OF THE BEST PATRIOT MINDS OF THE WORLD? OR, might you not turn to the pen and the WORD and REASON?]

JOHN JAY

John Jay, (1745-1829), was a conservative lawyer who became a leading patriot. He was minister to Spain (1780-82), the first Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court (1789-95), and he negotiated the treaty of 1795 between the U.S. and Britain. His contributions to the Federalist Papers concern foreign affairs.

JAMES MADISON

James Madison was born in 1751, the son of a Virginia planter. He worked for the Revolutionary cause as a member of the Continental Congress and the Virginia House of Delegates. The leader of deliberations of the Constitutional Convention, he fought for the adoption of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. Though an ally of Hamilton on the Constitution, he was a supporter of Jefferson's agrarian policies. He was Jefferson's Secretary of State (1801-9) and his successor as President (1808-17), but his Presidency was marred by the unpopular War of 1812. Madison died in 1836.

[END QUOTING]

What you must fully understand is that no man is perfection and no man is an island unto himself. You broke away from England—ONLY TO BEGIN AT THAT MOMENT TO COME FULLY BACK UNDER THE VERY RULE OF ENGLAND FROM WHENCE YOU GAINED THAT ORIGINAL FREEDOM.

As to the arguments of patriots regarding such things as "Amendment 13 (missing)" relative to "titles", "nobility", (referring to lawyers becoming judges), etc., I remind you—YOU DIDN'T NEED AN AMENDMENT—GO BACK TO THE CONSTITUTION AND IT IS THERE!... You as a nation moved right back under the English Admiralty LAW. You allowed the very foundation upon which you builded your new legal structure to fall right back into the hands of the oppressors of the first cause.

Now, WORSE, you allow those corrupted judges, once barristers, to rule in any manner they choose—according to the bribes and payoffs—for the Supreme Court of your land has fallen into a maker of laws which protect the criminals in office and on the benches—and you no longer limit their power to the INTERPRETATION OF SUSTAINING LAW OF, BY AND FOR THE PEOPLE! It has become all but impossible to find ANYTHING EXCEPT LAWYERS in the legislatures and as JUDGES—making it impossible to have unbiased and non-prejudicial regulation. These blood-suckers are in there to make sure the corruption is continued and COVERED.

I ask that CONTACT make room to run Silverhawk's "ordering information" regarding the "Refounding Amendment". [See below.] It is going to be advantageous to have such documents established as sound working resources. As a matter of fact, since you have all those "AMENDMENTS" attached to suit the needs of the politicians—GO FOR SUCH AS THIS if it shortens your pain and agony. BUT DO NOT FORGET THAT, AS A NATION—IT IS THE CONSTITUTION WHICH MUST BE ATTENDED—NOT A BUNCH OF AMENDMENTS!

YOU CAN RECLAIM YOUR NATION—NOW—AMERICANS, IF YOU WILL BUT TAKE UP THAT RESPONSIBILITY AND ACCEPT NOTHING LESS! GOD WILL WALK WITH YOU, BRETHREN, IF YOU BUT ASK!

The Refounding Society requires no formal membership. All individuals choosing to support the Refounding Amendment are:
The Refounders of this great nation, citizens dedicated to America's sovereignty and the Constitution. The Refounding Society consists only of the citizens' support and sponsorship.
 With God's blessings, we will WIN.

SPELT

Spelt is the most ancient and very best grain. Spelta is a grain of its own unique being. It is the best fiber resource, and has large amounts of B-17 (anti-carcinoma). It is the grain GOD gave to the planet as "manna" when humans were placed upon it.

Spelt was brought from the Middle East more than 9,000 years ago; it is a well tested product. It has since spread over the European Continent. Very recently, Spelt has enjoyed renewed popularity in Europe as a result of translations of mystical writings of the 12th century healer, St. Hildegard of Bingen, who praised Spelt as the grain best tolerated by the body. The Old Testament mentions Spelt in Exodus 9:31, 32 and Ezekiel 4:9.

Today it is used in the West in much the same way as wheat; one main distinction is that the people with allergies to wheat frequently do not react to Spelt. Although Spelt contains gluten, those with gluten sensitivity, even celiacs, can usually tolerate it. In addition, Spelt is appreciated as much for its hearty nut-like flavor as for its healing qualities.

The grain berry grows an exceptionally thick husk that protects it from pollutants and insects. It is stored with its husk intact, so it remains fresher. Thus, unlike other grains, it is not normally treated with pesticides or other chemicals. The strong, protective husk may also be a metaphorical signature of this grain's capacity to strengthen immunity. Spelt contains special carbohydrates (Mucopolysaccharides) which are an important factor in blood clotting and stimulating the body's immune system.

Spelt is richly endowed with nutrients. In general, it is higher in protein, fat and fiber than most varieties of wheat. An important feature is its highly water-soluble fiber, which dissolves easily and allows for efficient nutrient assimilation by the body. Spelt also contains essential amino acids, which combine with the protein in Spelt constitute a source for human plasma. To use Spelt in baked goods, cereals and other dishes calling for wheat or other grains, substitute it one for one. You will likely always have to add gluten (from wheat) to give satisfactory yeast products.

At a major clinic in Konstanz, Germany, Spelt has been used as an adjunct in the treatment of many disorders, especially chronic digestive problems of all kinds, chronic infections (herpes, AIDS), nerve and bone disorders (Parkinson's disease, Alzheimer's disease, arthritis), cancer and antibiotic side effects.

GAIANDRIANA

Gaiandriana is a non-alcoholic health tonic which provides basic "foods" to help cells, weakened by the stresses of modern life, to return to a state of health.

The better our cells function, the greater is the stamina returned to our internal defense systems, and the better we can counter the constant onslaught of biological and viral invaders. The end result is a feeling of well-being by, of course, being well.

The Gaiandriana (commonly referred to as "chondriana" in the Biological literature) are capable of intelligent, organized attack against cellular invaders like viruses. Think of it as a "pac-man" operation of sorts. However, beyond that, the Gaiandriana are capable of stimulating cellular structural repairs due to damage caused by, for instance, free radicals and cumulative levels of so-called "background" radiation in our modern environment. Healthy DNA and RNA within the nuclei of our cells then lead to properly formed and concentrated enzymes, upon which healthy cellular function depends.

Gaiandriana liquid is made entirely from wholesome natural ingredients.

AQUAGAIA

Complementary to the Gaiandriana product, AquaGaia is also a non-alcoholic health tonic which provides basic "foods" to help cells, weakened by the stresses of modern life, to return to a state of healthy function.

AquaGaia contains mitochondria. These are the major biochemical energy "processors" within cellular metabolism. First, enzymes begin the breakdown process of organic nutrients (like fats, carbohydrates and proteins) to intermediate substances such as amino and pyruvic acids. Then, in the next "bucket brigade" step, these various acid molecules are processed within the mitochondria to release chemical energy recognized as adenosine triphosphate (ATP).

About 95% of the energy needed to "run the machinery" that keeps each cell going and healthy is produced in the mitochondria. Unfortunately, the mitochondria are particularly damaged by free radicals and cumulative levels of so-called "background" radiation in our modern environment. These compromised mitochondria, like half-dead batteries, then lead to impaired cellular functioning and health. Thus is the importance of AquaGaia, with its assimilable supply of healthy mitochondria — like "fresh batteries" for the body's cells.

The better our cells function, the greater is the stamina returned to our internal defense systems, and the better we can counter the constant onslaught of biological and viral invaders.

GAIANDRIANA & AQUAGAIA

To help in understanding the workings of these organic "pac-men" you must realize that there is a protein covering "cap" on viruses. The protein cap is centered on a charged zinc atom and is the part of the virus that recognizes and binds to DNA—in turn allowing the virus to reproduce.

AquaGaia, in conjunction with the Gaiandriana, knock out the zinc atom (a simple "charge" change), which renders the protein ineffective. This is a breakdown of "parts" of the Gaiandriana male-female DNA structure which releases many working variants but frees the Gaiandriettes or "killers" to take out that zinc atom and pass right into the affected cell. Without the "cap", the virus cannot reproduce and infect more cells—further, the damaged virus feeds the Gaiandriana unified cells and the circulating mitochondria.

Healthy cells are not affected because they lack the zinc-centered protein cap on the virus.

These "Gaia" compounds have an effect on cancer cells because they stop an enzyme on the cancer cells from producing a "messenger" molecule that blocks a second enzyme from attacking the cancer cell's DNA. The compounds (Gaia) have been seen to actually take out leukemia, breast, brain and colon cancer cells. We have no claim to anything other than stating that people utilizing these simple and natural substances do show improved well-being and do report feeling generally and, often remarkably, improved as to state of health, thought processes and stamina.

The obvious conclusion is that there might well be good reports of better health and faster recovery, following infection by other viruses, than those mentioned above. All viruses known react in generally the same manner.

It is known that many diseases are due to retroviral DNA and these are the most affected viruses by the Gaia-chondrianas (living crystal forms). We, again, make no medical claims—we are simply reporting in an effort to explain WHAT takes place within the cellular structures of living organisms.

NOTE

If any product you receive has an unpleasant odor — it is from the finishing culture process. Leave the bottle open to air and it will quickly dissipate. Then, depending on taste and preference—refrigerate after opening and reclosing.

IMPORTANT: Do not mix the two, Gaiandriana and AquaGaia, together for storage as the AquaGaia (mitochondria) are aggressive and begin to "eat" the Gaiandriana for fuel. Once ingested, they go about their appointed tasks, but in bottle prisons they are not particularly compatible once the available fuel supply is exhausted. Juices are excellent to take with the AquaGaia because the mitochondria must have the fuel derived from same, the most effective juice being from the tropical "Guava" fruit. Any juice is fine, however, and is most pleasant to intake. Diabetics should utilize whatever juices are available on their food plan to keep within the safe guidelines for calories and other requirements.

The most innocuous and easy intake available is simply a few drops under the tongue, both products taken at the same time or at different times of the day. Once the "initial" program is completed, and the maintenance level of intake is being followed, certainly the drops under the tongue are the least annoying to any daily regimen.

GaiaLyte

GaiaLyte is brought forth from Kargasok Tea. This IS the basic component of MO-GU tea as we have used the tea by that name. The Gaialyte is a fully integrated electrolytic liquid. The "drink" is a "concentrate" (3 to 1 minimum—as much to one as you like maximum). It contains EVERYTHING supplemental to Gaiandriana—INCLUDING A GROWING-PROGRAMMING BASE OF GAIANDRIANA AND BASIC DRIANAS. It also contains enough Carbragaia to equal a full schedule of what is being used in Mexico—(shark-fin cartilage). If you are using MO-GU—keep on—it can only enhance your full-rounded intake—but it WILL NOT be the same. However, the "new" drink will supply all you need without it. This is NOT A MEDICAL PROGRAM OF ANY KIND. We are not physicians as in Medical Doctor; we are not anything—except hopefully, sharers of information.

The Gaialyte has a full spectrum of vitamins, minerals, Ginkgo, Echinacea, Chlorella, Oxygenators, Aloe Vera—everything necessary to "program" the cells in the tea membrane AND the Gaiandriana included. This does not replace the Gaiandriana used otherwise. This is a PERFECT medium to enhance the ability of the Gaiandriana you already take to enhance itself—reinforcement fuel, if you will.

You can dilute the concentrate with water AND/or anything you like. May we recommend apple juice and/or Cranberry. The apple juice is to flush out the gallbladder and the cranberry juice flushes out the bladder (urine). You may use as much as you like of either OR both and we would hope you would do so on a continuing basis because of the value of these two products and their focus of use.

We believe you will find it a very tasty beverage but we ask that no matter how "good", just keep to the "program" amounts or you may find yourself a bit "woozy" immediately after intake. This is due more to the Aloe Vera present than the tea itself—but as you know, even the MO-GU tea can make you quite light-headed. There is no alcohol in the beverage although you may very well think so as the body rushes to uptake the fuel supply. This is not a medical-chemical concoction so you could take the entire bottle without damage or hazard—but you might well not feel so great for a bit afterward and it is totally UNNECESSARY for any expected positive response.

This is not like taking an antibiotic with flu or sore-throat. This is a well-body systemic enhancement. It sometimes, as with other persons' elixir—takes weeks or months to feel any difference. ONCE balanced, however, you will note that at onset of infection, cold, etc., if you take around six ounces of Gaiandriana and double up on the Gaialyte—you will probably note positive response in about an hour. Remember—you are activating the enhanced immune system and it takes a while to accomplish this task.

ALOE JUICE (Whole Leaf, Cold Pressed Aloe Vera Concentrate)

Aloe Vera has a long and impressive history that spans hundreds of centuries, countries and cultures, and appears in countless "folk remedies" as a plant revered for its healing qualities.

Aloe Juice is a whole-leaf concentrate prepared from the freshly harvested leaves of the Barbadensis Miller Aloe Vera plant. Aloe Juice guarantees a minimum of 10,000 mg. of mucopolysaccharides per liter.

The nutrients reported in Aloe Vera include mucopolysaccharides and polysaccharides (glucomannans), glycoproteins, glucose, mannose, galactose, xylose, arabinose, tannins, steroids, organic acids, antibiotic principles, glucuronic acids, enzymes (oxidase, catalase and amylase), trace sugars, calcium oxalate, a protein containing 18 amino acids, "wound healing" hormones, biogenic stimulants, saponins, vitamins B1, B2, niacin, B6, choline, folic acid, chloride, sulfate, iron, calcium, copper, sodium, potassium, silicon, manganese, plus many other metabolism-assisting components.

CHLORELLA

Chlorella is a nutritionally balanced whole food and contributes to the health and growth of human cells like no single vitamin or mineral possibly can.

Chlorella is extremely high in protein (60%) and contains more than 20 vitamins and minerals, 19 of the 22 essential and non-essential amino acids, enzymes and chlorella growth factor. It is one of the richest sources of RNA and DNA known and has twenty times as much chlorophyll as alfalfa, 10 times more than other edible algae including spirulina, and 10 times more than barley grass.

Chlorella is a natural vitality enhancer. The vitamins found in chlorella cells include: vitamin C, provitamin A, B-carotene, chlorophyll-A, chlorophyll-B, thiamine (B1), riboflavin (B2), pyridoxine (B6), niacin (B3), pantothenic acid, folic acid, vitamin B-12, biotin, choline, vitamin K, PABA, lipoic acid, inositol and para-aminobenzoic acid. The minerals include: phosphorus, potassium, iodine, magnesium, sulphur, iron, calcium, manganese, copper, zinc and cobalt.

The amino acids include: lysine, histidine, argi-nine, aspartic acid, threonine, serine, glutamic acid, proline, glycine, alanine, cystine, valine, methionine, isoleucine, leucine, tyrosine, phenylalanine, ornithine, tryptophan.

The suggested daily consumption is 3 grams per day.

ECHINACEA GOLD PLUS (with American Ginseng)

In recent years few medicinal plants have garnered as much attention as Echinacea (Echinacea Purpurea and Echinacea Angustifolia).

Echinacea is a non-specific stimulant to the immune system. Claims for Echinacea include: stimulation of leukocytes, mild antibiotic activity, anti-inflammatory activity, stimulation of the adrenal cortex, stimulation of the properdin-complement system, interferon-like activity, stimulation of general cellular immunity, and antiviral activity. Internal preparations are said to assist in alleviating cold and flu symptoms, respiratory infections, and arthritis, to name a few.

Goldenseal (Hydrastis Canadensis) is among the most popular herbs in the American health food market. Uses are numerous, including but not limited to: antiseptic, hemostatic, diuretic, laxative, and tonic/anti-inflammatory for the mucous membranes, hemorrhoids, nasal congestion, mouth and gum sores and eye afflictions.

Few medicinal plants in the world possess Ginseng's near-legendary status. Dating back thousands of years, its history of use in the Orient records therapeutic properties so wide ranging that it was first dismissed by Western doctors as a "panacea". When fatigued, Ginseng reportedly restores both physical and mental functions to peak efficiency and, with regular use, improves resistance to disease and stress. American Ginseng's genus name is Panax Quinquefolius.

Over 40,000 species of mushrooms exist, many of which are used as medicines. Of particular note are such remedies as penicillin- and ergot-based extracts used in migraine treatment, to name a few. Extensive research has been done with one mushroom in particular, namely, Reishi. This mushroom is now considered a tried and true immune system fortifier.
